Help is Needed.

Just now the officers of the Y.M.C.A. are endeavouring to close their association year and making a strenuous effort to meet all obligations of the year ending on October 1st. The past year has been the heaviest financially in the association's history and a considerable sum has yet to be raised in order to meet all demands. Those who are interested in the work, whether they have contributed before or not, are asked to send in their contributions to the association, or to Mr. R. J. Kidd at R. Neill's.

NEW OIL FIELDS OF ONTARIO.

Our Mr. Fox has just returned from a trip of personal investigation of the Wonderful Oil Gusher Field in the Township of Raleigh, in the County of Kent. His report is—that the whole country is literally

ON FIRE

WITH EXCITEMENT.

Chatham—respectable, easy-going old Chatham—stands amazed, while oil operators from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas, California and from the big refineries at Petrolea and Sarnia fill her hotels and streets to overflowing—all seeking OIL, OIL, OIL—offering figures that would have been considered sheer madness a few weeks ago. The roads to the oil fields are lined with all kinds of carriages, wagons and loads of machinery and derricks. Several drilling rigs are already partly erected, and contracts have been made for the sinking of at least fifty wells within the next thirty days.

Lands have quadrupled in price within the last two weeks. Outside of the Gurd & Co. Syndicate—

The Ontario and California Oil Co.

(LIMITED)

were the first on the ground, and have the largest holdings—amounting to about One Thousand Acres, Right in the Big Gusher Field in Raleigh.

While at the scene of operations our Mr. Fox closed negotiations with the representative of two of the largest oil refineries in Canada to sink a number of wells immediately, and at least five wells must be completed within Sixty Days.

At Northwood, about ten miles from Chatham, our eighteenth well is down about three hundred feet. Here the Company is operating on about Sixteen Hundreds Acres of great promise. Every well sunk so far has been a paying oil producer. Watch this field also very closely—but stock is limited. Send for O. & C. Oil Co.'s Report for November and see for yourself. The volume of enquiries to this office show that our people are becoming alive to the great possibilities lying right at our own doors.

The stock is going rapidly, and at any time may be withdrawn.

HE ADMITS "TIPPING."

Mr. Sutherland, M. P. P., at the South Oxford Election Trial.

YOUNGS CHANGES FIRST STORY

Now Denies That He Was Present on the Date Named—Says He Was Promised $30 to Stick to His First Story—The Personal Charge Against Mr. Sutherland Investigated —The Argument To-Day.

Woodstock, Dec. 2.—The South Oxford protest trial re-opened yesterday afternoon, with one witness, Abraham Youngs, who was on the stand at the earlier session a month and a half ago, denying the correctness of the evidence he had then given. He testified then that he was present at the Queen's Hotel barn in Tilsonburg when Donald Sutherland, now M.P.P., was alleged to have given Richard Lloyd a dollar. On the stand yesterday he denied that he was present.

Messrs. Flek and Lloyd, he swore, had come to him and persuaded him that he was in the barn, which, on thinking it over, he had came to the conclusion that he was not. George Sutherland had seen him in Woodstock and told him that if he stuck to his story there would be two tons and a five in an envelope afterwards.

The witness was subjected to a severe cross-examination by Mr. Watson, who afterwards called George H. Mabee, who swore that he had seen Youngs in the barn on the date in question.

William Anderson testified that he had also seen him there. Richard Lloyd was also called in rebuttal.

A. McNabb, foreman on the M.C.R., for which railway Youngs works, swore that the latter had not been absent from his duties any day in May. George Brown, a fellow employe of Youngs, vouched for this.

Edward McMeekin, insurance agent of Tilsonburg, told how, on passing the hotel barn, he had been informed by Lloyd that Donald Sutherland had given him fifty cents. But, he had added, Mr. Sutherland's horse was in bad shape and had to be cleaned, both at night and in the morning. He had asked Lloyd if Mr. Sutherland had said anything about voting, and had received a negative answer.

William Fergusson, Conservative scrutineer, had sworn Lloyd at the polling booth and afterwards had been told by him that he had received no money at the election.

Edward Law swore that Lloyd had told him that he had voted for the Liberal candidate because the Conservatives had been sworn.

When served with a subpoena, Lloyd professed not to know what his evidence was wanted for.

Harry Sponeburgh deposed that Lloyd had told him Sutherland had not given him a tip.

Mr. Sutherland's Evidence.

Donald Sutherland, the respondent, swore that on the day after the meeting he asked Lloyd to hitch up his rig. He could not recall anything that was said at the time. He did not say: "Here is a dollar; vote for me, and it will be all right." He never asked Lloyd for his vote or paid him anything for his vote. It was quite likely he gave Lloyd a tip. He did not remember seeing Abraham Youngs or Pritchard in the barn. He had several times been at the Queen's barn. He could not remember whether he had given Lloyd tips in April, 1902, and on the 26th of May. He could not recollect what was said the day after the meeting, but had money been talked of he would have remembered it. He gave Lloyd money, but could not recollect how much. It was quite possible that there were two men near the door of the barn during his talk with Lloyd. He would not contradict paying Lloyd 50 cents, but he would not pay him a dollar, as that would be an unreasonable amount. He had given tips of ten cents, and might have given tips of five cents. He had given tips of 25 cents, but could not in any instance. He had no recollection of paying Lloyd a tip in April, 1902. The evidence in the charge was concluded at 6 o'clock and argument of counsel will be heard this morning.

LOST WITH HER CREW.

Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 2.—The steamer Hebard, bound down from West Superior for Lake Erie ports, under command of Capt. George Ryan, is reported ashore at Copper Point, Lake Superior, by the Ossifrage of the Algoma Steamship Line, this port.

The Hebard went ashore Sunday night during a gale and a snowstorm. She had three schooners, lumber laden, in tow, but cut them loose. Two of them are anchored in Lake Superior, in the vicinity of the wrecked steam barge. The other one is supposed to be out on the lake.

The Hebard carried a crew of fourteen men and one woman, all of whom are supposed to be lost.

Steamer Goes Ashore.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The Department of Marine announces that the steamer M. J. Foley went ashore at Fouchie Cape, near Yarmouth. The captain and crew were saved.

SUICIDE AT OAKVILLE.

Banker Thomas Howarth Shot Himself in His Office Monday Afternoon.

Oakville, Dec. 2.—Thomas Howarth of the banking firm of Andrew & Howarth, shot himself between 12.30 and 1 o'clock yesterday and died two hours later. The shooting occurred at the bank; a daughter Miss Maude Howarth, being the only witness.

It is a clear case of suicide. Mr. Howarth appeared to have been greatly worried over financial difficulties, and for some days he had been in a state of despondency.

Deceased was in his 52nd year. He leaves a widow and three children, Rowland Howarth, of the Ontario Bank, Toronto; Arthur Howarth, of the banking firm of Andrew & Howarth, and Miss Maude Howarth.

Badly Hurt in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Dec. 2.—The corner of Main and Hughson streets was the scene of a serious accident yesterday morning, which may result fatally. Samuel Goodale, who lives on East Barton street, was riding a bicycle and in turning to look at a dog which was barking at his heels came into collision with a buggy driven by Mr. S. M. Cunningham of the Kuntz Brewing Company. The unfortunate man was thrown right under the horse's feet, and the horse becoming frightened brought down one of his forefeet directly on the head of the young man. Goodale received terrible scalp injuries, and his face was also badly cut. He is in a critical condition.

A Young Man Wanted.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—A well-known young man has gone wrong. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Joseph Arthur Couture, who changed $1,200 worth of five dollar bills at the Dominion Bank for United States currency and left Montreal for parts unknown. Couture was the trusted agent at the Canadian Pacific station at St. Scholastique.

Pioneer Lumberman Dead.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—William Mackey, one of the pioneers of the lumber trade in the Ottawa Valley, died here early yesterday morning. He was a millionaire. His money is said to be largely invested in the lumber trade and in bank deposits. He took little or no interest in public affairs. He leaves three sons and a daughter. Deceased was 85 years of age.

THE CATTLE DISEASE.

Government's Instructions to Collectors of Customs.

A MILLION TO STAMP IT OUT.

How the Canadian Order Was Viewed—Cabinet Meeting Called at Request of Minister of Agriculture to Deal With Various Interests That Have Cropped Up—Disease Is Widespread.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The action taken by the Department of Customs at the instance of the Minister of Agriculture prohibits absolutely the entry of cattle into Canada from the six New England States declared to be infected with the foot and mouth disease. The order issued yesterday by the Commissioner of Customs, and mailed direct to all our ports and customs stations, reads as follows:

"You are instructed that the importation of cattle, sheep and swine from the six New England States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island, is prohibited on account of disease. Shipments of cattle, sheep or swine originating or passing through any of these six New England States from November 30, 1902, are therefore not to be allowed entry into Canada."

This order, it will be observed, precludes the shipment of cattle through by the C.P.R. From the Northwest to St. John, N.B., inasmuch as for a very short distance its line runs through the State of Maine. Montreal dealers at first objected to this, but withdrew their protest when it was explained to them that to make an exception even in a route so obviously secure might possibly lead to confusion and distrust in official quarters in England, with results possibly disastrous to the Canadian cattle trade.

Another relaxation in regard to the order of the Department of Agriculture dealing with empty cars and vessels bound to Canadian ports was asked Sunday by the agents of steamships sailing from Boston and desiring to complete cargoes by taking cattle at St. John, was requested of the Government yesterday, but no action was taken upon it, pending a reply to Hon. Sidney Fisher's cablegram of Saturday, notifying the British Board of Agriculture of the action taken by the Government at Ottawa to prevent communication of the disease to Canadian cattle.

At the request of the Minister of Agriculture a Cabinet council will be held this afternoon at which the questions affecting the C. P. R. and the steamship transportation above referred to, will be dealt with. Meantime the only difference which enforcement of the customs order will make will be to give the Intercolonial Railway the business of transporting cattle from Montreal to St. John or Halifax, as the ports of Boston and Portland are closed as points of shipment of live stock.

Will Cost $1,000,000.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, who has arrived here to attend the International Live Stock Exposition, says, regarding the outbreak of cattle disease in New England:

"My latest report from the infected district is that the disease is at a standstill. The next report will decide the number of men I shall send to New England. A large number will go. Before many days shall have passed there will be several hundred veterinary surgeons in the New England States, and they will be instructed to inspect every cow, sheep and hog. I believe we shall need three or four weeks to stamp out the disease. Congress will be asked for a special appropriation to cure the disease permanently. I intend to ask for at least $1,000,000."

Reports Not Memorized.

Boston, Dec. 2.—The Cattle Bureau of the State Board of Agriculture began yesterday, a systematic and exhaustive inspection of the cattle reported as having the foot and mouth disease, the prevalence of which in New England has caused an embargo on traffic in cattle, sheep and hogs. During the day reports came in which were not considered reassuring. The Cattle Bureau representatives found fifty cases in Bristol County. Reports of infection came from Stow, Danvers, Bridgewater and East Bridgewater. A herd is under observation in Hudson.

Spoke in Canada's Behalf.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Secretary James Wilson delivered the dedicatory address last night at the new Live Stock Record Building at the stock yards. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, spoke in behalf of the stock raisers of Canada.

Drowned at Rat Portage.

Dundas, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Church has received the news from Rat Portage that her son was drowned there about two weeks ago. He was employed in constructing a bridge, and while at work missed his footing and fell into the river. The body was recovered shortly afterwards, and from a letter from his mother that he had it was learned she resided there.

Irish Members to Go Back.

London, Dec. 2.—John Redmond, the Irish parliamentary leader, has sent a letter to the members of his party notifying them to be in readiness to return to the House of Commons immediately, if summoned, after the education bill passes the House of Lords.

Frozen While Drunk.

Portage la Prairie, Dec. 2.—Halcrow, a halfbreed, who resided south of the river, was Saturday morning found dead in the highway about a mile east of the town. Deceased had been frozen to death while intoxicated.

BANNOCKBURN GONE.

The Tug Boynton Could Find No Trace of Her—No Longer Hope That Crew of 20 Is Alive.

Buffalo, Dec. 2.—A Special to The Express from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., says: There is no longer any hope for the safety of the propeller Bannockburn and her crew of twenty men. The death knell to the hopes of the owners and relatives of the crew was sounded yesterday, when a despatch was received from the captain of the tug Boynton stating that he had traversed the entire shore where the missing vessel was believed to have stranded. No trace of the boat was discovered. It now seems certain that the wreckage found by the propeller Henkefeller in the middle of Lake Superior marked the graveyard the vessel and crew. As the waters of Lake Superior reach their greatest depth at that point, it is probable that none of the bodies will ever be recovered, as this lake never gives up its dead. What events preceded the disappearance of the big steel boat beneath the waves will never be known, but a broken rudder, a break in the machinery or a loosened seam might have resulted in this, the greatest loss of the season of navigation on the Great Lakes.

Officials Still Hope.

Kingston, Dec. 2.—The anxiety regarding the whereabouts of the steamer Bannockburn is still intense. The officials are still hopeful.

St. Catharines Anxious.

St. Catharines, Dec. 2.—The fate of the missing steamer Bannockburn is now the subject of even greater local interest than it was last week, from the fact that yesterday Joseph Dawson, the well-known marine engineer, learned for the first time that his son, Joseph Dawson, jr., a young man, 21 years of age, was in all probability a fireman on the unfortunate vessel.

The continued absence of authentic news from the missing craft causes great depression at Port Dalhousie.

THE MONTREAL BYE-ELECTION.

Minister of Marine and Fisheries Opposed by Advocate Labelle.

Montreal, Que., Dec. 2.—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and J. Alfred Labelle, advocate, of this city, were yesterday placed in nomination for the bye-election rendered necessary by the appointment of the Minister. Hon. Raymond Prefontaine's election agent is one of his partners, Mr. Robert Taschereau, while Mr. Zenon Fontaine fills the same office for Mr. Labelle.

La Patrie has a leading article last evening, written by Hon. Mr. Tarte, supporting Hon. Mr. Prefontaine.

Ontario Fruit Growers.

Walkerton, Dec. 2. — The annual meeting of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association opened here yesterday afternoon. About a hundred delegates were in attendance from all over the province, and many more are expected to-day. Mayor Cryderman welcomed the delegates. Fine exhibits of fruit were shown in the Hall, and R. M. Palmer of British Columbia described the development of the industry on the Pacific coast. C. C. James gave an address on the agricultural resources of the country.

The Quirk Inquest.

Brantford, Dec. 2.—Detective Murray was in the city again in connection with the Quirk inquest, which will be resumed this evening before Dr. Fissette, the coroner.

International Gobbles Some More.

London, Dec. 2.—The absorption of the Nickel Corporation by the International Nickel Corporation has been practically completed.

Carter Pleads Guilty.

Kingston, Dec. 2.—At the Police Court yesterday morning, Carter, the swindler, was arraigned before Magistrate Farrell, and charged with having attempted to pass a forged cheque. He pleaded guilty, and was remanded for one week in order that inquiries may be made regarding his past record.

Nurse Died in South Africa.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—A message from Judge Forbes at Liverpool, N. S., announces that Nursing Sister Forbes, who went out with two of the Canadian contingents to South Africa, died yesterday morning of pneumonia.

Cyrus Griffin Dead.

Brantford, Dec. 2.—Cyrus R. Griffin, aged 99, is dead.

Training Is Necessary.

The time has come when, to be master in any line, it requires long years of careful training and preparation. It is true that the opportunities open to young men are greater today than they ever were before; but, on the other hand, there never was a period in the world's history when the qualifications requisite for success in any line of worthy endeavor were of a higher character, says Success. The artisan, the farmer, the business man, the clergyman, the physician, the lawyer, the scientist, each in his various rank must prepare to reach up to ever enlarging ideals if he would attain his full height.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. Six bottles of Lydia E. The Factory Buildings and Equipment Cost $600,000—Interesting Information Regarding a new Industry in Ontario.

It would not of course to have allowed the interviews to be all on the one side. We had spent much time in hearing what the manufacturers had to say, and it was quite reasonable to expect that the farmers might know more about the benefits to be derived by themselves from the growing of beets than those who manufactured the beets into sugar.

As there remained several hours to spare in Berlin after inspecting the plant of the Ontario Sugar Co., the Examiner interviewed a number of farmers who had tried the experiment of raising sugar beets. There was no diversity of opinion as to the success of the cultivation of the beets from the financial point of view, although as a matter of fact they all admitted that there was no crop they could raise that yield as great a profit. The feature they objected to was the alleged additional labour required and the difficulty of securing that labour.

Michael Hergott was the first man interviewed. He stated that he had grown one acre of sugar beets. His land was sandy loam. During the first weeding he spent four days, and the second weeding occupied one and one half days. He was credited at the factory with 19 tons, after the tare had been deducted, which at $4 per ton, would yield him $52 for the his acre.

Amos Busk, who was the next person seen, cultivated 8 acres, his soil being a nice sandy loam, but he said it was in a badly run down condition. He thought that if his soil were in good condition he could easily raise 12 tons per acre.

Oliver A. Betzner had 10 acres of land under sugar beet cultivation, and raised ten tons to the acre.

Joseph Cressman with two acres was able to raise 34 tons of beets. He had ten per cent. taken off for tare. His land is a sandy loam with a gravel bottom. He paid $26 for hired help when weeding and pulling. When compared with what he estimated he could raise on the same acreage in wheat, he had a balance of $19 for the two acres in favour of sugar beets.

C. D. Schneider stated that he had raised three acres of sugar beets, which averaged ten tons to the acre. He thought that one acre of sugar beets required as much work as five acres of turnips.

Mr. R. Reid, who together with three other gentlemen went into the raising of sugar beets on speculation, lost money. They had to pay for all the labour, which was too expensive a policy.

PROF. SHUTTLEWORTH SPEAKS.

Prof. Shuttleworth, who is well-known to many Peterborough citizens, having delivered a lecture here on the question of sugar, some time ago, in addition to giving early in the season, concerning the farmers' end of the industry, said:—

"In my former position as director of the Ontario sugar beet experiments in 1900 and 1901, the importance of the presence of all essential conditions for the successful operation of a sugar factory, impressed itself upon me forcibly. These conditions are generally fairly understood by parties interested in the establishment of a beet sugar industry. Nevertheless, instances are known where factories have been established in wrong locations. That Berlin and the county of Waterloo possessed eminently a combination of favourable conditions, appeared to me quite certain. The character of its soil, its extent, the good roads, the German feature of the population, the railway facilities, etc., are advantages seldom to be so nicely balanced in any one county. During the past summer Berlin has been visited by a number of experts and interested capitalists, who were interested in Berlin's new industry. The suitability of our natural conditions have been critically examined by these parties who have come from Australia, Europe, Michigan, California, etc., all of whom have freely expressed themselves that the Ontario Sugar Co. has made no mistake in locating their factory at Berlin. In this connection I quote the words of Mr. R. S. Norris, of Alhambra, Cal., who was associated with the beet sugar industry of that state, and who made a tour over the beet fields of Waterloo county very recently. He says, "I have never seen such a good general stand of plants in California, where there are eight factories, as I have seen in driving about in Waterloo county. In fact it would be difficult to imagine a better stand. It is almost perfect. There can be no doubt about this being a fine sugar beet county."

While the establishment of a beet sugar industry in a new place involves an immense amount of heavy work, and ours has been no exception, there has been no interruption nor delay in the steady, substantial progress of the work here, which is due to the careful management and correct judgment in all details from the first.

Should this industry not be a success with us here at Berlin, I am persuaded that it cannot succeed anywhere in Canada. But those who are most capable of judging are of the opinion that it will succeed eminently.

We are now well on with the first year's experience from an agricultural standpoint. Seeding was successfully concluded during the month of May. Germination, generally speaking, everywhere was good, resulting in a fine stand of plants of which we are proud. The work of thinning nearly 5,000 acres of beets was a task at which before the work began, many shook their heads. Nevertheless everywhere throughout the townships our farmers tackled this work with determination and courage. It was completed in due time, but no sooner than completed, it became apparent, owing to the abundance of rain, that it would be necessary to go over the whole acreage a second time. No sooner was this accomplished than it was perfectly evident that those who desired clean fields would necessarily be compelled to hand weed the field even as late as the middle of August. All this work has been accomplished and the fields, generally speaking, are now the pride of our county.

Nowhere in the first year can all things be done entirely satisfactorily. The one thing which we regret, but for which no one is to blame, was the absence of fall ploughing in the fall of 1901. This not having been done some of our beets have not that length which we know they will have another year. Nevertheless, everyone admits that our crops, as they are now ripening in the fields, are a picture, and as harvesting commences we are pleased to find that the tonnage promises to be satisfactory. The size and shape of our beets are must better than might be expected.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

In Store for Those Who Doubt.

When you read that a sufferer of many years standing has been completely restored to health by using Smith's Cure-all, you are inclined to doubt the statement, and in fact have no belief in it whatever. The reason of this is that so much is claimed for the Cure-all it is impossible for anyone to believe it; if the advertiser confined his claim to the curing of one disease, as do the proprietors of the Pyramid Pile Cure, readers would have more faith in published testimonials. Those familiar with this great remedy know that testimonials as to its merits may be relied upon implicitly, also that the cures brought about by its use are little short of marvellous. The genuineness of the testimonial here given is vouched for and is but one of thousands received.

"I had a friend who had used one box of 50 cent Pyramid Pile Cure that entirely cured her. I saw the good effect on her, and thought that I would try it, as I had got so that I could not sit down without extreme pain, and getting up was just as bad. The first box nearly cured me; I got the second box and have had no trouble since. Pyramid Pile Cure does all that it is claimed to do, and I never miss an opportunity to tell of its merits. I speak from observation, and personal benefit. Two boxes cured me over a year ago, and I have had no return of the trouble since." Mrs. M. Mooney, 6006 Sangamon street, Chicago, Ill.

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price by the Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Michigan. Write this firm for this book describing the cause and cure of piles.

London's Guest.

London, Dec. 2.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, and the Hon. Geo. E. Foster, arrived in this city yesterday morning, and were the guests of the St. Andrew's Society. Both gentlemen spoke at the St. Andrew's Society banquet at the City Hall last evening.

A True Nerve Tonic.

Will get, not so much directly upon the nerves as upon the digestive functions and the abundant formation of red, vitalizing blood. Nerves can't be fed on medicine. They can, however, be restored and strengthened by assimilated food. The marvellous action of Ferrozone arises from its action over the digestive and assimilative processes. When you take Ferrozone the blood is purified, strengthened, and grows rich and red. Then you grow vigorous, healthy and beautiful, ready for work, because you have the strength to do it. No tonic for the brain, blood or nerves compares with Ferrozone. Price 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

FAMILY WELL REMEMBERED

By Their Friends in the Township of Smith.

Three Kindly Worded Addresses That Were Presented—A Social Evening Spent by Many.

On Wednesday evening, November 26, the friends and neighbours of Mr Jas. Middleton and family, to the number of about sixty or seventy, gathered at their home on the second concession of Smith, to bid them farewell before leaving to take up their residence in Peterborough.

After all had gathered, Mr. G. A. Reid was asked to act as chairman, a position he filled very acceptably. He called the assembly to order, and Mr. Middleton, full of surprise at the action, was called to the front, and was made the recipient of a handsome writing desk, accompanied by the following address, read by Master Frank Simpson:

Dear Superintendent and Friend,—

We, the teachers, pupils and friends, of the Union Sabbath School, Smith, have with very deep sorrow, heard that you intend in the near future, to depart from amongst us. We therefore take this opportunity of trying in some slight way to show you the high esteem in which you are held by us.

Please accept this writing desk. Remember as you take it, that we do not try to pay you by this for what you have done for us. That we know on this earth, can never be repaid; but bear in mind, that what prompted the giving of this were hearts full of love for the receiver.

For years and years, so many that a great many assembled here cannot remember the beginning of it, you have been unfailing in your duties as Superintendent of this Sabbath School; indeed we may really call it yours, for you were not only the organizer of it, but the upholder also, during all these long years. Many a time you would come to your post on Sundays, when really after the hard work of the week, you felt much more like resting. But your own comfort had only a secondary place in your thoughts—it was the comfort and future happiness of those about you that held the first.

It was not only the wise words and teachings that proceeded forth from your lips, which made a deep, lasting impression upon many of us, but the kind smiles and honest actions of your every day life. Indeed, it may be said of you as Goldsmith says of the village preacher in the Deserted Village,—

Your ready smile, a parent's warmth expressed,
Our welfare pleased you and our cares distressed;
To us your heart, your love, your griefs were given,
But all your serious thoughts had rest in Heaven.

We know that many a time we must have disturbed and plagued you, but in that respect you acted as your dear Friend and Saviour, by forgiving us there and then. As a friend you have few equals, and we do not hesitate in saying you cannot be excelled.

We know your place will be hard to fill. But as we are all aware that your prayers and blessings shall always fall upon us, we beg you to remember that ours shall follow you, no matter where you travel.

We trust and pray that while you may remain on this earth your future may be full of roses and completely void of thorns. And when the time comes that your Master wishes you to rest from your labours you will then see by the well-decked crown that will be given to you, what you will never know on earth—the good you have done while in our midst.

Signed on behalf of the School and its friends,

FRANK SIMPSON,
WILLIE MORRIS.

Mr. Middleton made a very suitable reply, thanking his friends, and giving them some very useful advice which, if attended to, will be of use to them:

Then Mrs. Middleton being called forward, was presented with a beautiful five o'clock silver tea set, accompanied with the following address read by Miss Medda Swinton:

Dear Friend and Neighbour,—

In behalf of your dear friends, who are so soon to part with you, we wish you to accept this five o'clock silver tea set as a slight token of the regard we hold for your friendship.

You are one of our oldest neighbours, and, needless to say, one of our dearest friends. You were always most willing to mingle with your neighbours, in all their joys and sorrows. Especially where trouble existed, your kind kind and motherly love was to be seen, sympathizing with the sorrowing ones, and endeavouring to make their sorrow as light as possible, by persuading them to carry all their troubles to the dear saviour, Whom you so fully trusted.

Your place, we are all well aware, will be hard to fill, and your absence, we know, will long be felt with a deep feeling of loneliness. But our loss will be other people's gain. You may always be sure you will have a warm welcome whenever you return to visit us, in the future.

We wish you every prosperity and happiness in your new home, and, depend upon it, our best wishes and most sincere prayers will always follow you. We trust and pray that we may often again meet on this earth, and, in that great gathering around the Throne of God, that we may, at last meet, to part no more.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours,

MEDDA SWINTON,
CORA MACMULLEN.

Needless to say, Mrs. Middleton was completely taken by surprise. But, nevertheless, she replied briefly and thanked her friends with a full heart.

Lastly Misses Edna and Louisa Middleton were called to the fore, and as the following address was read by Miss Winnie Reid, they were presented with a beautiful silver cake dish, and fruit dish:

Dear fellow-pupils and friends.—It is with feelings of the deepest sorrow and regret, that we have learned of your intended departure from amongst us, in the near future. We wish you to accept this silver cake dish and fruit dish, as a slight token of the esteem and love which we bear you both.

As companions and friends you cannot be excelled. During your whole life, all of which we are pleased to say you spent amongst us, we found you true and honest in every particular. You were never known to stoop to anything mean or paltry, but instead, you would turn from it, as from a serpent. We all valued your friendship as something worth living.

You were always ready to help in with our amusements, and your merry laugh and kind words made them a success. And, on the other hand, when any of us were in trouble, you were willing to help us bear it and you always succeeded by your kind sympathy, to make it light.

We hope and trust, that we may often see you and remember that our homes will be always ready to receive you. We pray that your successes in the future may be many, and you failures few, and, when this life is over, that you may go to live with Jesus in that great Home above forever and ever.

Signed on behalf of the pupils and friends of Union Sabbath School, Smith,

WINNIE REID,
CLEM. HANCOCK,
MABEL ELLIOTT.

A few lively songs and speeches were then given, and the company dispersed to amuse themselves as only they knew how. This they did for a time, after which they were seated and an excellent supper, kindly provided by the ladies, was partaken of.

After fully satisfying themselves, and bidding farewell to their friends they took their several ways home, their hearts full of sorrow, at having so soon to part with such excellent neighbours as Mr. Middleton and family have proved to be. — Communicated.

CURED ONCE AND FOR ALL.

J. J. McDonald had Rheumatism and Dropsy, was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has had no Return of the Trouble for Five Years.

Windsor, Ont., December 1. (Special.).—It has been acknowledged for some years that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure any case of Kidney Disease and of late those interested in medical science have been watching those cures to convince themselves that they were permanent. Gradually the conviction is forced that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure once and for all. One more proof of this is furnished by John J. McDonald, a well known farmer, now residing at 130 Langlois avenue. Five years ago he was troubled with Rheumatism and Dropsy. For two years he suffered terribly and the different medicines he tried failed to relieve him. His legs were swollen and the pains he suffered were most acute. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills, was cured, and his cure caused quite a sensation at the time.

"I have had no return of my trouble up to the present, and I am not anxious for any. It is with pleasure I acknowledge that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I found them just as represented, and they did for me more than I expected that they would."

The visit of Mr. Castle and Mr. Mathers was the result of formal complaints filed with the grain and warehouse commissioner by Territorial Grain Growers' Association through its officers.

Loss of Over a Million.

Detroit, Dec. 2.—There have been 33 vessels lost on the lakes so far this season, and the loss to the underwriters has been over a million dollars. About three-quarters of this has been on hulls and one-quarter on cargoes. Unless there should be exceptionally bad luck during the last few days of the season, this year will go on record as one of fair profit to the marine insurance business.

Complains of the Light.

London, Dec. 2.—Capt. I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

After 2,000 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month and, if it succeeds, the cost is only $5.00. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself.

I have no samples, because any medicine that can affect Rheumatism quickly must be dragged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk.

I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of 40 who get those six bottles pay gladly.

I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. I will send you my book about Rheumatism, and an order for medicine. Take it for a month, as it won't harm you anyway.

If it fails, it is free, and I leave the decision with you. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 47 Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

CASTRO KNUCKLES UNDER.

Will Pay the Claims of Germany and Great Britain.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—President Castro of Venezuela handed, probably on Thursday last, to the German Minister at Caracas, a written acceptance of part of Germany's claims, sufficiently comprehensive to delay the presentation of a joint demonstration by Germany and Great Britain, if not rendering it altogether unnecessary. It is also understood that Great Britain's demands will be satisfied. Foreign Secretary Von Richtofen, and the British Foreign Secretary, Lord Lansdowne, are now in correspondence over Venezuela's change of front.

President Castro tried by every means to keep Great Britain and Germany apart in discussing the settlements intimating or promising first one thing and then another. Germany, having entered into a general agreement with Great Britain to exact a settlement, jointly, she will not make a separate agreement. Consequently the two powers may yet conclude it necessary to disregard President Castro's qualified offers and present an ultimatum to Venezuela.

Is Your Back Lame?

Does it hurt to stoop or bend down? Have you a heavy dull pain at the base of the spine? If so the best remedy is Nerviline; it will invigorate the tired, soft muscles, make them supple and strong. Nerviline will drive out the pain and make you well in no time. Nothing so good as Nerviline for Lumbago, Stiff Neck, Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Sciatica. Buy a 25c bottle of Polson's Nerviline today and try it.

A PROFIT OF $96,000

IS I. C. R'S. RECORD, 1901-02.

A Financial Improvement Shown in the Government Railway's Finances—Mr. Hay Canada's Installing Officer at World's Fairs—Australia Wants a Canadian to Fill Position on Government Railway.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The operations of the Intercolonial Railway for the fiscal year ending June 30 show financial improvement. The total earnings amounted to $5,671,385, and the working expenses to $5,574,568, showing a profit of $96,822. The earnings as compared with the previous year increased by $699,150, while the expenditure advanced by only $114,141. The loss of $488,186 in 1900-01 has therefore been wiped out, and in addition, as already stated, there is a balance of $96,822 to the good.

To Install Exhibits.

The Minister of Agriculture has arranged to have Mr. Hay, formerly of the Experimental Farm, permanently affiliated with the new exhibition branch of his department, as an expert for installing Canada's exhibits at the different world's Fairs, his whole time to be devoted to such work in future. Mr. Hay was identified with the designing and arranging in position of Canada's displays at the International Exposition at Chicago, Omaha, Paris, Glasgow, Wolverhampton and Cork, as well as putting in place the exhibits the Experimental Farm has made at numerous smaller Fairs in this country. His most recent work of note was in decorating the Canadian arch erected in London at the coronation of King Edward. He will be succeeded as accountant at the farm by Mr. W. M. Cramp, assistant accountant. A presentation was made to Mr. Hay by his colleagues at the farm on his retirement from the position of accountant.

Looking For a Canadian.

The Government of the Australian Commonwealth has asked for the recommendation of a Canadian to fill the position of Controller of Government Railways. Mr. John Coates, President of the Ottawa Board of Trade, who has resided in Australia and is identified with industrial enterprises there, was requested to make a nomination, and submitted the name of an official in Montreal. He refused to state who the gentleman was, on the ground that it would not be fair to do so, as the recommendation might not be accepted. It is stated that Sir Sandford Fleming has also been invited to make a recommendation, but the statement could not be verified.

TROOPS TO AWE STOKERS.

Eight Thousand Against Three Thousand, Five Hundred Stokers.

Marseilles, Dec. 2.—The port remained quiet throughout yesterday, but many strikers were loitering about the moles and wharves, where work was almost completely at a standstill. Vessels arriving from abroad, however, find no difficulty in discharging. Three thousand five hundred strikers met yesterday and adopted a manifesto demanding that the towing companies should cease their services as regards French vessels. They also passed a resolution calling on all engineers and stokers to abandon work within 24 hours under the penalty of being pronounced false brothers. Tranquility prevails in the city. Eight thousand troops are here, and the port is strongly patrolled.

Loyalty His Only Crime.

Piquetberg, Cape Colony, Dec. 2.—The inquiry into the case of the Rev. Mr. Vlok, a Dutch minister who had incurred the displeasure of his congregation for his loyalty during the war, was held yesterday by the Paarl ring of ministers. The question whether Mr. Vlok could continue to be the pastor of the congregation was negatived by the elders of the church by twenty-six votes to three. Mr. Vlok accepted the offer of £1,000 sterling in cash and a life annuity of £150 from Jan. 1, 1903. In a parting address Mr. Vlok said he never expected such treatment after twenty-one years' service.

53 Attempts at Suicide.

London, Dec. 2.—It was stated of Elizabeth Lamb, aged 31, who was charged at Hull with attempted suicide, that she had attempted her life no fewer than twenty-three times in the past nine years.

By strangling, by drowning, by hanging, and by cutting her throat she had sought to take her life. On the present occasion she had attempted strangulation by tightly tying a handkerchief round her neck. She was committed to the Sessions.

The Evils of Constipation.

This dangerous condition causes sick headaches, abdominal pains, piles and in severe cases, insanity and apoplexy. The most agreeable and satisfactory remedy is Ferrozone, which makes the bowels so well ordered that natural and unassisted action is established. It is mild and certain in action and never causes distress or inconvenience, and may be taken as long as desired. Pains in the stomach and intestines, piles, biliousness and headaches disappear at once when Ferrozone is used. Recommended and sold by druggists. Price 50c. No pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

The 57th Congress.

Washington, Dec. 2. — The second session of the 57th Congress convened yesterday. Representative Cannon introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 to defray the expenses of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission, appointed by the President. The bill provides that the members may receive such compensation within the limit of the appropriation as the President may deem proper, and provision is made so there will be no conflict with existing laws affecting those members who are now in the employ of the Government.

The Secretary of the Treasury today transmitted to Congress the estimates of the appropriations required for the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904. The total appropriations asked for are $589,189,112, which is $21,688,576 less than the estimates for 1903, and $33,050,014 less than the appropriations for that year.

Home Rule in Toronto.

Toronto, Dec. 2. — The reception tendered Joseph Devlin, M.P., the delegate of the United Irish League, in Association Hall last evening by the Toronto branch of the league, was most enthusiastic and successful in every respect, and must have truly warmed the heart of the recipient. He was accompanied by Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., who received a grand ovation on entering the hall. In their eloquent speeches Messrs. Blake and Devlin told why Ireland is discontented under British rule. Canada's loyalty explained her freedom and liberty, and they claimed that with self-government the Green Isle would be happy, too, and the Empire stronger. The audience contributed $850 to the cause.

Gained Five Pounds in Ten Days.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—Major G. H. Ogilvie, of Quebec, who has been spending some time at Hot Springs, Virginia, states that Sir Wilfrid has improved wonderfully during his short sojourn in the south. He is almost like a new man and has gained five pounds in ten days.

A Familiar Name.

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

Pepper Boys Remanded.

Galt, Dec 2.—William and Alvin Pepper appeared before P. M. Blake yesterday morning, charged with robbing and doing violence to John Bryden. They were remanded to Berlin until 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Greek Cabinet Resigns.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

W. A. Andrews, a Prominent Piano Dealer of Toronto, Cured of Chronic Rheumatism by Nature's Blood Food—Powley's Liquified Ozone.

W. A. ANDREWS, Piano Dealer, Toronto.

"Last August I was attacked with severe muscular rheumatism. So bad was this attack that I called in my doctor who had to administer injections to allay the pain, after which he put me through the sweating system. He attended me well and faithfully for five weeks. When I got up I was compelled to use two canes to get around the house. During all this time I lost about twenty-five pounds in weight; in fact I was a complete wreck. My appetite and sleep left me. I tried a number of good tonics to brace me up and give me an appetite, but none of them helped me.

"About this time my daughter commenced taking Ozone for a chronic sore throat and quinsy, from which she had suffered for years. In a short time she was completely cured of this troublesome disease. So effective was the preparation in her case that I commenced using it myself, and in two days' time my appetite returned and my sleep became as good as ever. All the pains and aches had vanished by the time I had started on the second bottle, and I threw away my canes. Ozone toned up my system and I became a new man. I gained rapidly in flesh, as all my friends can testify. I look well and enjoy as good health now as ever I did in my life.

"I advise weak and debilitated people, whose stomachs refuse oil emulsions and even milk, to use the Ozone-egg emulsion which we have used so effectively in our family and proved such a fine food and flesh builder without causing the least nauseous effect.

"Any person wishing to verify this statement can call at No. 12 Elm St., where I will be glad to give them my experience. (Signed)

"W. A. ANDREWS, 12 Elm St., Toronto."

Powley's Liquified Ozone will eliminate the uric acid from the body through the kidneys without depressing the heart's action or injuring the stomach. It is a new and better way of curing uric acid disorders and we have never known it to fail. You can obtain Powley's Liquified Ozone at your druggists—two sizes, 50c. and $1.00.

AN EVENING WITH CHARLES DICKENS.

Public Indebted to St. Peter's Ladies' Aid Society.

Incidents in the Life of Dickens Admirably Presented in Story and Picture.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's Cathedral provided a rich literary entertainment last night in the "Evening with Charles Dickens," presented by Mr. E. S. Williamson, of Toronto. There was a very large house and it is a pleasure to note that a handsome sum was added to the Charity Fund of the Society, in whose interest the entertainment was projected. It was a happy idea to have Charles Dickens the subject of an entertainment for charitable purposes, for there is no writer in the English, or for the matter of that, in any language, who has done more to present in infinitely varied form the spirit of love, gentleness and unselfishness, which was incarnate in the Christ; and any lover of Dickens, and that includes all who have read him, could not, in hearing Mr. Williamson's graphic picture-story of the incidents of his life, but have his recollections vividly stirred and his heart melted anew by the charitable and kindly feelings evoked by the reading of the wizard of the heart.

Mr. D. O'Connell, barrister, officiated as chairman and briefly introduced the lecturer of the evening. Lovers of Dickens must love the lecturer for his love of Dickens, apart from the marked literary merit and instructive character of his presentation. His condensed but complete word sketch of the life of the author, illustrated by most interesting stereopticon portraits of himself at several stages of his life, of his various homes, of the prominent characters in his books, fac-similes of his manuscript, etc., all illustrated at the apt moment by apt quotations from the works of the author, was most interesting. As scene after scene, incident after incident, setting forth the varied experiences of Dickens from his cradle to his grave, including comfort, poverty, affluence, divers occupations and contact with all sorts and conditions of men, were presented, one understood, more clearly why these experiences, flashed upon by the light of his genius, and woven by his word spells into immortal literature so touch the heart and fire the spirit. Mr. Williamson has a happy, easy style of speaking, free from superfluous verbiage, which, with his illustrations, makes his lecture a literary treat and charming discourse. The lecture intensifies one's personal love for Dickens, gives inner glimpses of his noble heart, and lofty soul, and throws a high light upon those qualities reflected in writings, stained by no impure thought, and palpitating with an ardent zeal for the betterment of the fallen and oppressed, and the scourging of all cant and meanness that blight the happiness of others. The lecturer is a noted amateur of Dickensiana, and has at his home in Toronto, perhaps the most complete collection of literature and souvenirs of the great author to be found on the continent. Among these is the first gold watch owned by Dickens, which was exhibited last night and handled with the keenest interest by many, who could not help reflecting that this watch never marked for the owner a millionth part of the happy hours which his works have given his millions of readers.

The entertainment was brightened by the singing of a beautiful chorus by the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral, by a sparkling pianoforte duet by the Misses Hurley, and by two charming recitations by charming little Carrie White. The entertainment closed with "God Save the King."

Our Town Roads Were Very Heavily Scored.

The Farmers' Institute held their Peterborough meeting in the County Council Chambers Monday afternoon, the attendance though not large was enthusiastic and the addresses were well rendered.

Mr. E. M. Elliott, President, opened the meeting in a neat speech, and spoke of the prosperity of the country in general and the prospects for the future. He then introduced the first speaker, Mr. D. Drummond, of Myrtle.

THE DAIRY HERD.

Mr. Drummond's subject was on "Improving a Grade Dairy Herd," and it contained many good points and suggestions, which will no doubt be acted upon. In his opening remarks Mr. Drummond compared the farmer with the manufacturer. The latter, in order to be successful must keep himself posted as to all parts of his plant, and the various machinery used in his establishment in order that he may know what is the cost of his product in all its branches. Even so a dairyman must keep a record of the product of each cow in order to know which pays. Then the necessity of scientific feeding was too often neglected. Feeding is a most essential factor in the improvement of the breed. Another thing that should be carefully studied was the sire and dam of his calves. The masculine character should predominate over all others in those chosen, as this gives the necessary hardihood to the herd. After the sire and dam are satisfactory, the next business is in the raising of the calf. Too many men allow the calves to raise themselves, and the result is a backward heifer. The closest attention must be given to their feed during the first three months, and a careful supervision for a year at least. This care would be repaid although perhaps there would be no profit for the first year, but after years would well repay the care and attention given. Another thing that should be attended to was the testing of the milk, in order to know which cow was giving the best result. This would be very useful in determining the feed and also in selecting the dams for future herds. In answer to a question he thought that a test morning and evening every two weeks often enough. In his closing remarks Mr. Drummond spoke of the stable which he thought should be as simple as possible in order to ensure greater cleanliness.

Many questions were asked during Mr. Drummond's address, showing the interest taken in his speech, and all received a sensible and satisfactory answer.

Mr. Smith, of Langbank, was the next speaker and took for his subject "What to sell." This question was one with which it was very difficult to deal. The speaker was at a disadvantage in regard to the different conditions under which he and his hearers cultivated the soil. What the farmers wanted to sell was manufactured articles in a finished condition and ready for the market. The primary source of wealth to the farmer is the soil, the relation of the article sold in regard to the fertility of the soil should be considered seriously. Our land is very fertile, and when our products reduce the productive qualities of the soil below normal, steps should be taken to bring the soil back as far as possible to the natural condition.

The farmers have several points to consider. The inorganic parts that go towards the production of a plant, such as soil, air and water, from this we get the plant which in turn becomes the food of the animal. The principal finished products spoken of is the animal, and it has been learned that the animal is the least exhaustive of all that can be got from the farm. The speaker then dealt with the scientific side of grain raising. In the finished plant we have carbon, hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen. There is no plant that can absorb all the nitrogen of the air, but clover absorbs a large quantity which it transmits in turn to the soil. Again it might be said that the finished product must be considered. Take the wheat grown on one acre of ground. There were 1,840 lbs. of grain, and this amount removed 34 lbs. of nitrogen, 32 lbs. ash, 15 lbs. phosphoric acid and 10 lbs. of potassium. The straw grown was 4,040 lbs. This is a fair average as to all the white grains. Roots, of which the ordinary beet is a fair sample, gave the following results: Crop 4,000 lbs., 114 lbs. of nitrogen, 822 lbs. ash, 80 lbs. phosphoric acid, 227 lbs. of potassium. Another crop might be mentioned and this was that of clover. In a crop of 6,000 lbs., there were 130 lbs. of nitrogen, ash 390 lbs., phosphoric acid 29 lbs., potassium 23 lbs. Grass is much the same and need not be considered. Clover, although having the largest amount of nitrogen has this advantage: Clover roots go down several inches and bring up nitrogen and phosphoric acid to the surface by means of its tap-roots. Mr. Smith touched on the sugar beet question. Although not raising any himself he would speak briefly as regards experiences of farmers in his vicinity. The result he finds from farmers is that this industry will succeed on the following conditions:

1. If the large ox acreage be not taken.
2. If not too far from the factory.

If these beets are grown they should keep up the fertility of the soil by rotation.

The sugar beets removes a great deal of potassium, but this can be procured from the factory and put back on the soil.

Returning to the subject of "What to Sell," Mr. Smith said the finished product must only be sold. If rough

Mr. Thos. Darcy, of Burleigh, has purchased from Mr. R. Johnson the property he so recently bought from Mr. J. S. Madill. Mr. Darcy is moving to Lakefield in order that his grandson may have the benefit of the school here. His son, Mr. Warney Darcy, will conduct the business at Burleigh as formerly.

Mr. Buck, of Norwood, shipped four cars of turkeys from Lakefield on Thursday last, which he bought in the surrounding country.

Mrs. Benson left Lakefield for Orono on Saturday where she intends reside in future.

Miss Mulligan, of Newcastle, who has been visiting in the village the guest of Mrs. E. A. Tanner, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Quite an interesting debate took place in the Methodist church on Friday evening at the Epworth League meeting. The question under debate being "Prohibition vs. High License." Mr. Horton and Mr. Harper for Prohibition, while Mr. Brevender and Mr. Brown were for High License. Some very good points were advanced on both sides of the question. It was decided that Prohibition was much more desirable by a vote of 17 to 14.

Dr. King, of Peterborough, was in the village on Friday.

Mr. Harry Moore, of Whitney, Ont., formerly of Lakefield, had the misfortune to meet with a very painful accident. Mr. Moore, who is a foreman in the shanty near Whitney, where the logs are all drawn on the company's own railroad, was standing on the front of the locomotive when he slipped and his foot was caught under the cowcatcher, he fortunately was able to hold on to the engine and keep his body from the rails until the engine was stoped. Mr. Moore's limb was badly lacerated, but no bones broken.

Mr. Bemrose Hunter, who had been ill for some time, died at his residence on Regent street, Lakefield on Sunday morning. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Mr. Hunter was a saddler, and carried on a successful business in the village for many years up to the time of his death. In Mr. Hunter's death Lakefield loses one of its best known and most highly respected citizens. The deceased leaves to mourn his loss a wife and a son and daughter. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Messrs. John and Jos. Madill left on Monday for Napanee, where they intend opening on the first of January a new and up-to-date dry goods store. While we regret to lose Messrs. Madill Bros. from our midst we wish them every success in their new venture.

THE ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL

Held in the Council Chamber Last Night.

Not Much Business Needed Consideration—Accounts Paid.

The regular meeting of the Ashburnham council was held last night, with the following members present: Reeve Smith and Councillors Adams and Pollock.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

A communication was received from the Water Commissioners, asking for a statement of the number of water services, and the revenue received, or to be received, and requesting the council to remit payment by Dec. 10, as the Commissioners had to make their annual report at that date.

The clerk was instructed, on motion of Councillors Adams and Pollock, to comply with the request of the Water Commissioners.

A motion was passed instructing the treasurer to pay the following accounts:

Peterborough Light and Power pany..... ....$	1 80
Examiner, tax bills.....	1 50
W. Stocker, posting.....	3 00
Pay sheet No. 33...	75 00
Pay sheet No. 34.....	19 55
Peterborough Light and Power Co., when certified...	325 00
	$426 85

A statement of receipts and expenditures of the village from Nov. 4th to 20th, was read as follows:

Expenditure... ... ...$	246 50
Receipts...	1215 96

In accord ce with the agreement of the Water Commissioners the treasurer was ordered to pay the Peterborough Water Commissioners before the 10th inst. the amount due them under the terms of the agreement for hydrants and water services, and for private water supply, one half the amount to be paid for the year 1902 by the Water Commissioners in Ashburnham.

This concluded the business of the evening and the council rose to meet again on Dec. 15th.

The Sporting Editor of the London Free Press has lost his patience. There appears to be some reason for the ire of the Free Press man raising, and his wrath is directed against the Sporting Editors of the Globe and the Telegram. These papers have been insinuating that the Free Press upheld the unsportsmanlike conduct of a certain clique of Londoners who desired to run athletics in that town on a semi-professional basis. When they referred to the press of the Forest City sanctioning certain misdeeds they did so indiscriminately. Of course this was most annoying to the Free Press, which as a matter of fact never in anyway sanctioned the bare faced actions of a few individuals who allowed their enthusiasm to get the better of their judgment. The Free Press as far as we know has always advocated true sport, and it is at least ungrateful for such papers as the Globe and the Telegram to accuse it of the sins of other papers.

Of course we would have accepted the Canadian O.R.U. championship, had we won it.

TEMPERANCE REFORM.

The Examiner has been requested to publish the following: The Outlook, a high-class magazine, prints in the current number a paper by Prof. W. O. Atwater, of Wesleyan University, an article on "Temperance Reform." It consists of an analysis of the resolutions on Temperance adopted by the Men's Assembly of the First Methodist Church of Middletown, Connecticut, after 4 months' study in which the various phases of Temperance were exhaustively considered. The assembly, which included clergymen, teachers, lawyers, bankers, merchants, etc., adopted, with practical unanimity, the following resolutions:—

1.—We recognize that Christian liberality forbids us to condemn all use of alcoholic drinks as necessarily sinful. In view of the great evils of intemperance, the most of us believe that abstinence from intoxicating liquors as a beverage is for us as individuals a wise and Christian course, both for personal character and for brotherly helpfulness. But we do not undertake to judge those who differ with us in this. We allow to all the same freedom of conscience which we claim for ourselves; and we believe that the union of the friends of temperance reform, whether total abstainers or not, is both desirable and possible.

2.—We favour accurate and earnest instruction in the schools on the physiological and moral effects of intemperance; and we rejoice in the revision of the Connecticut law, which now gives to the public school teachers more liberty and responsibility, and to the scholars more rational and useful teaching.

3.—We recognize that there is a powerful and legitimate social demand of which the liquor saloon now takes advantage, but which should be met by other agencies. Believing the sum of the influence of the liquor saloon to be degrading, we welcome all proper substitutes for it; such as cheap and clean restaurants, gymnasiums, game-rooms, reading-rooms, libraries, and people's institutes, saloons and clubs where intoxicants are not sold, recreation places and parks, and public baths. These, properly directed and used, may lessen the demand for the liquor saloon. But, most of all, we believe that the home should be the real social centre, the source of a pure citizenship and churchmanship; and we regard as true temperance measures a proper diet, a plentiful supply of light, air and water, space enough for health and recreation, and all other physical conditions for the decency and cheer of the home.

4.—We recognize that State prohibition has brought excellent results in some cities and many rural communities. But in view of the facts that of sixteen States at one time or another under prohibitory laws, only five still keep those laws upon their statute books, or in their constitutions; that in the larger communities of even these States such laws have generally failed of enforcement in any considerable degree, we are compelled to question whether the immediate legal solution of the temperance problem, in the present state of public opinion and practice, is to be looked for through the extension of State prohibition. The advantages of that plan may be largely obtained through local option, which we heartily favour, and the disadvantages of an unenforced law be at least in part avoided. The severer restriction of the number of licenses, which on the whole must be regarded as a temperance measure, has as its logical accompaniment either high license fees or the removal of the traffic from private hands.

5.—The experiments in the conduct of the liquor business by philanthropic companies, or by the State or local community itself (as exemplified in the Scandinavin company systems, and the dispensary system in some of our Southern States), in order to discourage treating and drinking on the premises, to better the moral tone of the saloons, and to eliminate from the traffic the element of private gain—which leads to pushing the sales, evading the law, and opposing reforms—such experiments deserve the careful attention of earnest men, and, in our opinion, might with advantage be tried in our own town. If the profits from the sale of liquors under these restrictions could be applied to the maintenance of such substitutes as are mentioned in 3, the traffic might be made in some degree self-destroying.

6.—To sum up: All effective temperance reform must be based on the law of truth and the law of service. The facts concerning the hygienic, educational, economic, ethical, and legislative aspects of the question must be faced with absolute candor. The true objectives of temperance reform—on its negative side—should be clearly defined as the reduction and abolition of drunkenness and the extinction of the saloon as it now exists. On its positive side, temperance reform should aim at developing personal integrity and will, with the sense of brotherhood and mutual responsibility; at conducting inquiry and scattering information; and at providing substitutes which will offer to the community all that is desirable in the saloon as it now is, without the social, moral and political evils with which it abounds.

The saloon rests upon three props—the desire for drink, the desire for society, and the financial interest of the dealers and (through license fees and otherwise) of the community. These should be carefully dealt with as distinct items in the problem. 'Legislation that will allow to separate communities freedom to make experiments in the control of the traffic is greatly to be desired, and we favour such legislation in Connecticut.'

We believe that an organization is now needed which, recognising the increasing prevalence of the spirit of conciliation, the search for truth, and the desire to render useful service, will seek to unite all temperance workers to secure thorough study of the subject, education of public sentiment, rational legislation, and proper substitutes for the saloon. Such a specific effort may prove long and costly, but will, we believe, lead to a day of better things.

Prof. Atwater, in dealing with these resolutions, among other things, says:

"On the constructive side the resolutions approve total abstinence, though they do not insist upon it as a duty for every one; they recommend specific agencies for promoting temperance, such as substitutes for the saloon, attractive homes, proper diet; they favour the testing of such measures as the company and dispensary system for controlling the sale of liquor; they call for thorough study of the whole subject and the education of public opinion; what seems to me best of all, they place the whole matter on the high ethical basis of self-control, upbuilding of character, and service by example; and finally, they propose a definite form of organized effort to make these methods more effective.

"The chief representative of the drink evil, and a cause of great individual, social and political injury, is the saloon. To oppose it successfully, we must know in what its strength consists.

"The saloon has three powerful supports; the thirst for drink, the need of a part of the community for social intercourse, and pecuniary profit.

"The taste for drink is very general; it often increases with the using, and the saloon keeper has learned how to foster it. But if the evidence of men who know the saloon and its patrons is to be accepted, this liking of alcohol for itself is the least of the three factors.

"The social need is legitimate and very large, and the saloon meets it with wonderful skill and success. The life of thousands of wage workers is monotonous, how sadly so most readers of The Outlook are too fortunate to know. The number of men whose homes are unattractive is great, and the number of those who have no homes to go to perhaps even greater. The saloon attracts the transient visitor, and serves as the 'poor man's club.' The social instinct in man is strong; he is happy with his fellows; he wants a place where he can meet them on equal footing, no restraint, no obligation, save that for which he pays. The saloon gives him exactly what he wants, and the social glass makes it all the more acceptable. Despite the harmfulness of the saloon, some of the most competent and candid students of the subject question whether there are not many cases, especially in large cities, where it could ill be spared unless a social substitute were provided. • • •

"None but those who have carefully studied into the matter can realize the strength of the social and financial foundations of the saloon. Hitherto these factors have been neglected, and the main effort against the liquor evil has been through legislation.

"The two principal methods employed in the United States for the legislation of the liquor traffic are prohibition and license. • • •

"Prohibition has been adopted at various periods by sixteen States, and compulsorily enforced by order of the Federal Government in one territory, Alaska. It has been declared unconstitutional in New York, tried and abandoned in ten States, and is now the law of five, viz., Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Kansas, and North Dakota. In the first three of these of these the question of repeal is under active consideration. • • •

"No moral movement which has to meet organized and powerful opposition can be permanently successful, however worthy its purpose, unless the method has the clearest ethical basis. The ethical basis of prohibition is questioned by many of the worthiest citizens, especially by those who do not accept the doctrine that all use of alcohol is injurious and necessarily sinful, and by those who question the right of society to prohibit the sale of a commodity which so many want and believe they have the right to buy. • • •

"In attempting to stop the use of liquor by stopping its sale, prohibition depends upon the statute book. It does very little to interfere with the profits of the business, and nothing whatever to supply the social need. Until these two foundations are weakened, as prohibition does not and cannot weaken them, the saloon bids fair to stand secure.

"This last objection applies equally to the license system. Restricting the number of saloons increases the profits of the holder of the license, and the license fee he has to pay is only an additional stimulus to him to make the most of the social feature in order to increase his custom.

THE REFERENDUM CAMPAIGN.

Dear Sir,—The attitude of prohibitionists seems to call for some independent comment, now that the contest is over and most people have determined how they will vote. In striving to prevent drunkenness, they have a strong cause and every right thinking man must feel in sympathy with their desires.

It is regrettable, however, that the men (and women) of this party have not found it possible to avoid immoderate and extreme utterances. These may have been noticed more than would otherwise have been the case, as coming from advocates of moral reform.

Looking at the matter calmly and impartially, are the strictly moderate drinkers the dangerous and pernicious men that they have been represented? They can stand it, perhaps, but it is very unfortunate that a strong tendency has been manifested to depict the two sides as respectively championed by the Deity and the devil.

As a result of this, if by any chance the Prohibition party be defeated, it will seem as if the powers of evil had triumphed.

Now sir, let it be clearly understood before hand that this cannot reasonably be said. There are multitudes of voters who believe in Religion, and Temperance, and who certainly do not consider themselves to belong to the devil's retinue, who, nevertheless, are not Prohibitionists, and who may possibly feel themselves in duty bound to vote nay. These persons are not convinced that either entire Prohibition or the "Ontario Liquor Act" will effect the results claimed for them. They believe that liquor is in the world to stay, and that the best course, under the circumstances is to regulate the traffic more strictly, to enforce the law and to strengthen the resisting power of our young men.

No doubt Prohibitionists have been doing this, but if this Act passes we are afraid they will (as before) lessen or cease moral efforts, and leave the law to do what it apparently cannot do. The liquor traffic is certainly not regulated in an ideal fashion now, and the law is far too frequently broken, which will influence many (and not without some reason) to support the Act on Thursday. It looks as if an effective measure would have to be devised, and some of us consider what is known as the Gothenburg system to be the only practicable solution of the difficulty yet in sight. In the meanwhile, let those who are entrusted with the sale of liquor be careful as to how they celebrate, if this particular Liquor Act be defeated. Let them remember that the public eye is upon them more than ever before and that whether there be a majority of Prohibitionists or not, there is certainly an immense majority who believe in Temperance, law and order and who will back up their belief in some practical way.

MEETING FOR MEN

At the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday Afternoon was Largely Attended.

The Y.M.C.A. Hall was filled with men on Sunday afternoon, the meeting being the first of a series addressed by outside speakers. The Committee of Ten having charge of the meetings of this series are much encouraged by the success of the first. The speaker was Rev. E. D. MacLaren, D.D., Superintendant of Presbyterian Home Missions, who gave a telling address on "Consequences," basing his remarks on the text "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

The speaker traced out the parallel between the natural and spiritual laws of sowing and reaping. We are all sowers, we must all reap. It was the law of reproduction and increase. Many men awoke too late, when the mistake of sowing wrongly had been discovered. Men would be sure to reap the same kind as they had sown. There was no comfort in reaping the results of sowing wild oats. Men who sowed to the flesh would reap the flesh in its most corrupt forms. The men present were urged to sow to the spirit that they might reap life everlasting.

Mr. Wildgust sang "The Man of Sorrows" in a most impressive manner, to accompanyments played by Mr. Geo. Schneider.

Now is the Time.

Food For the Aged.

Food for the aged, according to a prominent English authority, should consist in the main of fruits and vegetables, as the acids dissolve out the lime salts from the tissues and so prevent too early stiffness of the joints and other parts. Tea and coffee are best avoided, as they cause paralysis or want of proper control over the limbs. Pork, veal, cheese and much flesh food must be avoided, as a heavy meal of any of these foods is liable to induce a stroke of apoplexy. All food should be simple, plainly cooked and taken in great moderation, lest the digestive organs be overtaxed. Breakfast may consist of porridge and milk, whole wheat bread and milk or whole wheat bread and fruit and a cup of cocoa or milk. Dinners may consist of vegetable soup and bread, macaroni, vegetables and some simple plainly cooked nonflesh dish; for dessert, stewed fruit and bread or plain rice, sago, tapioca or macaroni pudding. If flesh or fish is eaten, it should be of the most digestible kinds, as lean beef or mutton or boiled or baked white meated fish, and then in moderation. Supper may consist of whole wheat bread and fruit or boiled onions, celery or beet root and a cup of cocoa or milk and water. Food should not be taken for at least three hours before going to bed.

Distinguished Physicians

TALK ABOUT DEAFNESS.

They Point Out the Cause of Progressive Hardness of Hearing and Show Conclusively How it May be Cured.

Says a well known ear specialist;—"Deafness in ninety per cent. of the cases is the direct result of closure of the eustachian tube (a little passageway leading from the middle ear to the back part of the throat) from a catarrhal inflammation of its mucous membrane. Then follows a rarefaction of air in the middle ear, with consequent intrusion of the drum, and an impaction of the ossicular arch, with a gradual anchylosis of the ossicular articulations, and a progressive stenosis of the eustachian tubes."

An editorial in the Medical Brief, a journal published by and for physicians and having the largest circulation of any strictly professional medical publication in the world, says, (10-1901, P. 1517.)

"Deafness is becoming increasingly common, and the frequent failure of local treatment makes it necessary that we look for systemic conditions which may play a part in the continuance of the trouble.

At least three-fourths of the cases of deafness are due to catarrhal disease, involving the eustachian tube.

Simply cleansing diseased mucous surface, inflating the middle ear, injecting medicaments, etc., will make no permanent impression so long as constitutional conditions remain unchanged.

Persistent medication with careful attention to hygiene may yield an amelioration of the trouble, and as deafness is a very great affliction, hampering the individual in a business way and shutting out much enjoyment, even a slight improvement is well worth working for."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets constitute the best, most reliable and economical internal or constitutional remedy for catarrh anywhere about the body, acting as they do through the blood they search out and attack the disease wherever it may lurk. That the medicine cures catarrhal deafness is attested by many worthy and reliable people.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says:—"I have suffered much from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure. Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I can hear as well as ever."

Mr. James W. Brown says:—"I suffered from catarrhal deafness for years and spent hundreds of dollars with specialists, without relief. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets completely cured my catarrh and to-day I can hear as well as I ever could."

Mr. F. Mitchell Hawes, the famous baryione, in a personal letter to a friend said:—"I am going back to my beloved profession next month. This will surprise you I know, for when I last saw you I never expected to sing again, but I am entirely cured of my catarrh and my hearing is now as acute as ever. I used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and in three weeks they had done for me more than all the specialists, to whom I paid thousands of dollars, and now I am entirely well."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50c a box. Try them and you will become their advocate and friend.

JENNIE WADE MEMORIAL.

Gettysburg Has the Only Monument to a Woman Killed in Battle.

Gettysburg has the only monument to a woman killed in battle, and this tribute to a heroine was made by a woman and erected by women. Jennie Wade is rightfully called "the heroine of Gettysburg," for no more loyal girl ever lived and none ever died more bravely.

Her story is interesting. The first day of the battle Jennie Wade drew and carried water from the old windlass well, while shot and shell shrieked around her and the din of the battle raged so fiercely. All day she filled canteens for the thirsty men, never shrinking from her perilous task.

All the second day also she succored the almost fainting men. The third day at dawn she was astir and was preparing the brick oven to bake bread for the soldiers, when their calls for food were so insistent that she saw the necessity for haste and, calling her mother, asked her to finish the baking in the oven while she baked biscuit in the stove for the men.

THE JENNIE WADE MONUMENT.

Before her task was completed a hostile bullet crashed through the door and killed her. The evening of July 4 soldier hands tenderly laid her away in a coffin made for a Confederate colonel.

Only a slab marked her resting place until Sept. 16, 1901, when an ornate monument was erected through the efforts of the Woman's Relief corps of Iowa, in which state the sister of Jennie Wade, Mrs. Georgia Wade McClellan, past department president of the Woman's Relief corps, resides. At the time of the battle Mrs. McClellan was in the house in which her sister was killed, in bed with a babe less than a week old by her side.

Praise is due the woman who had charge of the work of raising funds for the memorial, Mrs. Margaret Hinman of Belmond, Ia. Mrs. Hinman was indefatigable in her efforts to erect a shaft which should not only do honor to the noble girl whose courage it commemorates, but should be a credit to the women who planned it.

The figure surmounting the pedestal is that of a young girl with a cloak draping her figure, in her right hand she holds a cup, and on her left arm she carries canteens.—Washington Post.

Why Her Vacation Was Prolonged.

"When you stand in your own house, monarch of all you survey and nothing to eat, it touches you from crown to heel. Mrs. D. wrote to say she missed my usual impatience about her coming home and wanted to know why. I simply replied: 'No hurry; I am eating "Force."'

Too Much Furniture.

"Have nothing in your house that you do not know to be useful and believe to be beautiful," was one of the sane precepts of William Morris. Have you applied it to your own house? If not, begin with the sitting room and carefully consider each article. How few things here are really useful! We need enough comfortable chairs and each one should be a thing of beauty—not necessarily expensive, but well made, of good proportions and with no sham carving. Each should be a self respecting object, proud to show itself, not the bedibboned, betidied nondescript article which sometimes takes its place.

Many a room suffers from a superabundance of tables which invite all kinds of ornamental nothings to come and repose on their tops. Indeed, it often requires skillful navigation to sail about this archipelago of furniture in such a manner as to avoid catastrophe.

What have you on the mantelpiece?

Are the things there from choice or habit? It is better to have nothing than nothing beautiful.

Glycerin as a Hair Tonic.

Women have been twenty years learning how to use glycerin and have more to learn yet. Its principal use is to prevent evaporation of fluids from the skin, keeping it moist and soft. A tablespoonful—that is, half an ounce—of glycerin to a six ounce bottle of face lotion prevents it from drying and gives the skin full benefit of the liquid. Glycerin is better as a hair tonic than as a face wash. Two ounces of glycerin, two of filtered water and two of alcohol or cologne, shaken together, form an excellent lotion for massage of the scalp. A flannel wet with the liquid applies it to the head an inch or two at a time, and the scalp is rubbed vigorously with the fingers till the fluid dries. "Rubbing in" any salve lotion means that it is rubbed until it dries and disappears from the surface completely.

Mrs. Burnett.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, the popular novelist, tells a funny story of her earliest literary experience. She wrote her first story while still in her early teens, and she greatly desired to send it to a certain publisher in Philadelphia. Then the difficulty arose—how was she to send it? The manuscript was all ready, but not the stamps for the postage, and the young authoress had not the wherewithal to buy them. However, she bethought her of a certain negress who used to gather grapes for sale, and she asked this girl to employ her. Thus she raised the necessary money she required, and she dispatched her story to Philadelphia. Her delight at receiving the proofs of it—for it was accepted—probably was far greater than she ever experienced on similar occasions after she had made her name as a writer.

Bedding.

The proper care of bedding should enter into the education of every daughter of the household, for it is one of the essentials of health as well as showing the character of the housewife, for what shows more conclusively a woman's ideas of neatness and cleanliness than the care with which her bed paraphernalia is attended to and the everyday appearance of her chambers? When a mattress is new, it should be incased in a cover of unbleached sheeting, which should be removed and washed once a year. This keeps the dust from the mattress cover. For covers which have not been so protected rinse the ticking well in cold water to which has been added a little potash and rinse well afterward.

About Nervous Babies.

The nervous baby must be carefully dieted, says the Philadelphia Ledger. Find out which food suits her and then stick to it. Give her lots of fresh air and use plenty of water and keep her very quiet. Never let her be dazzled by a bright light or startled by banging doors, chattering firearms, etc. Don't let visitors excite her or try to make her show off any little new accomplishments. See that she gets regular hours of sleep, that her bedclothes are warm and light and accustom her always to the sound of gentle voices. Even a baby should never hear a voice raised in anger.

Graceful Bed Drapery.

A simple and graceful drapery which adds to the beauty of any style of bed is easily arranged. It consists of one length of whatever material is chosen. This is passed through a large ring of wood or brass hanging from a staple in the ceiling or from a rod projecting from the cornice at the head of the bed. The ends of the material are drawn apart in certain fashion and carried to the sides of the headboard, where they are held back by means of bands or chains. A few yards of cretonne in one length will furnish this style of draping.

Paper For Wrapping.

Some women do not seem to know that they make a mistake when they wrap up parcels—that is, parcels of clothes or fabrics of any kind—in white paper. The white paper no doubt looks neat and attractive, but it happens to have been bleached with chloride of lime, and this is so strong that it will ruin the fabric which lies for any length of time against it. The most suitable paper for the purpose is the stout brown or blue not so commonly used, but strong and without any harmful chemical properties.

The Nursery Supper.

Stale bread has many uses, but none more satisfactory than for the nursery supper. The bread should first be put in the oven and carefully browned, then turned out on a board and crushed with a rolling pin until it is delicate and fine. It should now be bottled and kept in a dry place until it is required for use, when two or three tablespoonfuls boiled in fresh milk and a little salt will make a delicate, wholesome supper for children.

A Stationery Hint.

In buying stationery the woman who is nice in trifles leaves a quire or two of her note paper unstamped—this for use when a second or third sheet is needed to complete a voluminous letter. It is one of the small things that betray a knowledge of correct usage, that only one sheet of a letter shall bear the address or monogram. Repetition is unnecessary and should be omitted.

When mixing beeswax and turpentine for floor polish add a little spirits of ammonia, and the mixture will dissolve without being heated.

Wipe the mica doors of your stove with a cloth dampened with vinegar and the dust will all come off, leaving the mica bright.

The whites of eggs beaten up with an ounce of soda and used with a soft brush will freshen gilt frames.

Mr. Flint was born in Yarmouth on April 28, 1847, and received his education at Mount Allison College, Sackville, N. B., and Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. He graduated as B. A. and M. A. from the former institution, and received the degree of LL. B. from the latter. In 1872 he was called to the Bar, and from 1883 to 1887 was Sheriff of Yarmouth

County. From 1887 to 1891 he was assistant Clerk of the House of Assembly, N.S. In 1878 he unsuccessfully contested Yarmouth for the House of Commons, but was returned at the general election of 1891, and again carried the constituency at the general elections of 1896 and 1900. He is a man of genial manners and a forcible and effective speaker. He has taken an active part in the prohibition movement, and has often spoken on its behalf in the House of Commons. He was Chairman of the Standing Orders Committee of the House of Commons, and is well versed in the rules and procedure of the popular chamber. "Exactly Suited To My Case"

Says Mr. Baker, and He Voices the Opinion of Hosts of Kidney Sufferers Regarding

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It frequently happens that people who are cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have previously experimented with other medicines without obtaining the desired results, and consequently a great many make use of this expression, "exactly suited to my case."

The action of this great medicine is so wonderfully prompt and direct, and the effects so marked that people naturally feel that it is particularly suited to their case. Time has proven the merits of this preparation, and consequently it has attained an enormous sale.

Mr. John Baker, Deseronto, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say that they are perfect in their work. I was subject to pain in my sides and back. At times I had to lay off work, and feared that I would never get rid of the ailment which was causing my sufferings. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to me, and I found them to be exactly suited to my case. Since using them I have never had a return of my old troubles."

Mr. Jas. H. Harvey, baker, 641 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled very much with constipation and pains in the back. At times the pains were sharp like a stab with a knife and caused me great suffering.

"I heard of many being cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. I am pleased to say that they soon helped me, and I used them right along until cured. I never have pains in my back now and only occasionally take a pill in order to keep my bowels regular."

AN "UNKNOWN" LAND

SOMALI, ODD CORNER OF EASTERN AFRICA, BUT LITTLE KNOWN.

From Time Immemorial It Has Enjoyed an Evil Reputation—Inhabited by a Nomadic Race Descended From the Arabs—Their Strange Religious Beliefs—Why England Must Crush the Mullah.

Britain's latest trouble with the Mad Mullah, by which two British officers and a hundred men were slain, has aroused the foreign office, and a punishing force has been sent to crush that troublesome individual.

General W. H. Manning, who will have charge of the affairs in Somaliland, is the principal military officer in the foreign office and secretary of the protectorate of Somaliland. His familiarity with the land of the Mad Mullah augurs ill for the welfare of that fanatic.

Arabs describe as "Bar Agan," or the "Unknown Land," that particular horn of Africa's eastern coast which lies directly opposite Aden, called Somali, and which from time immemorial has enjoyed so evil a reputation that not only has it been avoided by the vast majority of explorers of the Dark Continent, but has likewise in the partition of the latter by the great powers of Europe been just tolerated save as regards the coast line, none of them caring to assume the responsibilities of the sovereignty of the hinterland.

There is an Italian, an English, an Abyssinian and a French Somaliland. But the rule of none of these four nations extends beyond the littoral, and as long as there is no undue attempt on the part of the natives of the hinterland to interfere with the trade that finds its outlet and inlet at the various stations on the coast the tribes of the interior are left to fight among themselves as much as they please, and no attempt is made to bring them under subjection.

The Somalis are a nomadic race and claim to be descended from fugitive Arabs who, abandoning their own country, landed on the Somali coast, subsequently intermarrying with the local tribes. The dawn of the Somali people coincides with the rise of Mohammed some 1,200 or 1,300 years ago. They, however, do not belong to the true African race, for they reveal no signs of the negroid type and from a slight resemblance in language are believed to be allied to the races of Hindu tan.

The religion professed by the Somalis—that is to say, the most fanatical type of Islam—has the effect of keeping them engaged in constant warfare with their neighbors, the Abyssinians, who profess what is probably the lowest class of Christianity. Indeed, one of the most cherished objects of the Somali and, in fact, of all the warlike Mohammedan tribes of that portion of Africa has been to prevent Abyssinia from securing or retaining possession of a seaport on the northeast coast of the Dark Continent.

This is due to an ancient Mohammedan prophecy, according to which Mecca, the most holy place of Islam, will one day be razed to the ground by the Abyssinians, an event which will be attended by the most disastrous consequences for the whole of the Moslem world.

It is owing to this belief that the British must crush the Mad Mullah, since to leave him unconquered would place them in bad light not only with the Egyptian army, but also in the eyes of 80,000,000 Mohammedans in India.

To abandon Somaliland to his sway would work incalculable damage to her power and prestige in all other Mohammedan countries under her rule. Not only must he be defeated, but crushed absolutely. For in the case of Islam more than in that of any other creed the authenticity of the mahdis and prophets is gauged by the degree of their success against the infidels, and the leaders of any armed religious movement are not relegated to the ranks of false prophets until defeat, capture or death has convinced their coreligionists that they were frauds.

This is the task assigned to General Manning. To assist him he will have the troops already in Somaliland and an extra brigade from India. That he will eventually succeed is certain, but at what cost remains to be seen.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation strengthening or doctoring. Our medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is CONCERNING CALENDARS.

Some Interesting Ones Date as Far Back as the Fourth Century.

Among the Greeks and Romans almanacs or calendars were not written for the general public, but were preserved as part of the esoteric learning of the priests, whom the people had to consult not only for the dates of the festivals, but for the proper times when various legal proceedings might be instituted. About 300 B. C., however, one Enclus Flavius, secretary to Appius Claudius, stole these secrets by repeated applications to the priests and collated the information so gained. It was really publishing an almanac when, as Livy relates, Flavius exhibited the tasti on white tables around the forum. From this time similar tablets containing the calendar, the festivals, astronomical phenomena and sometimes allusions to historical events became quite common. They have been dug up in Pompeii and elsewhere.

There are also extant Christian calendars dating as far back as the fourth century, which give the names of the saints and other religious information.

One of the most famous of the calendars of the middle ages is that compiled by Petrus of Dacia in A. D. 1300. A manuscript copy is preserved in the Savilian library at Oxford. The Symbolical Man or Man of Signs (Homo Signorum), still a common feature in almanacs, appears in this book, not, it is conjectured, for the first time, as it seems to have been a survival from the time of Ptolemy's "Almagest," a collection of classic observations and problems relating to geometry and astronomy.

The first printed almanac was the "Pro Pluribus Annis," issued at Vienna in 1457 by an astronomer named Purbach. The earliest known almanac devoted expressly to the year of issue was published by Rabelais in 1533.

Thenceforth the ephemeral yearly character of the publication came to be definitely recognized by almanac makers. Nostradamus set the fashion of incorporating predictions of coming events into almanacs, a fashion that has continued to this day in all purely astrological brochures of this sort despite intermittent efforts to suppress it by royal authority in France and elsewhere.

Brain Strain.

A French investigator has come to the conclusion that the brains of military men give out most quickly. He states that out of every 100,000 men of the army or naval profession 190 are hopeless lunatics. Of the liberal professions artists are the first to succumb to the brain strain, next the lawyers, followed at some distance by doctors, clergy, members of the civil services. Striking an average of this group, 177 go mad to each 100,000.—London Express.

A Patient Interpreter.

A teacher was instructing a class of boys and had spent half an hour trying to drive into their heads the difference between man and the lower animals, but apparently with little success.

"Tommy," he said coaxingly to a little chap, "do you know the difference between, say, me and a pig or any other brute?"

"No," replied Tommy innocently, but another teacher standing by laughed.

THE HEART

The human heart, that most wonderful of engines, is scarcely larger than a man's fist. Yet in each twenty-four hours the dual heart moves approximately six tons of blood, equivalent to about two barrels of blood per hour. And this continues without stopping from the first breath of infancy to the last sigh of age. Is it any wonder that when continued extra strain is put upon so delicate and busy an organ, it should break down? Is it any wonder that in this age of overwork there should be an increasing number of deaths attributed to heart failure?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition and purifies and enriches the blood. One of the ingredients entering into the "Discovery" is one of the best heart tonics known to medicine. Thus while through the action of "Golden Medical Discovery" the body is nourished into strength, the heart is also strengthened and an adequate blood supply is pumped to the stomach and kidneys thus improving the action of these organs.

Such people, especially those suffering from chronic diseases, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free, and so obtain without charge, the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I had been troubled with catarrh of the stomach and heart trouble," writes Mr. W. D. Mercer, of Tyrrell, Tyrrell Co., Penna. "After trying several remedies without relief, then I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took seven bottles. Before I began to take it I weighed 130 pounds, and now I weigh 170. I am feeling steadily and feel like a new man. I send you many thanks."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

THREE GREAT CANYONS.

Yosemite, Yellowstone and Grand Canyon of the Colorado Compared.

The justly famous Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone is, like the Colorado, gorgeously colored and abruptly countersunk in a plateau, and both are mainly the work of water. But the Colorado's canyon is more than 1,000 times larger, and as a score or two new buildings of ordinary size would not appreciably change the general view of a great city so hundreds of Yellowstones might be eroded in the sides of the Colorado canyon without noticeably augmenting its size or the richness of its sculpture. But it is not true that the great Yosemite rocks would be thus lost or hidden. Nothing of their kind in the world, so far as I know, rivals El Capitan and Tissiack, much less dwarfs or in any way belittles them. None of the sandstone or limestone precipices of the canyon that I have seen or heard of approaches in smooth, flawless strength and grandeur the granite face of El Capitan or the Tenaya side of Cloud's Rest. These colossal cliffs, types of permanence, are about 3,000 and 6,000 feet high; those of the canyon that are sheer are about half as high and are types of fleeting change, while glorious domed Tissiack, noblest of mountain buildings, far from being overshadowed or lost in this rosy, spiry canyon company, would draw every eye and in serene majesty "aboon them a'" she would take her place—castle, temple, palace or tower. Nevertheless a noted writer, comparing the Grand canyon in a general way with the glacial Yosemite, says: "And the Yosemite—ah, the lovely Yosemite! Dumped down into the wilderness of gorges and mountains, it would take a guide who knew of its existence a long time to find it." This is striking and shows up well above the levels of commonplace description, but it is confusing and has the fatal fault of not being true.—John Muir in Century.

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the Inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone erradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. WEATHER PROPHETS.

Blow out a candle, and if the wick continues long to smolder look for bad weather. If it goes out quickly, the weather will be fair.

When it begins to snow, notice the size of the flakes. If they are very fine, the storm will be a long one; if large, the storm will soon be over.

If the chickens come out while it rains, it is a sign that the storm is to be a long one. If they stand around under the shed, the storm will be short.

When the cattle lie down as soon as they are turned out to pasture in the morning, it is because they feel a rheumatic weariness in their bones, and you can look for rain soon.

When a night passes and no dew falls, it is a sign it is going to rain. This omen loses much of its mystery when one remembers that dew has not fallen because the night was clouded.

When you see the sun drawing water at night, know that it will rain on the morrow. The sun is said to be drawing water when its rays can be seen shining through rifts in distant clouds.

Strenuous Life, Indeed.

Rabelais compiled a curious list of links of a sympathetic nature, which were largely in vogue in his days. In his book entitled "Pantagruel" he makes his readers acquainted with Panurgue's exploits in trying to decipher the invisible characters of a letter which a Parisian female had written to Pantagruel. "He held it up before a fire," says Rabelais, "to see if it was written with spirits of ammonia mixed with water. Then he placed it in water to discover if the writing had not been done with syrup of tithymal. When this would not work, he held it over a candle, which would have brought out the characters had they been written with the juice of white onions. By rubbing a part of it with nut oil he tried to find whether it had not been written with the sap of a fig tree. And if frog's blood had been used in the place of ink the milk from the breast of a woman suckling her firstborn daughter would have betrayed the secrets of that letter."

Two of a Kind.

An old woman recently entered an optician's shop and asked to look at some spectacles. Choosing a pair, she asked the price.

"Five shillings," was the answer.

"And how much are they without the case?"

"I could not sell them for less than 4s. 10d.," said the tradesman, who was determined to get all he could.

"Do you take off twopence for the case?" queried the woman.

"That is all. The case is worth no more than twopence," was the reply.

"That is good news!" ejaculated the old lady, with a sigh of relief. "It's the case for mine which I have lost."

So saying she laid down the twopence and marched off with the coveted case before the astonished shopkeeper had time to interfere.

Origin of the Red Cap of Liberty.

The red cap of liberty had a very prosaic origin. Instead of being the "Phrygian bonnet" it is just the galley slave's headgear. The Swiss of the Chateauroux regiment sent to the galleys for their share in the Nancy riots were released and came into Paris with the red caps still on their heads. "They are the victims of despotism," said the people, forgetting the circumstances of the riot, and so the red cap became the favorite with the extreme party.

Toothache.

If one has a toothache and can't reach the dentist, try this method of temporarily allaying the pain: Cleanse and dry the hollow tooth with a bit of cotton. Then put in a small cotton plug dipped in creosote or oil of cloves. Cover this with another bit of dry cotton, or, still better, a little beeswax and cotton kneaded together. This keeps out the air and downs the "misery" until a dentist can be reached.

Cockney.

"That Englishman Simkins is very well fixed, isn't he?" inquired Polk.

"Well," replied Jolk, "some people think so, but I know he hasn't a bit of property he can call his own."

"Nonsense! He lives in his own house."

"That may be, but he calls it 'is bown.'"

Disenchantment.

"How did you enjoy your visit to the Bermudas, Uncle Jed?"

"I was a good deal disappointed. The onions didn't come up to my expectations. Why, I've eat better Bermuda onions right here."

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING.

All farmers must keep the future fertility of the soil in sight and too much of the cereal product cannot be sold.

In this district it might be said that the farmers may be able to sell grains at a fair figure.

From all arguments advanced it would seem that the animal should be our finished product. Milk is, so to speak, a by-product of the animal that is very profitable.

There must be a close relation between buying and selling. This is fairly easily accomplished in dairying districts and should do away with the credit system in vogue some places. In many instances it is found that the by-product is the profit-making factor, and this should be considered in "What to Sell."

In regard to buying and selling, Clover seed was perhaps one that needed the closest attention.

Clover seed had a selling price of $7.80 per bushel, and the percentage of pure vital seed was 86. This made the cost of a bushel nearly $9.00, and in this was contained 5,535 weed seeds to the pound. A chart was shown, showing the percentage of purity and the number of weed seeds to the pound. With regard to seed it has been shown that where the vital seed is mixed to a large extent with weed seeds, the vitality of the seed is low, and the crop is apt to be killed in a hard winter.

FARM LIFE.

Rev. Father McOdl was the next speaker and in his opening words expressed his pleasure in meeting the Farmers' Institute. "Life on the Farm" was the subject he had chosen and there were a few salient characteristics that a farmer should possess. Firstly, a farmer should have a reasonable education and be able to calculate the cost of production. A farmer should be educated for his own special business. By putting the lads at farm work at too early an age the lad's faculties are bound to be stunted, and it seems better to keep him at school at any cost, until the entrance examination is passed. Country boys have the faculty of application to a greater extent than the town boys, and generally grow up stronger and better men than the ones raised in effeminate surroundings. A glance at the names of the best men of the present time showed that they were drawn, in nearly all cases, from the agricultural classes.

Again, the farmer should have an early start at the science of farming. This was now being given them by the public school system in studies in agriculture, which is one of the compulsory subjects in the public schools. All occupations have their difficulties and pleasures, but no success has ever been attained without the labour of overcoming difficulties.

System and order are two of the greatest requisites of a farmer. At first a system may be irksome, but it will become easier as time rolls on. The rotation of crops should be carried out on a special system, and no pains should be spared in this line. Another hint that should be taken was to give the son some responsibility, and make him learn to depend on himself. By giving him some of the business to do himself. If he fails at first he will learn by experience. This is as important thing for the farmer to consider, if he expects the son to go on with the work.

Some people look on farming as a slavish business, but they err, for farming is one of the most healthful and pleasurable occupations in which a man could be engaged. There are many means of beautifying the farm that can be done during slack seasons and on a rainy day. If a farm is beautiful and the surroundings attractive the occupation of farming becomes a pleasure. During the winter nights there is much time that could be devoted to the reading of useful books. The children should not be allowed to read trashy books, etc., but led to take an interest in literature that will be of some benefit to them in their future life. The surroundings of the home should not be neglected, but be made attractive in order to keep the children from being enticed to the cities. Finally, their principal pleasure should be in their business, and the children should look upon the profession of their father with respect, and be willing to learn the secrets of successful farming.

GOOD ROADS.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, of Peterborough, was the next speaker. In his opening remarks he paid a warm tribute to the former speaker. To-day his subject was that of 'Good Roads." During his life at different centres he had been able to see the roads of all the principal counties of the province. The town should be an example to the country, but in Peterborough it was the other way. For this there was no excuse, for we have here every facility to keep roads in repair. Strangers coming here have said: "What disgraceful streets!" The streets are generally a criterion of a town's standing and a stranger would naturally suppose that this town was in a backward condition. Our town officials and people, from the Mayor and councillors down to the men employed on the streets, all should be absolutely ashamed of our streets, which are a disgrace to the place. It is said that roads are a sign of civilization, and also that "cleanliness is next to godliness." Mr. Charles said that if this were true, the people of Peterborough were far from either civilization or godliness. These remarks called forth much applause from his listeners, who evidently believed that there was much truth contained in the speaker's remarks.

Another thing that should be attended to was the cleaning of the streets, and the Board of Health take this matter in hand and see that the streets are kept in a healthy condition. Here we have every appliance for the cleaning of streets, and almost nothing is done.

Mr. Charles said that he would do more than criticize. He would make a few suggestions:

1. Statute labour should be abolished.

2. All roads should be made and kept by contract. Many people think they know how to build roads, but they don't.

3. Wider tires should be compulsory. Where wide tires are in use in such countries as France, the roads are the best in the world. If the general use of wide tires were introduced our roads would soon become perceptibly better.

4. Again if a portion of the money devoted to the higher branches of education, were spent on the roads in the towns and counties, Canada would be far better of to-day; and besides the educational system of the country was teaching to a great extent the farmer's son to be ashamed of the vocation of his father. Look at the number of starving professional men and we see the effect of higher education.

Turning next to the country roads, Mr. Charles said that the statute labour system was nothing more than an annual picnic, and the farmers themselves, if honest, would acknowledge this. The changing of pathmasters was a great detriment to the country roads. These men should take some kind of a course under a competent engineer, and then apply their knowledge to the making of good roads. Roads should not have too much of a roll, only enough to turn the water, but not such as we had between here and Chemong, which were a menace to life and limb. No round stones should be left in any road as they will work up, nor should they be left on the road, as a vehicle in going over them wears a hole in the road, which was bound to collect water. Ploughing up the sides of a road should be stopped, as it allows the road to spread. Drainage is another thing that is neglected, and this is one of the essential requirements in the making of good roads. Good roads were a benefit to the farmer; they increased the value of country property; they enabled the farmer to save time in marketing produce by drawing larger loads. It would make life on the farm pleasanter. It would save wear and tear on wagons, harness, etc. It would make a saving in horseflesh, for the roads of the country are productive of many maimed horses, of which there were too many in the country.

These remarks formed the closing portion of Mr. Charles' address, and he was heard to the last with the closest attention.

This brought the session to a close, as far as the town is concerned. The meetings were to be continued last night in Monaghan, and to-day at Lakefield.

WHEREFORE?

Mary Baker G. Eddy Head of Christian Science Movement.

Our faithful labourers in the field of Science have been told, through the alert editor-in-chief of the Christian Science Sentinel and Journal, that "Mrs. Eddy advises, until the public thought becomes better acquainted with Christian Science, that Christian Scientists decline to doctor infectious or contagious diseases."

The great Master said, "For which of these works do ye stone me?" He said this to satisfy Himself whereof He spake as God's representative—as He who never weakened in His own personal sense of righteousness because of another's wickedness, or the minifying of His own goodness. Charity is quite as rare as wisdom, but when it does appear it is known by its patience and endurance.

When, under the protection of State or United States laws, good citizens are arrested for manslaughter because one out of three of their patients, having the same disease and in the same family, dies while the others recover, we naturally turn to Divine Justice for support, and wait on God. Christian Scientists should be influenced by their own judgment in the taking of a case of malignant disease, they should consider well as to their ability to cope with the case—and not overlook the fact that there are those lying in wait to catch them in their sayings; neither should they forget that, in their practice, whether successful or not, they are not specially protected by law. The above quotation stands for this: Inherent justice, constitutional individual rights, self-preservation, and the Gospel injunction, "Cast not your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under foot and turn again and rend you."

And it stands side by side with Christ's command, "Whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also." I abide by this rule, and triumph by it. The sinner may sneer at this beatitude, for "the fool hath said in his heart, No God." It is known that the good young student, Mr. Lathrop, after he was prosecuted for practising Christian Science, finished healing the cases of diphtheria that he had on hand. Statistics show that this Science cures a larger per cent. of malignant diseases than does materia medica.

I call disease by its name, and have cured it thus; so there is nothing new on this score. My book Science and Health names disease, and thousands are healed by reading its name and learning that so-called disease is a sensation of mind, not matter. Evil minds signally blunder in Divine Metaphysics; hence I am always saying the unexpected to them. The evil mind calls it "skulking," when to me it is wisdom to "overcome evil with good." I fail to know how one can be a Christian, and yet depart from Christ's teachings.

BRITAIN IS OPPOSED.

VERY HEAVY LOSS TO THE C.P.R.

On the Other Hand the Government Road, the Intercolonial, Will Have a Big Gain—Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, Gives Some Very Interesting Information—The Disease Spreading.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—In the interest of cheap and efficient transportation of Canadian cattle to the British market, Hon. Sydney Fisher addressed to the British Board of Agriculture, through the High Commissioner in London, a request to be allowed to relax the new Dominion customs regulation which prevented the C.P.R. from carrying cattle through to St. John, because its line lies for a short distance in the State of Maine, and which prevents vessels bound from Portland and Boston to British ports from carrying cattle from St. John and Halifax.

The answer to that request reached the Minister at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It positively refused to concur in the proposed relaxations. Meantime the Ministers had met in council to consider the situation, and had decided to abide by the decision of the Imperial authorities, so that neither will the C.P.R. be permitted to resume the transportation of cattle from Montreal to St. John, nor will steamers sailing from Portland or Boston be allowed within 21 days after their departure from those ports to call at St. John or Halifax, and take cattle on board for a British port. The Intercolonial Railway will, therefore, continue to carry cattle to the Canadian seaboard and from thence to their trans-Atlantic destination. They will have to be transported in direct steamers, at all events, not in steamers that make their cis-Atlantic terminus at Portland or Boston.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, who, after council gave the foregoing information, did not seem to be greatly perturbed at the refusal of the British Board of Agriculture, to acquiesce in the relaxations, he suggested. Although, he said, he had been in hopes that they would have been agreed to, because of the great facilities they would give to cattle shippers and the railway company. Mr. Fisher said: "The Imperial authorities declined to allow cattle to pass through the State of Maine, so that the order given out the other day stands. They also say that no cattle must be shipped from Canada by steamships which have touched at a port of the New England States, within 21 days' prior to their arrival at the Canadian port from which it is desired to ship cattle to England.

"I have just sent another cablegram to Lord Strathcona," continued Mr. Fisher, "but whether it will be any more successful, I don't know. No, I have no announcements to put forward. It was simply a fresh urging of the request for relaxation, but I am afraid there is not much hope for its favorable effect. They are very touchy in England about these matters and we must be careful not to offend their susceptibilities or they might take a course which would shut our cattle out altogether. The situation, therefore, is this, that any cattle shipped from Canada must go around Maine and not through that State. There has been a considerable demand from the Western States already for facilities for shipping cattle to Europe through Canada. These people formerly shipped through the ports of Portland and Boston, which are rivals to our own winter ports, but are now closed to that trade. Of course anything we can do to facilitate shipment through Canada will be done, as it would be of the greatest importance to our own interests."

"Have Canadian shippers in the past been really dependent upon steamers sailing from Portland and Boston for adequate ocean transportation facilities?" Mr. Fisher was asked.

"Well, a considerable number of Canadian cattle," he answered, "have been going that way, just as many American cattle have been shipped from Canadian ports. In fact, I have just had a visit from a gentleman from the Northwest who now has 600 head of cattle in Boston, that he can't get now on account of the embargo."

Can the I.C.R. Do It?

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Speaking of the cattle transportation problem, John W. Lou, freight traffic manager of the Grand Trunk, said yesterday: "Since the embargo has been in force the Canadian Pacific has transferred 5,000 head of cattle to the Intercolonial and 3,000 head of sheep. To-day a train-load with another shipment is due. This state of affairs will last, I estimate, for the three months the embargo is likely to last.

"I see the Intercolonial people say they have ample motive power and other requirements to handle the traffic. If that is so, then there should be no difficulty, and we will be glad to turn our cars over to the Intercolonial. But should they be unable to return our cars promptly, that is where the trouble would come in. As things are to-day, however, we are willing to do all we can to assist the Intercolonial in moving this freight."

Stopped Loading Cattle.

Portland, Me., Dec. 3.—The steamship officials have stopped loading cattle at this port until word is received from England that the stock shipped from Canada via Maine, will be allowed to land on the other side. The Sarmatian was being fitted up with cattle pens, but the construction of these was stopped and the Sarmatian, Norseman and Devon now loading, will sail without live stock.

Disease Is Spreading.

Boston, Dec. 3.—Reports indicating that the contagious foot and mouth disease is extending were received by the State Board of Agriculture yesterday.

Dr. Salmon said: "The situation is very disquieting, principally because cattle dealers have been selling diseased animals and scattering the contagion, and because there has been no adequate conception of the danger of carrying the disease by persons who visited diseased herds. The contagion of this disease is carried more easily perhaps than that of any other contagious disease affecting animals, and consequently it is one of the hardest diseases to hold in check by quarantine."

Man Caught in Fly Wheel.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 3.—Antonio Troina, laborer, was killed yesterday in the Pennsylvania's engine-room. He had passed between two big dynamos in the power-house and became confused. He made an attempt to jump over one of the dynamos. His feet became entangled in a belt and before he could extricate himself he was sent whirling toward one of the big 20-foot wheels, revolving at the rate of 250 revolutions a minute. Troina was drawn into the wheel and his body was hurled around the belting. After passing through the wheel he was hurled out with a force which shot him head foremost through a plate glass door, and his body rebounded eight feet after striking the floor.

Fourteen Hundred Casualties.

Vienna, Dec. 3.— Die Information yesterday reports a fierce battle between Macedonian and Turkish troops at Planina, near the Bulgarian frontier, in which the Macedonians lost 302 killed and 148 wounded, and the Turkish troops 250 killed and 600 wounded. The Macedonians fled in disorder.

JUDGES DISAGREED.

The Personal Bribery Charge in South Oxford Trial.

THE COURT OF APPEAL TO DECIDE

Judge Street Reprimands Counsel Watson, But Afterward Apologizes For Hasty Speech—Several Charges Dismissed or Abandoned—Fifty Remain to Be Dealt With—Solicitors Obtaining Affidavits.

Woodstock, Dec. 3. — The Judges yesterday afternoon disagreed on the Lloyd personal bribery charge against Mr. Donald Sutherland, respondent in the South Oxford election protest. Judge Street holding the charge not proved and Judge Britton finding that it had been proved. Under the statute this charge will go to the Court of Appeal on notice for argument and decision, in view of the disagreement. Several charges were abandoned this afternoon. A feature of the proceedings was a reprimand from Judge Street to Mr. Watson on his style of cross-examination of a witness, which led Mr. Watson to refuse to argue the charge in question. Judge Street subsequently apologized.

The Judges Disagree.

On the opening of court yesterday afternoon judgment was delivered in the personal charge of giving a dollar to Richard Lloyd, the hostler. Judge Street announced that he and Judge Britton had not been able to draw the same deductions from the facts, on which they were agreed. Personally he regarded the story that Sutherland, in the presence of two witnesses, handed money to Lloyd and asked him to vote as incredible. It would be the act of a man much more foolish and reckless than Sutherland appeared to be in the witness box. He thought that Young was present, and that money passed, but thought the matter was an innocent one, and was looked upon as an innocent one until Fick appeared on the stage, when we had the story that the money was given for the vote. He thought it would be utterly unsafe to find Sutherland guilty of the offence charged.

Judge Britton said that it seemed to him he was obliged to find either that Lloyd had committed wilful and corrupt perjury, or else that Sutherland was guilty of the charge. Lloyd's evidence was corroborated by several witnesses. It was true that Young's evidence had been much shaken, but they were left with the statement that he was present on the occasion when something was given by Sutherland to Lloyd, and the Judges were agreed as to time and place and circumstances. Sutherland had not a plain recollection of the occurrences of that day. He gave something to Lloyd, and, by a process of reasoning, came to the conclusion that it was fifty cents. It seemed to him that he was not justified in rejecting the evidence of three witnesses on such testimony. He could not come to the conclusion that the charge was not proved. He thought the charge had been proved.

Reprimanded by the Judge.

During the hearing of the Fred Avey charge Mr. Watson was cross-examining Byron Addison with some vigor, when Judge Street interrupted him, saying that Mr. Watson must not insult the witness, who had already answered a number of very foolish questions. Mr. Watson protested against the Judge's reprimand saying that his questions were neither insulting nor foolish. As his argument would be along the same lines as his cross-examination, he refused to argue the charge, in view of the Judge's personal remarks. At the conclusion of the charge, Judge Street called Mr. Watson and apologized for the use of the word "foolish," which was used in a moment of annoyance. He regretted extremely having used the word. Mr. Watson thanked his Lordship for his kind remarks.

Charges Abandoned.

Mr. Blake was not prepared to go on with any of the new charges, so Mr. Watson went on with half a dozen of the old charges, most of which were produced in court, to the evidence of the first witness. The others were dismissed. The principal witnesses in a number of these charges admitted that they had taken affidavits at the instance of agents of the respondent, and a couple of these were produced in court, to the evident gratification of Mr. Watson, as Mr. Blake had strongly condemned the practice of obtaining affidavits by solicitors for the petitioners. Mr. Watson once turned to the counsel for the respondent, and said, "Produce that declaration, please."

Mr. Blake—Certainly, we want to play fair.

Mr. Watson—If my learned friend Mr. Bristol says the respondent wants to play fair, I will accept his assurance.

Mr. Bristol—We won't lose any of them.

Mr. Watson announced that seventeen of the charges would not be proceeded with, leaving some fifty yet to be dealt with. To-day some of the newly-added charges will be taken up.

Thirty to Six.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 3.—The bye-elections to the Colonial Legislature in the Trinity district have resulted in the return of the opposition candidates, Watson and Warren, who defeated the Government representatives, Martin and Dawe. The Government loses one seat. Premier Bond has now thirty followers, while the Opposition leader, Morine, has six.

Not on the List.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—Men who arrived in South Africa in the contingent on May 31 will not get the war gratuity and medal.

BANNOCKBURN'S BOILER BURST.

New Theory of the Unfortunate Steamer's Sudden Disappearance.

Kingston, Dec. 3. — The general theory accepted is that the boiler of the lost steamer Bannockburn burst, which would account for her sudden disappearance. She was a sturdy, seaworthy steamer, one of the best sailing the Great Lakes. Only an irreparable accident could have rendered her unseaworthy, and resulted in her going to the bottom. Joseph McDonald, deck hand, and Sidney Smith, assistant cook, are two more of the unfortunate Kingstonians of the crew. Of 21, it is said eleven belonged to this city.

Crew All Safe.

Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 3.—The tug Philadelphia arrived here last evening with the schooner Warmington in tow. She reports the crew of the steamer Hebard, which went aground at Copper Point, Sunday night, all safe. The Warmington and Francombe, two of the three schooners in tow of the Hebard when she went ashore, are at the Soo. The third schooner can't be found.

BURNT TO DEATH.

G.T.R. Engineer Murphy Killed Collision at Morrisburg.

Morrisburg, Dec. 3.—A serious rear-end collision occurred at the Grand Trunk station here yesterday morning, by which J. Murphy, engine driver, was killed, and three other train hands were seriously bruised and scalded. At 6 o'clock a freight train was detained here by a hot box, and while it was being attended to another freight with two engines crashed into the van, telescoping a number of cars. The debris was piled up on both tracks, completely stopping traffic.

The wreck immediately took fire from an oil car. One of the men was thrown clear of the right of way, and was found painfully bruised in a field across the tracks. Murphy was caught in the wreck, and his charred remains were found under the tender of the engine that crashed into his caboose. The three injured men received prompt medical attendance, and will likely recover. Traffic was delayed about half a day.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Whole Family Wiped Out at Russell, Man.—Foul Play Suspected.

Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—Meagre details have been received here of a horrible fatality occurring Monday night near Russell in which a Galician woman and her four children were burned to death. The victims are Mrs. Hartook, aged 34; Mary Hartook, aged 9; McKay Hartook, aged 7; John Hartook, aged 6; Baby Hartook, aged 5 months. There is some suspicion of foul play.

QUIRK WAS MURDERED.

Coroner's Jury Brings in an Open Verdict in Brantford Case.

Brantford, Dec. 3.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of James Quirk on March 23, brought in the following verdict: "The late James Quirk came to his death by receiving several blows on his head at the hands of some person or persons unknown to the jurors."

EXPORT DUTY ON PULPWOOD.

Pulp and Paper Men, Employing 20,000 People, Will Ask For It.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Pulp and paper manufacturers at a meeting here yesterday decided to ask the Dominion Government to impose an export duty on pulpwood. The meeting was one of the largest and most representative of the pulp and paper industry ever held in the country. Firms employing in the aggregate 20,000 men were represented. A committee of the manufacturers will interview the Federal Government for the purpose of securing the imposition of an export duty, not onerous during first or second years, so as not to interfere seriously with exporters and give an opportunity to owners of timber limits to erect mills.

Horrible Stories.

London, Dec. 3.—Despatches received here state that the Bulgarian newspapers are publishing horrible stories of alleged Turkish atrocities in Macedonia. Children are reported to have been torn in pieces in the presence of their parents, men have been roasted alive, and others tortured with red hot moulds placed on their heads. ONEMEE NEWS NOTES.

The Temperance Campaign—Dr. Rogers Broke His Leg in two Places

(From our own Correspondent.)

Farmers are now settled down and ready for winter to set in. Grain will begin to move more lively since ploughing is finished.

Some farmers from this vicinity have made $5 per day by drawing their clean oats to the American Cereal Works at Peterborough.

The temperance campaign is in full blast, and earnest zealous work is being done. Rev. Dr. Chown, of Toronto, lectured to a very large and appreciative audience in the Methodist church, made up of all denominations, dealing with the act in its several respects.

The Commercial House has been undergoing some repairs, and will now be more easily heated. The proprietor intends to run a large and extensive temperance hotel, if licenses are done away with.

The Nicholls mill has changed hands Mr. Kennedy, our planing mill man, being the purchaser. Owing to Mr. Nicholls' affliction he will be unable to pursue the business.

The Methodist church will hold a high class concert on Christmas, and the Orange association on Christmas eve, in which Mr. Jas. Fax, and others, will take part.

Dr. Rogers, V.S., was so unfortunate as to have his leg broken in two places while in the act of deborning an animal. Under the care of Dr. Keith he is doing as well as can be expected.

Much sympathy is felt for the family of Mr. Clancy, hotel keeper, who have been afflicted with a bad cold, developments from la grippe. Dr. Keith, the attending physician, reports no indication of any fever or diphtheria, as reported.

J. D. Thornton, Division Court Clerk, reports quite a docket of sittings for December 5th.

Mr. J. D. Thornton, issurer of marriage licenses, expects quite a harvest during the holidays.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The report published in your issue of the 27th Nov., we learn, is not correct. The horses of the Jamison family did not run away, and very little injury was done to the vehicle, but the occupants escaped in an almost miraculous manner with very little injury.

Farmers are engaged in hauling their grain to market, and on their return have well filled waiets.

There was very good sleighing for about two days last week, and very little snow will make it good, as the roads are in a good condition.

The friends of Mr. John Setcliffe will be glad to learn that his eyesight has improved greatly during the last two or three weeks.

Report says that the Dixon clan at the time of the flood had no boat of their own, yet we find some of that name as pushers in business.

The congregation in the Presbyterian church was pleased with the sermon delivered by Rev. W. Kanawin on the Apostle Paul, as also were those in the Methodist church by the very eloquent discourse on the text "David Served His Generation According to the Will of God, and Fell Asleep."

VILLIERS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The long-looked-for has come at last. The patrons of Villiers cheese factory will hold their annual meeting on Friday of this week.

Rev. Mr. Lawson, of Addison, Ont., gave an excellent temperance lecture to a full house in the Villiers' school house, on Thursday evening of last week. The chair was occupied by Mr. John Lancaster. Rev. Mr. Secombe of Keene, delivered a fine address on the evils of intemperance, and was followed by Mr. Lawson, who was able to keep his audience in the best of humour for over an hour.

The farmers of this section are all busy threshing this week. The box carrier has to hustle.

Miss Nellie Renwick of Ashburnham, is the guest of Mrs. Geo. Renwick, this week.

An infant daughter of J. B. Wood was badly scalded last week, but we are glad to hear that she is improving under the care of Dr. Redmond, of Westwood.

Mr. A. Wood, sr., who was taken ill on Sunday, is recovering. Dr. Redmond thinks that he will have him out again soon. We all hope so.

Mr. Jas. Bathgate has returned from a visit to friends in Haliburton.

Mr. J. C. Weir has returned from the west where he has spent the last seven months. Jim has brought a few of those western burrs with him also.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

On Friday evening of last week the young ladies and gentlemen of the village, with a few invited guests, assembled at Heard's hall for a social evening. Music, games and dancing were indulged in, and after a few hours spent in merry enjoyment, the party dispersed, all much pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. J. E. Kearney, of the Lakeview House, is at present visiting with friends in Buffalo.

Mr. F. J. Young has returned home after spending a few days with some friends in Peterborough.

Master Oswald Brooks, while sleigh riding in company with some other small boys, fell on the ice and got his ear badly cut, but we are glad to say that it did not prove serious.

Mr. Edward Young has engaged a number of men to cut wood at Deer Bay this winter.

COMMITTED OLIVER FOR TRIAL.

Tweed, Dec. 3.—The preliminary hearing of James Oliver, accused of shooting and wounding Albert G. Skellon, was begun yesterday morning before Magistrates Newton and Wray. The hearing was conducted by County Crown Attorney P. J. M. Anderson. W. Carnew of Belleville appeared for the prisoner. As the wounded man is still unable to be up, his evidence was taken at his bedside. The prisoner was brought into the room, and Skellon identified him as his assailant. Skellon repeated the story of the shooting as previously reported. Court then adjourned to the Town Hall.

David Lockwood, being called, testified that while driving home on Friday evening last he met a buggy in which were two men who were apparently scuffling. When he had gone a little place further he heard some one shooting, and, turning around saw one man falling from the rig and the other following, and the two struggling. Then he heard one of them shout: "Hold on boys, this man shot me and is trying to kill me."

He stopped and Skellon ran up and got on the back of his rig and he drove him to his home, where his wounds were temporarily dressed. Lockwood then drove the man here for medical attendance.

Fletcher Deline, a lad 14 years of age, who was in Lockwood's company, corroborated this evidence. Constables Wilson and Sedar gave evidence as to finding a revolver on the road at the place indicated by Skellon, also to observing tracks and marks about the spot, which bore out his and Lockwood's testimony as to a struggle by the roadside.

Dr. W. M. Mather, who attended the wounded man, gave medical testimony, and in answer to Mr. Anderson said that Skellon gave him an account of the affair while he was dressing his wounds, and that that account and his evidence given yesterday morning fully agreed.

The defence offered no evidence, neither were any of the Crown's witnesses cross-examined. Oliver was committed for trial.

Skellon is doing well, and there are as yet no untoward symptoms.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy, have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers, and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store, made a complete cure, and in every instance beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials, and never publishh the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, La-Cross, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything that I ever tried, and I was so pleased with results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seemed to take right a hold, and I feel good. I am a farmer and a limeburner, and I heartily recommend them to anybody who has any trouble with his his stomach, to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend, who also suffered from indigestion, and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I have been very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from nervous dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating, or wind on the stomach, and similar disorders.

New Postal Arrangement.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—The official circular explaining the arrangements for the prepayment of customs duties on postal parcels forwarded from Great Britain to Canada announces that where duty is prepaid a "franking note will accompany the postal package to one of the following exchange offices in Canada, viz., Victoria, Vancouver, Winnipeg, London, Hamilton, Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, Halifax and Charlottetown. On arrival at any one of the foregoing offices the customs officer will assess the value of the package and the parcel will then be delivered at destination direct to the address through the mails or at the exchange office as the case may be."

WISDOM OF THE WIDOW.

The man who marries a girl just out of school has need of much shrewdness, tact and fortitude, for the first year of matrimony will produce a violent revolution in her mind. As she learns to know her husband—she who has never seen him except when he had his best coat on—she will deem him a brute and will be disappointed and disgusted, for she will compare him with that impossible ideal of manhood which every girl has in her mind and of which he, of course, falls short. But with experience will come wisdom. In time she will understand that her girlhood's ideal, if she were to have him in the flesh, would be an unbearable prig, and that her husband is about as good as men go and even—if she loves him—a little better than the next man.

A widow has all this knowledge of men and of the world, which a spinster lacks. A man talks to a widow freely as to one who has found him out. She is expert in the arts of pleasing him, and if a bright young widow sets her cap for a man he can escape her only by flight. A widow has no illusions and no ideals. She is well trained and used to going double, while the spinster is an unbroken filly and is bound to kick up a good deal when she first feels a tug at the snaffle.

A True Nerve Tonic.

Will act, not so much directly upon the nerves as upon the digestive functions and the abundant formation of red, vitalizing blood. Nerves can't be fed on medicine. They can, however, be restored and strengthened by assimilated food. The marvellous action of Ferrosone arises from its action over the digestive and assimilative processes. When you take Ferrozone the blood is purified, strengthened, and grows rich and red. Then you grow vigorous, healthy and beautiful, ready for work, because you have the strength to do it. No tonic for the brain, blood or nerves compares with Ferrozone. Price 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

Hamilton's Pills are Effective.

Fashionable Life In Italy.

The fashionable season in Italy, says Luigi Villari in "Italian Life In Town and Country," is from Christmas to Easter, the time generally known as the carnival. At Naples, Messina and some other places there is also a summer season. Commenting on the peculiarities of life among the upper classes, Mr. Villari says:

"Italians, even in the grandest establishments, do not wear evening dress for dinner unless there is a party. A black coat is enough for ordinary purposes. A few men who wish to be particularly fashionable wear a smoking coat with a black tie, which garment is sufficient for all save very large dinner parties and balls. On the other hand, there are occasions when a man dons his dress clothes by day. It is de rigueur at court functions, even in mornings, and at weddings. Ladies wear hats at the theaters except on gala nights. They display more jewelry by day than English ladies. The Italian aristocracy have magnificent jewels, and even in quite small towns, where there is no great wealth, the old families can make a fine display. The tall hat is only necessary at marriages, funerals and at court. Young men of fashion wear it also when paying calls during the season. Among the bourgeoisie evening clothes are hardly ever worn at all."

Two Clever Statesmen.

One crisis in Lord Palmerston's life illustrates the absolute good humor which may prevail even when political enmity is at its worst. Lord Derby had made an attack upon him in the upper house with such energy and eloquence that the odds against him seemed overwhelming. But he defended himself and his policy from the dusk of one day to the dawn of another with such tact, dexterity and force of appeal to the national sense of honor that he was acquitted of all blame by a majority of fourscore.

Next day in passing through the corridor leading from an anteroom to the upper house one swing door opened to his hand and at the same moment the other to that of Lord Derby. They were opponents, but they were also manly and sweet natured men. They smiled.

"I was just thinking," said Palmerston, "what a clever fellow he was who so nearly put me in a hole!"

"Ah," was the rejoinder, "but nothing like the cleverness of the fellow who got you out of it!"

A Touch of Sarcasm.

Mr. Skinflint (on receiving a deputation from his employees)—Well, what's the matter now?

Clerk (spokesman)—We want to be paid every week instead of every month.

"Ugh! You get all that's due to you, don't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"And promptly to a day?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then why do you want to be paid weekly instead of monthly?"

"Please, sir, it's so we won't be gettin' the lumbago carryin' home our wages."—London Answers.

To Market on Stilts.

An interesting and picturesque custom in southwestern France is that of going to market on stilts. Groups of young men and women mounted on high stilts may be seen daily crossing the marshy plains known as "the Landes." "The Landes" are cut up into small ditches, pools and hummocks, and stilts are in consequence almost necessary to those who desire to traverse them.

SAVE THE BOYS.

This is your opportunity—don't let it pass.

Don't listen to appeals of men or agents who spend their days in sucking the character, life and virtue out of your fellowmen.

Don't be misled by the foolish arguments of men who make their money out of the degradation of men and women and the destruction of home.

Don't be led astray even by the opinions of priest or prophet who, through strong drink, errs in vision and stumbles in judgment.

Vote for the Liquor Act of 1902, which closes the bar-rooms and will save the boys. Mark your ballot thus—

NEW OIL FIELDS OF ONTARIO.

Our Mr. Fox has just returned from a trip of personal investigation of the Wonderful Oil Gusher Field in the Township of Raliegh, in the County of Kent. His report is—that the whole country is literally

ON FIRE

WITH EXCITEMENT.

Chatham—respectable, easy-going old Chatham—stands amazed, while oil operators from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas, California and from the big refineries at Petrolea and Barnia fill her hotels and streets to overflowing—all seeking OIL, OIL, OIL—offering figures that wuld have been considered sheer madness a few weeks ago. The roads to the oil fields are lined with all kinds of carriages, wagons and loads of machinery and derricks. Several drilling rigs are already partly erected, and contracts have been made for the sinking of at least Fifty wells within the next thirty days.

Lands have quadrupled in price within the last two weeks. Outside of the Gurd & Co. Syndicate—

The Ontario and California Oil Co.

(LIMITED)

were the first on the ground, and have the largest holdings—amounting to about One Thousand Acres, Right in the Big Gusher Field in Raleigh.

While at the scene of operations our Mr. Fox closed negotiations with the representative of two of the largest oil refineries in Canada to sink a number of wells immediately, and at least five wells must be completed within Sixty Days.

At Northwood, about ten miles from Chatham, our eighteenth well is down about three hundred feet. Here the Company is operating on about Sixteen Hundreds Acres of great promise. Every well sunk so far has been a paying oil producer. Watch this field also very closely—but advertising space is limited. Send for O. & C. Oil Co.'s Report for November and see for yourself. The volume of enquiries to this office show that our people are becoming alive to the great possibilities lying right at our own doors.

The stock is going rapidly, and at any time may be withdrawn.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Roosevelt's Recommendations in Statement to Congress.

REGULATION OF THE TRUSTS.

The Chief Magistrate of the United States Believes That They Could Be Prevented by the Power of Congress—References to Reciprocity and Relations of Capital and Labor.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Among the important expressions of President Roosevelt in his message to the two Houses of Congress at the beginning of the second session of the 57th Congress are the following:—

We still continue in a period of unbounded prosperity.

A fundamental base of civilization is the inviolability of property, but this is in nowise consistent with the right of society to regulate the exercise of the artificial powers which it confers upon the owners of property, under the name of corporate franchises, in such a way as to prevent the misuse of these powers. We are not hostile to them; we are merely determined that they shall be so handled as to subserve the public good.

I believe that monopolies, unjust discriminations which prevent or cripple competition, fraudulent overcapitalizations and other evils in trust arganizations, and practices which injuriously affect interstate trade can be prevented under the power of Congress to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several States, through regulations and requirements operating directly upon such commerce, the instrumentalities thereof and those engaged therein. We should not shrink from amending the constitution so as to secure beyond peradventure the power sought.

The question of regulation of the trusts stands apart from the question of tariff revision. Wherever the tariff conditions are such that a needed change cannot with advantage be made by the application of the reciprocity idea, then it can be made outright by a lowering of duties on a given article.

In my judgment the tariff on anthracite coal should be removed.

The formation of the international tribunal which sits at The Hague is an event of good omen, from which great consequences for the welfare of all mankind may flow.

The Congress has wisely provided that we shall build at once an isthmian canal, if possible, at Panama. The Attorney-General reports that we can undoubtedly acquire good title from the French Panama Canal Company.

There should be no halt in the work of building up the navy—it is the surest guarantee of peace.

At Work.

The Judiciary Committee of the House held its first meeting yesterday and took prompt action toward getting an anti-trust measure before Congress at the earliest possible moment. All measures dealing with trusts have been referred to the subcommittee, of which Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, is chairman, and that subcommittee will go to work at once.

The bill authorizes the Attorney-General or any District Attorney to make application to the Federal judges for the summoning of persons before them to answer questions as to material violations of the anti-trust law in advance of the trial of a case, and requires the judges to issue orders for the appearance of such persons upon this application. In such cases witnesses are to be protected against prosecution on account of their revelations, but they are to be deprived of the right to refuse to answer because of self-crimination. The Attorney-General is authorized to appoint fifty special agents to seek out violations of the law.

Senator Cullom introduced a bill yesterday to amend the Sherman anti-trust law. It prohibits interstate commerce in articles produced by the trungs, the penalty for violations being a fine of from $500 to $5,000.

Opinion in England.

London, Dec. 3.—Some of the London morning papers regard President Roosevelt's message as disappointing, inasmuch as, according to their view, "he adopts a cautious and conservative policy rather than a revolutionary one in dealing with the trust question and the tariff.

Funeral of Abbe Colin.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—The funeral service yesterday morning of the late Abbe Colin, superior of St. Sulpice, was perhaps the most imposing ever seen in this city. Archbishop Begin of Quebec officiated at the service. The official world included among others Major Maude, representing the Governor-General, Lieut.-Gov. Sir L. A. Jette and others

License to Kiss.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 3.—If the bill introduced in the Virginia Legislature by Dr. R. B. Ware of Amherst County yesterday becomes law, sweethearts cannot kiss each other without a physician's certificate pronouncing them free from all diseases unless they pay from $1 to $5 for each osculation.

Sell It at a Loss.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—The Ottawa City Council last night decided to sell the 2,000 tons of Welsh coal now in stock at $8 a ton. This involves a loss of $3 a ton, and is 50 cents lower than the price now quoted by the dealers—$8.50 a ton.

Owes Germany $2,000,000.

Berlin, Dec. 3. — Venezuela owes Germany $2,000,000. The Government will strike for it.

A Familiar Name.

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

WORKING IN THE DARK.

Discomforts of Mining Before the Davy Lamp Was Lit.

The difficulties under which coal mining operations were carried on before the scientist Davy had invented his safety lamp must have been very great. In many times the only alternative the mediæval miner had to pitch darkness was the phosphorescent gleam from dried fish. The miner's implements, originally of stone or hard oak, gradually improved, but he was forced to work in almost complete darkness until Sir Humphry Davy by his remarkable invention enabled him to light his way through the tunnels he had excavated with comparative safety.

Agricola, an author who wrote about the middle of the sixteenth century, has left an elaborate treatise on coal mining as it was practiced during the middle ages. From this we learn that the horse gin, which survives to the present day in some of the mining districts of Great Britain and northern Europe, was the engine chiefly employed both for lifting the coal and for getting rid of the water. This latter object was also sometimes effected by means of pumps turned by windmills or by tunnels driven with great labor to an outlet at a lower level.

Tombs of the Ancient Prophets.

There exist in parts of Islam many tombs of the prophet Daniel. Of these one of the most celebrated is at Cairo. This fact need not astonish us. The Mussulmans admit without hesitation the duplication or even indefinite multiplication of the bodies of holy persons without their veneration for each of the remains being diminished in the least. It is worth noting that the nature of the honorary qualifications accorded to the same saint varies in different countries. Thus, for example, Daniel has at Cairo the name of Nebi-Daniel—that is, they give him the title of prophet, as being at the same time that which suits him best and is the most honorable they can confer. In Algeria or Morocco—feudal countries—the title they give to saints is sidi, which signifies lord, which is also the title there of military and political chiefs. In central Asia they give to those canonized persons whom they respect most, as to the prophet Daniel, the title of khodja, which means in Arabic writer or lettered.

Making Marble Out of Chalk.

In nature marble is made out of chalk by water which percolates through the chalky deposits, dissolves the chalk particle by particle and crystallizes it, mountain pressure solidifying it. It has been found that similar results may be accomplished by chemical means. First slices of chalk are dipped in a color bath, staining them with tints that will imitate any kind of marble known. For this purpose the same mineral stains are used as are employed in nature. For example, to produce counterfeit "verde antique" oxide of copper is utilized. In like manner green, pink, black and other colorings are obtained. Next the chalk slices go into another bath, by which they are hardened and crystalized, coming out to all intents and purposes real marble.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

THE MAYORALTY SITUATION

His Worship Mayor Denne Will not Seek Re-election.

A Petition Signed by Many Leading Citizens was Presented to Him—His Answer.

Mr. T. H. G. Denne, the Mayor, has been presented by a requisition signed by a very large number of the electors of the town, asking him to be a candidate for the position of Mayor for next year, and Mr. Denne has made the following reply:

Gentlemen,—I thank you for the honour you have done me in asking me to again be a candidate for the position of Mayor, and I regret very much that I am unable to comply with your request. Certain business arrangements, which I have recently made, will require me to be absent from town frequently during the coming year, and I would not be able to give the time or attention to the business of the town that it should receive from any one who holds the position of head of the council, and I therefore find that it will be impossible for me to again be a candidate.

I desire to tender my sincere thanks to those gentlemen who took the interest and time in the matter to circulate the requisitions that have been presented to me and also to all who signed the request. I have felt it to be a high honour to be a member of the council of this town, and especially to be chosen to fill the office of Mayor, and I feel keenly the kindness of the electors who have in such a large number signed these requisitions. I have, indeed, during the eight years I have been a member of the council, and especially during the two years I have held the office of Mayor, received nothing but kindness at the hands of the people of Peterborough, and while I have, to the best of my ability and opportunities, endeavoured to serve the town faithfully and to advance its interests in every way, I recognize that I have only endeavoured to make some return for the kindness of the people and the honours the electors have conferred upon me. I cannot adequately express the gratitude I feel to the electors, and I regret very much that I am compelled, for the present, to decline the request to continue in the office of Mayor. If at some uture time my business arrangements will permit, and the people desire me to serve them, I will be pleased to place my services at their disposal; but at the present time I can only again return my sincere thanks to those who have again honoured me by presenting this request and express my regret that I cannot do otherwise than retire from the town council.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
T. H. G. DENNE.

INTERESTING DEBATE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church, was held last night, the president, Mr. Wm. Campbell, presiding.

After the regular business of the meeting had been transacted, an interesting debate took place upon the subject, "Resolved, that public ownership of public utilities is preferable to private ownership."

The case of the affirmative was championed by Messrs. Lou Thornton, B. Jackson and T. Anderson, while the case of the negative was upheld by Messrs. R. Elliott, Wm. Campbell and C. Anderson.

Some well thought out ideas were brought out by the speakers on both sides, and the decision was given in favour of the negative. The judges were Messrs. Westbrooke of the Charlotte street Guild, and Adams of St. Luke's Guild. Ald. McGregor, who has given the subject of municipal ownership considerable attention, was critic for the evening.

RUGBYISTS' ANNUAL DANCE

Held Last Night in Bradburn's Opera House.

There was a Large Attendance and the Affair Passed off Most Successfully The Decorations.

The annual dance of the Peterborough Rugby Club was held in Bradburn's Opera House last night. It was the 4th annual affair of the kind, and whilst in point of attendance it may not have been up to that of last year's assembly, still the dance will go on record as one of the most enjoyable in the history of the Club. The Opera House was magnificently decorated with red, white and blue effects, whilst mottos appropriate to the O.R.F.U. champions were much in evidence. Cosy little sitting-out places proved an attractive spot for many, whilst the brilliant glare of electricity showed up the decorations throughout in a most excellent manner. The music was supplied by the Misses Hurley and their programme was a delight to those who participated in the dance. Mr. Harry Long did the catering, supper being served in the dining room to the east of the main hall.

The patronesses of the dance were Mrs. (Hon.) J. R. Stratton, Mrs. T. A. S. Hay, Mrs. J. H. McClellan, Mrs. (Dr.) Bradd, Mrs. T. H. G. Denne, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. L. M. Hayes and Mrs. John Crane. The management of the dance was entirely in the hands of the Executive, whilst Mr. A. J. McClellan performed the duties of Hon. Secretary in a very energatic manner. The opening set of honour in which the officers of the club and ladies who have lent valuable assistance to the club was composed as follows:—His Worship Mayor Denne and Mrs. Peter Campbell, Mr. Hal. B. Burnham and Mrs. John Crane, Mr. E. G. Clarry and Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun, Mr. A. J. McClellan and Mrs. T. A. S. Hay, Mr. Frank Bradburn and Mrs. (Dr.) Bradd, Mr. John Crane and Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Dr. Bradd and Mrs. T. H. G. Denne, and Mr. A. W. McPherson and Mrs. J. Harris McClellan.

The affair was attended by quite a number of out of town people. There were many debutantes present, while the gowns throughout were very pretty. About 240 people were in attendance, and the affair continued until about three a.m.

Hearty congratulations are forthcoming to the members of the executive for the successful manner in which the arrangements were carried out. The executive wishes to thank Messrs. E. B. Clegg & Co., J. D. Craig, Andrew Laidlaw, R. Hall & Son, J. C. Turnbull Co., Thos. Barrie, Fred Clark, H. LeBrun, Jordan Bros., A. Blade, and Messrs Stanley & Co., for articles loaned in connection with the decoration, etc.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE.

After an existence in this world of 81 years, Mr. William Emberson departed this life at his home on lot 14, in the 2nd concession of South Monaghan, on Friday morning.

Deceased was an old resident of Monaghan, having lived in the township since 1844, and was respected by all who knew him, as his life was as full of good deeds as it was full of years. He leaves to mourn his loss six sons and one daughter. They are Alexander, Jas., William, John and Maggie, of Monaghan; Thomas of York; and Robert, who is now a missionary in Japan, but they find comfort in the blessed assurance of meeting him on the bright resurrection morning.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon last to the Methodist cemetery, and was largely attended.

THE LATE CHARLES COLMAN.

His Demise Occured in Winnipeg Yesterday—Well Known Here.

The death occurred in Winnipeg yesterday of Mr. Charlie Colman, formerly of Port Hope. Mr. Colman some weeks ago was removed to the Winnipeg General Hospital suffering from an attack of typhoid fever form which he never recovered. For days past his friends throughout Ontario have been anxiously awaiting for cheering news as to his condition, and the sad word of his untimely end was received with the deepest possible sorrow.

Charlie Colman was a model young man and leaves behind him a stainless character. He was respected by all who knew him, in fact he was beloved by those who were in personal contact with him. Previous to moving to Winnipeg Mr. Colman was a resident of Port Hope, where he figured on the lacrosse and hockey teams of that town for years past. He was a great athlete and on many occasions he has assisted in bringing honours to his native town. He was known very intimately to Peterborough people and played against the local hockeyists here last winter. He was captain of the Port Hope team and was a brilliant player.

However, Charlie Colman's life was not devoted entirely to athletics. He was a young man of unimpeachable character, and his presence in whatever company he chanced to be had a morally elevating effect. Temperate in his habits, true to his friends, cheerful in disposition he won to his side friends wherever he he chanced to be. He leaves to mourn his demise two sisters, who reside in Port Hope, and who have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their sad affliction.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Messrs. F. A. Kilbourn, Charlie Tanner and Roy Bravander of Lakefield, were in town to the Rugby dance last night.

Mr. LeGros leaves to-day on a business trip as far east and Quebec and as far west as Winnipeg, taking in the principal cities intervening.

Mrs. W. Henderson and Miss Henderson have returned home after a ten weeks visit with friends in Rockford, Illinois. Mrs. Henderson's numerous friends will be pleased to merous friends will be pleased to learn that she returns in considerably improved health.

VOTE OF TO-MORROW.

What Electors' Votes Affirmative or Negative Will Mean.

THOSE WHO MAY VOTE.

The Question to be Voted Upon—

To-morrow the vote will be taken throughout the Province of Ontario to decide whether the Liquor Act of 1902, shall, or shall not, become an operative statute.

For general information, and for the guidance of voters who are not clear on the matter, it may be mentioned that the persons entitled to vote to-morrow on the adoption or rejection of the Liquor Act of 1902, include those who are entitled to vote at the last provincial elections, and who have fulfilled the conditions as to residence, and any whose names are on lists prepared for use to-morrow.

Are you in favour of bringing into force the Liquor Act of 1902?	YES	NO

A cross placed in the "Yes" compartment indicates that the voter is in favour of bringing into force the Liquor Act of 1902, and the measure of prohibition it provides.

A cross placed in the "No" compartment indicates that the voter is opposed to bringing into force the Liquor Act of 1902, and the measure of prohibition it provides.

Considerable uncertainty seems to prevail in the public mind, as one learns from the question often asked: "Are you going to vote for or against the Referendum?" There is no such vote. The referendum is simply the submission — the reference—to the people for answer of the question, "Are you in favour of the bringing into force of the Liquor Act of 1902?"

No Meeting.

There was no meeting of the Board of Education last night. The janitor failed to put in an appearance, and the bare quorum waited outside the building until eight o'clock. Not being able to obtain entrance to the board room, the trustees dispersed, and a special meeting will be called in the course of a day or two.

A BURGLARY IN HAVELOCK.

The Residence of Mr. S. S. Joyce Ransacked.

Money, Jewelry and Other Articles Stolen—Horse and Buggy Stolen.

The village of Havelock has had a sensation in the shape of a burglary, which has stirred the inhabitants from one end of the village to the other.

It appears that on Monday evening, while the family of Mr. S. S. Joyce, harness maker, were out attending the Uncle Tom's Cabin entertainment in the town hall, that burglars took possession of the house, and ransacked it from top to bottom. Entrance was gained by a window, which had been pried open with an axe; every room was visited. Every door in the house had been opened, and a general search made on the premises for valuables.

On the return of the family about 10.30, Mr. Joyce found all the doors of his residence open, and a hurried examination of the premises revealed the fact that the thieves had carried off considerable property. Among the missing articles are Mrs. Joyce's rings and watch, Master Russel Joyce's watch, a pair of fur gauntlets, a pair of kid gloves, and $5.30 in cash, belonging to Master Russell. Some $3 or $4 was overlooked, which had been thrown out of a drawer.

The same evening it was discovered that a horse and buggy had been stolen from the Presbyterian church belonging to Mr. Moore, a farmer living at old Havelock, and on Tuesday morning the horse and buggy were found on the road about four miles from Peterborough, on its way home to Havelock. Doubtless the parties who burglarized Mr. Joyce's house, stole the horse and rig to effect their escape, and left the animal to find its way back.

FINAL APPEAL TO VOTERS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — It is my duty to thank you on behalf of the loyal people of this county for your kindness in opening up to us your columns for correspondence. We realize what an influence for good and the general moral uplift, the press has been; we surely hope that the present unwillingness on the part of the press of Ontario to take part in the discussion of one of the most vital subjects ever before a nation, does not mark its decadence. It is surely a sign that all over the province the liquor traffic is complete master of the literature, and all are slaves under a cruel whip.

In appealing to the electors of Peterborough we would remind them that the arguments brought before the public mind by anti-prohibition theorists have been altogether away from the object of the "Ontario Liquor Act."

1. It seeks to banish the open saloon. The province cannot pass a prohibitory measure, so far as manufacture is concerned, for that is entirely in the hands of the Dominion Government.

2. Principal Grant was always opposed to the bar room, and in the days of his public ministry sought hard to destroy its evil affects. In later years he admired the system of state control, and claimed that it would be better than the Scott Act. From reliable sources it is learned that in Sweden and Russia the system has been an absolute failure, as it has created thousands of state paupers and tramps.

It is amusing and interesting to find the liquor traffic pressing such arguments in favour of wholesale restriction as Principal Grant's method implies. The omission from their pamphlet of Principal Grant's words about the saloon shows a most dishonest spirit to an intelligent electorate, in giving a garbled presentation of the opinions of the honoured dead.

3. The failure of restrictive law is not due to lack of public favour, but to the hidden workings of party trickery, and lack of moral courage on the part of officials paid by public moneys. To labour hard with pick and shovel is a thousand times more honourable than stifling conscience and squelching manhood for mere partizan favour. Let the public direct its attention to that quarter, and there will be no broken liquor laws. If there is diphtheria, let us get rid of the filth; if typhoid we will attach importance to rid the cesspool, or contaminated stream. The cases are exactly analogus, only we have been licensing in the past a set of men to sell the potion containing the vices that has ruined body and soul.

4. Many are afraid of taxation. Last year $18,000,000 was paid out in liquor, from which there was derived a revenue of $555,000. The cost of the maintenance of justice, prisons, jails, etc., etc., was in Ontario $3,000,000. A conservative estimate places the amount chargeable to liquor at $1,500,000. This in no sense takes into account the many houses totally destroyed and characters for ever blackened. Besides we have a population of over 2,000,000 people, so that were for the first year the people to bear the needed cost it would not mean one cent for the mechanic or labourer.

There are 55 jails in Ontario, besides penitentiary, Central Prison, and reformatories. In jails alone last year about 9,000 prisoners, about 6,000 through strong drink, at a cost of $137,348 for maintenance alone. The Central Prison with 1,052, at a cost of $61,224 for simple maintenance only. Each prisoner cost the Government $10. We can readily see that the present system is a breeder of much sin and crime, rather than a saviour from it.

5. Whatever the weather may be, let us bestir ourselves to-morrow. The temperance people have no party, and therefore every temperance man ought to feel a personal interest in getting to the polls. Voting will take place just where you voted in the provincial elections in May last.

In this connection I am reminded of a few lines:

"It is nothing to me," the beauty said.
With a scornful toss of her pretty head,
"The man is weak, if he can't refrain
From the cup they say, is fraught with pain."
It was something to her in after years,
When her eyes were drenched with burning tears,
And she watched in lonely grief and dread,
And tremble dto hear her husband's tread.

"'Tis nothing to me," the young man cried,
In his eye was a flash of scorn and pride,
"I heed not the dreadful things you tell,
I can rule myself, I know full well."
It was something to him when in prison he lay.
The victim of drink, life ebbing away,
And he thought of his wretched child and wife,
And the mournful wreck of a wasted life.

"Its nothing to me," the mother said,
I have no fear that my boy will tread
The downward path of sin and shame,
To ruin his life and shadow our name.
It was something to her when her own dear son,
From the path of right was early won,
And madly cast in the flowing bowl,
A ruined body and ship-wrecked soul.

"Its nothing to me," the merchant said,
As over the ledger he bent his head.
"I'm busy to-day with the tare and tret
I have no time to fume and fret."
It was something to him when over the wire
A message came from a funeral pyre,
A drunken conductor had wrecked a train,
And his wife and child were among the slain.

"Its nothing to me," the voter said,
"The party's loss is my greatest dread."
So he gave his vote for the liquor trade,
And hearts were broken and drunkards made.
It was something to him in after life
When his daughter became a drunkard's wife,
And her hungry children cried for bread,
And she watched in grief by their lonely bed.

Is it nothing for us to idly sleep
While the cohorts of death their vigils keep,
Alluring the young and thoughtless in,
To grind in their midst a grist of sin?
It is something—yes, all, for us to stand
And grasp by faith the Saviour's hand,
To learn to labour, live and fight
On the side of God and changeless right.

Upon the vote of to-morrow much depends. Many who are bound in the chains of partyism to-day will rue it when they remember that they have not come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty. There is no excuse or reason for licensing a gigantic system that all admit does no good and is continuallly doing evil. To-morrow, remember your God, your conscience, your home, wife, children, your community. Throw aside all partisanship in this great test of principle and morality. Don't have Peterborough stigmatized as a liquor bound town.

"Be strong!
We are not here to play, to dream, to drift;
We have hard work to do, and loads to lift;
Shun not the struggle—face it; tis God's gift.

"Be strong!
Say not, 'the days are evil.' Who's to blame?
And fold the hands and acquiesce—Oh shame!
Stand up, speak out, and bravely in God's name.

"Be strong!
It matters not how deep intrenched the wrong!
How hard the battle goes, the day how long;
Faint not—fight on! To-morrow comes the song."

Yours, very sincerely,
JAMES G. POTTER,
President Prohibition Union.

MR. JOHN BABB'S VIEWS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In your issue of Saturday you publish by request something on the temperance problem. While it is much like all the worn out arguments that have been employed (may I say) for the past fifty years, I notice that in it there is to my mind much quite foreign to the subject, and about which I have no desire to say anything in a secular paper. I had not thought of taking any part in the contest, but it is now my last chance. I thought of the master of allegorical arts who says "'tis better late than never." The question with me is, "shall I vote?" and then "how?" This may seem strange to many when we are told by mostly all, to vote "for." When I voted for the present Government I believed, as they assumed, that they were inspired for that place. I firmly hold that no statesman is made, more than any preacher of the Gospel. Those men sought the power that was given them and now it is for them to prove themselves worthy of the confidence they secured. It is for them to make laws, laws that can be enforced and for the well-being of the community at large, and my part is to abide by that law to the best of my power. It ill-becomes me now to counsel them, my part is now to pray that they may be guided right and continue to do so. When Lord Roberts was sent to South Africa it was not to ask the people what he should do, but to command, knowing that he had an army ready to obey. But then he knew he was responsible for his command and on the voyage there he took the pains to educate himself for the work. Was it the Premier's work to address a Toronto audience on this occasion? What will be the result of all that has been done to get the people to vote yea. The ministers of the various churches have either volunteered or been invited to aid in the struggle to cast this demon out. It may be, they will have to ask like the Disciples of Christ, "Why could we not cast him out?" Let us never forget the answer, "This kind goeth not forth, but by prayer and fasting." We have on every hand issued leaflets containing any amount of figures, showing what the liquor traffic cost the country, the revenue received, the number of drunkards, the jails that are filled, and a thousand other things that have been twice told. I can read and hear all this unmoved and remain callous, but when I see and hear that sorrowful mothers and broken-hearted wife with children crying for bread, all crying aloud, "come over and help us," my heart becomes soft as wax, and tears gush from those eyes too often sealed. I have no ambition to influence any votes. I enjoy the liberty myself that I would give to others and expect from them. Thanking you for this space,

Yours very respectfully,
JOHN BABB.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

HISTORY repeats itself. Julius Caesar declined the crown his friends urged upon him, and Mayor Denne declines the third term his friends urge him to seek, as explained by his letter in another column.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Children's Aid Society on Friday next should be favoured with the attendance of every member and should enlist the sympathy and co-operation of all good citizens. The unique feature of this organization is not its charity feature, but the preventive character it possesses. With such a society actively at work in all centres, in no very great length of time vice and crime would largely decrease—from the cutting off of the supply. The charitable function of the society brings relief and happiness and comfort to thousands of children to whom they are a new experience. Success to the Children's Aid Society.

SLANG is one of the evils of the day. Nearly everybody talks it. Apart from its intrinsic lowness, it tends to degeneration in other regards. If we throw off the restraints of culture and refinement to the depth of talking slang we are apt to adopt other heretical habits of speaking. The correct speaking of the English language according to the accepted standards, is a sign of a certain culture and refinement. Laxity in speech is as inexcusable as laxity in manners, and from laxity in manners to laxity in morals is not a very far cry. A young lady would doubtless resent the charge that the use of slang in conversation deteriorates her moral fibre. No? Take for instance the odious slang expression "search me," in answer to a question as to the whereabouts of some article. Suppose a young lady—lady, advisedly—in answer to some question by a young gentleman exclaims "search me," and the young man says, as has been many times known to be done, "certainly I will;" and if he takes her at her word she will be insulted—perhaps. Has she not invited the insult? and if she takes the suggestive innuendo laughingly and fails to resent it, who will not say that her moral fibre is degenerated to the extent of treading on forbidden verbal ground? And who will say that her maiden modesty, the hall mark of maidenly virtue is not dangerously lacking?

THE INVASION of slang is insidious and if we don't watch ourselves, we shall talk it on the most solemn and stately occasions, even in the pulpit, as has been heard not a thousand miles from Peterborough. We send our daughters to finishing schools to learn music, painting and foreign languages. After a while, when they come home the only foreign language they can speak fluently is the slang of the day.

APROPOS of "slang" take the odious word "pants," often used by reputable merchants in their advertisements, and a blood relation of that more odious word "gents." In differentiating these words from their civilized synonyms a clever little epigram has been used — "'Gents' wear 'pants' and gentlemen, trousers." Those words may be classic in costermonger circles, but among educated men they indicate a looseness of speech inconsistent with culture.

WHILE A DISAGREEABLE subject is under consideration, to prevent too violent transition, take a thought of our streets. We are perhaps, used to them, and their discreditable condition escapes our notice more easily than it does that of new comers. Who will say that the strictures of one of the speakers at the Farmers' Institute meeting, reported in yesterday's issue of the Examiner, are undeservedly severe? Who can tell what evil and injurious impressions our streets make upon strangers? Who will say that our modern and expensive street making machinery has had a fair chance? Who will say that we have got value for the money expended upon our streets?

THESE ARE QUESTIONS ratepayers should ask aldermen that have been, aldermen that are, and aldermen that would be, next nomination day.

THAT IS IF ratepayers take any interest in municipal matters, which they do not seem to do, for with the elections less than a month away there is no talk of candidates, upon which the good government of the town depends. The people grumble, and have reason to grumble sometimes. But they have the matter in their own hands. Do they take the trouble to encourage good aldermen? Do they take the trouble to avoid electing inefficient aldermen? Selection of candidates is left to the last minute, and then they are nominated hap-hazard, often without thought of the qualifications possessed.

IF A MAN wants a house built, he stands to have a better job done if he furnishes the material, and the greater care he takes in providing it, the better the results. The people make aldermen, and the better material they select the better the resulting representation. No amount of ingenuity can make a good alderman out of a poor candidate.

SHALL WE PRINT the assessment roll? That's a live question. There is no doubt considerable inequality in the mode of valuation applied to the assessment of property. Very often great injustice is done. The assessment roll not unfrequently makes the small owner's property unexpectedly valuable, and comparatively pauperizes the large property holder. If the roll were printed—at a cost of about $500—the people would have an opportunity of seeing how the assessment of their neighbour's property tallied with their own.

THIS WOULD BE an advantage, no doubt, and if the information thus available were acted upon, it is fair to assume, that assessment would be more equitably equalized. But, if after the assessment roll is printed, the ratepayers take no more advantage of the opportunity thus presented of improving the assessment, than they do of taking an active, intelligent interest in selecting and electing, aldermen, the printed roll would be of little value, except as a literary curiosity. The printing of the assessment roll would furnish a great deal of information to people who want it, but unless they act upon it, and use it, as the basis of an earnest effort at improvement, what would be the use? If any person can guarantee that the information furnished by the printed assessment roll would be acted upon, one of the chief objections urged against its being printed, would be removed.

AN INVESTIGATION.

(Lindsay Post.)

At last night's meeting of Council Ald. McDiarmid made a grave accusation affecting the honour and integrity of a servant of the town — Commissioner J. M. Chalmers.

Mr. Chalmers is charged with malfeasance, breach of trust and other misconduct in relation to his duties and obligations to the municipality, with being improperly interested in certain contracts for granolithic walks let by the town, with the improper use of property and material of the town in other works, etc., etc., any one of which would in itself constitute a grave accusation. The enquiry will be sweeping in its nature.

Back of the Cough

There's more to a cough than the tickling sensation in the throat. There's a cold behind that and a weak spot to be strengthened.

Cough mixtures get as far as the tickling sensation in the throat; that is where their work stops. They may relieve the cough, but they do not cure the cold and certainly will not build up the system. Their action is therefore merely local and of necessity very limited.

Scott's Emulsion does not stop at the throat. It eases that too, but its mission is beyond that. It not only cures the cough, but it cures the cold which is back of the cough. It searches out the real cause of the trouble and corrects the wasting and weakening conditions. In its passage through the body it distributes strength to the worn out tissues, feeds the blood corpuscles and tones up the body. There is nothing better than Scott's Emulsion to build up a run down system after a cold.

We will send a sample free to anyone on request.

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

MACEDONIAN REBEL

Romantic Bulgarian Leader Who Threatens Europe's Peace—Has Already More Blood on His Hands Than Any Personage in Europe Except the Sultan—His Portrait in the Uniform of a Bulgarian Officer.

Boris Sarafoff, the sinister leader of the Macedonian revolutionary movement, is quite the most romantic figure in Europe. His power in Bulgaria and Macedonia is so great that a word from him would set the Balkan peninsula ablaze, and this, as all the world knows, would almost certainly bring about a European war. Sarafoff may therefore be said to hold the peace of Europe in his hands, and the knowledge of this fact may well inspire the monarchs and statesmen who control the destinies of European countries with anxiety and alarm.

Sarafoff has something of the fanatic and something of the desperado in him, and if he believed that the Macedonian cause would thereby be advanced he would without hesitation do his utmost to make a great European war, involving hundreds of thousands of lives, inevitable.

This young man of 30 already has more blood on his hands than any personage in Europe, except the Sultan. His name is appearing with increasing frequency in the dispatches from the troubled Balkan, yet his remarkable story has never been told before.

He was born in a Turkish village of which anyone is at liberty to pronounce the name for himself. It is spelled Ljubjechovo. His parents were Bulgarians and his ancestors, who had lived in the same village for over 200 years, had always been the leaders in risings against the tyranny of the Turks. When, in the year 1648, the Turks, took measures to compel all the Bulgarians of the district to embrace Mohammedanism. Sarafoff's ancestor, Damian, persuaded them that it was better to die than to renounce Christianity and organized a formidable revolt. Other ancestors of Sarafoff took a prominent part in a number of anti-Turkish movements in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, so that he was born with a hereditary hatred of the Turks.

The circumstances of his childhood and education all tended to strengthen this feeling. When he was 5 years of age Turkish gendarmes came to his home one night, arrested his father and grandfather on a charge of treason and dragged them off in chains, beating them cruelly with leather whips. Young as he was, the brutality of the Turks and the pitiable distress of his mother made a lasting impression on the child.

Six months later his father and grandfather were released in consequence of a general amnesty granted under pressure from the powers, and Boris was just old enough to understand the stories of the men's sufferings in Turkish captivity. Life, however, became unbearable in their native village owing to the excesses committed by Bashi Bazouks, and Sarafoff's parents removed to Nevrokop, where his father was appointed head master of the Bulgarian school.

The boy showed great mental abilities, and when he was 10 years of age his father sent him to Salonica to be educated at the Bulgarign High School there. Four years later, when he was still at this institution, his father and grandfather were brought into Salonica in chains, having been arrested for taking part in some supposed revolutionary movement. After much trouble he was admitted to the prison to see his relatives, and he visited them thereafter daily for a year.

At the age of 18 he proceeded to Sofia and succeeded in gaining admittance to the military academy there, his idea being of course to become a professional soldier in order to be able to fight the Turks more efficiently. In his enthusiasm he went so far as to serve as a common soldier in the ranks for six months, so that he might be familiar with the life and duties of the men under his command. He passed his examinations with honor and distinction, and received a commission as lieutenant of the First Bulgarian Infantry Regiment at the age of 20. He remained in the army for three years, but the life of an officer in garrison was far too tame for his restless spirit, and when the Macedonian question began to attract the attention of the world in 1895 he threw up his military career to devote himself to the new cause.

Collecting a hundred young men of his own age and position in life, Sarafoff drilled them incessantly and inspired them with his own enthusiasm. On the 1st of July, 1895, he crossed the Turkish frontier with just eighty followers and marched toward Melnik, a town of some importance, at the head of his eighty followers, and made himself master of the place. The post and telegraph office was first seized, and the wires connecting Melnik with the outside world were cut before the astonished Turks had time to summon help from the nearest garrison town.

The prefecture was next attacked, and its guard of fifteen gendarmes overpowered and captured. By this time the garrison of Melnik, numbering 100 soldiers, was alarmed and advanced to repel the invaders, who, however, met them with a deadly rifle fire and put them to flight after over fifty had been killed or wounded.

Sarafoff was now master of the town, and his first act was to run the prefecture, the gendarmerie station, the postoffice and other official buildings. The local prison was then opened and the convicts set at liberty, while the Turkish officials taken by Sarafoff were locked up in their place.

This adventure was the first of several raids into Turkey, each of which was a madly reckless undertaking, involving the gravest risks to everyone connected with it. Sarafoff would swoop down on some town in Turkey, overpower the garrison, stir up the inhabitants to active discontent and disappear over the frontier before the Turkish authorities could organize an effective pursuit. The story of his guerrilla warfare, his marvelous feats of arms and his thousand and one hairbreadth escapes would fill volumes of surpassing interest.

It was his activity during this period that made Sarafoff the idol of the Macedonians in Turkey and Bulgaria. He was feted at Sofia and throughout Bulgaria as a national *hero, and his name became a house*hold word in every Bulgarian family in the Balkan peninsula. The Turkish Government, too, paid a tribute to his importance by setting a price of 100,000 francs on his head.

*Sarafoff's next task was the organ*ization of the Macedonian revolutionary committee, which has figured so largely in all the Balkan troubles of the last year or two.

CURED ONCE AND FOR ALL.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Make No Halfway Work of Kidney Disease.

J. J. McDonald had Rheumatism and Dropsy, was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has had no Return of the Trouble for Five Years.

Windsor, Ont., December 1. (Special.).—It has been acknowledged for some years that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure any case of Kidney Disease and of late those interested in medical science have been watching those cures to convince themselves that they were permanent. Gradually the conviction is forced that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure once and for all. One more proof of this is furnished by John J. McDonald, a well known farmer ,now residing at 130 Langlois avenue. Five years ago he was troubled with Rheumatism and Dropsy. For two years he suffered terribly and the different medicines he tried failed to relieve him. His legs were swollen and the pains he suffered were most acute. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills, was cured, and his cure caused quite a sensation at the time.

"I have had no return of my trouble up to the present, and I am not anxious for any. It is with pleasure I acknowledge that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I found them just as represented, and they did for me more than I expected that they would."

Chemical Effects of Lightning.

Lightning works chemically. It has the power of developing a peculiar odor which has been variously compared to that of phosphorus, nitrous gas and most frequently burning sulphur. Wafen mentions a storm on the isthmus of Darien which diffused such a sulphurous stench, through the atmosphere that he and his marauding companions could scarcely breathe, particularly when they plunged into the wood.

His Mistake.

"Yes, sir," said the commission merchant. "What can we do for you?"

"Well, if you sell commissions I'd like to buy one, if they're not too dear, for my son. I want a lieutenant's commission in the army, for my son wants to be a soldier, and he's too lazy to go to West Point."

The Branch of Peace.

"How did you come to select Olive as a name for your baby?"

"Well, you see, my wife's father objected to our marriage, and when the little one came he forgave us, so we thought it was no more than right to let her have proper credit."

JUST A COLD SETTLED IN THE KIDNEYS, BUT IT TURNED TO DROPSY.

IT WAS CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Read of This Wonderful Cure. It May Do You or Your Friends Some Good to Know About It.

Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithfield, N.S., writes:—About 18 months ago I caught cold. It settled in my kidneys, and finally turned into Dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet were very much bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and before I had used half a box I could notice an improvement, and the one box completely cured me. I have never been troubled with it since, thanks to DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

"A MONTANA BLUFF."

How Four Troopers Made Seventy-five Filipinos Flee.

What is regarded as one of the tallest bluffs on record furnished Captain Edgar Russel, chief signal officer in the Philippines during the insurrection, with a story which he told as an example of western nerve.

"We were outside of Manila in some little scrap," said the captain, "and about seventy-five natives were lying in a trench ahead of us, shooting away merrily, but not hitting anybody. By and by I noticed a little disturbance in our front. Presently four Montana troopers trotted out of our lines and started straight for the Filipinos. Everybody looked at them with wonder and waited to see them all killed. Bullets whistled all around them, but they never halted. Slowly, just at a trot, they jogged on toward the enemy. The natives fired and fired, but for some unknown reason did not hit. On and on went the quartet, disdaining cover. At last there was a shout, and to our utter astonishment we beheld the seventy-five Filipinos suddenly jump out of their trenches and take to their heels in mad flight. The nerve of the Montana troopers was too much for them. When they had all fled, throwing their rifles away as they ran, the troopers came back, their arms full of guns. That is what the army called 'a Montana bluff.' It's the sort of nerve that lets a man open a jackpot on a pair of deuces."—New York Tribune.

The Back View.

"Why is it," queried the girl who is trying to solve the problem of how to dress well of the girl who thinks she knows, "that you wear all your prettiest pins and brooches at the back of your dress collars and the more ordinary ones in front? I do exactly the opposite."

"I don't mind so much—that is, within reason—about what people think who see me face to face," said the girl who dresses well, "but the people who criticise me behind my back do it more deliberately. Whatever my appearance may be as I see myself face to face in the glass, I am resolved that no one shall say that my mirror has not two sides. One can protect one's face with a smile or a gesture, but the critic at the back has one entirely at his mercy."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Sewing Girl's Lot.

The sewing girl is out of the way of getting a husband. She does not come in contact with men in her work, as other girls do, and with so little time for anything but her work she does not make the acquaintance of marriageable men. The very nature of her employment excludes men from her society during her working hours. Her associates and even her employers are almost invariably of her own sex. No class of women are more deserving of good husbands than are the women who make their living with their needles. They are usually modest, refined and domestic. They do not hunt husbands, and, being so withdrawn from the daily lives of men, husbands do not usually hunt them because they do not usually know of them.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Certainty of Fate.

The Mohammedans have a fable which they repeat to illustrate the certainty of fate. The Philadelphia Times quotes it as having been told by Mr. Robert Barr, the celebrated novelist.

A sultan was once asked by his favorite, the grand vizier, for permission to leave at once for Smyrna, although a brilliant court fete was then in progress. Upon being asked his reason for such haste the vizier replied:

"Because I just saw the angel of death yonder in the crowd. He looked at me so earnestly that I know he has come for me. I wish to escape him."

"Go! Go at once!" said the sultan, who then beckoned to the angel and asked why the latter had looked so earnestly at the vizier.

"I was wondering," replied the angel of death, "why he was here, for I have orders to kill him in Smyrna."

Nelson's Only Defeat.

Nelson, like all the greatest commanders on sea or land, made his mistakes and his failures, but there is only one instance on record of his having been actually defeated in a direct attack. This occurred at Santa Cruz, in the Canary islands, on July 24, 1797. The place was very strongly fortified, and Nelson, in the face of a fire of fifty guns from the batteries, attempted to storm the town by boats. The attempt was frustrated by the strength of the mole and the nonappearance of a land force which should have co-operated. A hundred and fifty men were killed and a hundred wounded on the British side, and Nelson lost his right arm. Two flags were also captured, and these are still kept in the cathedral of Santa Cruz.

The Scotch Sunday.

As an instance of the observance of the Sabbath in Scotland, an English paper tells of a postman having a route between Stirling and Blairdrummond. He was observed to ride a bicycle over his six miles on weekdays and to walk the same distance on Sunday, and when asked why he replied that he was not allowed to use the machine on Sunday. An investigation followed, and the postman's explanation proved to be correct.

The Poet Turned.

Office Boy—I told dat poet wot called dat you was out of town.

Editor—Good! What did he say?

Office Boy—He said he thought he noticed an improvement in de paper.

Uncertain.

"He's a queer chap."

"Yes. Just now he was saying that nothing was certain in this world but the uncertainty of things, and you couldn't bank on that."

Justifiable.

"Johnson writes that he's just killed the hero in his new novel."

"Well, he needn't worry over that: any jury will acquit him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

His Compromise

Mr. Potter was giving his son a few words of fatherly counsel as to his treatment of his young wife. "Now, when you have any little differences of opinion," said Mr. Potter in his most judicial manner, "if you can't persuade Margaret that you are in the right, you must compromise, my boy—compromise with a good grace."

"I'll try to," said the son respectfully.

"I well remember a little experience I had with your mother the summer after we were married," continued Mr. Potter. "I wanted to spend six weeks at Saratoga, and your mother preferred to spend the time in taking a trip through Canada. It's thirty odd years ago, but I well remember the arguments we had before I compromised."

"How did you do it?" asked the son.

"We spent five weeks and a half in Canada," said Mr. Potter, "and from Friday night till Monday morning in Saratoga."

Irritating Form of Itching Piles

A Source of Continual Worry and Annoyance—Sleep and Rest Impossible Until Relief and Cure Came With the Use of

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

All classes of people are subject to piles, but especially those who are exposed to dampness. Teamsters, farmers, railroad men and labourers suffer greatly from this distressing ailment.

While there are plenty of remedies recommended as a treatment for piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only actual and guaranteed cure. It truly wonderful how the merit of this preparation has become known throughout this continent and Europe.

But when a person has endured the torture of piles, the itching, stinging sensation, the sleepless nights of misery, the anneyance during the day, when going about the daily work, he feels grateful for the relief and cure brought by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and does not forget to recommend it to his friends.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states:—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE.

Some of the Reasons Why He Engaged in Building the Cuban Railway—A Word for Canada.

Sir William Van Horne's Cuban Railway was opened for traffic the second week of November, and the Cubans are looking forward to very rapid development of the eastern part of the island as a result. The Cuban Railway is a very sound enterprise commercially, but it probably would not have been built had it not appealed to the imagination of this hard-headed railway chief, who is also an artist, a literary critic and something of a fairy godfather. To take hold of the war-racked and desolated island and afford it the first requisite of civilization was decidedly Van Hornesque, and the great service he has done the Cubans will not be forgotten, even though the other Van Horne—the railway operator who must make the road pay—has to put rates up higher than the Cubans will like. Sir William may be counted on to see the venture through. He has that rare combination, imagination and the highest executive talent. The Cuban Railway will afford him as much satisfaction as a Teniers or a piece of rare Japanese porcelain, and it will make Cuba a safer country for every one except the professional revolutionist. Sir William will be sixty years of age in February, young enough to build a few more railways.

Talking with a New York Post man the other day, Sir William of the C.P.R. talked largely. "The position of the Canadian Pacific Railway is absolutely unassailable For that reason it is our policy never to oppose anything. We would hail with delight a parallel route for Atlantic to Pacific to help us develop the country. There is enough of it up there for us all."

Again he said that future prospects in the Dominion were bright. "Canada never attains the exuberant heights of prosperity which are noted periodically in the States, nor does she sink so low in hard times. Canada has more of an even temper and prospers industriously all of the time."

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

A DAUGHTER OF ERIN.

The Marchioness of Londonderry, who is said to have in preparation a book on the Irish question, is probably better equipped for the task by education and experience than any other woman in the British nobility. Her father, the Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot, was Ireland's premier earl, and the young Lady Theresa Helen Talbot spent most of her early years in that country.

Lord Londonderry's favorite "seat" is Mount Stewart, County Down, where the family have spent a great part of each year among a large and loyal tenantry, and for three years,

MARCHIONESS OF LONDONDERRY.

1886 to 1889, Lord Londonderry was lord lieutenant of Ireland.

Lady Londonderry has always loved her Irish home and the Irish people. She has done much to popularize their laces, linens, tweeds and poplins and has in all her work come to know Ireland for what she is, so she will be able to write truthfully and with a friendly pen.

The first years of the married life of the Marquis and Marchioness, then Lord and Lady Castlereagh, were spent in Ireland, and even after the former was triumphantly returned as a member from County Down they were better known in Irish than London society.

It was at that time that the future vice reine of Ireland first turned her attention to Irish industrial problems, and she may truly claim to have been among the first great Irish ladies to whose unwearied efforts the flourishing state of Irish industries is due.

A Stone Age Picture Gallery.

A picture gallery that dates from the stone age has been unearthed in a cavern near Eyzies, France. The pictures, which are all of prehistoric animals, were not only cut in the rock, as is usually the case with such representations, but were painted in several colors, and give some evidence of artistic skill. There are 80 pictures, of which 49 represent bisons of various kinds. The pigments used, which are shades of red and brown, have been found, on analysis by Moissan, the eminent French chemist, to be ochres mixed with minute fragments of transparent silica.

Anxious thoughts sometimes perplex the wife who sees maternity before her. If she is treading an untried path, she sometimes frets herself into a nervous condition which is injurious and prostrating. If motherhood has already been a painful experience she is apt to shrink from the coming trial and by her very mental anxiety increase the possibility of her suffering.

There is no cause for anxiety for those prospective mothers who use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, induces refreshing sleep and produces mental cheerfulness as well as physical vigor. It gives strength and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best tonic for nursing mothers.

"I am so thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. John T. Smith, of Sheets, Erie Co., Box 30. "It helped me through the long months before baby came and I have a big, strong baby girl, the most healthy of the three, and it cured me of a disease which was taking away all my strength."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

FILIPINO FUNERALS.

Picturesque For the Rich and Pathetic For the Poor.

One of the most striking things to be seen on the streets of Manila is a Filipino funeral. If the deceased was wealthy and had hosts of friends, the funeral will be headed by a band playing selections from comic operas. The body of the deceased follows in a hearse covered with black cloth arranged in a grewsome design and drawn by six black ponies, each be decked with headgear of long black feathers. The hearse will be followed by men on foot wearing knickerbockers and cocked hats, and after them follow innumerable vehicles of every description. If the body is to be interred, the gravediggers will precede the band, with their tools over their shoulders.

Most Filipino funerals, however, are more pathetic. The father of a few weeks old baby will trot out to the cemetery entirely alone, with the little white coffin balanced well on his head, and if a man had not the price of a vehicle his remains will be carried out on bamboo poles by four Chinamen, and the coffin will be one that has seen service before.

The natives have different ways of burial. Some bodies are put into the ground, while the larger majority are placed in niches in the wall of the cemetery. A slab cemented into the opening of the niche contains a brief biography of the deceased.

Some Survivals of Fashion.

Man is unquestionably a highly rational being. Still, if you travel and observe, from the mouth of the Danube to the Golden Gate you will find most men wearing a coat with a useless collar marked with a useless V shaped slash and decorated with two useless buttons at the small of the back and one or two more useless buttons at the cuffs. The collar, the slash and the buttons are there in answer to no rational need. It is not a common climate nor a common racial need of protection against climate that they represent, but a common civilization whose form and ritual they mutely confess. Over this entire area those who aspire to be of the Brahman caste deck their heads for wedding, funeral and feast with a black cylindrical covering, suited, so far as we can discern, neither to avert the weapon of the adversary or the dart of the rain nor to provide a seat whereon man may sit and rest himself. And as for the women contained within this same area we behold that the amplitude of the sleeve, the disposition of the belt and the outline of the skirt all obey the rise and fall of one resistless tide which neither moon nor seasons control.—Benjamin Ide Wheeler in Atlantic.

For Women With Big Feet.

Women with large feet should bear one or two things in mind. One is that if they are big women they have no right to expect to have very small feet. A woman of 5 feet 6 inches in height is entitled to a foot 9 1-2 inches long, and it might be a little longer without making her feel that the world was coming to an end. Another thing the large footed sister should recollect is that when she squeezes her foot into a shoe too small for her she does not disguise its size. On the contrary, she makes this more apparent. The foot spreads in its overtight covering and lumps out in the wrong place and stretches the shoe out of shape in no time at all.—Shoe and Leather Gazette.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Many cooks insist that a slice of lemon cooked with boiling lamb "cuts the greasy taste."

Adding a sprinkle of powdered sage gives a good flavor to pork, whether it be a roast, chops or tenderloin saute.

Eggs are said to be more digestible if boiled twenty minutes, as the yolks then become mealy and are easily acted upon by the gastric juice.

It is said the flavor of baked beans is greatly improved by adding a half teaspoonful of dry mustard to the water poured over them when they are transferred to the baking dish.

For a cream toast, toast slices of bread a golden brown, butter while hot and pour thick cream over them. Let them remain in the oven until cream is heated and then serve.

The expression "folding in" the whites of eggs, much used in directions for cakemaking, means stirring them in the mixture carefully, cutting the batter and folding it over and over.

When tea has been put into the teapot, it should at once be filled up with boiling water. It is a great mistake to put only a little drop of water on the leaves first, filling the pot up afterward.

Her Kid Glove Pillow.

A utilitarian girl has devised a pretty pillow and a sensible one as well. She uses the wrists and part of the backs of discarded kid gloves for her purpose, as every woman well knows that when a glove is worn out its wrists are still "as good as new."

Every woman, too, acquires sooner or later a lot of wrinkled wrists of everything from party to walking gloves, and she wonders, if she thinks about it at all, what they are good for.

But the girl who makes everything do duty in some way has made the coolest, smoothest, nerve soothing pillow in the world.

She cut her glove wrists into triangles and squares and whatever shapes she could to employ all of the clean parts to the best advantage. These she basted down upon a canvas lining and then worked them with "catstitch" in yellow floss. The effect was charming, with the warm autumnal shades and the soft grays and ivories. To judge by the looks of it after a good deal of hard and thoughtless wear, it will outlast any silk or damask one that was ever made.

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozzone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone erradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. No Need to Adjourn.

The legislature of a certain state was tardy in adjourning one session, although there seemed to be no important business under consideration.

Judge Jones, one of the legislators, was met by a friend in the street one hot morning, and the two stopped to talk under the shade of an awning.

"Goin' to clear out pretty soon, judge?"

"I suppose so," answered the statesman, mopping his brow.

"Anything much goin' on down at the capitol?"

"No."

"Why don't they wind up, then?"

"Well, that's just the trouble. There's nothing but a lot of petty business to bother us, and we don't mind that. I wish something important would come up, and then the motion to adjourn would be in order."

English in England.

"You must learn the shop language before you can go shopping in England," says a girl who has just returned from there and has many stories to tell of the difficulties met in the shops. "Shoes are not shoes unless they are slippers, all boots are high, and you can't to save your life get a spool of thread because there is no such thing—only a reel of cotton. If you wish cotton, sheeting for instance, you ask for calico, and the tape needle to run the ribbons in your gowns is a bodkin. There is not such a thing as a shirt waist to be had in all England, for they have nothing but blouses, and one would go continually with wet feet if she did not learn to ask for galoches."

RELIGION OF THE BLANKET

How the Navajo Squaw Prays as She Spins and Weaves.

It is a religion to make a Navajo blanket. Through the kinky, bristling twine of the warp are woven the hopes and aspirations of an immortal soul. In the warm colors are expressed the ardors of passionate hearts, the sandstorms they have faced, the cloudbursts under which their backs have bent, the smiling sunshine that has dried their wool; all the adverse and the good fortunes that have befallen are wrought into the intricate designs. The squaw prays as she pushes the wool card, and she prays as she twirls the distaff in her hand or rolls it on her thigh; she prays as she arranges the healds; she prays as she lustily pounds down the woof strands with her scrub oak batten.

A blanket is all a prayer, a human document, a biography bright with the joy tints of canary yellow, dark with the olive green of pain. One is drawn to it because one's heart is moved by its ineffable, intangible humanness. One is strangely moved to both laughter and tears by its exquisitely variant colors, each expressing an emotion by its warmth of blended fibers, each throbbing to a note of triumph or of woe.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Ringworm.

To cure ringworm, to one part of sulphuric acid add sixteen to twenty parts water, use a brush or feather, and apply it to the parts night and morning. A few dressings will generally cure. If the solution is too strong, dilute it with water, and if the irritation is excessive rub on a little oil or softening application, but always avoid soap.

Mats For Piano Keys.

Mats for piano keys are used in some houses to keep the dust away. They are made of a long strip of white cloth or Roman satin with a musical staff worked all along in black floselle with a few bars of a tune worked with black velvet notes.

To remove stains from and thoroughly clean stone sinks they should be sprinkled over night with chloride of lime, which should be merely brushed down with water the following morning.

New York, Dec. 3rd. Dow, Jones & Co. President's message gave general satisfaction at home and abroad. Rumoured split in S.P. and U. P. authoratively denied. Scarcity time money continues, and banks expect stiffer rates for call money. No truth in rumours of hitch in Manahttan deal. Understood Great Western will increase its capital to $50,000,000 in February. Labour difficulties in Hocking Valley territory affecting earnings. No probability of advance in L. and N. dividend for two years. Foreign holdings of Northern Securities coming out. Commercial cable declared regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent on its stock and bonus of 1 per cent. payable Jan. 2nd. H.V. declared semi-annual dividend 2 per cent on pref. and 1 1-2 on com. stock, payable Jan. 19th.

We look for continued irregularity in market to-day. It was evident buying outside was entirely lacking yesterday. The effort of professionals who had been buying on President's message last few days, showed that they themselves had furnished principal demand for stocks, and they hastened to unload. This a.m. general sentiment is depressed by stringent money, which is likely to prevail for two or three weeks in anticipation of yearly settlement on January 1st. We continue to advise caution and taking profits on all rallies.

M. & M.

London cable says: Post learns, it is feared in financial circles, that end of year will be attended by heavy failures in German iron and steel and kindred trades, because of large loans which these firms have obtained from banks, and large amount of their paper which is out. Some of these firms already calling for settlement, owing to present condition of money market. Some German iron and steel firms have obtained loans in London, and are now trying to re-negotiate these amounts, but with scant prospects of success. It was announced this morning that leading Scotch and English tube-makers have formed a combine. The incorporation will produce 50 per cent. of British output, and will be next to the U. S. Weather of this description makes one think seriously of skating and the time will soon be here when the Ontarios will be chasing the puck at a great speed and the covered rink on Queen street will be filled to overflowing with loyal supporters of the "tan and white." From Smith's Falls in the east, to Sault Ste. Marie in the west, clubs are sending in reports that they will be strong this year and we are pleased to say that Port Hope is in the swim. The prospects for a fast team here this season were never better. There is plenty of good material available, they are all lovers of the game, and with the new covered rink, on which they can play 50 per cent. better, there is no reason why they should not be fast. Then about the supporters. They endued the hardships of the cold winds and snow for a number of years and we know that they would much rather sit in a covered rink and watch the game. Then there is not a better town in Ontario than Port Hope for supporting a team, and with these two points in view there is no doubt but that the covered rink will be packed to the doors and prove to be a paying concern.—Port Hope Guide.

The Toronto Telegram says, when the rinks are at it, they might just as well fit the local press men to decent seats, where they can see the game and not be jammed in where it is difficult to hold a cigarette, much less a pencil and paper. For, after all, it is the newspaper that make the game and draw the crowds.

NOVEMBER WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. Harry F. Parks to Miss Margaret Edyth Paul, of Lakefield.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Joseph Paul, Lakefield, on Nov. 26th, when his daughter, Miss Margaret Edyth, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Harry F. Parks, of Anson Station, by the Rev. Mr. Lagott, of Lakefield. The bride was given away by her father, and was attired in white dimity muslin, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and ribbon, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Rose Paul and Miss Helen Smith, who were attired similarly and carried white and pink carnations. Little Miss Myrtle Sucee, of town, who acted as maid of honour, looked charming in a dress of white silk trimmed with silk lace and ribbon, and wore red slippers and stockings. She carried the ring in a basket of red carnations. Mr. Wallace Graham, a friend of the groom, performed the duties of best man. Miss Lily Montgomery played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the drawing room. The bride received many costly and beautiful presents, showing the high esteem in which she was held among her many friends. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch and chain, to the bridesmaids, gold stick pins and to the little maid of honour a gold bracelet. Mr. and Mrs. Parks left for Belleville, where a reception was tendered them. They will take up their residence at Anson Station.

THE LATE MR. W. H. BEST.

A Former Resident of Durham County Passed Away in Dakota.

The Walhalla, North Dakota, Mountaineer, contains the following account of the death of Mrs. W. H. Best, of that town. The deceased was a sister-in-law of Mr. Valentine Best of Peterborough.

"Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints."

It is with sorrow that we have to chronicle the death of Mrs. W. H. Best, of Bay Center. Mrs. Best had been in failing health for a year or more and during the last few months she was confined to her bed the most of the time. For several weeks before her death it became apparent to all that she could not recover. At last, on Monday night, the 10th of November, she peacefully slept away. For her it was a happy release—a translation to "The Father's Home of Many Mansions."

Mrs. Best attained unto the ripe old age of seventy-five years. She was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, and when fourteen years old emigrated with her parents to Canada, settling in Durham county. There she lived until 1884 when, with her husband and family, she came to Bay Center, N. D.

Mrs. Best lived a beautiful Christian life. Very early in life she united with the Presbyterian church, of which denomination one of her brothers, Rev. James Dick, became a prominent minister in Ontario. All who ever became acquainted with Mrs. Best were impressed with her quiet but unswerving loyalty to her Master, and her desire to help the needy. Those in trouble always turned to her as a friend for counsel and encouragement. Her death has left a blank in the community that can never be filled. On seeing the peaceful close of such a beautiful Christian life as hers was, one is impelled to say, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

She leaves to mourn her death her devoted husband, Mr. Wm. Henry Best, and four sons, William D., George, Howard and John F. Best and her two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Patterson and Mrs. Handley. The entire community mourns with them. They have the tender sympathy of all in this great bereavement.

The funeral sermon will be preached by Rev. D. Matheson, at the Bay Center church, on Sunday, the 23rd, at 3 p.m.

No Need For Hustle.

A gentleman who had business in a small town "out west" had ordered some important letters sent there, and on his arrival went to the postoffice to inquire for them.

"No letters here for you," said the postmaster.

"They ought to have been here yesterday."

"Couldn't have got here yesterday. Old Brown, who carries the mail, was drunk and didn't go over to Iosco after it."

"And how about today?"

"Well, he's sober enough today, but his old woman has cut her foot."

"But there will be mail tomorrow?"

"Skassly, sir. We don't have any mail on Thursdays."

"Then how about next day?"

"Friday is sort of off day with the Iosco postmaster, and he generally goes fishing. If he don't, he sends the boy over. I never count on it, however."

"You seem to have a slipshod way of running postal affairs out in this country."

"Waal, I dosmo but we have," he admitted, as he looked over the top of his spectacles, "but as long as nobody but Uncle Bill Simpson ever gets any mail, and that's only a circular about how to kill cockroaches, we kinder take things easy and let the United States run along without busting her b'iler."

The First Steam Cruiser.

It is generally known that the first steam driven vessel to cross the Atlantic was built in Canada. The information is not so general, however, that this same craft was subsequently converted into a cruiser and was the first steamship engaged in actual war.

The facts in the case are stated in "Johnson's Alphabet of First Things In Canada." The ship was the Royal William. She was built at the Cove, Quebec, in the winter of 1830-31 and during the season of 1832-33 plied between Quebec and Halifax. In the latter season she was sent to London and there chartered by the Portuguese government to transport troops intended for the service of the late Dom Pedro to Brazil. Returning to London, she was sold to the Spanish government, by the latter converted into a cruiser and employed against Don Carlos in the civil war of 1838, thus being the first steamer to fire a hostile shot.

THE TURKISH WOMAN.

Friday is the only day on which Turkish women enjoy a little liberty and release from the dreadful seclusion in which they are always kept, and they are not slow to avail themselves of the chance. On Fridays every one goes to the Sweet Waters of Asia, which consist of a small river running about two miles inland, with trees and meadows on each side. Hundreds of boats assemble and glide up and down the river. Every boat or caique has two or more Turkish ladies on board. The sight is a very fine one, as each private caique is most carefully got up, and the boatmen wear brilliant liveries to match the cushions and the long embroidered cloth which hangs over the stern and trails in the water. The khedivah of Egypt is one of the finest, in crimson and gold, embroidered with crowns and fishes. Besides the liveries the parasols make a wonderful show, and here may be seen all the latest Parisian creations. The ladies must not speak to men, but the careful observer can frequently catch sight of veils lowered or other signal given when a particular boat is passing, and habitual frequenters can point out boats which are sometimes close to each other. It is a very innocent diversion and would not satisfy western ladies. An hour before sunset the police boats appear and force all women to leave.—London Telegraph.

Scotland's Round Towers.

Scotland boasts of two round towers, said to be stragglers from the great typical group found in Ireland. The one is attached to the handsome cathedral of Brechin and the other stands in the center of Abernethy, near the entrance gate to the churchyard. The Brechin tower, built in six irregular courses and rising over 100 feet, is the more perfect of the two. It dates from Kenneth's reign, 971-95, and has a most graceful appearance. Pennant in his history speaks of having, in 1772, found handsome bells within its walls. These were afterward removed and now hang in a neighboring steeple. The origin of these towers is now somewhat doubtful, but archaeologists are generally agreed that they were built in connection with churches "for defense and faithfulness of watch" during the Norseman raids. They were afterward used as belfries, the Brechin tower having done duty as such for generations. The tower is now one of the sights of the ancient town and is regarded as a memorial of its early conection with Ireland.—Scottish-American.

The Changed Grizzly.

There are numerous reliable statements of grizzly bears having attacked men, but nowadays the grizzly does not seek out his human victims, as there are credible statements that his forefathers used to do. Neither does he lie in wait and, pouncing upon a hunter, tear him into bloody shreds in delighted fiendishness, as the old time stories used to tell. The change in the grizzly's disposition is likened by veteran hunters to the change in the character of the white cousin of the grizzly, the polar bear of the arctics. When the stations for the Hudson Bay company were established, the diaries of the men there often refereed to the fright of attacks by polar bears. Many a navigator in the arctic seas has been clawed and chewed to death by polar bears. But for nearly a century the polar bear has not been regarded as so very fierce, and nowadays it is looked upon as a cowardly beast. Association with armed men has modified the polar bear's disposition.—Outing.

Cobweb Pills.

In New England cobweb pills are supposed to cure the ague, and in the south a certain knuckle bone in a pig's foot is a sure cure for rheumatism if it be carried in the pocket or worn suspended from a string around the neck. Tracing the spider web pill, it originated in China, where all species of insects have certain positive or negative values in medicine. In Peking it is customary to give two or three scorpions or spiders to a patient ill of fever. In Ireland the peasantry swallow small spiders alive to effect cures. From these the cobweb pill of the New England native was easy. In Flanders the live spider is fastened into the empty shell of a walnut and worn around the neck of the patient. As the creature dies the fever decreases until it is gone entirely.

His Question.

Sister—You've seen Mrs. Newpop's baby, haven't you?

Brother—Yes, but I'm afraid Mrs. Newpop must think I don't take any interest in babies.

Brother—But I did ask a question: asked if it could sit up on its hind legs and beg yet, and she wouldn't answer.

The Wise Deacon.

"Deacon," began the old colored parson, "do you ebeh say, 'Git behind me, Satan?'"

"No, bruddah, Ah do not," said Deacon Green. "If Ah told Satan to git behind me, he might stick me when Ah wa'n't lookin'. Ah keeps him right in front whah Ah kin see him."

A Good Policy.

The Dry Goods Economist says of one store with which it is familiar: "Every employee in it seems to be good natured. Why should there be any difference in this respect between this establishment and the average store? Is not human nature about the same the world over? True, but there is a difference. The proprietor of this store is not only a merchant, but a gentleman. He treats his employees with marked courtesy and consideration. As a consequence they feel so kindly disposed toward him and his business that their good will is reflected in their treatment of his customers." Some storekeepers never find out why it is that so few of their casual customers become regulars.

Leigh Hunt's Breakfast Bouquets.

Leigh Hunt, that early day aesthete, declared breakfast to be the meal of all others when the poetic influence of a table posy was to be desired. He would bring in a few clover heads or sprigs of grass culled from beneath the protecting bars of a park railing or city square if he could find nothing more beautiful, and with these to look at his fancy took him roaming out into boundless green fields and pastures new.

Gave Him a Start.

"Now, then," said the auctioneer, holding up a pair of antique silver candlesticks, "give me a start."

"Twenty-five cents," came from a voice at the back of the room.

"What!" exclaimed the horrified auctioneer.

"Ah," said the bidder in an undertone and with a chuckle, "I thought that would give him a start!"

TWO CHARGES PROVED

These Two Charges Involve, However, Seven Distinct Acts.

SOUTH OXFORD TRIAL IS OVER.

Another Disagreement at Woodstock by the Judges in the South Oxford Election Trial—Their Honors Differ on Collins Bribery Charge — Mr. Watson's Complaint of Tampering With Witnesses.

Woodstock, Dec. 4.—The hearing of evidence in the South Oxford election petition came to a close last night. On two charges the Judges have disagreed, two charges of hiring livery rigs, involving seven acts, have been found proven, and the balance of the charges have been either abandoned or dismissed. Argument as to the effect of the charges that have been found proven on the election will take place on Friday in Toronto. The two charges on which the Judges have disagreed will go before the Court of Appeal for decision.

Mr. Watson Complains.

During the cross-examination of the first witness of the day Mr. Watson informed the court that he was told that parties employed by the respondent were at that moment engaged in interviewing the petitioner's witnesses.

Mr. Blake demanded the names.

Mr. Slaght said he was instructed that Mr. Livingstone was interviewing Miners.

Mr. Blake suggested that Mr. Livingstone might be allowed to remain in court.

Mr. Watson said he would like the court to direct a constable to prevent interference with witnesses.

Judge Street asked Mr. Watson if he would like to have Livingstone in court.

Judge Britton said: "Surely it is improper. Livingstone is here taking a prominent part throughout. His name has been mentioned from the first day to the last, and it is surely improper if Livingstone is communicating with any witness from the court room."

Mr. Blake—I am not saying it is not. I do not believe he is seeing anybody, and I dislike very much these insinuations being made. They do no good.

Lawyers Squabble.

Mr. Watson.—It is not fair for my learned friend to make remarks of that kind. There has not been a single element of fairness in my learned friend throughout this trial.

Mr. Blake—Is that an insinuation that should be made?

Mr. Watson—It is not an insinuation. It is a correct statement.

Mr. Blake—Surely there is nothing more in the shape of fairness in yourself.

At 3 o'clock Mr. Watson rested his case, and it was agreed that argument on the effect of the livery charges which were found proven should be held on Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Osgoode Hall.

Disagreed on Collins Case.

Judge Street announced that he and Judge Britton had not been able to agree on the Collins' charge. He had been unable to accept the evidence of Collins, corroborated as it was in some particulars, against the evidence of Stephen King, a man of good repute. Collins' statement that when he asked King for payment King only laughed did not seem reasonable. He therefore found the charge not proven.

Judge Britton differed in his conclusion. He spoke of King's evidence as being extremely unsatisfactory. King's statement that he laughed at Collins request for money because he felt that Jackson had sent Collins for it was, he thought, a clear attempt to throw on Jackson the blame for his not repudiating a demand which he should have repudiated. King's minimizing his own canvassing during the campaign discredited his evidence. Taking it all in all, he thought he could only believe Collins' story, as corroborated by his wife, and therefore he thought the charge established.

TALE OF A SHIPWRECK

Terrible Experiences of the Steamer Hebard's Crew.

JESSIE DRUMMOND AGROUND.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 4. — The crew of the lost steamer Charles Hebard tell a story of the most awful hardship.

"All went well," says Captain George Ryan of Detroit, "until, while returning from Manitou to Whitefish, the wind shifted from west to northwest, and it came on to snow. We could not see the length of the boat, and our log was frozen up, so that we soon lost all idea of our whereabouts. At 11.30 on Saturday night, the Aloha's line parted, and an hour and a half later we lost the Francomb. We had little sea room, and, at 3.30 o'clock on Sunday morning, in a blinding snowstorm, we ran onto a bold rocky shore about three miles above Maisne Point, and 200 yards from shore. Fifteen minutes from the time we struck the Hebard broke in two and keeled over, throwing her lee rail high out of the water. As soon as she struck she commenced going to pieces, for the seas broke over her. We tried to lower the yawl boat, but the vessel was listed too much, and the attempt failed. Then we tried the dinghy, and succeeded in launching her, with the first and second mates on board. To reach the shore through the heavy seas and floating lumber was a difficult matter. After several unsuccessful attempts, we reached shore and made fast the end of the life-line we had with us to a boulder. The other end was fast to the rail of the Hebard. They rigged a boatswain chair, and, one at a time, we hauled them ashore. For the most of the distance the men were under water, and everybody's clothes were frozen stiff as soon as we landed. After all were ashore, Mr. Oscar Carlson, an explorer, took us to his hut, and clothed and fed us until the arrival of the General."

The men all spoke highly of Capt. Ryan, who was the last man to leave the vessel. He was exhausted, and as he slid down the line he lost his hold and fell into the sea. Second Mate Jackson went in after him, and succeeded in bringing him ashore.

WRECK OF THE JESSIE DRUMMOND.

The Crew Was Rescued by Cobourg's Life-Saving Crew.

Cobourg, Dec. 4—The schooner Jessie Drummond, with a cargo of 600 tons of coal, ran aground here Tuesday night about 9.30 o'clock, and is a total wreck. The Drummond left Oswego on Saturday noon, but, owing to rough weather, had to take shelter at Charlotte. She left Charlotte at noon Tuesday. When trying to make the harbor here the same night, some of the lights were mistaken, resulting in the accident.

The crew consisted of Capt. James Quinn of Oakville, who was the owner of the vessel; Mate James Markey, Cobourg; Arther Thomas and Patrick Joyce of Oswego, N.Y.; Thomas Collins, Frank Eckert, Toronto, and Miss Redmond, the cook, also of Toronto.

The cargo was consigned to George Plunkett of Cobourg, and was insured, but no insurance was on the vessel, which was valued at $4,000. The life-saving crew of Cobourg, under command of Capt. D. Rooney, succeeded in rescuing the crew.

The Jessie Drummond was owned by her captain, James Quinn of Oakville. She was built at Port Dalhousie, 30 years ago, and cost $21,000. She was a three-masted schooner, and one of the largest in the coal-carrying trade at Toronto.

LIBERALS TRIUMPH.

Yarmouth Gives the Greatest Majority in Its History.

VICTORY IN ARGENTEUIL ALSO.

Mr. Bowman B. Law, the Government Candidate in Yarmouth, Defeated Mr. Thos. C. Corning, Conservative, by 848 Majority—Mr. Christie's Majority in Argenteuil Almost 200 With More to Come.

Halifax, Dec. 4.— The Liberals of Nova Scotia are rejoicing over the great party victory won in Yarmouth yesterday, when Mr. Bowman B. Law, the Government candidate, defeated Mr. Thos. C. Corning, K.C., Conservative, by 848 majority, the largest majority ever given in a Federal election in that county. Yarmouth has been steadfastly Liberal, with the exception of one election, 1882, since confederation, but never has the constituency pronounced so signally for Liberalism. The Conservatives made desperate efforts to capture the constituency. They imported an army of speakers, including Messrs. A. C. Bell, M.P.; C. E. Tanner, the leader of the Conservatives in the Provincial House, and a French speaker from Montreal. The Liberal candidate had a majority in every section in the county except one, where the Conservatives were five ahead. The result is not only a triumph for the Liberal party, but is also a tribute to the personal popularity of Hon. W. S. Fielding, who, with Dr. Benjamin Russell, M.P., and Mr. D. C. Fraser, M.P., took part in the campaign.

Another Liberal Victory.

Another Liberal was elected by acclamation yesterday for the Local House in Lunenburg, where Mr. J. D. Sperry was returned unopposed. For the vacancy in Shelburne County, Mr. A. R. Robertson, Liberal, and Moses Nickerson, Independent Liberal, were nominated. The latter was an unsuccessful candidate for the Liberal nomination at the party convention last week. Nova Scotia is still solid for Laurier.

Victory in Argenteuil.

Lachute, Que., Dec. 4.—Mr. Thomas Christie (Liberal), son of the late member of Argenteuil, was elected to the House of Commons yesterday over Mr. Geo. Perley by a majority of about 200. With six places to hear from Mr. Christie's majority is 196. At the last general election Mr. Thomas Christie, sen., secured a majority of 329 over Mr. W. J. Simpson. The returns so far as received make Christie's majority, with six polls to hear from, 198.

ACCUSED OF DUPLICITY.

Lord Lansdowne's Emphatic Language to Chinese Foreign Office.

London, Dec. 4.—A Parliamentary paper, issued yesterday, giving the correspondence relative to the evacuation of Shanghai by the troops of the powers interested. The most striking point is the directness with which Foreign Secretary Lansdowne instructs Minister Satow, at Pekin, to inform Prince Ching, President of the Chinese Foreign Office, that "his duplicity" in agreeing to Germany's conditions regarding the Yang Tse Valley, while simultaneously informing Great Britain that he knew nothing thereof, "was deeply resented," and that Great Britain would not be bound by any pledges of the Chinese Government or the viceroys, whereby British freedom of action to maintain order and protect British interests in the Yang Tse Valley would be limited. A similar notification was sent to Germany. Lord Lansdowne stating that the principle of the "open door," on which Germany based the proposed conditions, was sufficiently safeguarded by the existing inter-agreements. Germany replied that she would drop the conditions, since she had received satisfactory assurances from China.

NOW BEFORE THE LORDS.

Education Bill Passes House of Commons by 246 to 123.

London, Dec. 4.—The House of Commons had the Education Bill under debate yesterday, and Premier Balfour, having appealed to the public spirit of all classes to do their best to ensure the working of the Education Bill, than which, he said, no better alternative measure had been proposed, the House adopted the third reading of the measure by 246 votes to 123. The bill was immediately sent to the House of Lords where, in the presence of only three peers, it was formally read for the first time.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—A head-on collision between a light engine and a westbound freight occurred on the C. N. R. Tuesday near Nickel Lake, east of Fort Francis. Fireman Tierney was instantly killed, and Engineer Lemon so seriously injured that he died yesterday.

CHANGE OF LIFE.

Some sensible advice to women passing through this trying period.

The painful and annoying symptoms experienced by most women at this period of life are easily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially designed to meet the needs of woman's system at the trying time of change of life.

It is no exaggeration to state that Mrs. Pinkham has over 5000 letters like the following proving the great value of her medicine at such times.

"I wish to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her medicine has done for me. My trouble was change of life. Four years ago my health began to fail, my head began to grow dizzy, my eyes pained me, and at times it seemed as if my back would fail me, had terrible pains across the kidneys. Hot flashes were very frequent and trying. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken six bottles of it and am to-day free from those troubles. I cannot speak in high enough terms of the medicine. I recommend it to all and wish every suffering woman would give it a trial."—BELLA ROSS, 88 Montclair Ave., Roslindale, Mass.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

SEEKING THE SPOILS.

There may be a few deluded Conservatives, who believe that Mr. Whitney wants to get into office on the lofty grounds of purpose to "purify" politics, to benefit the province, and save it from the evils of ineffective government, but Mr. C. C. Robinson has a different idea. He asserted on Tuesday night at a Conservative ward meeting that if Mr. Whitney got into office he would be turned out again at the next elections if he did not dismiss all the Liberal office holders who had been appointed to office as political heelers, and put in their place Conservative workers who have served the party for years. Mr. Robinson has at least the merit of being frank and the very openness of his gentle nature fails to see that a Conservative "worker" might possibly be a "heeler" as well as a Liberal worker. His frankness simply puts into form the cardinal principle which has long been asserted to animate Mr. Whitney and his following — a burning desire for office and spoils. This "sreaking out in meetin'" brings to Mr. Whitney's mind what he has to depend upon — he must, if he gets office, hold office by becoming a political executioner, and wielding the axe that lops off the heads of office holders appointed by a Liberal Government. We have fair warning of the determination to introduce into Canada the vicious system of "Yankee" politics — "to the victors belongs the spoils." We have escaped that in Canada so far. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as leader of the Liberal party, gained power in 1896, the Conservatives trembled at the prospect of a wholesale dismissal from office of the faithful who had been appointed during the eighteen years regime of the Conservatives. They reasoned from what their party would do, as Mr. Robinson has let us see, under similar circumstances. There was no wholesale dismissal of Conservative office holders. Capable officials were retained in positions, which many feel, they fill in some cases with airs of arrogance, with ill-concealed hostility to the Liberal Government which "saved their bacon," and ill-timed desires (and actions) to give favours to Conservative friends, which show little appreciation of the liberal manner in which they have been let alone in their positions. If Mr. Whitney gains office of which by the way there is no danger, and attempts to put Mr. Robinson's "Yankee" spoils system into action, he will find that many Conservative office holders under the Liberal Government will implore him to remember for their sakes, that wholesale decapitation of officials is a game that two can play at. Mr. Whitney will thus be between two fires. However, the question is not a live one because there is no prospect of Mr. Whitney having an opportunity to wield the axe.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The prodigious service of the railways in moving the North-West crops is indicated by the fact that up to Saturday the C.P.R. had carried forward, to shipping point, 22,800,000 bushels. There would be less need of the rush if the farmers had proper storehouses.

Every one will be pleased to learn that Mr. N. A. Belcourt, M. P., Ottawa, on Monday, received a letter from the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, announcing that he has greatly improved in health, is gaining in weight, and that he looks to a very early return to Canada restored to his customary health. The country can ill-afford to lose the services of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

When a man gives evidence at an election trial and then returns to swear that what he said was a tissue of falsehoods prompted by the promise of $25, it is, the Ottawa Free Press thinks, "time for a change," emphasized with a salutary term in prison. Such people are a menace to the community. Yet this is said to have occurred in the South Oxford trial, and there is no mention of the perjurer being put under arrest.

Germany is protectionist to the hilt. Yet the Managing Director of the Kingston Locomotive Works, went to Germany, and had no trouble in a small city, Dusuldorf, close to Essen, the site of the Krupp gun works, in selecting out of 1300 applicants, 60 skilled machinists to work in the Kingston Locomotive Works, to increase the output. High protection may advance the profit of owners, but the workman doesn't always get his share, nor always constant employment.

INGRATITUDE AND ITS EFFECTS

(Kingston Whig.)

The Woodstock Express has kindly explained what it means by saying that Mr. Ross did not give the people a straight prohibition act. "Straight," in respect of not being referred to the people for approval. And who, rationally, can object to the electors being consulted?

The legislature of 1902—which went out of office so soon after the passing of the liquor act—had not a mandate to pass the prohibitory measure. It was four years from the time a plebiscite had been taken and public opinion is subject to frequent changes. Mr. Ross submitted the act, setting forth the limit of restriction in the liquor traffic, and he left it to the people to say, by a direct and positive vote, whether it should be enforced.

The Express is pleased with the success of the independents in the last provincial election. It ought to be. The party it supports gained several seats by the Liberals dividing on the temperance question, while the Conservatives were solidly "on the other side." The only mistake the prohibitionists made, in the Express' opinion, was in "not pressing it with a little more energy and sincerity." Some, in punishing the people who served them, did wonders for the Conservative party. Had they done a little more Mr. Whitney would have been Premier, and then—good-bye to prohibition and all that it implies.

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

British railroads had a clear sheeet last year as far as fatal accidents were concerned. Not a passenger, employee, or anyone else was killed on any line in the United Kingdom. The record is a wonderful one, especially when we remember that the speed of trains on British roads is as great as those in Canada and the United States. Care in construction, caution in running, and the absence of level crossings are primary causes of the immunity from accidents on British railways.

Compared with that of American railways, where eight thousand persons were killed in 1901, the record of the British roads is most remarkable, and the means by which this pleasing result has been attained might well be investigated by railway managers on this continent.

BENSFORT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

As Mr. Pierre Powers was returning from town driving a spirited horse, one side of the shafts became detached from the buggy, and striking the horse on the heels caused it to bolt. Although it ran quite a distance Mr. Powers did not lose his nerve, but held on and spoke kindly to the animal until Mr. Ruth arrived on the scene and by the efforts of the two men combined they brought him to a standstill in a short time with no serious results.

Mr. Thos. Dodds arrived home from Manitoba on Tuesday after having spent three months visiting his sons.

Excursions to Guelph.

The Provincial Winter Fair at Guelph this year should be visited by every farmer and stockman, and by every farmer interested in the advancement of agriculture and the breeding of live stock and poultry. $7,000 are offered in prizes. The new buildings give increased facilities both for exhibits and visitors. Daily lectures by well known and expert authorities on the different subjects, will be found both instructive and interesting. The Grand Trunk Railway will issue round trip tickets at single first class fare, from stations west of Kingston, good going December 7th to 12th inclusive, and valid returning until December 15th, 1902. Further particulars from agents.

VENEZUELA MUST PAY.

Britain and Germany Are Backing Their Claims With Warships.

London, Dec. 4.—Great Britain and Germany, according to official statements made here, have commenced punitive measures against Venezuela. German war vessels, it is stated, are already on the scene of the contemplated action, and Great Britain by to-day, should have a squadron there.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press correspondent is informed that no definite answer has yet been received from Washington by the financiers here, who wish to bring about a pacific settlement. If the United States is willing to give its moral support to the request that Venezuela be allowed time to fulfill the suggested bargain, the plans thereof will at once be submitted to the British Foreign Office. If Washington refuses, it is probable that the financial house now interested will drop the plan altogether. In the latter alternative the Venezuelan delegation here is likely to submit the suggested settlement to the British and German Governments, with an application for time, to admit of their entering into negotiations with other financial interests.

The Associated Press correspondent is in a position to state that Venezuela offers the payment on a unified loan of over $3,000,000, interest yearly guaranteed by the customs, with the establishment of a European bank at Caracas, to superintend the collection. If such a method is now followed, the Venezuela delegation maintains that all claims can eventually be met, whereas, it alleges, that the temporary seizure of the customs would so disturb the commerce of the country as to practically render it impossible to satisfy the European bondholders and might precipitate another revolution.

British Vessels Moving.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Dec. 4.— The British second-class cruiser, Retribution sailed for Venezuela Tuesday, and the second-class cruiser, Charybdis, sloop of war Alert and torpedo boat destroyer Quail followed yesterday. The second-class cruiser Tribune and the first-class cruiser Ariadne are under orders to proceed to the same destination.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses all produce headaches and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head, and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like red gum, blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh more or less for years but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure and after using a few fifty cent boxes which I procured from my druggist I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures) no opium (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

Pains in the stomach and intestines, piles, billousness and headaches disappear at once when Ferrozone is used. Recommended and sold by druggists. Price 50c. No pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

SIX KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION.

Steamer Blows Up in San Francisco Harbor Causing Death.

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—The steamer Progresso, which had been lying at the wharf of the Fulton Iron Works at Harbor View, blew up yesterday, causing great loss of property, the death of probably six men, and the serious injury of a score of others.

There were 80 men on the ship, when the explosion occurred. Of these 60 were employes of the iron works and 20 comprised the crew.

The first explosion, the authorities at the iron works say, resulted from generation of gas in one of the oil chambers. The vessel was loaded with oil. The force of the explosion tore her asunder amidships, and the fuel poured out on the water and beneath the pier of the works, which immediately took fire and was consumed. The vessel did not sink, but little is left of her.

A Familiar Name.

He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

Julian Ralph Stricken.

St. Louis, Dec. 4.—Julian Ralph, the well-known New York correspondent and writer, is critically ill at the Southern Hotel from the effects of a sudden and violent hemorrhage. His physician states that a repetition of the attack would prove fatal.

Mr. Ralph was appointed manager of the eastern headquarters of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in New York Tuesday, and that night a number of friends tendered him a dinner at the St. Louis Club in celebration of the event. After the dinner he was attacked with a violent hemorrhage, which came without premonition. He sank into unconsciousness. He remained in a semi-stupor all night, but rallied somewhat yesterday.

A BRIDE'S PARADISE

QUEBEC MUCH AFFECTED BY HONEYMOONERS DURING PAST SUMMER.

The Only Walled City in America Has Many Attractions For the Newly Wed —Choice of a Dwelling Place in This Mecca for Brides—What She Sees at Quebec—Treasures Picked Up.

The trousseau completed, the wedding invitations mailed and the final arrangements for the day when "Miss shall become Missus" concluded, the thought uppermost in the minds of the bride-to-be is of the blissful time to come—the honeymoon; and when, with her future lord and master, she is poring over time-tables and hotel circulars and planning the itinerary of their wedding journey, she is scarcely less happy than when the long-looked-for time really arrives.

When our mothers and fathers were wed, the height of bliss was to visit Niagara Falls, any bride whose wedding journey included a stop there was looked upon with envy by their friends; but while the place has not lost its charm, and many a blushing bride still catches her breath in the Cave of the Winds, turns pale and clutches her husband's strong arm at the sight of the great avalanche of waters and showers of spray at Niagara it has a formidable rival in the quaint old city of Quebec, which, after all, is the ideal place in which to spend a honeymoon.

It is a city of majestic memories of mystery, romantic adventure, victory and defeat; and these, together with the grandeur of its site, its checkered history and the beauty of its surroundings, makes it a city, which, once seen, is delightfully remembered forever.

It seems like a bit of the old world, set in a wonderful frame of purple hills and silver waters. Every stone in its grim, grey walls has a history; every spot of ground is sanctified by undying souvenirs; almost every building in its antique and tortuous streets has a story to tell, and the Fortress City is haunted by many a spirit of the past — ghosts of men who have left indelible marks upon the history of the new world by their heroism as soldiers, their zeal and self-denial as missionaries and their daring as explorers.

Small wonder it is, then, that Quebec has come to be known as a Mecca for brides, and that hundreds of them step over the threshold into the new life, in the quaint old town, which with girlish enthusiasm they explore with "him," and depart with regret that their stay could not have been longer in the place where the first days of her married life were spent.

To the June bride, or to her sister wed in early autumn, Quebec is equally delightful; one sees it in the first flush of summer, which begins late in this north country, with the tender green of newly-leaved trees and greener fields, starry with golden-hearted daisies and fragrant with clover bloom; the other enjoys equally well the fields of golden grain, the flaming torch of goldenrod and the wonderful coloring of the maples, turned by the early frosts long before those in the States exchange their green for crimson and yellow.

There is so much to see in Quebec that one cannot, in a flying visit, come to know all its beauties. Many there are who skim the surface, so to speak, do the show places and depart, with the conviction that having seen the citadel, strolled along the terrace, ridden in a caleche and inspected a half-dozen historic houses, there remains nothing else to do.

But the appreciative visitor sees at once that Quebec is no prosaic, modern town, to be "passed up" at a glance; rather, that it is a place to be thoroughly seen and explored from the King's bastion to the wharves of the Lower Town, and he realizes that no time devoted to these explorations can be counted lost, so rich are the rewards of research.

The sensible honeymooners, then, who decide to visit Quebec, plan to spend not less than a week there — two if possible.

One's choice for a dwelling place lies between a palatial hotel, a more modest but equally comfortable public house, a "pension privee," or a farmhouse just outside the city gates. At prices ranging from $25 a day for a bridal suite with decoration of cut flowers and a white-capped maid in attendance to a room, plainly furnished, but neat as wax, in the home of some well-to-do French "pensionnaire" at $5 a week, there is a wide choice; even the clerk with $1,200 a year can take his bride to Quebec and enjoy the honeymoon quite as much, at moderate expense, as his employer, who insists that the best in the city is not half good enough for his bride of luxurious tastes.

"Do all the bridal couples in America come to Quebec?" queried an Englishman who had just arrived in Quebec from the Old Country a few days ago. "By jove!" he went on, "I can't say I wonder at it, for I never saw a place like it, don't you know. Why, you've got all the luxury of American hotels, a city that's quaint as any old European town, and country near by with all the charm of Brittany. It's a combination that would be hard to find anywhere else.

"Do you know," he continued seriously, "I believe I'll come here on my honeymoon. I'm going to have one, you know, next spring, and I think—er—well, she'll like it so awfully well, don't you know!"

His enthusiasm was contagious, and all the party who overheard him confessed to having also made a mental vow to visit Quebec when the great time should arrive.

Never, say people who live there, and are in a position to know, have so many brides visited Quebec as during the past six months. They fairly flocked in during June and July, with a few belated ones in August. But the early season was nothing compared to the present time, when, upon every corner a radiant face, new shoes and hat and a pretty combination of proud possession and attempted unconcern stamp the bride as plainly as though the word were branded upon her forehead.

And the groom, too, however worn his clothes or indifferent his manner, betrays himself every time by a quick, love-laden glance at his blushing companion, and a tender air of solicitude when answering the most commonplace questions or handing her into a carriage.

Of course the bride who goes to Quebec sees the citadel, Governor's Garden, Montcalm's headquarters, the Duke of Kent's houses on St. Louis street and at Montmorency Falls, Laval University and the Ursuline Convent, Plains of Abraham, Parliament Buildings and the dozen or more historic houses, including the one where Montgomery was laid; she rides in a caleche to her heart's content, the driver on the queer little seat up in front, turning now and then to explain some point of interest in his broken English; she goes to St. Anne de Beaupre to visit the famous shrine and drives to the quaint little Indian village of Lorette, where the manly braves and frowning squaws make a living by basket weaving and the manufacture of the novelties that are displayed in so many souvenir shops in the city.

She bows before the shrine in Notre Dame des Victoires, and looks with compassion upon the poor, gentle nuns in the convent who may never know the joy of a honeymoon; she enthuses over the view from the citadel and eats a luncheon at "Le Chien D'Or."

All these things any tourist in Quebec may do. But occasionally a bride comes back from Quebec with other experiences to treasure in her memory. It may be a drive out into the country, where the little farms are laid out with the regularity of a checker-board, and where, at one of the quaint farmhouses "madame" may stop with "him" for a mug of creamy milk and munch with it a "petit gateau," spicy to the taste and so rich that it crumbles at the touch; or if they should, as many do, go on to Saguenay, they may perhaps stop at Cacouna.

Many a bride picks up treasures of ancient china, a brass knocker for her door, or a pair of brass candlesticks while exploring the quaint shops of the Lower Town in St. Joseph street or some of the tiny side streets leading off it.

The French woman who presides behind the counter tries to help on the sale by a running fire of comments such as "Ver' old, madame; ver', old et tres bon marche! Toute, toute culvere; c'est vraiment gentile, n'est ce pas? Regardez!" and she holds it up for inspection, carefully flickering an imaginary bit of dust from the article with a grimy apron.

"C'est toute ce que j'ai. Pas un autre in all Quebec, madame. Madame take it? Oui? Eh bien, madame; mille mercis! Bon jour, madame," and she bows the customers out with all the politeness of her Parisian sister of the Rue de la Palx.

CURES KIDNEY DISEASE

It's a well known fact that the kidneys are accountable for nearly 75 per cent. of the deaths of a year. If you have a headache, if your skin is jaundiced, if you have headaches and neuralgic pains in the head, if your urine is highly colored, and causes pain when urinating, if it is scalding—you can correct this condition by taking Powley's Liquified Ozone. Just read Mrs. Barriball's letter. It goes to show the value of our preparation:—

THE OZONE COMPANY, Ltd., TORONTO, Ont.

Gentlemen: About ten years ago I had a bad case of diphtheria, which left a weakness in my whole system, especially a sore throat, which was a great annoyance. I used to get medicine from my doctor, which helped me, but did not cure. I was advised to try "Ozone," which I did, with the result that it cured my throat entirely, and have had no return of the trouble since. I also had kidney trouble, which was very bad. Since taking "Ozone" I have been relieved of this trouble also. We have used the remedy in our family for some time, and so confident are we of its curative powers that we would not be without a bottle of it in the house. We also recommended it to several of our friends, who found it an excellent family remedy.

(Signed) MRS. BARRIBALL, 81 Allan Ave., Toronto.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is oxygen in stable liquid form, its action is diuretic—it cleans out the kidneys and relieves the inflammation that affect those organs. It will stop back pains very quickly.

Write our consulting physicians a full statement of your symptoms and get a specialist's advice free of charge. Address all communications to the Consulting Department of the Liquid Ozone Company, 880 Kinzie Street, Chicago, Ill.

WORKING IN THE DARK.

The difficulties under which coal mining operations were carried on before the scientist Davy had invented his safety lamp must have been very great. In many times the only alternative the mediæval miner had to pitch darkness was the phosphorescent gleam from dried fish. The miner's implements, originally of stone or hard oak, gradually improved, but he was forced to work in almost complete darkness until Sir Humphry Davy by his remarkable invention enabled him to light his way through the tunnels he had excavated with comparative safety.

Agricola, an author who wrote about the middle of the sixteenth century, has left an elaborate treatise on coal mining as it was practiced during the middle ages. From this we learn that the horse gin, which survives to the present day in some of the mining districts of Great Britain and northern Europe, was the engine chiefly employed both for lifting the coal and for getting rid of the water. This latter object was also sometimes effected by means of pumps turned by windmills or by tunnels driven with great labor to an outlet at a lower level.

There exist in parts of Islam many tombs of the prophet Daniel. Of these one of the most celebrated is at Cairo. This fact need not astonish us. The Mussulmans admit without hesitation the duplication or even indefinite multiplication of the bodies of holy persons without their veneration for each of the remains being diminished in the least. It is worth noting that the nature of the honorary qualifications accorded to the same saint varies in different countries. Thus, for example, Daniel has at Cairo the name of Nebi-Daniel—that is, they give him the title of prophet, as being at the same time that which suits him best and is the most honorable they can confer. In Algeria or Morocco—feudal countries—the title they give to saints is sidi, which signifies lord, which is also the title there of military and political chiefs. In central Asia they give to those canonized persons whom they respect most, as to the prophet Daniel, the title of khodja, which means in Arabic writer or lettered.

Making Marble Out of Chalk.

In nature marble is made out of chalk by water which percolates through the chalky deposits, dissolves the chalk particle by particle and crystallizes it, mountain pressure solidifying it. It has been found that similar results may be accomplished by chemical means. First slices of chalk are dipped in a color bath, staining them with tints that will imitate any kind of marble known. For this purpose the same mineral stains are used as are employed in nature. For example, to produce counterfeit "verde antique" oxide of copper is utilized. In like manner green, pink, black and other colorings are obtained. Next the chalk slices go into another bath, by which they are hardened and crystalized, coming out to all intents and purposes real marble.

How Billiards Were Invented.

The English are very fond of the game of billiards, and a letter in the British museum gives the origin of the sport. It was invented by a London pawnbroker, whose name was William Kew. Kew not only lent money, but he sold cloth, and for the latter purpose had a yard measure, with which he used to compute the amounts. One day to distract himself he took the three round balls which are the emblems of his trade—they may still be seen in front of certain shops in London—and, placing them on his counter, began to hit them about with his yard measure.

He found it made a pretty game. He got a kind of skill in making one ball glance off the other, and his friends who saw him thus employed called the game Bill's yard. It was soon shortened into billiards. But the yardstick was the instrument with which the balls were knocked about, and difficulty arose as to what to call it. They called it after the name of the pawnbroker—a Kew.

Ten Men and a Safe.

In the subbasement of one of our big life insurance companies is a safe so large that a theatrical company might perform therein. There are three doors, the combinations of whose locks are controlled by ten men. Each man, a high official of the company, is an integral part of the integral whole. In instance: Five men are required to open the outer door, each knowing a fifth part of the entire combination and no more. A, having set the gatings in his combination, is followed in turn by B, C, D and E, when the bolt may be moved. In the same manner the second door is opened by three men in combination and the third by two, in the latter case each being in combination with one or more of the other eight on the outer and second doors. The safe is regarded as safe.

Breaking Glass.

The following is an easy method of breaking glass to any required form: Make a small notch by means of a file on the edge of a piece of glass; then make the end of a tobacco pipe or a rod of iron of about the same size red hot in the fire. Apply the hot iron to the notch and draw it slowly along the surface of the glass in any direction you please. A crack will be made in the glass and will follow the direction of the iron.

A Fair Exchange.

Editor—See here, Mr. Dolan. You delivered me a load of hay for the six years' subscription you owed for my paper.

Mr. Dolan—Oi did.

Editor—Well, my horse won't eat that hay, b' gosh!

Mr. Dolan—Well, my goat won't eat your paper, be gobs!

The average man is always anxious to meet the fool killer for the purpose of sending him next door.—Chicago News.

Unparalleled Generosity.

Town Councilor—Have you heard, Mr. Skinflint, that our generous townsman, Mr. Muller, is defraying the cost of a new promenade all round the town? We think a wealthy man like yourself might also do something for us.

Skinflint—Well, what do you say to my giving you a park of oak trees?

Town Councilor—Oh, you noble hearted philanthropist! Why, do you really mean to—

Skinflint—Yes, yes; I'll make the town a present of an oak forest. You have only to find the land, and I will supply you with as many acorns as you may want for seed.

Grit in the Eye.

A useful hint was given the other day by a physician who removed a piece of grit from a patient's eye. The accident had occurred at the beginning of a railway journey lasting some hours. "Another time when you are troubled with grit in the eye," said the doctor, "don't attempt to get it out, but just cover the eye with your hand to keep it closed and blink away as hard as you can with the other till the grit is dislodged. This hint was given to me by a commercial traveler and how it acts is more than I can tell you, but it does, and that is all that matters to the sufferer."

She Knew.

Mrs. Hayfork (in country postoffice)—Anything for me?

Postmaster—I don't see nothin'.

Mrs. Hayfork—I was expectin' a letter or postcard from Aunt Spriggs tellin' what day she was comin'.

Rural Postmaster (calling to his wife)—Did you see a postcard from Mrs. Hayfork's Aunt Sally?

His Wife—Yes. She's comin' on Monday.

When Life is not Life.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

Not Very Much Business to Transact.

DIED SHOVELLING SNOW.

Sudden Death of Ommee Man—Lived Alone Many Years.

Mr. Francis Adams, who has lived alone for a number of years in Omemee, fell dead yesterday morning while shovelling snow off his verandah. Heart failure was the cause of death. Deceased was unmarried, and had considerable property. He is survived by two brothers, Wm. Adams, of Omemee, county councillor, and John Adams, of Winnipeg.

TO-DAY'S VOTING.

Much Activity Displayed and Many Votes Polled.

The question of the Ontario Liquor Act is before the people to-day, and more interest is being evinced by the general public than was expected. All day the partizans of each side have been very busy in getting voters to the polls and vehicles have been actively employed from the time the polls opened this morning. It was thought by the wise ones that the vote cast would be small but the returning officers at the different polling booths about town state that up till noon, an unusually heavy vote had been cast in comparison to the number at the time of the plebecite.

AN INTERESTING EVENT

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's church, Douro, last Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, when Mr. D. E. McKenty, of Glasgow, Montana, formerly of Madoc, Ont., took for his bride Miss Susan, daughter of the late John Smith. Rev. Father Kielty tied the nuptial knot. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucy, while Mr. A. L. McKenty, dentist, Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride was charmingly attired in a travelling suit of blue-grey Venetian cloth, trimmed with white silk chiffon and applique with white picture hat to match. The bridesmaid was similarly attired: The bride and bridesmaid caried bouquets of white and pink carnations.

After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the residence of the bride's mother, where a sumptuous dinner was partaken of, after which the evening was spent in games and other amusements.

Numerous and costly were the presents the bride received, showing the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome cheque, to the bridesmaid a beautiful gold bracelet.

The young couple will reside at Glasgow, Montana. They have many friends who will wish them success in their far away home.

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

HOCKEY.

The executive of the Peterborough Hockey Club met last evening. Business of a purely private nature occupied the entire evening.

* * * *

An effort should be made to have a city league in Peterborough. Every other town in Ontario has organized a league with from four to six teams. Belleville has fallen into line and one of the teams in the league is from the banks of the city. They have organized a team with the following officers:

Patrons — Messrs. Stork, Murray, Hamilton and Parker, managers of Commerce, Dominion, Merchants, and Montreal branches.

President—Mr. R. Tannahill, jr.
Vice-President—Mr. A. K. Pringle,
Manager—Mr. Brymner.
Sec.-Treasurer—Mr. A. P. Northrup.
Trainers—The tellers of the four banks, Messrs. Bull, Walker, Whitney and White.

The retirement of Mr. A. H. Beaton from the secretaryship of the O.H.A., deprives that boody of the ablest, most obliging and most courteous official in the line of sports and his place will be hard to fill. He always did his duty in an able, fearless manner, without favouritism and without the slightest suspicion of partizanship. His loss will be felt by everyboly who has anything to do with hockey.

THE LATE CHARLIE COLMAN.

Port Hope Guide:—Lacrosse and hockey followers will regret to learn that Charlie Colman has answered the final whistle. Many a time at a lacrosse or hockey game did the spectators rise up and cry, "Good play Colman," but now his name will pass from off the sporting lists, and another one must take his place. But still he will never be forgotten. Many a time when the Ontarios are chasing the puck, or just need a little more strength on the home of their lacrosse field will they think of the one who has passed beyond.

Mr. T. H. Hunter a Candidate For County Council.

A Meeting of Ratepayers of Division No. 2 Held Last Night.

A meeting of the ratepayers of Division No. 2 of the Peterborough County Council, was held in the town hall, North Monaghan, last night.

The chair was occupied by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, reeve of North Monaghan, and there was a large attendance.

It was decided to take a ballot, similar to the manner in which the warden of the county is elected, in order to determine who should be at least one of the candidates for the division.

On the first ballot Mr. T. M. Hunter was elected by a majority of three over the following: Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, J. A. McIntosh, P. Costello, and H. Forster. Mr. Hunter's candidature was then made unanimous, and the other gentlemen, whose names were mentioned, who were present, promised Mr. Hunter their support.

Mr. Hunter will make a strong candidate. He has a wide municipal experience, and is well known throughout the division. His election is almost a certainty.

Although her husband is still living in Haliburton, she is in search of another man. She may visit Michigan in search of the old sport who was so anxious to get married last summer.

GOOD ROADS.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

Sir,—The indictment of the town by Mr. Hughes-Charles, at the Farmers' Institute meeting, in regard to our streets, was most extravagant in expression and very largely unjustified. The foundations of our main streets are generally very good indeed and the work lately done has been excellent. No town in Ontario equals, let alone excels, Peterborough in this respect. I do confess, however, one matter the council has been shamefully negligent of. Dirt and filth will accumulate on the best made roads. It has done so on our streets this fall to a shocking extent, and the season has been allowed to pass without having had it removed. This is a gross neglect of duty of which the council should be thoroughly ashamed. Citizens will surely look forward to the spring with feelings of disgust at the failure of our council to perform this essential act necessary to comfort and health. Councillors, when questioned on this subject, place the whole responsibility on the Chairman of the Board of Works, and add that it is simply his stinginess and meanness that caused this gross neglect, and citizens would not commit a blunder if in January next they permitted him to attend solely to his personal affairs.

Another omission on the part of the council is the non-enforcement of the law against throwing waste paper and rubbish from shops on the streets, which gives them an extremely bad appearance and must be very injurious to the health of the town. Our police force, which seems to have little to occupy its time, and which really does nothing unless forced to it, might be made to hustle after the law breakers in this respect.

Your obedient servant,
CITIZEN.

THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

Meeting of the Men's Section is Postponed.

The meeting of the men's section of the Fortnightly Club will not be held to-night as some of the speakers, owing to business pressure, will be unable to be present. In all probability the meeting will be held next week, when all will, it is hoped, be in a better position to discuss the topic chosen, namely, "The Nationalisation of Railways." These meetings promise to be most interesting, as well as instructive, and this topic, especially, will be of interest. Members are therefore requested to bear in mind the change of date.

OPPOSED TO SCHEME.

The Masons' Union Differs From Several Other Unions in an Important Matter.

At the last regular meeting of the Bricklayers and Masons' Union, held on Tuesday night Dec. 2nd., the following resolution was passed:

Resolved,—That we, the members of the Bricklayers and Masons' Union, No. 17, of Ontario, are not in favour of the assessment roll of the town being published, as we do not believe the result will justify the expenditure; nor are we in favour of a municipal coal and wood yard, and that our secretary send a copy of this resolution to the local papers.

In regard to the matter of the alleged misconduct of certain boys and young men at the different street corners of the town, His Worship Mayor Donne expressed himself very strongly on the matter. He censured parents for allowing their children to be on the street at late hours. The aldermen all concurred in this and the matter was left with the Committee on Appointments to instruct the Chief of Police in regard thereto.

Ald. J. J. Turner introduced the matter of boys loafing around the Opera House entrance. This matter too was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

In regard to the communication from the First Church of Christ Scientists, Mr. A. P. Poussette appeared on behalf of the church to lay their claim for exemption. He stated that as the building was a place of worship it should be exempt as other churches and the trustees now wished to make application for the same.

Ald. Batten asked why the Court of Revision had not granted the exemption, and Ald. Shortly, chairman of that Committee, replied that it was not in their power to do so. The assessors had declared it taxable property.

The matter was finally referred to the Town Solicitor for investigation.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The Committ of the Whole through Ald. McGregor reported as follows:

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report and recommend that a vote of the Municipal electors be taken at the time of the Municipal Elections in January next on the question "Are you in favour of the Council establishing a Municipal fuel yard?" And that the Clerk provide the necessary ballots and other material for taking the vote.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. MACGREGOR,
Chairman.

Ald. Morrison led of in the discussion of the report. He thought that there should be more information obtained in the matter before asking the ratepayers to vote regarding such a bylaw. They should have the conditions of such a scheme known so that the electors might be able to vote thereon intelligently. He felt that the matter should be referred back to the Committee to be brought before the Council on Dec. 15th. The council would then be in a better position to deal with the matter.

Ald. Batten contended that there was a combine among the wholesale coal men, which made it difficult if not impossible to obtain coal unless through the retail dealers.

Ald. McGregor spoke of Ald. Batten's change of belief in regard to unions. He also doubted Ald. Batten's statement in regard to the impossibility of obtaining fuel.

Ald. Batten replied, and the discussion became personal, but the speakers were called to order by the Mayor.

Ald. McGregor continued to defend the report, and stated that the simplest manner of determining the issue re municipal fuel yards, was to submit it to the people.

Ald. Best then asked if Ald. McGregor was prepared to submit data as to cost, etc., and stated that he thought that a prospectus as to the means of establishing and maintaining a yard should be published.

Ald. Rush said he thought that a number of the ratepayers were asking for the yard but that the electors should be informed as to the cost, etc., in order that an intelligent vote might be cast.

Ald. McGregor then stated that the matter might be left till the coming campaign, and fought out before the people. He also expressed his belief that the coming election would be a warm one.

Ald. Best showed the difficulty of obtaining from the Legislature permission to establish a municipal fuel yard in opposition to the local dealers.

Ald. McGregor again reiterated his belief that the people should be asked to express their opinion on the subject.

Ald. Morrison moved that the matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole Council, with Ald. McGregor as chairman.

Ald. McGregor withdrew his motion, and Ald. Morrison's carried.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Ald. Roger then submitted the report of the Finance Committee, which was as follows:

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen, — Your Finance Committee beg leave to report as follows—

1. Your committee, acting on the advice of the Town Solicitor, cannot recommend that that part of the County of Peterborough's account for work done on the crib work and sidewalk near the Ashburnham end of the Ashburnham bridge be paid, the total amount for this work being $380, of which $184.50 was charged to the town; and we recommend that the remainder of the County's accounts be paid, namely, for the Locks bridge, $326.18, for the Pigeon Creek bridge, $516.41, and for the Ashburnham bridge, $47.48, a total of $892.07.

2. We recommend that the county be requested to render to the town any accounts it has against the town every six months.

3. We recommend that no action be taken on the matter of publishing the assessment roll until the statutory meeting on December 15th, when the financial statement will be presented, showing the financial position of the town.

4. We recommend that the following accounts standing in the books of the town be written off, the late R. S. Davidson, $4.36; Jos. Mills, $4.86; and A. P. Poussette, $7.77.

5. We recommend that the following accounts be paid:

G. M. ROGER,
Chairman.

Ald. McGregor moved in amendment that the third clause be altered and that the assessment roll be published at once.

Ald. Best stated that any citizen had the liberty of examining the roll and that the cost of printing it would be $500, and this in the face of an increased taxation. The published report for this year would be worthless and it would have to be re-published.

Ald. McGregor was of the opinion that the ratepayers were anxious to see this this innovation carried out.

Ald. Best asked why this was necessary, and Ald. McGregor replied for the purpose of gaining information.

Ald. Best—That can be obtained, any day.

Ald. McGregor — Every person has not the time to examine the roll.

Ald. McGregor's amendment was lost and the report was adopted.

BOARD OF WORKS.

The Board of Works, through its chairman, Ald. Best, reported as follows:

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen, — Your Board of Works beg leave to report as follows—

1. Your Board appointed S. Belcher inspector of the construction of the sewer on Dalhousie street at a salary of $3 per day, to be paid on the certificate of the town engineer, and recommend that this be confirmed.

2. We recommend that the application of the Bell Telephone Co. for permission to open Lock street south from Ware street to place five poles, be granted, the poles to be placed subject to the approval of the town engineer.

3. We recommend that a payment of $66.25 to S. Kennedy for gravel as certified by the town engineer be confirmed, and that other gravel procured for covering the street railway track, etc., be paid for on the certificate of the town engineer.

4. We recommend that the Otonabee Power Company be charged for their poles on the streets from the time that the engineer has reported that the line was completed, namely September 30th, 1902.

5. We recommend that the cost of drawing gravel to fill in under the sidewalk on London street, amounting to $14.25, be paid on the certificate of the town engineer.

6. Your Board authorized a sidewalk to be raised and repaired at the corner of Park and Parnell streets, and a crossing to be placed opposite 906 Water street.

7. That a request of the Otonabee Power Company, asking permission to cross Charlotte street on the west side of the street, and Simcoe street at the Lock Works, and also to place a pole line on Hunter street from Bethune street to the factory of the Colonial Typewriter Co., be granted on the usual terms, including the placing of the poles subject to the approval of the town engineer, and subject to the safeguards that the town solicitor and the town engineer think advisable to protect the town.

8. Your Board advertised for tenders for snow ploughing and received the following—

Southern District — Wm. Breckenridge, $79.

Western District — J. H. Cameron, $190; and Geo. McClellan, $110.

Northern District—Zimri Blodgett.

We recommend that the contract be awarded to the lowest tenderer in each case, subject to compliance with the regulations.

9 We recommend that an account from Thos. Wilson, amounting to $12.25 for gravel drawn on London street, be paid.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY BEST,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Arthur Stevenson, of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, addressed the council as did Mr. W. H. Meldrum, of the Otonabee Power Company. These gentlemen intimated to the council that it was possible that some arrangement might be arrived at between the various companies owning poles in town whereby the lines might be carried without confusion of wires and without requiring so many poles.

Ald. Morrison thought that some means should be taken to induce the different companies to amalgamate in the pole question and thus reduce the number of poles now up. He understood that the Auburn Light and Power Company was willing to compromise in the matter.

COURT OF REVISION.

The report of the Court of Revision was submitted as follows, by its chairman, Ald. Shortly:

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Your Court of Revision beg leave to report as follows:

1. In regard to the application of the Y.W.C.A. for the remission of taxes for 1903 on No. 143 Brock Street and No. 411 George street, we recommend that the taxes be remitted with the exception of the school tax.

2. With respect to the application of Messrs. Stratten & Hall for reduction of the taxes for 1902 of the Peterborough Underwear Company, we have no power to deal with this matter as the Underwear Company has not complied with the terms of the bylaw granting them exemption.

All of which is respectfully submitted

B. SHORTLY,
Chairman.

A bylaw was then submitted by Ald. McGregor providing for exemption of taxation for Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons' new building.

Ald. Best thought that Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons should put up the cost of submitting the bylaw, which the Clerk, upon being asked stated would be about $50.00.

Ald. Turner contended that they had spent considerable money already and did not feel disposed to spend more money in paying for the bylaw being submitted.

Ald. Best contended that other companies seeking exemptions were willing to pay the expense of submitting the necessary bylaw.

Ald. Roger merely asked leave to record his vote against the granting of the proposed assessment, but he did not wish to repeat his objections. He would like to see Ald. Turner withdraw his bylaw for the present.

Ald. Turner refused to withdraw his bylaw.

Ald. Rush moved that if the bylaw carried that the council should pay the expense in submitting the same; if it was not carried the applicants should bear the expense.

This motion was ruled out of order. The by-law finally passed its various readings.

Ald. Best introduced his bylaw, of which he gave notice some time ago, providing for the raising of $20,000 for the purpose of building a new bridge on Brock strust, and for permanent improvements. Ald. Best's idea is to spend $10,000 of this money in laying down substantial and permanent road beds. The bylaw received its several readings, and upon motion of Ald. Best the bylaw will be published.

LICENSE COMMITTEE.

The License Committee reported as follows:

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen, — Your License Committee beg leave to report that they have considered the bylaw respecting the riding of bicycles on the streets of the town, and it will be submitted to you, as amended by this committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. J. TURNER,
Chairman.

Ald. Turner brought in his bylaw providing for the regulation of speed at which bicyclists may ride their wheels, viz., not at a greater speed than 8 miles an hour. The bylaw comes into effect on January 1, 1903, and the penalty for a breach of the bylaw is not less than $50. The by-law was duly passed.

A bylaw was submitted to correct an error in the Water Works debentures. It also passed its several readings.

A lecture on Socialism will be delivered in the Knights of Maccabees' Hall, on Saturday, December 13th, and Ald. McGregor extended an invitation to the members of the council to attend.

The council then adjourned.

A PRETTY WORKBAG.

One With Mimosa as Its Decorative and Color Scheme.

Mimosa with its feathery leaves and downlike blossoms has been little used in embroidery, its effectiveness being hardly known, but it is a very easy flower to work, as the blooms can be composed entirely of French knots of shaded yellow silk and the leaves worked in the easy spike stitch, which consists of merely a long cross stitch emanating from the middle stem. (See illustration.)

I am now going to show you how to make a workbag decorated with embroidered mimosa and having mimosa tints as its color scheme.

lighter than the gray green mimosa leaves) on to which mimosa sprays have been transferred and embroidered. The inside is lined with pale yellow, and two gussets of yellow satin must be cut, which, when sewed in the sides, allow the bag to lie quite flat when empty. The outside edges of the two pieces of covered cardboard are sewed to the outside edges of the two satin gussets. The top is edged with a piece of pale yellow silk ball trimming, and the handles can be either satin ribbon, finished off with dainty side bows, or yellow silk cord.

Women In Journalism.

Not a few of the women who have gained notable success in the newspaper field within the past decade have graduated into higher literature, such as play writing and story writing, and have thus achieved additional reputation. Others have sunk the undoubted promise of their future into the more pleasant paths of domestic life.

The question of the suitability of the journalistic field for women is one which may be looked at from many vantage points. Where there are so many who have made successes in this line, who shall say that it is not a desirable line? The same rule applies to this as to every other walk of life requiring good health and nerves, grit, perseverance and steady, earnest industry. It is generally acknowledged that the work of journalism is a difficult one even for a man. A woman oversensitive and not of good constitution, and, above all, without plenty of pluck, might better choose some other arena for her battle with life than a newspaper office.—Kate Masterson in Era Magazine.

A Cobweb Party.

Invitations are sent on paper on which a cobweb has been drawn, with a spider in some part of it. Cobwebs and spiders are easily drawn and need not be very accurate. The invitation should be worded thus: "Will you walk into my parlor?" at such a time, naming day and hour. For the cobwebs have macrame cord fastened about different parts of the furniture—chairs, piano legs, tables, pictures, etc. Have sticks or pieces of pasteboard about three inches long attached to each end of the several strings that may be wound up as they are taken from their several places. As the guests proceed to unravel the web each gentleman will have to escort or entertain the lady whose string terminates at the same place as his own. The fun is caused by the unraveling of the strings. The lady and gentleman who are fortunate enough to get their string unraveled first get a prize. There may be a second prize; also a consolation prize.

Sleep—the Beautifier.

The subject of sleep is one in which every woman is interested. Sleep is not only necessary and a great physical comforter and restorer, but it is a beautifier.

It is pretty little Miss Butterfly who says, "If I sleep an hour, then I shall be pretty again." The Japanese women understand the arts of beauty. They know how to brighten the hair and make it shine. They understand the trick of gesture and the using of the voice. And, more, they know the value of sleep.

Sleep in the right amount clears the skin, brightens the eyes and gives expression to the face. It takes away that haggard look, fills out the hollows around the eyes, fills out the cheeks, removes those lines about the mouth, smooths out the forehead and makes a new woman of you.

For Ironing Days.

Try making your iron holder this way if you do not want your hand to get dry and heated on ironing day: Cut from the upper part of an old boot a piece of leather the size you wish the holder to be. Cut a piece of brown paper and two pieces of flannel or cloth the same size; then cover the holder in the ordinary way, except that on the top two thicknesses of material should be put instead of one. Sew all round the edge; then slit the top upper covering across the center and bind the edge of the slit. This forms a pocket on each side, into which one's thumb and fingers are slipped.

Not Niggardly.

"You asked her father for her hand?"

"Yes."

"And he refused you?"

"No, he didn't. He said I could have both of 'em."

It is easy to discourage a man who realizes that he gets all the trouble in sight.—Chicago News.

BESTED THE PARSON.

A Case Where the Wedding Ring Went on the Right Hand.

A clerical correspondent of the London Express tells of a wedding ceremony in which he officiated and in his zeal for rubrical observances laid himself open to a comical and crushing retort.

"I was then curate of a small country parish in Somersetshire, and one day a couple presented themselves after due preliminaries for marriage in the village church.

"All went well until the moment came when it is directed by the rubric that the man shall place the ring upon the fourth finger of the woman's left hand, but then trouble began. The yokel, apparently from nervousness or ignorance, laid hold of the right hand of his expectant bride and placed the ring there resolutely.

"'No,' I said, with quiet firmness, 'you must put the ring on her left hand.' To this his only reply was a stolid stare. Thinking he had not understood me, I repeated my words, but with no better effect.

"With as much warmth and insistence as was justified by the occasion I now took firmer ground and said, 'If you do not put the ring on her left hand, I must stop the service.'

"And then the climax came. With a complacent smile, that seemed to show his satisfaction at having for the moment 'bested' the parson, the bridegroom settled the point for all time with the words, 'Please, sir, she ain't got none!'"

MAKES LIFE EASY.

H. Hutchison, of Chatham, Tells how Dyspepsia Vanishes Before That Sure Cure, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets

Nearly everyone knows what Dyspepsia is. Few have escaped its aches and pains; its headaches and discomforts. Those who have are fortunate indeed; those who have not want to know how it can be cured and Mr. H. Hutchison, of Chatham, tells them in the following letter:

"I had suffered for a long period from Dyspepsia," writes Mr. Hutchison, "until a short time ago a friend brought me a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and from the very first I got relief.

"I keep them by me and any time I feel that my food is likely to disagree with me I just take one or two Tablets and feel no more effects of Indigestion.

"All I can say is that a man is a fool who will suffer from Dyspepsia when he can be so easily cured by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have yet to meet the case of Dyspepsia they cannot vanquish.

To Freshen the House.

A few drops of oil of lavender in a silver bowl or ornamental dish of some kind, half filled with very hot water and set in the dining room just before dinner is served, gives a delightful and intangible freshness to the atmosphere of the apartment. Hostesses often put a small vessel in the parlor and dressing rooms when arranging the house for a festivity. The suggestion is especially valuable to the hostess in a small apartment, which sometimes in the bustle of preparation becomes stuffy.—Modes and Fabrics.

A Pretty Screen.

About Drainage

You know the deadly consequences if a house is badly drained. Only a madman or a criminal would himself incur the risk, or subject others to it, for one unnecessary minute.

But do you realize the danger of a badly drained body? Are you aware that it poisons the blood, the very fountain of life?

MRS. HALL CAINE.

Pretty Woman Who Is With Her Distinguished Husband in New York.

Mrs. Hall Caine, wife of the distinguished author and dramatist, who is now in New York superintending the dramatization of "The Eternal City," is very pretty. She is a little woman, with brown hair and pink cheeks, looking not at all like the mother of the fine eighteen-year-old lad who is her eldest son and is now with her. Ralph his name is.

Mrs. Caine usually dresses all in white in the house and on the street. Her manner is simple and most attractive.

Indorsed the King's Conduct.

Readers of The Sketch will recollect that on the occasion of the recent visit of the King and Queen to the Isle of Man an illustration of the royal party, including Hall Caine, who acted as cicerone, was published. In that photograph there is a picture of a small boy wearing his hat. He is Derwent, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Caine, and is ten years old. Only he and the Marquis de Soveral, the Portuguese ambassador, remained covered in the presence of the King, the marquis because he does fealty to another sovereign and Master Derwent for a reason of his own, which came out when the photograph had been printed and he was looking at it with his mother. "Derwent," said she, "why didn't you take your hat off? Didn't you see that all the gentlemen did so?" "Yes, mother," he replied, "but I kept my eye on the King because I knew whatever he did would be all right, so when he kept his hat on it would be right enough for me."—London Sketch.

"I KEPT MY EYES ON THE KING."

Snuff and a Crook.

Robert Pinkerton once told a story of his father, the founder of the detective agency, which illustrates the elder Pinkerton's caution. A noted criminal was detained in Pinkerton's Chicago office. The elder Pinkerton left the room and when he returned took the precaution of holding a revolver in front of him ready for use.

He saw the criminal standing by the door with a snuffbox he had picked up from Pinkerton's desk in his hand.

"This is good snuff," affably remarked the crook as he took a sniff.

"For the eyes or the nose?" asked Pinkerton, who knew that the crook had intended to blind him in an effort to escape.

"Well," remarked the criminal, "I'm sorry to say that the nose gets it this time."

Would Not Keep Him Back.

Saddler Sime was a droll character and yet of a type by no means scarce in the rural districts of the north of Scotland, says the Dundee Journal. One morning when a neighbor entered his shop he was greeted with the following:

"Man, Jeemie, I had an awfu' dream last nicht. I thocht I saw my wife fleein' awa' up to heaven wi' a great big pair of weengs."

"Aye, man, an' did ye no try to pu' her back?"

"Na, na; I juist clappit my hands an' cried, 'Shoo! Shoo!' I was feart she wad never hae anither chance of gettin' ane near us."

He Saw How It Fell.

An Irishman who was visiting America for the first time was lost in admiration of the Niagara falls when a friend accosted him:

"Well, Pat, and what do you think of this? Isn't it a grand sight? There's nothing in the old country to come up to it. See how it falls!"

"Faith, I see how it falls," said Pat; "but, shure, there's nothin' to hinder it!"

The Cause of Vice.

Vice is due chiefly to inattention; not ignorance, but thoughtlessness. "I see the better and approve, yet I pursue the worse." In this case knowledge is not absent, but defective. It is on the margin instead of in the focus of consciousness. In the language of physiological psychology a present appetite presents its claims on great billows of nerve commotion which come rolling in with all the tang and pungency which is the characteristic mark of immediate peripheral excitation. The future consequences of the gratification of that appetite, on the contrary, are represented by the tiny, faint, feeble waves which flow over from some other brain center, excited long ago, when the connection of this particular cause with its natural effect was first experienced. In such an unequal contest between powerful vibrations shot swift and straight along the tingling nerves from the seat of immediate peripheral commotion and the meager, measured flow of faded impressions whose initial velocity and force were long since spent what wonder that the remote effect seems dim, vague and unreal, and that the immediate gratification of the insistent, clamorous appetite or passion wins the day!—William De Witt Hyde in Atlantic.

The Woman and the Rose.

A traveler stopped at a little cabin in the Georgia woods. He wore a white rose on his coat, one that a little girl had plucked and pinned there as he was leaving home.

A woman entered the cabin. She stood and gazed at the rose a moment. Then, darting forward, she tore it from the stranger's coat and stamped it on the rude floor.

"Why did you do that?" asked the stranger, leaping to his feet.

"Hush!" said a man who was sitting near. "That's my wife, an'—an'—she ain't right here," tapping his forehead. "We had a little girl once with blue eyes an' hair like a sunset. She wandered off among the roses one day, lost, lost, an' when we found her she was where the roses grow, an' they was creepin' over her, an' the wife there went mad, an' now she says the roses stole the child an' hid her away from us forever, an' she goes about an' tramples them, just like she did the rose there on the floor."

Suitability In Dress.

Suitability in dress is a great test of breeding. Any one can buy a costly gown and huddle it on in season and out of season. It is a great art to learn how to put on a dress well and how to look well in it, and many a woman who spends little has the reputation of good dressing simply because she knows how to put on and wear her clothes well. Many books have been written on this subject, but it is the natty, tidy, painstaking woman who always comes out triumphant, and if she has a carriage she can dress in much smarter clothes than her sisters who are not so fortunate.

Worry Over Little Things.

Feelings of Languor and Despondency the First Symptoms of Nervous Exhaustion—Reconstruct the Wasted Nerve Tissues by Using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When you become restless and peevish, worry over little things, and are afflicted with dyspepsia, which cannot be attributed to error in diet, you may be sure that the trouble arises from nervous disorders.

Other symptoms are sleeplessness, headache, low spirits, and a tendency to put off the duties of the day. Life seems to lose its brightness, and things go wrong. When in such a condition you will find yourself very susceptible to change of air. When the atmosphere is fresh and clear you have plenty of vitality, but with heavy weather you drag yourself about feeling more dead than alive.

The first necessity is rest from work and worry, and as much fresh air as possible. Then the system must be built up and the wasted nerve force restored by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

So much mystery and uncertainty has formerly surrounded diseases of the nerves that people often make the dreadful mistake of neglecting them. They feel weak, miserable, and nervous, but try to console themselves that it will wear away. Not so. Nervous diseases do not get well of themselves, but gradually weaken the system until there is nothing left to build on.

Mrs. S. Deroshor, 495 Bethune street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled a great deal with nervousness and sleeplessness and began a treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can say for a certainty that it is a splendid medicine for besides steadying my nerves it built up my system wonderfully and enabled me to rest and sleep well. We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment in our family for years and consider them excellent. For skin diseases I think the Ointment cannot be equalled and the pills are a most satisfactory laxative."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food may not cure you in a week or even a month, but it is bound to benefit you, and will naturally and certainly restore vigour to body and nerves. There is no treatment so thorough and effective in curing nervous disorders and none which has been so generously endorsed by physicians and laymen alike. The secret of its remarkable power lies in the fact that it is a food for the nerves, and acts in accordance with nature's laws. 50 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS

PLAYING BARBER SHOP.

Queer Hairdressing by Bennie and His Little Playmates.

One rainy day there was a busy time in the nursery, where our six little men and women were trying to wait patiently for the sunshine to come again.

"Let's have a barber's shop," said Bennie. "I'll be the barber, and I can do all our hairs up nice, 'cos they're all short, you see."

"I'd like to be barber, too," objected Neddy.

"We'll both be," smiled Bennie, "and nobody else'll want to, 'cos girls never be."

May and Jane and Nettie and Kate looked rather doubtful about this, but were soon merrily at play.

Bennie, as head barber, prepared his bottles of hair dressing, while Neddy ran to get some towels of mamma. Then May and Jane took their seats, with towels pinned around their necks, and submitted to the shampooing without a murmur.

Nettie and Kate took their seats when the others left them, and in a few moments four heads were as soft and smooth as if they had been dipped in lard.

"Now, you do me, and I'll do you," said Bennie, and two more heads were added to the list.

"That's queer hair stuff," muttered May suspiciously a few minutes later, brushing at her stiff, dry locks.

"I should say so," chimed Nettie.

"And I." "And I," added Jane and Kate.

"What was it, anyhow?" asked Neddy.

"I—don't—'zactly know," Bennie admitted slowly, as he examined a bottle on the mantel. "I'm—afraid—it's mamma's—sticking stuff."

It was a bottle of mucilage, and the head scrubbing that followed when Bennie's mamma was called and told what had happened took all the fun out of playing barber shop that day

Little Grandmamma.

Now, I am just like grandmamma,
I've got on nursie's shawl,
And grandmamma's old spectacles,
But they're not nice at all.

For through them all the things about
Seem in a fog to me;
It is so funny grandmamma
Without them cannot see.

LITTLE GRANDMAMMA.

But I quite like dear granny's cap,
With its enormous frill.
Now, shall I take her knitting too?
I think so. Yes, I will!

I'm just a little bit afraid;
I know what granny 'll say,
'You little naughty darling puss,
I'll punish you—some day!"
—Astley H. Baldwin in Exchange.

The Emperor's Little Friend.

A little Austrian boy recently met with a piece of luck. He lives in a street in Budapest, and whenever the Emperor Francis Joseph drove past on his way to the station the lad always greeted his majesty by vigorously waving his hat.

The emperor noticed the child, and whenever he was in the Hungarian capital looked out for his young friend.

This continued for quite six years, until one day not long ago the emperor noticed that the boy was missing from his usual post. An hour later a messenger from the emperor called at the house and inquired what had become of him.

On learning that the lad, who was now twelve years of age, had been sent to school, the emperor promised to pay for his education and afterward make an officer of him if he were physically fit.

The Parrot's Porridge.

How many parrots have oatmeal porridge for breakfast? There was one that had this dish every morning, of which it became extremely fond. Once, from an oversight, no meal had been brought when the supply was done, and that morning Poll's breakfast consisted of soaked bread. The bird looked at it very suspiciously for awhile, then tasted it very cautiously, then sat for a few moments as if thinking the matter over. By and by it set to work with great vigor throwing the bread out of the dish and saying as it spluttered out each mouthful: "Nasty mess! Nasty mess!"

Anecdote of an Ostrich.

A few years ago an old gentleman took his watch out to look at it while his family were watching some ostriches in the pen near at hand. The watch was not attached to any chain, and in a second an old hen which saw the shining timepiece shot her beak over the railing and gulped it down her throat. You never saw a more astonished man in all your life as he looked up. Fortunately, the watch was a cheap one.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

RUN DOWN.

When a phrase is coined out of world wide human experience it is apt to be brief and expressive. We are "run-down" we say in the endeavor to describe a relaxed physical condition, and all the terminology of medicine could not more expressively describe the actual condition than that every day phrase. It suggests the clock, perfect mechanically, but failing to record the passage of time because it is run-down.

People who have that tired out, run-down feeling will find new life in the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great medicine is far more than a tonic. It cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food of which alone all physical strength is made.

"The reason I delayed writing was because I wanted to wait one year after I had taken the medicine before giving my statement, and now I can send a good, conscientious testimonial," writes Mr. Chas. H. Sergeant, of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio. "During the summer and fall of 1898 I became all 'run-down,' nerves were out of order and stomach out of order. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and, thanks to you for your advice, I used six bottles; and since I stopped taking it about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good, I can eat three square meals a day, and I do not feel that miserable burning in the stomach after eating. My blood and nerves are in good shape, and, well—in fact, I think I am in pretty good running order."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels active and healthy.

DR WOODS NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Heals and Soothes the Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. Cures COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc., quicker than any remedy known. If you have that irritating Cough that keeps you awake at night, a dose of the Syrup will stop it at once.

USED FOR EIGHT YEARS.

I have used DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP for every cold I have had for the past eight years, with wonderful success. I never see a friend with a cough or cold but that I recommend it.—M. M. Ellsworth, Jacksonville, N.B.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

For cramps from chill apply a mustard poultice over seat of pain.

Severe pains in the bowels are often relieved by the application of a bag of hot salt.

A lump of sugar saturated with lemon juice and eaten slowly will cure hiccough.

A fever patient can be made cool and comfortable by being frequently sponged with water in which a little soda has been dissolved.

Neuralgia of the feet and limbs can be cured by bathing night and morning with salt and water as hot as can be borne. When taken out, rub the feet briskly with a coarse towel.

Soak a pair of white stockings in cold water, draw on the feet wet, then cover with thick woolen stockings. Sleep will be induced in this way when all other efforts fail. This remedy is greatly resorted to abroad.

The best way to remove a splinter from the hand after long standing is to take the skin off the inside of an eggshell and place over the part where the splinter lies for twenty minutes, then it may be removed without pain.

A Cosy Chimney Corner.

A charmingly designed chimney corner has a flight of gray black swallows above the mantel, the tiny faraway ones reaching in a graceful curve several yards to the left almost as high as the ceiling. These are painted in water colors, cut out separately and arranged on the wall, which is a warm pinkish terra cotta in color. On the rough stones immediately above the fireplace is engraved the legend in which Oliver Wendell Holmes delighted, to the effect that there is no earthly happiness like "four feet on a fender." Little "three cornered" cupboards at either side increase the apparent width of the chimney place, and below these there are low burlap covered seats fitted in. A pot of English ivy fills one end of the mantel (which is not draped). The longer growths of this are trained up on the wall and the shorter sprays fall over the mantel. In the low window seat at the opposite side a great fern reaches its yard-long fronds to the floor, and a gray green rag carpet rug is laid before the little brass knobbed fender, and one slender long stemmed vase of iridescent glass near the center of the mantel completes the furnishing of the corner.

He Knew Her.

She—Reggie, dear, there is something of the old time love light in your eyes tonight—something about you that reminds me of those sweet days of long ago. I hope you have—

He—Yes, I have a little left. How much do you want this time?

Would Surely Raise Revenue.

In the old days they spoke of a licensed fool. If all the fools were required to have a license now, the government could do away with its other taxes and still maintain the surplus. There's a "single tax" for you.

USE OF FALSE TEETH.

Two Millions Manufactured Annually in the United States.

Probably not less than 2,000,000 artificial teeth are manufactured in this country each year, and still the output goes on increasing. Never before was such great care manifested for teeth as has been exhibited during the past five years. In this respect Americans lead the world, not even the fastidious French excelling the people of the United States in their solicitude for the preservation of natural teeth and in their application of the arts of dental science when substitutes have to be provided for nature's molars.

Englishmen are notoriously careless about their teeth, although in late years great progress has been made in this matter.

A prominent dentist of New York declares that nearly every patient with a mouthful of decayed teeth is a foreigner. "They let things drift," he says, "and come only when pain drives them here. Americans, and especially southerners, hasten to their dentist immediately they detect even the slightest signs of coming trouble, and the result is that there are by far more 'saved' teeth in this country than in any other. Englishmen and Irishmen are remarkably apathetic about their molars and will go about for years with hopelessly decayed teeth."

Gluck In a Frenzy.

When Gluck, composed his immortal works, a bottle of champagne was always placed on either side of the piano, and its effervescence helped to inspire the great arias of "Iphigenia," "Armida" and "Alceste." When the final rehearsals were held of the "Iphigenia," Gluck had not yet written the melody to the "Dance of the Scythians." Naverre, the ballet master, becoming uneasy over the delay, went to him one morning to urge him to hurry it up. As he entered the composer's anteroom he heard unusual and terrific noises emanating from Gluck's library. He approached stealthily and through a crack in the door saw Gluck in shirt sleeves, his face as red as fire and distorted by horrible grimaces, singing, gesticulating and jumping about like a madman. Naverre, frightened by the extraordinary spectacle, pushed the door open. "Ah, there you are," exclaimed Gluck. "I am just finishing your dance and will let you have it right away." It was then that Gluck had composed that grand orgy of the savages which created such a profound sensation on the stage.

Blind Men as Shampooers.

"I do pity these blind men so," said a stranger in the city who had been approached by so many "blind" men in walking down the avenue that he wondered how these beggars picked him out so readily.

"And yet," said his host, "there are many lines of work which they could do instead of begging. For example, most of the shampooers in Japan are blind men. Some are so well to do that they own their own houses, and their patrons go to them for treatment. Others who have not succeeded so well go from house to house, and the rest of the people from sympathy guide them from place to place. Some of them walk alone, blowing on bamboo whistles. There was a time when some of them were doctors as well as shampooers."

Mortar Tossers.

There is no hod carrying in Japan. The native builders have a method of transferring mortar which makes it seem more like play than work to the onlooker. The mortar is mixed up in a pile in the street. One man makes this up into balls of about six pounds weight, which he tosses to a man who stands on a ladder midway between the roof and the ball. This man deftly catches the ball and tosses it up to a man who stands on the roof. This plan would scarcely work for skyscrapers.

What Botanists Do Not Know.

How water, commonly called sap, necessary to the life of a tree, passes from the roots to the topmost leaf and evaporates is a problem not yet solved by botanists. It is known that the ascent is made chiefly in cavities in the sapwood only, the heart and bark serving other purposes. That is the extent of our knowledge of the matter. Beyond is mere conjecture, and every theory yet advanced has failed to stand the test of experiment.

Artistic Sphere of Women.

The artistic sphere of woman has widened of late to include so many departments that there is almost an embarrassment of riches from which to make a choice. One of the latest is the designing of artistic jewelry, a craft to which a woman's light and dainty manipulation is peculiarly adapted. In England, particularly, women have been meeting with much success in this line, and there is no reason why it should not be widely taken up, for the present renaissance in the jewelers' art has doubtless come to stay. It recognizes the art of the metal worker as an important factor, and quite independent of costly stones. It considers beauty of form and color rather than display of expensive material. In all this the art and taste of woman are making themselves felt.

A Quality of the Popular Girl.

A girl may not be at all musical or well read or clever in any way, but she may become popular simply by being trustworthy, by listening sympathetically to people's confidences and keeping them sacredly locked in her own keeping. Most people, especially young men, like to have some sympathizing friend they can come to when they feel discouraged or elated to unburden their trials or their plans. All the girl has to do is to listen, perhaps to say some words of help or encouragement, but above all she must never repeat what has been told. A girl may be plain in feature and ungifted with talent, but if she becomes known as perfectly trustworthy and discreet she will generally be preferred to her more entertaining, pretty, but less reliable sister.—American Queen.

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone eradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. The Cast Was Made.

"Do you cast things here?" inquired a smart youth the other day as he sauntered into a foundry and addressed the proprietor.

"Yes, we do."

"You cast all kinds of things in iron, eh?"

"Certainly. Don't you see that is our business?"

"Ah, well, cast a shadow, will you?"

He was cast out.

Intellectual.

"Just fahncy, Weginald, I've forgotten ma cahrd case."

"Nevah mind, deah boy, I'll lend you some of mine."

"But—ah—the name would be different, you know."

"Bah Jove, so it would! What a head you have, Algy!"

Discontent.

Most men spend one-third of their lives trying to make the world different, another third in learning to live in it as it is and the remainder in explaining how much better it used to be.

The last few hours before a funeral the clock in the house strikes with a tone never noticed before and never apparent again, except on similar occasions.

DRS. KENNEDY & KERGAN

The Leading Specialists of America. 25 Years in Detroit. Bank Security.

Nine out of every ten men have been guilty of transgression against nature in their youth. Nature never excuses, no matter how young, thoughtless or ignorant he may be. The punishment and suffering corresponds with the crime. The only cause from its ruinous results is proper eclectic treatment to counteract its effects. The DRAINS, either by slightly losses, or secretly through the urine, must be stopped—the NERVES must be built up and invigorated, the blood must be purified, the SEXUAL ORGANS must be vitalized and developed, the BRAIN must be nourished. Our New Method Treatment provides all these requirements. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. We invite all the afflicted to call and consult us confidentially and free of charge. Cures Guaranteed or no Pay. We treat and cure: Varicocele, Blood Diseases, Stricture, Gleet, Emissions, Urinary Drains, Spermatorrhoea, Unnatural Discharges, Kidney and Bladder Diseases.

The market closed weak.

New York, Dec. 4th. — Americans are steady but very dull; home market is quiet. Cotton futures 1-2 to 1 advance from yesterday. We look for steady cotton.

M. & M.

Grain, wheat and corn opened unchanged, Liverpool.

M. & M.

Congress declines to remove duty on anthracite coal. Northwest people say no deal on with G.G.W. Bull tip general on B.R.T., but rumours of relations with Interborough absolutely untrue. The chances of reciprocity with Cuba considered in Washington not so good. R.I. October figures show 12.6 per cent earned on new common stock; 53 roads 3rd week in November gross income 11.02 per cent. St. Paul directors formally deny sale of new stock in open market. Stocks plentiful in loan crowd. H. V. earnings 4th week in November, income 5200.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Grain. — Price current says: "It was a favourable week for wheat; about the only drawback is fly in early sown, and that is not serious. A little improvement in corn; it needs cold dry weather. Cattle supply fairly liberal; hogs scarce; feed plentiful but of low average quality. Fine late pasture a great saving. Packing houses, 435,000, against 710,000 last year. Total Nov. 1 to date, 2,485,000.—Price Current, Dec. 4.

Midn. 443, decline 6 points; sales 11,000 cotton. Receipts 23,000. All American —Futures opened steady unchanged to 1 up and 12.39 unchanged from opening.

New York, Dec. 4.—Sub-treasury still shows banks lost since Friday approximately $6,000,000 cash, about $4,000,000 customs payments and revenue collections and $1,000,000 to Argentine, and balance to Transfers to San Francisco and South and West. Money market at present biggest factor, and while we may get occassionally a rally until above conditions improve, we expect nothing better than a trader's market with a lower tendency to prices.

M. & M.

Market dull but steady, looks as though there might be a rally.

M. & M.

Grain—1.30 p.m.—Wheat unchanged to 1-8 lower; corn 1-8 to 3-8 higher. Car lots, wheat 55, corn 149, oats 144.

M. & M.

The pit feature yesterday was narrowing of May-December difference to 2 1-2 cents against 3 1-2 cents on Tuesday. We feel friendly to wheat, but see no signs of a big bull market. Favour purchases around 75 cents for moderate turns.

DENISON.

Wheat opens strong on comparatively firm cables and small receipts. No evidence that Armour is trading, fair offerings of May, but market taking it well.

DENISON.

New York, Dec. 3rd, 2.30 p.m.—As was to have been expected, with attention once more directed to the unfavourable position of the money market, the general sentiment underwent a change today, and the depression in prices throughout the list mostly reflected the disposition of traders and commission houses to even up speculative accounts, and hold aloft from the market, until the threatened crisis in money had passed. The syndicate which has been operating in foreign exchange has had all it could do to prevent the withdrawal of gold or export to Europe in settlement of our obligations at Paris and Berlin, and with the movement by the Banks and Trust Companies to anticipate the yearly settlement and enormous requirement on January the first for interest, and dividend accounts now well under way, and the return of money sent West and South for crop and commercial purposes still delayed, there is not enough floating supply of funds at the moment, to carry on any active bull speculations in stocks. The best we can expect from this situation and outlook is a dull and narrow trader's market.

VETERANS' LAND GRANTS.

Much has been heard within the last few years about the proposed land grants for veterans of 1866, while so great has been the delay that many veterans had begun to doubt if the land would ever be granted to them. All doubts, however, are now set at rest, for the certificates entitling the veterans to their land grants were issued on Friday last, and were 6,000 in number. According to the letter of the Commissioner, Hon. E. J. Davis, two locations can now be made in the square mile, where one of the applicants makes an affidavit that he will become a bona fide settler. The area from which these selections can be made will be larger than the first list of townships which accompanied the letter, as by an Order-in-council all unlocated lands are now open for settlement anywhere in the province. The time specified by the act in which the applications can be made expires on the 31st of this month. It is, therefore, most important that the veterans who have not yet filed their claims should do so before the end of the present month, otherwise they will be debarred from doing so now or at any future time. The Veterans' Locating Association, of Toronto, of which Major Robertson, of the 48th Highlanders, is secretary, have already despatched no less than 150 certificates, and these will be filed in the County Lands office in Peterborough to-day.

It seems [illegible] the lapse of thirty six years there should be such an enormous number of men surviving who were out in the worrying Fenian raid of 1866.

REFERENDUM RESULT

Still Unknown, But It Is Not Likely to Carry This Time.

PROHIBITION MAJORITY 50,000

By the Returns Already In, Though They Are Incomplete, the Enforcement of the Liquor Act of 1902 Has Not Been Sustained at the Polls—Cities Generally Voted For Prohibition—The Returns.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—Yesterday the people of the Province of Ontario voted on the question, Are you in favor of bringing into force the Liquor Act of 1902? The returns received up to 3 o'clock this morning were very incomplete owing to the bad state of the roads in the country districts. But sufficient figures were at hand to show that the vote is not large enough to bring the Liquor Act into force. Those favoring the act had to poll 212,723 votes.

For the Act	105,193
Against the Act	65,669
Majority	39,024

Total vote, 170,862.

But fifteen constituencies are not included in these figures. They have not reported or reported only majorities. In fact only a few constituencies have sent in completed returns. It was impossible last night to get full returns.

For the Act	104,033
Against the Act	60,469
Majority	40,564

Total vote, 161,502.

Hence from the G.N.W. figures it is shown that the friends of the Liquor Act have fallen short of its enforcement by 107,530, having brought to the polls fewer than half the requisite number of voters.

This vote does not compare well with the vote polled in the first plebiscite in Ontario in 1894. The vote then was 192,889 for the plebiscite, and 110,720 against it. The foes of prohibition are also shown by this to have lost heart, for they fell by the wayside to the number of 45,051. Perhaps they considered it useless to vote.

The total vote cast yesterday was 170,862. The total vote cast at the last general election was 409,000.

The vote polled throughout the country with the possible exception of Toronto was small. Bad roads are blamed for the lethargy of the county districts.

Below are given the returns as they were received up to 3 o'clock this morning:

Alfred E. Buck of Georgia, U. S. Minister to Japan, died Thursday at Washington. He was on a duck hunting trip and suddenly expired. The cause of death was apoplexy.

The Birmingham Post hears that it is greatly feared in German financial circles that the end of the year will be attended by heavy failures in Germany iron and steel and kindred trades.

The Minister of Justice had the case of Higgins, the sixteen-year-old murderer of St. John, N.B., before him Thursday morning, and it is said has decided to recommend to Council that the law be allowed to take its course.

No trace can be found of George Barse, a Westminster Township farmer, who left his home on the 6th concession last Friday to come to London. Since then nothing has been seen or heard of him. The team he drove returned home.

Miss Williams, a 14-year-old Toronto girl, fell into the Don River from the East Queen street bridge, about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Her cries were heard by P. A. Cheer, G.T.R. signalman, who rescued her with considerable difficulty. She was unconscious when taken out.

A man who gave the name of S. Revis was found dead in bed Thursday morning at the Commercial Hotel, Toronto, with the gas turned on full, every indication pointing to suicide. Coroner Greig was called, and the body was removed to an undertaking establishment, where it awaits further identification.

GREAT CHANGES PROMISED.

Russian May Have a Woman Ruler and a Constitutional Government.

The Czar, the paper says, proposes to secure popular support for his plan by promulgating simultaneously a constitutional government.

TO SPONGE OUT TITLES.

French Bill That May Mean Loss to Many Americans.

Paris, Dec. 5.—The bitterness engendered by the unseating of Count Boni de Castellane, Anna Gould's husband, from the Chamber of Deputies, has culminated in a bill that is likely to forever do away with titles of nobility in France. A bill providing for the abolition of all French titles of nobility was introduced in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday by Deputy Fournier, and the House took the measure into urgent consideration and referred it to a committee.

The French titles carry with them no privileges under the republic, but they are authorized as forms of address and are recognized in foreign courts when matters of precedence are to the fore. The proposed law would do away with them entirely in France.

A great many American women are affected by the new legislation. If the bill goes through they will be plain mesdames, just as if they had married at home, and the millions paid for titled husbands will have been wasted.

The proponents of the bill urge as a reason for its passage that a continuance of the titles granted by kings and emperors is an absurdity in a republic. The bill is likely to become the law of the republic.

The Archbishop Censured.

London, Dec. 5.—While speaking on the Education Bill in the House of Lords yesterday the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Temple, was overcome and would have fallen had it not been for timely assistance. The collapse of the Archbishop of Canterbury was due to age and general feebleness.

Discouraged Subsidies.

London, Dec. 5.—It is believed that the whole tenor of the report of the Select Committee on Steamship Subsidies will be that subsidies should be discouraged except in cases where it is necessary to maintain communica-

RIOT AT MERRITTON,

Ontario Village in Niagara Peninsula Has an Exciting Time

G.T.R. EMPLOYES WERE WATERED

They Tore Up the Bridge on Main Street and the Village Firemen Turned the Hose on Them—Railway Men Cut Hose, But Eventually the Firemen Won the Day—Traffic Stopped.

St. Catharines, Dec. 5.—Rather a serious riot occurred at Merritton yesterday. The G.T.R. had planned to erect a new bridge over its tracks on the main street of the village, and had a new structure almost completed to place in position. Yesterday the company tore out a portion of the old bridge to make room for the new frame.

This procedure was not according to the expectations of the Merritton authorities. The railway men were told to desist till the formal agreement between the company and the village could be signed. The road employes paid no attention to the request, and the village fire brigade was called out. A stream of water was turned on the men, who, in turn objected, and cut the hose.

Two other lines were laid. A large crowd gathered, and a riot followed.

Finally victory rested with the water and the workmen retreated, leaving the partially erected bridge.

In the meantime street traffic was totally blocked. The Street Railway communication was continued by a transfer system.

A crossing for teams was rigged near the old station, but yesterday afternoon the onslaught was also removed by the railway employes.

Excitement is running high, and the matter is now in a state of statu quo. The main tracks of the G.T.R. is blocked by wreckage, but traffic is being continued over the sidings. No one of authority representing the railway was present, but at 3 o'clock Solicitor Collier for the village and Reeve Wilson conferred with the foreman in charge of the work and agreed to allow the work of clearing the wreckage from the tracks to go on.

GRAND MASTER MORRISSEY.

Says There Is No Concerted Action of Trainmen For Higher Wages.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 5.—Grand Master P. H. Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who returned here yesterday from Chicago, where he was in conference with prominent representatives of his organization in the West and Northwest, gave upon request a signed statement, which reads in part:

"The reports emanating from Chicago that 170,000 men, represented by the established railway labor organizations were forming a federation or combination for the purpose of making a concerted demand for increased wages on the railway companies in the territory west of Chicago, are not authoritative, and no such movement is in contemplation. Conferences of representatives of some of the classes of railway labor have recently been held in Chicago, but have had no relation to the formation of a plan for a united movement.

"It is true, as has heretofore been officially stated, that the conductors and trainmen contemplate presenting requests for increased wages to lines in the western territory, within a short time, but the procedure will be regular and orderly, and in accordance with the established rules and customs of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen."

Lives Lost in Fire Trap.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Fourteen men met death by suffocation yesterday morning in a fire which occurred in the Lincoln Hotel, 176 Madison street. Thirteen of those who lost their lives were stifled while lying in their beds. One was taken from the building before life was extinct, but died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital. The building was a veritable trap and never should have been used for hotel purposes. The victims were visitors to the Live Stock Exhibition. There were no Canadians among them.

Saved by Life Line.

New York, Dec. 5.—In saving the crew of the barque Alice Reed, yesterday, lines were repeatedly shot over the forward part of the vessel, but the terrified sailors could not procure them. The life savers from the Amagansett Station finally got a line to a portion of the wreck to which seven of the crew were clinging, and they were hauled ashore one at a time. Three of the crew of ten were washed overboard, but they got ashore, though exhausted.

To Define 49th Parallel.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—W. F. King, the Dominion astronomer, who has been appointed a commissioner by the British Government to define the 49th parallel from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific coast, left for Washington yesterday to confer with the United States Commissioner.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 TRADE MARK ROGERS BROS

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

LIBERAL ELECTION VICTORIES.

In spite of the optimism of the Conservative Opposition, who believed that certain recent events indicated a deterioration of the popularity of the Laurier Government, the bye-elections held on Wednesday show the contrary. In Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, the greatest Liberal victory in the history of the riding was achieved. In the face of strong and vigorous opposition, and a strong Conservative candidate, the normal Liberal majority of 200, was increased to 800. In Argenteuil, Quebec, the return of Mr. Christie, the Liberal candidate, makes another Liberal victory. While, as a rule, bye-elections are generally in favour of the Government, yet so marked increase of majority shows that the people appreciate capable and efficient administration, which brings, or at any rate accompanies, rampant general prosperity. When government is good, and times are good, there is no room for the office seeker's cry, "It is time for a change."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Further reports of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's health at the Hot Springs, Arkansas, confirm former reports of great improvement in his health. It is said that his walks eight miles a day. The probabilities are that he will be in his old place in the House when the Session opens in his old form, ready to carry on his old policy of making Canada prosperous.

A sorrowful report comes from the north of Sweden where, it is said, seventy thousand people are on the verge of starvation. This terrible misfortune, says the Montreal Witness, is the result of failure of crops in a country where the soil is never bountiful. The Swedes are a most industrious, thrifty, sober race, and have no cause of complaint against their government, but the physical and climatic difficulties they have to contend with have become too much for them, and account for the steady stream of emigration to America. This outflow will be largely increased by existing conditions, and it may to some extent lessen the severity of the impending misfortune. The Swedes are exactly the sort of people we would like to see come to Canada and settle in the North-West. They possess the right qualities to make successful settlers. Our climate would be a vast improvement on that which they would leave behind them, and our virgin prairie soil under their thrifty hands would yield its best and give them the certainty of plenty and independence. No better foreign element could be added to our population, and prompt efforts should be made to attract them hither.

CANADA BEATS HER RECORD.

Increase in Manufacture of Cheese and Butter Over Last Year.

The past season has been the most successful one ever experienced in Canada in the manufacture and export of butter and cheese. Cheese exports during the season just closed showed a total increase of 308,432 boxes over those for 1901, and a total increase of 22,353 boxes over those for 1900, while butter shipments showed an increase of 124,058 packages over those for 1901, and an increase of 278,388 packages over the season 1900.

The disbursements to the factories for cheese were also largely in advance of any previous year, cheese being constantly one or two cents higher than the previous season. Buttermakers were not relatively so fortunate, the price of butter being lower during most of the season than it was in 1901. As the exports were larger, however, the total disbursements to factories would probably amount to about as much as last year.

CANADA IS ALL RIGHT.

There is a deal to be learned about Canada, says the Hamilton Spectator, when one begins to study its history. In 1825 the first vessel passed through the Lachine canal, and twenty years later Lakes Ontario and Erie were united by the Welland canal. There are now seventy miles of canal uniting nearly all the great lakes and rivers of Canada. The Northern Railway, the first sod of which was turned by Lady Elgin in 1850, was the first steam railway operated in Upper Canada, the road being opened from Toronto to Bradford on the 13th of June, 1853. The main line of the Great Western was opened Jan. 27, 1854. The Grand Trunk began its first section from Montreal to Lachine in 1852, and in the same year secured a charter for an extension from Montreal to Toronto. The great system was in its infancy a consolidation of shorter roads till it had about absorbed everything in Ontario, including the Great Western; then striking out for an entrance, through Michigan, into Chicago. When it has completed its new road to the Pacific its mileage will equal, if not surpass, many of the great railroad systems in the United States. Emigration will follow the new line, and it is only a question of a few years till Canada will double and treble its present population. There is room for hundreds of millions of people in this great country.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

In Store for Those Who Doubt.

When you read that a sufferer of many years standing has been completely restored to health by using Smith's Cure-all, you are inclined to doubt the statement, and in fact have no belief in it whatever. The reason of this is that so much is claimed for the Cure-all it is impossible for anyone to believe it; if the advertiser confined his claim to the curing of one disease, as do the proprietors of the Pyramid Pile Cure, readers would have more faith in published testimonials. Those familiar with this great remedy know that testimonials as to its merits may be relied upon implicitly, also that the cures brought about by its use are little short of marvellous. The genuineness of the testimonial here given is vouched for and is but one of thousands received.

"I had a friend who had used one box of 50 cent Pyramid Pile Cure that entirely cured her. I saw the good effect on her, and thought that I would try it, as I had got so that I could not sit down without extreme pain, and getting up was just as bad. The first box nearly cured me; I got the second box and have had no trouble since. Pyramid Pile Cure does all that it is claimed to do, and I never miss an opportunity to tell of its merits. I speak from observation, and personal benefit. Two boxes cured me over a year ago, and I have had no return of the trouble since." Mrs. M. Mooney, 6000 Sangamon street, Chicago, Ill.

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price by the Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Michigan. Write this firm for this book describing the cause and cure of piles.

SEED TESTING AND ITS RELATION TO AGRICULTURE.

The testing of seed for purity and vitality by scientific methods has been an important factor in the agricultural progress of Germany, Switzerland and other European countries. Labratory methods for seed testing were devised by Dr. Nobbe of Tharandt, Germany, thirty years ago, since which time seed testing stations have been established in nearly all European countries and the United States. Canada has now one modern seed labratory equipped with the necessary apparatus for testing the purity and vitality of seeds.

The fact that Germany alone now maintains thirty-nine seed control stations shows that seed testing is highly valued as a means of safeguarding the interests of agriculture in that country. The results of the work that has already been done in the Dominion Seed Labratory reveal a great need for active work in seed testing as well as persistent efforts to protect Canadian farmers and fields from the many evils that are connected with the seed trade.

Early in the spring of the present year, G. H. Clark, B.S.A., who is connected with Prof. Robertson's staff, and who is now in charge of the Seed Labratory, planned to make an investigation of the conditions of the trade in grass and clover seeds. With the assistance of Agricultural Associations, Institute workers and other interested persons, over five hundred one-half pound samples of Timothy, Alsike, and Red Clover seed that was offered for sale by local dealers were procured for the seed labratory. With each sample was enclosed a statement showing the name of the dealer, the place at which it was offered for sale, the price per pound or per bushel, and the origin of the seed.

In the Seed Labratory these samples were subjected to two examinations, one for purity and one for vitality. In making these examinations the rules adopted by the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations were followed in detail.

Evidence of wilful adulteration was found in a few instances. One sample of Alsike obtained from Prince Edward Island contained 26 pounds of coloured sand per hundred pounds of seed. From ten to twenty per cent. by weight of sand was frequently found in samples of Alsike and Timothy seed. On the whole there has not been serious cause for complaint because of low vitality. It is the large quantities and noxious nature of the weed seeds found in most of the samples that renders the evils connected with the trade in grass and clover seeds of more than ordinary importance to agriculture. The number of weed seeds per pound of seeds as marketed, ranged with Timothy from 0 to 1,287,690; Alsike from 90 to 180,450; and Red Clover from 0 to 45,000. The approximate number of seeds in a pound of Timothy seeds is 1,350,000; Alsike, 750,000; and Red Clover, 300,000. The weed seeds named in the order in which they most frequently occurred consisted of Foxtail, Ribgrass, Lamb's Quarter, White Cockle, Sheep Sorrel, Curled Dock, False Flax, Pepper Grass, Mayweed, Canada Thistle, Common Plantain, Lady's Thumb, Pigweed, Black Medick, Ragweed, Charlock, or Wild Mustard, and Perennial Sow Weed.

The trade in Red Clover and Alsike is undoubtedly the most fruitful medium for the dissemination of weed pests. The steadily increasing demand for these seeds for both the home and the export trade has encouraged their production on farms that are foul with seeds. Canada exports annually of Alsike and Red Clover Seeds to European countries, where a thorough system of seed control has become established, and where only the best re-cleaned stocks can find a market. The screenings from these imported seeds are much in demand on our home emarkets, and are retailed by local dealers.

There are few agricultural mercantile articles, the real value of which it is so difficult to judge from appearance as grass seed, clover and other small seeds. Competition is said to be the life of trade, but fair competition in the seed trade is possible only when the seed is sold according to fixed standards of quality, or under a definite guarantee based upon a standard method of analysis. The seed trade in Canada has been passing from the hands of reliable seed houses into the hands of incompetent and irresponsible local dealers whose main business is of an entirely different character. There are far too many jobbers dabbling in the seed business and the result is that competition has been confined to prices alone. Unfortunately most farmers as well as seed merchants are not acquainted with the impurities that commonly occur in grass and clover seeds, and when making their purchases are content to screw down the price and trust to luck. As long as there is a demand for cheap seed, a worthless low grade article will be offered; and until Canadian farmers have come to know that the highest obtainable quality of seed is always the cheapest, the best quality of our home grown seeds will be exported to countries where the seed trade is conducted on a more business-like basis.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

FOR ONTARIO'S SICK CHILDREN.

Opportunity for Every Citizen to Join in the Noble Work of Bringing Health and Happiness to Young Lives.

When a farmer puts his seed under mother earth he expects it to bear bushels of grain in a few months.

So it is with the merchant. He invests money in merchandise, counting on a profitable turn over.

A father pays for his son's education anticipating that it will provide the young man with the powers of mind to put the body and head at work in gaining a livelihood.

Yet the seed may not bring forth grain, the merchandise may not be sold at a profit, and the young man may not reach the ideals of his father.

In all these instances the expenditure of money is a speculation. It may bring happiness and it may not.

To-day the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, is performing a Heaven-born mission on earth. It is renewing health, removing pain and straightening distorted limbs of hundreds of young Canadians, boys and girls who will yet make their mark in this growing Dominion, but who, were it not for this noble institution, might have already filled an early grave.

That's where your dollar can find a way to bring you pleasure and profit without any doubts or fears as to the investment. Money is always at work. It is ceaseless in its labour, but in no spot in this fair Canada is it put to better service than at the Hospital for Sick Children.

You see your money is at work from the very day it is placed at the Hospital's disposal. Your investment quickly brings you back joy, for your contribution has entered into the task of life saving, body building and health giving.

Look at a few examples of the work done in the Orthopedic Department. The feet shown are those of children who live outside of Toronto. You see the condition "before" entering the Hospital—and you see the condition "after" hospital treatment. The parents of these children could not afford to pay for treatment. Do you know of any child so situated? Then have him sent to the Hospital.

BEFORE. AFTER.

The Hospital for Sick Children depends solely upon the generosity of the people of Ontario. It requires $35,000 a year for its maintenance, and it stands to-day as a monument to the big hearts of Ontario people. Located though it is in Toronto, it is not a city institution; it is provincial.

The child in the farthermost regions of Ontario has the same rights and privileges as one that may live next door to the Hospital. The Ontario child is on a level with the Toronto child. Neither has an advantage.

It takes a dollar a patient per day to maintain the Hospital. The Ontario Government contributes $7,000 a year, or almost seventeen cents per patient per day, for there are always at least one hundred and twenty children under treatment. This amount from the Government is all expended on maintenance. Then the corporation of the city of Toronto gives $7,500, or seventeen cents per patient per day, and remember, not for Toronto patients, but for every child no matter from what point he may come. And in addition to this Toronto citizens donate $6,000 for the maintenance of all patients.

Again remember all these gifts from Toronto are devoted to the maintenance of patients from all over Ontario as well as the city itself, and the children that seek relief from places outside are very numerous, and it ought to be as great a privilege and pleasure for the generous citizens of the province to contribute to the maintenance of this Hospital as it is for the people of Toronto.

Ten years ago the Hospital was encumbered with a mortgage. Year by year the mortgage has been reduced, and it is now paid.

The Hospital must proceed in performing its great mission. Money is needed to maintain it, and this appeal is made for that purpose. Hospital work cannot be conducted without money. To keep the machinery moving the dollars and cents of the people of Ontario are needed. Nurses, domestics and officials have to live. Their wages must be paid.

BEFORE. AFTER.

True, it is, that some have to pay—yes, all who can afford it are expected to pay—but those who cannot pay and can produce the certificate of a clergyman or known ratepayer of the province to the effect that they are too poor to pay, can have maintenance and treatment free of charge.

This year an effort is being made to clear away a bank overdraft created by cost of maintenance. Every dollar sent us helps to lighten the load that is being carried.

Let everyone who can spare a dollar forward it as quick as the good thought strikes them, to Douglas Davidson, Secretary of the Hospital for Sick Children, or to J. Ross Robertson, Chairman of the Trust, College street, Toronto.

"JACKIES" REPLACE STOKERS.

French Cabinet Organizes Provisional Service in Mediterranean.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The Council of Ministers, at a meeting yesterday, decided that, owing to the serious interruption of traffic, due to the sailors' and stokers' strike at Marseilles, the Government will organize immediately a provisional service, by requisitioning the companies' vessels and manning them with sailors from the navy. The Minister of Commerce, M. Trouillet, presented detailed plans for two weekly sailings for Algiers, Tunis, Corsica and other points. This is expected to relieve the paralysis of traffic, but it may arouse the strikers to acts of resentment.

A Marseilles despatch says the only change in the strike situation has been for the worse, although no disturbance has yet occurred.

Work at the docks has almost ceased, as the crews of the tugs have joined the strikers, and the movement of foreign vessels is difficult.

The strikers held two meetings yesterday, and resolved to inform the Government that they would furnish crews for the steamers, on condition that the vessels be used purely for the transportation of passengers and mails. The strikers also offered to man a vessel and take the delayed passengers to Algeria without asking any wages.

Close Call For Shamrock III.

London, Dec. 5.—Shamrock III., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's Cup had a narrow escape from being burned last night in a fire which did great damage to the Denny's shipbuilding yards at Dumbarton. Only strenuous efforts saved the challenger, now well advanced in her construction, from destruction.

Lost His Way and Died.

Battleford, Sask., Dec. 5.—A settler named George H. Parker, residing near the town, lost his way Wednesday night and was found dead on the road yesterday morning. He leaves a wife and children.

STUDENT KILLED BY TRAIN.

Charles Stevens Run Over at Dresden Station Tuesday Night.

Chatham, Dec. 4.—Charles Stevens, a lad attending the Collegiate Institute here, was killed at Dresden Station Tuesday evening. The boy's home was in Dresden, and he came to Chatham collegiate by train daily. He didn't put in an appearance at his home Tuesday night, and search was instituted. Yesterday the dead body was found alongside the track.

The boy had been standing on the platform of the passenger coach and had fallen off. It being about 6 o'clock and dark, the boy was not missed from the train, and no trace of the lad could be found until the body was picked up.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy, have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers, and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store, made a complete cure, and in every instance beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials, and never publishh the same one twice.

From James Yethmaisiar, La-Cross, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything that I ever tried, and I was so pleased with results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seemed to take right a hold, and I feel good. I am a farmer and a limeburner, and I heartily recommend them to anybody who has any trouble with his his stomach, to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend, who also suffered from indigestion, and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I have been very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from nervous dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating, or wind on the stomach, and similar disorders.

JOKE CAUSED DEATH.

Boy Blown Up With a Pneumatic Air Pump Dies.

New York, Dec. 4.—Harry Hult, an employe of a locomotive works in Paterson, N. J., died in a hospital there to-day, as a result of a practical joke played on him by five of his fellow employes. They were arrested, charged with having caused his death. It is alleged that they "blew up" Hult with a pneumatic air pump, having a pressure of 110 pounds to the inch. Soon after this the boy's stomach became greatly distended. After several hours' suffering he died.

When the men accused of having caused Hult's death were arraigned in court in Paterson, the dead boy's father rushed at one of them, named Dorn, knocked him down and started to kick him. The father was restrained by the court officers. The accused men were held without bail on a charge of manslaughter.

BAD BLOOD.

Miss Mary M. Allen, Angus, Ont., says.—For nearly a year I was troubled with pimples on my face. I tried several remedies and none of them seemed to help me until I got Burdock Blood Bitters. I think it is a good tonic for bad blood, and take pleasure in telling you how much it did me more good than all the other remedies I tried.

DYSPEPSIA.

Miss Alberta Murray, Campbellton, N.B., says.—For five years I was troubled with Dyspepsia, and whenever I ate anything I suffered untold agony. My parents got numerous medicines for me but they did me no good. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised and something seemed to say, "get a bottle." I did so, and to my surprise before I finished the bottle I found relief. I took all told 3 bottles, and have had no return of the trouble.

B.B.B. Cures Boils, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, and all Skin Diseases.

HEADACHES.

Miss Peter Sanderson, Glen Lovit, N.B., says.—It is with pleasure and gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful power of B.B.B. Blood Bitters. For years I was ailing for three years with headache and run down system. I tried several kinds of medicine but to no effect. At last a friend urged me to try B.B.B. for her, and after using two bottles she was like another being. I can never praise it enough. It is a God-send to all.

CONSTIPATION.

Miss Hollis Huggan, Meriganish, N.B., says.—I was troubled with constipation for a year and tried different medicines, but they did me no good. I then took Burdock Blood Bitters as it seemed me so that I have not been troubled since.

Mr. Wharton Buckley, Morrisburg, Ont., says.—I took three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters for constipation and found a complete cure effected.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO

Britain Will Not Accept Shipments from Portland or Boston.

AUTHORITATIVE ANNOUNCEMENT

An Official Note on the Subject of the Rumor That There Would Be a Relaxation of the Order Against Cattle Exportations—Nothing Is Conceded — Boston Steamship Agents Are Discouraged.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—The British Board of Agriculture has consented to no such relaxation of the embargo against cattle export from the State of Maine as was declared in a Boston despatch yesterday had been conceded.

The report was that a cablegram from London declared that the authorities had consented to the shipment of cattle for the English market from the harbor of Portland, Maine. The statement was scarcely credited here, in view of the emphatic refusal of the Board of Agriculture to so much as allow Canadian cattle to pass on bonded cars through the portion of the State of Maine traversed by the C.P.R. short-line between Monteeal and St. John.

However, to set all doubts at rest, Hon. Sydney Fisher cabled the High Commissioner in London yesterday to ascertain the facts. Lord Strathcona's reply, received late yesterday afternoon, stated that there was not a word of truth in the report, inasmuch as the board had not authorized any relaxation of its order against Portland and Boston or the passage of cattle through any of the six prohibited New England States.

Hon. Sydney Fisher was asked if this was regarded as settling the matter, and replied that it must be so regarded.

Boston Agents Discouraged.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 5.—Boston steamship agents were all discouraged yesterday on learning that the latest and most earnest effort to have the embargo by Great Britain upon New England cattle modified to exempt the port of Portland, Me., had failed apparently. News came that an attempt by the Grand Trunk Railway, through Canadian officials, to provide for shipments from Portland had failed, the British Government having positively refused to relax the prohibition of bonding cattle through Maine, and that also of the loading of cattle at Canadian ports on vessels clearing from New England. This put a stop to the proceedings which had been begun to have western cattle shipped to Montreal, thence by the Canadian Pacific from Montreal to Mattawaukeng, Me., and thence to Portland, Me., by the Maine Central.

TO SIDETRACK CANADA.

Canada May Yet Be Made an Exporter of Dead Meat Only.

London, Dec. 5.—British supplies will be greatly affected if the Canadian export cattle trade is stopped, for during the first ten months of this year no fewer than 75,077 Canadian cattle were imported. The British Government is most disinclined to give Canada any advice upon the question, whether to permit the importation of cattle by the Canadian Pacific's short line to St. John through Maine. British official opinion is that Canada must take her own risk, being protectionist friends of the British farmer, the British Board of Agriculture will probably not be sorry to see Canadian ports scheduled like Boston, and Canada made an exporter of dead meat only.

Train Hands Cremated.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 4. — The passenger train on the Queen and Crescent Road, which left Cincinnati Tuesday night, ran into a box car that had blown on the main track at Sunbright, Tenn., early yesterday. A fireman and express messenger are supposed to have been cremated in the fire, which destroyed several cars of the train. The remains of a negro tramp have been found in the wreck.

Want Returns of Moneys.

Chatham, Dec. 4.—At the County Council, now in session, Crown Attorney Smith created a flutter by saying that many county magistrates and justices had not, since his appointment this year, made any return of moneys collected by them in fines, nor for some time before his entering on the duties of his office. Action will be taken to bring the delinquents to time.

Sprigg Loses Friends.

Cape Town, Dec. 4.—Premier Sprigg met with a very hostile reception from his constituents at East London yesterday. His speech was constantly interrupted by hisses and cries of "Judas!" The disapproval with the Premier's attitude was so marked that no vote of confidence in his policy was proposed!

True Bill Against the Raymonds.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—In the Criminal Sessions yesterday the grand jury indicted Anson Raymond and his wife, Elizabeth, on a charge of having a counterfeit plant in their possession. The couple were called for trial, and pleaded not guilty. The case was then adjourned till a date of trial could be arranged.

Requiem Mass in Rome.

Rome, Dec. 5. — A requiem mass was celebrated yesterday in the chapel of the Canadian College here for the repose of the soul of Superior Louis Colin, the founder of the college, who died at Montreal, Nov. 28. Archbishop Bruchesi of Montreal officiated at the Pontifical Mass.

Chamberlain at Port Said.

Port Said, Egypt, Dec. 5. — The British cruiser Good Hope, having on board Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and party, bound for South Africa, arrived here yesterday. The vessel had been delayed by storms in the Mediterranean. Mr. Chamberlain landed and went to Cairo.

To Ratify Appointment.

Kingston, Dec. 5.—Queen's trustees meet this afternoon to ratify the appointment of Rev. Dr. Gordon, Halifax, as principal. In the evening they will attend the civic ceremony of formally presenting the Kingston Arts Building to the University.

"OUT OF COURT" TALK.

Chairman of Coal Strike Commission Has Not Yet Lost Heart.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 4.—The anthracite coal companies and their employes having failed to come to an agreement during the thanksgiving recess of the strike commission, the hearing of the miners' side of the case was continued yesterday. With the reassembling of the commission, however, there was a revival of the talk of settlement "out of court." Chairman Gray, speaking for the commission yesterday, again expressed the hope that efforts would be made by both sides to agree on as many points as possible, and that the commission was ready to lend any conciliatory help to bring about that end.

Coal Commission Gets $50,000.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The House yesterday passed a bill to appropriate $50,000 to defray the expenses of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission, and to adjourn until Friday, when the London dock bill will be considered. There were two hours of discussion on the commission bill, during which the President's course in creating the commission was highly commended, except by Mr. Benton, a Missouri Democrat, who contended that the commission was created without authority of law or legislation. All amendments were voted down. The bill was passed without division.

Premier Sagasta Has Resigned.

Madrid, Dec. 4.—Premier Sagasta has resigned.

Senor Sagasta had an audience of King Alfonso yesterday, at which he presented his resignation, and intimated that the step was irrevocable. He informed the King that the Opposition had treated him with distrust and discourtesy, which he did not deserve. His Majesty will not decided on the course he will pursue until to-day.

Signor Marconi Is Resting.

North Sydney, N. S., Dec. 4.—Mr. Marconi is spending a few days on board the Italian cruiser Alberto in Sydney harbor. The ship will leave for Boston on Friday, and no announcement of the work completed at the Table Head Station will be made until after the inventor has visited Cape Cod. The aerial cables are down at the wireless station, and workmen are engaged in finishing some of the heavy work.

A Letter to Dr. Pierce is the First Step to Health for Weak and Sick Women.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and under seal of the strictest privacy. In a little over thirty years of practice as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured over half a million women. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Offers of "free medical advice" made in imitation of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter are advertised by persons who are not physicians, and are not qualified to give medical advice. Every woman should consult her own safety by careful inquiry into the genuineness of such offers.

There is no offer similar to Dr. Pierce's, which has behind it an institution of national note, such as the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., with its staff of nearly a score of physicians, presided over by a specialist of Dr. Pierce's experience and success, in the treatment and cure of diseases peculiar to women.

How Other Women Have Been Cured.

"I suffered untold misery for many years with uterine trouble," writes Mrs. Mary R. Wilcox, of Emo (Rainy River), Algoma Co., Ont., "until I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's good medicine and used the local treatment as advised. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I also sent for one box of your 'Antiseptic and Healing Suppositories.' I have only used two and that was two months ago. I would advise every woman who suffers from ulceration of the uterus and piles to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' They are the best medicines in the world. Also write to Dr. Pierce for his fatherly advice. I have felt better in these past seven months than I have for years. Every month I used to have to go to bed and have hot poultices and take laudanum to ease the pain. I don't go to bed now nor do I take laudanum."

"I have used your medicine as you directed," writes Mrs. Caroline Hammac, of Hammac, Escambia Co., Ala. "I have only used one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and in connection I used one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Six doses a day, three of each, and sometimes I used the tablets as you directed. I feel well. I am hard at work and have been for some time. I had been under a good doctor five years for this same disease and you see how quick your medicine cured me."

"About a year ago I had a mishap which left me in very poor health for some time afterward," writes Mrs. Cene Johnson, of Gordon, Sheridan Co., Nebr. "I employed a local doctor but got only temporary relief, until I commenced using Dr. Pierce's medicine, which I did after consulting you. I am now as well as ever. I took five bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I would recommend these medicines to all who suffer as I did."

If you are sick or ailing take advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter and write to-day to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Members Called Dogs.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—With the exception of a two-hours' recess for supper, the Reichstag was in continuous session from 10 o'clock until 11.30 o'clock last night, this being the longest session in the history of the Reichstag. Most of the time was spent wearily in listening to the report of the Tariff Committee, but considerable rough talk was indulged in. The members called each other scoundrels, "dogs," etc., the long hours having irritated their tempers.

AN OYSTER SUPPER.

The Members of George Street Choir at Long's Last Night.

Last evening after the usual practice of George street church choir, on invitation of the tenor singers, the members repaired to Long Bros' Palm Parlours, where a dainty oyster supper was served. Following the repast a delightful musical programme was contributed, the duties of chairman being performed by Mr. C. Thornton. Enjoyable piano solos were given by Mrs. Mowat, a couple of amusing quartettes introducing hits for some of the members, were contributed by Messrs. Cunningham, Bowels, Maguire and Turner, and vocal solos by Messrs. T. Cunningham, R. Cunningham, Maguire and Olmstead were well received. During the evening an address from the bass members of the choir was read to Mr. Thornton, eulogizing the energy he displayed in connection with the entertainment and impressing upon the tenors the advisability of continuing in the way they had begun. The address was read by Mr. Frank Turner, while Mr. H. Moore presented Mr. Thornton with a handsome, though demipitive "stove-pipe" hat. This action of appreciation was heartily endorsed by the singing of "He's a jolly good fellow." Mr. Thornwas quite overcome and some moments passed before he recovered sufficently to proceed with his duties as chairman. After a well received chorus by a number of the men, a vote of thanks was tendered the tenors, suitably acknowledged by Mr. R. Cunningham, and the gathering dispersed after the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

STARTING RATHER YOUNG.

A Young Toronto Lad Evinces an Aptitude for Travelling.

Yesterday afternoon the Chief of Police received a queer package of freight from the noon express, in the shape of a small boy, about five years of age. It seems that the conductor of the C.P.R. noon express found him on the train, without either friends or ticket, and on the arrival of the train at Peterborough he was handed over to Chief Rossel. The latter took the boy to the Children's Shelter, but was unable to elicit either his name or that of his parents.

Telephone enquiry of Toronto revealed the fact that nothing was known concerning him there. However, about seven o'clock last evening word was received by the Chief that the lad's name was McGrundle, and that his aunt was anxiously looking for him.

This morning the boy was sent home via the G.T.R., and was, with the exception of a little homesickness, little the worse of his adventure.

MR. GILLESPIE REMEMBERED

By His Friends of St. Andrew's Church Choir Last Night.

A very enjoyable social evening was held in St. Andrew's school room last evening, at the close of the choir rehearsal, the occasion being the presentation of a handsome couch to Mr. Adam Gillespie. A very large company was present, and Rev. J. G. Potter, who presided, read the following address, prepared by Mr. Davies, the organist and choir master, on behalf of the choir:

Saint Andrew's Church,
Peterborough, December 4, 1902.

To Mr. Adam Gillespie,—

Dear Sir,—We, the members of Saint Andrew's choir, are assembled to-night to offer to Mrs. Gillespie and yourself, our congratulations on your marriage, and our best wishes for your prosperity and happiness in the new sphere of life upon which you have entered. We recall, with feelings of the greatest pleasure, our close associations with you in the musical portion of our church services and trust the associations may long continue. As a slight evidence of our affection we beg you to accept this couch, trusting that it may often be the means of affording you rest after the day's toil.

AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The Bazaar now in Progress Closes To-night.

The bazaar at present being held under the auspices of the Girl's Guild of George street Methodist church, promises to be a huge success. This bazaar is the first that this Guild has ever held and from the liberal patronage received promises, from a financial point of view, to be very successful.

Many people who have no aptitude for fancy work themselves, but who desire to be able to disburse dainty presents during Christmastide, are perhaps the best customers. Besides this, dolls, candies, etc., can be had at all prices. Yesterday it is said that the amount of the sales was in the neighbourhood of seventy-five dollars. The sale continues this afternoon, but will be brought to a close to-night.

THE RESULT OF VOTING IN TOWN.

524 Majority in Favour of Liquor Act.

TOTAL VOTE FOR 106 SHORT

Returns From Other Municipalities in the County are not yet Complete.

The voting on the Ontario Liquor Act of 1902, which took place yesterday, was attended by very little excitement in Peterborough. Both parties worked faithfully until the last, however, but the interest such as generally manifested in a political campaign was not in evidence.

The total vote polled in town was 1606, of which 1065 was for the act, and 541 against it, leaving a majority in its favour of 524. However, this was not a sufficient number of votes to carry the act in Peterborough alone, as it required 1071 votes in its favour. There were as a matter of fact only 1065, or 106 short of the required number. The total number of voters cast at the election of 1898 was 2350; half of this would be 1170, and adding one for a majority makes 1171 as the number of votes required by the prohibitionists.

As to the outside municipalities in Peterborough county, very little information as to returns is to hand. The townships, it is supposed, will go in favour of the act. Young's Point however gave a majority against the act of 27. North Monaghan gave a vote of 48 for the act and 4 against. Lakefield, Norwood and the surrounding villages, gave majorities in favour of prohibition. The report that a certain subdivision in Douro had given one vote for prohibition and a hundred-odd against, appears to have not been founded on facts.

The returns were watched with much interest in front of the Examiner office last night.

The vote in town stood as follows:

OBITUARY.

Demise of Mr James White.

This morning about 11 o'clock Mr. James White passed away at the family residence, corner of Charlotte and Rubidge street, at the age of 68 years. The deceased gentleman has for several years been in an unsatisfactory condition of health. For the past three years he has been an invalid, and for the past three months has been confined to his bed.

Mr. White was a native of Scotland, and came to Canada when very young. He first lived at Toronto, but subsequently removed to Peterborough where he was united in marriage, on December 16th, 1868, to Miss Bella Stenson, daughter of the late Robert Stenson, who is left to mourn his demise, together with a brother, Mr. John White, of Campbellford, and three sisters resident in Dakota.

The late Mr. White was for many years engaged in the foundry and machine shop business in Peterborough, first as a member of the firm of White & Hamilton, and subsequently as a member of the firm of White & Davis. In conjunction with his brother, Mr. John White, he carried on for a time a similar business in Campbellford, but for some time, owing to impaired health, he has been compelled to lead a life of comparative inactivity.

Mr. White was a highly respected member of the community for many years. In religion he was a Presbyterian and member of the congregation of St. Paul's church.

The funeral which takes place from the late residence, corner of Charlotte and Rubidge streets, on Monday next, at 3 o'clock, will be private, and it is requested that no flowers be sent.

The association accepted the suggestion enthusiastically. A meeting for the purpose of organising for the joint banquet will be held on Wednesday next at 8 o'clock, at the Queen's Hotel.

IN BIG DEMAND.

The Cheque Forger Wanted in Many Towns in the Province.

Belleville Intelligencer.

Regarding the forger, Carter, who is held in Kingston awaiting the outcome of the preliminary trial, almost every town of any importance in Ontario is anxious to secure his presence.

Carter endorsed the Brockville cheques with the name of Samuel Miller, and a warrant with five charges is now in the hands of Chief Adams of that place to be executed. A strong effort will be made to take him there for trial.

The Guelph Mercury says: Considerable interest is naturally taken in this city in the capture of the cheque forger, and the local merchants are congratulating themselves that their friend is caught at last. County Crown Attorney Paterson and Chief of Police Randall have been interesting themselves considerably in the case. The Chief interviewed the provincial authorities recently with a view to obtaining some reparation for the stolen goods and money, in case of the criminal's capture, and with a general reference to the man's offenses in this city. The man is evidently no ordinary criminal, and it will certainly be to the advantage of the Guelph authorities to make enquiries into his antecedents and life, and see that he is secluded from public gaze for a good while, so as not to allow him another chance to impose upon people.

St. John's Church Notes.

There will be an important meeting of the teachers of St. John's Sunday School this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements for the Christmas entertainment. Mr. Gliddon will give a recital in the Sunday School room on Monday evening next, when a rare treat is promised. A full orchestra will be in attendance.

GAVE THEIR VERDICT.

How Fireman Barnes of Lindsay, Lost His Life.

The Coroner's Jury to enquire into the death of Fireman Barnes, the unfortunate young man who lost his life by being run over by a G.T.R. train has been handed out as follows: "That the late Jos. Barnes came to his death by accident on the morning of Nov. 29, while he was engaged as a fireman on a double-header train going north from Lindsay." It does not find any fault with the train crew, and exonerates them from any blame, but the jury were of the opinion "that Barnes came to his death through the double-header system, and that the G.T.R. should discontinue the double-header system, as there appears to be more accidents happening and loss of human life from the said system than there is from any other cause known to the jurymen, consequently we do largely condemn the running of double-headers as strongly as we can." To this intelligent verdict was affixed the signature of Thos. Connolly, foreman.

LATEST NEWS FROM FIELD OF SPORT.

Annual Meeting of Trent Valley League Called.

TO-NIGHT'S RUGBY MEETING.

Ottawa Winter Race Meet—The Annual Meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union is Called.

RUGBY.

A special general meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club will be held in the Oriental Hotel this evening at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is requested.

* * * *

Representative football men are reminded that the annual meeting of the Canadian Rugby Football Union will be held at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, on Saturday, December 20, at two o'clock. All amendments to the constitution are requested to be in the hands of the secretary, J. D. McMurrich, Toronto, by Saturday, Dec. 6th. This year's meeting will be of special interest in view of the present strong agitation to change the playing rules. The annual meeting of the Quebec Rugy Union will be held in Montreal next Saturday, and it is likely that the snap-back and the reduction of the number of players will come up for discussion. The Eastern Association, however, will not take any action. The annual meeting of the Ontario Union will be held a week later in Toronto, and there is not the slightest doubt but that the main principles of the Burnside rules will be adopted. These two unions will then go to the Canadian Union with a different set of rules. Should the Quebec delegates fail to agree to the Ontario changes, then the Canadian Union may be disrupted. Each union will have three delegates to the Canadian Union meeting, and in addition there will be the three officers of the Union. This year two of the officers are held by Ontario men, and one by the Quebec Union. As the present constitution of the Ontario Union stands, the rules governing are those adopted by the Canadian Rugby Union. This may be changed at an annual meeting of the Ontario Union, and it is certain to be done this year, so that in case the Canadian Union fails to take up the new rules adopted by the Ontario Union there will be two sets of rules.

* * * *

Following are amendments to playing rules, constitution and regulations and rules which will be submitted to the annual meeting of the O.R.F.U., to be held December 13, at 2 p.m. Amendments to playing rules:

1. Reduction of teams to twelve men a side.
2. Adoption of snap-back system as outlined in Burnside rules.
3. Teams in possession of ball to make ten yards on three successive downs or scrimmages.
4. Six men to be on the line of scrimmage off-side.
5. Quarter-back to be allowed to buck line on receiving ball from snap-back.
6. All goals from field, whether by placements, drop kick, free kick from mark, or penalty, to count two points.
7. In all kicks opponents to line back ten yards form opponents, and kicker to kick from mark.
8. To abolish throw in from touch, and ball to be brought out at right angles to touch line, five, ten or fifteen yards, and scrimmaged.
9. Present rules as laid down in rules of the game of Canadian Rugby Union to be made to conform as far as possible with above changes, introducing only where necessary penalties as laid down in Burnside rules.

HOCKEY.

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League will be held in the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, Dec. 13th, commencing at 9.30 o'clock. Every club in the league is entitled to a representative and it is important that each club should send a delegate. There are in the league the following clubs:—Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Omemee, Millbrook, Lakeviews, of Peterborough, Lakefield, Keene, Norwood, Campbellford, Marmora. Lindsay and Madoc have been in the league for several years, but were unable to enter teams last season. It is hoped that they will again fall into line. In addition to these Stirling and T.A.S., of Peterborough, have applied for admission.

CARPETBALL.

Last night a friendly game of carpet ball was played in the hall of the Sons of England, Hunter street, between a team representing that lodge and one representing Court Peterborough, C.O.F. It was found at the close that the S.O.E. were the victors by a few points.

BASKETBALL.

The public are cordially invited to the basketball games at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to-morrow evening, when perhaps the best teams in the league will come together. The first game is expected to be close, but the last game between the Harriers and Maple Leafs will pretty much decide who wins the league. Providing the Maple Leaf's win to-morrow night and lose to the Athletics, there will be a three-cornered tie. However, on the contrary, if the Harriers win to-morrow the winner of the league is a settled fact. There should be a bumper house to see the Lillies and Athletics at 8 o'clock and the best game of the season at nine. Between the two games an especially interesting feature will take place, when the Rev. W. W. McCuaig, of Montreal, will favour the audience with humorous readings. Those who have heard him speak in no mild terms of praise for his power to entertain. Mr. McCuaig has been here assisting the temperance people in the campaign which has just closed.

GYMNASTICS.

Last night at the Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium there was the largest attendance of the season of Junior and Senior Intermediates. Young men between the ages of 14 and 18 compose these two classes that meet on Monday and Thursday of each week, and the manner in which they are turning out reveals the fact that they appreciate the work and the recreation which is given for the development of the body. These fellows will give an exhibition of their work on New Year's night, in the form of a wand drill and apparatus work, and basketball matches. The chief feature interesting senior men will be a basket ball match between a team from the west and the first team. Keep these dates in mind and help to push it along.

CURLING.

A joint meeting of the Granite and Thistle Curling Clubs will be held in the parlours of the Otonabee street rink to-night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members of both clubs is asked and an invitation is extended to any others who are interested in the grand old game of curling.

MORE INDIAN REMAINS.

Four Skelstons Unearthed in Seymour Township.

(Campbellford Herald.)

A few weeks ago Mr. Arcantus Lane, who resides on lot, 25, in the 12th concession of Seymour, discovered the skelstons of four Indians, who were interred on his farm perhaps long before a white man set foot upon the soil.

While he was ploughing the ploughshare grated upon something which he supposed to be mud turtle's shells but which, upon examination proved to be a human skull. He secured a shovel and began digging, and in a few minutes, only a few inches below the furrow he unearthed three other skulls, all in a good state of preservation, with the teeth still free from decay, in the jaws. Upon further investigation he found the bones of the bodies were there also, and it would appear that the deceased Indians were buried in a sitting posture facing the north. They were close together. One skull was very large and two were small, probably those of adult size. The skulls were viewed by quite a numbe rof persons, and a few days afterwards Mr. Lane reinterred them in the corner of the fence, where probably they will never again be disturbed, unless Mr. David Boyle, curator of the Archaelogical Museum, hears of the find.

Called for Saturday December 6th in the Market Hall.

A mass meeting of those interested in the promulgation of the beet root sugar industry, in Peterborough and the near vicinity, will be held in the market hall, Peterborough, at 1.30 p.m., on Saturday, December 6th. Able addresses on this subject will be delivered by prominent men of business, well known successful farmers. Every farmer and citizen interested in this new industry is requested to be present on the date mentioned.

RECEIVED A CALL.

Vancouver Presbyterians Want Rev. W. J. MacMillan, of Lindsay.

A despatch from Vancouver, B.C., states that at a meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, which was held on Wednesday night, it was decided to send an unanimous call to Rev. W. J. MacMillan, of Lindsay, Ont., and formerly of Mount Pleasant church, that city. Stipend offered is $3,000.

UNAUTHORIZED RESOLUTION.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In regard to the resolution published in Thursday's issue of your paper purporting to have been adopted by the Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, of Ontario I may say that no resolution of that kind was passed at that meeting, nor was the secretary instructed to send a copy of any resolution to the papers at all. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space, I remain

Your, etc.,
H. H. HILLIER.

Peterborough, Dec. 5th, 1902.

The resolution referred to was published in the Examiner in good faith. It seemed to be genuine, as the note accompanying it bore the name of a gentleman purporting to be the secretary of the union, and who it is since learned is actually the secretary. The Examiner is therefore free of blame in the matter which forms a subject of explanation between the secretary and the members of the Bricklayers' Union.

Here are the Facts

You hear about the "active principle" of cod liver oil and are told that in certain wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil this principle is presented with the objectional features left out. Nothing to it. The only active principle of cod liver oil is the whole oil.

For years it has been known that in cod liver oil are united, in almost invisible form, valuable medicinal agents that maintain their value only so long as they are kept in perfect combination, in the whole oil. There is no process of medical skill or chemical science that can unite these peculiar properties as they exist in the whole oil; that is why there can be no substitute for cod liver oil.

In Scott's Emulsion the whole oil is presented perfectly emulsified so that it will readily enter the system without effort or tax on the digestive tract. The hypophosphites of lime and soda which are combined with it are valuable tonics, increasing the appetite, strengthening the nerves and restoring vitality in the whole system.

The most effective way of taking cod liver oil, as well as the easiest and safest, is in the form of Scott's Emulsion.

Avoid these so-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil that are prepared for the taste only, contain none of the value of cod liver oil which are dosed with a large percentage of alcohol. Scott's Emulsion has been the reliable cod liver oil preparation for over a quarter of a century.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Bright's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

MAKES LIFE EASY.

H. Hutchison, of Chatham, Tells how Dyspepsia Vanishes Before That Sure Cure, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Nearly everyone knows what Dyspepsia is. Few have escaped its aches and pains; its headaches and discomforts. Those who have are fortunate indeed; those who have not want to know how it can be cured and Mr. H. Hutchison, of Chatham, tells them in the following letter:

"I had suffered for a long period from Dyspepsia," writes Mr. Hutchison, "until a short time ago a friend brought me a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and from the very first I got relief.

"I keep them by me and any time I feel that my food is likely to disagree with me I just take one or two Tablets and feel no more effects of Indigestion.

"All I can say is that a man is a fool who will suffer from Dyspepsia when he can be so easily cured by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have yet to meet the case of Dyspepsia they cannot vanquish.

The Strain on the Eye.

There is no reason why a muscle or muscles of the eye should not fag out just as the muscles elsewhere do. Let one bear a weight all day long, does he not attribute his consequent headache to the heavy burden he has borne? It seems without elaborate thinking we could conceive of the results following upon prolonged use of the eye. Nature has done all she could to protect and prolong the usefulness of the eye.

No earthly architect ever yet planned a structure that would not yield, crumble and fall, and the house human, so exquisitely uplifted is curious and mysterious ways, falls and returns to dust more rapidly and surely than need be, for the reason that we do not realise how much one part is sustained or overthrown by another. One tiny muscle is potent enough to disturb the whole economy, especially if intercurrent diseases exist in addition to "eye strain."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Brown's Sympathy.

Jones—Charley fell from a street car last evening.

Brown—Oh, I'm awfully sorry!

Jones—But he wasn't hurt at all.

Brown—I wasn't thinking about Charley. I was thinking of the sufferings of those who would be told about that fall for months to come.

A Fussier.

"Paw," said little Tommy Figg on being scolded, "I heard Mr. Watts say that great men's sons never did any good. I ain't a great man's son, am I?"

Up to a late hour Mr. Figg's mind had not found a sufficiently diplomatic answer.

THE COOKBOOK.

To steam potatoes peel them and when very clean put them in a colander over boiling water. Cover tightly with a lid and leave them until done.

Tarragon leaves are most useful in salad and should be scalded, squeezed in a towel and chopped fine. This herb gives a zest to the salad that is always appreciated.

When making beef tea, never add the salt till the meat has been cooking for several hours. Salt acts upon the fiber and prevents it giving out all its nourishing properties.

A steak one inch thick requires to be broiled seven minutes; one inch and a half, twelve minutes; two inches, twenty minutes, near the fire at first and then four inches away.

A substitute for caper sauce is made by boiling some sprigs of parsley slowly to let it become a bad color. Do not chop it fine. Set it in melted butter, season with salt and a dessertspoonful of vinegar, boil up and serve.

A New Profession.

Young Mr. Inswim was hurrying blindly along the street toward a chemist's with a bottle in his hand when young De Trop hailed him.

De Trop—Hello, Inswim! I've scarcely seen you for a year. Where have you been keeping yourself since you were married?

Inswim—Oh, busy—busy all the time.

De Trop—I say, what are you doing mostly?

Inswim—I've got a new profession.

De Trop—What is it?

Inswim—Humorist.

De Trop—You don't say. I didn't think you were much in that line.

Inswim—I'm not a very glittering success.

De Trop—What—er—what sort of work do you do mostly?

And then young Mr. Inswim leaned over and whispered softly in young De Trop's ear:

"I'm spending most of my time trying to humor a baby that's engaged in tooth culture!"

Then he plunged madly on again toward the soothing syrup shop.—London Answers.

The Expense of Canary Birds.

The keeping of canaries seems to be a fairly expensive luxury. To start with, a really good bird will cost $50. You can easily spend more, but $50 will buy a fairly good Norwich bred bird. The food the bird requires consists of various delicacies in the form of rye, bread, rice, meal and vegetables. Canaries are liable to all sorts of ailments, and this, of course, necessitates further expense, for the treatment of these complaints is anything but cheap. Of course, no fancier of canaries would be content with one bird; he must have at least a dozen, and the cost of some of these will certainly run to $75. Fifteen hundred dollars per annum could easily be spent in this manner without a very big show for the money.—London Tatler.

On a Shelf.

"Mamma," asked little three-year-old Margie, "do people go to heaven when they die?"

"Yes, dear, if they are good," replied her mother.

"Then I guess grandpa wasn't any good," rejoined the little miss, "'cause when he died they just put him on a shelf in a big stone house and locked the door."

A Business Man's Tribute.

"You admire that musician?"

"Very much," answered Mr. Cumrox. "For his compositions or for his performances?"

"Neither. For his nerve in charging $5 each."—Washington Star.

A Wet Blanket.

"Congratulate me, Jimmy. I'm engaged to Sally Jenks."

"I'm awfully sorry, Henry, but I can't conscientiously do it. I've been engaged to Sally myself."

His Worth.

Naggsby—You say Trighfler is more trouble than he's worth. I haven't found him much trouble.

Waggsby—Neither have I.

Signs of Prosperity.

"How do you get the reputation of being so much richer than you are?" asked the intimate friend. "Very easily. I wear my old clothes as long as possible and never admit that I have any money that I could lend. People take it for granted that I must be prosperous."

How He Felt About It.

"I wish I could give up work and take a long rest."

"You'd do it if you could, would you?"

"Well, I'm not sure I'd do it if I could. It's one of those things you'd like to do when you can't."—Brooklyn Life.

It is agreed by medical authorities that the virulence of an epidemic may be increased by the element of fear in the public mind.

CRUSHING A BORE.

The Authority on Natural History That Sydney Smith Quoted.

Sydney Smith jokes have a delicate flavor of age, but an anecdote in "Memories of Half a Century" has not been told so often as some of the classic tales. Sydney was a guest at the dinner of an archdeacon, and a fellow guest, whose hobby was natural history, was a bore if once started on his subject. Smith promised to try to keep him in check. The naturalist got his opening.

"Mr. Archdeacon," said he, "have you seen the pamphlet written by my friend, Professor Dickenson, on the remarkable size of the eye in a common house fly?"

The archdeacon courteously said he had not. The bore pursued his advantage:

"I can assure you it is a most interesting pamphlet, setting forth particulars hitherto unobserved as to the unusual size of that eye."

"I deny the fact!" said a voice from the other end of the table. All smiled save the bore.

"You deny the fact, sir?" said he. "May I ask on what authority you condemn the investigations of my most learned friend?"

"I deny the fact," replied Smith, "and I base my denial on evidence wedded to immortal verse well known to every scholar at least at this table!"

The emphasis laid on scholar nettled the naturalist by its implication. "Well, sir," he said, "will you have the kindness to quote your authority?"

"I will, sir. The evidence is those well known, I may say immortal, lines:

"'Who saw him die?'
"'I,' said the fly,
"'With my little eye!'"

The guests roared, and during the rest of the dinner nothing further was heard on the subject of natural history.

The Original Wedding Cake.

Our wedding cake is the remains of a custom whereby a Roman bride held in her left hand three wheat ears, and many centuries later an English bride wore on her head a chaplet of wheat. The attendant girls threw corn, either in grains or in small bits of biscuit or cake, upon the heads of the newly married couple, and the guests picked up the pieces and ate them. Such was the beginning of the wedding cake, which did not come into general use until the eighteenth century and was then composed of solid blocks laid together and iced all over with sugar, so that when the outer crust was broken over the bride's head the cakes inside fell on the floor, and they were then distributed among the company.

Burn the Trash.

Oh, housewife, carrying that old chair with broken legs and missing seat up the stile stairs, pause and consider. Of what earthly use are the old broken pieces of furniture, old boxes of scraps and millinery and the general "lumber" that clutters up your attic, gathering dust, grime and germs? Why not make a rousing good bonfire a part of your house cleaning and make it the funeral pyre of the accumulated trash of years? You will be none the poorer by so doing.

YOU CAN TEST THE KIDNEYS

And Find out for Yourself Whether or not you are Becoming a Victim of Painful, Fatal Kidney Disease.

It is not necessary for you to consult a specialist on kidney diseases to find out if you are a victim of this dreadful derangement. You can test your kidneys at home, and satisfy yourself on this point.

Allow some urine to stand in a glass for twenty-four hours, and if at the end of that time you find sediment in the bottom of the vessel you can be sure that your kidneys are diseased.

Pains in the small of the back, and smarting when urinating, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, loss of flesh and strength, are other marked symptoms which indicate kidney disorders. Make this test for yourself. Consider whether you have any of these symptoms, and if you conclude that your kidneys are out of order begin at once to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They will bring prompt relief and will thoroughly cure you.

On account of their direct action on the kidneys Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure ailments of the kidneys when ordinary kidney medicines fail. They have proven their efficacy in many thousands of cases, and are endorsed by more people than any other kidney medicine extant.

Mr. C. Noyes, for many years section foreman and now flagman for the G.T.R. at Peterborough, Ont., states:—"For twenty-one years I was section foreman on the G.T.R. and was exposed to all sorts of weather. As a result my kidneys became affected and there was scarcely a day that I was not troubled more or less. At times I would have sharp shooting pains through my back and would get so used up that I felt like giving up work.

"During this time I was also a great sufferer from constipation. As I heard so much about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for kidney disease and constipation I began using them and can say that I was entirely cured of my old troubles in a short time. I cannot say anything too good about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and never lose an opportunity of recommending them."

CHASED THE M.P.

An Officer Describes a Thrilling Ride for Life From Wild Dogs on the Plains of Northern Saskatchewan.

According to Thomas MacKenzie of Calgary, the Saskatchewan Valley is infested by the fiercest wild animals in the world, and the most dangerous. MacKenzie has been a member of the Dominion Mounted Police for a number of years, serving almost exclusively on the Northwestern plains.

"Do you know," said MacKenzie, in conversation recently, "that the fiercest wild animal on the American continent, and perhaps in the world, is found in the Saskatchewan valley? And, what is more, he is not properly a wild animal at all. I have reference to the common dog, whose ancestors were brought in by trappers, hunters and adventurers and abandoned.

"Their offspring and descendants have not known the rule of man for five or six generations. They run wild, in packs of 10 to 50, and are an awful menace to single travelers passing through the lonely wastes which they inhabit. Unlike the wolf, they will attack a person whether they are hungry or not. They are almost as large as the big timber wolf stronger and have all the tenacity of the domestic dog when once they make an attack. The presence of two or three people has no terror for them. Differing from the wolf, they do not wait until they are in overpowering numbers, but will attack singly, after the manner of a vicious dog. They live exclusively on the animals they pull down in the chase, and this food has the same effect on them that it would have on the ordinary canine—it makes them powerful, savage and bloodthirsty.

"They are faster than the latter, however, and a pack of them will run a reindeer dogs after a chase of a mile or less. Their victim is torn to pieces almost as soon as captured. They are of the large mongrel variety, and of nearly every color found among the domestic dogs. They have lost one of the attributes of their ancestors, and never bark. Their voice is a low snarl, except when hurt. Then they yelp like the ordinary cur. Their silence makes them all the more dangerous, for they give no such warning of approach as is furnished by the howling of the wolf.

"These dogs were first discovered in the vicinity of the town where I live, and were known as the wild dogs of Calgary. The advance of settlement around them drove them deeper into the wilderness, and now they are all well north in the Saskatchewan valley.

"A year ago this fall I had an experience with a pack that I will not soon forget. I was on patrol duty with another man named Sykes, and both of us were fully 40 miles from our station. We picketed the horses early in the evening and were preparing to camp beside a fire which we had built in a little valley in the woods. The weather was beautiful, and we were enjoying it immensely, stretched out by the blazing faggot on the grass, smoking our pipes, when a deer dashed out of the brush and went past us as only a deer can run when winged with terror.

"Instinctively I picked up my carbine, and was about to take a shot at the disappearing game, when my companion called out to me to get my horse, at the same time making a break for his own, and jumping into the saddle. I followed suit, and in a moment we were both mounted. Without saying a word, he headed for the open prairie, a quarter of a mile away. I did not ask any questions, but followed. After we gained the open, I asked him what he meant by his sudden flight, and he told me that a pack of wild dogs was close upon us, and that the deer which had just passed us was fleeing from them. We were a few hundred yards from the brush, and he had scarcely finished the sentence, before the dogs broke cover. They were on the deer's trail, but as soon as they saw us they divided in two packs. One followed the deer, which was more than a mile away, and the other, much the larger, came directly for us.

"A small river ran through the plain, about two miles away. Sykes told me to ride for the stream, and make it ahead of the dogs, or I was a dead man. We both started, and if ever there was a ride for life, that was one. Talk about your military heroes doing exciting equestrian stunts! If they failed, they would at least fall into the hands of human beings, and perhaps be treated fairly well. But here was a different proposition. When wild dogs take prisoners it is so much the worse for the prisoners.

"That ride will live with me always. Here we were, two men, nearly a thousand miles from civilization, no human help at hand, riding a race with life as the stake. The first few stars peeping out in the sky were the only witnesses as we strained for the goal and listened to the galloping feet of the dogs behind. If the horses lagged or stumbled, it was all over, and a horrible death was the penalty. And yet I do not remember of being greatly afraid.

"Before half the race was run the pursuing beasts were by our sides. The ponies never faltered, and we beat the dogs away with our whips when they attempted to leap at their heads. I remember well their shaggy sides, and particularly a big black and white cur that growled viciously at me when I cut him with the whip as he scampered along at my stirrup. The horses were bitten in several places, but we reached the river bank at last, and plunged in without allowing the horses to slacken their swinging gallop.

"We swam to the opposite shore, and dismounted. The pack on the other side, after a little hesitation, also took the stream. Then we brought our carbines into use, and killed eight of them almost as soon as they got into the water. The others slunk back from the river, and I have never seen a wild dog since. But, if it hadn't been for the friendly river, my bones would now be whitening on the Saskatchewan plains, like many another victim of those dreaded brutes."

NESTING WOOD DUCKS.

The Courtship Period .. Followed by a Very Prosaic Married Life.

When a pair of wood ducks find water and a hollow tree to suit, little time is lost in preparing the nest. This task and the covering of the eggs are performed by the female, for, to the best of my knowledge, the male does little more than sit around on handy limbs and look pretty. During the period of nest building and while the duck is laying he is the beau ideal of a handsome and loving cavalier, ever attentive and seemingly most anxious as to her whereabouts should she happen to get out of his sight. But with the waning of the honeymoon he seems to feel rather bored with the whole business, and gradually he gets clubby—i. e., wanders from his own fireside and hunts up another drake or two to help him loaf away the summer. The busy little duck keeps her own counsel and "sits tight" on the dozen or more highly polished ivorylike eggs crowded together in a bed of soft decayed wood and down from her breast.

Quite frequently the nest is at the bottom of a hollow several feet deep, and no doubt the strong, hooked claws of the wood duck are a special provision for the oft repeated climbing out of the hollow.—Edwyn Sandys in Outing.

Faithful to the Last.

In many Scotch families the old manservant is a permanent institution. He enters the service of a family when he is a boy, sticks to his place and resigns only when the infirmities of age are upon him. Naturally he grows in time to claim as rights what were at first granted him as favors and if he is opposed asserts himself with a spirit of independence. An English paper tells a story illustrative of this.

A lady's coachman, a crusty old fellow, who had been in the service of the family in her father's time, gave her great trouble and annoyance on several occasions by not carrying out her instructions. At length his conduct became unbearable, and she determined to dismiss him. Calling him into her presence, she said with as much asperity as she could command:

"I cannot stand this any longer, John. You must look out for another situation. You will leave my service at the end of the month."

The old servant looked at her in amusement for a minute, and then the characteristic "loyalty" came to the surface.

"Na, na, my lady," he said. "I drove you to the kirk to be baptized, I drove you to your marriage, and I'll stay to drive you to your funeral."

A School of Poisoners.

A merciless school of poisoners once flourished in Venice. During the fifteenth century even the government of the state used poison without any disguise as a weapon. A body called "the council of ten" was appointed to determine who should be dispatched, and they dealt with the lives of princes, kings and popes as one would deal with superfluous trees in a wood. A curious document is still extant in which the proceedings of this council are recorded. It shows that one John of Ragusa prepared a selection of poisons and scale of fees. The fee varied with the importance of the victim and the length of the journey to be made for his dispatch. For poisoning the Duke of Milan he charged 60 ducats, for the pope 100 ducats, for the king of Spain 150 ducats, for the "great sultan" 500 ducats.

No Chance to Talk.

"There's one good thing about matrimony." What's that?" "It makes a man think more and talk less."—World's Comic.

In Girlhood

There is a great need of motherly watchfulness and care. A growing girl needs all her strength, and if she is nervous and melancholy, and loses appetite there is surely something wrong. This is especially true as the young girl approaches that important period of change when her womanly function is established. Timely care and proper treatment at this period may save much after suffering.

The best medicine for young girls who are nervous, melancholy, and irregular of appetite, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures nervousness, dizziness, and melancholy, promotes the appetite, and gives the body robust health. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"My daughter was troubled with dizziness and constipation and was very nervous for five years," writes Mrs. W. Carter, of 1345 4th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. "I tried several doctors but they gave her no relief. At times she would eat nothing, had green and purple circles under her eyes, and was melancholy. A woman friend of mine told me to try your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' which I did. After taking one bottle of each she began to improve and is still improving. People said she looked as though she were going into a decline. She is twelve years old. There are no circles around her eyes now and she is healthy and robust, eats as much as any child, and is growing fatter every day."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate the bowels

MUTILATED COINS.

Could You Go Home to Jail?—Assistant Receiver-General Writes a Letter That May Cause Many Shivers.

In the following letter to the press of Toronto, Mr. David Creighton, the Assistant Receiver-General, give the average citizen an attack of the shivers, if he does not, in fact, subject the reader to nervous prostration. Though punched and mutilated coins are common, nowadays, most people regard their possession merely as a nuisance, rather than as a jeopardizing of personal liberty. But now Mr. Creighton, at one fell stroke, destroys our cherished sense of security by clearly pointing out that we have all offended against the Criminal Code, probably, time and time again, and that we are likely any day to repeat the crime. In short, few have not broken section 475 of the Code, and by "uttering gold or silver coin of less than its lawful weight," become liable to three years' imprisonment. Because of the startling information contained in it, Mr. Creighton's letter is appended in full:

Some one, through the Toronto press, has been enquiring what to do with mutilated and defaced coins. It is a notorious fact that many such coins remain in circulation, but I believe their circulation would soon be stopped if people were aware what severe penalties they made themselves liable to by passing them. For public information, publish the following sections of the Criminal Code:

468. Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to 14 years' imprisonment who imparts, diminishes or lightens any current gold or silver coin, with intent that the coin so impaired, diminished or lightened may pass for current gold or silver coin.

469. Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment who defaces any current gold, silver or copper coin by stamping thereon any names or words, whether such coin is or is not thereby diminished or lightened, and afterward tenders the same.

475. Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to three years' imprisonment who utters, as being current, and gold or silver coin of less than its lawful weight, knowing such coin to have been impaired, diminished or lightened, otherwise than by lawful wear.

476. Every one who utters any coin defaced by having stamped thereon any names or words, is guilty of an offence, and liable, on summary conviction before two justices of the peace, to a penalty not exceeding ten dollars.

The easiest way for a person into whose possession any of these mutilated or defaced coins have come, to get rid of them, is to sell them to a jeweler for old gold or silver.

Very Fine Handiwork.

Dr. Heylin, in his "Life of King Charles," records that during the reign of Queen Elizabeth "there was one who wrote the Ten Commandments, the Creed, the Pater Noster, the queen's name and the prayer of our Lord within the compass of a penny and gave her majesty a pair of spectacles of such an artificial making that by the help thereof she did plainly and distinctly discern every letter."

A somewhat similar feat was that "rare piece of work brought to pass by Peter Bales, an Englishman, who also exhibited before her majesty the entire Bible written in a book containing as many leaves as a full sized edition, but fitting into a walnut."

Parasite Flowers.

Curious excrescences resembling rude flowers that grow on trees in Tierra del Fuego are described by a correspondent of La Nature, Paris. These are found to be due to a parasitic growth, but the "flowers" consist of the inner wood of the tree which has been forced through the bark and assumes various fanciful shapes, often those of the classical acanthus, seen on Corinthian capitals. The parasite that causes the growth is a relative of the mistletoe.

Cork Carpets.

A cork carpet may be kept clean and in good condition by using the following mixture: Put into a bottle equal parts of vinegar, turpentine, methylated spirit and linseed oil and shake all well together. Rub this well all over the carpet with a pad of cloth or something of the kind, polishing it well afterward with a clean cloth.

To Bring It Out.

"I know I've got a vein of poetry in me, sir," confidently asserted the young man to the editor, "and all I want is a chance to bring it out. What would you suggest, sir?"

"I think you had better see a doctor and have it lanced."

A Sad Story.

Fowling is now very little practiced in the Shetland Islands, although many eggs are secured annually. Many thrilling stories of fowling adventure are told by the Shetlanders. A man who had undertaken to climb a certain steep cliff was neither very experienced nor very brave, although he boasted of being both. He pushed upward, however, briskly without looking behind until he had got up about 150 feet, when he stopped to breathe. The pause was fatal to his self possession, and he called out in tones of terror, "Men, men, I am going—I am going." But he still held on for a little, and it was not till he had shrieked many times "I am going" that he did fall headlong.

His comrades, having thus been warned, moved the boat out of the way so that the poor fellow came sheer down into the deep water. Mighty was the plunge, but at length he rose to the surface, when of course he was instantly caught hold of and dragged into the boat. After many gasps and much spluttering of sea water from his mouth his only remark was: "Eh, men, this is a sad story. I have lost my snuffbox."—"Sketches and Tales of Shetland."

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone erradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. The Other Side.

An author who illustrates his own novels has submitted to an interview.

"You find that it pays, don't you?"

"You bet—in lots of ways. For instance, I get paid for the story?"

"Yes."

"Then the illustrations of the author of a book are worth double those of the ordinary artists?"

"Of course."

"Then some fool of a rich fellow comes along and offers a fabulous sum for the original drawings and wants an introduction to you and invites you to dine with him, and your fortune is made and your future is safe! It's a great scheme, I tell you, and authors are fools who don't make the most of it!"

The Choice of a Husband.

"What a lucky girl you are, Liddy, to be able to choose between two such handsome and stylish young gentlemen? Have you made up your mind which is to be your husband?"

"To tell the truth, I'm in a bit of a fix. If I desire to wear my cream colored dress at the wedding, I shall take Alphonse, as he is dark complexioned, you know; but if I decide to go in my blue dress I rather think fair Joseph will make the better match of the two."

Fierce Indeed.

"Now, then, children," said the teacher, who had been commenting upon polar expeditions, "who can tell me what fierce animals inhabit the regions of the north pole?"

"Polecats!" shouted the boy at the foot of the class.

To Get a Divorce.

When "love, cherish and obey" and "sickness, poverty and death" are left out of the marriage ritual, what do the happy pair "promise" themselves—merely to keep the peace?

Feed Him.

If you want to win the gratitude of a dog, feed him. As to men, the material difference is the quality of the food.

New York, December 5th, 9.45 a.m.—Grain—Liverpool opening unchanged; corn 1-8 higher. There was one million bushels wheat on delivery yesterday afternoon. It was sent out largely by Armour Peavy, Bartlett, Frazier and Logan. Deliveries, corn 1,200, and 45 oats.

DENISON.

Cotton—Spot Market fair demand; prices steady unchanged to 4@ for middlings; sales 10,000 bales; receipts 74,000, all American. Futures opened quiet at 1@2 points decline as compared with yesterday's closing.

M. & M.

Car lots wheat 47; corn 139; oats 184.
M. & M.

Some rally is due after such reaction as we have experienced this a.m. Would not be surprised if we got it. Market very dull and very little stock coming out.

M. & M.

Feature of the market has been straggling liquidation from various sources. Western interests selling, and so have commission houses; sentiment bearish, but traders on both sides. Intractions and Manhattan there is evidence of support by Butler Brothers, but mostly confined to Man., and B.R.T. Lordon been moderate seller. Demand sterling, 487.20; market firm. Paris exchange on London off at 25 francs 15 centimes.

M. & M.

Wheat 1-8 to 1-4 higher. Cotton 2 points down, closing, Liverpool.

M. & M.

Extremely narrow conditions of market clearly apparent from the fact that the total sales to-day, only 192,500, and absence of of much support or any real good buying is evidenced by dragging tendency of prices and a moderate amount of liquidation. Principal talk is about the prospective bad showing of bank statement and absolute scarcity of time money to carry over first of the year. It is reported that some new sterling loans have been made for the next three months to further delay gold exports.

M. & M.

Our Mr. Fay says the market looks oversold. T. J. Taylor trying to bid up the market.

M. & M.

Sub-treasury statement shows that banks have lost up to last night $7,404,000 including $1,000,000 exported to South America. Banks gained from interior $727,000. A loss of $2,000,000 cash by banks to treasury last week carried over into this week.

LONDON'S NEW PAVEMENT.

A Trial Section of Bituminous Asphalt Macadam.

Confidence That the Ideal Pavement has Been Reached.

The following from the London Free Press refering to a section of experimental Bituminous Macadam Pavement which will doubtless be of interest in a town where our streets are in need of the application of some effective system:

The new bituminous macadam pavement on Talbot street was completed yesterday. First impressions of it are good. London taxpayers have expended a great amount of money in costly experiements in roadmaking, and it is sincerely to be hoped that this latest experiment will prove a success. Should it do so, Warren Bros., of Boston, the contractors, will find London a liberal giver of fresh contracts, for what the new pavement appears to be is exactly what has for a long while been looked for. It is a clean, comparatively noiseless pavement, affords plenty of grip for horses' feet, and—very important this—it is claimed to have the wearing life of the crushed stone that is in it. These stone are what is known as "hard stone" and they were especially selected from the St. Mary's quarries, and should give many years of service.

There are eleven thousand surface yards in the new pavement, and it should afford an ample test, being one of the most largely travelled streets in the city—a traffic likely now to be considerably augumented. It is 3,620 feet in length, with a width of 28 feet, exclusive of a 15-inch gutter and 6-inch curb. Over one thousand cords of stone have been used in its construction. The foundation is composed of 5 inches of coarse broken stone. This is poured with bituminous cement, which is the patented property of Warren Brothers. Upon top of this is then placed a bituminous macadam mixture in which the stones range from two inches down to the very finest powder. The various sizes of stone are put in with a nicety of calculation, the result of experiment, the object being to obtain a solid body, in which no crevices or cracks shall exist. This is thoroughly rolled in, and it is claimed to be impervious to water, that great enemy of the asphalt pavements. Over this is placed the "squeeze coat"—a coat of the bituminous cement that fills up the last remaining unevenness, and is the final protection. A top dressing of crushed screenings is added which give the pavement its rough finish so satisfactory to horses' feet.

The contract price of the new pavement, which runs from Fullarton to Oxford street, is $24,000. The ratepayers on Talbot street meet the bill, save the street intersections, which come from the general rate. The latter represent approximately 2,000 surface yards.

This is the first contract the Warren Bros. have had in Canada. Under the superintendence of Mr. M. F. Offutt, the pavement has been satisfactorily put down, and the engineering department believe the city has now a pavement in which they can place perfect reliance, and that in the long run will prove to be not only a roadway of much attractiveness, but one that represents the best economy.

THE PREMIER'S VIEW.

Opinions Have Changed Somewhat Since May—Attitude of Conservatives.

"From the vote so far, as known, I would not like to say that Ontario is ready for prohibition." So said Premier Ross yesterday morning, who, when seen by a reporter, was busy studying the referendum returns, as revealed by the morning papers. "If we had the full vote it would furnish a more accurate basis for drawing conclusions. One significant incident of the campaign was the attack made upon the bar-rooms as the most obnoxious feature of the liquor traffic, and if one were to be guided by that note of the campaign it would seem as if that phase of the question was the one most to be considered in dealing with the question in the future.

"Judging by the result of the vote on prohibition in Toronto, and at some other points, as far as we have yet seen the figures, it would almost appear as if the statement made by the liquor dealers Thursday that the Conservative organizations throughout the country had used their influence to carry the measure in order to embarrass the Government was correct.

"For instance, in the city of Toronto, the majority against the Government in the last election was 3,439, whereas the majority in favor of prohibition was 1,630. In 1898 also the vote in Toronto was very strongly against the Government, amounting to 2,827. A curious circumstance in the election is the vote in North Toronto. In the last election Mr. Marter was defeated by a majority of 232, and prohibition carried by a majority of 1,574. Mr. Marter advocated in the House every amendment to the liquor act which was proposed by the prohibition party, and on that account had a special claim upon the support of the prohibitionists. Yet he was defeated. When the vote was taken on prohibition there was a large majority in a measure not even quite as favorable to the prohibitionists as the one Mr. Marter advocated. How is this? Did the prohibitionists in the last election vote for party candidate as against Mr. Marter, or has there been an extraordinary change of heart since the general election?

"Another feature of the campaign quite conspicuous is that so many cities, and I have no doubt when we get the full returns, many constituencies also, that supported Mr. Whitney's candidate rejected entirely Mr. Whitney's views on the question of prohibition. Take Toronto and Hamilton as illustrations. The four Torontos voted Whitney as a party man. Two of the Torontos voted against Whitney on the question of prohibition. Hamilton supported and elected two Conservative candidates. Hamilton rejected also Mr. Whitney's policy. Working the matter out in detail in some of the other cities, similar results are apparent. If Stratford had given a majority for the Liberal candidate it gave for prohibition, the decision in North Perth would have been very much changed. The same may be said of Guelph and some other cities and certainly for a large number of towns in the Province. It is quite evident therefore that a great many people in their zeal for the party candidate supported him as against their views on the question of prohibition. Of course if the same aggregate vote had been polled throughout the Province as was polled in the general election a more accurate deduction could be drawn from the situation as it now appears. But with such illustrations as Toronto, Hamilton, Stratford, Guelph and some of the large towns the inference I have drawn from the result of the vote seems a reasonable one.

"When full returns are received I shall be able to speak with greater confidence as to the situation."

MULTIMILLIONAIRE'S DESIRE.

To Settle Strike Outside Commission by Buying Independent Mines—Blind Men as Exhibits.

Scranton, Dec. 6.—The desire of J. Pierpont Morgan that the miners and operators shall settle their differences outside the Strike Commission will undoubtedly be realized. Wayne MacVeagh, legal representative of the great banker's coal interests, had a midnight conference last night with President Mitchell and other leaders of the United Mine Workers, and, as a result, it is intimated by both parties to the dispute that a settlement may be reached within a few days.

The opposition of the independent operators to a settlement outside the Strike Commission prevented an amicable settlement ten days ago. In order that this opposition may be removed, however, the big railroad presidents will probably purchase the mining properties of the independents. This will represent an investment of $100,000,000.

Blind Men as Exhibits.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 6.—The lawyers for the mine workers continued to call witnesses yesterday before the Strike Commission to testify to the alleged blacklisting methods pursued by several coal companies in refusing to re-employ strikers who took a more or less prominent part in the affairs of the Mine Workers' Union during the recent suspension. All of them said they had been employed before the strike, but were refused their old places after the strike was ended. In most cases, according to the testimony, no satisfactory reasons was given why they were not taken back. Two blind men, who were also otherwise badly injured by underground explosions, were presented as living evidence of the dangers in the mines.

Stokers Still on Strike.

Marseilles, Dec. 6.—The syndicate of shipowners maintain an unyielding attitude towards the strikers, though it is reported that some members are in favor of conducting some negotiations. Five thousand strikers held a meeting yesterday and voted to reject with contempt the proposals made by the owners Thursday, which were pronounced insulting. The strikers adjourned cheering for a general strike.

QUEBEC AND G.T.R. TRANS.

Favors the Extension Across the Continent From Quebec to Port Simpson.

Quebec, Dec. 6.—A large meeting of representatives of Quebec mercantile interests was held at the rooms of the Quebec Board of Trade yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the question of the proposed Grand Trunk Pacific extension. The unanimous opinion of those present favored the trans-Canada route from Quebec to Port Simpson, a distance of 2,830 miles, as opposed to the Grand Trunk extension from Portland to Port Simpson, 3,600 miles, or from Levis to Port Simpson, 3,400 miles. It was pointed out that while not a mile of the Grand Trunk extension would be constructed in this province, some 600 miles of the trans-Canada road would traverse the northern district of Quebec, and some 350 miles of the same road would run through the northern part of Ontario. It was decided to have a delegation wait on the Provincial Government with regard to a land grant to the trans-Canada Railway.

Need Not Be Alarmed.

London, Dec. 6. — The Financial Times says the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway need not be alarmed at the proposed transcontinental line. If it is to be built it will be run separate to the existing system, but twenty million pounds will be required, and that amount needs some getting.

A Second Cable Needed.

London, Dec. 5.—At a special meeting of the London Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Lord Brassey presiding, Mr. Charles Bright read a paper on "Imperial Telegraphic Communication." He said that owing to the great length of one section of the Pacific cable it was bound to be a slow-working line, and to meet the traffic, owing to congestion and the chances of a break-down, it would require to be duplicated. Mr. Bright suggested a link with the American Pacific cable.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 6.—W. Cockins, a seaman of H.M.S. Egeria, was killed yesterday as a result of an accident at the naval yard. He fell from a staging, and a trunk fell on

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY MEETING.

Reports of Various Officers Were Received

AND OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Mr. J. J. McBain Re-elected President—Some Interesting Facts Concerning Neglected Children.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held yesterday afternoon in the Town Council Chamber with the following members present:—President J. J. McBain, Secretary R. M. Dennistoun, Revs. Torrance, Langfeldt, Father McGoll, Messrs. Dumble, Campbell, Burnham, Cochrane, and Mrs. Birdsall.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun read the minutes of the previous annual meeting which were approved and signed.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Following this was the Secretary's report which was as follows:

To the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—The annual meeting has been called earlier than usual for two reasons:—

First, the season's work commences with the advent of winter. The children who have run wild and half naked all summer without any injury or discomfort to themselves, are now to be provided with food, clothing and shelter for the next five months, and we may be sure that a number of them will fall to our care. It is therefore advisable to elect officers and make our plans before the busy season sets in.

In the second place, the Provincial authorities are anxious to have the reports of our work before the close of the year for publication in the annual returns to the Legislature.

The officers of the Society, in meeting the members for the first time since last January, feel that some sort of an apology is needed. You have the right to ask why you have not been consulted on points of procedure during the year, and why the President, Secretary, Treasurer and Agent have taken upon themselves the whole burden of the management to the exclusion of all others. The answer is, that all matters have run along so smoothly and comfortably during the year that there appeared no just cause for calling a meeting of the Society or of the Executive Committee. The taking in of the children, and placing them out again, is now a matter of routine, controlled on the one side by the town and county magistrates, and on the other by very efficient Government Inspectors, under the direction of Mr. Kelso. We are very much indebted to our Police Magistrates, Mr. Dumble and Mr. Edmison for the consideration they have given to the Society and its representatives in their respective courts, and we believe we have been able to assist them in disposing of many difficult cases without the intervention of the sheriff or the jailer.

We also wish to express our satisfaction with the work done by Mrs. Harvie and Mr. Connor, the Government visitors, who have exercised a careful supervision over our wards throughout the Province.

In the month of May last a boy was placed in the shelter by the police. The Society was not consulted in the matter. If we had been, the result would probably have been the same, but the fact remains, that this boy was taken from a house where there was a case of diphtheria. Two of our children and the matron took the disease. The children were sent to the hospital and the matron remained in the shelter. Fortunately all recovered, and three other children who were in the shelter at the time, escaped the disease, thanks to the prompt and skilful treatment adopted by Dr. Pigeon.

Again this fall a girl was placed in the shelter by the police without consulting the officers of the Society. No one knew who this girl was or where she came from. She had either to go to the shelter or to the jail. Your officers, in view of this year's experience, feel they are taking serious responsibilities in permitting children to be placed in the shelter of whose former surroundings they know nothing. We think it well to lay down the rule that no child be admitted to the shelter except upon order of a magistrate, or the President, Secretary or Agent of the Society. Upon this subject an expression of opinion is asked of this meeting.

Of bright, healthy children we have this year had a number. With these there is no trouble in dealing—we can place them in good homes as fast as they come to us.

There are, however, two other classes which are troublesome. Towards the end of last March we found two young children in North Dummer in a state of terrible destitution. They were placed in the shelter and every care and attention given them, when it was eventually discovered that both were idiots. They remained on our hands until July, a source of great trouble and inconvenience to Mrs. Henry; when, a inconvenience to Mrs. Henry; when, after a good deal of correspondence, they were taken over by the Government. The children were too young for the asylum at Orillia, hence the difficulty of disposing of them.

The other difficult, indeed almost impossible class, of whom we have several, consists of girls between the ages of 15 and 16. When they fall into our hands under a magistrate's order, they are generally too big and too naughty for adoption. We cannot risk the reputation of the Society by putting them out to work in the country. People will not take children whom they know to be idle and bold. We certainly cannot keep them in the shelter with the little ones. We, therefore, tried this year, and without much success, to place them out at work in town under the surveillance of the Agent, but we are afraid little good was accomplished. We are

Fibroid Tumors Cured

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine.

"Some time ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and today I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt in the minds of fair people.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

A CAREFUL REVIEW OF HORSE MARKET

By Mr. F. W. Hudson, Live Stock Commissioner.

BREEDING CARRIAGE HORSES

The Great Need of the Horse Business is More Intelligence and Enterprise Amongst Horsemen.

The following is a synopsis of an address delivered by Dr. J. Hugo Reed, one of the expert judges employed by this Department at the recent Charlottetown Fair.

If a man is breeding for the market he should find out what the market demands and then make up his mind as to what style of the horses in demand he can produce at most profit to himself. The best selling horses to-day are heavy draughts, carriage horses and saddle horses.

HEAVY DRAUGHTS.

Prince Edward Island is certainly in a position to produce good heavy horses. The Clydes are a good breed and seem to be in most demand. The stallions at present owned on the Island when mated to good mares will certainly produce colts that will sell well. A reasonably heavy mare of good conformation is required. There were instances on the grounds where Clyde stallions had been bred to light mares of standard bred blood. The progeny were nondescripts of no particular use, and this is the general result of such violent crossing.

CARRIAGE HORSES.

The distinction between carriage horses and roadsters is evidently not well understood by exhibition managements or people in the Maritime Provinces. These are two distinct types of horses, and should not be judged in the same class. There should be provision at least for a single roadster in harness and a matched pair.

The distinction between roadsters and carriage horses is not a matter of size, or of breeding. The road horse is valuable for his performance in getting over the road; the carriage horse for his attractiveness, his style and action, in addition to his road qualities. The carriage horse in demand to-day must have action, high action, folding his knees and hocks well, and he must do this no matter whether going five miles an hour or fifteen. He must hold up his head without the aid of a check and always look proud. In size he may vary from 15 1-2 hands to 16 hands or even slightly over. As a general rule the carriage horse should have more substance than the roadster, be more horizontal in the croup, and above all must have a high proud head. The road horse with low action and perhaps low head may go faster and farther and last longer than the carriage horse, but he is not so much in demand. In the large markets, Chicago, New York, Detroit and even Toronto the carriage horse may sell for from $600 up, while the road horse will bring from $150 up.

Breeding Carriage Horses.—Standard Bred owners claim that their stallions will get good carriage horses. This is true to some extent, but the percentage is very small. The surest way to get carriage horses is to use a stallion with the desired action. He is best got in the Hackney or one of the Coaching breeds. Personally I prefer the English Hackney. The dam must of course be carefully selected. To mate well with the stallions above mentioned she must have more or less warm blood. She should have been sired by a Standard Bred or a Thoroughbred stallion. This is necessary because the Hackney and Coaching breeds have not a long continued purity of breeding and so have not that prepotency which the thoroughbred stallion for instance has. They cannot therefore like the thoroughbred impress their individuality upon colts from mares of coarse type and cold blood. Kilnwick Fireaway, the Hackney you have here, should be able, if intelligently mated, to produce a good type of carriage horses. To get carriage horses by the use of a thoroughbred sire, you must have mares of high action, for the thoroughbred's natural gait is a gallop or a trot. He has long, low action. He is, however, the purest blooded animal in the world.

Referring to the term "thoroughbred," the word is much abused. It can only be correctly applied to the English thoroughbred racing horse or his purebred descendant. The word cannot be applied to a Clyde or a Hackney, nor a bull, a ram, or a boar. Such animals may be pure bred, but never thoroughbred. The thoroughbred stallion from his purity of breeding can give better results than other stallions, with rough and cold blooded mares, and will often get good saddle horses that way. It is the influence of thoroughbred blood that has produced the standard bred trotter of to-day. It is his thoroughbred ancestry which gives him his courage and endurance.

Saddle Horses. — As above indicated saddlers can best be got by the use of a thoroughbred stallion. Mares of strong conformation should be chosen. Strength of loin and quarter is an all important necessity in a saddler. A good general purpose mare can be used, and will give saddle horses for heavy weight riding more surely than mares of finer breeding. Good saddlers are perhaps the most difficult horses to-day to buy, and they will bring as good prices as the carriage horses.

General Principles. — Whatever line of breeding a man may follow, he must have a definite object and know what he is doing. There are now on the island a good many mares that would mate well with the thoroughbred or hackney or coaching stallion. I would not use a coarse or cold blooded mare but would endeavour to get one with standard bred or other warm blood. As a general rule a good driving mare will cross well with a hackney. If Government inspection of horses, such as is carried on in Quebec, could be carried out free from political intrigue, it would be a good thing in any country. The horsemen have, however, the whole question in their hands. The scrub stallion only exists because he is patronized. If breeders demand purebred stallions the scrub will have to go out of business. Some farmers seem to think that because they have not got a choice mare that it is not worth while to pay from $10 to $15 fee for a good stallion, but they take a scrub at from $4 to $6. This is a great mistake. If a mare is worth breeding at all she is worth breeding to the best stallion procurable. The great need of the horse business is more intelligence and enterprise among the horsemen rather than Government regulations.

B.C. RAILWAY SCHEMES.

Application Made For Charters to Open Up New Territory.

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 6. — Notice is given in The Official Gazette last night of an application for a charter for the construction of a railway from Hazelton, at the head of the Skeena, via the Skeena, Babina, Driftwood, Omineca and Pine River, or both, thence to the eastern boundary of British Columbia. This is the route over which the Grand Trunk officials say the projected transcontinental line is to cross Canada.

Application is also made for a charter for a line from Hazelton to Teslin Lake or Atlin Lake, or both.

A charter is also sought for a line from Nasga Gulf to Naas River and thence via Naas and Stikine Rivers to Deas Lake and River to Telegraph Creek, with river steamers operating on the Stikine and Naas.

Another charter is asked for a line from the coast, near Burke Channel or Bentinck Arm, then by way of the Bella Cool River, Palmer's Trail and Blackwater River to Pine River Pass, or Yellowhead Pass, or both, thence to the eastern boundary of the said province, and from a point at or near where the line of a railway intersects the one hundred and twenty-fifth meridian to a point on Burrard Inlet.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

Kingston Child the Victim of a Painful Accident.

A two-year-old child of A. Moore, Secretary of The Times, Kingston, died yesterday as a result of pulling a can of boiling water over himself. The hot water badly scalded the back, lungs and kidneys. The child suffered intensely.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lovingly dedicated to Mrs. Wm. Laing, who died in Peterborough, November 7th, 1902:

Whisper, oh whisper it softly,
Mother, dear mother, is gone;
Gone from this world, with its trials,
Gone to her Heavenly Home.

Softly at watches of midnight,
Angels surrounded her bed,
And whispered, "Tired heart cease beating"
They pillowed her weary head.

Then on her brow so placid,
A kiss they must have pressed,
Ere they bore her spirit Heavenward
To the mansions of the blest.

There to meet with those loved ones,
Who before her crossed the flood,
And join them in praise to the Saviour,
Who washed her in His blood.

Closely the watchers listened,
They heard her breathe this prayer—
"Lord Jesus, bless my spirit,
To Thee I committ its care."

Sweetly her form now is sleeping,
Low in the dark, silent tomb,
Waiting that morn when Heaven's brightness
Shall scatter away the gloom.

No more we'll feel her warm hand clasp,
Or its soft palm be laid on our head,
As when in our hours of sickness,
She waited beside our bed.

The chair in the corner is empty,
The home with its brightness is o'er,
And our hearts cry out in their sorrow,
Would God, we had loved her more.

We'll strive to meet thee, dear mother,
Across on that bright golden shore,
Where all, "saved by grace," will gather,
And loved ones be parted no more.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses all produce headaches and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head, and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like red gum, blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure and after using a few fifty cent boxes which I procured from my druggist's I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures) no opium (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

An immense snowslide occurred at Cornucopia, Oregon, Thursday night. Two miners were killed.

A party of one hundred and seventy-five English, Scotch and Welsh agriculturists left Liverpool Thursday for Canada.

George Sherverton, driver of an express wagon in Philadelphia, became confused by the snow, drove his team into a trolley car, and suffered fatal injuries.

Mr. J. S. Willison, for 20 years connected with The Globe, severed his connection with that paper Friday evening. A eulogistic address and a silver service was presented to him, and he made a suitable reply.

A Familiar Name.

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

In South America and Australia pasture is abundant and oxen of the finest quality are plentiful. Bovril is prepared from these oxen and the supply is so considerable as to enable the manufacturers to use the best materials at a nominal cost. It is prepared by a special process, which ensures the retention of both the stimulating and the nourishing properties of the beef, thereby differing from ordinary meat extracts or beef tea, which merely stimulate without nourishing. The effect of stimulants is transitory; a mere flicker of energy purchased at the price of greater fatigue.

MATTERS MILITARY

BY SENTRY.

Major Nell, formerly of the 15th Regiment, Victoria, who is now in Victoria, in writing to Capt. Williamson, of Lindsay, says:

"I have been in every district in the Transvaal, visited all the towns also the Orange Free State, Natal and Cape Colony, and I must say I was surprised in finding the number of I met who are acquainted with Col. Hughes. He seems to be as well known out here as at home, and there is not a doubt but that he did good work. All the officers whom I have met who served with him or near him, speak in the highest terms of his courage and ability to lead men. They all say that if there had been a few more like our colonel out here and the red tape cut off the war would have ended two years ago. I tell you that no one need feel ashamed to say out here, that he belonged to Col. Hughes' regiment. All who know the colonel speak more than highly of him.

"I myself, feel greatly indebted to the colonel, as the early training he gave me has been of invaluable assistance to me, both in military and other lines.

"I suppose Staples is home by this time. I have not seen him since August, when he left for Cape Town. I was very sorry he had a touch of the fever, but glad to say, he recovered all right and was quite strong when he left for home."

* * * *

It is interesting to learn that the colours of the Royal Canadian Regiment are to be sent to England for certain distinctions won by the corps to be emblazoned upon them and for some requisite alterations also. These flags are those presented to the regiment in England by the Duke of York. The King's colour bears in the centre the royal cypher "V. R. and I." It will be replaced with his Majesty's cypher, "E. R. and I." Then the regimental colours, which bears the word "Saskatchewan," is to have added the names in commemoration of the service the regiment saw in the Boer war. These will probably be South Africa, 1899-1900, Cape Colony, Paardeberg, Driefontein, Orange Free State, Transvaal. The regimental colour of the Royal Canadian Dragoons will also be sent to England to have these names placed upon it: South Africa, Cape Colony, Orange Free State, Johannesburg, Diamond Hill, Belfast, Transvaal.

* * * *

The Ottawa Journal says:—The Princess Louise Dragoons are to be increased to two squadrons during the next season by raising one rural squadron. Next year the regiment is to be raised to three squadrons and the following season to four, making the regiment full strength. This is a good move and will add greatly to the standard of the Ottawa brigade. This brigade is at present one of the best and smartest in Canada, and when turned out on parade three years from now, with a full strength regiment of cavalry, a field battery, two regiments of first-class infantry, an engineer company and a signal corps, it should certainly be an up-to-date equipment. But there is an another branch which will have to be organized, and it should be attended to at once, in fact two branches, an army service corps company and a transport corps. The duty of the army service corps and the transportation work used to be included under the one head, but now in Great Britain there is a strong movement on foot to have a regularly organized transport service. The duty of this branch would be to look after the shipment and transportation of the various corps to the scene of action in case of war. They could be and should be collected from among railway men and men used to the management of horses and wagons. It is a crying shame that a man should be put in charge of a railway depot to have charge of the movement and disposition of trains who never had any experience whatever in railway work. In a young country like Canada a corps should be organized among the officials of the different railways running into the different military centres. A high official could be given the rank of colonel and he organize with the other officials to suit him in case they should be called upon. Have this system thorough throughout the country for moving trains and the result would be that troops could be moved from point to point with ten times the despatch. In South Africa during the last campaign any young or old officer who got sore feet or was no good on the field with his regiment, was sent to the railway service. The result was that the railways were being run by a lot of dubs who knew nothing at all of their work, and many a day the Tommies stood around waiting for the observation trains to move. The road would be blocked and the officer would be rattled and everything was standing still. A thorough organization of a volunteer corps of railway men for transport purposes would place Canada in an enviable position. Her troops would then be in the hands of experienced and trained men with the result that they would reach any point before even our smart friends across the line could get started.

Just write a postal card—only the cost of a penny. All I ask is the name of a friend who needs help. Tell me the book to send.

Then I will do this:—I will mail the sick one an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide it.

Don't think that too fair to be possible, for I do just as I say. I do it to convince those who don't know me, and so that everyone who needs help will accept it.

I have learned that the cured ones are fair. I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands on just those terms, and 39 out of each 40 have paid gladly, because they were cured. I have willingly paid for the rest.

And I spent a lifetime in perfecting the remedy before I ever offered it to anyone. At thousands of bedsides, in hospitals and homes, I have watched it cure the most difficult cases that physicians ever meet, learned that it does not fail, save where some cause—like cancer—makes a cure impossible.

My success comes from strengthening the inside nerves. My Restorative brings back that nerve power which alone operates every vital organ of the body. Common treatment merely doctors the organs, and the results at best are but temporary. My remedy restores the nerve power that makes these organs act. No other treatment does that, and there is positively no other way to make weak vital organs well.

My book will explain this. It tells about the only remedy so sure that any man dare offer it on such a plan as mine. Won't you tell me a friend who needs it?

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Hatteras, N.C., Dec. 6.—The observer of the Weather Bureau reports that the four-masted schooner Wesley M. Oler went ashore near Hatteras Inlet Life Saving Station early yesterday morning during the storm. She was pounding in the surf about a mile off shore until 8.20 a. m., when the foremast went over, carrying overboard probably the last man. Almost immediately she went to pieces. The life saving crew could do nothing to save the crew. No bodies have washed ashore yet.

New York in the Storm.

New York, Dec. 6.—A heavy wind storm accompanied by rain and later by snow, struck New York yesterday and for a time seriously interfered with all railway and steamship traffic, as well as with business in general. Surface car lines, the elevated railroads and all ferry boats were compelled to abandon their schedules and run as best they could.

THE JURY DISAGREED.

Joseph Hood Charged With Assault in Toronto Criminal Sessions.

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Joseph Hood, a farm laborer, was tried on a charge of indecent assault. Hood was in the employ of Thomas Coltmann of East Gwillimbury, and the offence complained of was alleged to have been committed while Coltmann was away in the Northwest, last August. Mrs. Coltmann explained that she kept Hood as a hired man after the alleged occurrence, simply because she could not get another hand. She was also advised by her friends to do nothing about the matter until her husband returned. Coltmann got back in October last, and the information was laid forthwith. A lawsuit is pending in the County Court, in which Hood is the plaintiff against Coltmann, for $101.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO

Will Be Raised When Disease Outbreak Is Suppressed.

SOME CATTLE ARE TO BE LANDED

Why the Opening of British Ports to Canadian Live Cattle Is Considered Improbable by British Importers —Question of the Argentine Live Question Not Yet Settled— Effect of the Quarantine.

London, Dec. 6.—The Board of Agriculture has intimated its willingness to remove the embargo on cattle arriving from New England ports whenever the American Department of Agriculture considers the outbreak is suppressed. The board issued last night an order enabling the landing of cattle under certain restrictions from the steamer Irishman, which has arrived at Liverpool from Boston, the steamers Kansas and Victoria, due yesterday at Liverpool from Boston, and the steamer Cambrian, due at London from Boston.

Meantime, the importers here say that the quarantine has little effect on the American meat supply, since the bulk comes from the west, and it is merely a question of shipping the cattle by way of New York, instead of Boston.

Regarding the general question of opening English ports to Canadian and Argentine live cattle there is not the slightest likelihood of the admittance of Argentine cattle until the Board of Agriculture is satisfied that the foot and mouth disease has been not only stamped out in the Argentine Republic but until the latter establishes an effectual quarantine against the surrounding infected territory, of which there is no immediate prospect.

On the other hand the importers say that the opening of British ports to Canadian live cattle is not only improbable, but if done would not favorably affect the English meat supply, because it is cheaper to sell Canadian range steers in the United States and ship them dressed to England than to import them alive here to be fattened for the market.

Wild West Buffalo Barred.

London, Dec. 6.—Mr. Hanbury, President of the Board of Agriculture, has decided, owing to the existence of the foot and mouth disease, that he will be unable to permit the landing in England of a herd of buffalo belonging to the "Wild West" show, which opens in London on Dec. 26.

Wholesale Disinfecting.

Albany, N.Y., Dec. 6.—The State Superintendent of Agriculture, yesterday ordered all railroads doing business in this State to cause all cars in which cattle have been transported since Aug. 1 to be thoroughly disinfected before further use. Forty special inspectors will be on the State borders to-day to enforce the order.

KING TO VISIT IRELAND.

London, Dec. 6.—The Lord Mayor of Belfast announced yesterday that the Earl of Dudley had informed him that King Edward would probably pay a visit to Ireland in 1903. This intimation, coming through the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, is regarded as practically an official announcement of His Majesty's decision.

Kingston, Dec. 6.—Queen's trustees yesterday afternoon confirmed the appointment of Rev. Dr. Gordon of Halifax as principal of the university. Last night the Mayor and most of the aldermen attended the opening of the new Arts Building of Queen's. Mayor Shaw presented the building to the trustees. Sir Sandford Fleming, chancellor, acknowledged the gift.

COMPANY IS FAVORED.

Dominion Iron and Steel Co. Will Get $200,000.

Ottawa, Dec. 6. — Judge Burbidge gave two important judgments in the Exchequer Court yesterday. In the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. v. the King, an action to recover iron bounties withheld owing to Auditor-General McDougall's interpretation of what constitutes pig iron. The decision favors the company, who are awarded all they went into court for with costs.

The amount claimed was $196,-967.15, but when accounts are taken this will be swelled to about $800,-000. His Honor found that pig iron includes that substance in a liquid or molten state as well as in its real solid form.

In the case of the Dominion of Canada v. Province of Ontario, a dispute as to interests on moneys owed by the province to the Dominion, the judge found in favor of the province. The province thus saves $113,176.54.

Dr. Moraes had been in poor health for several years. It was announced in 1895 that he suffered from cancer of the liver. He was about 60 years old at the time of his death.

MRS. YOUNG'S CASE.

A Strange Case That Baffled Doctors.

None of Her Friends Believed she Could Recover and Her Case has Excited Great Interest.

From the Courier, Trenton, Ont.

The case of Mrs. Robert Young, of Stanley street, Trenton, is one that has caused a great deal of talk among those who are acquainted with her. Mrs. Young is now in her seventy-eighth year, and is quite vigorous for a woman of that age. Three years ago she took a chill, which appeared to affect her whole system. Her lower limbs and body swelled to such an extent that she could scarcely move them. Her stomach became so disordered that she could not take solid food, and her heart fluttered so violently that she could not lie in bed, and for two years had to be bolstered up day and night. The chills which were apparently the original cause of the trouble, became chronic, and affected her two or three times a week, and after a chill her skin would turn a dark brown colour. Her friends did not believe she could recover, but nevertheless did all they could for her. Three doctors tried their skill, but to no purpose, and the strongest consolation they could offer was "Well, you know we are all growing old." Several advertised medicines were then given her, but with no better results. In August, 1901, Mrs. Young had become so bad that her daughter-in-law had to come from a distance to nurse her. She brought with her some Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and persuaded the old lady to begin their use. In the course of a few weeks there could be no doubt that they were helping her, and the doctor advised continuing their use, and now, after using them for some months, the swelling that had affected her limbs is gone; the chills no longer bother her; her stomach is restored to its normal condition, and the heart fluttering that had made it necessary to bolster her up in bed has also disappeared. It is no wonder that the case has excited much comment, and the editor of the Courier, who has personally investigated it, can vouch for the facts related above. Such marvellous cures as this prove Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to be the best medicine offered the public to-day, and all those who are ailing should promptly give them a trial. All druggists sell these pills, or they can be obtained by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

St. Louis, Dec. 6.—After two days of trial, Charles Denny, the millionaire brewer, charged with perjury in connection with the suburban bill boodle deal, was found guilty last night, and his punishment fixed at two years in the penitentiary.

When Life is not Life.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

Skating in London.

London, Dec. 6.—Bitter cold weather continues to prevail throughout the United Kingdom. Gales and heavy seas interfere with the channel traffic, and there have been many minor casualties among the shipping. The fall of snow is general, including the Channel Islands, which is almost unprecedented. Londoners expect skating on Sunday. Similar conditions exist on the continent.

CONSUMPTION CURED

—BY—

Powley's Liquified Ozone

Mrs. Banks Had Three Hemorrhages of the Lungs—Ozone Gave Her a Permanent Cure.

I was afflicted with bronchial and lung trouble for three years. The disease became firmly seated in my system, and I began to despair of ever being well. I had the best medical advice in the city, and spent a lot of money in medicine. I became a complete wreck, physically, at the end of three years, and at night had to be propped up in bed with pillows so that I could breathe. I had three hemorrhages of the lungs. My system was entirely run down, and I suffered exceedingly from female troubles. A friend of mine living in Muskoka told me to try Ozone, the new system of treatment, as she had been greatly benefited by it. I purchased one bottle, but did not get much relief. At the end of the second bottle I felt much improved, and when I had taken nine bottles I had quite recovered.

My husband did not know that I had taken Ozone, and thought I had stopped the doctoring altogether. He said to me:—"Didn't I tell you that you would get well when you stopped taking medicine?" When I told him about Ozone he was surprised, and thought that it would do his eczema good. He took some, with the result that it cured him.

We are both very thankful for Powley's Liquified Ozone, and consider it the best household remedy to be obtained. I have never yet been troubled with a return of my old complaint, and feel wonderfully well.

This case is like that of Mr. Wm. McKay, of Sutton, a most remarkable one. It shows the wonderful power of Powley's Liquified Ozone to create a healthy condition of the blood and tissue, in which disease cannot exist. If you know of anyone who has lung trouble or consumption draw their attention to these cures. You may be the means of saving life. Write for our Literature; we can interest you.

REV. FATHER FINN

Subject of an Admirable Paper Read Last Evening.

The large gathering that crowded the lecture room of St. Peter's T.A.S. last evening to attend the regular fortnightly literary evening of the Ladies' Reading Circle, was afforded a rare literary treat in the paper on Rev. Father Finn, S. J., by Miss Kate McGrath. Rev. Father Finn is an American priest who has achieved fame as a writer of considerable merit, and the paper of the evening took the form of a treatise on the writer's style, and was a remarkably clever essay in every particular. The young lady dealt with the writer's style as well as with his many productions, and the paper was written in such a delightful way as to make it one of interest as well as highly instructive. Miss McGrath well deserved the eulogistic references which the paper evoked from Rev. Dr. O'Brien and other speakers.

The paper was conceded to be the best yet read before the Society, Miss McGrath showed that she possessed the happy faculty of analyzing in a style, which is all her own, the beauties of an author's conception and the lessons to be drawn from his productions. The paper was clothed in terse, healthy English, and was read in a faultless manner.

Miss Maggie Crowley occupied the chair in a very acceptable manner and introduced during the evening a delightful musical programme.

The next paper will be read in two weeks' time by Miss H. Cahill.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY MEETING.

forced to conclude that our real work is in securing the little children before their habits of life are formed and at a time when they may be shaped and moulded by the influences of a good foster home. The other girls must be taken in hand by some other institution.

On several occasions we have been asked to try and have girls sent to the Reformatory or Industrial Schools. This we have always declined to do. We believe that this Society should always appear in court as mediator between the child and the penalties of the law. That if we cannot come forward with a scheme for the rescue of the child, we should never appear in the role of prosecutor. That work is for the officers of the law, not for us. We believe further that so long as we preserve this attitude we will continue to retain the sympathy of all classes, which we now appear to possess.

This has been shown to a marked extent during the past year. A number of parents have appealed to us asking our intervention on behalf of their children. Unfortunately our influence can be but slight, unless we take entire control and remove the children from the surroundings which are hurtful.

In several cases we have taken children from their parents and, under the direction of the magistrate have allowed them to return during the good behaviour of the parents, over whose movements we are maintaining a strict supervision. In this way we hope to reform the parents as well as the children. If the parents do not keep their solemn promises, the children will be removed absolutely.

The roof of the shelter has this fall been re-shingled, thereby making it comfortable for the winter. This was done upon the understanding that we should be permitted to retain the shelter for another year at the low rental which Mr. Best has kindly fixed.

The Agent, Mr. Cochrane, and Mrs. and Mrs. Henry have continued to perform their duties to the complete satisfaction of the officers.

Owing to the length of this report we have omitted the details of cases usually given. The statistics for the year are appended hereto.

25 children were taken into the shelter —only one is now there.

Mr. Dumble moved the adoption of the report and in doing so paid a glowing tribute to those who had the management of the Society in charge. This work called for much judgment and it was, it might be said, the work of the Heavenly Master continued on earth.

Mr. H. Burnham seconded the adoption of the report, stating that himself, was acquainted with the minute details of the working of the Society, and knew how great was the necessity of good judgment on the part of the presiding officials. This was, he continued, practically the tenth year of the Society. In 1891 steps were taken for its formation and in 1892-3 it was incorporated and its success was a source of self-congratulation to the Society after some ten years work.

Mr. Denniston asked the opinion of Magistrate Dumble as regards the police placing unknown children in the home without the consent of the officers of the Society. Mr. Dumble thought that if the police erred it was on the side of humanity and indulgence.

Mr. Denniston stated that the child referred to in the report in connection with the case of diphtheria had put the officers of the Society to a great deal of anxiety. Considerable discussion followed and the opinion of all seemed to be that there should be some enquiry as to the antecedents of the children committed. This would do away to a great extent with the introducing of children carrying diseases into the home.

The report with this recommendation was adopted.

TREASURER'S REPORT

The next report was that of the Treasurer, Mr. P. Campbell, of the Bank of Toronto:

Total receipts for 11 months ending November 30, 1902 ... ...$695 87
Expenditure... ... ... 487 37

Balance on hand... ... ...$208 50

The receipts were made up of a grant of $250 from the town and receipts from sundry sources, both private and semi-public.

This report on a motion of Dr. Torrance, seconded by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, was also adopted.

Mr. Dumble mentioned the fact that some of the expenditure of the Society was not mentioned in the report. He had in mind the cases where steps were taken for the amelioration of the condition of children not in the Shelter. Money so spent, he considered a justifiable and paying expenditure.

AGENT'S REPORT.

Following this was the report of the agent, Mr. Cochrane.

Ladies and Gentlemen.—I beg leave to submit my third annual report as Agent, as follows:

At the date of our last annual meeting on January 23rd, of this year, we had only one child in the Shelter. Since then we have taken in twenty-five children, of whom seven have been returned to their parents, the remainder having been provided for as shown in the Secretary's report. I have made 154 visits, sent warning to 17 parents affecting 30 children, given relief in the way of clothing to 9 families, attended the Police Court 16 times and travelled 218 miles in the country in connection with the work of the Society.

On April 3rd, diphtheria broke out in the Shelter and the place was closed until the first of June. During that time I visited the Shelter every day and gave what assistance I could.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE COCHRANE,
Agent.

This report was also adopted. In moving the adoption, Mr. Burnham stated that he thought that some tangible recognition for services rendered should be made the matron over and above the salary paid. This was the more deserving owing to the trouble and illness incurred during the outbreak of diphtheria. This closed the business of the past year.

Before proceeding with the election of officers the society extended a hearty vote of thanks to all officers connected with the society in any way whatever.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Following came the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows:

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—J. J. McBain.
Vice-Presidents—Mrs. Birdsall and Mr. Dunlop.
Secretary—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Treasurer—Mr. P. Campbell.
Agent—Mr. Geo. Cochrane.
Solicitors — Mr. E. B. Edwards and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.
Board of Management — Mesdames Jas. Best, Peck, Davis, Warde, Garvin, Misses Beck, O'Sullivan, Bernier, Gow, Dickson, Father McColl, Dr. Torrance, Revs. E. A. Langfeldt, J. C. Davidson, J. P. Wilson, J. W. Jolliffe, W. L. Armitage, J. Bastow, His Worship Mayor Denne, J. H. Burnham and Dr. George Burnham.

Advisory Board — Mrs. Birdsall, Mrs. Peck, Messrs. Cochrane, McBain and Dennistoun.

Mr. J. H. Burnham then brought several matters of business before the meeting. the first of these was the allotment of a remuneration of $20 to the Matron, Mrs. Henry, in consideration of services rendered during the diphtheria outbreak. This was the unanimous wish of those present. Another thing was that a double bedroom be provided for the older girls in the west room of the Shelter in order to make the proper separation of the older sexes. The secretary was authorized to have this done.

Mr. Cochrane thought that Mr. and Mrs. Henry were not recompensed sufficiently, and he thought the price of the board to be paid to the matron should be increased.

Mr. Dumble said it was a question of more than mere board, considering the motherly care and loving labour bestowed on the little ones.

It was decided that the price of board should be raised to two dollars per week, in view of the increased cost of living in Peterborough.

This closed the business of the afternoon, and the meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the secretary.

A SMALL FIRE

That Occurred on Charlotte Street This Morning.

A small fire occurred at 4 o'clock this morning at the residence of Dr. Blanchard, V.S., Charlotte street. The blaze was caused by a defective chimney, and was making considerable headway when noticed. As a result of the little conflagration, Miss Stewart, a seamstress, who rooms at Dr. Blanchard's, had almost all of her clothing destroyed. A spark from the chimney into her wardrobe had a ruinous effect. The flames were quickly subdued.

CROSSED MUD LAKE.

Mr. Dan Whetung Performed the Act To-day.

Mr. Dan Whetung, of the Chemong Indian Reserve, has carried off the honour of being the first man to drive across Mud Lake this season. For many years Mr. Whetung was first in this regard, but last year he was outdone by Mr. Michael Caddigan of Ennismore. Mr. Caddigan crossed on Nov. 14th of last year. This year the lake was somewhat later in freezing over, and Mr. Whetung made the first trip this morning.

New Members Entertained.

The new members social at the Y.M.C.A. last evening was well attended and was the means of acquainting the new men with the members, the officers and the work. The programme was of a varied character consisting of music, readings, etc. The "joke box," and introductions gave every one a part in the entertainment. Mr. MacCuaig is a programme in himself, and was very heartily applauded in his "Imitation of Wild Animals I have Known," "Hugh Earlie's Letters" and a selection from Drummond "The Stove Pipe Hole." Refreshments were served and the pleasant evening closed with the National Anthem.

FOR BETTER ADMINISTRATION

A Correspondent Criticizes Management of our Streets.

A Demand for Improvement of Representatives.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — As the time for the selection of Mayor and Aldermen is at hand, the recent comments of the Examiner, and the letter of "Citizen," are opportune. We have some good men in the council at present, but it is evident that some of the aldermen should be replaced by men of larger calibre and better business qualities. As a town (that should be a city) we cannot afford to have such an important department as the Board of Works, under the control of a petty obstructionist, who imagines delay and economy are synonymous. I have had some experience with this department, and found it to be impossible to have a unanimous petition regarded, nor could action be secured, until the matter was taken to the council, and passed over his head. Our City Engineer has had his hands tied, and work needlessly and foolishly delayed by this official's chronic obstruction.

Let us have live, efficient business men for this growing time into a growing town. Municipal affairs are too often left in the hand sof men who have gone to seed—people who dream instead of think; theorize instead of act.

To anyone from a town or city, where minor matters are attended to, our streets, and especially our crossings, are a subject of adverse comment.

The council is to be commended for its recent action regarding the corner loafer nuisance. A few $5 fines and costs would stop our principal street corners from being used as public cuspidors, and will help to keep the police from hybernating through the winter.

The council should take active measures to have the snow bylaw enforced, especially on Charlotte and George streets. It is not the workingman who must be at his shop at 7 o'clock, that is most at fault, but the man in a large house on a corner lot. There is no use of waiting for public spirit to move these people; a taste of the law is a surer remedy. The shameful condition of the sidewalks after the recent storms justifies a demand for a reasonable enforcement of this law.

Yours very truly,
RATEPAYER.

RUBBISH.

The Review of Thursday says:

"Before we meet again our readers there will have been played the second act of that farce, 'The Referendum,' with which Mr. Ross put off the prohibitionists in violation of his pledge to enact and enforce prohibition. Conservatives cannot but regard the matter with indifference, remembering how those who are now loudest in their appeals to us to vote 'Yes,' worked and voted shoulder to shoulder with the liquor men against a staunch prohibitionist in favour of the men who had dodged the performance of their pledges. It is a political game that is being run by Mr. Ross and his friends."

The heading at the beginning of this article, refers to the character of the "argument" used by our contemporary. It is not only rubbish, but contrary to the facts. At the last election the electors did not vote against a "staunch prohibitionist;" they voted against the candidate of Mr. Whitney, the declared opponent of prohibition. The evil fortunes of prohibition come from its professed friends, who use it as an expedient to promote their political schemes. The Review paragraph, quoted above, is but another sample of the political animus that has been the curse of the prohibition and temperance movements. The Ontario Government, in providing the referendum, in respect to the Liquor Act, used all the means in its power to disassociate the question of prohibition from politics. They aimed to present to the people, a clear-cut, plain, and unmistakable issue, uncomplicated with any side issue, or question. If the politicians had allowed the people to deal with the question under the referendum in this spirit, the verdict would, no doubt, have been different. But last election the bogus friends of temperance told the electors that the referendum was loaded, could not be passed, and there was no use in trying. Many took these birds of evil omen at their word, and when they were asked last Thursday to vote for prohibition, thousands made the reply, "You told us last May that the referendum was loaded, and that it was waste of time to vote for it. How have conditions changed that you ask us to vote for a 'dead horse' now?' That answer and attitude account for a large decrease in the vote. If those political temperance spouters had served the cause they professed to serve as faithfully as they served their political bosses, the prohibition vote would have been much larger than it was on Thursday. The Conservatives had made a party question of prohibition for their party ends. Our contemporary quotes with approval, an article yesterday denouncing the Government for its broken pledges in respect of submitting a straight prohibition act. Would the Government have been able to carry a prohibition act with its following last session? If the supporters of the Government on their general policy had failed to support a prohibition enactment per se, the Government would have been defeated, and the Opposition leader of declared hostility to prohibition would have been called upon, and we all know that no prohibition could have been expected from him. And if Mr. Ross as Liberal leader, had appealed to the country on the prohibition platform would the electorate in favour of prohibition, split up and divided on political lines as they would have been, have supported him as leader of a party when with no side-issues they failed to pass, as they have done according to present indications, a prohibition act which only needed the approval of the electors to become law? So long as the temperance people think more of politics than they do of prohibition, so long as they listen to the party appeals of journals and party bosses, so long will the principles, they profess to promote, gob the worst of it. The insincerity and lukewarmness of many professed temperance people was in evidence on Thursday. At the last election, May 29th, in the Town of Peterborough there were polled 2,475 votes, and in the election of 1898, 2,350 votes. One more than half the latter would have placed the town in the prohibition column, yet many of the professed temperance people were so indifferent that they only polled 1,065 votes for prohibition altogether. No one will pretend that that shows anything like the strength of the professed temperance vote of the town. If the temperance people wont vote for a straight prohibition act which they can have for the saying, would they, though united on temperance lines, but divided politically, vote for a leader pledged to pass a prohibition act in the House? Of course not. The temperance people, many of them, have mixed too much politics with their principles.

Bonnycastle—Boulton.

Mr. Angus Lorne Bonnycastle, eldest son of Major R. H. Bonnycastle, Campbellford, was married on Nov. 18th, to Miss Ellen Mary Boulton, daughter of the late Senator Boulton, of Russell, Manitoba. The marriage ceremony was performed in Christ Church, in that town. The young couple will reside at Binscarth. Mr. Bonnycastle is practicing law.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

A CEMENT COMPANY, which proposes to establish works at Belleville, claims that it has the best of raw material, easily accessible, and at a very low price, and that the demand for cement means first-class prices, and that, consequently, big profits will result. Yet the company is asking $50,000 bonus. Then the question is, Why should the people of Belleville, already squirming under the bonus burden, tax themselves to swell the profits of a business enterprise which will only very indirectly benefit them? Encouragement to manufacturers is commendable, on general principles, but when the prospects of success are of the best, it seems a big act of assurance to ask the public to increase the profits.

ISN'T IT ABOUT time we heard something about the Dan Spence Memorial Ambulance? Rossland raised funds for a similar ambulance in memory of "Father Pat," a Church of England missionary, noted for his broad charity, which won public recognition, and the ambulance has been in use for some time. It is to be hoped that our new ambulance will be painted some neutral colour, and not a hearse black, something enough to give a patient seriously ill, premonitory shivers of approaching dissolution. The project has received enough time for deliberation to have the ambulance right when it comes.

REV. MR. IRWIN, "Father Pat," died since Mr. Spence, yet we have the town of Rossland, hardly half-a-dozen years old, whose site was a bleak and unknown mountain side when Peterborough was a town of 10,000 people, recognising heroism in a practical way, months before this town has brought its proposition to fruition.

TOWN DWELLERS are fond of under-estimating their country cousins in rude jibes, referring to them as Reubes, and easy victims for the hayfork swindler. But the operations of a cheque manipulator turns the tables. The Reubes can now laugh at the town smart Alecs. We have the record of a sharper chap, who went through a dozen towns and cities in Ontario, reaping a rich harvest from forged cheques, that should not have deceived the greenest Reube of the most remote side line, swindling sharp, shrewd business men right and left. If these men had read the papers they would have been put on their guard, if they are half as sharp as they assume to be when they are poking fun and making sport of the "hayseeds." Don't let us hear any more for a few days, of the town sharp-Alecs making fun of farmers.

IT IS pleasant to refer to a home success such as the Children's Aid Society. The annual meeting was held yesterday, and a record of good work was presented. During the past year 25 neglected children have been dealt with by the Society and all have been placed in good foster homes, only one remaining in the Shelter. The Society has besides a good general record. In the past ten years scores of children have been rescued from lives of incurable vice and placed in foster homes and it is a great pleasure to record that all those have justified the intelligent interest taken in their welfare. Of those who have grown up, all are a credit to society, and many are married and doing well. Here, we have practical evidence of the benefits this Society confers on society. The material for criminals converted by its work into pillars of society, the salt of the earth in the enviornments they occupy.

READERS of the Examiner are urged to read carefully the report of the Secretary of the Children's Aid Society elsewhere in this issue, especially the first paragraph. This indicates the hardships that come with winter to the children of the poor and suggests the necessity of the charitably disposed being more active in helping keep these poor children from suffering from cold. As pointed out last Saturday in this column, there is in every comfortable home, clothing that is laid aside and may never be used in such homes. Think, we pray you, of some poor child shivering in cold and comfortless homes. If each of us who can do so, would do his or her share, there would be few destitute children in town unprovided with, at least warm clothing. When you lie down at night in your warm, comfortable beds, may the good Lord send you no sleep if you know of a case of suffering which you could have relieved with very little effort. Don't forget.

THE TOWN COUNCIL did well at its last meeting to take action regarding the discreitable assembly of young rascals at street corners, who indulge in horse play, profane language and foul talk to the discomfort of citizens. As a result a policeman was actually seen as far from the police station as the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, and as a consequence the nuisance complained of shows signs of abatement.

BUT WHY should it be necessary to have the Council call policemen's attention to these matters. Some arrangement should be made whereby the area of the police force's activity should be enlarged. There is something else for policemen to do than answer the telephone at the station and call "order in the court." If the aldermen would take some interest in their duties the policemen would be kept more on the move and consequently keep undesirable characters more on the move. We are inclined to get into ruts and need a shaking up occasionally. No doubt policemen would welcome some re-arrangement of their duties which would give greater variety to their work.

Money in Oil

Special Despatch to the Ontario and California Oil Co., Limited :

Chatham, December 1, 1902.

The Gusher was turned on to-day and in five hours filled up all the Standard Oil Company's available tankage—so far has given one thousand barrels, at the rate of fifty barrels per hour.

Talk about dividends, talk about advance in value—what investment will compare with this? Figure it out—OIL two dollars per barrel—means earning one hundred dollars per hour—ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS invested in this Syndicate a few weeks ago—NOW ACTUALLY WORTH FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

REASONS WHY

Stock in the Ontario & California Oil Co. may prove just as profitable within the next few weeks.

REASONS WHY

Prompt action on your part is required.

1.—The Ontario and California Oil Co., Limited, is a home company, organized under the laws of Ontario, shares fully paid and non-assessable, built and equipped on the right principle—TO PAY PROFITS AND DIVIDENDS—when earned from the ground, and this object attained—NO STOCK FOR SALE BY THIS COMPANY.

2.—Owns the oil leases on one thousand acres, and are next door neighbors of the Big Gusher owners.

3.—Several drilling rigs NOW at different points on the Company's properties, under the direction of the best oil men in Petrolea, men who are oil men in the full sense of the word (not speculators)—connected with the oil refineries and the largest oil interests in Canada, and these oil men came to this Company, made their offers, put their money in, and are joining in the development of a large block of the Company's properties.

4.—Ten days to two weeks will complete a well. FIVE WELLS are being put down as fast as men and money can do it.

5.—One may be a gusher, or all may be gushers; in either case the advance will be REAL, and a few weeks will bring you greater profits than you ever dreamed of.

RISK? Yes—so there is in everything—otherwise you would not have the chance of buying One Thousand Shares for Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, which in thirty days may be worth One Thousand to Ten Thousand Dollars. Masterly inactivity has missed many an opportunity to make a fortune—don't wait now and wish later on.

ACT AT ONCE—The block of stock which the Company is offering at TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER SHARE is daily getting smaller.

Peterborough Visited Again by a Youthful Voyager.

It seems as if among the smaller boys, the mania for leaving home, was contagious. Yesterday sometime a young lad left his home in Cobourg in order to, it is said, enlarge his knowledge of the world. Naturally Peterborough was the most important place to be visited, but shortly after his arrival here he was welcomed by the Chief and is now enjoying the hospitality of the Station House. In all probability the boy will be sent home this afternoon.

THE WORLD IS BURNING OIL!

In Thousands of homes, hotels, public buildings and factories, oil is being burned for fuel WHERE COAL WAS USED ONE YEAR AGO!

Oil has replaced coal on hundreds of locomotives, scores of ocean going steamships and even been tried successfully in the navy.

Oil is cheaper, cleaner, less bulky and better in every way than coal.

With 75,000 to 100,000 barrels of oil monthly from its Kern River wells, the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. will be one of the biggest money-earning propositions on the Pacific Coast.

HEAVY ORDERS FOR XMAS.

Already the Christmas rush has commenced.

Many of our old stockholders are purchasing small blocks of Eastern Consolidated for Christmas gifts. What better present could one make? $100 or $1000 presented Christmas day doubles, by New Year's!

250,000 shares subscribed the past six days—oversubscription is inevitable.

A JUBILANT STOCKHOLDER.
ONLY ONE OF MANY!

One gratified stockholder writes as follows:

"I have invested $1,000 in Eastern Consolidated Oil Stock 13 months ago and have received $270 in dividends!

"My stock has doubled once and am rejoiced to hear that it will again double before Jan. 1 it would have taken me 7 years to have received the above amount from an investment in any bank and my principal would have remained the same.

"I am highly pleased, and have recommended this stock to my friends."

If you put $50 or $5000 into Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. stock at once on this 50c. allotment, you will have the certainty of the stock's going to par, $1.00 a share, in 24 days.

That means that every dollar you put in will double in 24 days.

21,000 Acres of Oil Lands

1200 acres in Ohio, comprising 18 farms and containing 107 producing oil wells. 10 acres in the heart of the Kern River district, California, owned in fee simple, three wells now producing at the rate of 25,000 barrels a month, five more wells drilling. Every rod of this is proven oil land. This little plot of ten acres alone can produce over 100,000 barrels of oil monthly. Over 19,000 acres in Santa Barbara upon which development work is begun. Superintendent Howe wires that he is certain to strike oil there soon.

109 Producing Oil Wells

One year ago the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. had 18 producing oil wells. To-day it has 110 wells and an enormous production of oil, which is sold regularly, with a monthly cash settlement. 107 wells are located on 18 farms in Ohio. Three big producers are on the Kern River tract in California. TWO MORE WELLS WILL "COME IN" ALMOST ANY DAY NOW IN KERN RIVER.

Enormous Oil Production

The three new wells in Kern River are producing at the rate of over 25,000 barrels of oil a month. The promise of the management for on increase of 50,000 barrels of oil a month will be more than fulfilled.

Mr. George F. Wright, of the Midland Pacific Railway Company says Kern River can produce more oil than any section in the United States.

Two pipe lines, one by the Standard Oil Company, and one by the Associated Oil Companies, are being constructed from Kern River to San Francisco, at a cost of $6,000,000.

Those who invest this week will share in December dividends.

ELECTION ARGUMENT.

Court Asked to Declare the South Oxford Seat Vacant.

OPPOSING COUNSEL WAX BITTER

Mr. Blake on the Methods Used to Obtain Evidence—Mr. Watson Says Mr. Blake Used Idle and Mischievous Language—Judgment Reserved and an Adjournment Till Monday Next.

Toronto, Dec. 6.—The argument on the one charge which the Judges decided had been proved in the South Oxford election petition against the return of Mr. Donald Sutherland, that of hiring rigs by agents of respondent, was heard yesterday before Justices Street and Britton. The court did not give any decision, adjourning till Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. George H. Watson, K.C., and Mr. A. G. Slaght represented the petitioners and Mr. S. H. Blake, K.C., and Edmund Bristol the respondent.

Mr. Watson first addressed the court, and quoted from the Ontario controverted elections act as to the nature of the corrupt practices necessary to void the election. In the case before them there were two distinct charges in one, relating to one Skinner, a liveryman, and to Walker Bros., also liverymen. In one case three rigs were rented, two double [illegible] $10, and one single rig at $3.50. In the second case three rigs were charged to Patterson and Stephen King.

These acts, Mr. Watson contended, were six distinct acts of corruption. Hiring each rig was a separate and distinct corrupt act, and this was a continuation of corrupt acts from the opening to the close of the poll. Mr. Watson argued that the vote of every voter carried in these rigs should be struck off as a result of is out of order you have it regulated, you don't at once throw it aside. Why, then, when your bowels are out of order, do you treat them as useless?

That is precisely what it means to take violent cathartics. They do not regulate the bowels, but take their work away from them, debilitate them, and make you more constipated than ever.
You had far better throw away your good watch than treat your bowels roughly. You can get another watch, but you cannot renew your intestines.
The only cure for Constipation is a gentle laxative with tonic action.

The fact, too, that their Lordships had disagreed on other charges was of importance in the application of section 172 (the saving clause.)

Answering Mr. Watson, Mr. S. H. Blake said that out of 114 charges made only one had been allowed. He claimed the election had been conducted in as pure a manner as any conducted for 40 or 50 years in this Province. Mr. Blake referred to the methods that had been adopted to secure charges. If it had been possible to have obtained other charges no means would have been left undone to do it. Every unlawful effort that the mind of man could conceive of to debase and debauch and turn the constituency into a carnival of crime, efforts that must stink in the nostrils of honest men, had been done here. No means were too low or too debasing to go into to smirch the respondent; but he had come through the ordeal untouched, and with only one charge proved, and that in itself not corrupt, but by the act of Parliament in which it was declared to be an illegal action.

In concluding Mr. Blake argued that the carrying of some dozen or fifteen voters could not affect a majority of 473.

In his reply Mr. Watson remarked that Mr. Blake had admitted that he had nothing to clear himself from participation in corrupt acts, and that was very vital. The respondent had never stated publicly nor to the court that he had made efforts to have a clean election. On the contrary, they had him before the court charged with a corrupt act in which he said he had no memory and could not help the court. Mr. Blake therefore had no right to take a higher stand than the respondent himself.

Mr. Watson characterized Mr. Blake's remarks regarding the methods adopted for obtaining evidence as "idle and extravagant language, used for improper and ulterior purposes."

AS TO WOMEN DRUNKARDS.

Lady Henry Somerset Describes Some Scenes in London—"The Story of Our Farm."

"The Story of Our Farm," which Lady Henry Somerset tells in the November number of the North American Review, is a story of benevolent and, in very large measure, successful, endeavor to rescue from ruin women who have fallen a prey to the appetite for drink. Lady Henry paints a dark and mournful picture of the conditions which surround the poor of London, and the extent to which drunkenness prevails among them—men, women and even children. It was to do something to save the women and children that Lady Somerset established an industrial farm colony for inebriate women at Duxhurst, in Surrey, the first institution of the kind opened in England, and her account of the means by which her farm is year by year raising the fallen, and restoring them in their right minds to the homes which their vice had made desolate, is full of encouragement to those who are interested in the philanthropic work of a similar kind. Here is part of Lady Henry's description of what is to be seen daily in some of the streets of London:

"But in order to rightly understand what this colony meant, we must leave for a moment the fields and the flowers and the birds and beasts, and go into the dingy city, and pass the courts and alleys and the pawnbrokers' shops and the old clothes shops; we must go down into the kitchens where the rats share the damp darkness with the inhabitants, and then walk out again into the dusty street, and then we shall begin to understand what is the centre of attraction to the dwellers in the narrow court and gloomy slum. At the corner of the street there is a public house, and, if we watch that swinging door for a moment we shall be able to realize why it is that in England there are more drunken women than in any other nation, and how it is that brewers have made larger fortunes than can be amassed at any other trade. Between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock, you will see in this squalid district from 100 to 200 women enter the drink shop with little babies in their arms, and, as those women crowd into that public house and stand to drink, they will often give the baby a share of the liquor, and the little mouth will greedily suck the spoon that has in it the taste of gin. Between these hours, too, you will see 150 or 200 girls with tattered clothes and torn pinafores, some almost shoeless, all ragged, all dirty, all disheveled, entering with jugs, to carry away the drink to their miserable homes. As many boys under the age of 14 and 15 will be there, too, making a total in one afternoon of 500 children. I remember on one occasion standing in front of just such a public house (and if you will look down the street you will see there are twenty more), with an American, and when she saw the women going into the public house, some of them respectably clad, she said: "Are they going to hold a crusade meeting there, as they did in America, twelve years ago?" It seemed to her inconceivable that women were going there to drink, but to us it has become commonplace, and those who know anything of the social life of the people of England have long realized that children are drunk for the first time in their mother's arms, or cursed with the appetite before they are born. In their earliest association, the public house stands as the most prominent factor in their existence, and has stored their minds with the impressions of everything that is vile and bad."

Royalty Knits for Charity.

The interest which the royal family takes in all charitable undertakings shows itself constantly. It was particularly manifested at the show of the London Needlework Guild, where warm clothing, collected for the poor of London was on exhibition.

The children of the Prince and Princess of Wales were liberal contributors, and an entire table was covered with the gifts of the youthful Princess Victoria of Wales and her brothers. The little lady had knitteh several pairs of muffatoes in pink wool. Here and there were traces of a stitch or two dropped and recovered with conscientious painstaking. One can imagine the chubby fingers wielding the needles and suddenly dropping the whole thing when some event of great nursery importance occurred.

Prince Edward and Prince Albert had crocheted comforters. All three had bought warm things for children out of their pocket money. Their father, the Prince of Wales, had contributed six hundred articles. The King sent fifty-nine. The Princess of Wales' number amounted to more than fifteen thousand.

These same little princes at the present moment, quite without their knowledge, of course, stand in the way of the consummation of the King's proposal to transfer Osborne House and its grounds in the Isle of Wight to the nation as a convalescent home for consumptives. It appears that Queen Victoria left the house and land as private property in strict entail to the sovereign and his heirs. The Prince of Wales, has, of course, given his assent to the King's generous desires, but under the Queen's will his sons have rights which should be considered. This point, will, it is expected, be raised in the House of Commons.

Fierce Ants.

The biggest and fiercest ants in the world are to be found on the far northern plains of Australia. They build hills as big as houses, and fight in the most ferocious fashion. A ghastly incident is reported by this week's Australian mail. A man named James Stanley was pinioned to the ground by a falling tree in Northern Queensland. He was immediately attacked by bees and huge green ants. When rescued, his body was covered with them. He died in a few minutes after reaching the nearest hospital.

REMARKABLE STRUCTURES.

Relics of a Rhodesian Race Showing Advancement in Arts.

Mr. Frederic Philip Mennel, F. G. S., the curator of the Rhodesia Museum, Bulawayo, read a most interesting paper recently to the members of the Anthropological Section of the British Association at their meeting at Belfast on the subject of "The Khami Ruins near Bulawayo." He said that all over the territory between the Zambesi and the Limpopo, now known as Southern Rhodesia, were numerous structures testifying to a former occupation of the country by a race far more advanced in the arts than the Bantu tribes, who were shown by Arab records to have inhabited the country for fully 2,000 years. The Khami ruins situated 12 miles from Bulawayo, might be taken as typical. They consisted of about a dozen separate structures showing the usual mortarless walls faced with carefully squared granite blocks about twice as large as an ordinary brick. These walls were about three feet thick, and rose perpendicularly, without any batter as a rule, to heights of 10 feet to 20 feet or more. The exterior walls roughly conformed to the shape of the ground available, or were more or less circular, but the interior ones ramified about in a most intricate manner. The principal ruin had three sets of walls at different levels. The main entrance had square ends to the walls on either side and recent excavations had revealed the fact that a series of stone-built steps led up to it from the foot of the slope. In other cases the walls were rounded off at the entrances, and rounded buttresses supported them at times. Other devices in the way of decoration were the "chessboard" and "herring-bone" patterns, formed by varying positions of the facing blocks and the introduction of dark-colored dolerite blocks to contrast with the granite. It had been stated that these structures could not have been roofed in, and in only one instance out of many hundreds was a covered entrance known.

At Dhlo Dhlo ruins, however, there were the remains of wooden posts let into the masonry, and these had now been found at Khami also. It was possible that they were intended, in some cases at least, as supports for a roof. That the buildings were intended primarily as forts could be inferred from their inaccessible situations, their narrow and well-commanded entrances, and the fact that the sides of some of the hills on which they were built had evidently been artificially steepened. Many objects of interest had been discovered at Khami, most of which were now in the Rhodesia Museum, Bulawayo. The pottery and the articles made of copper and iron were probably in nearly all cases the work of later occupants of the ruins than the builders. Discrimination was rendered difficult by the obvious fact that the natives had copied the designs of the earlier workers. This might indicate either that they were the degenerate descendants of the builders of these remarkable structures or that their ancestors were forced to work for the latter as slaves, probably the correct explanation. Peculiar flat, oval-shaped stones, sometimes pierced with a hole near one end, were among the ancient articles; and so were the numerous gold ornaments, which included chain and wire work, tacks for fastening beaten gold on to wood, and gold heads of all shapes and sizes and in every stage of manufacture. There were no inscriptions of any kind in any of the ruins, nor of iron tools, such as must have been used in dressing the stone for building. The tools might well have rusted away during the thousands of years that had almost certainly elapsed since they were laid aside, but the absence of inscriptions was not so easy to explain if these structures were the work, as had been contended, of the Sabaeans of Arabia.—South Africa.

There often comes a time in the struggle with pulmonary disease when the victim loses heart and gives up hope. The ambition to be up and around gives way before growing weakness, and the sufferer keeps to the bed.

No one who suffers from lung disease should lose heart or give up hope while there is a possibility of cure. In many cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured lung "trouble" when the cough was obstinate and deep seated, with hemorrhage, emaciation, night-sweats and general weakness. A great many men and women are living to-day in the full enjoyment of health and happiness who had been "given up" by doctors, but found a perfect and permanent cure in the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"My wife had hemorrhage of the lungs," writes W. A. Sanders, of Hern, Mason Co., W. Va. "She had ten hemorrhages, and the people all around here said she would never be well again. But she began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she soon began to gain strength and flesh. After taking ten bottles she was entirely well. Should you think this would do you any good to publish, just use it, and if any one disputes the merits of this almost omnipotent medicine they may enclose self-addressed envelope with stamp, and I will answer, the same as written in this letter."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Paying Two "Quit Rents."

The City of London on October 31 handed over some horseshoes, with nails for fixing them, together with some severed fagots, to the King's Remembrancer, as land rentals due to His Majesty the King. This custom and manner of paying two particular "quit-rents" has obtained for 667 years. The room at the Law Courts was filled with visitors and officials when Lord Dunboyne, the King's Remembrancer, took the rostrum. The tenants of a piece of waste ground called "The Moors," in the County of Salop, were commanded to "come forth and do your service." Thereupon the City Solicitor laid a "fagot" on the sacrificial wood block before him, and with repeated blows of the hatchet divided it. Afterwards the "tenants and occupiers of a certain tenement called 'The Forge,' in the parish of Saint Clement Danes," were called upon: the horseshoes were counted out one by one, and the nails in tens, until sixty had been totalled. "And one," concluded Sir Holmwood Crawford. "Good number," replied the King's Remembrancer, and the old-time ceremony was over.

The Cook Was Safe.

An Italian prince who had a Sicilian cook was once traveling to his provincial estates, taking with him his cook, together with his entire kitchen force, without which, so fond was he of the delicacies they were wont to prepare, he rarely if ever traveled. At a point where the narrow path along the precipice turned the angle of a projecting rock the prince, at the head of his long cavalcade, heard a shriek and the splash of a body falling into the torrent far below. With a face white with horror he pulled up and, looking back, exclaimed: "The cook! The cook! Oh, do not tell me it is the cook!"

The prince heaved a sigh of intense relief, then said: "Ah, only the chaplain! Thank goodness!"

Yorkshire Men's Fingers.

A Yorkshire man and a Lancashire man were conversing together the other day.

The Lancashire man said to the Yorkshire man, "Well, Bill, do you know the best way to find a Yorkshire man's lost fingers?"

"No," says Bill.

"Well, I will tell you what happened at our place the other day. Yorkshire Dan had two of his fingers cut off with a steam saw, and they got lost among the sawdust, and two of my mates were down on their hands and knees looking for them when the foreman came up and asked what they were doing.

"One of them said:

"'We are looking for Dan's fingers.'

"'Oh, come out of the road,' said the foreman. 'That's not the way to find a Yorkshire man's fingers,' at the same time taking a shilling out of his pocket and throwing it among the sawdust, when the two fingers at once popped up after it.

"'There,' said the foreman, 'that's the way to find a Yorkshire man's lost fingers.'".

Labouchere's Sarcasm.

Of Gladstone Henry Labouchere once remarked, "I do not object to Mr. Gladstone occasionally having an ace up his sleeve, but I do wish he would not always say that Providence put it there."

Many a man who goes through life bemoaning the fact that he is misunderstood ought to be thankful that such is the case.

A SIDNEY SMITH JOKE.

Sydney Smith jokes have a delicate flavor of age, but an anecdote in "Memories of Half a Century" has not been told so often as some of the classic tales. Sydney was a guest at the dinner of an archdeacon, and a fellow-guest, whose hobby was natural history, was a bore, if once started on his subject. Smith promised to try to keep him in check. The naturalist got his opening.

"Mr. Archdeacon," said he, "have you seen the pamphlet written by my friend, Prof. Dickenson, on the remarkable size of the eye in a common house-fly?"

The archdeacon courteously said he had not. The bore pursued his advantage.

"I can assure you it is a most interesting pamphlet, setting forth particulars hitherto unobserved as to the unusual size of that eye."

"I deny the fact," said a voice from the other end of the table. All smiled save the bore.

"You deny the fact, sir?" said he. "May I ask on what authority you condemn the investigations of my most learned friend?"

"I deny the fact," replied Smith, "and I base my denial on evidence wedded to immortal verse well known to every scholar, at least at this table."

The emphasis laid on scholar nettled the naturalist by its implication. "Well, sir," he said, "will you have the kindness to quote your authority?"

"I will, sir. The evidence is those well known, I may say immortal lines:

'Who saw him die?
'I,' said the fly,
'With my little eye!' "

The guests roared, and during the rest of the dinner nothing further was heard on the subject of natural history.

Honors for Civil Servants.

The recommendation which the Dominion Government are to make for appointment from the civil service of Companions to the Imperial Service Order or for bestowal of the Imperial service medal are to reach the Colonial Secretary not less than six weeks before the date which may hereafter be fixed for the observance of coronation day. Having regard to the limited number of companionships available for the colonies and protectorates, appointments to the order which can be made in any one colony will of necessity be few, and the recommendations from Canada will therefore receive the most careful consideration. The number of medals to be issued is not limited, but in order to maintain the value of the decoration Colonial Secretary Chamberlain desires it to be understood that it is not to be regarded as a reward for merely long service, unmarked by special merit.

I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrape and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

Bank Statement was Another Bad one.

Prices are Likely to go Lower—Some of the Leading Quotations.

The bank statement to-day was another bad one. The reserves decreased about $11,000,000. The loans increased over $1,500,000, and the deposits decreased to a considerable extent. 100 PER CENT ADVANCE BY NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Stock That Pays 27 per cent in 13 Months.

Brilliant Success of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co.—Three new Wells in Kern River Producing at the Rate of Over 25,000 Barrels a Month.

In these days of investments on paper it is with a feeling of comfort and satisfaction that one contemplates such an investment proposition as the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company, which claims to have over 21,000 acres of rich oil lands, and 109 producing oil wells, more than any three companies that we know anything about.

This is the Company which has paid 20 per cent. in dividends to its stockholders on their investments in the past ten months, and this is the Company which is distributing this week thousands of dollars more in dividends to its stockholders, completing a cycle of 13 months of dividend-paying.

The stock sells now for 5 cents a share, and those who buy at once will have the absolute certainty of seeing their holdings doubled in value before Jan. 1.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY.

The statement that $500 invested in Eastern Consolidated Oil stock now will actually double within a little more than three weeks seems on the surface to be marvellous, but when the circumstances are known it will be seen that this is a logical outcome of the growth of the Company and the present situation. Moreover, when it is remembered that during this same length of time the production of oil will be increased by 25,000 barrels a month the increase in price is only natural.

The stock has been selling for 50 cents a share now for several months, and the 50-cent allotment is almost exhausted. The enormous increase in production of oil, the phenomenal demand for oil for fuel, which has sent the price up twice within the last three weeks, all make it inevitable that the price of the stock should go to par. Every dollar put in now will actually double in value

This is not a condition which will last. In a short time it will be impossible to buy any of the stock at this price, and while undoubtedly the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company will continue to be a rich dividend-paying investment, it is clearly improbable that it will ever again offer such an opportunity as this, actually doubling the money of its stock-holders within so short a time.

The success of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company is due to its careful, conservative business management. It has men at its head who have the record of splendid success in handling large business enterprises, of undoubted integrity and business ability.

Hon. Ernest Cady, ex-Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut, is the President. Hon. Chas. J. Noyes, or as he is better known in Boston, Judge Noyes, is the Vice-President. Mr. George W. Bennett, of Bridgeport, who was private secretary for Hon. D. N. Morgan, when Mr. Morgan was U. S. treasurer, is the secretary and treasurer of the company.

With the dividends sent out this week the Eastern Consolidate Oil Company will have paid 27 per cent. on the investment to its stock holders in 13 months. This is a record that no company in the United States, whose stock is on the market, can equal.

When it is stated that an investment of only $500, placed 13 months ago, has paid in actual cash dividends $135, it will be seen what this means.

This splendid, money earning, dividend paying company, will present to its stock holders on January 1st a clean balance sheet. On that date it is expected that every dollar of indebtedness will have been wiped out.

With a company whose holdings amount to near the million dollars mark, which has expended upwards of $150,000 in development, and whose stock goes to par (1.00 a share) on January 1st, 1903, and whose revenue from actual sales of oil promises to be enormous, and is already very large, the future success of this company seems assured.

The stock of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company is for sale only by its accredited fiscal agents, C. E. Reydon & Co., rooms 401-402, Manning Chambers Building, 76 Queen street west, Toronto, Canada.

Rugby Club held a Meeting Last Night.

THE CURLERS MEET ALSO

Some Notes of Interest to the Athletic Public—Gauthier Said to be in Training.

RUGBY.

A special general meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club was held in the Oriental Hotel last night. The chair was occupied by Mr. Hal. B. Burnham, the president, and there were also present, Mr. Will Crowley, first vice-president; H. R. H. Kenner, manager; A. W. McPherson, captain, E. S. Clarry, secretary-treasurer, Bruce Rickey, Ross Craig, Frank Bradburn, Gordon Lee, Art Noble, E. Hurtubise, Geo. E. Revell, and Ed. Dillon.

After routine the report of the finances of the club was read by the treasurer, which showed the club to be about $60 in debt. The dance committee had not sent in their report as yet, but it was understood that they would break about even on the affair.

Mr. A. W. McPherson was unanimously chosen to represent the local club on the executive of the O.R.F.U., and was nominated as first vice-president of the Union.

The selection of a captain for next year's team, was then taken up. Mr. McPherson expressed a desire to retire, and nominated Mr. Will Crowley for the position. He thanked the boys for the support that they had given him in the past, and assured them that he would work just as hard for the success of the team under Mr. Crowley's captaincy.

Mr. Crowley would not listen to this proposition, and insisted that Mr. McPherson should continue for another term at least. He assured Mr. McPherson that he would have the continued support of the team; in fact there was reason to believe that many of the older players would continue in the game only under the condition that the captain of this year's team would accept the position for another year.

A vote was taken—unanimous in Mr. McPherson's favour— and he will give his decision in a day or two.

It was decided to have a sort of reunion among the members of the team. A dinner will be held at Long's Palm Parlours on Thursday evening next.

It was decided to have the team photographed as usual. The meeting then adjourned.

CASUALTIES IN 1902.

Dead 12, fatally injured 1, seriously injured 85.

Last year's record—Dead 8, seriously injured, 75.

FOOTBALL MEN PRAYED.

A special to the Detroit Free Press from Menominee, Mich., says that Rev. August F. Bruske, president of the Presbyterian College at Alma, Michigan, declared in a lecture last night that the Alma football team always offered up a prayer before entering a contest on the gridiron. Dr. Bruske characterized football as one of the manliest of sports.

CURLING.

At the meeting of the curlers last evening nothing of importance was done. A communication was received from the rink management, but as it was not quite satisfactory the curlers will meet the rink directors this week. The meeting was well attended and it is hoped that an agreement will soon be reached as the coming winter promises to be a record year in the history of curling in Peterborough.

WRESTLING.

The Sporting Editor of the Examiner has been informed that a wrestling bout of unusual interest will be pulled off in town between Christmas and New Years. Geo. Gauthier, it is said, is in training for the event, and he was observed taking a run early this morning. It is said by our informant that Gauthier will be one of the contestants.

THE PILOT WAS LOOSE

Fatal Train Wreck Saturday on Intercolonial Railway.

SIX BODIES WERE RECOVERED

Nova Scotian Train Wreck—The Halifax-Montreal Train — Engineer Died at the Post of Duty—Wonderful Escape of the Fireman—Dead and Injured Chiefly Maritime Provinces People.

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 8. — The worst train wreck in the history of the Intercolonial, the Canadian Government railway, happened at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Belmont station, 70 miles from Halifax, when the Canadian Pacific express for Montreal rolled down an embankment killing six people, injuring a score of others, and completely wrecking the locomotive, the postal, express and baggage cars and several passenger coaches.

Six bodies have thus far been recovered from the wreck, one of which, beside that of the engineer, has been identified.

Dead and Injured.

The dead are:

William B. McDonald, aged 45, of Cambridgeport, Mass., who had been visiting relatives in New Glasgow.

William Kennedy, aged 28, of Black Rock, Nfld.

Samuel Trider, aged 55, of Moncton, N. B.

Malcolm McLean, aged 27, Alberton, P.E.I.

Philip Toole, aged 25, of Newfoundland.

William Hall, aged 24, of Newfoundland.

Miss Minnie Croake, aged 28, of Halifax. She had been on a visit to her mother, in this city, who is ill, and was on her way to Waverley, Mass., where she was employed in the McLean Asylum.

Among the injured are: William Kennedy of Black Rock, N.F., who will die; R. H. Brown, express messenger; W. K. Edwards, brakeman; J. Campbell, brakeman; F. J. Norton, express agent; Frank Devoe, express agent of New Castle, N.B.; C. Cottham, dining car conductot, all seriously; Samuel Taylor, commercial traveler, Sackville, N.B., cut and bruised, not seriously hurt; James Cavanaugh, passenger, injuries unknown; J. E. Bippell, postal clerk of St. John, and A. S. Beica of St. John.

Fireman Harry Campbell was hurled through the window of the cab and was picked up in an adjoining field practically unhurt.

It was not until last evening that details of the disaster were received, a heavy snow and hail storm having demoralized the wire lines. The train was in charge of Conductor Milligan and Engineer Trider, and left Halifax at 8.45 for Montreal, connecting at McAdam Junction with the Maine Central road for Bangor and Boston. A number of passengers were destined for points in the United States. The accident occurred at 1 o'clock, and was caused by the pilot becoming loose and falling in front of the engine, which was thrown from the rails. The train plowed ahead for 50 feet and then turned over and rolled down the embankment.

The engine was completely wrecked and the cars next the mail car were telescoped by those in the rear. Trider was killed at his post. Four passengers were killed and one so badly injured that he died later. The colonist car ran under the baggage car and the top was cut off the full length down to the windows.

Everybody in the second-class car was either killed or injured. To add to the suffering of the injured, the weather was bitterly cold and it was hours before help arrived.

Trider was the oldest engineer on the road. He had been injured several times in wrecks.

The wrecked train was a Canadian Pacific in charge of an Intercolonial crew. The Canadian Pacific lines terminate at St. John, N.B., and the Intercolonial takes charge there and hauls the train daily to Halifax and back. At St. John a Canadian Pacific Railroad crew takes charge again and runs the train through to Montreal.

Was in a Collision on C. N. R. on Sunday.

Winnipeg, Dec. 8.—D. Mann, of Mackenzie & Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern, was injured in a railway collision on the Canadian Northern at Le Norquerie yesterday. His injuries are not serious.

Wrecked by a Cow.

Winnipeg, Dec. 8.—The eastbound Canadian Pacific express was wrecked early Saturday at Caron Station, near Moosejaw. The firemen, James Armstrong, was instantly killed and Engineer McLeod badly injured. The train ran into a cow and the engine and three cars were ditched, blocking the track far ten hours.

Citizens Catch a Burglar.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—D. Nelson Gordon, who was sentenced a few years ago to five years at Kingston for burglary and subsequently released on ticket of leave, was rearrested last night, being caught entering the house of Mrs. Mary Beamen. The family was at church at the time, and the burglar was caught by Mr. W. S. Wood of the Customs Department, and a stranger on the street.

Shot at His Friend.

Belleville, Dec. 8.—Stanley Young, of Milltown, was out shooting with Joseph Pringle, and in a quarrel which is alleged took place, Young shot at Pringle but missed him. Constable Duffin arrested Young Saturday, and he is now in the county jail here.

A furious gale swept the Newfoundland coast Saturday, and a number of vessels were driven ashore. Full reports regarding the extent of the disasters have not yet arrived.

AN AWFUL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Husband, Wife and Son met Death

AT HAVELOCK, ON SATURDAY

Mr. Jas. Rogers and his Family Were Returning From Havelock on Saturday Night and Were Struck by Train.

A shocking accident occurred at Havelock on Saturday night, which resulted in the death of Mr. James Rogers, a farmer living near the village, his wife and 14-year-old son. The accident occurred just about two miles west of Havelock village, and was caused by the C.P.R. local smashing into the bob-sleigh in which the Rogers family were seated. The occupants of the sleigh were Mr. Rogers, his wife, two sons aged 14 and 11 years, respectively, and his daughter, aged 7 years. They were returning from Havelock where they had been doing their Saturday shopping. When about two miles from the village at a point where the C.P.R. track passes through a woods and angles somewhat, disaster overtook the party. It is supposed that the occupants of the sleigh were mufffled up as the night was cold, and therefore did not hear the approaching iron monster. It is said too, that Mr. Rogers was watching a freight train which he expected to pull westward. The local coming along at a lively rate of speed struck the bob-sleigh squarely in the middle. The hind sleigh was found at one side of the track and the front sleigh to the other. Mrs. Rogers when picked up was dead, and the father and younger son were suffering from injuries which ended fatally after being removed to the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough.

Medical attendance was at once summoned and the injured people removed to Havelock station where their injuries were temporarily dressed, after which the father, 14-year-old son and the daughter were conveyed to Nicholls Hospital per special train. The father passed away shortly after arriving at the hospital and the son's injuries terminated fatally at noon on Sunday. The daughter's condition is very serious and amongst other injuries both her jaws were broken. The youngest son, who was left at Havelock was somewhat injured, but of course not to the same serious extent as the others.

Dr. Holdcroft, of Havelock, accompanied the patients to Peterborough and was met here by Dr. Young and Dr. Greer.

The late Mr. Rogers was about 40 years of age and was a highly respected farmer. His deceased wife was about 37 years of age.

Coroner Gray is holding an inquest at Havelock this afternoon to inquire into the matter.

COAL SITUATION.

Prices Look as if They Were Going Higher.

A coal merchant to-day informed the Examiner that coal was going up higher than many might expect. He showed the Examiner a telegram showing that coal at Niagara Falls was bringing $7. It cost $3.25 to bring the article to Peterborough, so that $11 is what the merchants here will be asking from now forward. Coal at even these prices is hard to obtain, it is said.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Mr. Roy has completed an excellent photo of Otonabee Lodge, O. O.O.F. Further reference will be be made to it to-morrow.

—We are at present experiencing another cold dip, which gives every indication of becoming more severe. At noon the official figures were 2 below zero. A strong north-west wind was also much in evidence. In Winnipeg last night the thermometer went down to 20 below zero.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

If one thing more than another emphasizes the difference between the preaching and practice of many so-called temperance people it is the vote in North Toronto on prohibition and the vote cast in the elections of May last in favour of a prohibition candidate, Mr. Marter. In the voting on Thursday last in North Toronto the vote in favour of prohibition resulted in a majority of 1,574. At the general election in May Mr. Marter was defeated by a majority of 232, a difference, according to these figures, of 1,800 between a political contest with a temperance candidate and a vote on prohibition separated entirely from party considerations. Mr. Marter was, besides, a typical prohibition candidate with no possible reason of doubting his good faith or sincerity. He stood alone on his side of the House in favour of prohibition and could very well be regarded as a champion. Yet professed temperance voters, who helped to pile up last Thursday a majority of 1,574 in favour of prohibition, "turned down" the best prohibition candidate the province could afford This becomes all the more remarkable, when one recollects the attitude of the political temperance people in the general elections. They denounced the referendum as a hopeless proposition and took the position that the only way to promote temperance was to elect candidates pledged to prohibition and temperance reform. This was tried in this very riding, but the pledged temperance candidate was also the pledged supporter of a leader pledged against prohibition, and the common sense of the electors resented this hypocritical attitude with the result we all know. But in Mr. Marter's case the matter was entirely different. Mr. Marter had cut adrift from his leader. He had taken an independent stand and assumed no position inconsistent with his standing as a prohibition candidate, and if any candidate in the province was entitled to the solid support of honest temperance people, it was Mr. Marter. But that was not considered. The object was to defeat the Government, which had offered the people the only measure of prohibition ever put within reach of the people of the province, and to elect a leader who was the declared enemy of prohibition, by defeating every candidate who would not swallow his temperance principles, and swear support to an anti-prohibition leader. Anything to defeat the Government was the cry, and the temperance cause was prostituted to that end and not only in North Toronto, but throughout the province, quite regardless of the injury done to the cause of temperance. And now the friends of prohibition, both the true and the bogus ones, see that the course taken in May last by the former, reacted fatally upon the vote on Thursday last, and the friends of temperance, who lament the result, see the treason of the friends of the cause in its true light. If prohibition is the great good its advocates claim, the latter will be unable to estimate the injury done their cause by its pretended friends.

THE OPINIONS EXPRESSED.

Favourable to the Profit and Practicability of the Industry—Professor Harcourt Gives Interesting Information—A Trip to Berlin Proposed.

The mass meeting called for Saturday afternoon in the interests of the sugar beet industry, was not very largely attended. Although there were not many present, those who were there, displayed the keenest interest in the question at issue.

Mr. E. M. Elliott, president of the Farmers' Institute of Peterborough County, was chosen as chairman. In the speech with which he opened the meeting, the chairman spoke briefly of the impressions gathered by him on his visit to Berlin. It seemed to him that farmers who were successful in other products would have a proportionate success in this industry, while the unsuccessful farmer would not do anything extraordinary in this venture. This was the gist of his remarks.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Mr. Elliott then introduced Mr. Garvin. That gentleman spoke not only as a promoter, but also as a farmer, and dwelt on the immensity of the industry as displayed at Berlin. Following this came a brief resume of the history of the beet root sugar industry in Europe and America. He also mentioned the marvellous manner in which mortgages had been paid off in the vicinity of beet root sugar industries, and also the increase of value of farming properties in these places. Then he gave a report of the measures taken in Peterborough. The bylaw proposition was dropped, and now the company was offering to give $4 per ton for beets during the first year, and in after years 33 1-3 cents for each per cent. of saccharine properties of beets, which, according to the analysis of beets grown in this district, should average $5.33 1-3 per ton of beets. Next the privileges accorded the farmers were dwelt on, and continuing, Mr. Garvin introduced Professor Harcourt, of the Agricultural College. Before Mr. Harcourt spoke, the chairman quietly asserted the duties of his position by saying that they had assembled principally to hear the opinions of farmers, and he asked Mr. T. M. Hunter to speak on the subject before the meeting.

Mr. Hunter said that he was in the project through self interest. He said that if the beet root industry were introduced that the by-products could be used as fertilizers, and that part of the product he thought would go hand in hand with the dairy industry. Speaking of the trip to Berlin, the thought that if a farmer took a limited acreage the result would be more than satisfactory. The local district, he said, was highly suited for this industry, and he would ask all farmers within a radius of ten miles to make a trial of the sugar beet.

PROF. HARCOURT SPEAKS.

Professor Harcourt then took up the subject. In the first place he stated that he was biased by no interest in any company, and that the company ran all the risk, and the farmers none. The speaker then dwelt upon the sources of the world's supply of sugar, and stated that 90 per cent. of it came from the sugar beet. A number of essentials necessary for the successful establishment of a factory were:

1. The surrounding country should be of a nature to produce good roots. Clay loam soils he thought were most suitable.

2. A plentiful supply of water; 4,000,000 gallons per day were required.

3. Easy means of transportation. In this Peterborough was especially favoured.

4. A supply of available labour. This labour question should not debar any farmer from making contracts, for the law of supply and demand would settle this in time.

The sugar beet has been especially cultivated for 140 years for its saccharine qualities, and now contains a high percentage of sugar. To get a good return the sugar beet must be matured, and in this respect is different from the ordinary root.

In reply to a question as to what was a matured beet, Mr. Harcourt said that the beet lost the strength of leaf in the same way as grass, and that when the beet turned yellow the beet was at maturity. Maturity should be the object aimed at. He thought that twenty tons to the acre was not impossible. Comparing the sugar beet to a highly bred animal, he showed that the beet needed just the same care. Experiments during the past three years have shown that sugar beets of a very high quality as regards purity, can be grown in Ontario.

Experiments had shown that Peterborough had given the very best results of any place in Ontario.

In reply to a question, the speaker said that the cost per acre of cultivation was, although variable, about $40 around Berlin.

Those who took small contracts were highly pleased with the result.

The speaker gave the experiences of a number of farmers from which it seemed as though small acreages payed well. The meeting then became open and a number of questions were asked.

Q.—If beets were pulled at end of October would they be all right?

A.—As long as the beets are covered with tops and freezing and thawing prevented, no harm was done.

Q.—Will men having big crops have as good precentage of purity and sugar as smaller contractors?

A.—In all likelihood they will not.

Q.—How late can beets be sown?

A.—The first part of May should be latest.

Q.—Is clover sod good to sow in?

A.—It is not well to sow upon clover sod, fresh ploughed. Manuring should not be done in the same crop. Fall ploughing and surface cultivation should precede sowing.

Q.—Do you recommend sowing on level or in drills?

A.—Entirely on the level.

Q.—How close together should the rows be sown?

A.—About 16 or 18 inches.

Q.—Would they need cultivation before thinning?

A.—Yes.

Q.—How close should they be thinned?

A.—About seven inches.

This answer was taken exception to by one of the men who had taken part in the local experiment, who thought seven inches too great.

Q.—What is your opinion of transplanting?

A.—Under ordinary circumstances it is not worth the trouble.

Q.—After the beet is sown would you recommend surface cultivation before the beets are up?

A.—Not to be recommended and it is preferable to wait until after the beets are up. A number had lost beets through doing this.

Q.—What kind of feed does the pulp make for cattle?

A.—In future this will be an important by-product. In some cases it is baled and sold for forage.

Again in closing he reiterated that the farmer stood to lose nothing by taking a small acreage.

Mr. Elliott then spoke briefly and intimated that an excursion would be run to Berlin per special train for less than $3.00, and it seemed as though the majority of the meeting was favourable to this. Mr. Bradburn then told the people that canvassers would go among the people shortly and asked that the farmers give the matter their serious thought.

This closed the business of the afternoon and the meeting then broke up.

LOCKAGES AT BOBCAYGEON.

A Great Increase in Traffic at Lovesick.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: The season of navigation has been a longer one than usual, commencing early and closing late. As an excursion season it was not good ,the weather being too wet and cool. July, August and September were very near even in number of boat passing through, and for scows August, September and October were the best months The total lockages for the season were 969, and of these 404 were boats, 320 scows, and 245 cribs. Mr. McFarlane reports a large increase in traffic through his lock at Lovesick. When he first went there, three years ago, the lockages were only 170; this season they totalled 514. The number made for steamers was 353, for barges 77, rafts ,84. The development of the T.V.N. Co'y of the Kawartha Lakes, with their steamer service has much to do of course with the increase of traffic.

IN A NEW ROLE.

Carrie Nation Attended the Opera in New York.

Mrs. Carrie Nation has once more distinguished herself. There was a show in New York last week, which was attended by many of the fashionables and upper ten of the American capital, and Mrs. Carrie Nation, starting from her seat faced a number of ladies in the reserved seats and harangued them on the style of their clothes, which she denounced as immodest. Carrie Nation's address has attracted great attention, for much of it was true. The dress of a fashionable gathering only covers the lady for about half way from the waist to the neck, and the only part of their bodies which they scrupulously cover and conceal is their hands. Carrie was finally ejected by the police, but her departure from "the bottle," to "immodesty in women's dress," has caused much discussion and will probably have considerable effect. —Bobcaygeon Independent

IT WAS NOT POLITICS.

Toronto Star.

The fact that Toronto and other cities, where the Conservative vote is strongest, gave unexpected majorities for the License Act, has started the story that the Conservatives supported the act in the hope of "putting Ross in a hole." Individual electors may have voted for the act with this idea, but it is highly improbable that the Conservative managers had anything to do with it, or any desire to see the act carried at the polls. In fact Mr. Whitney and his chief counsellors must have seen that Mr. Ross could not be got "into a hole" by such tactics. If the Conservatives had swung into line and carried the act it would have been the Premier's duty to go ahead with the law, and the prohibitionists would have seen that their only hope lay in winning the bye-elections for him, so that he would be strong enough to carry out the task. The bye-elections are in rural constituencies, where, in a political campaign, the prohibitionists would be able to work up a good deal of strength, and so, instead of putting Mr. Ross "in a hole," the Conservatives by carrying the act, would have given him all the bye-elections. The Conservatives must have been well aware of this. It is, as we have said, highly improbable, therefore, that the Conservative managers wanted to thus line up and face sure defeat in the bye-elections. The large vote in favour of the Liquoir Act polled in the cities, cannot, therefore, be explained away or minimized by attributing it to party manipulation.

BRITAIN AND VENEZUELA.

Unusual Activity at the Foreign Office in London Saturday.

London, Dec. 8.—There was unusual activity at the Foreign Office here Saturday afternoon and it was quite late before the doors were closed. This was partly because of an important conference with the Italian Ambassador in regard to the attitude of his Government toward England's campaign in Somaliland, but chiefly on account of the interchange of despatches between Lord Lansdowne and Sir Francis Lascelles, the British Ambassador at Berlin, in regard to joint action in the Venezuela question.

It may be said without reserve that England and Germany are at present acting in complete co-operation on this question. If there is reason to believe that the latter is pressing for more rapid measures than Lord Lansdowne advocates, it is a belief based on general antecedents, and is not founded on any evidence of lack of harmony.

It was learned from authoritative sources that no ultimatum was delivered to Venezuela yesterday. The instructions which will be sent to the British naval commander at La Guayra, it is expected will result in a definite issue by the middle of this week. There are good grounds for believing between now and then the claims of Great Britain will be settled without the rather strong assemblage of British ships in Venezuelan waters having to make more than a passive demonstration. It will also probably be indicated at the same time that negotiations for the settlement of the trouble are going on here.

Italy Is in This, Too.

Rome, Dec. 8.—Two station cruisers have been ordered to be put in commission for immediate active service. These vessels are thought to be going to Venezuela.

Cruisers Gather.

Caracas, Dec. 8.—The second-class cruiser Retribution, from Bermuda, and the German cruiser Gazelle, from Willemstad, have anchored at La Guayra. The Spanish warship Nautilus has also arrived at La Guayra.

NOTED CARTOONIST DEAD.

Nast, Consul General, Passes Away After Three Days' Illness.

Guayaquil, Dec. 7.—Consul-General Nast died yesterday at noon after three days' illness. He was interred at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The funeral was attended by the Governor, the consular corps, the American colony and by many friends. The coffin was wrapped in the Stars and Stripes. The British Consul recited a prayer in the cemetery. The death of Mr. Nast is deeply lamented by the natives, who held him in high esteem.

Thomas Nast was nominated Consul-General at Guayaquil, May 1, 1902, and left New York for his post July 1. He arrived at Guayaquil the latter end of the same month. Consul Nast was born in Landau, Bavaria, Sept. 27, 1840, and came with his parents to the United States six years later. He early developed the artistic ability which made him famous as a caricaturist and cartoonist. For years he was a traveling artist for British and American newspapers, and in 1860-1 was with Garibaldi in Italy. Afterwards he was with Harper's Weekly as political cartoonist.

SENATOR O'DONOHOE DEAD.

Aged Parliamentarian Passes Away in Toronto at Age of 78.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The death occurred at 6 o'clock last evening at his late residence, 100 Church street, of Senator John O'Donohoe, one of Toronto's best known and oldest barristers.

Senator O'Donohoe was descended from the ancient family of his name, having their chief seat at Glenflesk, County Kerry, Ireland. He was born at Tuam, Galway, April 18, 1824, and was educated at St. Jarlath's College. The family came to Toronto in 1889, and the Senator resided here ever since. For some time he was engaged in commercial pursuits, but was called to the bar in 1869 and began the practice of law. In 1880 he was appointed a Q. C. He was called to the Senate May 31, 1882.

FIFTEEN YEARS.

Harry Bremner, Who Might Have Been Twice a Murderer, Sentenced.

Toronto Junction, Dec. 6.— Harry Bremner, found guilty of shooting A. C. Mutart, and shooting at J. Shaw, was yesterday morning sentenced by Police Magistrate Ellis to fifteen years in the penitentiary on each charge; both sentences to run concurrently. Mutart was able to be present at the court, and gave evidence on the charge of shooting at John Shaw. The Crown, represented by H. H. Dewart, K.C., produced, through James Scott and his sister, who keeps a restaurant on Yonge street, evidence to show that Bremner was in the habit of borrowing their revolver. The one, however, found upon the prisoner was not Scott's. Bremner borrowed it to protect a large sum of money he carried and usually returned it next day. Mr. Godfrey pleaded hard for leniency on account of the prisoner's youth, but the magistrate did not consider it a case of leniency. He believed that on each occasion he shot to kill, and it was only the prisoner's imperfect aim that prevented a double and probably a triple murder.

The Whole Secret

Of the Remarkable Success of a Remedy for Indigestion and Stomach Troubles.

A New Remedy Which May Revolutionize the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

Now Placed Before the Public and Bears the Endorsement of Many Leading Physicians and Scientific Men.

This preparation is not a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine-tenths of our nation are more or less affected.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant-tasting tablets or lozenges containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (free from animal impurities) Golden Seal and diastase. They are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many interesting experiments made with these tablets show that they possess remarkable digestive power, one grain of the active principle in one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets being sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of lean meat, eggs, oatmeal or similar wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigour, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach. This is the secret and the whole secret of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most popular, safest and most widely sold of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive, pure and simple; because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue.

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissue and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol de-rol that dyspepsia is a germ disease or that other fallacy that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, catarrh of the stomach, gas and bloating after meals because they furnish the digestive power, which is the one thing that weak stomachs lack, and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to assist it by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power and do not claim to have any.

The regular use of one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

They are sold by druggists everywhere, and a little booklet on cause and cure of stomach troubles will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

VOTE IS OVER 150,000

Prohibition Majority Has Now Reached Over 65,000.

RESULTS OF THE REFERENDUM

Official Returns Add Many Thousand to the Total Vote Over That at First Available—Northern Districts Still Have Scanty Totals — Vote Is Considerably Over Dominion Plebiscite of 1898.

Total Vote Reported:—

For	150,576
Against	85,427
Majority for	65,149

Toronto, Dec. 8.—Official returns are now available in a great many of the counties and all of the cities, and the result is a very great increase in the total vote cast for prohibitory legislation. The summary compiled at 1 o'clock this morning shows that the vote for the act totals 150,576. As the northern sections of the Province have sent very incomplete returns, and some of the more thickly-settled counties have also to complete their returns, the total may yet be increased to 160,000, with probably 90,000 against. This vote is considerably over that of the Dominion plebiscite on 1898, when the total was 152,337, while the nays will apparently fall short of the total then secured against prohibitory legislation by fully 20,000.

Free Potatoes For Troops.

Cape Town, Dec. 7.—In consequence of the dearness of living in South Africa, which obliges soldiers to spend practically all their pay on food, the War Office has decided to make a free issue of ½-lb. of potatoes per day to each man. These at present can only be purchased at extravagant prices.

The Drop Curtain.

A youngster had been to the theater, and upon his return his uncle asked him how he liked the play.

"Oh," he replied, "the play was all right, but I didn't see nearly all of it."

"Why, how did that happen?" asked his uncle.

"Because," answered the youngster, "the roller must have been broke, for the window blind fell down two or three times!"

Flax, area in crop, 41,200 acres; average yield, 13.7 bushels; total yield, 564,440 bushels.

The total grain crop of the province is 100,052,343.

Land prepared for crop of 1903 — Breaking, 151,895; fallowing, 563,780 acres; fall plowing, 1,015,870 the total area prepared for the crop of 1903 is 1,730,995 acres. These figures are worth nating, for they are the basis of the outlook for next season's crop. They are far in excess of the number of acres ever prepared in any year for the followiag year's crop.

Of this year's wheat crop nearly 30,000,000 bushels have been disposed of or put into elevators by farmers. The quantity from Manitoba and the Territories that passed inspection by the official inspector up to Dec. 1 was 22,367,000 bushels. Of this quantity 11,352,000 bushels graded No. 1 hard, 6,854,000 bushels graded No. 2 northern and all other grades 1,971,000 bushels. This may be taken as a fair indication of the quality of our total wheat crop, the oat and barley crop being especially good.

Premier Ejected From Rostrum.

Paris, Dec. 8.—There was an unprecedented scene in the Chamber of Deputies Saturday over the Humbert case. Members of the Right Party engaged in a free fight with Centre Party members; the Premier, M. Combes, was forcibly ejected from the rostrum, and sitting was suspended amid intense excitement. The disturbance arose when M. Valles, progressive Republican, described Frederick Humbert as a "Boufangist deputy."

THE GUILD ENTERTAINED.

The Members of St. Paul's Guild Visit the Home of Their Pastor.

On Friday evening last the members of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild were entertained by their pastor, Rev. Dr. Torrance, and Mrs. Torrance, at their residence, corner of Rubidge and King streets. Shortly after eight o'clock, the members, to the number of twenty-five, arrived, and were kindly received by Mrs. Torrance. A short time was spent in games, etc., after which Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, gave an address on "Life in the German Army." The address, which was both interesting and instructive, dealt with the three different classes of German soldiers, and the life led by them under the varied terms of enlistment. The German soldier's life was illustrated from the time of enlistment until the date of discharge. The annoyances and hardships to which he was subjected, were fully dwelt on. Throughout the address many points concerning which the English mind had an entire misconception, were explained and illustrated by references to the English army system.

At the close, a vote of thanks, moved by Rev. J. A. Wilson, and seconded by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, was tendered Mr. Langfeldt, who in expressing his thanks, declared himself to be a thorough British subject.

Following this refreshments were served, and, needless to say, the boys did ample justice to the good things provided, and moreover the evening became more informal. Games, etc, filled the remaining portion of the evening, and shortly after 10.45 the pleasant evening was closed by a hymn and the benediction.

THE MAYORALTY SITUATION.

The retirement of Mayor Denne from municipal life makes it certain that he will not be a candidate for the Mayoralty as was generally anticipated. The question of the mayoralty has created some little quiet discussion and the name of Alderman G. M. Roger has been freely and favourably mentioned as an elegible and desirable candidate for the position. We understand that Mr. Roger has the matter under consideration, and it will be fortunate for the town if Mr. Roger consents to become a candidate. Of course to a busy man the acceptance of the office of Mayor involves no little sacrifice, but we believe that Mr. Roger has sufficient public spirit and sufficient material interest in Peterborough and pride in its progress, to accept a position which we feel sure he would fill to the promotion of the best interests of the town and with credit to Peterborough and himself. Mr. Roger is being urged by many prominent citizens who have the welfare of the town at heart, to enter the field and it is to be hoped that their solicitations will be successful in eliciting his consent to become a candidate for the Mayoralty, for we believe that he has every essential qualification needed to make an efficient and valuable first magistrate of a town of the importance of Peterborough.

A CORRECTION CORRECTED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — In regard to the statement in last Friday's issue of your paper I have this to say. That the resolution, to the effect that the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union was not in favour of the publication of the assessment roll or of municipal ownership of coal or wood yards, as published in Thursday's issue, was properly moved and carried by a majority of those present. I would also say that I was instructed by the officers of the union to hand the same to papers. If any further information is required by above named brother, it will be given at the next regular meeting of the union.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

JAS. J. GOODWIN,

Recording Secretary B. & M. U., No. 17.

December 8th, 1902.

The above is a correct statement of the above named case.

MARK DOBSON,

President B. & M. U., No. 17.

THE SERVICES OF YESTERDAY

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt's Interesting Discourse at St. Luke's.

The Services at the Y. M. C. A.—George Street Church Music.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt ,of St. Luke's, preached last night to a large congregation on the subject of "Christ as the Bearer of Prayers." His text was Rev. viii, 4, "And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand."

Mr. Langfeldt said that the altar referred to in verse 3, was the Lord Jesus Christ, and that incense the sweet odour of Christ's perfect merit, and the prayers from earth mingling with that incense were floating always around the mercy seat.

In glad obedience to the mandates of Christ, to pray always in His name, the Church of England has been very careful to wind up all its prayers and praises with some form of words to express that name of Jesus, equivalent to "through Jesus Christ, our Lord."

The use of this Blessed Name means, first, a confession of our unworthiness and sinfulness in all our words and thoughts; we claim audience only through another.

Secondly, we recognize the great fact that there is only access to God by Him. No priest, no saint is needed, nor worthy ever to step between a soul and God as mediator. There was a barrier — a range of untraversable heights — masses upon masses of sin, between us and God. Christ came and bore away that mountain, and the road was open. He was the Bearer of Sin first, that He might be the Bearer of Prayer always.

Thirdly, the access made, Christ took His place at God's right hand, as High Priest of His people, as the only Mediator between God and man.

Fourthly, Christ makes our prayers, what they are not in themselves, fit to enter into the ears of the Lord Sabaoth.

Fifthly, what we do in Christ's name is as if He did it Himself.

Mr. Langfeldt urged his congregation to be more in earnest in the way they say and feel those last words of the prayer. "Knock louder with them, demand them,—do you not stand there in the name of the King of Kings? In the name of Jesus, I ask, I claim, I command Thee, O God, concerning the work of Thy own hands, give me my pardon, give me my place, give me my holiness, give me my heaven."

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

The music at the services yesterday was very excellently rendered. The evening service took the form of a "Hymn Service." Several hymns were sung by the whole congregation and also some by the choir. Solos were most artistically rendered by Miss Clara Belleghem, and Mr. G W. Mulligan.

The League meeting to-night will be of especial interest. Mr. J. J. Jeffries will tell of the coronation and London. Personal experience has enabled Mr. Jeffries to prepare a very interesting lecture on this subject, and there should be a very large attendance.

To-morrow night there will be a meeting of the Young Girls' Guild of the church.

Wednesday night there will be held the annual congregational meeting. All the members of the congregation, especially those who are practically strangers in town, are cordially invited to attend. Come and njoy a good programme and a free supper. Wednesday evening.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

The music at the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday, was as follows:

Morning — Anthem, "Christian, the Morn."—Shelly; solo, Miss Pedlar; duet, Miss Pedlar and Mr. Davies.

Evening — "Thou, O Lord, Art Praised,"—Vicars; duet, "Inspirer and Hearer of Prayer," Mrs. Pearse and Mr. Davis; anthem, "Love Divine, All Love Excelling,"—Schneckner; offertory, "God Calling Yet."

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH.

There were large congregations at All Saints' church yesterday morning and evening, when Rev. W. L. Armitage delivered two very impressive sermons of a series he has been preaching on the book of Malachi, applying his prophecies to the present time.

The anthem yesterday, was "Great and Marvellous." Mr. Legg sang the "Ave Maria," from Cavalleria Rusticana.

On Sunday next Rev. Dr. Gould, a returned missionary from Palestine, will preach at the morning service.

WHAT A MAN IS WORTH.

Mr. R. J. Koffend, late of the Moody Bible Institute ,Chicago, gave a telling address at the Men's Y.M.C.A. men's meeting yesterday afternoon, there being a fair attendance. After reading a number of selections from Scripture on the topic, "What's a man worth?" the speaker referred to the question as the measure of the man would be decided by the ancient Greek, whose ideal was athletics, or the Roman, who delighted in combat, or the modern knight who excelled with lance or spear. None of these answered the question. A man might have a splendid body, and yet have nothing more. Flesh and blood could not inherit the Kingdom of God.

What a man was worth was not decided by his ability to increase his wealth for true life did not consist in the abundance of things that a man possessed. The keystone was lacking unless a man had a spirit touched by the Spirit of God. No man apart from God could live a Christian life.

Mr. Koffend closed with a strong appeal to the young men to follow Paul's admonition and present their bodies "a living sacrifice, acceptable to God."

Before the address Mr. Jas. Dawson sang "Wandering Child ,Come Home," with good effect.

Mr. Thos. McGillicuddy will be the speaker next Sunday, his subject being "A Young Man's Way." Mr. McGillicuddy will also lecture on Monday evening, the 15th inst.

THE WORK NOW WELL ADVANCED

At the New Dam of the American Cereal Co.

A GLANCE AT THE WORK.

Not having received any reports of the above work very recently, except as conveyed to the Examiner by means of dynamite charges, a representative was sent to the site of the new dam to see, and hear, what was going on. Desiring to possess himself of all the information he could, he sought out the contractor's engineer, Mr. Bourchier, who courteously accompanied him around the works, and explained to him all that was going on, and what it was proposed to do.

The Examiner representative was first conducted to what seemed to him the commencement of a second bottomless pit, where the wicked (foremen) never cease from troubling, nor the weary toilers (at present principally Italians) are allowed to rest until the whistle blows for the cessation of work. This excavation when completed, will be the wheel pit of the power house, and has to a large extent been blasted out and excavated to grade level. Its full depth from the original sawdust level, is 29 feet, and measures over all about 100 feet by about 80 feet.

The tail race has already been commenced, and will run parallel with the old Dickson race, from the new power house to just beyond the present electric power house, a distance of about 900 feet, having a width of 45 feet, and a fall of one foot in that distance, the average depth of excavation being nearly 21 feet. Work on the tail race will be continued all winter. The clam dredge, which has now been lying idle for quite a few weeks, will be sent to work again ,as soon as possible, to remove the sawdust lying along the line. The dredge in turn will be followed closely by the steam drills, the and excavating being pushed on with all despatch, while at the sides of the raceway the building of the dry rubble work will give employment to quite a number of men and some few teams.

And with respect to the more important part of the undertaking, namely, the construction of the dam, there has now been built fully two-thirds of it, the concrete piers, bulkheads, etc., having been brought up to their full height. All that remains to complete this section of the dam is the timber apron that is intended to extend some 36 feet beyond the line of the concrete work on the lower, or south, side of the dam. It is proposed as soon as the water goes down a little more during the coming winter months, to build the balance of the coffer-dam across the open water on the east side of the river, and to take every advantage of even temporary mild days to get in the concrete in the foundations of the remaining section of the dam, and advance its completion as fast as possible. The new section of the coffer-dam will necessarily have to be vastly heavier than the present one and a good deal deeper. When these operations commence the water will be thrown over as much as possible to the west side of the river; some of it probably being conducted away by the present old tail race and the large balance of it over the new dam. In addition to the above concrete work a considerable sized concrete retaining-wall has been built close to the old mill and bridge.

FINE WEATHER.

It has been gratefully recognized by the contractor and those with him that they have been extremely fortunate in having had up to date, such extremely fine and mild weather, at the same time it cannot but be recognized that had not Mr. O'Toole set about his work in such a systematic manner and taken the fullest advantage of every opportunity to push the work it would never have advanced as rapidly as it has done. The work has not been confined to the day-time only, but been carried on by night as well with the aid of the electric lights, and on several occasions the hissing of the steam from the boilers and the monotonous hammer, hammer, hammer of the steam-drills have been heard all night long up to the time when the men have resumed work again the next morning at 7 o'clock.

It is this sort of energy and intelligence that conduces towards making a work pay, and that attracts the Examiner's unstinted admiration. The Examiner thoroughly endorses the off-hand opinion given on the streets by constant visitors to the dam that the work from the very commencement has been carried on by Mr. O'Toole with greater energy and determination than has been displayed at any time in this section of the country since works of any magnitude were first commenced.

It is the Examiner's regret that it is as yet personally but slightly acquainted with Mr. O'Toole and his staff but it takes this opportunity to wish them all a happy and prosperous New Year, and a speedy and successful completion of the work they are engaged on.

SENSATION IN QUEBEC.

Wonderful Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills Causing Much Talk.

Dame Joseph Millette, of St. Rosaire, Tells of Her Pains and how Easily she got Rid of Them.

December 8 9 10

St. Rosaire, D'Arthabasca, Que., December 8th. (Special.) — Among the people of this neighbourhood there has been much talk of late of the numerous cures resulting from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Such diseases as Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, and even Catarrh, have yielded readily to this wonderful remedy and people are fast learning how important it is that the kidneys should be kept in shape to perform their duty of removing impurities from the blood.

One of those who speak out often and earnestly of the good Dodd's Kidney Pills have done is the good Dame Joseph Millatte. She suffered from Kidney Complaint and Catarrh, and is now completely cured. It is not to be wondered at that she speaks as follows:

"I suffered much from malady of the Kidneys. It settled in the loins and gave me great pain and discomfort. I took two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly well.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a grand remedy for me. I give Dodd's Kidney Pills my certificate from a big heart."

Many others, once sufferers, but now in good health, unite with Dame Joseph Millette in singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have proved conclusively that no disease arising from diseased Kidneys can stand before them.

THE LARGEST LIFE.

By Archibald Lampman.

I.

"I lie upon my bed and hear and see.
The moon is rising through the glistening trees,
And momently a great and sombre breeze,
With a vast voice returning fitfully,
Comes like a deep-toned grief, and stirs in me,
Somehow, by some inexplicable art
A sense of my souls strangeness, and its part,
In the dark march of human destiny.
What am I, then, and what are they that pass,
Yonder, and love and laugh, and mourn and weep?
What shall they know of me, or I, alas!
Of them? Little. At times, as if from sleep,
We waken in this yearning passionate mood,
And tremble at our spiritual solitude.

II.

"Nay, never once to feel we are alone,
While the great human heart around us lies;
To make the smile on other lips our own,
To live upon the light in other's eyes;
To breathe without a doubt the limpid air
Of that most perfect love that knows no pain;
To say—I love you—only, and not care
Whether the love came back to us again,
Divinest self-forgetfulness, at first
A task, and then a tonic, then a need;
To greet with open hands the best and worst,
And only for another's wound to bleed;
This is to see the beauty that God meant,
Wrapped round with life, ineffably content.

III.

"There is a beauty at the goal of life,
A beauty growing since the world began,
Through every age and race, through lapse and strife
Till the great human soul complete her span,
Beneath the waves of storm that lash and burn,
The currents of blind passion that appall,
To listen and keep watch till we discern
The tide of sovereign truth that guides it all;
So to address our spirits to the height,
And so attune them to the valiant whole,
That the great light be clearer for our light.
And the great soul be stronger for our soul;
To have done this is to have lived, though fame
Remember us with no familiar name."

Sketch of Archibald Lampman.

For many years now the poems that formed the body of Archibald Lampman's first volume, "Among the Millet," published in 1888, have determined his place in poetry with readers. This was that of one with a sensuous delight in nature, habitually engaged in a stocktaking of her loveliness. In fact, his art might have been described as pictorial, but with the appearance of "Lyrics 6 of Earth," in 1895, it was seen that, along with the stocktaking, greater care was taken to note the "effects" of the beauty of nature, as all the great poets, from Homer down, have done. Lampman's natural and cultivated artistic feeling led him to depart more and more from his earlier manner, until in "Alcyone," the volume in preparation at the time of his lamented death, in February, 1899, now included in the complete edition of his poems, he had attained the heights where the gaze, having ceased to merely revel in outward beauty, was vouchsafed the "authentic vision"—perceived there "some shadows of eternity"—saw "the light of sense" go out, "but with a flash that has revealed the invisible world."

At the time of the poet's death, referring to him appreciatively in these columns, we quoted from the only works of his then available, admitting that that poetry was not of the highest order. With such poems as "The Largest Life" before one, and "Chione," and "Inter Vias," and "Vivia Perpetua," and "The Vase of Ibn Mekbil," and "We Too Shall Sleep," and such perfect sonnets as those we have quoted, and "Uplifting" and "Earth, the Stoic"— to name but a few of his later and best —that judgment must be materially altered. As it stands, his work is a rich contribution to poetic literature. Had he lived, one can imagine what his matured and lucid spirit would have created.

The complete poems of Lampman have been edited with a memoir by Mr. Duncan Campbell Scott. No more discerning hand could have been selected. From his tender sketch of his friend we learn that our poet was born at Morpeth, in the County of Kent, Ont., in the year 1861, of U. E. Loyalist stock. His father was an Anglican clergyman, and a man of poetic taste. "Alcyone" is dedicated to him by his son as "himself a poet, who first instructed me in the art of verse." The boy was promising, and at Trinity College, Port Hope, carried off every prize going. From there he came up to Trinity University, Toronto, where the social and literary side of his character developed. He graduated in 1882, and soon after was appointed to the post in the Civil Service which he held up to his death. The routine work and assured, if modest, income removed him from the stress of living for which his sensitive temperament unfitted him, and the work had its compensations in the regular periods of leisure it allowed. Mr. Lampman spent his vacations among the forests of the Ottawa, and there one autumn overexerted himself on a canoeing trip and brought on the lesion of the heart, which resulted in his too early death. So essential do I consider his work towards the formation of a standard of taste in Canadian poetry, where domestic and sentimenal rhymes are accustomed to pass for that art, that I strongly advise my readers to continue the acquaintance I have here opened for them.—Pharos in The Globe.

"Devotees of the Truck Garden."

Herbert Spencer is poking fun at the vegetarians of England, and has taken them completely by surprise, inasmuch as vegetarian faddists thought they could claim the philosopher as one of their own. Mr. Spencer does not apparently think highly of the mental state produced by a year of vegetable diet. He said recently: "I went over all that I had written during the year I practiced vegetarianism and consigned it all to the fire." Since then he has been saying some facetious things about the "devotees of the truck garden," as he calls the vegetarians.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Truth.

Truth is always consistent with itself and needs nothing to help it out. It is always near at hand, sits upon our lips and is ready to drop out before we are aware. A lie is troublesome and sets a man's invention upon the rack, and one trick needs a great many more to make it good.

The Dread of an Operation

Stares Many Pile Sufferers in the Face—The Safest and Surest Cure is

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Possibly you are a sufferer from piles and have been disheartened and discouraged because your physician has told you that nothing short of an operation will cure you.

You dread the thought of a surgical operation, for, besides the expense and strain on the nervous system, there is the risk of life itself. It is only a few months since a member of the Ontario Legislature lost his life as the result of an operation for piles. The risk of an operation is too great, and, besides, it is unnecessary.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has frequently cured piles after surgical operations have failed. It is every day curing cases which physicians have stated to be incurable by any treatment short of an operation.

If you could read a few of the letters we receive from persons who have been cured of piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment you would soon be convinced of its wonderful control over this frightfully common disease.

Rev. S. A. Dupray, Methodist minister, Consecon, Prince Edward County, Ont., states:—"I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years, and they ultimately attained to a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed so that it was with great difficulty and considerable pain that I was able to stoop. At this severe crisis I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but I had little or no faith in it, as I had tried various remedies before and to no purpose.

"Now, imagine how great and joyous was my surprise to find that just the one box cured me, so that the lumps disappeared and also the external swelling. I feel like a different man to-day, and have not the least doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation, and many years of suffering. It is with the greatest pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Dr. Chase's Ointment has done so much for me. You are at perfect liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

STERILISED SHAVING.

Novel Toilet Saloon Where Bacteria Cannot Live

There are undoubtedly those who desire to have their toilet performed in microbe-free surroundings and under absolutely antiseptic conditions, and there is but one place in Europe in which you can be accommodated.

The Aseptic Toilet Association has established in London a saloon that for freedom from the risk of infection in the work of the toilet stands alone.

Everything is done on antiseptic lines. The customer desiring to be shaved enters a bright, cheerful and delightfully clean room, seats himself in an iron, white enamelled chair that has been washed in distilled water and leans the back of his head on an India rubber pad that has been sponged with distilled water since it was last used.

His feet rest on nickel-plated revolving bars that will not attract dust, and a sterilized Indi rubber cloth protects his clothes and collar and tie.

The barber, who is enveloped in a sterilized India rubber coat, takes a small capsule of antiseptic soap, and throws it into a round-bottomed sterilized shaving-pot.

He uses a sterilized shaving brush —each customer having a new brush —and distilled water, but before commencing operations, dips the fingertips of his left hand, which comes in contact with the face, in a powerful antiseptic solution.

He also uses a sterilized razor, which is sharpened on a strop having sterilized nickel handles, the razor itself having been immersed in a strong antiseptic solution.

On the completion of the shave the customer's face is wiped twice with a sterilized India rubber sponge held under running water—which has been turned on by pedal taps—and a third time by the sponge, which has been dipped in an antiseptic solution.

After being wiped with a fresh towel, taken from a microbe-free drawer, the visitor's face is powdered with a little capsule of antiseptic powder, applied by a sterilized puff, which is immediately thrown away. An antiseptic "spray" completes the operation.

Hair-cutting is conducted with the same zealous attention to the sterilization of all appliances and treatment with antiseptic solutions.

The manager of the Antiseptic Toilet Association told an Express representative that the antiseptic treatment of shaving and hair-cutting has become very popular, and the charges—6d. for shaving, and 1s. for hair-cutting—are the prices prevailing among the other barbers of the West End.—London Express.

How the Earth Changes.

How does one generation of men succeed another? The fathers are not swept away in a body to make room for the children, but one by one the old drop off and the young come on until a day is reached when none of those remain that once were here. How does some form of human speech become extinct? About 100 years ago an old lady named Dolly Dentreath died in Cornwall. She could speak the Cornish language. After her death there was nobody that could. Thus quietly did the living Cornish language become a dead language. And in a like unobtrusive manner have been wrought most of the new becomings which have changed and are changing the earth.

Too Much Food.

Much of the sinking, tired and empty feeling from which business men who work their brains alone so often suffer is due to the accumulation of toxins in the system which want "working off." Two meals a day and active exercise are the preventive, and there is no exercise which can be got at any time and by anybody to the extent that walking can. But to do good it must not be sauntering. Really "smart" walking is what is wanted.—Hospital.

The Orkney Islands.

"The member from the Orkneys" is the only man in the British house of commons who can say he sits for 200 islands. Only sixty of the islands are inhabited, but the constituency embraces more than 60,000 people.

The Orkneys were once given by Norway to England as security for a queen's dower and never redeemed. In the islands the voters must go to the polls by boats, and in some cases the distance to be traveled is eight miles.

Told Her Frankly.

Edith—Tell me frankly, George, if you were a rich man do you think you would ask me to marry you?

George—I don't think it would be necessary, Edith. In that case you would probably do the asking!

When a Russian family moves, it is the custom to carry the fire from the hearth of the old house in a closed vessel to the new residence.

In marriage only when there is equality of health as well as affection. Affection may be the basis of unity in marriage, but the superstructure depends largely on the womanly health. When the wife is tormented with backache, distressed by headache, and racked by nervousness, she has no ambition for exercise or pleasure.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures headache, backache, and other womanly ills by curing the diseases of the womanly organism which cause them. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

"My wife commenced to complain twenty years ago," writes Lewis A. Miller, ex-Chief of Police, 33 Prospect Street, Weisport, Pa. "We have tried the skill of twelve different doctors. She took gallons of medicine during the time she was ill, until I wrote to you and you told us what to do. She has taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She can do her own work now and can walk around again and is quite smart.

"You can publish this letter if you wish. We have received such benefit that we wish every sufferer could derive the same amount of good. My wife's complaint seemed to be a complication of diseases—so the doctors said. We will ever remain your friends. May God bless you and your Institute."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

BAD BLOOD

Bad Blood can be Cured by

Mr. Wm. O'Malley, Madawaska, Ont., writes:—I used to be terribly bothered with boils and pimples, caused by bad blood and run-down system. I took two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it made my skin nice and clear, and built up my constitution. Any person using it will never be bothered with skin diseases.

THE THEORY OF IT.

London Speaker on the Doukhobors and the Rights of Animals.

A Doukhobor community in the Canadian Northwest has suddenly asked itself by what right it kept its herds of domestic beasts in subjection. To ask the question was fatal. Once admit the idea of rights in this connection, and the whole fabric of animal servitude on which our civilization rests must crumble away. . . . . The Doukhobors after all, have only given an honestly concrete turn to an abstraction which has long been an obsession in modern thought. The modern European languages are much too rich in abstract terms. It is our facility in dealing in words like "territory" and "sphere of influence" that makes war possible. If we thought instead of the meadows, the farms, and the homes we should seldom send a Maxim gun abroad. So it is with the case of the animals. For life in the abstract we have all of us developed an almost morbid reverence. We shrink from the responsibility of capital punishment, while we heartily doom the criminal to a death in life more terrifying than torture itself. To prolong the torments of a dying man we ransack every artifice of the laboratory, and pump oxygen into a frame that can only live to suffer. What we lack is rather the respect for individual lives. The mystery of the biological processes impresses us profoundly, and we hesitate to stop the curious machine which breathes and moves and assimilates. It is the aesthetic sense that fails us. We do not realize enough the worth of a wild creature moving with grace in its own haunts and fulfilling in its own way the instincts that are so much more complex than the physiological business that somehow stirs our veneration. . . . In strict logic, indeed, it is hard to find a justification for a middle course in the ethics of animal employment. Either one admits or one denies that animals have rights. Admit it, and you will find it hard to defend their servitude. Deny it, and you make illogical your prejudice against the brutal carter, and the vivisector who will not use an anaesthtic.—London Speaker.

How Not to Grow Old.

The Spanish wit and philosopher, Quevedo, who in his time gained a reputation for knowing everything, was asked if he knew of a means whereby a person could avoid growing old. "Most certainly," said he. "I know of certain rules which will surely prevent your growing old."

"What are they?"

"Keep in the sun in summer and in the wet in winter. That is one rule. Never give yourself rest. That is another. Fret at everything that happens. That is another. And then if you take care always to eat meat cold and drink plenty of cold water when you are hot you may be perfectly sure that you will never grow old!"

A Cup of Coffee.

An ideal cup of coffee can, it is said, be made only in one way. The coffee must be of the best quality and must be roasted, ground immediately and used as quickly as possible. Connoisseurs in coffee assure us that it is out of the question to make this beverage absolutely perfect out of factory roasted coffee that has been allowed to stand in the open air any number of hours. In addition one might say that such a thing as a cup of good coffee from that which is purchased ready ground is quite an impossibility. The fine aroma of the berry evaporates in a very short time.

Effecting a Settlement.

"On one occasion," remarked a well known Methodist minister who had been a circuit rider in the mountains of North Carolina, "a man from a neighboring county swooped down on our side and carried off the wife and mule of one of my church members. There was an immediate agitation, and in the midst of it I arrived. A consultation was held, and it was decided that I should go as peacemaker and ambassador and effect a settlement. Just before I started the bereaved husband called me to one side for private conference.

"'I reckon, parson,' he said, 'that you oughter to know my feelin's in this thing.'

"'Of course—certainly,' I assented.

"'Well, I tell you what you do. Don't be brash about it ner focety, for I'm a man uv peace, but ef he'll give you $47 in money for the mule you needn't ter say a doggone word about the ole woman.'"

Strikes Are Old.

Strikes, now so prevalent, says the London Chronicle, are commonly thought to be a nineteenth century production, but it is only the name, said to be of American origin, that is modern. Their power as wage raisers was tried at least as far back as the sixteenth century, for in the "Calendar of State Papers" is a letter from Sir William Fitz William to Mr. Secretary Cromwell containing the statement that "the workmen at Dover refused to work except for sixpence a day. Two of the ringleaders had been some time of the black guard in the king's kitchen."

No moral imputation was conveyed in calling them black guards. All that was implied was that they formerly guarded the pots, pans and other utensils of the king. It was a much later generation that turned the term to purposes of abuse.

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the Inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone erradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. Poison & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Biliousness.

A Strange Calculation.

Taking the length of the permanent railways on the surface of the globe at nearly 60,000 geographical miles, with a daily average of ten trains, it is estimated that the total loss suffered by wear and tear each day by the metallic rails of the earth is about 600 tons. The 600 tons are lost in the form of a fine powder and are carried back to the earth in the shape of soluble iron salts.

Hardest Part of Medical Practice.

"And what," they asked of the surgeon who saved Mr. Tightfist from an untimely end, "what did you consider the most difficult stage of the operation?"

"Collecting the money," he answered, with a smile of conscious skill.

THE WALL STREET MARKET

A Rather Slow Day Amongst Bulls and Bears.

Hocking Valley Took a Slight run—Steel Sells ex-Dividend To-morrow.

The market to-day does not reflect Saturday's bad bank statement any more than the trading is light. Figures were a little higher on the opening than at Saturday's close, and are closing strong to-day, at about opening figures. The principal business was done in Man., B.R.T., Copper, Sugar, St. Paul and H.V., all of which advanced some degree. A casual observer of the markets is of the opinion that stocks will be down some from the present figures before long, and that he would rather be a bear than a bull at the present time.

Sales to noon, 170,000.
*Split

New York, Dec. 8th, 1.00 p.m.—Armour, and Bartlett-Frazier taken about 750,000 of May corn each. Comstock and Scripps sold. With eight points to hear from, wheat visible shows 1,46,000 bushels increase. Liverpool close: wheat unchanged to 1 1-8; corn 1-8 lower to 1-8 higher than Saturday's close. There is no trading of importance in wheat and corn, and only a small demand, but the markets continue firm at substantial advances. December corn easier, but trade very light.

DENISON.

Sub-treasury announces that it has received $400,000 for telegraphic transfer to San Francisco, and some further shipments currency are expected to be made to New Orleans. We call attention to the fact that U.S. steel sells ex-dividend to-morrow, and that the books close then for dividend payment on December 20th.

M. & M.

New York, Dec. 8th, 10.00 a.m.—Liverpool wheat 1-4 higher; corn unchanged. Worden buying St. Paul; Homan buying B. & O. Market opens dull and uninteresting. Trading almost entirely professional, and in small lots. Brokers report trading in stocks very dull, and featureless. Some selling on opening, but pressure light. This has ceased, and the tone is little better on supporting orders, especially in tractions, N.Y.C., Steels and U.P. General disposition is to hold off for statement.

M. & M.

Grain.—Late London cables say closing of Danube has caused shippers to withdraw offers for shipment. Thirty-five steamers, and 150 lighters, report frozen in above Suline. This is very important to grain trade, and probably some increase in export here for wheat.

DENISON.

New York, Dec. 8th.—Bank statement much worse than expected and we think it will still further depress the market.

M. & M.

New York, Dec. 8th.—There may be some outside selling in the stock market this morning. The shorts who expected to see prices break on the publication of the bank statement will probably cover, which will operate for some improvement. The $100 million relief extended by the Government to the money market has taken care of the extraordinary conditions and the banks are now merely handling a situation usual at this time of the year, as will be seen by reference to last December's banking statistics, which foreshadows tight money during the remainder of the month and relief of the first of the year. Standard dividend payers, like Union Pacific, Atch., B.O., and Ill. Cen., are the most attractive. The morning London market for American stocks was strong, St. Paul up one point, U. P. half a point, S.P. and Steel pfd. 1-4, L.N. 5-8, and N.Y.C. 3-8.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Newspaper reports are distressing and bearish. With an unanimity worthy of a better cause they admonish everybody to keep from the market. Though the money is not in free supply for speculative purposes there is enough to go round for all legitimate requirements. Buy St. Paul moderately, average point decline, if necessary. Rights, it is said, will be forthcoming this year. Steel com. will be ex-div. to-morrow. It is very cheap. The buying of Norfolk, Eries and L.N is good. For a long pull, and a strong pull, the coalers are best. Standard Oil interests are quietly picking up copper and tractions. Good short interest in Manh.

HAIGHT & FREEZE COY.

ARE THEY KNIFING HIM?

Inspector J. J. Crowe Issues a Manifesto to the Electors.

I understand that there are some parties finding fault with the Inspector of East Peterborough; and saying that they would not give any information to him, that if they did so the hotel keeper concerned would have their names in 24 hours.

Now, sir, I have only to say that all informations are confidential as my advertisement in the Peterborough Examiner states. Any information is thankfully received and promptly acted upon.

I have collected $350.00 fines in the last year and I will give any temperance man $100 if he will prove that I have given information directly or indirectly to any hotelkeeper against any person from whom I have received information.

I am getting tired of the people knifing me in the dark. I have supported temperance all my life, but I am not a crank and I don't want people to shield themselves pretending they are temperance men when some of them could be found asking for whiskey after 7 o'clock.

J. J. CROWE,
Inspector.

More Light for the "Flash."

Mr. D. Breeze, was the recipient of a handsome gift this morning by express, which he values very highly. It is a powerful Solar gas search light for his steam yacht, "Flash," of the newest design, beautifully nickled plated, with green and red side lights, all ready for attaching. The gift came as a token of esteem from two enthusiastic American guests, Messrs. Grool and Wilkinson, of Detroit, who spent a pleasant holiday at Mr. Breeze's, at "Glenwood Island," last summer. These gentlemen had been particularly well pleased with the attentions shown them during their holiday visit to Stony Lake, and have shown their appreciation in a way that will contribute additional pleasure and safety to future guests of beautiful "Glenwood."

CURLERS LEASE THE RINK.

They Will Have a Home of Their Own.

Varsity Hockey Club to Play at Opening of Peterborough Rink.

For some weeks past the curlers of the town have been somewhat perplexed. They did not know for certain whether they were going to have rink accommodation or not, but the matter was finally disposed of on Saturday evening, when at a meeting of the Charlotte street rink directors, and a committee from the two curling Clubs, an agreement was arrived at whereby the curlers have taken a five year's lease of the old rink. They intend making extensive alterations to the structure and when completed the Peterborough curlers will have a rink second to none in the province. Workmen commenced this morning to take up the maple floor on the centre portion of the rink, which was used for skating. The board walls between the old skating portion of the rink and the curling ices will be taken down and a glass front capable of holding a large number of spectators will be constructed. It is understood that Mr. Angus McIntosh has been engaged by the curlers as caretaker for the coming season.

HOCKEY.

A GRAND OPENING.

Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner and A. W. McPherson, president and secretary, respectively, of the Peterborough Hockey Club, returned on Saturday night from Toronto, where they had been attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association. Mr. Kenner was again honoured by being appointed one of the scrutineers and Peterborough's representative, Mr. W. A. Buchanan, was elected Treasurer of the Association. While in Toronto, Mr. Kenner and Mr. McPherson opened negotiations with Varsity and the Wellingtons with a view of having one of these teams come to Peterborough for the opening of the new rink. It is proposed to have a grand opening attended by a hockey match and Mr. John Ross Robertson, president of the O.H.A., has signified his desire to be present on that occasion and place the puck between the sticks.

MR. STEVENS ANXIOUS.

The Peterborough Hockey Team has no more enthusiastic supporter than Mr. George Stevens, of Ashburnham. The other day Mr. Stevens called at this office and enquired for the sporting editor. He was anxious to know what the prospects for the Peterborough team were for the coming season, and was told that they were exceptionally bright. Mr. Stevens intimated that he was going to follow the Peterborough team all over the country this winter, and would offer all kinds of odds on the boys. He says that the most enjoyable winter he ever spent was that of a year ago, when he followed the Peterborough boys to victory.

RUGBY.

SEMI-ANNUAL.

The semi-annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club will be held in the Oriental Hotel at 8 o'clock to-morrow night when the business of the season will be finally wound up. It is understood that the Club is some $60 behind and all those who are desirous of contributing towards the funds of the Club are asked to do before to-morrow night if possible.

TURF.

WINTER RECE MEET.

The directors of the Peterborough Turf Club met on Saturday night and discussed the list of events that will be put on at the winter race meet which will be held on January 21st and 22nd. It was decided to put on a gentleman's road race only on a guarantee of sufficient entries to make the event of interest. Those who have horses they would like to enter should communicate with Mr. Rousfree by Thursday of this week. Should there be sufficient entries the Turf Club will make the prize one of interest to horsemen.

BASKETBALL.

On Saturday evening before a large number of spectators two fast games of basketball were played in the Y. M.C.A. gymnasium. The first, Athletics vs. Lillies, resulted in a win for the former and the second, between the Harriers and Maple Leafs, in a win for the Harriers. The second game was especially fast and the result was in doubt until the last. The game was an interesting one from the fact that whoever won practically secured the championship. The only thing to mar the evening's entertainment was the ungentlemanly conduct of a few spectators who forget the proper mode of applause.

WRESTLING.

A FAST BOUT.

There was an exceedingly fast fast bout at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening, when the contesting parties were Messrs. Eddie Trollope and Robert Parker, according to catch-as-catch-can rules. The contest was full of excitement, the attacks of both men being always aggressive and yet defensive. The new wrestling mat is much appreciated by the members, which is constantly in use.

MR. ROBERTSON'S ADDRESS

At the Annual Meeting of the O. H. A.

He Reviewed the Hockey Situation Very Fully—Peterborough's New Rink.

The following is a portion of Mr. J. Ross Robertson's address at the O.H.A. meeting on Saturday:

"I have tried to touch upon all the questions raised by proposed amendments, but there is one other question which relates to the general policy of this Association. I refer to hockey as they have it in Pittsburg. This Association will clearly have to take its stand for or against professionalism.

"The question is whether playing in Pittsburg is to disqualify a player from playing in the O. H. A. In my judgment there should be only one answer to that question. The O. H. A. would not think of allowing a group of its own clubs to play hockey according to the Pittsburg system. Now, if we recognize Pittsburg players as good enough amateurs for the purposes of the O. H. A., we are lowering our standard. I believe that a player who goes outside our jurisdiction and defies our principles, should thereby exclude himself from playing the game in the O. H. A.

"I recall one incident in connection with the Pittsburg aggregation:—The team from the Royal Military College toured to Pittsburg in the earlier part of last season. They played with men, noted professionals, who were under the ban of the O. H. A. Their presence in Pittsburg and their taking part in the games with O. H. A. outlaws, was reported to the Executive, and the matter was considered. There was a strong feeling among members of the Association in different parts of the country that the Royal Military College team should have been suspended for the season. I frankly confess that I shared that opinion. The Executive endorsed that view and the R. M. C. were suspended and notice was served upon them to appear to show cause why the discipline should not be continued. Some of the members of the R. M. C. appeared before the Executive and produced declarations to the effect that they were not aware that they were playing with disciplined men, that they did not know these men, and that they were perfectly innocent of the slightest violation of the rules or regulations of the Association. The Executive thought that perhaps there was a glimmer of doubt in the matter and that the R. M. C. should have the benefit of that doubt, and their suspension was dropped when they had been out two weeks. To me it was the cause of very much regret that so good a team as that of the R. M. C. should have endangered its status by what, at first view, appeared to be premeditated violation of our rules and regulations. The action, however, of the Executive emphasized the position that will always be taken by this Association, and that unless most ample proof is forthcoming in all cases where our rules are violated, sure and certain, not only the spirit but the letter of our regulations must prevail.

"During the past year, on several occasions, I have been asked to give an opinion as to the effect of 'suspension for the rest of the season.' My questioners have held that suspension for the season meant an automatic lifting of the suspension when the games for the season were over. My ruling has not been in accordance with this view. The season of the O. H. A. is not up until midnight on the Friday immediately preceding the first Saturday in December. Last night at midnight technically finished the O. H. A. season for 1901-2. When a man is suspended for the rest of the season of the ice in the O. H. A. he must remain suspended to the end of the O. H. A. year, that is midnight on the Friday preceding the first Saturday in December. One season is not over till another season begins. It would be folly if it were otherwise. Our season does not end with the melting of the ice. It extends to the close of the day prior to the annual meeting. The fact, of course, is, as it was always intended to be, that men, when suspended by the O. H. A., not only lose their season on the ice, but they cannot play in summer sports, such as lacrosse or football, during the continuance of their suspension.

"I have noticed with pleasure that Peterborough and Port Hope have built new and large rinks since the last annual convention. This is commendable and ought to set an example to many clubs that are handicapped at present by small rinks. I think that both Peterborough and Port Hope can thank their connection with the O. H. A. for the boom that has taken place in hockey amongst them, thus causing the necessity of erecting larger and better premises to accommodate the crowds and provide a greater ice area for the players.

"Now, gentlemen, I have only a word or two to say in closing. You are, with few exceptions, young Canadians. I am not exactly in the junior class, but, thank God, I also am a Canadian, and I am as young as any of you in my love for this country and this country's winter game. I urge you to keep the game clean. No matter what may be done in other lines of sport, it would be a shame if hockey ever trailed in the slime of professionalism or semi-professionalism. The teams are small. The season is short, and hockey does not require its exponents to sacrifice their business prospects to sport as some other games do. There can never be the shadow of justification for professionalism in hockey. You are the governing body of a great national game, and yours is the responsibility of making the game worthy of the name of Canada. I can tell you that in times like these the name of Canada stands so high that we must keep moving upward and on if we would be worthy to bear that name. Since we last assembled here the returns from Harts River show how the Canadian boys from Port Hope and other O. H. A. centres can practice in war the lessons they have learned in peace. Canadians have proved that it is not only on the ice they know how to play the game of attack and defence, and I rejoice to know that an army of young canadians will this winter fight for clean hockey under the banner of the O. H. A. just as bravely as their countrymen fought for a United Empire under the flag of Britain on the veldt of South Africa.

MINISTERS DEPART.

After British and German Notes Were Handed in at Caracas.

ULTIMATUMS TO VENEZUELANS.

British and German Legations Are Now Closed, and the Accredited Representatives of These Nations Have Taken Refuge on Their Respective Warships—Claims to Be Enforced—The Situation.

London, Dec. 9.—Premier Balfour announced in the House of Commons yesterday that an ultimatum had been sent to Venezuela, and that, in the event of a satisfactory reply not being received, the British and German Governments will take measures to enforce their claims against that country.

When questioned on the Venezuelan situation by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, Premier Balfour said:

"For the past two years we have had grave cause for complaint on various occasions of unjustifiable interference by the Venezuelan Government with the liberty and property of British subjects. No efforts have been spared by the British Government to obtain an amicable settlement of these cases, but in none of them satisfactory explanations have been forthcoming. Latterly, the representations of the British Minister have been practically unnoticed.

"There also are cases in which British subjects and companies have large claims. We have been acting in conjunction with the German Government, which also has large claims against Venezuela. A final communication has been made to the Venezuelan Government by the British Minister and the German Charge d'Affaires. If no satisfactory reply is received the Governments have decided to take such measures as may be necessary to enforce their claims."

Replying to a supplementary question, Mr. Balfour said he understood the communication to Venezuela was neither joint nor identical.

Presented at Caracas.

Berlin, Dec. 9.—The German-British ultimatum to Venezuela was presented at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Caracas.

The ultimatums are identical in spirit but not in form. Each embodies the respective claims of the two countries, and is, consequently, different.

A statement will be made to-day in the Reichstag. The Bundesrath already has been informed that the Foreign Office is unwilling to disclose the text of Germany's ultimatum, as such a step would be against all precedents and because it also would be discourteous to Venezuela to publish the text before giving that country an opportunity to reply.

Neither is an intimation given as to what forcible action will follow, on the ground that this would be disclosing military secrets.

The navigation offices confirms the reports that the German flagship Vintia arrived at Laguayraz, Nov. 30; that the Falke reached there Dec. 1, and that the Gazelle and Panther anchored off that port at the end of last week. Each of these warships is equipped with landing material and field guns.

The Ministers Withdraw.

Caracas, Dec. 9.—The British Minister, W. H. D. Haggard, and the German Charge d'Affaires, Von Pilgrim-Baltazzi, left Caracas at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon for La Guayra, where Minister Haggard went on board the British cruiser Retribution and Herr Von Pilgrim-Baltazzi boarded the German cruiser Vintia, Both the British and the German legations have been closed.

Yesterday afternoon the British Minister and the German Charge d'Affaires deposited at the private residence of the Foreign Minister, Lopez Barralt, separate demands; the British demand being for the settlement of claims and other matters arising out of the last revolutions, and the German demand being for the payment of the interest on the German loan and other claims. The demands are without any specification as to the time given for an answer, but they are in the form of an ultimatum.

At 3 o'clock Mr. Haggard, his secretary, Grand Duff and the Chancellor of the Legation, Godfrey, left Caracas in company with the German Charge d'Affaires, Von Pilgrim-Baltazzi, for La Guayra. On the arrival of the train at the latter port at 5 o'clock, thirty officers met the diplomats at the station. Mr. Haggard and the other members of the British Legation went on board the British cruiser Retribution, while the German Charge d'Affaires boarded the German cruiser Vintia. The Ministers left Caracas without previously notifying the Venezuelan Government, probably in order to avoid any hostile demonstration.

The Venezuelan press publishes an open letter from President Castro on the imbroglio with Great Britain and Germany. In this communication President Castro says: "Foreign cablegrams relate that certain foreign nations, among them Great Britain and Germany, have allied themselves together to carry out acts of violence and aggression against Venezuela, and their manner of obtaining the resumption of the payment of interest on the public debt was to be suspected as a consequence of the revolution that I lately crushed. Notwithstanding the official character of this news, I refuse to believe it, because it is inconceivable that nations which entertain cordial and friendly relations with Venezuela should prefer to resort to force rather than follow the diplomatic path, especially when the supposed difference comes fully within the jurisdiction of our laws, which are based on the principle of justice, which, together with the other attributes of authority, I have just redeemed. Had Venezuela refused to fulfil her fiscal engagements, and had justice and diplomacy exhausted their resources against such an attempt only then could such extreme acts be expected, but this will never happen."

President Castro explains further on, that his Government has not increased the debt of Venezuela, and that he paid all that was ordered during the revolution, including the German and other railroad freight charges occasioned by the transportation of troops. These acts, he said, should prove the honesty of his administration.

President Castro concluded by recommending the Venezuelan press to observe the discretion and tact demanded by such an important matter.

The actual situation is incomprehensible here. Up to yesterday morning no one appeared to know anything about the Anglo-German projected demonstration. The Foreign Minister said that he considered a menace on the part of Germany to be inadmissible and that any threat would be only a "balloon d'Essai" (a feeler), while as for England, said the Minister, she has no grounds for aggression.

The Latest From London.

London, Dec. 9.—Great Britain and Germany have presented ultimatums to Venezuela, which will be followed up by the seizure of the customs unless a satisfactory settlement is forthcoming within a brief period.

The ultimatums have a time limit, but exact date cannot be ascertained here. The Foreign Office states with regard to the time limit: "It is a reasonable time in which Venezuela can satisfy the injured governments. Both notes are practically identical, although the amounts of the claims differ. The notes merely reiterate the continued disregard by the Venezuelan Government of all our representations, specify our claims and demand immediate action on the part of President Castro's Government in connection therewith."

The British Government's case is practically identical with the statements made in previous despatches from London, in which it was first announced the present action was contemplated. Should the British ultimatum meet with a hostile reception, British Minister Haggard has already been instructed to go aboard a warship, or if that is impracticable to go into the neighboring British colony.

The Foreign Office, however, does not appear to anticipate such a contingency for the moment, nor indeed does it look forward to any startling development within the next few days.

Premier Balfour's announcement in the House of Commons yesterday is regarded as merely the obvious culmination to the situation, which has been becoming daily more critical for the past three months. The Associated Press correspondent learns that a complicating circumstance has arisen in the inability of the Foreign Office to communicate with Minister Haggard. The officials here believe that he is still in Caracas, but owing to the reported break of the cable they are quite ignorant as to what steps he is taking, or what the Venezuelan Government intends to do. The Foreign Office is hourly awaiting important despatches from Caracas, but up to a late hour last night none had arrived While the Government is rather worried at their inability to get an answer from Minister Haggard they are in no way seriously alarmed, especially as inquiries have revealed the fact that the Venezuelan representatives are in a similar situation.

The Foreign Office says: There is not the slightest desire to coerce Venezuela, and if any answer had been made to our repeated protests, and demands no such action as now taken would have been proceeded with. It was the persistent and insulting disregard to all representations which compelled us to move. It is now too late in the day for anything but purely diplomatic arrangements to be accepted in satisfaction for our injuries. When the fleets have assembled there is scarcely time to deal with bankers and a financial settlement should have been suggested long ago, and would have been welcomed by both Germany and ourselves. However, any bona fide proposition will receive careful attention. Reconstruction in commercial affairs is always better than liquidation, and if the reconstruction of the Venezuelan finances can be accomplished to the satisfaction of our diplomatic claims and individual losses, both Germany and Great Britain will have achieved their ends."

France Will Hold Aloof.

Paris, Dec. 9.—Several newspapers here are urging the French Government to send warships to participate in the naval demonstration against Venezuela, pointing out the extent of the French interests in that country. But it is said at the Foreign Office, the Government will adhere to its purpose to hold aloof from the movement, as the protocol signed by France and Venezuela assures a satisfactory settlement of the French claims.

New York, Dec. 9.—H. L. Gassert, who was this city's first newsboy, died yesterday.

Two severe cases of Ovarian Trouble and two terrible operations avoided. Mrs. Emmons and Mrs. Coleman each tell how they were saved by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am so pleased with the results obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it.

"I suffered for more than five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks—and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true, grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—MRS. LAURA EMMONS, Walkerville, Ont.

Another Case of Ovarian Trouble Cured Without an Operation.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For several years I was troubled with ovarian trouble and a painful and inflamed condition, which kept me in bed part of the time. I did so dread a surgical operation.

"I tried different remedies hoping to get better, but nothing seemed to bring relief until a friend who had been cured of ovarian trouble, through the use of your compound, induced me to try it. I took it faithfully for three months, and at the end of that time was glad to find that I was a well woman. Health is nature's best gift to woman, and if you lose it and can have it restored through Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel that all suffering women should know of this."—MRS. LAURA BELLE COLEMAN, Commercial Hotel, Nashville, Tenn.

It is well to remember such letters as above when some druggist tries to get you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; accept no other and you will be glad.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

COL. "SAM" IN THE ROLE OF SOLDIER.

An Interesting Write-up of the Victoria Member.

HOW HE FOUGHT BOERS.

His Lacrosse Training in his Early Days was of Great Assistance to Him—The Colonel and General Hutton.

The Toronto Star on Saturday contained a very interesting write-up of Lieut-Col. Sam Hughes. Referring to the Colonel's military career the Star says:—

Colonel Sam was a private in the 45th Battalion in 1870. In 1897 he was colonel. He had worked up from the ranks. He is a practical soldier, like Colonel Denison. He despises red tape, flub-dub, and millinery. When he went to Stanley Barracks to take a special course in equitation, or something of that sort, he found the officers more concerned about etiguette. The place was eaten up with ritual. Salutes were in higher esteem than rifle practice. Young men with lots of clothes and frogging lounged about the officers' quarters, and drank high balls after the British fashion. They had the drawl and the eye-glass and the sneer of the regular army down pat, and they even tried to copy their debts, and make jokes about the tradesmen. Colonel Sam learned many things not in the book, and his democratic gorge rose until his stock almost choked him. He grinned and bore it all until Major-General Hutton impinged on his horizon. This gallant soldier had some excellent ideas—mounted infantry for instance—but they were overlaid by the traditional punctiliousness of the British officer. He harboured the notion that Canada was a Crown colony, and himself a military govenor, to whom civil authority must defer when the stress came. The Major-General is now acting on these opinions in Australia, making himself a seidlitz powder for the new commonwealth. To Colonel Sam the Major-General represented the haw-haw and By Jove ethics of the Horse Guards. He simply wouldn't see his good points. The quarrel thickened when Colonel Sam, an honoured participant in the Diamond Jubilee of 1897, overcome by the associations of Old London and memories of Sir Walter Raleigh spreading his cloak for Queen Elizabeth, tendered to his Empress the services of the Fighting Forty-Fifth in any part of the world. Hutton, Commander of the forces in Canada, heard it in distant Ottawa, and growled officially. But South Africa continued to lower. Colonel Sam saw the idea of a first, and himself as leader, getting the chance of his life, winning the Victoria Cross, a knighthood, and an imperishable name in history. Hutton, who cherished the same dreams, said, "Pish! Tush!" Colonel Sam said, "Pish! Tush, yourself!" "Insubordination," retorted Hutton. "British citizen," said Colonel Sam, with ready repartee; then as an after-thought, "member of Parliament." The argument became intricate. Colonel Sam showed a wonderful knowledge of the Militia Act. Hutton had merely glanced over it. He took refuge in his Imperial commission. He threw out the suggestion that raw Canadian soldiers might need Tommies to steady them. He was willing to graft small bunches of them on regular regiments, but not to take the risk of panic if they were brigaded together. Colonel Sam and the volunteers took the ground that they would have their glory and their danger in a lump or not at all. They had their way, and when the Major-General was politely fired from Canada with battery salutes and all outward tokens of reverence he was more than glad to flee via the War Office to South Africa, take command of the Canadian brigade, and share in the lustre of its achievements. This is the Hutton correspondence as it transpired in Parliament, when the Major-General was getting his dose of retribution.

Like Scipio, Colonel Sam carried the war—with Major General Hutton—into Africa. No doubt the Major-General pursued him in a petty way. Colonel Sam had a grudge coming for the discomforts of his passage to Cape Town, and the humiliation of soliciting a command after he got there. At any rate he took the Hutton correspondence with him, wearing it next his heart, using it as a sort of extra weapon when he was in a tight corner. When a Boer commando refused to curl up before a frontal attack or whither under a hidden fire, when a kopje refused to surrender, Colonel Sam would draw the Hutton correspondence from his bosom, and prepare to read it. The Boers got to recognize the blue ribbon that tied the letters together, and fled precipitately at the sight of it. Colonel Sam made a when he insisted on the war being fought out on the lines of the Hutton correspondence. The army wasted a lot of time in listening to him read it.

Otherwise Colonel Sam was a great help. He saw that Buller was blundering in making massed plays at Ladysmith, and when the British generals came to him for advice he told them that Buller should adopt the Burnside rules. His own irregular horse he organized on the lacrosse system, insisting on good team play, and the grand stand passages for himself. The commanders in Thucydides had a habit of talking like Dutch uncles to their troops before the battle came off. Napoleon had a spasm of rhetoric on the pyramid of Cheops. None of that for Col. Sam. He went at it like a field captain in the senior series. What he said was, "Get after 'em; soak 'em boys!" And the boys did, Colonel Sam always in the van; no place too hot for him, no peril too thick. He was brave, very. "Me and my man Turpin," performed prodigies of valour. The Boer housewives used the name of Colonel Sam asleep. Quintius Curtius would not take more desperate chances. Horatius Cocles couldn't have held the bridges better. Leonidas and the pass of Thermopylae was a daily incident with Colonel Sam. He was a hero, but V.C. and D.S.O. never looked his way because he wrote letters to the press that were bad form in an officer, don't you know.

Perhaps it was some old newspaper instinct, and Colonel Sam couldn't escape the itch of it. Perhaps he thought that the pen was mightier than the sword to win a hearing in high places. Probably the letters were never intended for publication, and indiscreet friends rushed the Colonel into print. But why did Colonel Sam write them at all? Why should a brave soldier and a gallant gentleman behave like Bombastes Furioso?

We remember another man who wrote too much.

O fortunatum, natam me consule, Romanum! Cicero saved the republic and afterwards lost his head because he couldn't keep his mouth shut.

CANADIAN OXFORD ORATOR.

Speech Before the Oxford Union was a Great Success.

The following paragraphs refer to the success of a nephew of Mr. John Kylie, Ashburnham and Peterborough, at the greatest seat of classic learning in the world, Oxford University:—

Early in this month at a meeting of the Union of Oxford University, Mr. E. J. Kylie was a speaker. On his address the university papers make the following comments:

The Isis says: "Mr. E. J. Kylie (Baliol) was head and shoulders above his predecessors. . . . . It was a most serious and eloquent speech, and the house showed its appreciation by constant applause throughout. Mr. Kylie is to be congratulated on the way in which he elevated the whole tone of the discussion."

The Oxford Magazine says: "Mr. E. J. Kylie (Baliol), who made his first appearance on the paper, brought into the debate the earnestness and the conviction which we had so far missed. We do not exaggerate when we say that Mr. Kylie's panegyric of Oxford, clothed in vigorous and classical English the sentiments which the average undergraduate feels, but which it is given only to a few to have courage to confess or the ability to express. His speech was noteworthy in all respects, most of all because he dared to speak what was in his heart, and one had only to watch the house and listen to its applause to feel that after all, epigrams and cynicism are not the only acceptable fare at the union. A humorous comparison of Oxford with the ideals of Plato enlivened a brilliant and wholly admirable speech."

The Oxford Varsity says: "Mr. E. J. Kylie (Baliol) pronounced a magnificent panegyric upon Oxford life and his speech was a splendid effort and a great success. He took the motion in a much broader sense than the people before him, and eulogised Oxford and all that therein is in an eloquent harangue, the style of which merited the highest praise. Mr. Kylie's speech was all the more interesting and valuable as he himself is a Canadian and knows much of universities of other types and ideals.

The Toronto 'Varsity comments on the success of the distinguished graduate of its college as follows:

"At a meeting of the Oxford Union on the night of November 6, Mr. E. J. Kylie, Baliol, (Flavelle scholar and B. A., '01, Toronto University,), spoke forth in a debate on the resolution that "Oxford education is obsolete." He made a most brilliant and effective speech. He was by far the best speaker of the evening as was testified by the rapt attention with which he was listened to and by the tremendous applause which greeted the termination of his speech.

Dr. Parkin, who has been in England on the business of the Rhodes' Scholarships, was present, and having been invited to speak began by saying that he was a countryman of the gentleman who had just sat down (Mr. Kylie,) and to whose able and eloquent speech they had all been listening.

Mr. Kylie's many friends in Varsity will rejoice to know that his worth is being recognized in the great educational centre of the Empire.

I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

After 2,000 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month and, if it succeeds, the cost is only $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself.

I have no samples, because any medicine that can affect Rheumatism quickly must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk.

I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of 40 who get those six bottles pay gladly.

I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. I will send you my book about Rheumatism, and an order for medicine. Take it for a month, as it won't harm you anyway.

If it fails, it is free, and I leave the decision with you. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 47 Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

ELECTION FRAUDS.

Trial of the St. James' Protest in Montreal.

Montreal, Dec. 8.—Saturday morning, in the St. James' contested election case, Justices Tait and Loranger on the bench, J. L. Perron, counsel for Joseph I. Brunet, M.P., arose and read a declaration from the defendant, declaring that the evidence given in for G. Rudolph Hetu was sufficient to annul the election, and declaring the illegal acts had been committed by Brunet's agents without his personal knowledge.

At the same time, however, Mr. Brunet wished to secure the benefit of certain proceedings and objections in the case, consequently Messrs. Bisaillon and Bastien, K.C.'s, who are acting for Mr. Bergeron, refused to accept such a declaration and the case proceeded.

The taking of evidence being resumed, Rudolph Hetu, the returning officer at poll No. 37, declared in a word, that almost the entire proceedings in that particular booth had been fraudulent, and the figures had been commuted a great many times. Hetu declared that they had had liquor in the poll all day, and that at the close of the day he was so much under its influence that he did not know what he was doing.

Albert Gervais, who was poll clerk, also detailed what had taken place. He had protested, but Hetu had told him that he had no business to interfere and would have no responsibility in the matter. Witness then swore that to the best of his knowledge and belief only forty bona fide ballots had been cast at poll No. 37, although the returns showed that ninety-four had been given.

EXPERIMENAL UNION.

Annual Meeting Begun at Guelph on Monday.

TALKS ON MANY RURAL SUBJECTS

Opening Sessions of the Union Very Successful—Two More to Be Held—Meanwhile the Winter Fair at Guelph Is Being Made Perfect—Some of the Addresses—Memorable Week Promised.

Guelph, Dec. 9.—The first of the invasion of the week's great agricultural events has reached Guelph, and the zero weather, when people are supposed to remain indoors, is marked by the activity on the streets of summer months.

The Experimental Union began its 24th annual meeting yesterday, with a very large and interested attendance. The afternoon meeting was held in the new Massey Hall at the Agricultural College, a building just completed, which greatly enhances the fine group of structures out there. Last night's meeting was held in the gymnasium, which was crowded to the doors. The opening sessions have been very successful. To-day the union will hold two more sessions. In the meantime the Winter Fair is being made perfect, and in the evening the first meeting will be held. The week promises to be a memorable one in crowds and attractive features in the Smithfield of Canada.

After the President's welcome, Mr. C. A. Zavitz, the secretary, presented his annual report, and said the Union had certainly good grounds for encouragement. "Agricultural Education," by Mr. W. J. Brown, Toronto; "Co-operative Experiments," by Mr. Zavitz; "The Hog as a Money Maker," by Mr. T. H. Mason, of Staffordville; "The Production of Firm Bacon," by Mr. J. H. Grisdale, of Ottawa, were the subjects treated by the gentlemen named, during the afternoon. In the evening an address by the chairman, the Hon. John Dryden; "The Evolution of the Forest," an illustrated lecture by Dr. Fernow, Director of the College of Forestry at Ithaca, N.Y.; "Domestic Education," by Miss Bessie Livingstone of Ottawa Normal School, and a few words from President Mills, O.A.C., were given.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses all produce headaches and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head, and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like red gum, blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure and after using a few fifty cent boxes which I procured from my druggist's I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures) no opium (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

SOUTH OXFORD TRIAL

Donald Sutherland Confirmed in His Seat.

THE HIRING OF RIGS TRIVIAL.

Not Sufficient to Have Affected the Result—Charges on Which Judges Disagreed on Go to the Court of Appeal—To Be Reported For Corruption—The Full Particulars of Charges Made and Proven.

Toronto, Dec. 9.—Donald Sutherland will hold his seat in South Oxford, at any rate pending the decision of the Court of Appeal, before which will be argued charges of bribery upon which the Judges of the trial court, Justices Street and Britton, were unable to agree. The latter rendered separate judgments yesterday morning, confirming Mr. Sutherland in his seat.

The particulars in this protest contained 114 distinct charges of corrupt practices, of which some were tried during the trial, which occupied seven days, and the others were abandoned. The Judges were unable to agree as to two of the charges, one of which was a personal charge against the respondent of having corruptly paid to one Lloyd, the hostler at a hotel, the sum of $1; and the other of which was the charge of bribery by an agent. The only charge they held to have been proven was charge No. 6, to the effect that John W. Patterson, whose agency was established to their satisfaction, had hired horses and conveyances from two livery stable keepers in Ingersoll, for the purpose of conveying voters to and from the polls on election day.

Mr. Justice Street then read the certificate which the court proposes to grant as the result of the trial. It recited the number of charges that had been dismissed, that on two counts the court had disagreed, and that two corrupt practices had been proved. These corrupt practices, however, had been proved to have been committed without the knowledge or consent of the respondent; "and we certify that the said corrupt practices were of such a trifling extent that the result cannot reasonably supposed to have been affected by such corrupt practices; and, therefore, that they do not affect the election."

It was also stated by Mr. Justice Street that Mr. John W. Patterson would be reported for corrupt practices. The certificate will not be sent in till the usual eight days have elapsed, so as to permit of an appeal.

It is invaluable in every home, and as a soothing and healing application, knows no equal.

Lines of Distribution Bill Already Talked Over by Ministers.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—(Globe Special.)—The expectation is that Parliament will not be summoned to meet before Thursday, Feb. 19. While there is a lot of business to be prepared for submission to the people's representatives, much of it has already been discussed. The lines upon which the Redistribution Bill will be framed have already been talked over among the Ministers, and the estimates of the several departments are in an advanced shape. The bill amending and consolidating the Railway Act and providing for the appointment of a railway commission will be reintroduced, as will also, in all probability the act providing for the compulsory arbitration of railway disputes. Rumor hints at tariff changes, but nothing definite on this point will be learned until the Government meets its supporters in caucus. Then the matter will be threshed out, but if there are to be any tariff changes their nature will not be known until the Finance Minister brings down his budget.

Premier Seddon's Majority.

Wellington, N.Z., Dec. 9.—Mr. Seddon declares that the general election has resulted in the return of forty-nine supporters of the Government, twenty-three members of the opposition, and four independents. He says the electors have endorsed his Imperial as well as his New Zealand policy. Though the opposition is somewhat stronger than in the last parliament, the Premier has a reliable majority of twenty. The prohibition party has made immense strides since the last election. Several pro-Boer candidates were badly beaten.

Wandered Away and Was Lost.

Dawson, Y. T., Dec. 9.—The mystery which surrounded the disappearance of John Mode on German Creek near Dawson has ended with a gruesome sequel. The bones of Mode were found in the wilds of German Creek last week by an Indian, and have been brought here and fully identified by the Northwest mounted police. Mode was 55 years of age, and hailed from Vankleek Hill, Ont. The police are satisfied by the position in which they found the bones of Mode that he wandered off the trail and became lost.

Countess Operated On.

Dublin, Dec. 9.—The Countess of Dudley, the wife of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, was operated upon yesterday for appendicitis by Sir Frederick Treves, the well-known surgeon. The latest bulletin says that the patient's progress is satisfactory.

Price of Bread Goes Up.

London, Dec. 9.—Bread was raised one cent a loaf in the east end of London yesterday, thus intensifying the distress of persons out of work.

Money in Oil

Special Despatch to the Ontario and California Oil Co., Limited:

Chatham, December 1, 1902.

The Gusher was turned on to-day and in five hours filled up all the Standard Oil Company's available tankage—so far has given one thousand barrels, at the rate of fifty barrels per hour.

Talk about dividends, talk about advance in value—what investment will compare with this? Figure it out—OIL two dollars per barrel—means earning one hundred dollars per hour—ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS invested in this Syndicate a few weeks ago—NOW ACTUALLY WORTH FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

REASONS WHY

Stock in the Ontario & California Oil Co. may prove just as profitable within the next few weeks.

REASONS WHY

Prompt action on your part is required.

1.—The Ontario and California Oil Co., Limited, is a home company, organized under the laws of Ontario, shares fully paid and non-assessable, built and equipped on the right principle—TO PAY PROFITS AND DIVIDENDS—when earned from the ground, and this object attained—NO STOCK FOR SALE BY THIS COMPANY.

2.—Owns the oil leases on one thousand acres, and are next door neighbors of the Big Gusher owners.

3.—Several drilling rigs NOW at different points on the Company's properties, under the direction of the best oil men in Petrolea, men who are oil men in the full sense of the word (not speculators)—connected with the oil refineries and the largest oil interests in Canada, and these oil men came to this Company, made their offers, put their money in, and are joining in the development of a large block of the Company's properties.

4.—Ten days to two weeks will complete a well. FIVE WELLS are being put down as fast as men and money can do it.

5.—One may be a gusher, or all may be gushers; in either case the advance will be REAL, and a few weeks will bring you greater profits than you ever dreamed of.

RISK? Yes—so there is in everything—otherwise you would not have the chance of buying One Thousand Shares for Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, which in thirty days may be worth One Thousand to Ten Thousand Dollars. Masterly inactivity has missed many an opportunity to make a fortune—don't wait now and wish later on,

ACT AT ONCE—The block of stock which the Company is offering at TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER SHARE is daily getting smaller.

Catarrh of the Entire System Cured.

James L. Schott of Montreal had the Disease in a Most Severe Form—Cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

JAMES L. SCHOTT, Montreal.

Oxygen—Nature's great health giving element, which is fed the blood from the stomach through the lungs and through the pores of the skin is absolutely essential to life. If by any means the supply should be cut off from any one of these sources, your blood does not contain its full nourishment—the vitality of your system is lowered—and the tissues and membranes through which your arteries pass do not receive the food necessary to keep them in a healthy condition. Congestions are produced in the membranous linings of the various organs of the body, such as the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, lungs, stomach, bowels, kidneys and the organs peculiar to the female sex. These congestions are attacked by the germs of catarrh, always producing chronic catarrh—always more or less loathsome, according to the length of time you have been troubled. Mr James L. Schott, of Montreal, had catarrh of the system so badly the diseased portions gave out a most offensive odor. He writes:

The Ozone Co., Limited—Gentlemen: I am a man of 45 years of age and have been afflicted with catarrh for the last thirty years, which by this time has penetrated my entire system. I had tried everything without success, and at last decided to try Ozone. I have used six bottles of the remedy, and I can feel that it has benefited me. It has stopped the bad odor which arises from catarrh, and I feel no headaches or pain. The disease was too deep seated to be easily cured, and it took time, as you know that catarrh is one of the most stubborn diseases to get the upper hand of. Still, I have the consolation of knowing the Ozone effected a cure, as I continued persistently in its use. To those afflicted I cannot praise it too highly. (Signed)

JAMES L. SCHOTT, 29 Voyer St., Montreal.

Catarrh is about the most prevalent disease in Canada. Everywhere you go men are hawking and spitting in the most disgusting manner. You should give up the use of inhalers, snuffs and applications; catarrh is a system disease, due to the lack of oxygen in the blood that requires an internal system treatment that will supply that defect, mere local treatment will avail nothing. Take Powley's Liquified Ozone frequently—it is Nature's blood food. You will shake off this terrible disease and make your system so healthy that the germs of any disease cannot make their attack. Powley's Liquified Ozone is wonderfully effective—we have statements from grateful people all over Canada who have been cured. If you are not already acquainted about its power to cure disease—ask your pastor—ask your druggist—ask your neighbor. Ozone is not a combination of drugs—not a medicine and contains no alcohol.

SUCCESSFUL MUSICAL RECITAL

Mr. Gliddon's Orchestra and Violin and Piano Pupils.

A Delightful Musical Evening in St John's School House.

Last night, in spite of the severe weather, the auditorium of St. John's school house was well filled, the attraction being the recital by the violin and pianoforte pupils of Mr. Gliddon, assisted by Gliddon's orchestra. The programme opened with a march by the orchestra—Rucker's "Bonnie Briar Bush," an arrangement of Scotch melodies, which was so splendidly given that a repetition was demanded. This was followed by a descriptive medley, of Southern songs, also excellently played. The performance of the orchestra was of a most pleasingly smooth, clean and finished character. The niceties of shading and expression were quite observable, and the work of the orchestra altogether betrayed both careful training and intelligent and painstaking work on the part of the several performers. This orchestra is well balanced in instrumentation, and forms the nucleus of a first class symphony organization. The members, who are all enthusiastic, respond faithfully to the capable coaching of their director, Mr. Gliddon, who is never satisfied with careless or perfunctory work, or mediocre results, and the members of the orchestra share his aspirations for the best results.

The orchestra is composed as follows: First violins, Messrs. W. E. Lech, W. Staples and R. Heidermann; second violins, Chas. Seymour and Bert Boomer; flutes, J. Butcher, H. Edmison; claronette, W. Hodgson; oboe, — Allan; cornets, W. Hughes, A. Seward; trombone, Harry Clark; 'cello, F. Skitch; saxaphone, E. Wand; bass, W. Cunningham and F. Gardner; piano, F. Fallow; double drums, R. Beech.

The pianoforte pupils acquitted themselves most creditably; they were advanced pupils and the educational advantage of public recitals was shown by the fact that as all had before performed in public, they played with a certainty and authority that brought out the best that was in them in the way of method and execution. The violin pupils of Mr. Gliddon also showed to advantage. A pleasing number was Braga's "Angel's Serenade" (as a duet) by Misses Kathleen Wallis and Marguerite Burnett, who also appeared in solo with decided credit, both to themselves and their instructor. The work of the children's orchestra was very interesting and promises great things. Space will not permit of a more detailed reference to the several numbers. The following programme was presented:

1 Overture, by orchestra ....
2 Piano solo, "Invitation to the Dance" Weber
Miss Florence Butcher.
3 Violin duet, "Angel's Serenade" Braga
Miss Kathleen Wallis and Miss Margarite Burnett.
4 Piano solo, Wiegenlieed ... ...Kjerulf
Miss Geraldine King.
5 Violin solo, "Mozart" ... ...Dancla
Miss Margaurite Burnett.
6 Piano solo, Rubenstein's Melody in F.
Miss Ethel Best.
7 Pupils' orchestra, O' Sanctissima.....
1st violin, Misses K. Wallis, M. Burnett.
2nd violin, Misses R. Cummings, M. Choate, Mr. F. Halpany.
Piano Miss Florence Butcher.
Piano, Florence Butcher. ....
8 Piano solo, Minuet, ...Barowski
Miss Mollie Meldrum.
9 Violin solo, Heart-Flowers.....Tobain
Miss K. Wallis.
10 Piano solo, Polish Dance...Farakowski
Miss Daisy Sawers.
11 Piano solo, Wedding March, from Midsummer Night's Dream..... .... Mendelssohn
Miss Annie McFarlane.

THE LOCAL FUEL SITUATION.

Few Dealers Have any Coal for Sale.

The Price Asked for Hard Coal This Morning was $12.00.

An item appeared in the Examiner yesterday regarding the price of hard coal. It was asserted that the price of coal had advanced to $11.

Considerable surprise was expressed by many, who contended that the price most merchants were asking was $8. The Examiner then set about to obtain further information on the subject. The result of the little investigation may be summed up in the statement that not a ton of coal can be obtained in Peterborough short of $12. There are coal merchants who will tell you that the price of coal is $8, but when you ask them to deliver you a ton they have none to sell. The Examiner called up several coal merchants this morning.

"What is the price of coal?"
"Eight dollars."
"Can you deliver a ton at that price?"
"We cannot; we have none to sell."
"Could you sell us a ton for $9?"
"No."
"For $10?"
"No."
"For $11?"
"No, we have none for sale."

What use is it for dealers to say the price of coal is $8, when they cannot deliver a ton at almost any price. The Examiner is not trying to work up a coal famine scare, but when some exception was taken to yesterday's item on the coal situation further inquiries were made, and it was found that coal cannot be obtained at less than $12 a ton.

It may be, however, that certain of the coal merchants are supplying a few of their old customers at $8 a ton.

The price was advanced to $12 to-day by, as far as can be learned, the only dealer in town that has any coal to sell.

THE COUNTY COURT SAT

For a Short While This Afternoon

Before His Honour Judge Edmison - No Cases for Hearing.

When the County Court of the County of Peterborough and General Sessions of the Peace opened at 1 o'clock to-day before His Honour Judge Edmison there was in the Court Room, the Court officials and a newspaper representative. Even the Grand Jurors were not present—they were in the loby, discussing beet sugar or some other question, no doubt. As a matter of fact, there was not a solitary case, criminal or civil for hearing. One case set down an appeal case of Crown vs. Stevens, but it was laid over for hearing. However, the Grand Jury had to be empanelled and the procedure was gone through. The Grand Jury was sworn in as follows:

Frank Mason, Peterborough, foreman; George A. Bullied, farmer Chandos; Thos. Edgar, farmer, Smith; John Fairburn, farmer, Otonabee; Christopher Howson, farmer, Otonabee; George Milne, machinest, Peterborough; Wm. Montgomery, carpenter, Peterborough; Paul Payne, farmer, Dummer; Frank Perry, bookkeeper, Peterborough; Alex. Thompson, farmer, Peterborough; J. J. Turner, tent maker, Peterborough.

His Honour addressed the Grand Jurors stating that their position on the present occasion was indeed most satisfactory as they had not a criminal case for consideration. Consequently their duties would be very light. He intimated that they might visit the jail and any other public institutions receiving Government aid.

The Grand Jury then retired to their room.

The only representatives of the bar in attendance at the Court were Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, and E. B. Edwards, K.C.

WATCHES FOUND.

Examiner's Want Column is Productive of Good Results.

Want ads. in the Examiner pay. The Examiner can find almost any articles that are lost, and the appreciation of this fact by the public has led to there being established in the Examiner a want column that is looked for each evening as eagerly as any column of news. The want column in the Examiner this week has resulted in two ladies' watches being recovered.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The annual meeting of the Men's Union, All Saints' church, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock.

—As expected last night was a bitterly cold one. This morning at daybreak the thermometer stood at 10 below zero. During the night the instrument had registered 16 degrees below. This is colder than any day last winter. Fourteen below zero on Feb. 11th, was last winter's lowest record.

THE SCARLET FEVER CASES.

No Blame can be Attached to the Authorities.

There has been some talk in the town about medical men and the health officers being very negligent in their duty as regards the outbreak of scarlet fever in the family of Mr. Ansling, George street.

It will be seen from the following statement that no blame can be attached either to the attending physician or the health authorities. When the doctor was called in on Saturday night he found the child very low with scarlet fever, and though he had by law twenty-four hours in which to notify the health authorities, the physician reported the case same night. Very early next morning the house was placarded, but during the night the child had passed away. Another child was taken ill, and shortly afterwards it also died. Two other children showing signs of the disease were removed to the contagious ward of the Nicholls Hospital, and this morning the parents and the remaining two children were also taken there.

The health authorities assert that every precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the fever, and no further outbreak is looked for.

A Family Necessity.

"Owing to artificial modern life almost every person suffers more or less from constipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys, and as Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement they have come to be considered a family necessity. Hosts of families would not think of being without them. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box.

AN INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE

Given at Charlotte Street Last Evening.

The regular meeting of the Epworth League of the Charlotte street Methodist church was held last night. The principal feature of the evening's programme was a lecture by Dr. Jessie Birnie, on "Seeing and Hearing." This was of an educational character and dealt with the structure of the eye and ear. Special stress was laid on the care which should be taken of these delicate organs, and their use to mankind.

At the close of the address a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the lecturer. During the evening Misses Lee and Pedlar sang a duet, "Wonderful Love," and later on a mixed quartette was given by Misses Lee, and Pedlar, and Messrs. Armstrong and Dodge.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Vagrants Receive Shelter During the Winter.

At this morning's police court a man named Cooney was given four months, and one Clarke one month, for vagrancy. These men are highly finished products of the bar, and are a credit to the system. Thus for the coming winter months they will enjoy the hospitality of the Crown.

FEW FURTHER PARTICULARS OF ACCIDENT.

Examiner Representative at Scene of Accident

HAD SEVERAL INTERVIEWS

With People Who Were Close at Hand How the Accident Occurred—The Inquest.

Many rumours were current yesterday as to the cause of the accident at Havelock on Saturday evening, and a representative of the Examiner was sent to the scene of the accident to learn as much as possible.

As near as can be gathered from numerous enquiries, the story seems to be as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and family, consisting of Fred, aged 10, Walter, aged 12, and an adopted daughter, named Katie, went to the village to do their shopping and paying their rent. After finishing this business they started for home about 8 o'clock. As they neared the C.P.R. track, they stopped for a moment in front of Gorman's grist mill, just on the outskirts of the village, as they noticed two engines on the east side of the railway crossing. These engines were shunting and pumping, as the engineers say, air into the air chambers, and in so doing created considerable noise. According to the story of the surviving boy, (at present at Mrs. Griffiths, Havelock,) these engines held the attention of all while nearing the crossing. When right upon the rails, he heard his father say, "O, here it is!" and looking the other way, he saw the headlight of the local express almost upon them. The father tried to back off, but the rails caught, and held the runners of the sleight. When he saw this, Mr. Rogers tried to whip the horses across, and succeeded in just getting the horses over, when the engine struck the sleigh. The father and one boy, Fred, were caught on the cowcatcher, while the mother was crushed in against the fence. Walter, the other boy, was thrown about fifty feet, over a large pile of cordwood, on the north side of the track.

TAKEN OFF ENGINE.

The train was stopped as soon as possible, and the father was taken off the front of the engine. It was not known that the boy was there until they pulled the buffalo robe down, and he was found rolled up in it. On going back to the crossing the mother was found, quite dead, but even in death her arms still clasped her little adopted daughter, who maimed and bruised as she was, with both jaws broken, was wailing piteously. Some time was spent here, and after some twenty minutes a faint cry was heard north of the track. This proved to be Walter, who was comparatively unhurt, and it was from him that the above facts were learned. He also said that they had heard the whistle, but supposed that it was one of the engines which they had been watching. The horses ran but a few yards, and were brought in by a farmer, but he did not see the accident owing to the storm.

Medical attendance was at once summoned and the injured people removed to Havelock station where their injuries were temporarily dressed, after which the father, 14-year-old son and the daughter were conveyed to Nicholls Hospital per special train. The father passed away shortly after arriving at the hospital and the son's injuries terminated fatally at noon on Sunday. The daughter's condition is very serious and amongst other injuries both her jaws were broken. The youngest son, who was left at Havelock was somewhat injured, but of course not to the same serious extent as the others.

Yesterday morning, Coroner Gray, County Constable Cochrane, County Crown Attorney Wood and a representative of the Examiner went to Havelock on the noon train. The scene of the accident was visited and it was somewhat as follows:

The C.P.R. track comes round a curve and emerges from a woods about 200 yards from the street crossing. Houses line the street and it is impossible to see trains approaching from the west until the track is reached.

THE INQUEST.

In the afternoon the inquest was opened by Coroner Dr. J. W. Gray, assisted by Crown Attorney R. E. Wood and County Constable Cochrane. The Jury was first sworn in and was composed of the following:

S. S. Joyce, foreman; R. J. Graham, G. Sills, A. Richards, Jas. M. McKeowin, Stephen Vanornam, A. Buchanan, Jas. Craighead, J. R. Craig, J. Coon, Wesley Hart, Francis Hart, J. M. Wright, Geo. Phillips.

After this was done the jury viewed the remains of Mr. Rogers and Fred Rogers in the hall and then proceeded to Mrs. Griffith's to view those of Mrs. Rogers.

It was the unanimous opinion of the jurors that a post mortem was unnecessary and as there was no time for further investigation the inquest was adjourned until Thursday, Dec. 11th, at 1 p.m.

So far as the people of Havelock are concerned they attach no blame to the C.P.R., who are acting very handsomely in the matter, bearing all the expenses of the burials. The inquest on Thursday next will enquire into:—First, Did the engine whistle for the semaphore and road, or only for the semaphore? Second, The rate of speed.

It might be added that the semaphore and road whistle are so close together that the whistles are hard to distinguish.

Mr. Rogers was about 45 years of age and he and his family were well known in the vicinity of Havelock, having lived on the west half of lot three, in the tenth concession of Belmont Township. His father was Mr. Amos Rogers, of the same township. About 15 years ago he married a daughter of Mr. George Purcell. Their family consisted of two boys, Fred and Walter, and an adopted daughter named Katy, and of these Walter and Katy survive. It might be mentioned that the girl's real name is Katy Smith, and that she was at one time a member of the Barnado Home, Peterborough.

A PRESENTATION

To Mr. T J. Tilly, of the Bell Telephone Company, This Morning.

Mr. T. J. Tilley, foreman for the Bell Telephone Company, who was away all summer repairing the long distance lines of the company, and who returned here with his men to install the telephone exchange at the Canadian General Electric Company's factory, was this morning made the recipient of the following address, on the occasion of the separation of the gang for the winter:

Thos. J. Tilley, Esq.,

Dear Sir, — As we are about to leave you we thought the least we could do was to show you we appreciated your kindness since our connection with you, and ask you to accept this small token in remembrance of us. Wishing you the compliments of the season, we remain,

Yours respectfully,
E. C. MERRIFIELD,
C. W. HALSTEAD.

Accompanying the address was a handsome pipe and case, with a plug of Mr. Tilly's favourite tobacco, and a box of Vestas.

Mr. Tilly made a suitable reply, and hoped that they would have a pleasant time in the city to which they were going. The men leave for Kingston in the morning, while Mr. Tilly remains to take charge of this section.

Hopeless Life of 12-Year Old Breaker Boy in Pennsylvania.

MINE COMMISSION ON SATURDAY

James Gallagher, Who Worked in the Markle Mines For Thirty Years, Was Always in Debt to the Company—Only Once in 17 Years Received Money in Wages — The Lehigh Next.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 8.—The miners having finished their attck on the Coxe mines in the Hazelton region, Saturday turned the attention of the commission to the collieries of G. B. Markle & Co., in the same locality. The witnesses for the mine workers scored what appeared to be telling points with regard to wages and other conditions prevailing in the mines of this independent company. The attorney for the company was not prepared to cross-examine the witnesses on all things they testified to, and the commission has granted the company privilege of recalling the witnesses.

The principal witness called against the Markles was James Gallagher, who worked in the Markle mines for thirty years. He claimed the wages were so low that he was always in debt to the company, and that in 17 years he only once received money in wages, and that was $50. He further testified that he had to deal at the company's store, the only place where the miners could get credit, and that the prices were from 10 to 20 per cent. higher than in other places. The witness kept the court in good humor by his wit and sharp answers to questions by the lawyers.

A 12-year-old breaker boy was called to the stand and gave testimony to show that he was working at the Markle mines to pay off the debt incurred by his father, who was killed in the mines 18 months ago. He received no pay, but was given due bills, showing how much his mother owed the company. The due bills also showed that the debt his mother was incurring, such as house rent, etc., was growing faster than he could reduce it, as he was only getting 4 cents an hour.

The conditions prevailing at the Lehigh Valley Company mines will be taken up next.

Consume All Next Week.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 8.—It is expected that the mine workers will consume all next week in presenting to the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission their side of the controversy with the coal operators. The miners consumed twelve days thus far in presenting their testimony, and expect to take fully as much more time.

Wonderful Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills Causing Much Talk.

Dame Joseph Millette, of St. Rosaire Tells of Her Pains and how Easily she got Rid of Them.

December 8 9 10

St. Rosaire, D'Arthsbasca, Que., December 8th. (Special.) — Among the people of this neighbourhood there has been much talk of late of the numerous cures resulting from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Such diseases as Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, and even Catarrh, have yielded readily to this wonderful remedy and people are fast learning how important it is that the kidneys should be kept in shape to perform their duty of removing imparities from the blood.

One of those who speak out often and earnestly of the good Dodd's Kidney Pills have done is the good Dame Joseph Millette. She suffered from Kidney Complaint and Catarrh, and is now completely cured. It is not to be wondered at that she speaks as follows:

"I suffered much from malady of the Kidneys. It settled in the loins and gave me great pain and discomfort. I took two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly well.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a grand remedy for me. I give Dodd's Kidney Pills my certificate from a big heart."

Many others, once sufferers, but now in good health, unite with Dame Joseph Millette in singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have proved conclusively that no disease arising from diseased Kidneys can stand before them.

NINE SCHOONERS ASHORE.

Gale Causes Many Disasters Off the Coast of Nova Scotia.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 8.—The violent storm which swept over the Nova Scotia coast Saturday night caused many disasters. The wind blew 45 miles an hour, accompanied by sleet and snow, with the temperature below the freezing point. Nine schooners broke their anchor chains in Sydney harbor, and were dashed ashore. The crews of several of them had narrow escapes.

The worst wreck reported so far is that of the American schooner Lucinda A. Lowell of Chicago. She was bound from Bay of Islands, Newfoundland, for Gloucester, with a cargo of salt herring, and struck on a ledge of rocks. She hung fast with the seas breaking over her. The crew were rescued yesterday.

Capt. McNeill reports that the gale came up so suddenly he was unable to clear the coast, and, finding himself among the breakers, let go the anchors. They did not hold. The masts were then cut away to ease the vessel, and then the anchors took bottom. A falling spar struck the mate, killing him instantly. His body is on the wreck. One of the sailors was drowned in the breakers.

City Left Without Water.

Nebraska City, Neb., Dec. 8.— The sudden shifting of the main channel of the Missouri River to the Iowa side has left this city without a water supply. The waterworks mains were drained last night and every basin is empty. The electric light plant is shut down and the streets are dark. The breaking out of a fire of any consequence would cause disaster. It may be weeks before pipes can be extended to the main channel, and in the meantime the manufactures in the city depending on steam or electricity must be shut down.

Opening of Assouan Dam.

London, Dec. 8.—The opening of the Assouan Dam by the Duke of Connaught to-day will be a signal proof of the enlightened methods of British policy. These great works, which have cost between £20,000,000 and £25,000,000, will systemize irrigation, impart security to crops and stability to harvests and widen the area of the Nile lands under cultivation.

Nerve Disorders of Women

Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits,

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 268 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states:

"For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

For scrofula, anæmia, stomach and bowel disorders, and wasting diseases, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion with Hypophosphites is prescribed by physicians. It is pleasant to take and agrees with the stomach.

I am using Angier's Petroleum Emulsion whenever and wherever I can, and with universal success. It is such an excellent preparation that it must force itself to the front as almost a specific in throat, lung and stomach troubles.—Albert Atkinson, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

THE PASSING OF A PRINCESS

BY PHIL M. CONGER.....

Copyright, 1901, by P. M. Conger

I came across her one night when I was slumming. No, I was not exactly slumming. As a journalist the dives and dens of the tenement district had been familiar to me for years. It was on one of my tours, for now and then when too well satisfied with life I take a trip amid crime and degradation and poverty as an offset.

I found her in a little room on the top story of a tenement, the Princess. It was a winter's night, and the fire was out for want of fuel, the cupboard empty for want of money and the girl and her grandmother huddled up to each other on an old straw mattress to keep warm. On the floor below them a woman had said:

"Thanks, sir, and God bless you, but if you have a penny more to give look in on the old woman and girl upstairs. I know they haven't had a fire or a mouthful of food for two days."

It wasn't good manners to walk in on the pair without knocking, and with a lighted candle in my hand in addition, but that was the way I entered. They were both awake. The girl fastened her big blue eyes on me and uttered no word while I deposited the packages and lighted a fire in the old stove. When I had taken a seat on the corner of the rickety old table, she quietly observed:

"I hope the gentleman will excuse me."

"The gentleman will do so," I replied.

"And will the gentleman withdraw while me and grandma get up?"

The gentleman passed out into the ice cold hall and stamped up and down for three or four minutes. Then he was informed with considerable dignity that the ladies had finished their toilet and were "at home." A few minutes later we sat down to a feast, the trio of us. I expected to hear a tale of want and woe, but none was told. There was no inveighing against the rich; no criticism of the world at large; not one single complaint that they were there in poverty's clutch. Grandma was a woman of seventy. She had a soft, gentle face and the dignity of old age. It was hard to connect her with poverty, although one saw the wolf of starvation sniffing at the door. The girl was not over ten, but she had the face of one double that age. Her clothes were ragged, but clean; her hands had been used to toil, but they were shapely and clear of dirt. Her face wore a smile, and yet there was dignity behind it. No blessings were showered upon my head, no exultation. If I was a benefactor, I was also a guest.

"I thought some one would come," said the girl as we stood around the table, with its miserable showing of crockery.

"And why did you think so?" I asked.

"Because I shall be a princess some day."

"And how will that come about?"

In quiet tones and with an earnestness which made me wonder she told me that over and over again she had dreamed that she was a princess. The idea had become firmly fixed in her mind, and, even had I cared to combat it, arguments would have been useless. She had read story books, too; she had read of princes and princesses and knights and chevaliers, and to dispel her illusions would have been almost wicked. I called her Princess in a spirit of levity. She accepted the title with such dignity that I bestowed it upon her in earnest. Grandma's mind was not in its second childhood, yet she had fully accepted the situation—that is, she firmly believed that it would come to pass some day that her granddaughter would wear the purple and ride behind proud stepping horses. I encouraged her to think so, and I encouraged the Princess. This was deceit on my part, but God help those men and women and children of the tenements who sit in cold, darkness and hunger and have no visions to keep back their wails or curses.

Old as she was granny had a little work now and then, and young as she was the Princess earned a few shillings per week. I should have been glad to do more for them, for I had become knight to a princess, but they drew a line and entered a protest. To go beyond that line was to hurt their feelings and offend their dignity.

Sometimes in my knocking about I found the Princess on the street, and I had no cause to wonder that the half drunken women and rude boys treated her with respect. It had somehow got about the street that she was a real princess who would come into her own some day, and she must be treated different from the other girls. There were weeks and weeks at a time when the faith of the Princess in her future would not let a doubt creep in. Then there would come a blue day, and after sitting with her chin on her hands for a long hour while I talked with grandma she would earnestly inquire:

"Do you think I shall ever be a real princess? Won't some other girl get the place ahead of me before I am old enough?"

Then I would look around at the evidence of poverty, I would feel the pinching, the grinding, the bitterness hemming her in, and I would reply with deceit on my tongue. I would encourage her to keep fast hold of her illusions, to drive any menacing doubt away. She believed in me and was the happier for it, and it was also worth the sin to receive the grateful looks of the poor old woman whose span of life was almost closed. When I had restored her courage, the Princess would tell me of her plans when she should come into her own. There was never a plan that did not include the betterment of humanity. There would be no enemies to punish, no laws to oppress, no charity to hurt the sensitive. The multimillionaire who would carry out that girl's plans would be admired by all men and blessed by thousands.

Our friendship lasted a year and its end was both sudden and tragical. As she attempted to cross the street one day the Princess was knocked down and run over by a heavy vehicle. A dozen people rushed to pick her up, but each and every one of them realized at first glance that her end had come. She was broken and crushed, but not unconscious. They wondered that she did not scream out in her pain, and when the ambulance surgeon spoke in admiration of her pluck she quietly replied:

"Sir, I shall be a princess some day, and a princess never cries in public."

They took her to the hospital, and the doctors did not need two minutes to satisfy themselves that she had only a few hours to live. They expressed condolence because she was a child, but words of sympathy brought no tears to her eyes nor groans to her lips.

"Is it bad?" she quietly asked of the nurse after the doctors had withdrawn.

"Very bad," was the reply as a soft hand was laid upon her forehead.

"If—if it's too bad, then I won't never get to be a princess, will I?"

"Poor child!"

"It's years and years," said the girl as her lips trembled at last. "Me and granny have been cold and hungry and ragged, but we never gave up. I was to be a princess some day, and then we'd live in a palace and have everything we wanted. If I'm hurt too bad to ever be a princess, what will granny do?"

Then came delirium, and the ravings told the nurse such a story of mingled romance and poverty that she wept over it. A simple illusion had carried that child through years of uncomplaining penury without complaint. It had safeguarded her amid the lowest and vilest. It had kept her face to God, and it had made her reverenced by men. Half an hour before death came the delirium passed. Then she looked at the nurse with her big blue eyes and asked:

"Is it bad—very bad?"

"You may never get well," replied the nurse, with a sob.

There was a long silence. The gates of pearl must have been opening when the Princess asked:

"Will—will I ever be a princess?"

"Yes, dear—up there among the angels you shall come into your kingdom."

The nurse went back to the window and leaned her elbows on the sill and sobbed as if the life of a sister was departing. When she turned, the little face was growing white and the eyes had closed.

And so the knight of the Princess sits with poor old granny and talks of that which was and tries in vain to offer comfort.

The first necessity of athletics is a sound stomach. Food is the source of all physical strength, but to extract and assimilate the strength from food requires that the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition should be in a condition of good health. What is true of the athlete is true of every man and woman; physical health and vigor depend upon the digestion and assimilation of food.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, builds the body up with solid flesh and muscle.

"I used ten bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Broadwater County, Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do me no good. I got down in weight to 125 pounds, and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh nearly 160 and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicine to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicines."

The Elephant's Sense.

Why an elephant should be afraid of a mouse is a mystery. Some have doubted the generosity of the elephant because of his aversion to small animals, but none can doubt his intelligence. Buffon, notwithstanding his idea of the mere mechanism of animals, spoke of the elephant as at the same time a "miracle of intelligence and a monster of matter." Ernest Menault happily referred to him as the animal that carried his nose in his hand; hence the marvelous intelligence of his trunk. The senses of touch and smell co-operate.

The nerves which extend through his trunk are so numerous that they equal in number all those distributed over the rest of the body. The elephant can keep perfect time to music. He has the ear perfectly organized, and the hearing is extremely fine. The eye of the elephant is distinguished from that of other animals by the pathetic expression of sentiment. Take him all in all, naturalists agree that he is the most intelligent of animals. And why should he be afraid of a mouse?

His Head and His Hat.

It has been said of the southern darky that he has not always a clear idea as to property rights, but on some points it appears that he is not in the least hazy.

An old colored man in the days "befo' de wah" was given one of his master's cast off hats, which he wore with great pride. One Sunday his master met him coming home from a camp meeting in a pouring rain bareheaded and holding his hat under his coat. Later on the master questioned him jocosely:

"Why didn't you wear your hat, Jerry? Did you feel the need of cooling your head?"

"You see, it's like dis, sah," responded Jerry. "My head is yours, but my hat is mine, and nachelly I feels like taking care ob it, sah."—Youth's Companion.

New York, Dec. 9th, 9.45 a.m. — We look for steady stock market to-day, with possibly some slight further rally. There was no pressure to sell stocks yesterday from any source. Money situation will not permit anything like a bull movement at this time, and we advise caution in overloading on the long side from now.

TO STRICTLY ENFORCE THE LAW

License Inspector Cochrane Receives Notice From the Department.

The Examiner is requested by Mr. Cochrane to publish the following letter which has been received by him from the License Department:

Geo. Cochrane, Esq., License Inspector, Peterborough, Ont:

Dear Sir,—I am directed by the Honourable, the Provincial Secretary to inform you that complaints have reached the Department with regard to the lax enforcement of the License Law in your License District, particularly relating to violations on Saturday nights and Sundays.

It is the desire of this Department that you shall see to it that the License Law is strictly observed. If you find that you are unable, by your own efforts, to bring about a proper observance of the law, you should communicate with this Department, and state what additional assistance is required.

Yours sincerely,
J. K. STEWART,
Provincial Inspector.

Toronto, Dec. 8th, 1902.

Mr. Cochrane says that if any hotel keeper is found violating the law at any time, and particularly on Saturday nights and Sundays, and is convicted, after this published notice has been given to him, he must place the responsibility upon himself and not upon the Inspector, as it is his intention to carry out the instructions of the Department rigidly and strictly.

EXEMPTION OBJECTED TO.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—A few days ago I noticed in the columns of your paper a proposition of a bylaw to exempt the property of J. J. Turner & Sons from taxation. In the same paper appeared a proposition of a bylaw to borrow the sum of twenty thousand dollars. I was not in the least surprised to see the proposition to borrow money, because as long as our town continues to exempt so many buildings from taxation, they cannot expect to have money in the treasury. There are too many buildings already exempt from taxation. The poor men of our town are expected to pay heavy taxes, while the better off class are seeking exemption from taxation. Now, Mr. Editor, what right has the above mentioned property to be exempt from taxes? I don't suppose that company employes more than fifteen hands, and I believe they are chiefly girls who receive low wages. The expenses of our town are too high to be exempting property from taxation, and I hope, that when the above proposed bylaw is voted on, it will be voted down. If every property holder in our town would pay his share of taxes, there would be no necessity of borrowing money for bridges and sewers.

Respectfully Yours,
A CITIZEN.

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Semi-Annual Meeting of Rugby Club.

Trent Valley Hockey League Meets on Saturday.

With the thermometer at 16 degrees below zero, it makes one realize more than ever that winter is upon us. The Curling Clubs throughout the Province are beginning to "sooper up," the Hockey Clubs throughout the country, are beginning to chase the puck, and it behooves the members of the local team to get down to practice. The rink will not be in shape for some weeks yet, of course, but Little Lake affords plenty of facilities for skating.

* * * * *

The members of the Peterborough Rugby Club are asked to bear in mind the fact that the annual meeting of the Club will be held in the Oriental Hotel this evening, when the finances of the Club will be considered. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock.

* * * * *

The passing away of the Charlotte street skating rink to the exclusive use of curling, precludes the idea of a possibility of the T.A.S. team having the use of the old rink for hockey purposes. It is quite evident then that the T.A.S. men will chase the puck at the new Brock street rink.

HOCKEY.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

The Toronto Telegram says: "The proposal of Mr. Kenner, Peterborough, that past-presidents of the association should not be members of the executive more than one year, after their retirement, carried unanimously. It was argued that fossilized representatives might so accumulate that they might hamper the working of the association. There was not a dissenting voice to the proposal."

A YEAR AGO.

A year ago Charlie Coleman was present at the convention of the O.H.A. as a delegate from Port Hope. On Sunday all that was mortal of the bright young man was interred in the cemetery at Port Hope. Charlie was an athlete, but his connection with sport never had a bad influence on his character. He could play lacrosse and hockey in Winnipeg, and also act as vice-president of the Young People's Society of St. Stephen's Presbyterian church, and sing in the choir.

Delegates to Trent Valley League—Messrs. D. J. Devine and W. Meagher.

MR. ROBERTSON'S ADDRESS.

Mr. John Ross Robertson, in his annual address, said:

The amendment to clause No. 26 concerns the expenses of the Association. It means to reduce the present-age allowed the Association from 33 per cent. to 20 per cent. It simply means to reduce the Association's share of the final gates.

It is true that the O.H.A. is financially prosperous. It has not always been so. There have been times when cash in the cash box was not much in evidence and when the outlook was not promising. Because by careful management financial prosperity has come to us with generous hand, that is no reason why we should during a run of prosperity do something to deplete our source of income, an act that some day might place us on the unsafe rather than on the safe side in managing the Association. Rainy days have come to other associations. You know that a rainy day can kill off a hockey match quicker than it can kill anything. Bad gates may be our fate some season, and other exigencies may arise that may place us in a position where we may require the funds that we are now conserving.

A game occasionally falls off in popularity for a season or two. It is not likely that hockey will, but in case it did the receipts would fall off proportionately, and, therefore, we ought to provide for such a possibility. The still more imminent probability is that ice is as uncertain quantity and cannot be relied upon. It should be borne in mind that O.H.A. is the only Association which provides championship trophies out of its share of the gate receipts.

The clubs which go fast enough to earn big gates should remember that the humblest club in the Association is a contributor in some way to the prosperity which rewards the champion clubs. The loyalty of each club to the Association has enabled us to keep the game clean, and thus build up the popularity of hockey, so that our foremost teams can be fairly asked to sacrifice to the general good of the game a share of gates earned in the struggle for the Association's championships.

Now is the Time.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. F. R. J. McPherson Joins the List of Benedicts.

The Lindsay Post contains the following reference to the marriage of Mr. F. R. J. McPherson, one of Peterborough's popular business men:

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's church, on Wednesday, Nov. 26th, at 8 a.m., when Miss Rose Mary McGeough, eldest daughter of Mr. M. H. McGeough, contractor, was united in marriage to Mr. Francis R. J. McPherson, third son of Mr. Angus McPherson, of Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties and a number of guests from a distance. The bride looked pretty dressed in a cream white silk drass en traine, with Brussels net veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Miss Katye O'Loughlin, a cousin, was bridesmaid, and looked pretty attired in cream, white silk with black picture hat trimmed with white chiffon facings. She carried a shower bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. The groom was supported through the ordeal by his brother, Mr. Jas. McPherson, of Sault Ste. Marie.

After the ceremony the party drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where the usual congratulations and good wishes for their future happiness were extended to the young couple. They left on the 10.40 train for a honeymoon trip to Eastern points. The bride's going away dress was a navy camels hair cloth with navy and pearl gray velvet hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. McPherson will reside in Peterborough, where Mr. McPherson is engaged in business. The Post and their many friends join in wishing them a happy and prosperous married life.

EVANGELIST KENNEDY.

Glowing Reports of His Successful Work in new Ontario.

The following from the Sault. Ste. Marie Star refers to the work of Rev. H. D. Kennedy, formerly of Otonabee, who has devoted his life to evangelistic work:

"For the past five weeks Gordon Lake and Leebourne have been the scene of a great religious awakening. Notwithstanding bad roads and weather crowds have driven in for miles around to attend the services conducted by Evangelist Kennedy, of Peterborough, who is with us. Upwards of eighty persons have been soundly converted, whole families swept into the Kingdom, and the churches gloriously revived. Mr. Kennedy's work in the district the last few months has proved very successful, over four hundred have been converted and the work still goes on. Mr. Kennedy leaves us this week for Richards' Landing where Evangelist Maclachlan will join him in services there."

CASTRO'S WILD COUP

Arrested A l British and German Subjects in Caracas.

DEVELOPMENTS OF A SINGLE DAY

Probably 50 British Subjects in Caracas—The President's Personal Attitude Is One of Defiance and Indifference—May Also Expell British and German Citizens From La Guayra—A Time Limit Set.

Caracas, Venezuela, Dec. 9.—All British and German subjects in Caracas were arrested to-day.

Castro Will Be Sorry.

Kingstown, St. Vincent, Dec. 9.—The British cruiser Indefatigable, which has arrived here from La Guayra, Venezuela, brings reports from President Castro of that country is defiant and indifferent to the [illegible] made. It is asserted that President Castro is prepared even to expel the German and British residents of La Guayra and to close that port.

There were comparatively few white British subjects in Caracas, probably less than fifty. The Caracas-La Guayra railroad is a British concern, and its general manager and other high officials are Englishmen. There are some English engineers on the line. Other Englishmen in Caracas are employed in commercial and industrial pursuits, and Englishmen are found among the clerical force of commercial houses. There are a large number of natives of the British West India Islands in Venezuela and quite a number of these latter in Caracas. The islanders are negroes with few exceptions.

The census of 1894 places the number of Germans in Venezuela at 962.

Time Limit 72 Hours.

London, Dec. 10.—One of the largest English creditors of Venezuela informed a representative of the Associated Press yesterday that the ultimatums of Great Britain and Germany had a 72 hours limit, and, therefore, will expire on Wednesday. The Foreign Office, while not denying the correctness of this statement, intimated last night that the period is liable to extension. There are some indications of a possible settlement, although, apparently, nothing definite has yet been decided upon.

Views In Germany.

Berlin, Dec. 10.—It was learned yesterday afternoon that the ultimatums to Venezuela did not fix a time limit for an answer, but that the officials of the German and British legations were instructed to leave Caracas at the end of 24 hours after their delivery if there was no prospect of a favorable reply. This, however, was left to their discretion.

U.S. Takes Charge.

Washington, Dec. 10.—U. S. Minister Bowen, at Caracas, has cabled the State Department that before the British Minister and the German Charge d'Affaires withdrew from Caracas Monday, after presenting an ultimatum, they requested him to take charge of the interests of their countries in Venezuela. This request will be granted.

WIDOW'S PITIFUL STORY.

Took Her and Her Two Sons Six Years to Pay Off Bank Rent to Markle & Co.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 10.—Tales of evictions from houses owned by G. B. Markle & Company, the narration of the death of a wife as a result of an enforced removal from her home, and the story of a mother whose husband was killed in the Markle mines, of how she and her two boys struggled for years to pay the Markles the back bill she owed them, were the principal features of yesterday's sessions of the Coal Strike Arbitration Commission.

Mrs. Kate Burns of Jeddo testified that her husband was killed underground, leaving her with four children, the oldest a boy of eight years. The company never offered her a penny. When the eldest child was fourteen years old she took him from school and sent him to work in the mines. At the end of the first month the boy brought home his wage statement, showing that the mother owed $396 for back rent. The boy's wages for the month had been taken off the bill, and he came home open-handed. A second boy in turn came in, and it took the three of them thirteen years to make up the debt, the mother's earnings from neighbors being the principal contribution toward the maintenance of the family.

Four Killed by Dynamite.

Wilkes-Barre, Dec. 10.—Four men were killed and ten injured, three probably fatally, by the explosion yesterday of a box of dynamite in No. 5 mine of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company at South Wilkes-Barre. The men had lowered into the shaft, which is 110 feet deep, a box of dynamite weighing fifty pounds. Phillips took the box off the carriage. It fell and the contents exploded. Twenty men near by were hurled in all directions.

A $60,000 FIRE.

Vancouver, B.C., Gets an Unwelcome Visit—Fires Elsewhere.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 10.—Sixty thousand dollars damage was done yesterday by a fire at New Westminster. The insurance was $45,000. The Dupont block, a two-storey brick store and office building, in the centre of the business district, was totally destroyed and little of the common stock carried by the four stores was saved.

The heaviest loser was R. F. Anderson, hardware merchant, the damage to whose stock amounted to $35,000, with insurance of only $5,000.

The Standard Furniture Company sustained a loss of $7,000, half insured, and the same loss occurred in Matheson's saloon next door.

When the Stove Exploded.

Nelson, B.C., Dec. 10.—Yesterday afternoon a stove boiler explosion took place at the residence of Mrs. D. T. Morrison, Edgewood avenue, which wrecked the kitchen and blew out all the windows at the back of the house.

Fire in Montreal.

Montreal, Que., Dec. 10.—A sharp fire broke out yesterday on the north side of Notre Dame street, just east of the City Hall, gutting the historic building, where the Canadian Institute used to be located. The following were burned out. Thomas Martin, drygoods; J. B. Dutre, advocate; The St. Lawrence-Montreal Club. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Her Clothes Caught Fire.

Toronto, Dec. 10.—Ada Norman, the 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Norman, 66 Elm street, was so terribly burned yesterday morning that the doctors in attendance hold out no hopes for her recovery. Mrs. Norman and her daughter Anna Beatrice, in attempting to extinguish the flames, were also badly burned, but no serious results are anticipated from the injuries they received. The towel she was using got too near the stove and caught fire.

Fire at Aylmer.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—The dwelling of Mr. Thomas Ritchie, Mayor of Aylmer, Que., was destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss, $3,000.

Whole Town Wiped Out.

CZAR NEARLY LOST LIFE.

Would-Be Assassins Were Admitted to Palace Grounds by Attendants.

Vienna, Dec. 10.—The papers yesterday give further details of the alleged plot against the Czar at Livadia on Saturday, when several young men, believed to be students, were arrested on suspicion. Dia Zeit says:

"Four young men, with revolvers, knives and a bomb were found in the private grounds of the Czar's palace at Livadia. When arrested they stated that they desired to hand the Czar a petition. The precautions to guard the monarch have been increased tenfold. The palace is surrounded by an unbroken circle of troops, which is impenetrable."

Slowopolskie says: "One of the men carried a small bomb of terrific explosive power. The others had revolvers and knives. The mystery is how the men reached the grounds. Treachery of the Czar's immediate attendants is the only explanation. The police have identified the men as members of a Kieff secret society.

"Papers indicating a plot against the Czar were also found. Though the prisoners were knouted they refused to betray their accomplices."

Conservative Meeting at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Dec. 10.—A convention was held in the Town Hall here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the local House to contest the vacancy caused by the unseating of A. G. MacKay, the Liberal candidate at the last provincial elections, and also for the purpose of fighting the contest caused by the death of the late Dr. E. H. Horsey, M. P. Five hundred delegates were present. Tinkerman Thomson, ex-Mayor of Owen Sound, was unanimously chosen as a candidate for the Dominion House.

A motion was carried unanimously that George M. Boyd, who was the candidate in the local House, at the last election, be again the candidate for the local House. Mr. Boyd was not present, but it is known that he will accept and fight the Conservative battle.

THE RESULT IN THE EAST AND WEST.

In the above returns there are two elements to be considered, the actual vote and the vote "for" in comparison with the vote cast in the general elections of 1898. The Liquor Act required that in order to bring the Act into force, not only a majority of votes in favour should be cast, but the total of votes "for" must be a majority (a majority of even one would be effective) of one half of the total vote cast in the general elections of 1898. It will therefore be of interest to submit figures to show the total vote cast in favour of the Act last Thursday in comparison with the vote cast in the general elections of 1898. The figures given below represent the totals by townships:

CANADIAN CHEESE RECORD FOR 1902.

Fifteen Per Cent. Increase In Exports Over Last Year.

GENERAL ADVANCE IN PRICE.

A Record-Breaker Both in the Matter of Output and Value Received by Farmers.

The Montreal Gazette, which gives especial attention to commercial matters, gives the following interesting resume of the operations in connection with the important matter of the Canadian cheese industry:

The cheese season of 1902 has been a record one in more than one way, but three important particulars stand out prominently, the large increase of over 15 per cent. in the aggregate volume of the exports, the fact that this increased output did not lower prices, as farmers realized on the average $1.50 per box more this season then last, and lastly, the marked improvement in the average quality of our Canadian cheese, compared with recent years. The co-operation of these three powerful influences has resulted in one of the most successful years in the history of the trade, for not only have the farmers made big profits, but the middlemen also have come out well on the right side of the ledger, which, despite opinion to the contrary, is not by any means so frequent an occurrence as many imagine. Since the opening of navigation, there have been exported from Montreal 2,109,171 boxes of cheese, which have returned to the Canadian producer in round figures about $17,927,000, an increase of $5,400,000 over the returns of the previous season. Three factors were operative in creating and maintaining the high average price which was instrumental in producing the above result, first, the fact that the season opened with the market bare of old cheese; second, the remarkably of the cheese; and, thirdly, the increased consumption kept up throughout the season, despite the higher prices. May opened with the price for new cheese at the highest price in a number of years, due to the already mentioned fact that stocks in England had never been as light as they were last spring, as at the end of that month there were only 6,000 boxes stored in the great stores of the Commercial Road Depot in London, where as many as 285,000 boxes have been held at one time. This unusual condition of affairs, and the fact that there was an exceptionally cold spring in England, curtailing the domestic output by about a month's production, together with the decrease in the United States exports, early created the belief in higher prices, which has been so fully warranted by the course of the season. Right along also well into July the imports into Britain were absorbed almost as fast as they arrived, with little or no accumulation of stocks, which naturally made for steadiness. In fact, before the end of June it became evident that English buyers would have to depend almost exclusively on Canada for their supplies from this side, as there had been a decrease up to that period of over 50 per cent. in the exports from New York. The great bulk of the cheese produced in Northern New York also, which formerly came to Montreal, is now being shipped to Chicago and the Western States, and large quantities of Wisconsin cheese, which used to find a market here are now required for consumption in the manufacturing districts springing up in the Southern States. Indeed, many in the trade believe in this connection that before many years Canada will be experiencing a demand for cheese from the United States. It does not, of course, follow from this that that country is making less cheese, but rather that it is consuming more, and this increase in home consumption is growing year by year. This is a factor which British importers will have to reckon on more and more in the future.

The Canadian exports for the season, and their value, compared with previous years, were as follows:

Year.	Quantity Bxs.	Per Box. Spot Price.	Value. Spot.
1902	2,109,171	$8.75	$18,455,246
1901	1,701,613	7.35	12,100,375
1900	2,977,000	6.24	17,977,000
1899	1,886,496	8.00	15,171,968
1898	1,900,00	6.80	12,540,000
1897	2,162,965	7.00	14,730,000
1896	1,736,237	7.80	17,953,000

THE IMPROVED QUALITY.

The improvement in the quality of the cheese was no doubt largely due to the unusually cool weather that prevailed during the whole summer, but the signs are not wanting that the strong note of warning sounded by some of the leading authorities at last winter's dairy conventions has had some effect in waking up the manufacturing branch of the industry, with the result that there has been considerable improvement made in all that tends towards producing a better and more uniformly fine class of cheese. Many new buildings have been erected to replace the old makeshift structures that have been too common in the past, and greater attention is being given to the sanitary conditions surrounding the factories. In the matter of transportation a decided step was made in advance when the Dominion Government arranged with the railway companies to supply a certain number of iced cars for the carriage of cheese. Heretofore these cars had been provided for butter only.

Probably the most important movement of the year was the establishment of the cool cheese curing rooms by the Dominion Government. These four institutions, situated one each at Woodstock and Brockville, in Ontario; and at Cowansville and St. Hyacinthe, in Quebec, are proving to be object lessons of the highest order, and promise to be the beginning of a revolution in the methods of curing cheese. Already many of the factory owners are making preparations to remodel their curing rooms so that the temperature may be controlled and not go higher than 60 degrees in the hottest weather. Thus two important links in the chain for the cool handling of cheese were provided during the season, and these along with the cold storage warehouses at Montreal, and the cooled air chambers on the ships, makes the chain complete from the factory in Canada to the docks in Great Britain. What appears to be the most needed now is the proper storage of cheese when landed on the other side in hot weather.

The superior quality of this year's cheese, encouraging as it did an extraordinary consumptive demand, has had the natural consequence of shoving prices steadily upward, almost to a record mark. The situation is a most striking illustration of the possibilities of the Canadian cheese trade and shows very clearly that the limit is far from being reached, if the manufacturers will only bestir themselves to produce nothing but an article of the finest possible quality.

There was considerable extension of the work of dairy instruction during the year, especially in Ontario, where this plan of dairy education is being put on a better basis.

GREEN CHEESE MISTAKE.

Right here it might be well to call attention to the fact that while the high average quality was most gratifying on the whole, the high prices prevailing early in the season led near-sighted factorymen to ship a lot of green cheese. Luckily for them the climatic conditions were such that they passed off without any serious trouble. It is to be hoped that the shipment of green cheese, which has been going on more or less for a number of years past, will cease altogether, although it is to be feared that at times recourse will be had to the too early shipment of cheese from the factory, due to the anxiety of reaching an advancing market, or to meet the urgent requirements of shippers on this side or even importers in Great Britain.

THE COURSE OF PRICES.

The course of prices in the country during the season was highly interesting. During May the average increase in value over last year was $1.40 per box; in June, it had fallen to 70c; in July to 56c, and in August to 35c. Then the upward movement after the flush commenced, so that in September cheese averaged 70c per box more than in September, 1901; increased in October to $1.40, and, finally in November to $2.10 per box, and from present appearances, this difference will be retained on the small remaining stocks yet held for sale in Canada. The fluctuation in prices during the season was as follows:

Months.	1902 High. c.	1902 Low. c.	1901 High. c.	1901 Low. c.
May, W	11 1-4	9 1-4	9	8

E	9 5-8	9 1-8	9 5-8	8 3-4
Sept., W	10 11-16	9 3-8	10	8 3-4
E	10 5-16	9 1-4	9 7-8	8 3-4
Oct., W	11 1-2	10 5-8	9 5-16	8 3-8
E	11 1-4	10 5-8	9 1-4	8 1-4
Nov., W	12 3-8	11 1-8	9	8 1-4
E	12 1-2	11 1-4	8 3-4	8 1-4

The fall deal in cheese this year, owing to the peculiar conditions under which it was made, is more interesting than usual. This period of the year in former seasons has been singularly unfortunate for the Montreal exporters, and singularly fortunate for the producing interests, but it is hoped, as already said, that the present year will be an exception to the rule. Considering the many chances that exporters have to take in buying fall cheese, and carrying it through the non-producing season of about six months, with its attendant fluctuation in prices, and shrinkage in weight, besides other incidental expenses, fall cheese should be bought pretty cheap instead of at the highest price of the season, as it usually is. At the start this fall, however, prices soon took on their old tendency to soar, and before the advance ceased they had reached a first cost of 12 3-8c, a record price since the year 1887. This steady advance tended to fasten the belief on the minds of operators that the make, instead of being larger, as was supposed, has actually fallen below that of last year, and this, together with the facts that the export demand has been greater, and the English production lighter, has produced a stronger feeling generally. It is worthy of note, also, that there was little or no early makes carried in stock on this side, this fall, as was the case last year, as they were shipped forward, and owing to high prices prevailing, made good profits for their holders. On the whole the to holders. When the market got beyond the 10c mark, operators on both sides the Atlantic became cautious, a lull followed, but prices renewed their upward course, and 11c was reached. At this juncture, a very significant pause supervened, when some operators on this side became nervous, and decided to stay out; but they couldn't well do it, as cable orders had to be filled, especially those on best terms. Consequently, the buying continued, and up went the price to 11c, and then to 11 1-2c; when some of the nervous ones gained courage and persuaded themselves that the position was solid after all, and that nothing could prevent prices going higher. It is well known also, that considerable lines of August and September cheese have changed hands on this market at points ranging from 80c to $1 per box, and over. The main reasons for this steep advance are the increased consumption in Great Britain during the past summer, and the decreased make on this side. In place of the large stocks in Canada at this time last year, and the considerable accumulations in England, we have now much lighter stocks on both sides of the Atlantic.

Under such circumstances it is not surprising that prices have reached 12 cents. The visible supply on both sides the Atlantic is estimated at between 200,000 to 300,000 boxes less than it was a year ago, and unless prices are driven up to a prohibitive figure, what remains is almost certain to be consumed before the new season opens.

THE RANGE OF CABLE QUOTATIONS

The range in the cable quotations at Liverpool, London and Bristol, compared with previous years, shows how firm the English market has been throughout. During May the Liverpool market was 9s. per cwt. above what it stood at the same month a year ago. In June the difference had fallen to 8s., and during July, September and October, it ruled at 4s. 6d. In October the fall rise hoisted the advance to 10s. 6d., and finally in November to 11s per cwt. In London and Bristol, the same sharp difference was shown.

THE LOCAL EXPORTERS.

The local exporters figure in the season's business in much the same relative standing as they did a year ago. With a few exceptions most of the individual firms have scored increases on their turn over for previous seasons. A. A. Ayer & Co., and Hodgson Bros. again head the list, Lovell & Christmas, Limited, who stood in fifth place last year, have taken third this year in the place of A. W. Grant, who falls one to fourth; Jas. Alexander, who was fourth last year, now stands fifth. The Co-operative Wholesale Society and P. W. McLagan, have also changed places with each other this year, the latter, who was sixth last year, falling to seventh, while the former moves up to sixth.

There has been no material change in the destination of the cheese shipments this year. London again leads the list with over 43 per cent., while Liverpool took over 24 per cent., and Bristol over 18 per cent. London and Liverpool increased their imports as compared with 1901, but Bristol's fell off 11,000 odd. Glasgow, Manchester and Leith follow in the order named, all three increasing their purchases, and the other ports follow:

Ports.	1902. Bxs.	1901. Bxs.
London	923,770	717,156
Liverpool	535,335	427,817

Totals	2,109,171	1,701,613

The transportation of the cheese across the Atlantic was distributed chiefly among three firms, viz., B. Reford & Co., the Elder-Dempster Company, and the Allan Line, who carried 93 per cent. of Montreal's cheese. The remainder was distributed among the other lines.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

CURES INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, SOUR, WEAK AND ALL STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mr. J. G. Clunis, Barney's River, N.S., tells of what this wonderful remedy has done for him:—It is with gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of B.B.B. I was so badly troubled with indigestion that whatever I ate caused me so much torture that eating became a dread to me. I tried numerous physicians, but their medicines seemed to make me worse. I thought I would try B.B.B., so got a bottle, and after taking a few doses felt a lot better. By the time I had taken the last of two bottles I was as well as ever, and have had no return of the trouble since. I recommend your medicine to the highest degree. THE ROYAL CITY FAIR

Opening of Winter Live Stock Exhibition on Tuesday.

A SUCCESSFUL SHOW PROMISED

Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Poultry in Great Array in the Stalls and Pens—Prizes Already Awarded in Cattle and Sheep—The Dairy Test in Progress—Beginning of Evening Lectures.

Guelph, Dec. 10.—One of the most flattering displays of the live stock industry ever made in Canada was inaugurated yesterday, when the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair was opened. The spacious building is handsomely decorated with flags and 2,000 spectators passed through the doors from 1 o'clock until night. The officers of the organization express much satisfaction with the progress of the enterprise, and the patronage accorded the Fair the first day. In all the departments except the cattle the exhibits were promptly in place. Some delay has resulted in the transportation of some stock, but these entries are expected to be in place by noon to-day. On account the judging of cattle scheduled for yesterday was late in being started.

About eighty splendid specimens of Canada's best product are in the stalls. The judging of sheep, bacon hogs and poultry started at 10 a.m. and continued into the evening. The display of hogs is the largest in the history of the association, containing ninety-six pens and some 250 animals. The sheep exhibit is above the average and the poultry display is amazingly large, including about everything that wears feathers in the barnyard. A finer tribute to the enterprise of the Canadian poultry fancier could not be desired. The dairy tests were continued in the presence of 300 enthusiasts, who climbed to positions around the stand in their efforts to see everything. 6

An interesting feature of the gathering is the large number of foreigners present. They have come from all parts of the States and across the sea to take lessons from the industrious Canadian live stock fanciers. All parts of the Dominion are represented. Among the notables are: Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion; Hon. J. Dryden, Minister of Agriculture of Ontario; I. Ferris, Commissioner of Agriculture for the Northwest Territories; Prof. Clark, Agricultural Department, Ottawa; Prof. C. C. Curtiss, State Agricultural College, Iowa; Secretary Greig, Winnipeg; Live Stock Association of Manitoba; J. R. Anderson, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, British Columbia; Archibald McNeillage of Glasgow, one of the foremost agriculturalists of Great Britain.

The poultry fanciers are out in force with 2,740 entries. This is largely in excess of a year ago.

President A. W. Smith says every thing indicates one of the most successful fairs ever held in Canada. The entries are more numerous and better than in other years, and the attendance for the first day is well over the average. He says, a surprising feature of the attendance is the presence of farmer's families. In previous years the proportion of women has been small. Yesterday nearly every male visitor was accompanied by a lady. This made the problem of accommodation much more difficult.

The Cattle Awards.

The prizes awarded show a big gain for Ontario breeders. Results in cattle competition, prizes awarded in the order named:

Shorthorn steer, 2-year-old and under 3—James Rennie & Son, Blackwater, 1; One and under 2—J. Groff, Alma, 1; James McQueen, Elora; J. Friel & Son, Roseville. Under one year—James Rennie & Son, Joseph Kirby, Armstrong Mills; John Brown, Galt.

Shorthorn, cow or heifer, 3 years and over—John Hill, Wellesley; E. Brien & Sons, Ridgetown; S. W. Squire, Owen Sound.

Shorthorn heifers, 2 and under 3—J. Fried & Son, E. Brien & Sons. Heifer, under 2—Leslie & Perrin, Acton. Best Shorthorn steer—James Rennie & Son. Best Shorthorn cow or heifer—J. Fried & Son.

Hereford or Polled Angus, steer or heifer, 2 and under 3—James Bowman, Guelph. One year and under 2—James Bowman, F. W. Stone Stock Co.—James Bowman. Under 1 year—F. W. Stone Stock Co., James Bowman, F. W. Stone Stock Co. Cow or heifer, 3 years and over—Bowman. Rose, Bowman.

The Sheep Awards.

Lincoln ewe, under one year—J. T. Gibson, Denfield, all five prizes, no competition.

Lincoln wether, 1 year and under 2—Gibson, without competition.

Lincoln wether, under 1 year—Gibson, 6 prizes, no competition.

J. T. Gibson, Denfield, and Joseph Gould, Toronto, are judging cattle; Prof. Curtis, Ames, Iowa, the Southdowns and Shropshires; James Douglas, Caledonia, the long wools; James L. Tolton, Walkerton, the middle wools, and the latter two the awards stakes and crosses. Thomas Teasdale, Concord is the judge in Poland Chinas; William Jones, Mount Elgin, in Yorks and Tamworths; Andrew H. Harding, Thorndale, in Berks and grades. Prof. Dean is in charge of the dairy judging. The poultry judges are: Butterfield, Jarvis, Snell, Anderson, Wagner and Bennett.

The Dairy Class.

In the dairy class, there are 39 animals entered. The famous milking families of the Ayrshires and Holsteins are chiefly conspicuous. Dymont, McKee, Smith, with Ayrshires and Rice and Rettie, with Holsteins. In Shorthorns, L. D. Currie of Pilisburg, has Bonnie Doon, the Shorthorn winner of last year. The awards are to be made on a basis of butter, fat, solids and days of milking after calving. The competition lasts two days.

The Ontario cattle, which have been at the Chicago Exhibition, arrived yesterday, and will prove a big feature of the Fair.

The interesting series of lectures arranged for the Fair opened this evening in the lecture-room. These talks will be of the greatest practical value to Canadian farmers, as they are illustrated, and represent the results of the best thought of farmers' specialists. Hon John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, will preside at each of these meetings. Last night the hall was packed. The theme of the first address, by J. E. Brethour of Burford, "Correct Type of Bacon Hog," was discussed by C. F. Hodges of Brantford, and several of those present asked questions.

The address was made more interesting by the introduction of life-sized pictures of the animals, their different parts, showing the profit derived from certain portions of the animal, commercial value and how to obtain the best results. The deduction was that by careful breeding and feeding an animal may be market under 200 pounds at a better profit than secured from the heavier class of hogs.

"Selection and Breeding of Bacon Hogs," by Prof. G. E. Day, O.A.C., Guelph, proved of equal interest. The discussion by D. C. Anderson of Guelph attracted much attention. The practical knowledge of these two gentleman render them especially competent for such work.

Experimental Union Officers.

The meeting of the Experimental Union have conflicted somewhat with the fair program, but its sessions were concluded last night. The following are the officers for 1903: President, Nelson Monteith, Stratford; vice-president, E. C. Drury, Crownhill; secretary, Prof. C. A. Zavitz; treasurer, Prof. P. L. Hutt; directors, Dr. Mills, T. Graynor, Rosehal; G. C. Creelman, Toronto; E. C. Elford, Holmesville; W. R. Dewer, Fruitland; auditors, Messrs. W. C. Gamble, B.S.A., and Melville Cumming, B.A.B.S.A.

The treasurer's report was presented by the treasurer, Prof. Hutt, and showed receipts of $1,821.89, and expenditures of $1,634.60; balance on hand, $187.29.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

High Priced Skating in Paris.

Paris, Dec. 10.—Skating began at the Cercle du Bois de Boulogne, but on the other lakes the ice was too thin. It will probably not be thick enough before Thursday. The Cercle is very exclusive. In order to skate there, if not a member, one must belong to some other important club, have an invitation and also pay 20f. [illegible] for the day's privilege.

Goes to Ottawa Normal.

Toronto, Dec. 10.—A. F. White, senior Separate School Inspector, was on Tuesday appointed to succeed the late Dr. McCabe as principal of the Ottawa Normal School. His salary will be $2,300 a year, with an annual increase of $50 until he receives the maximum amount, namely, $2,500.

SOME LIVE STOCK LANDED.

Special Orders Issued by Board of Agriculture Permits It.

London, Dec. 10.—The Board of Agriculture Gazette yesterday announced that special orders had been issued permitting the Cunard Line steamer Sylvania, from Boston, Nov. 30, for Liverpool, and the Leyland Line steamer California, from Portland, Me., Nov. 30, for the same port to land their live stock under certain restrictions.

Fighting Cattle Disease.

Albany, N.Y., Dec. 10.—The whole available force of the state Agricultuaral Department is now concentrated upon the effort to keep the foot and mouth disease out of this State. Commissioner Wieting, in a communication to Governor Odell, yesterday, reported the precautions redoubled. Every railroad, highway and ferry leading into the State is guarded by officers of the Department, which is closely co-operating with the United States authorities and thus far no case of the disease has been found.

ELECTION FRAUDS.

Witness Dictated False Names, and Others Got Illegal Votes In.

Montreal, Dec. 10.—Some more extraordinary evidence was elicited yesterday before Sir Melbourne Tait and Mr. Justice Loranger in the St. James' contested election case, Joseph M. W. Desy, who represented Mr. Brunet at poll 37, swore that Hetu, the returning officer had destroyed twenty of Mr. Bergeron's ballots and replaced them by others for Brunet. Desy said this had been done in his presence, and as he did not know it was a crime he did not protest.

"I dictated," he added, "the false names, although I do not remember how many, not as many as perhaps fifteen or twenty. This was done while there was no voting going on, and I knew what I was doing, although I had taken something."

Joseph Remi Courselles got six in, Edward Lefebvre, Mr. Bergeron's representative at poll 37, sold out for $10 and a situation, and George Lalonde got twenty votes in.

SOUR STOMACH (Acid Dyspepsia)

Now Recognised as the Cause of Serious Diseases.

Acid Dyspepsia, commonly called heart burn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to properly digest it the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic, and being an every day occurrence, is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal, many people do nothing for the trouble.

It is now well known among able physicians that the whole constitution is gradually undermined and weakened, that the nerves and vital organs are seriously affected by any form of dyspepsia. This is plain, as every organ, every nerve in the body, is nourished by the blood, and the blood is replenished from the food digested. If the food is properly digested, the blood is pure, the nerves steady, but if supplied from a sour, fermenting, decaying mass the blood is vitiated, poisoned, and the result is shown in sleeplessness, lack of energy, poor appetite, nervousness. Every trifle is magnified, and the dyspeptic sees nothing but the dark side of everything.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and it is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

It is not claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia and stomach weakness in its various forms, but for this it has been shown to be unequalled. The eminent specialists, Reed and O'Leary, have recently stated that they considered Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets an unfailing specific for disorders of the digestive organs, and the remarkable cures made in cases of long standing dyspepsia proves that this remedy has extraordinary merit.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package, and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion, strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

Only Green Hides.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—The Order-in-Council prohibiting the importation of hides from the New England States, which was passed by the Dominion Government last week, has been construed by the Customs Department as applying to all hides, and has occasioned considerable inconvenience to tanners. The prohibition was only meant for green hides and skins, and at a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday the order was so amended.

Youth Saves Him.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—Higgins, the boy murderer of St. John, N.B., will not be hanged on Dec. 18. At a Cabinet council yesterday it was decided to commute the sentence to imprisonment for life. The Ministers took this ground because of the tender age of the prisoner. They considered that public sentiment would be outraged by hanging a youth of 16.

Ontario Girl Suffocated.

Buffalo, Dec. 10.—Elizabeth Haddock Wright, 20 years of age, who had been cashier in a Main street restaurant for two months, was suffocated in her room on Norwood avenue last evening. Gas escaped from a small heater in the room while the girl slept. Miss Wright came here two months ago from North End, Ont.

A Cold Dip.

On Tuesday morning Mr. F. McAuliffe, time keeper on the Cereal Company's new concrete dam, had a cold plunge in the waters of the Otonabee, by breaking through the ice near where the construction work is going on. He was taken from the icy waters not much the worse for his dip.

SERVICES APPRECIATED.

Work Done by Temperance Men Commended.

At the regular meeting of Harmony Lodge, No. 437, I.O.G.T., the following resolution was adopted:

That this lodge desires to place on record its appreciation of the very valuable services rendered to the cause of temperance, by the ministry of our town and county in the referendum campaign, and also to all our lay temperance friends, both Conservatives and Reformers, who worked hand in hand to poll the grand majority in our county of some 2,300. Especial praise should be given to the Rev. J. G. Potter, and his executive, for the grand work they did in organizing the county in so short a time they had a their disposal.

We are glad to note that East Peterborough polled more than the required vote, and West Peterborough would have done the same had the temperance votes been anything like fairly polled.

We also hope that some permanent organization will be formed in the county to further the good work done, and see that all temperance laws are enforced.

Irish Handkerchiefs Galore!

Just arrived at the Golden Lion for the holiday season, a very attractive line of dainty Irish lawn Handkerchiefs. They come neatly put up in boxes of half dozens, and the boxes are decorated with familiar Irish scenes and scenery. So pat for presents, and you can almost imagine they had brought the smell of the turf with them. The box and pictures alone are well worth the price we ask for the half dozen. R. Fair & Co. 1d1w

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. D. W. Little Passed Away To-day.

It is with deep regret that the death is recorded of Mrs. Little, wife of Mr. D. W. Little, agent, in Peterborough of the Singer Company. The deceased lady, who was 34 years of age, passed away this morning after an illness altogether of several years, though her last illness only confined her to her bed for four or five weeks. Her affliction, which was of the most painful and distressing character, was borne with a sweetness, patience and serenity of temper, which was to be expected from the manner in which these characteristics marked her years of health. Mrs. Little had been a resident of Canada for thirteen years, removing from New York State, where she was united in marriage to Mr. Little. They have resided in Peterborough for six or seven years. Mrs. Little leaves behind her to mourn her loss, her husband, whose tender care for his wife during her many years of ill health makes the loss more deeply felt, and her father and mother, Mr. an dMrs. Frank Jones, Kingston, who were present at the bedside of their daughter in her last moments.

The funeral takes place to-morrow at 3 o'clock. It will be private, but friends of the deceased may call at her late residence up to three o'clock to-morrow.

RECEIVES A PROMOTION.

Mr. Hudson Left for Havelock on Monday.

Mr. Fred Hudson, the popular engineer of engine No. 34, C.P.R., who has been a resident of town for the past eight months, left for Havelock on the midnight on Monday to accept a more responsible position with the same company. Although regretting his departure, his many friends in Peterborough will be pleased to hear of his promotion. A number of the boys accompanied him to the station and succeeded in giving him a rousing "send-off."

THE COLD WAVE.

Much More Severe on Our Yankee Cousins Over the Border.

The family which has coal in the cellar is highly favoured. We in the northern part of Our Lady of the Snows felt chilly with the thermometer 16 below zero, but our Yankee cousins to the south in New York were yesterday in the grip of a cold wave that was cold. At Saratoga the mercury dropped to 30 below zero, and similar temperatures prevailed over that State and neighbouring ones, and with all this there is a shortage of fuel. The cold weather while it has no terror for those with fuel and warm houses, strikes those without fuel and other means of keeping warm with terrible severity; and the more fortunate should think of others in a practical way.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Valleau, and Miss J. M. Watson, of Hastings, were in town to-day.

Miss Delaney is in Toronto to-day visiting the wholesale millinery houses, and selecting the newest novelties for their holiday trade.

Messrs. Ernie Merryfield and Chester Hallstead,, of the Bell Telephone Company, left to-day for Kingston, to make some repairs to the line there.

Miss Hannah Bell, daughter of the late Alexander Bell, who was for many years pastor of St. Andrew's church here, was married in Kingston, on Monday, Nov. 24th, to Mr. H. G. Freeland, of Toronto.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The meeting of milkmen will be held to-night in the Council Chambers at 8 p.m. sharp.

—Mr. J. Hampden Burnham, B.D., will deliver an address in the T.A.S. rooms on Monday evening next, on "The History of the Workingman in England and America from the Earliest Times."

—After the severe weather of yesterday, which, however, was even worse in many places than in Peterborough, the weather moderated during the night, and a snowfall was ushered in. Another cold dip is on the way.

—In all probability an excursion will be run from Peterborough to Berlin on December 30th. It will be via a special train returning the same day and the fare will not exceed $3.00.

Flavelle, Toronto, writes regarding the lecture in St. Paul's church, on Thursday evening, December 11th, at 8 o'clock sharp: "I have particular pleasure in saying to you that the story of Jean Valjean, as told by the Rev. Dr. Cleaver, is one of the most striking and forceful character sketches that I have ever been privileged to hear from the platform. You can with the greatest confidence assure your friends that Dr. Cleaver's interpretation of Victor Hugo's masterpiece is so worthy and forceful that they cannot afford to miss hearing him." CHALMERS QUITS.

Civic Investigation in Lindsay was Short but Effective.

The official enquiry into the numerous serious charges lodged against Town Commissioner Chalmers by Ald. F. A. McDiarmid last Monday evening, was opened yesterday at the Court House before His Honour Judge Dean.

Some 35 witnesses had been summoned in connection with the charges to be pressed. Mr. F. Knowlson, Town Clerk and Treasurer, was first called and at the conclusion of his testimony relative to the granolithic walks contract Mr. Hugh O'Leary, K.C., addressed the Court and acknowledged that his client — Mr. Chalmers—was financially interested in the tender and had framed the specifications, and wished to offer to the Town Solicitor, as representing the Town Council, his resignation of the position of Town Commissioner. This was done, and the next act in the drama was the announcement by Mr. Coombs that he would relinquish his contract with the town.

At this stage the enquiry was closed.—Lindsay Post.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS

Delivered on Monday Night by Mr. Jeffries.

A very interesting address was given at the George street Epworth League on Monday evening by Mr. Jeffries, of the Collegiate Institute staff, on the subject of London, and the Coronation." Mr. Jeffries, with a number of other gentlemen visited England last summer, at the time of the Coronation ceremonies, and his well known ability to describe such scenes, was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number present. After touching briefly on the journey across the water, Mr. Jeffries took his hearers with him through rural England, to the world's metropolis, to the various points of interest there, and concluded with a description of the Coronation procession and festivities.

The description of the different places visited was most realistic, and the Literary Committee of the League is to be congratulated on securing Mr. Jeffries' excellent address.

Mr. E. H. Dredge acted as chairman, and at the conclusion of the address conveyed to the speaker the thanks of the society for his excellent lecture.

DOURO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The chief news at present relates to our municipal affairs. There will be a contest for the reeveship, but those who assume to know and ought to know, think that Mr. John Quinn, who has been in the council for four years is quite popular, will be our next reeve in succession to Mr. D. Moloney, who is a candidate for this division on the County Council. Mr. Quinn is quite popular and is regarded as well qualified for the position. Mr. Jas. McCliggott, who has been for several years in the council, will be his opponent, and he will give Mr. Quinn a hard fight for the seat. The candidates for the Council Board will likely be Patrick Ryan, Charles Curtis, T. E. Jory, Maurice Tobin, Jas. Anderson, M. D. Sullivan and J. R. Allen. Of the above all have had previous municipal experience except Messrs. Tobin and Ryan. Mr. Ryan has been the collector for the township for twenty years.

Semi-Annual Meeting of Rugby Club.

The Curlers to Hold Meeting on Friday Night.

The semi-annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club was held last night in the Oriental Hotel. Shortly after eight o'clock the President of the Club, Mr. H. Burnham, called the meeting to order. The minutes of the last meeting were dispensed with and the reports of the officers were then presented.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. E. S. Clarry, was as follows:—

Gentlemen,—In preparing the report for the semi-annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Football Club, it is a matter of much self congratulation to say that once more we hold the Ontario Rugby Football championship.

At the beginning of the season, while there appeared to be much good material in town, the outlook appeared none to rosete. In the first place, our supporters of the T.A.S. proposed entering a team in the junior series and it seemed as though the town team were about to lose many of their best men. The management was placed in a peculiar position lest the boys of that Society should feel that the Peterborough Club officials were trying to defeat their aims. However, it was all left to the O.R.F.U. and after the decision of that body, we had no firmer supporters than our allies in the T.A.S.

In the Intermediate series six teams were entered—London, Torontos and Argonauts II, comprising the western series, and Ottawa, Port Hope and Peterborough composing the eastern section. After the schedule was drawn out, Port Hope defaulted, thus leaving Peterborough handicapped, with only one home game with Ottawa.

The Ottawa team was picked by the wise ones to win, but on Thanksgiving day they went down to inglorious defeat on Nicholls Oval by the score of 28—0. The gate at this game was $105 and all seemed to augur a prosperous year financially at least. Two weeks later the team went to the capital, and in spite of the efforts of the Rough Riders the score stood a tie—4—4. Then followed some three weeks of inaction, owing to trouble in the western series, but on November 22nd London arrived to play the final game for the O.R.F.U. championship. You all know the result of the game—12—0 in our favour, and it looked as if the Canadian championship would remain in Peterborough for another year. On the other hand, owing to the inclement weather on the 22nd, the gate receipts on that day were not large enough to pay expenses and the club was in no shape financially to take the Eastern trip. However, the Executive felt justified in appealing to their supporters for funds and met with a most encouraging response, and the sum of $115 was collected.

As a result, the team went to Montreal to play Quebec, the Intermediate champions of the Q.R.F.U. The result was disastrous, as the score was 2—0 in favour of Quebec. However, we could not expect to win always, and the defeat was taken most gracefully.

The Club was now financially indebted to the extent of some $60, but it was hoped that the annual Rugby dance on December 2nd would dissipate this. The dance was a great success every way but financially. At these dances a great deal is left to the honour of those who attend, and evidently many passed in at the door without paying their admission fee.

As a result, the dance was not able to pay its own way, and the Club is now rather heavily in debt. It now behooves us to devise some means by which we can liquidate our debts.

Our handicap in the matter of collecting a gate was ably dealt with some time ago in a public letter by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, and nothing more may be said in regard to this.

In closing I wish to remark that there are many people to whom the Club owes its deepest thanks. First of all, there are the players, who devoted so much of their spare time to diligent training; then there are the patronesses of the dance, who also gave their time and labour; again, the people who subscribed so liberally when the call for money came, deserve our best thanks; the officers of the Club, and the many who devoted time and money to promote the welfare of the Club.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. S. CLARRY,
Sec.-Treas.

The report was adopted.

The meeting then adjourned.

CURLING.

All those interested in curling, as well as the curlers themselves, are very cordially invited to a meeting of both divisions, to be held in the rink parlours, Charlotte street, on Friday evening next, at 8 p.m. Arrangements have now been completed for the rink and extensive repairs are being made, and a most successful and enjoyable season is anticipated. The meeting this evening will be to complete the organization and the arrangements for this winter and a bumper meeting is expected.

* * * *

The work in connection with the removal of the floor from the centre of the rink is progressing rapidly, and the caretaker, Mr. Angus McIntosh, expects to have the ice in condition for curling by the end of the week. Any one desirous of joining curling club for the winter, should send in their names as early as possible to Messrs. C. N. Brown and G. W. Morrow, the secreataries, who will see that they are scheduled on a rink ensuring them the full privileges of the ice. All new members and beginners will then have the same privileges of curling as older members.

Hockey players and skaters will find a carefully selected stock of "Mic-Mac" hockey sticks and all grades of hockey skates and the Kinman Hardware Company Limited. dtf

He Takes the Responsibility Manfully.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — A couple of clauses in the very excellent report of the able secretary of the Children's Aid Society, appear to have thrown some blame upon the police force for having placed in the Shelter two children, without consulting the officers of the Society, and one of whom was the unfortunate cause of introducing diphtheria to the Shelter. The references to these cases was evidently made without full knowledge of the facts, and as the Chief of Police and his staff have been most zealous and effective in their services in aid of the operations of the Children's Aid Society, and fell, perhaps, over-sensative in respect of these two clauses, I am glad to be able to make an explanation that will relieve them from any shadow of blame in the matters referred to in the report.

The statute law provides that every city of town of over 10,000 inhabitants, shall provide a Shelter wherein the children in charge of the Children's Aid Society and juvenile offenders shall be placed and kept until disposed of by the Police Magistrate. The Act provides that such children shall not be placed in the lock-up or jail — the aim being to save them from any influence that might contaminate or make their reform more difficult. In the cases referred to in the report, the little lad who was sent to the Shelter, was arrested on Saturday and was disposed of on the following Monday by being committed to the care of the Children's Aid Society. I directed him to be sent to the Shelter in the meanwhile. Unfortunately, the lad, though not himself suffering from diphtheria, had come from a house adjoining one in which there was diphtheria, and he evidently brought the germs of the disease in his clothing, and so communicated it to the inmates of the Shelter, a result very unfortunate, but one which could hardly have been avoided. The other case was that of a young girl who had stolen in the country some articles of clothing. She was very young—in short clothes—and by my direction she was sent to the Shelter, until taken in charge by the Barnardo Home people, who sent her back to England. In both of these cases the responsibility for sending these children to the Shelter must rest on me. I am glad to be able to relieve the police from all responsibility in respect of these cases and the more glad as I would not like anything to occur to lessen their zeal and kindly and effective service on behalf of the children coming within the operation of the law so kindly in its intention to save them.

I am, Sir,
Yours very truly,
D. W. DUMBLE,
Police Magistrate.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

IN THE ABSTRACT there is nothing objectionable to Alderman Turner's bylaw to regulate the speed of bicycles on streets, passed at the last meeting of the council, but like a good many good deeds of the civic circumlocation office, it was either too long delayed or it was premature.

* * *

THE BYLAW to be of use should have been passed last January or February. As far as this winter is concerned it might as well have been postponed till next year.

THERE ARE MANY other things that need regulating as well as the speed of wheels. The question of the draining of the foul lanes and courts in rear of George street has been see-sawed from Board of Health to Council and vice-versa for several years—a much more important matter than the speed of bicycles—when bicycles are laid by for the season. The sportive microbe has multiplied undisturbed in the lanes and courts in question. The delay to deal with the matter has endangered health and should have been looked after long ago. We expect no more two years ago than [illegible] cost next year. Then, why the delay? For no other reason than the spirit of procrastination, dry rot and red tape that seems to infect representative bodies as naturally as fleas infest a yellow dog.

WHAT CAN BE MORE important than the health of the citizens, to the mass of whom their health is their sole capital? In view of this is not a plumbing bylaw almost as important as a bylaw to keep bicycles from getting "off-side?" With the extension of our sewer system the plumbing of houses with "modern conveniences" increases. How many houses in the town are there, with proper and effective sanitary plumbing? How many systems of plumbing that would pass inspection under a proper plumbing bylaw?

SEWER GAS belched into a residence, is as deadly as carbonic acid gas. The only difference is that one is a slow poison, but with ultimate possibilities of deadly effect wide spreading enough to include the whole family, and spread to a whole community.

* * *

THERE IS A VAST DEAL of false economy in plumbing. Cheap plumbing is dear at any price, and the best plumbing is none too good for the humblest home. Plumbing that provides proper connections, proper adjustment of traps, and proper ventilation, costs more than slop work, of course. And the most dangerous and dense ignorance exists in relation to plumbing.

* * *

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE between good and bad plumbing? All the difference between health and disease, and often all the difference between life and death. People in general won't believe this. Why we know a gentleman in this town, in every way a superior man, shrewd in business, well read, and possessing a wide knowledge of men and things, but wofully "off" on sanitary plumbing. In plumbing a new house, worth $4,000 or $5,000, for the sake of a difference of a paltry $25 or so, the price between a proper system of trap ventilation, and a "botch" system, he had a job of plumbing done that in all probability will go wrong, and cough back sewer gas, and injure the health of his family, and the comfort of his fine home.

IMPERFECT PLUMBING is dangerous in that it creates the conditions that superinduce contagious disease which may affect the home, and communicate itself to the community. Therefore, proper plumbing is a public concern, and the town authorities are not doing their duty in neglecting to pass a proper plumbing bylaw, and appoint a qualified inspector. No job of plumbing should should be allowed to go into use without the approval of a qualified inspector under an efficient plumbing bylaw.

* * *

PERHAPS THE PRESENT police force is not to blame — for four men for a town the size of Peterborough may not be expected to cover the whole area. But some means should be adopted to put a stop to the hoodlumism prevalent in some parts of the town. A widow lady on McDonal street, has suffered much from the malicious pranks of bad boys, who have defaced and destroyed signboards, announcing her little property for sale, and even torn down the fences. This lady, and others similarly situated, pay their share of the cost of police protection, and should receive it. The property of ratepayers should be saved from wanton destruction.

* * *

IT WILL BE SEEN by the semi-annual report of the secretary of the Rugby Club that the Rugby dance was a success in everything but finances—a matter of surprise when it is asserted that the cause of the financial shortage was due to a considerable number of guests enjoying the hospitalities and pleasures of the dance without paying their share. But they will more than pay their share, for the consciousness that they are known and that their relations to the Rugby dance will be suggested by every social appearance, will be a pretty big price to pay.

TIMELY TIPS FROM

W. A. Sanderson

Importing Jeweller and Practical Optician.

Time now to avoid the Busiest Days. Christmas is coming in a gallop. We have gathered from every quarter, until this store fairly bubbles over with Christmas merchandise. Hesitate no longer. Here are a few Timely Tips:—

SOLID GOLD JEWELRY.

Things for personal adornment figure largely in our Christmas plans. That fact is very manifest in our stock of gold jewelry. We show everything usually found in progressive jewelry stores. The designs are the latest, the qualities are thoroughly reliable, and the prices are below most dealers.

DIAMOND JEWELRY.

We do not claim that our Diamonds are intrinsically superior to those sold elsewhere. Our plea for your preference is based on the fact that we secured our Diamonds at very low prices, and are selling them on exceedingly narrow margins. Many another dealer would consider three times our profit fair merchandising. However, we sell Diamonds just as we do everything else—as low as possible.

Rings, Brooches, Earrings, Lockets, Scarf Pins, Links, and many other articles appropriate for presents. Antique gold finished and enamelled effects are highest in favor.

WATCHES.

We sell hundreds of Watches—and the business keeps growing. That's because our prices are right. But it is while the Christmas spirit dominates that your expectations increase.

CLOCKS.

Did you ever see so many Clocks? Mantle Clocks, a very large assortment of marble effects, gilt trimmings, fancy dials, cathedral strike, 8-day movement. Porcelain Clocks, full size, exquisite Austrian decorations, in various designs. Cabinet Clocks, oak and maple finish, old English style, antique dial, Westminster chimes. Hall and Office Clocks, oak and maple finished, guaranteed.

Consumption is Like a Plant.

No matter how much corn falls on a bare rock, it wont grow there. Neither will consumption germs grow in perfectly healthy lungs. But if the lungs become weak and inflamed they are good soil for consumption germs, and if these enter they may take root and grow.

There is no medicine that will directly weed them out. The thing to do is to make the lungs so healthy that the germs will have to stop growing because there is nothing for them to thrive on.

The lungs must be nourished with plenty of good blood, kept pure by breathing pure air. There must be more sleep; less work and worry. Perhaps some medicine. The doctor will know.

The most important thing is nourishment. When the body is weakened by consumption, the digestive powers cannot obtain from ordinary food enough of the elements needed to make good blood. The lack is best supplied by the use of Scott's Emulsion. It is extremely rich in the substances which make good blood, and it also helps the digestion to obtain nourishment from ordinary food.

Scott's Emulsion is a food-medicine; not a stimulant; not a mere "extract" or so-called "wine" of cod liver oil. It contains the whole oil perfectly emulsified, which is the only way of preserving its valuable properties. These are united with hypophosphites of lime and soda into a combination which rapidly builds healty tissue throughout the whole body, and particularly in the lungs.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

STRIKE SETTLERS.

The National Labor Federation, Which Has Hanna and Mitchell Both Within Its Membership.

New York, Dec. 9.—The first annual meeting of the Industrial Department of the National Civic Federation began here yesterday. Senator Hanna called the session to order and made an address of welcome in which he said: "Our experiences in the last year have proved that the great mass of the American people are in sympathy with the organization and its work. No more important question claims their attention than better relationship between capital and labor. The object of this meeting is to discuss in every phase all matters of interest, which will tend to the improvement of the conditions as affecting these two great masses, and which shall interest to a larger extent the people of this country to join with us in this work."

Mayor Low made an address of welcome.

Among those present were: John G. Milburn of Buffalo; Bishop Potter, Cornelius N. Bliss, Alfred Moseley, President Eliot of Harvard, Archbishop Ireland, Theodore J. Shaffer, Daniel J. Keefe, James O'Connell, James M. Lynch, Henry White and John Mitchell.

At the afternoon session Archbishop Ireland made an address in which he said the year that has gone by had confirmed the originators of the Civic Federation in their conviction that they were engaged in a great and salutary work.

Mr. Carpenter of Dayton, Ohio, spoke on "labor bureaus in large industrial centres."

G. G. Sykes of Chicago, former secretary of the Street Railway Commission of that city, spoke on the subject of arbitration as relating to public service corporations, said: "I am opposed to the idea of compulsory arbitration as related to industry, generally, but I differentiate between the public service corporation and the ordinary industrial corporation. The public has a right to demand uninterrupted street railway service. To that end it has a right to insist that everything reasonably possible be done to prevent strikes and lockouts. Companies in accepting grants should be required to submit all labor disputes to arbitration. The same argument applies as well to lighting, telephone and water companies in the municipal fields, and to the railroad and telegraph companies in the national field."

Charles Francis Adams and John McMakin of the State Labor Commission of New York also spoke.

G. N. Barnes of the Society of Engineers of England was of the opinion that much good is being done in bringing together men of all classes that these questions might be discussed on the broad basis of humanity. Another session will be held to-day.

Markle and Co's. Mines.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 9.—James Gallagher, an employe of G. B. Markle, & Company, was the first witness yesterday before the strike commission. He said it used to be the custom of the Markle employes to contribute $50 to the family of a man killed in the mines, and the fellow workmen would lay off until the funeral. A compact was made later with the workmen whereby the employers would pay $50, the men to remain at work. Witness said the size of the mine cars had been steadily increased, but the wages paid had not been raised. Frank Rea, a practical miner in the Markle Colliery, was then examined on technical conditions.

Stoker Strike Settled.

Marseilles, Dec. 9.—The strike crisis here appears to be over. Many sailors and others went to work yesterday and the quays began to resume their customary aspect of activity.

SENSATION IN QUEBEC.

Wonderful Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills Causing Much Talk.

Dame Joseph Millette, of St. Rosaire Tells of Her Pains and how Easily she got Rid of Them.

December 8 9 10

St. Rosaire, D'Arthabaska, Que., December 8th. (Special.)—Among the people of this neighbourhood there has been much talk of late of the numerous cures resulting from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Such diseases as Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, and even Catarrh, have yielded readily to this wonderful remedy and people are fast learning how important it is that the kidneys should be kept in shape to perform their duty of removing impurities from the blood.

One of those who speak out often and earnestly of the good Dodd's Kidney Pills have done is the good Dame Joseph Millette. She suffered from Kidney Complaint and Catarrh, and is now completely cured. It is not to be wondered at that she speaks as follows:

"I suffered much from malady of the Kidneys. It settled in the loins and gave me great pain and discomfort. I took two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am perfectly well.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a grand remedy for me. I give Dodd's Kidney Pills my certificate from a big heart."

Many others, once sufferers, but now in good health, unite with Dame Joseph Millette in singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have proved conclusively that no disease arising from diseased Kidneys can stand before them.

Norway Hotel System.

There is a capital hotel system in vogue in certain parts of Norway. In villages where no hotel exists one of the more prominent inhabitants is subsidized by the Norwegian government and in return is bound to provide accommodation for not less than four travelers. He may take in four if he chooses, but four is the minimum. The accommodation and food supplied are excellent, and the charges are very moderate.

MUST STAY IN CANADA.

Hon. Mr. Sifton's Idea of Subsidy For the G.T.P.R.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Hon. Clifford Sifton is credited by a friend of his with saying in regard to the proposed construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific, that if the Grand Trunk or any other company gets assistance from the Government for a transcontinental line it will be on the express condition, which will be fully guarded in the Legislature, that it makes the terminus a Canadian port and that its trade is to be exported through Canadian channels. Further, that some point in the Province of Quebec on the St. Lawrence, far enough east to be kept open all the year round, should be selected and reached by the shortest and most direct route.

HARRY McCALMONT, M.P., DEAD.

Leaves a Fortune of $20,000,000—Drops Down Suddenly.

London, Dec. 9.—Harry McCalmont the well-known sportsman and Conservative member of Parliament for Newmarket, dropped dead yesterday as he was leaving his residence, No. 11 St. James' Square, S. W. Mr. McCalmont apparently was in his usual health as he passed out of the door, but before he reached the sidewalk he fell, and died almost instantaneously, supposedly of heart disease.

Mr. McCalmont was the owner of Isinglass, the horse which won the Derby in 1893. The deceased was an intimate friend of King Edward, and was popular generally. He leaves behind a fortune of $20,000,000.

British Exports Small—Our Insolvency Laws Are Feared.

London, Dec. 9.—The St. James' Gazette publishes an article on the subject of commercial Americanization of Canada. British exports to Canada, the writer says, have increased only 35 per cent. in value during the past 34 years. Exports to the United States increased 362 per cent., and exports to other countries 241 per cent.

"Until the Canadian Government amends its insolvency laws," the article concludes, "many British shippers will continue to be afraid of trading with Canada."

THREE KILLED AT ONCE.

Two Young Women and a Young Man Struck by Express.

Grimsby, Dec. 9. — Miss Maud Hughes, aged about 28; Miss Gertrude Harner, aged about 19, and Harry Brady, aged about 20, all belonging to Grimsby, were killed on the public crossing at Grimsby Station Sunday night by the Toronto express train which passed at 8.35 p. m. The three young people were in company on their way walking home from church, and on reaching the track were stopped by a freight train running east, the end of which just passed as the express came along, and, failing to notice the express approaching, were struck and the bodies carried some distance west.

Killed in St. Catharines.

St. Catharines, Dec. 9.—A shocking fatality occurred on the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. James Murphy was walking westward on the track when he was overtaken and struck by a freight car which was being pushed forward by the company's electric engine. The car struck him in the back, throwing him to the ground with terrific force. The man was dragged a distance of 120 feet before the engine could be stopped, and when it was the body had worked backwards to the end of the car. When taken out the remains bore scant resemblance to the body of a man. He leaves a wife. He was 55 years of age.

Ex-Speaker Reed is Dead.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—Former Speaker Thomas Brackett Reed, who has been ill at the Arlington for the last four days, died yesterday morning 10 minutes after 12 o'clock. Thomas Brackett Reed was Speaker of the House of Representatives for six years and a representative from the Portland district of Maine from 1877 until 1899, for many years of which he was the leader of the Republicans in the House. As Speaker, he made his great reputation, for by his parliamentary methods, which become known as the Reed rules, he was able to make the will of the majority effective. He was born in Portland, Me., where his ancestors had lived for eight generations, on Oct. 18, 1839, attended the Public Schools and worked his way through college by teaching in vacation time.

Jumped Their Bail.

London, Dec. 9.—Carroll and Webb charged with impersonation, are said to have jumped their bail. It is said that they have left for their former homes in Buffalo. Four bondsmen went bail of $400 each.

Scores of Uses.

While Dr. Chase's Ointment is best known on account of its wonderful control over eczema, salt rheum and piles, it is found to be in almost daily demand in many homes as a cure for chilblains, chafing, pimples, sunburns, burns, scalds, and each and every form of itching, irritated or inflamed skin. It is invaluable in every home, and as a soothing and healing application, knows no equal.

The World's Largest Crab.

How would you like to have a crab like this squeezing your toe when you go bathing? The gigantic Japanese crab, measuring twelve feet, is probably the largest crustacean in the world. The specimen is a type of the spider crab, which inhabits the waters of the group of islands forming the empire of Japan. The body portion is the size of a half bushel measure, while its two great arms or "feelers" could easily encircle the figure of a man. Its eight arms or legs resemble huge bamboo poles and are extremely elastic, and if strung into one line they would reach to the top of a four story apartment building. One of the extraordinary peculiarities of this crab is the faculty of assuming a disguise by affixing pieces of seaweed and sponges to the body.

BRITISH CATTLE MARKET.

London, Dec. 9.—Live cattle, steady, at 12¾c to 13¼c per lb., for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11¾c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 11½c per lb. Lambs, 13¾c to 14c per lb., dressed weight.

The Profitable Sausage.

For the amount of meat used the sausage is the most profitable legacy of the hog. Fully fifty different kinds of this suspected article are manufactured to suit the taste of many peoples—for Italians, with a dominating measure of garlic; for Germans, hard and fatty; for Frenchmen, dry and well larded; for Americans, well spiced, and all of these in several grades. Whatever meat cannot be used otherwise is consigned to the sausage, although for no other reason than that every diminutive piece is available—ham, head and foot trimmings and the odd remnants from the butcher's block. Potato, flour, spices and water are mixed with the meat, which has been finely chopped by rocking knives, and a steam driven piston forces the mass into the casings, whereupon it becomes sausage. The casings are the intestines of the hog, thoroughly scraped and washed by mechanical process. The pig's snout does not escape—that would be a gross oversight—so it is trimmed off and sold as a pickling "delicacy" to new Americans with unpronounceable names.

Very Awkward.

A young recruit was set on sentry go and was, of course, new to his duty. A good natured comrade brought him a sandwich, and the recruit was about to eat it when the major appeared. As the officer was in mufti the sentry did not recognise him and did not salute. The major took in the situation and asked:

"What's that?"

"A sandwich," replied the recruit.

"Have a bit?"

"Do you know who I am?" asked the major.

"Don't know you from a crow. Perhaps you're the major's coachy."

"No; I'm not."

"His groom perhaps?"

"No; try again."

"Perhaps the old chap himself?"

"Right this time," said the major.

"Oh, good gracious!" exclaimed the frightened sentry. "Hold the sandwich while I present arms!"—London Answers.

Applying the Argument.

There are times when one pursues an admirable course of reasoning with a child only to find that it results in his own undoing.

"I don't want to wear my old hat to church," said eight-year-old Gladys, "not even if it does rain. The trimming on that hat is all worn out, mother."

"It's the best thing for you to wear on a day like this," said her mother firmly, "and you must remember that it's the inside and not the outside—what is unseen, not what is seen—that God looks at, my little girl."

"Yes'm," said Gladys eagerly, "I do remember, but the lining of that hat is worn even worse than the trimming is!"—Youth's Companion.

Origin of "Watered Stock."

The expression "watered stock," which describes so well the expansion of the stock of a company beyond the value of the property, originated, it is said, in connection with Daniel Drew, who was once the wealthiest and most unique manipulator in Wall street. Drew had been a drover in his younger days, and it was said of him that before selling his cattle in the market he would first give them large quantities of salt to make them thirsty and then provide them with all the water they could drink. In this way their weight was greatly increased, and the purchaser was buying "watered stock."—Leslie's Weekly.

Old Polo.

In "The Arabian Nights" we read of a wise sage who cured a great king by a decoction with which he anointed the handle of a stick with which the king was in the habit of playing a game at ball, to the end that when the royal hand perspired in the vigor of the play the open pores might receive the medicament.

The translator speaks of this stick as a "golf stick" (sic), but it is plain from the context that the game was played on horseback. It was, in fact, polo. Indeed the illustrations of the very same edition show the said king playing the game on horseback.

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the Inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone eradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. John Burns in a Lunatic Asylum.

John Burns tells an amusing story about one of his visits paid recently to a London County Council lunatic asylum. He was taking a short cut across the kitchen garden to the railway station when one of the patients working there suddenly threw up his hands in astonishment. "Well, I never," he said, "and you, too—the very last person I ever expected to see here!"

The Food System the Source of Life

Any Derangements of Liver or Kidneys That Interfere With Digestion and Assimilation of Food Rob and Deplete the Body.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It matters not how good your appetite, how you relish your food or how much you eat, so long as there is anything to interfere with proper digestion and assimilation of the food by the body, strength and vigour will gradually decline and weakness and debility take their place.

The most frequent cause of disordered digestion is sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. The whole alimentary canal, through which the food passes on its way through the body, becomes choked and clogged, and the system is poisoned and diseased.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been marvellously successful in exactly this class of disease, principally because they act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, regulating and invigourating their action, and restoring them to health.

Mr. R. Beach, 225 Sherbrooke street Peterborough, Ont., states: "About two years ago I became subject to cramps, which were caused, I was told, from acute indigestion. I was so bad that I would be laid up for weeks at a time. These attacks came on periodically, and distressed me greatly.

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and have found them a wonderful medicine. They have entirely prevented a recurrence of my trouble, corrected the derangement of my digestive organs, and made me feel like a different person."

IN THE SENATE GALLERY

By A. H. JOHNSTON

Copyright, 1901, by A. H. Johnston

Vulgarly, the king of the lobby was and is supposed to deal in money—crisp banknotes of a denomination large enough that a number may be carried in the pocket without bulging, and yet may be passed over the counter by a representative of small resources without attracting attention. This is all very vulgar, and not here to be discussed. Certain it is that the king of the lobby never so fully realized until that day that his business lay not with banknotes in the analysis, but with subtle undercurrents of a human soul that no plummet fathoms.

He had spent—never mind, the figures were nowhere set down—but he had spent money actually and had sweat blood figuratively to pass the canal bill. The canal bill was to come to a final vote within fifteen minutes, and if a coin had been tossed up he would have laid even money on heads or tails. As he looked out over the big hall, swinging a pince nez idly, not a muscle of his strong face twitched. His intelligent eyes narrowed to two cunning predatory slits, his glance flitting from the pink and white face of a girl in the gallery to the gray sprinkled head of a man who sat at a desk well forward in the room below.

Two persons perhaps in the assembly knew how the vote would turn, he thought. One of these was the girl and the other the man. On second thought the king of the lobby revised his opinion. The girl did not know, for Archibald, with the banknotes burning in a stuffy envelope in the inside pocket of his coat, could not have told her. Or if the banknotes were even now on their way back to the king of the lobby Archibald was still not the man to have told her. Archibald did not pose, whatever he did. And at thirty and eight a politician and a bachelor does not get himself engaged to a girl for the purpose of talkink statecraft with her, and perhaps not even questions of ethics.

This is the way that matters stood, as far as the king of the lobby could know. The oldest senator, and the memories of some of them went back to the days when old Dick Yates, the war governor, prorogued a refractory legislature and fitted out regiments at the expense of his own pocket, could not recollect a measure that had provoked as much heat as the canal bill. It was a bill about which one honest man might hold an opinion diametrically opposed to the opinion of another honest man, and, as every one knows, this brings about a state of affairs. Such was the hue and cry that by the time the bill had passed the lower house and had reached the senate even its strong supporters were afraid to vote for it. At this juncture the men of money behind the bill, being also men of graft, came to an understanding with the lobby.

The king of the lobby, according to his custom, wrote down on a sheet of paper the names of all the honest men who were reckoned upon to vote against the bill, on another sheet the names of the honest men who would vote for it, and still on a third sheet he wrote the names of the "wabblers" and the "sellers." He employed plausible men to convince the "wabblers" and dispatched cunning lieutenants who bought the "sellers." All these names he added to the list of the canal bill's backers, and yet three names of the requisite number were lacking. He got two from the other side—no matter how. Then, as the days went on and the third was not landed, the lobby king sweat with fear. Archibald of Cook, silent and patient and conservative, had given no inkling of the way that he intended to cast his vote. But Archibald was a man of character, so they said, and the most timid were never afraid to peep as Archibald piped.

The king of the lobby heard things—stories of debts, and of the love affair that was gossip, and being a lobby king he saw a desperate chance and resolved to play it. It was not the business of the lobby king to deal in ethics, which in the long run every man must attend to for himself. So, late in the past evening, Archibald had been informed in the most delicate way that friends of the measure were deeply grateful to him for the vote which he intended to cast in their favor. As a trifling return a very small proportion of the about to be increased dividends of the canal company were transferred to him in a plain brown envelope by the hands of a messenger. The lobby king was accustomed to suspense, but it was a matter of some concern to him as the clerk stood up to read the long legal title of the bill that afternoon as to just what disposition had been made of the brown envelope.

Archibald sat composedly at his desk in the senate writing letters. Or, perhaps, he only pretended to write to conceal a latent nervousness. It is certain that he glanced at the girl in the gallery but once, and then surreptitously and timidly. For that matter, politician as he was and considerably experienced in the ways of the world, Archibald was always timid in the presence of the girl. She was only nineteen, a slender slip of femininity just out of boarding school, but she had taught Archibald a great many things, or at least he thought that she had, and it is much the same. He did not defer to her judgment precisely, but he shifted his point of view to meet her sentiments. For example, the girl did not conceive of riding through life in other than a coach and four, as she had ridden thus for nineteen years by the grace of a parent who slaved and another parent who managed. Archibald was poor and latterly sunk into debt, but he accepted the idea of a coach and four as though he had been born to it. And this is not saying that it was thrust upon him. It was merely a part of the divinity that hedged about a handsome girl who spoke of ordinary politicians and their wives as "those people."

Where the money was to come from he had not the least idea, and he found it more tolerable on the whole not to dwell upon ways and means. He simply marked time, and his hair grew whiter and something came up every day to remind him that he was not young any longer.

Ordinarily the coarse blandishments of the lobby had no terrors for Archibald. But when you come to the love of a woman, a nice sentiment about marriage settlements, a mountain of debt and a dizzy sum of money in a plain brown envelope, and the bill is a good one perhaps anyway, and no one cares a copper whether you go up or down, why, that is another thing.

Only that morning Archibald had taken the girl for a drive in a fancy cutter behind a pair of thin flanked bays. It might have been chance, but it looked like fate, that as they dashed past the steps of the capitol the lobby king, on the topmost step, had lifted his hat to them.

"Oh, by the way," said the girl, "I'm coming over at 3 to hear the contest on that horrid canal bill. It will be exciting."

"Don't, dear," said Archibald.

"Why?" pouted the girl, whose face shone temptingly pink and white over a gray fur boa.

"Because," stammered Archibald, very intent upon the restive bays, "the struggle is all over. There is nothing left but voting."

When the girl, with a bevy of other ladies, took her seat in the gallery that afternoon, Archibald did not look up at once, but he knew that she was there as well as if he had had eyes in the top of his head.

A strange calmness fell upon the bussing senate chamber as the clerk's shrill voice took up the first syllable of his reading. Debate had been exhausted in weeks of turmoil, and nothing now remained but the formal ballot, which had been made a special order of the day. In the nervous tension of the minutes some of the men most interested sat with faces working despite strong efforts at self control, some grinned foolishly and others tore up strips of blank paper and folded them with care. Many eyes turned toward Archibald, for by an unaccountable but not unusual telepathy the knowledge had spread that his might be the casting vote, and Archibald's name was the third on the list.

"The clerk will now please call the roll," said the lieutenant governor, rapping smartly on the desk. There was the audible rustling of a leaf, and then the clerk's shrill call:

"John T. Aldridge!"

Aldridge voted "aye," as it had been conceded that he would.

"Thomas S. Allen!"

"No!" shouted Allen, with the full strength of his lungs. There was a little handclapping, which the chairman suppressed immediately.

"George D. Archibald!" called the clerk.

The king of the lobby caught his breath for the fraction of a minute, and patriarchal senators stroking their white beards leaned over anxiously to hear the voice of the hale, quiet man from Cook.

"Aye," said Archibald clearly, and there was a slight uproar of mingled hisses and applause.

The king of the lobby folded his arms and smiled a little. After that, silk hat in hand, he stood to hear the vote through with the born expression of a man who anticipated every move of the game.

He turned when the vote was announced and bumped into a page who had been waiting at his elbow to hand him a stuffy brown envelope. It had been ripped open and banknotes were sticking out of the end audaciously.

"Returned with the compliments of George D. Archibald," ran the indorsement on the back. The king of the lobby, with a muttered oath, whipped the bills into the inside pocket of his coat.

Meantime the girl in the gallery was saying to a friend how horrid it was of Mr. Archibald to vote on the side that people hissed; which, of course, it was.

"I wrote to Dr. Pierce for his advice."

The lady, from whose letter we quote, got what she wrote for, and is a well woman to-day as a result of following Dr. Pierce's advice and using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the medicine which makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I can truthfully say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine and deserves the praise given it," writes Mrs. Emma Spooner, of Lakeview, Montcalm Co., Mich., Box 288. "I was sick four months, and the medicine prescribed by the doctors did me no good. Finally I wrote to Dr. Pierce for his advice. He answered in a very kind letter instructing me what to do. I followed his advice and to-day am a well woman, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

Only Wanted Part.

A certain reverend doctor who for many reasons must be simply known by the ordinary name of Jones is generally considered to be a most eloquent preacher, but unfortunately he belongs in some respects to the old fashioned school and finds it nearly impossible to adapt himself to the prevailing fashion of short discourses. It is a frequent joke far beyond his own immediate family circle that after writing a sermon he is obliged to cut it up into a series of modern discourses.

A short time ago he received a note from a well known clerical brother conveying an urgent request that he would deliver a sermon upon some special church festival that was shortly to be held. The doctor replied to the effect that he would come and that he had just completed a sermon upon the golden calf which might be singularly appropriate for the occasion.

The brother clergyman was an old friend and knew Dr. Jones very intimately, and, being thus acquainted both with his peculiarities as well as with his ability to take a joke, he sent the following answer by telegraph:

"Golden calf just what is wanted. A fore quarter is all that will be needed."

Nature's Glories.

Georgie's aunt was worried because he failed to understand or appreciate anything not strictly practical. Harper's Magazine tells of an experiment she tried to test his esthetic powers.

In her desire to rouse him to a perception of better things she took him to Niagara falls. The train brought them into sudden and magnificent view of the great wonder. She watched him closely as the moment for the test drew near and was delighted to see him press his face to the window and keep it there.

Then he turned to her with beaming countenance and, pointing to a hillside in the background, said, "Say, see them goats!"

The Great Question.

"We are to be made one," she suggested.

"Yes," he replied.

"But which one?" she asked.

And in the attempt to settle that question another promising matrimonial future was spoiled, for woman is not so unassuming in these days as she was once upon a time.

WRITING THE SERMON.

Friday Is the Minister's Day For Performing This Task.

Probably few of the good people who listen with rapt attention to the sermon which is preached to them each Sunday, says the Denver Post, know that for nearly 300 years Friday has been the time honored day for the pastor to go into his study, write the sermon which is to furnish "food for thought" to the congregation on the following Sunday. In speaking of this custom a clergyman says:

"When Christianity was first promulgated, all preaching was done extemporaneously. Such a thing as preparing a sermon was unknown. Many gifted men expressed their views on various subjects, then added a few words of good advice to their listeners. This practice is still continued in the Roman Catholic church of the present day, and I think that a very limited number of the priests ever write a sermon. Not all ministers, however, adhere to this rule by any means. When Henry Ward Beecher was asked on what day he prepared his sermon, he replied, 'On Sunday morning, of course.'

"'Well, Mr. Beecher, don't you think that is a rather dilatory habit for you to get into?' asked another.

"'Oh, no, not at all,' replied Mr. Beecher in his quick way. 'You see, I look at a sermon like some do on a pancake. They can be served hot or cold, and I like mine hot; that's all.'"

His Friend Geoffrey.

The following story, told by the Washington Post, leads us to wonder which to condemn first, the boaster or his critics. It concerns a certain man who has a large collection of autographs.

Indeed, the envy and sometimes the skepticism of his friends have been excited by the number of successful authors who have set down familiar and flattering inscriptions in his books. Some carpers have even gone so far as to hint darkly at a similarity of handwriting throughout the collection.

He recently purchased a rare edition of Chaucer, and one evening when a party was gathered at the house the precious book was passed from hand to hand. The owner lost sight of it, but the next morning he found it lying on his library table.

On the fly leaf was inscribed:

"To Jack ——, from his old friend and schoolmate, Geof. Chaucer."

Wit of Horne Tooke.

It is said that Horne Tooke, who excelled in that duellike controversy exhibited by two disputants when pitted against each other with only the breadth of a mahogany board between them, was exceedingly quick and sharp at retort. When he made his most deadly thrusts, it was with a smiling countenance and without seeming effort or emotion. Replying to a man who contended that only landowners should be allowed to vote at elections, he said, "Pray tell me how many acres does it take to make a wiseacre?" When asked by George III. whether he ever played cards, he replied, "I cannot, your majesty, tell a king from a knave." What can be more uniquely comic than his saying to his brother: "You and I, my dear brother, have inverted the laws of nature. You have risen in the world by your gravity, and I have fallen by my levity?"

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

THE WALL STREET MARKET

Heavy Bear Movement was on To-day.

Many Stocks Suffer—Daily Letters—Quotations.

The market to-day was very weak. From the opening quotation there was a sharp decline, all the principal stocks stocks suffering from one to 2 1-2 points. From the market to-day it would seem as if a heavy bear movement was being inaugurated. For Dominion Coal and Steel 120 and 67 respectively were bid, with no takers. The following were the principal stocks and quotations;—

New York, Dec. 10th, 10.10 a.m.—That banks will loan money at all, under existing conditions, is an evidence that no more than ordinary stringency, and a temporary one at that, is anticipated. The annual settlement will culminate in the disarrangements of large amounts, in the shape of cheque payments, and while increase in real facilities will take place, the strain will be over, and freedom of action follow. The C.P.R. fight turns out to be merely skirmish for position on board, and with a result satisfactory to all parties. We are likely to have a period of dullness, until financial skies are perfectly clear.

M. & M.

Grain.—Wheat 5-8 higher, corn 3-8 higher. Car lots, 43 wheat; corn 99; oats 30.

Liverpool, 2.00 p.m.—Wheat steady, 1-2 to 5-8 higher. Corn 3-8 higher. Futures quiet, unchanged to about 1-2 higher. Cables better than expected and we look for some advance.

M. & M.

New York, Dec. 10th, 9.45 a.m.—American stocks in London steady about parity. Hocking Valley pfd. will be retired against issue of common stock. Colo. fuel dispute settled on basis of equal representation for Gould, Harriman and Osgood interests, with fair division of freight between Gould and Harriman roads. Probable return of money from the west will be slow. L. E. & W. earnings show about five per cent. on pfd. Stocks plentiful in loan crowd. North Pac. Nov. gross increase, $210,000. M. O.P. officials do not expect further decrease in earnings, for some time to come.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Grain.—Would not be surprised, in fact rather expect, to see December wheat go to a premium. Unless the advance in market checks the export demand, which footed up approximately 1,000,000 bushels yesterday, feel that wheat has started for a higher level. It certainly is the cheapest article of food on the list. Favour purchases on all recessions.

MADAME FRANCIS IN NEW ROLE

Matrimony Pays Better Than Palmistry.

The Port Hope Evening Guide, of Tuesday, Dec. 9, contains the following:

"R. G. Lynn, of Whitby, Ont., met a woman known as Madam Ellen Francis, a palmist, in October. She read his palm and told him that the lines indicated that he was to be married before Christmas. Later he proposed to the palmist and she accepted. Lynn sold his well-stocked boarding house in Whitby and came to Buffalo with the woman. They hadn't been here four minutes before the woman disappeared and with her went about $500 belonging to Lynn, which represented all that he received for the boarding house. Lynn registered a complaint at police station No. 1 late Saturday night.

"On the train from Whitby to Toronto Madam Francis, so Lynn says, suggested that it would be well for her to carry the funds, inasmuch as they were about to be married. At Toronto she bought tickets for Buffalo, but she neglected to get any return stubs. They arrived in Buffalo Saturday night. When they got to the street Madam Francis spied a green car stopping near the station and she said to Lynn: 'Run over and ask the conductor where we might find a good hotel.'

"Lynn did as he was told. When he came back Madam Francis had disappeared."

The lady, Madam Francis, was in town a few weeks ago carrying on her profession at the Queen's Hotel, but was ordered to leave town by Chief Douglas.

Madam Francis, at least a person of that name, was a guest of the National Hotel, here, for some weeks, and did quite a business in palmistry.

CALL TO TAKE UP ARMS

President Castro Has Appealed to the Venezuelan People.

VENEZUELA'S NAVY IS SEIZED

British and German Warships Have Gathered in Some Quantity—Excited Venezuelans in a Patriotic Demonstration Cry "Death to the Germans," and "Down With Foreigners."

Paris, Dec. 11.—A Venezuelan Government communication to its representative here, protests that Great Britain and Germany, acting in concert have committed an act of hostility in a manner as arbitrary as it is unprecedented, by the seizure of Venezuelan vessels lying at La Guayra. The communication says that indignation in Venezuela is at its highest pitch, and the Government is resorting to justifiable reprisals. It has arrested the resident subjects of both hostile countries, and has seized the railways and other undertakings belonging to them. At the same time, adds the communication, President Castro has appealed to the Venezuelan people to take up arms. He had decreed a general amnesty for all political offences, and has ordered the restitution of the confiscated property of Venezuelan citizens.

Warships Captured at La Guayra.

Caracas, Venezuela, Dec. 10.—At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the combined German and British fleets seized and towed outside the harbor of La Guayra all the vessels which were then there. These were the warships General Crespo, Totuma, Ossun and Margarita. The ships were manned by 390 men.

Officially Reported.

London, Dec. 11.—The admiralty has received information of the seizure of the Venezuelan gunboat Bolivar at Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad.

A Complete Blockade.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Dec. 11.—The British cruiser Charybdis seized the Venezuelan gunboat Bolivar in this harbor Tuesday night. She landed the Bolivar's officers here while the British sloop Alert took the crew of the captured gunboat to the port of La Guayra, situated on the Venezuelan coast, opposite the Island of Trinidad. The British torpedo boat destroyer Quail has sailed with instructions to capture the Venezuelan war vessel now engaged in blockading the mouth of the Orinoco. The entire coast of Venezuela, from the Orinoco River to La Guayra, will be blockaded from yesterday by British war vessels, while the Venezuelan coast, from La Guayra to the Colombian frontier, will be blockaded by German war vessels.

Landing at La Guayra.

La Guayra, Dec. 11.—The combined Anglo-German fleet has entered this harbor. The landing of marines has begun.

May Be Others.

Washington, Dec. 11.—But one cablegram was received yesterday by the State Department from Minister Bowen at Caracas. That relates to the seizure by British and German vessels of the Venezuelan navy at La Guayra. He makes no reference whatever to any seizures of custom houses. Mr. Bowen expresses the opinion that similar seizures of vessels may have been made at other ports.

In the House of Commons.

London, Dec. 11.—In the House of Commons yesterday Under Foreign Secretary Cranborne said the Government had no official information of the seizure by the Venezuelans of 200 British and German subjects, or of the seizure of the Venezuelan warships by the fleets of Great Britain and Germany.

Lord Cranborne added that the British claims which necessitated coercion include a demand for compensation for interference with trading vessels, the imprisonment and ill-treatment of British subjects, and the destruction of property.

Replying to Mr. Bryce, Liberal, Lord Cranborne said the British Minister at Caracas had been instructed to wait 24 hours after the presentation of the ultimatum, and, failing to receive a reply, to proceed to La Guayra, where he was to wait another 24 hours on board a British ship. That period expired Tuesday night. Unless meantime a concession had been received, it was necessary for His Majesty's Government to take forcible action.

Death to the Germans.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Dec. 11.—There was a great patriotic demonstration in Caracas Tuesday night when the news arrived that the British and German warships had seized the Venezuelan war vessels at La Guayra. Crowds paraded the streets singing patriotic songs. Violent speeches were delivered at various points. The populace marched to the palace of President Castro, who made an address. The mob then moved on to the German Legation, shouting "Death to the Germans!" The windows were shattered with stones.

The excitement was still intense when, at 10 o'clock at night, the Government ordered the arrest of all German and English residents. One hour later 205 persons prominent in the social and commercial life were crowded together in the police station. All the British residents were arrested except Albert Cherry of the Venezuelan Central Railway, and Mr. Wallace, manager of the Telephone Company, who escaped to a place of safety.

Ninety-seven German residents were arrested, among them the German Consul, Valentin Blohm, and Herr Knoop, the manager of the German Central Railway. Herr Simmross, Chancellor of the German Legation, was met by the police near Bolivar Square and also arrested.

Amid cries of "Death to the Germans!" and "Down With the Foreigners!" the populace directed its way to the German residential quarter and gathered outside the Hotel Klindt and the German Club, vociferating and uttering insults.

The Government has placed an embargo on the British railroad to La Guayra, and the German Central Railroad from Caracas to Valencia.

To Protect Italians.

Rome, Dec. 11.—The Government has instructed the commander of the Italian third-class cruiser Giovanni Bausan, which arrived at La Guayra yesterday, to fully protect Italian subjects in Venezuela; to take them aboard, or, if necessary, to land bluejackets for their protection.

DEAD MEAT TRADE ADVOCATED.

The Winter Fair at Guelph—A Record Attendance and Increased Receipts—The Royal City Crowded—Hon. John Dryden Makes an Interesting Announcement—British Markets—Hereford Breeders Meet.

Guelph, Dec. 11.—The judges were busy yesterday, as a result every arrival in the extraordinary variety presented has been passed upon, with the exception of the dairy cattle. In this department, the work will be finished to-day, as will the judging of dead meat. The books were filed yesterday in the awards of cattle, swine, sheep and all the poultry department, which includes turkeys, geese, chickens, pigeons, ducks, pheasants and doves.

A feature of the greatest interest to farmers and stock fanciers is the sale of many of the prize-winners as soon as the awards are announced. More sales were made than last year, and the figures were also an improvement over previous years. Buyers are present from all parts of Canada, the States and England.

More than 5,000 persons attended the Winter Fair yesterday and nearly as many were present in the evening. All records of previous years have been exceeded by more than one-third. The actual attendance will not be figured out until Saturday.

In spite of the additions to the buildings, the jam was something terrific all day and late into the evening. Many ladies were present. The structure presents an animated scene. The large lecture room, accommodating 1,500 people, was crowded day and night.

The busy agriculturists began work as soon as it was light yesterday morning. At 8.30 Mr. Archibald MacNeilage, the brilliant Scotchman, addressed a large gathering of farmers on "The Horse," explaining how they improve the breed in Scotland. He advised Canadian farmers to syndicate on their stallions. In other words, for a number to club together and buy the best animal for breeding purposes the market affords. Then they can secure the best service at a minimum expense and supply service of fine animals to adjoining farmers at a profit. He was asked many questions and answered them regularly.

At 9.30 a large number of Institute workers met in the lecture hall and discussed the best methods of getting farmers to attend the institutes. This was an enthusiastic gathering, the Institute lectures asserting that the interest is improving throughout Canada in the higher practical education of farmers.

At 10.40 the "Pea Weevil" was taken up by a new set of speakers. It was discussed by Prof. William Lochhead, O.A.C., Guelph; Dr. James Fletcher, Ottawa, and Prof. Zavitz of the Agricultural College, Guelph. It was the consensus of opinion among these experts that the pea weevil can be destroyed by cutting the grain as green as possible, threshing as soon as dry enough to be treated immediately after threshing by carbon bi-sulphide for 48 hours. These gentlemen assert that this treatment will kill every bug.

In the afternoon Mr. MacNeilage addressed a large house on "Canadian Live Stock Products Exported to England, and How to Improve Trade." He advocated the farmers producing the highest quality in every line, and assured them that England was ready to take all their surplus products when they reached the highest state of improvement.

"Sheep and Their Breeding" received the attention of the crowd in the lecture room from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the City Hall the officers of the Women's Institute met in the afternoon. The meeting was under the direction of Supt. G. C. Creelman of Toronto. One hundred ladies from all parts of the Province were present at this meeting and kept the superintendent busy supplying practical information.

A feature of special interest to sheep breeders was the filing of protests by John Rawlins of Ravenswood and E. Brien & Sons of Ridgetown against the award of prizes to John Park of Burgessville in Class 16, Cotswold ewe, under one year, by name "Sweety" and "Lady Oxford" and to E. Park, Burgessville, in Cotswold wether, one year and under two. The protests were based upon the allegation that the animals were too old to be entered in the classes. All protests will be determined Friday.

The General Meeting.

An enthusiastic scene was witnessed last night at the City Hall, when Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, called a general meeting to order. The hall was packed, 2,000 being present. The decorations were prettily arranged, and the stage held a galaxy of notables from all over the world. Among them were: Hon. Sydney Fisher, Dominion Minister of Agriculture; Prof. C. F. Curtiss, Ames College, Iowa; Archibald MacNeilage, Scotland; G. A. Giguult, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Quebec; Dr. James Mills, president Ontario Agricultural College; J. R. Anderson, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for British Columbia; Hon. Mr. Farris, Commissioner of Agriculture for New Brunswick.

Chairman Dryden spoke at length upon the importance of the occasion, and explained that about the only thing lying around loose in Canada was education, and that was at hand for all who desired to partake of it.

Prof. Curtiss followed with an address teeming with praise of Canada and their methods and their practical way of living. His tribute to the Canadian farmer, Prof. Curtiss declared, came from a mingling with Canadian agriculturists, and a knowledge of their high standard of excellence. He had noticed that whenever the Canadian farmer sent products to the States they were superior articles.

C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, talked on the importance of agriculture. He said that one billion dollars was invested in farms in Ontario.

Arch. MacNeilage of Glasgow, editor of The Scottish Farmer, delivered a practical address, touching his impressions of the farmer of Canada and the Fair. He declared that the promise of agriculture in the Dominion surpasses that of any other land.

Minister of Agriculture.

Hon. Sydney Fisher closed the speaking with remarks on the success of farmers' gatherings in Canada. He declared that all Canada was looking to the farmers of Ontario as the model. Mr. Fisher further said: "We must see to it that the quality of the goods we export is of the highest. If our cheese, bacon and other products command such a high figure in the markets of the Old World, it is because of their superior quality. It is said the present prosperity cannot continue much longer; that the healthy condition will fall off in the near future. If this prediction is true, then it is the inferior products from the farm that will suffer first. Let the Canadian farmers see to it that their products are not the first to suffer. Let the competitions in this direction continue keen, if you want to keep on the top wave of prosperity."

Hon. Mr. Fisher then said: "Now I want to mention a cloud that has appeared on our roseate horizon, small, it is, but we can not tell how soon it will assume threatening proportions, and sweep over the country. I refer to the presence of foot and mouth disease among cattle around Boston, and the consequent closing of the ports of European points and England to stock from that section.

"I have authority to say that there is not a single case of that character in Canada, but we cannot tell what time it may make its appearance here. Therefore, it behooves us to use the greatest care. Such a thing would paralyze the live stock industry of Canada, and our export trade for the present would be seriously impared."

"It really means more to the live stock interests of Canada than such a calamity does to the States, because we have no large facilities for handling the dead meat trade. The United States can immediately change its live stock exports into dead meat exports, and thus prevent the congestion of their live stock industry. This avenue of escape is not open to Canada, for the facilities in proper proportions are not open to us. Therefore, the danger of such an outbrenk to the cattlemen is fraught with gravest consequences on this side of the line.

"The danger of communication is great, and every possible source should be guarded with the greatest care. This calls to our attention the vital necessity for the establishment of abbatoirs upon such a scale as will enable the live stock trade to take advantage of them on wholesale lines, in such an emergency. Here is a form that offers the best investment at present presented in Canada for sure returns and steady business. It calls for a vast outlay of capital, but the prospects amply warrant such an outlay."

Minister of Agriculture Dryden immediately arose and said that he appreciated the importance of the statements of Mr. Fisher, and hoped that the stockmen would consider them seriously. "However," he continued, "I can say that great interests are now moving in the direction mentioned by Mr. Fisher, and I believe I can promise at the next annual gathering here to announce the location of capital in this business on a sufficiently gigantic scale to handle the surplus live stock products, and enable the export live stock trade on slight notice to be turned into the channels of the dead meat trade." Applause.

Last night the officials of the Fair announced that the receipts of the two days in cash for admission amounts to $300 more than the total amount of the past two years, and the admission for the two days is 1,000 in excess of the total admission of last year in Farmers' Institute members alone.

Hereford Breeders.

The Canadian Hereford Breeders' Association held their annual meeting yesterday. It was largely attended. It is the 12th annual gathering of the organization. President W. H. Hunter occupied the chair. The report of the secretary explained that Ontario members of the Association will be made members of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association. Forty-three pedigrees were registered and 205 changed during the year; 51 members paid in during the year, 11 more than last year. The second volume of the herd book has been issued, and shows 2,517 pedigrees. Receipts for the year were $881, which was expended. Officers were then elected.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Caleb Mallory Dying—His Wife Killed Instantly at Cobourg.

Cobourg, Dec. 11.—A terrible accident occurred here yesterday afternoon at the Kingston road crossing, when Caleb Mallory and his wife of the Front-road east were struck by the noon train. The crossing at this place obscures an approaching train coming from the east until too late for safety. They were struck by the train, Mrs. Mallory and the horse being instantly killed. Mrs. Mallory had her neck broken. The cutter was carried about a quarter of a mile up the track. Mr. Mallory was injured very badly, his head being cut on the forehead and back, while his leg was also injured. At the time of writing he is sinking fast.

The train brought them to the station and Mr. Mallory was taken to Dr. Jones', where all the local doctors are doing their utmost to save his life. They have a family of grown-up sons and daughters.

Two Years For Fraud.

Breathing Disease.

Infectious diseases are breathed into the system from those affected with disease or from bad smells; yet how many women breathe daily the offensive steam from common soaps made from rancid fats, and keep their hands for hours in such solutions, and the clothing from such soap suds is worn next the tender skin. No wonder disease and eczema are prevalent! Users of Sunlight Soap —Octagon Bar—know the difference between that and the pure, healthful smell from the vegetable oils and pure edible fats in Sunlight Soap.

Mrs. Laura L. Barnes, Washington, D. C., Ladies Auxiliary to Burnside Post, No. 4, G. A. R., recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"In diseases that come to women only, as a rule, the doctor is called in, sometimes several doctors, but still matters go from bad to worse; but I have never known of a case of female weakness which was not helped when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used faithfully. For young women who are subject to headaches, backache, irregular or painful periods, and nervous attacks due to the severe strain on the system by some organic trouble, and for women of advanced years in the most trying time of life, it serves to correct every trouble and restore a healthy action of all organs of the body.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a household reliance in my home, and I would not be without it. In all my experience with this medicine, which covers years, I have found nothing to equal it and always recommend it."—Mrs. Laura L. Barnes, 607 Second St., N. E., Washington, D. C.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Admiral Dewey, who battered the ricketty old warship tubs of the Spanish fleet in Manilla Harbour without the loss of a life, has long occupied an unique position as a make space on his pedestal for two heroes of the British and German heroes of the Spanish and German Navy, who gathered in the navy of Venezeuela without shedding a drop of blood.

Mexico has never done very much to distinguish herself among the nations, but she has produced a patriot who stands unique in the roll of history, a man who proposes to pay the national debt of his country. In this respect he is distinguished from the average patriot, whose role is to pile up rather than pay national debts. The Mexican referred to is Pedro Alvarado, of Parral. He is rated at 40,000,000, and he has offered his entire fortune to the government of the republic, the money to be used in liquidating a part of the national debt, which now amounts to about four times the amount named. Senor Alvarado explains that his wealth came from the mines to which title was given by the government, and that therefore he can well afford to gratify his desire. The government has declined his offer. It is amazing such an offer was made, and still more amazing, the Ottawa Journal thinks, that it is refused. A game of Pedro like that should commend itself to the sport-loving Mexicans.

MILNER FOR GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

(Ottawa Journal.)

For next Governor-General Lord Milner is suggested. We don't believe there could be one to do us more honour. He has been a mark for years for the abuse of pro-Boers in England and Europe and for American newspaper correspondents who have striven to depict him as obstinate and tactless, repellant, unpopular and unsuccessful. Every strong leader of a race meets that sort of welcome from most of its rivals and some of its own cranks. Canada can love Milner for the enemies he has made. From the day he met Kruger in Bloemfontein, he proved a match for the Boer president in firmness and courage, and more than his match in intelligence. Milner has had a hard row to hoe, but the work was straight and true. No critic can point to anything but his own prejudiced ideas to the discredit of Milner or to prove where Milner went wrong—and Milner had hundreds of chances to go wrong, and often precious little light to help find the better way. If he comes here the Dominion will have in it, the The Journal's conviction, one of the great men and one of the men to be admired of this generation of the British people.

IRELAND AND KING EDWARD.

(New York Sun.)

How are we to account for the apparent change in the attitude of the Unionist Government toward the Irish Nationalists, a change attested not only by Mr. Wyndham's promise to introduce a Land Purchase Bill, but also by Lord Dudley's admission of grave defects in the existing system of Irish administration? There is a widespread and growing belief that the change is due to the personal influence of Edward VII, who desires to be King of Ireland in fact as well as in name, and knows that he can win the confidence and gratitude of the Irish people only by securing for them a large measure of control over distinctively Irish affairs.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY

An Adjourned Meeting Held in Port Hope.

Evangelistic Services Recommended in Each Congregation.

At Port Hope, and within the Walton street Hall there, the Presbytery of Peterborough met according to adjournment on the 9th of December, at two o'clock p.m., and was duly constituted by Mr. McIntosh, Moderator.

There were present, besides the Moderator, Messrs. Bennett, Duncan, McLeod, Oswald, Potter, Lord, Kannawin, Atkinson, Yule, Ministers; and Messrs. Syer, Rose, Harrison and Robertson, Elders.

Minutes of former meetings were read, and after correction, were sustained.

The report of the Committee on Evangelistic Services was read. Messrs. Kannawin and Atkinson were heard in reference to the success of the work in their respective fields.

The committee was instructed to correspond with Sessions, and to recommend the holding of evangelistic services in each congregation.

The election of delegates to the Assembly was deferred until the next meeting.

Messrs, Duncan, McLeod, and Lord, Ministers, and Mr .McIntosh, Colborne, Elder, were appointed a committee to consider the regulations of the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund, and to report at next meeting.

Reports were heard from the Home Mission and Augmentation Committees. Important steps were taken to increase the interests of congregations in both departments of work.

Mr. Potter gave notice of motion to consider the order to be observed at the time of induction services.

Next meeting to be held in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on the first Tuesday in March at nine o'clock a.m.

NEWS FROM BELMONT.

Funeral of the Late Mr. Copperthwaite —The Rogers Accident.

The funeral of the late Mr. Copperthwaite, of the 10th concession of Belmont, took place on Thursday, the 4th inst., and was largely attended. Notwithstanding the severe cold weather, the numerous friends of the deceased in Havelock, and surrounding country, turned out to pay the last sad mark of respect, and to show their sympathy for the family and relatives, in the sad loss they had sustained.

Death has been busy in this neighbourhood lately, and another well-known settler has been borne to his last resting place. The death of Daniel Meldon, of the 10th concession took place on Saturday afternoon, the 6th inst. The deceased had lived to a ripe old age, being 80 years old when he died. Death was the result of a frost bite in his foot about a year ago, which induced gangrene, from which he suffered for a considerable time. He was removed to the Nicholls Hospital for treatment about a month ago, but his extreme old age and the bad condition of his foot, were such that it was impossible to stay the demise. His remains were sent home, and the well known old resident was interred in the cemetery here.

Mr. John J. Belfour, of Belfour's Corners, who has been appointed agent for the Examiner in this section, will make a good, reliable representative. He has a large circle of friends, who respect him for his straightforward and consistent character.

The sad calamity which has befallen the late James Rogers and his family, has cast a gloom over the entire township. The late Mr. Rogers and his family were very highly respected by all who knew them, and their sudden and untimely death causes a severe loss to the community in which they lived. The Examiner has doubtless learned the full details of the trouble caused by the C. P. R. evening train smashing into their sleigh at the Havelock crossing, as they were returning to their home after a day's shopping. (Note.—Another column contains full particulars of this shocking occurrence.)

We are glad to see that you have also secured another agent for the Examiner in this section in the person of Mr. George Cochrane, back on the 9th concession. Mr. Cochrane is an intelligent young farmer, who knows everybody about here, and ought to roll up a good list of subscribers.

KEENE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mrs. Wm. Campbell is spending the week in Toronto with her sister, Mrs. H. Cruikshanks.

The sympathy of the entire community is felt for Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson, whose oldest little boy, Harold, passed away early Sunday morning. The little fellow had always enjoyed perfect health and his sweet ways had endeared him to all who had seen him. He was taken ill several weeks ago. The doctors could not help him and his sufferings were at last ceased by death.

Mr. Archie Davidson has removed to Peterborough.

The rink is flooded and will be ready for the public by Christmas if this weather holds out.

The Reese & Bell show will begin on Thursday evening, continuing on Friday and Saturday evenings. The company is quite strong this year, consisting of nine artists of no mean ability. Jigs and songs by the Irish comedian, Mr. Simonds; tumbling by Mr. Gourley, and impersonations by Harry Reese will be worth seeing. The leading lady, Mrs. Rose Bell, is a cultural artist, and is ably assisted by Miss Ferres.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AN INVESTIGATION

As to Why Girls Prefer Shop Work to Housework.

The Wisconsin State Labour Bureau has been collecting reasons why girls prefer work in factories and store to household service. Inquiries were sent to 769 persons. Among the answers were these:

"If ladies would only give girls better rooms, kinder treatment and warmer beds and let them live independently, more girls would do housework."

"I went into the factory because I wished to be treated like a human being."

"The reason I won't do housework is because I will not be treated like half a slave and always a nobody."

"I love housework, but, like the host of other girls, I refuse to do it under present conditions."

"None of the girls I know would do housework, because a girl who does it is always looked upon as a kitchen drudge, always on duty and seldom treated justly."

"I am treated better in the factory in every way, and, besides, I am no longer obliged to entertain in the kitchen or receive my friends at the back door, since I can live at home with my own people."

There is no sign in any of these replies of an insistence on the part of servants that they be regarded as members of the family. They desire as little to intrude on other circles as they wish for intrusion upon their own. But they complain justly when the fact of social distinction is thrust upon them with bald brutality. The Wisconsin answers, which would probably be good for any other State, suggest that upon the untactful mistress of the house lies a large burden of responsibility for "the servant-girl problem" as it is.—New York World.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses all produce headaches and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head, and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like red gum, blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure and after using a few fifty cent boxes which I procured from my druggist's I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures) no opium (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

HEAR LITTLE OF THE LOSSES.

(Cleaveland Plain Dealer.)

There is one little thing certain and that is that we know very little about the losses by stock market slumps. The winners are heard from bright and early, but the poor losers keep in the background and remain for the most part unnoticed. This is a pity, too, from one point of view, because their ill luck might serve to point a moral for the ill-advised lambs who fancy they know a sure thing when they think they see it.

ALBERT COLLEGE CLOSED,

But the Institution Will Re-open Again on January 6, 1903.

According to the Belleville Intelligencer certain forms of skin disease have become quite epidemic throughout the province, no doubt due to the continued warm weather during the month of November. Some of the Ladies' Colleges have closed for this reason earlier than usual, and many Public Schools have also closed.

It appears as a rash on parts of the body, generally in the form of ringworms. It is easily controlled by medical treatment, and although unpleasant it is not serious, and no doubt will quickly subside. Several of the best homes in Belleville are at present troubled with it. At Albert College six of the younger boys have had it, and to prevent it spreading in the college Principal Dyer, on consultation with the students, decided to close the college one week earlier than usual, so that the college buildings might be in proper sanitary condition when the college reopens on Tuesday, January 6th.

WORKING IN THE WOODS.

A Large Force Under the Rathbun C. —High Wages Paid.

A great number of men are now going to the lumber woods to spend the winter, and they will be well paid for their labour, the best of them commanding as high as $25 per month, which with board, is as much as is paid to good mechanics.

The Rathbun Company have in their employment at the present time under Superintendent Thomas Callaghan, of Campbellford, a force of more than 600 men in their various camps, as follows:

In the Muskoka district	155
In the Bancroft district	80
In the Marmora district	85
In the Black Creek district	110
In the Partridge Creek district	80
In the Haliburton district	160
	610

Besides these there are the usual number of jobbers, who are also hard at work with their own force of men getting out timber, etc., independently, under contract for the company.

THE TARIFF AND PATRIOTISM.

(London Advertiser.)

Mr. Tarte, in a speech at the annual banquet of the Canadian Club, Hamilton, urged the raising of the tariff against the United States on patriotic grounds. Canadians, he said, should cultivate a national sentiment, and this be associated with increased protection for farmers and manufacturers.

If protection and national sentiment are related, patriotism could be put on a percentage basis. A tariff of say 75 per cent. would be 25 per cent. more patriotic than a tariff of fifty per cent. One party might bid it up to 100 per cent. and claim to have a monopoly of simon-pure Canadianism.

There are a good many people who think the country's welfare would not be promoted by raising the duties. They are just as good Canadians and as much imbued with national sentiment as those who want to boost the tariff. At any rate they have no selfish interest to serve.

The News Is Sold.

Toronto, Dec. 11.—The Evening News has been purchased by the Flavelle-Willison combination. An official announcement to this effect was made last night. The paper will continue under its present management until the first of the year. Contrary to expectation, it is the intention of the new owners to run an evening paper only, and not a morning edition, too, as has erroneously been stated.

Threatened by His Wife.

Toronto, Dec. 11.—A rather startling story was related to the police last night by William Stuart of 41 Lombard street, who says George Brown of Oak Ridges, has broken up his home, and went so far as to incite his wife to kill him. Mrs. Stuart is under arrest, charged with pointing and carrying a revolver, and Brown is detained for the present on a nominal charge of drunkenness.

Killed by a Tree.

London, Dec. 11.—Archibald Cockburn, aged 20 years, son of Mr. George Cockburn, farmer, London Township, while engaged chopping wood in the bush, was struck by a falling tree and pinned to the ground. He was released as quickly as possible, but the young man was quite dead. Death had been instantaneous.

WILLIAM FLETCHER

CURED OF BRIGHTS DISEASE

by

Powley's Liquified Ozone

Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most fatal sicknesses there is. It practically means the decay of these important organs. The evidence is found by tests of the urine. The presence of albumen is detected, and in the last stages the presence of minute kidney cells, called casts, is noted. When the disease becomes very deeply seated, the water, instead of being passed off is retained in the system and the sufferer becomes tremendously bloated. Powley's Liquified Ozone has made some remarkable cures of Bright's disease of the kidneys. Notice the case of Mr. Wm. Fletcher, of Emsdale, Ont. It's remarkable.

For about two years I have been running down in energy and health, caused by kidney disease. Last February I finally collapsed: my body and limbs were terribly swollen. I then sent for my doctor, and he treated my case as best he could, but I was getting worse all the time. Finally my doctor told me if I had any business to settle I had better do so. I got the doctor to draw up my will, as I was informed that I had but a short time to live.

A neighbor, Mr. Connover, came over to see me and advised me to take Ozone, as it had done his wife a world of good. Mr. Connover brought me a bottle from Mr. Cavan's store at Springfield. I had not taken the second dose before I felt an improvement. I have now taken five bottles, and I am a living testimonial of the great curative powers of Powley's Liquified Ozone.

I and my daughter have done all the work on my farm the latter part of the summer. Illness being cured by Ozone. I feel good for another ten years, although I am now 72 years of age.

I am getting stronger every day, and all the praise my neighbors are giving Ozone, and it is worthy of all they can say of it. I hope you may have great success with it.

You are at liberty to publish this for the benefit of others suffering from kidney trouble. (Signed) WILLIAM X. FLETCHER, Emsdale, Ont.

Powley's Liquified Ozone strengthens the kidneys, clears out all impurities, and soothes all inflammations of the tracts of the kidneys. The oxygen, in Powley's Liquified Ozone, makes new tissues. It is this latter quality that makes this preparation so valuable. If there is the least chance, if there is any healthy parts left in the kidneys, the Ozone will bring back all to health. Ozone is life.

SINE QUO NON ERE RECIPROCITY

Alaska Boundary Dispute Must Be Settled First Before Any Reciprocity Treaty Will Be Entered Into—Nor Will Canada Take the Initiative For Such Assimilation of Tariffs.

Detroit, Dec. 11.—Reciprocity between Canada and the United States was the keynote of the speeches last night at the dinner tendered the delegates to the National Reciprocity Convention, by the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, and the arguments in favor of it presented by John Charlton, M.P., of Canada, were enthusiastically received by the 300 guests who were present.

John Charlton, M.P., spoke on the subject of reciprocity with Canada. He referred to his attempt in 1899 to reach the ear of the American people in his address to the merchants of Chicago, then he was confronted by a solid wall of misapprehension and prejudice, but since then a rapid change has taken place and events seemed to be moving towards the reversal of the policy that had promoted estrangement and bitterness of feeling in Canada towards the United States.

For Canada a new epoch has come. Hundreds of millions of bushels of grain will be poured out from the great granary of the Northwest for the food of the world. Does the United States desire to share in the advantages that will be conferred by the development of the Northwest, or shall the present policy of repression largely deprive her of the share in this trade? What would be a fair arrangement? Reciprocity in natural products between the two countries, and the granting to the United States by Canada of the most favored nation position in her tariff, is the true solution of the trade difficulty that now require adjustment.

There is beyond question a crying necessity for action in securing a change of that trade policy towards Canada which has been adopted and followed by the United States for the last 35 years. The policy, beyond question, is absurd, detrimental to the interests of both countries, and calculated most efficiently to promote variance, ill-feeling and hostility of interest. It is time that it was changed, and something akin to free trade policy prevailing between all the States of the American Union, substituted for it, with the certainty that the blessings that have followed in one case would follow in the other.

Senator McMullen of Mount Forest, Ont., followed Mr. Charlton. He created a mild sensation by his extremely positive address, in which he warned the United States that Canada was not seeking reciprocity, and declared that the Alaska boundary question must be settled before reciprocity between Canada and the United States is possible.

"We, of Canada, believe that you have got much territory in the Northwest belonging to us. Canada is willing and anxious to leave it to arbitration before a proper tribunal. Settle this question honorably and then we will come together with you. But without that settlement, reciprocity is out of the question."

R. F. Sutherland, member of Parliament for North Essex, Ont., was the last speaker of the evening.

HURON'S NEW JUDGE.

Philip Holt, K.C., of Goderich Appointed—Col. Macdonald Hurt—Importation of Bristle Prohibited.

Ottawa, Dec. 11.—Judge Masson, senior Judge of the County of Huron, has been superannuated owing to ill-health. Junior Judge Doyle has been promoted to the vacancy, and Mr. Philip Holt, K.C., of Goderich, has been appointed junior Judge. Judge Masson was appointed to the bench in 1896, but has been incapacitated from duty for some time past owing to the state of his health. He will receive the usual retiring allowance. The appointment of a Judge to administer the law in the district in which he resides is unusual, but not without precedent. In the case of Judge Holt, his appointment was strongly recommended by members of the legal profession and citizens of Goderich.

Col. Macdonald Hurt.

Col. Macdonald, the popular superintendent of Military Stores, met with a regrettable accident yesterday afternoon. He was sitting in his office in the western block about 4 o'clock, when a mass of plaster measuring about five feet square and about an inch and a half or two inches thick suddenly fell from the ceiling overhead. Col. Macdonald's desk was immediately underneath, and he would have been struck squarely on the head by the falling debris but for the fact that he was using the telephone at the time, and his body was inclined to the right. The edge of the plaster as it fell, however, struck him on the left side of the face, inflicting two nasty cuts, one over the eye and the other on the cheek bone beneath.

Wool and Bristle Prohibited.

Commissioner of Customs McDougald last night telegraphed to collectors of customs at Canadian frontier ports east of Manitoba, instructing them that wool and bristle are added to the list of articles prohibited from entry into Canada when shipped from or transported through any of the New England States.

To Sue For $10,000.

Ingersoll, Dec. 11.—Albert Atchison is suing the G.T.R. for $10,000 for the death of his wife, who was killed at a crossing Sept. 13.

No Sunday Street Cars.

Winnipeg, Dec. 10.—Mayor Arbuthnot was re-elected over J. F. Mitchell with a majority of 384 out of a total vote of 4,728. Considerable interest was evinced in the Sunday street car bylaw, which was defeated. The figures as nearly as can be ascertained, are 1,633 for and 1,867 against, giving a majority against of 284. This will shelve the matter for another three years.

A UNWELCOME GUEST

A Cold Wave Visits Canada and Eats Up Much Coal.

3 TO 38 DEGREES BELOW ZERO.

Conditions Aggravated by the Coal Famine—Coal at Oswego and Ogdensburg For Canada But in Danger of Freezing In—The Zero Weather in the Northern States a Menace to the Poor.

Toronto, Dec. 10.—The cold Monday night was very unusual for this time of year, says the weather man at the Observatory yesterday. The minimum temperature, he stated, was twenty degrees below the average at Toronto, the mercury sinking to 3 below zero between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

All over Canada the temperature has been below zero. Following are a few samples of the minimum: Edmonton, 12 below; Battleford, 20 below; Qu'Appelle, 8 below; Winnipeg, 8 below; Port Arthur, 12 below; White River, 16 below; Parry Sound, 12 below; Toronto, 3 below; Bissett, 38 below; Ottawa, 20 below; Montreal, 20 below; Quebec, 20 below, Halifax, 6 below; St. John, 16 below.

Bissett, which has the record for the coldest place in the Province on this occasion, is on the C. P. R., a short distance east of Mattawa.

The cold snap is now centred in the Ottawa Valley. The weather prophet states that it will be milder to-day, but colder again to-night. At noon yesterday the temperature in Toronto was 12 above zero.

The bay is still free from ice, and this cold wave will not interfer with the arrival of coal-laden vessels. Meanwhile there is much suffering through lack of coal here.

Where Our Coal Is.

Syracuse, N.Y., Dec. 10.—A special to The Herald from Oswego says that Monday night was the coldest there since 1896—12 below zero. Vessels coal-laden for Canada are frozen in. Tugs are trying to release them so that they may sail.

Coal Loaded on Cars.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Dec. 10. — The thermometer stood at 22 below zero last night, and harbors are covered with three inches of ice. Steamers and barges loaded with anthracite coal for Montreal are transferring to cars at Prescott. Two Ogdensburg barges with 600 tons each cleared through the ice yesterday for Iroquois and Morrisburg, where the coal supply is exhausted.

This Is Cold.

Mattawa, Dec. 10.—The temperature yesterday morning was 25 below zero; light fall of snow at noon; grew colder in the evening.

Coldest in Years.

New York, Dec. 10.—New York and New England have experienced during the past 36 hours the coldest weather of many years. In this city it was the coldest December 9 in 26 years, the thermometer registering as it did that year, 8 above zero. Scarcity of coal caused much suffering among the poorer classes. One death is reported from exposure.

The cold in the city was mild compared with that prevailing in the northern sections of the state and in New England. Ballston reported 32 below, the lowest registration since 1861. In the Adirondack region and along the Champlain Valley the thermometer registered between 17 and 26 below. Like in New York, the situation at Schenectady was made more serious by the scarcity of coal, many families having to face 22 below zero weather without coal to heat their homes. Navigation on the Upper Hudson closed early in the day, steamers which had not reached winter quarters having to be towed out of the ice.

Hoosick Falls, N.Y., Dec. 10.—The thermometer yesterday ranged from 18 to 32 degrees below zero. Much alarm is felt owing to the scarcity of coal.

Deaths Will Occur.

Schenectady, N.Y., Dec. 10.—Bitter cold weather prevails here. The thermometer registered 22 below zero at 6 o'clock yesterday. It is next to impossible to procure any coal from local dealers, and many cases of extreme suffering have been reported. Physicians predict that, unless the situation is relieved, many deaths will result from the present coal famine.

Schools Are Closed.

Portland, Me., Dec. 10.—The mercury at sunrise ranged from 10 to 15 degrees below zero in this city yesterday. Colder weather prevailed in the eastern part of the state. At Lewiston and Auburn most of the schools are closed for lack of fuel. These cities have only 200 tons of anthracite and a small amount of soft coal.

Scores of Uses.

While Dr. Chase's Ointment is best known on account of its wonderful control over eczema, salt rheum and piles,, it is found to be in almost daily demand in many homes as a cure for chilblains, chafing, pimples, sunburns, burns, scalds, and each and every form of itching, irritated or inflamed skin. It is invaluable in every home, and as a soothing and healing application, knows no equal.

Against Granting Subsidies.

London, Dec. 10.—The report of the select committee of the House of Commons on steamship subsidies was issued yesterday afternoon, and is distinctly against the principle of granting subsidies.

Ask For Arbitration.

Paris, Dec. 10. — At a Cabinet Council yesterday it was decided to direct Admiral Bouvier to request in the name of the Government that the parties to the Marseilles strike accept arbitration.

King Wins Cattle Prize.

London, Dec. 10.—The great Christmas fat stock show opened at Agricultural Hall yesterday. The King and Lord Rosebery were among the prominent winners of prizes.

Killed the Bill.

Washington, Dec. 10.—After debating the London dock charges bill for almost four hours, the House yesterday struck out the enacting clause.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

Held by the Congregation of George Street Church Last Night.

The annual congregational meeting of the George street Methodist church was held last night in the Sunday school room, and was very largely attended.

The evening assumed a social character, and a short programme followed by refreshments, filled a very pleasant evening.

Rev. J. P. Wilson, the pastor, opened the meeting with a short address. After this the following programme was rendered:

Solo..... ....Miss C. Belleghem
Report Girls' Guild..... .....
Solo,... ....Mr. F. Turner
Refreshments and Intermission.....

Mr. Mulligan then gave the report of the choir for the past year, and presented a prize of twenty dollars in gold to Mr. F. McGuire for most regular attendance at rehearsals and services.

A vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Jeffries, seconded by Mr. Ackerman, was tendered the choir, and Miss Belleghem, for services so freely rendered in the past. A short time was spent in talking of the past, and arrangements to be made in the future, after which the meeting broke up at an early hour.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—There will be no practice of the Charlotte street choir this week.

—The George street Methodist church choir will practice to-night at the usual hour.

—This morning's bone-so king cold came straight from the salt Atlantic, on the clammy wings of the East wind.

—In Toronto people fought on Monday to pay taxes. That eagerness has not been reached in Peterborough as yet.

—Another gas strike has been made near Chatham. Just wait for the municipal elections throughout Ontario for richer strikes.

—The Bank of Toronto, in Millbrook, under the management of Mr. A. St. A. Smith, is doing a splendid business for a young institution.

—It has been decided to close the Rugby season with a small banquet, at H. Long's Palm Parlours this evening. All members of the club are asked to attend as well as the officers of the club.

—The Ultimator Company in Ashburnham, will soon be able to supply all comers. They will then be in a position to furnish England and Germany with ultimatums ready for use on small republics.

—At the meeting of the Trades and Labour Council last night a resolution was adopted deciding that no labour candidate for Aldermen would be brought out under the auspices of the Council.

—Friday night the excellent musical organization, the Eckhardts, will appear in the Opera House. Manager Bradburn has booked the high class melodrama "A Royal Slave," for the 17th.

—St. Andrew's choir rehearsal, 8 o'clock sharp this evening. Every member who can possibly attend is requested to be present. Additional male voices required. Apply to Prof. Davies, organist and choir master.

—Examinations presided over by Mr. Sorsoleil, began to-day in the upper and lower first forms of the Collegiate Institute. The object, it is understood, of the lower first candidates is to qualify for the upper first, and for the upper first to hold their place and prevent degradation to lower form.

—Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, says that the increase in the number of cases of typhoid fever in the city is largely due to infected milk. Once upon a time, when there was a Board of Health in Lindsay, we used to hear of milk inspections at regular intervals.—Lindsay Post.

—Eight boys residing in Williamsville, near Kingston, were charged with carrying revolvers. The ages of the lads ranged from ten to fourteen years. They were not brought into the police court, but were examined in a private room. Two revolvers, carried by the boys, were confiscated. After taking evidence, the magistrate ordered three of the lads to receive a whipping at the hands of the police. The balance were al-

AN EXCELLENT PROPOSAL.

An Effort Will be Made to Make the Milk Business Easier.

Milk to be Clarified—Men are Working too Much for too Little.

Among the milk vendors for some time the opinion has been expressed that they were doing too much work for too little profit. In other words, the routes were cut up too much, and a man had to go to too many houses on the different streets. The idea grew that if there were a central depot where the milk could be obtained, and the routes divided in a more convenient manner, that a great saving would be made in both time and labour.

Some time ago a meeting was held, and a committee was appointed, to see if it was possible to carry out this idea. Last night another meeting was held to hear the report of this committee. A fairly large number of representatives were present to hear this report. It was found that only one suitable place was available and that the rent was rather high.

In presenting the report the committee thought that the best way to work out the scheme would be to form a joint stock incorporated company. This would place them on a solid foundation, and if each and every man in the business now would takes shares and an interest in the company, it would surely be a success.

It was thought that $2,000 would be the least cost of the plant, but the business would soon furnish enough to place it on a paying basis.

Several men were willing to sell out their business, and this would require a little extra money.

The different routes would have to be valued, in order that the company might be able at any time to take over any routes offered them.

Mr. C. H. Moore was asked as to his opinion on the subject, and gave them a number of valuable pointers, in which he advocated the appointment of a board of directors to canvass the men engaged in the business, and to see what could be done in the matter.

The majority of the men present were willing to put in their routes, and supply of milk, and the general opinion was that there was money in it, and besides it was a step in the right direction, towards facilitating the delivery of milk and ensuring a more healthful and purer supply.

Throughout the meeting the spirit was that all should have a fair show. They desired the public to see that the milk men were working for the benefit of the consumer as well as the retailer.

After some discussion, a provisional Board of Directors was appointed, among whom were Messrs. Stothart, Wilson, Hooper, Milburn and Cox. These men will take all steps possible to make successful arranegements.

This scheme is a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that it will be carried through. It means purer milk, and more prompt service, with less labour on both sides. If the proposal goes through all milk will be clarified, and all cans, etc., will be thoroughly sterilized.

A meeting will be held in the near future to hear the report of the directors, and for the making of final arrangements.

Remember Dr. Cleaver's Lecture in St. Paul's Church to-night.

THE NEW RINK.

Splendid Progress is now Being Made on the Structure.

The new rink is a scene of great industry at present. As regards the iron work it might be said that though they can put up two arches a day they are now awaiting the carpenters as the arches have to be tied with immense pine beams in order to give more stability to the structure. It will therefore be a week or ten days before the iron work is up. Once this is up, however, the skating will very soon be ready, as there will be no need to await the entire completion of the work. Every effort will be made to have the ice ready by Christmas or even earlier.

WILL BE TRIED TO-MORROW.

It is Said That Cabs Drive too Rapidly.

Tuesday, Dec. 2nd was the night of the Rugby dance and when the hour of breaking up came, it was found that the streets were almost impassable for pedestrians. This necessitated that some 200 people should go home in five cabs. The going was heavy and to make it easier for the horses they were allowed to lope. Anyone knowing anything about horses is aware that in heavy going it is easier to lope than to trot, just on the same principle that a trotter goes with less effort than a pacer in bad roads. The speed attained in this case, is asserted by the cabbies, was not as great as that witnessed on our streets every day, and besides the hour was about 3 a.m. A complaint was entered and to-morrow the drivers will come up before his Worship Magistrate Dumble charged with furious driving. No notice would, it is alleged, have been taken had not complaints been laid by outside parties.

THE FIRST OF THS SEASON.

A Turkey Shoot was Held on Tuesday, December the 9th.

On Tuesday last the first turkey shoot of the season was held at the farm of Mr. I. Archer, on the third line of Smith. In spite of the frigid weather on that day the attendance was fairly large and some four were present from town. These four succeeded in bringing home five birds, or nearly fifty per cent. of the prizes. A Mr. Colburn carried off the honours with four turkeys to his credit. These shoots are rapidly gaining in popularity and another will be held to-day or to-morrow.

GRAND JURY'S PRESENTMENT

A Report Unique in Style and Originality.

Topics Treated in a Playfully Sarcastic and Familiar Vein.

The session of the County Court, concluded on Wednesday, was a record breaker in more ways than one—not a single case, criminal or civil, had been inscribed for hearing, and the report of the Grand Jury was a refreshing, original document, as witness the following:

We, the Grand Jury of the County of Peterborough, have much pleasure in congratulating your Honour that no criminal cases or otherwise appear on the books to be tried at this Court—a clean sheet is the record of the day. This evidently shows a diminution of crime throughout the county and warrants us in saying we are becoming a more law-abiding people, and our sympathies are to a certain extent over on the side of the legal fraternity, anticipating that if this thing continues some may have to go out of business.

We have visited and inspected the jail and find everything in first-class condition. System, order and cleanliness are manifest on every side. And yet, though this is the state of things there, some who are there incarcerated for their own and the county's good would be willing to put up with less attention if given their liberty.

Then we find another class of inmates who are there, not because of their evil deeds, but they have not the wherewithal to pay for better entertainment. In a word they are honest but poor. We, the Grand Jury, know it is a customery thing for Grand Juries to urge upon the authorities, residents of the county, and public generally the dire necessity for a House of Refuge for such inmates as mentioned, but this everlasting ding from juries has no effect only for the passing moment.

We, the members of this jury, desire to express a regret that there is not on the Statutes an act compelling municipalities to erect and maintain suitable places for the old and feeble who may be left to shift for themselves.

Our Saviour said, "The poor ye have always with you." "Yes," we answer, "we have and we will stick them in the jail every time. They have no business to be poor and if they do not like their associates and surroundings in a fine, large, commodious stone building as this is let them go elsewhere." We sincerely trust that this state of things may soon cease to exist.

We have to thank your honourable Court for the provisions made for our visiting and inspecting the Nicholls and St. Joseph Hospitals, for if we had to drive in this zero weather instead of walking, our discomfort no doubt would be great.

We desire to express our pleasure and delight in visiting these two institutions and witnessing the care and comfort bestowed on each sick one, reassuring ourselves with this thought, this is Christianity in earnest.

Signed on behalf of the Grand Jury,
F. MASON,
Foreman.

His Honour Judge Edmison, in reply expressed his sympathy with the recommendations of the Jury, and congratulated them on the fidelity with which they had discharged their onerous duties. He also referred to the fact that Judge Weller, on account of impaired health, had been granted six months relief from duty, coupled with the hope that he would soon be restored to health.

The January Designer.

The art features of The Designer for January, 1903 are effective to a marked degree, and are typical of the progressiveness of this popular publication, which is always the herald of up-to-date fashions and interests essentially feminine. Edited by women, it caters especially to womanly tastes. Most charming and original are the fancy costumes, and stylish and seasonable are the millinery designs, the latter being accompanied by a practical article on hat making.

MR. J. W. FLAVELLE.

A Short Sketch of a Former Peterborough Citizen.

The following sketch of Mr. J. W. Flavelle, who has come into unusual prominence of late by reason of his connection with Mr. J. S. Willison's model newspaper enterprise, will be read with interest, especially by the many who were acquainted with that gentleman during his residence in Peterborough:

"Mr. J. W. Flavelle is one of the most trusted financiers in the City of Toronto. He began life in the milling business in Lindsay, was for some time in the flour and feed business in Peterborough, occupying the premises now used by Mr. C. N. Brown, and has risen to his present eminence in the financial and business world of the Dominion by ability, industry and integrity, and his dealings are characterized by scrupulous honour and a loyalty to moral more than legal requirements. He is known to the stock men of Ontario as the vice-president of the big William Davies pork-packing concern, and he has been one of the Winter Fair lecturers on bacon hogs. He is known to the merchants as a director of the Robert Simpson Company's departmental store, Toronto, and to the banking interests as a director of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He is also a large stockholder in the Dominion Iron & Steel Company at Sydney, and in other companies. He is a prominent Methodist, one who is not afraid of his religious principles, and a liberal supporter of all philanthropic agencies.

Mr. Flavelle has decided, it is understood, that the welfare of his fellow-men can be best promoted by investing some of his money in a live, modern newspaper, rather than in a library, a university, or any other educational agency. He believes that the library and the university only reach a proportion of the people, but that a strong newspaper can reach nearly everybody in its constituency. He intends to have this newspaper free to pursue the best practical ideals of its editor, without his being hampered by financial considerations. He wants it to be a moral and educative force in the community, free to urge, approve, critize, or condemn, as its editor will be without responsibility to party, private or business interests.

Though the proposed paper will be conducted on the broadest lines and will not be a religious but a secular journal, it will perhaps come nearer to Rev. C. M. Sheldon's ideal in "In His Steps" than any paper that has yet been instituted."

Mr. Willison and Mr. Flavelle, in their proposed new enterprise, are going to show the people what a newspaper ought to be, and their experiment will certainly be closely followed by the entire country. That Mr. Willison has high ideals his conduct of The Globe newspaper has abundantly demonstrated.

The Finest Holiday Number.

One of the most widely famous and most admired of the English painters of the nineteenth century was the late Lord Leighton, who was for so many years president of the Royal Academy. His pictures, based upon classical subjects, particularly Greek legend and story, are especially popular. The holiday number of the Illustrated Buffalo Express for Dec. 14th, will have as its chief feature a beautiful reproduction in colour of one of Lord Leighton's classical pictures—The Garden of Hesperides. It has the advantage of not being so commonly known as some of his other pictures, and it is a beautiful example of the purity and charm of his art. The beautiful reproduction in colour forms the most striking feature of the first page of the holiday supplement of December 14th. The illustrated supplement of that day will have 12, instead of the ordinary 8 pages, and will contain a variety of pictures and other Christmas features. Among other illustrations will be a picture in colours of "The Queen's Gateway, the Entrance of Buffalo River," with a view of the waterfront of Buffalo. Christmas stories, etc., will make it an unusually interesting number.

"FLOWER LEGENDS AND OTHER POEMS."

A Bouquet of Critical Comments Culled by an Admirer.

An enthusiastic admirer of Miss Alma Frances McCollum has furnished, with a request for publication, the following bunch of favourable criticisms, by prominent literary authorities, of Miss McCollum's little book of poems:—

Charles Mair.—"The merit I recognise in her verses, is not their lively fancy, passion or wisdom, but a downright, unaffected simplicity, which flows from her naturally, and from her pen to paper. This is an uncommon thing — a rare gift, in fact, and which, when she becomes strong enough to wed it to forceful thought, may develop into higher flights, and give her a distinctive place in the faerie realm of poetry."

Jean Blewett.—".....A young Canadian, who bids fair to make a name and place for herself. She is a lover of nature, and one who gets very near to the great author's heart, as evidenced by 'A Song of the Forest,' 'Forget-me-not,' and other of the Flower Legends. 'The Angel of the Sombre Cowl' is especially good.....The author is young, a girl with great possibilities. Reading 'Flower Legends' we realize that youth has a sweetness and a wisdom all its own. We welcome Miss McCollum to the ranks of Canadian writers."

Ethelwyn Wetherald.—"What appeals to me most in this pretty volume is the sonnet, 'The Angel of the Sombre Cowl.' It has fancy, clear thought and a sure touch."

Hon. G. W. Ross.—"The two that most attracted my attention were 'Beyond the Hill,' and ''Ceptin 'Me,' the latter, I think being the sweeter of the two. Miss McCollum has also some very pretty poetry in the 'Purple Violets,' and the 'Legend of the Valley Lilies,' and gives promise of good work in other poems."

Hon. Richard Harcourt.—"Everyone who peruses the little volume in a generous or sympathetic spirit, cannot but hope that the young author will persevere.....'Flower Legends and Other Poems,' may yet prove to be the herald of enduring work. Here and there one finds selections which warrant us in offering to their author words of congratulation and encouragement."

Dr. W. H. Withrow, in Methodist Magazine and Review.—"A number of graceful flower fancies begin the volume. A deeper note is struck in 'The Good Shepherd,' 'Am I My Brother's Keeper?' and 'The Angel of the Sombre Cowl.' A blending of humour and pathos akin to that of Riley, is seen in some of these poems. 'The Horseless Carriage,' is a little gem in its way. We augur for this writer still better work in the future."

Rev. Herbert Symonds, M.A., D.D.—"Tried by any standard, however severe, and cold, Miss McCollum's poems are worthy of praise and encouragement."

"Kit," of the Mail and Empire.—"A pretty and graceful fancy pervades many of these poems, as for instance, 'The Angel's Kiss,' 'Little Nellie's Pa,' is a really good bit of work, and there are many of the little poems that are of merit."

"Katharine Hale," in the Mail and Empire.—"A very remarkable poem, 'Am I My Brother's Keeper?' which meets a question as old and unanswerable as life itself.....This young writer has discovered in the solvent atmosphere of the morning things that the older woman—Elizabeth Barrett Browning—might have seen and felt and said in much the same manner from a period of riper years."

The Canadian Teacher. — "The merry lilt of her lines rings in one's head and you turn again to the pages to find the music still more pleasing."

McMaster University Monthly.—".....worthy addition to the volume of Canadian verse.....Miss McCollum's fancy is pleasing.....Many verses manifest the true religious instinct.....Pathos finds repeated expression nor is the volume lacking in a certain quiet humour. Throughout, appeal is made to the daily emotions of the individual, which is a true mark of excellence."

The Montreal Herald.—"An exquisite little volume.....These verses show genuine inspiration and reveal true poetic insight. The volume will make an admirable Christmas gift."

The Quebec Chronicle.—"The authoress is a resident of Peterborough, Ont., but of Irish descent, from which she evidently derives that rare sense of intimate companionship with nature which converts the wild things into beloved friends and invests them with a glamour of tender pathos and innocent humour all its own. Miss McCollum is deeply imbued with this spirit, and in verse as sportive as it is graceful has sung the birth of the flowers as it presented itself to the poet's imagination. There is a simple beauty about many of her short poems that is very taking."

The London Advertiser.—"The charming and dainty way in which different themes are treated, with here and there just a touch of pathos, without any trace of mawkish sentimentality, appeals to one with a freshness that is lacking in too many of the present day books. Perhaps one of the most taking features about Miss McCollum's pathetic lines is the fact that they are not entirely unmixed with humour, and here and there is thrown in just a dash of quaint wit. The book belongs to the type that might be tastily made use of as a holiday present."

The Allan Liner Bavarian, with the all-Canada football team on board, arrived at Moville Tuesday morning. She ought to be at the Liverpool landing stage at eight o'clock tomorrow morning. The team did not disembark at Londonderry. The match scheduled for Liverpool for tomorrow is postponed, as it was rightly thought that the visitors would not as a whole be in good playing condtiion after a probably rough voyage. It is expected that it will be put at the end of the list, and be the winding-up match of the tour. The opening event, therefore, will be at Belfast on Saturday next.

The Other Side.

An author who illustrates his own novels has submitted to an interview.

"You find that it pays, don't you?"

"You bet—in lots of ways. For instance, I get paid for the story?"

"Yes."

"Then the illustrations of the author of a book are worth double those of the ordinary artists?"

"Of course."

"Then some fool of a rich fellow comes along and offers a fabulous sum for the original drawings and wants an introduction to you and invites you to dine with him, and your fortune is made and your future is safe! It's a great scheme, I tell you, and authors are fools who don't make the most of it!"

The Choice of a Husband.

"What a lucky girl you are, Liddy, to be able to choose between two such handsome and stylish young gentlemen? Have you made up your mind which is to be your husband?"

"To tell the truth, I'm in a bit of a fix. If I desire to wear my cream colored dress at the wedding, I shall take Alphonse, as he is dark complexioned, you know; but if I decide to go in my blue dress I rather think fair Joseph will make the better match of the two."

Fierce Indeed.

"Now, then, children," said the teacher, who had been commenting upon polar expeditions, "who can tell me what fierce animals inhabit the regions of the north pole?"

"Polecats!" shouted the boy at the foot of the class.

PETERBORO' CHEESE BOARD.

The Banner Year in the History of the Board.

Money Return Over the Half Million Mark.

Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, of Smith, representing Hodgson Bros., has returned from a trip to Montreal, and gives a most interesting summary of the operations of the Peterborough Cheese Board for the season of 1902. It has been the banner year in the history of the Board, and the farming community has great reason to be gratified with the outcome of the dairy industry of the past year.

Number of boxes of cheese shipped, 66,582.

Number of pounds, 5,231,394.

Money received,, $571,151.28.

The quantity handled by Mr. Fitzgerald himself, was as below:

Number of boxes, 18,400.

Number of pounds, 1,620,036

Value, $164,801.30.

This shows that Mr. Fitzgerald paid an average of a little over ten cents per pound for his cheese.

To get a fuller idea of the value of the cheese making industry to the farmers of this county and district, one must add the local sales in Peterborough and vicinity:

Estimated local sales, 1000 boxes at at 85 pounds each, at an average of 10c. per lb., $8,500; add to this the value of board cheese, and we have a grand total of $579,651.28.

A few years ago wheat was king, but the patient efforts of the "cow with the crumpled horn," has usurped its place, and now cheese sways the sceptre with none to dispute its authority.

A POINTER FOR FARMERS.

The Cereal Company Demand Oats of High Quality.

If the farmers of Peterborough county and vicinity expect to make money by selling oats to the Cereal Company, Peterborough, they must make up their minds to grow the oats by themselves. The Cereal Company aims to turn out a food product of highest quality in the shape of "Quaker Oats." To keep up the reputation none but first class oats can be used. Farmers accustomed to selling oats for feeding purposes, have been as careless as have been the buyers as to whether the oats contained foreign grains, such as barley, etc., and have thus perhaps contracted careless habits which will have to be corrected before they can sell oats at best prices to the Cereal Company, which will give a good price for oats—not a mixture of oats, barley, peas, etc., under the name of oats. The Ontario Government has spent thousands of dollars to help dairymen produce a first-class quality of cheese and it has been money well spent—Canada leads the world in cheese, and the farmers of this district will make money out of oats when they get into the habit of raising good clean grain such as will meet the demands of the Cereal Company, which cannot afford, in the interests of its pure out-put, to use inferior or unclean oats.

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE.

Some of the Reasons Why He Engaged in Building the Cuban Railway—A Word for Canada.

Sir William Van Horne's Cuban Railway was opened for traffic the second week of November, and the Cubans are looking forward to very rapid development of the eastern part of the island as a result. The Cuban Railway is a very sound enterprise commercially, but it probably would not have been built had it not appealed to the imagination of this hard-headed railway chief, who is also an artist, a literary critic and something of a fairy godfather. To take hold of the war-racked and desolated island and afford it the first requisite of civili ation was decidedly Van Hornesque, and the great service he has done the Cubans will not be forgotten, even though the other Van Horne—the railway operator who must make the road pay—has to put rates up higher than the Cubans will like. Sir William may be counted on to see the venture through. He has that rare combination, imagination and the highest executive talent. The Cuban Railway will afford him as much satisfaction as a Teniers or a piece of rare Japanese porcelain, and it will make Cuba a safer country for every one except the professional revolutionist. Sir William will be sixty years of age in February, young enough to build a few more railways.

Talking with a New York Post man the other day, Sir William of the C.P.R. talked largely. "The position of the Canadian Pacific Railway is absolutely unassailable For that reason it is our policy never to oppose anything. We would hail with delight a parallel route for Atlantic to Pacific to help us develop the country. There is enough of it up there for us all."

Again he said that future prospects in the Dominion were bright. "Canada never attains the exuberant heights of prosperity which are noted periodically in the States, nor does she sink so low in hard times. Canada has more of an even temper and prospers industriously all of the time."

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the Inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone erradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. Fashionable Life in Italy.

The fashionable season in Italy, says Luigi Villari in "Italian Life in Town and Country," is from Christmas to Easter, the time generally known as the carnival. At Naples, Messina and some other places there is also a summer season. Commenting on the peculiarities of life among the upper classes, Mr. Villari says:

"Italians, even in the grandest establishments, do not wear evening dress for dinner unless there is a party. A black coat is enough for ordinary purposes. A few men who wish to be particularly fashionable wear a smoking coat with a black tie, which garment is sufficient for all save very large dinner parties and balls. On the other hand, there are occasions when a man dons his dress clothes by day. It is de rigueur at court functions, even in mornings, and at weddings. Ladies wear hats at the theaters except on gala nights. They display more jewelry by day than English ladies. The Italian aristocracy have magnificent jewels, and even in quite small towns, where there is no great wealth, the old families can make a fine display. The tall hat is only necessary at marriages, funerals and at court. Young men of fashion wear it also when paying calls during the season. Among the bourgeoisie evening clothes are hardly ever worn at all."

Two Clever Statesmen.

One crisis in Lord Palmerston's life illustrates the absolute good humor which may prevail even when political enmity is at its worst. Lord Derby had made an attack upon him in the upper house with such energy and eloquence that the odds against him seemed overwhelming. But he defended himself and his policy from the dusk of one day to the dawn of another with such tact, dexterity and force of appeal to the national sense of honor that he was acquitted of all blame by a majority of fourscore.

Next day in passing through the corridor leading from an anteroom to the upper house one swing door opened to his hand and at the same moment the other to that of Lord Derby. They were opponents, but they were also manly and sweet natured men. They smiled.

"I was just thinking," said Palmerston, "what a clever fellow he was who so nearly put me in a hole!"

"Ah," was the rejoinder, "but nothing like the cleverness of the fellow who got you out of it!"

The Wise Deacon.

"Deacon," began the old colored parson, "do you ebeh say, 'Git behind me, Satan?'"

"No, bruddah. Ah do not," said Deacon Green. "Ef Ah told Satan to git behind me, he might stick me when Ah wa'n't lookin'. Ah keeps him right in front whah Ah kin see him."

THE STAY-AT-HOMES

IMPERIAL MINISTERS WHO HAVE NOT SEEN THE WIDE WORLD.

The Untraveled Cabinet—Small Number of Members of British Ministry Have Ever Been in America—Lord Lansdowne and Mr. Chamberlain the Most Traveled Men in Administration—Many Ministers Have Met Made Grand Tour.

Constitutional pedants have sought for a precedent for Mr. Chamberlain's tour. They have found none in this country, says The London Daily Mail, and only one abroad, the latter being that of a French minister who some time ago visited the French West African colonies.

It is curious how few Cabinet Ministers have really traveled extensively, and how still fewer Ministers have visited the lands which they represent in Parliament. This is not Mr. Chamberlain's first tour abroad. He has visited Malta to study the Maltese question, the Bahamas (privately), and America on two or three occasions; in fact, he and Lord Lansdowne are the only two whom Americans seem at all to know as visitors to their shores. Quite recently Major-General Corbis said to a representative of The Daily Mail: "Nothing has struck us more during our visit to this country than the small number of Ministers who have ever visited America."

Other Cabinet Ministers have, however, traveled considerably. The Duke of Devonshire went with Lord Granville to Russia after the Crimean war in 1857, and there is an impression he went to America in his youth. Mr. St. John Brodrick traveled in India, Australia and other British possessions in the early nineties. Mr. A. J. Balfour went on a special mission to Berlin in 1878. Mr. George Wyndham served in the Suakim campaign in 1885, and has visited Rhodesia and Matabeleland. Lord George Hamilton has served abroad in the Rifle Brigade (1864-1868), but has never been to India, which he represents in the Commons. Lord George Hamilton was however, in Canada during a stormy period in the history of the Dominion. Lord Selborne knows Malta and Gibraltar, as does Mr. Arnold-Forster. Lord Dudley has yachted abroad.

The traveled man of the Cabinet is Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. He has been Viceroy of India and Governor-General of Canada. He has been in Egypt and knows Europe well.

Viscount Cranborne, the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, took part in the late campaign in South Africa as a yeomanry officer. Lord Stanley, the Financial Secretary to the War Office, acted as press censor on the same occasion. He is now going to India for the durbar as the guest of Lord Kitchener.

Lord Valentia, Controller of the Household, and the Duke of Marlborough served in South Africa, which Lord Hardwicke, the Under Secretary of War, has also visited. Earl Percy, the Under Secretary of India, has visited India as well as Persia, and has traveled through Asia Minor.

But the Prime Minister, his brother the President of the Board of Trade, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the Home Secretary are in the long-distance sense untraveled.

Of ex-Ministers Lord Salisbury spent some of his earlier life in the goldfields of Australia. As Minister for Foreign Affairs, he accompanied Mr. Disraeli, Prime Minister, to Berlin at the time of the Russia-Turkish war, and returned bringing, in the popular phrase of the time, "Peace with honor."

Lord Goschen administered the affairs of Turkey as British Envoy Extraordinary to Constantinople.

Sir James Fergusson served in the Crimea, and has been Governor of Bombay, as well as a considerable traveler in Australia and America and Canada.

Sir John Gorst visited India before he was Under Secretary of State for that country, and was a schoolmaster in New Zealand prior to serving as Minister of Education in England.

The travelers of the ex-Government are Lord Rosebery, who has done the grand tour; Lord Ripon, who was Governor-General of India; and Sir Walter Foster, who has been to America, Canada and Tunis.

On the whole, it is curious that in these days of immense railway developments men are less traveled than they were 50 years ago. In those days no man ever thought himself equipped for any public life unless he had made the so-called grand tour, which included at any rate every European country.

A GROWING DANGER.

Dyspepsia the Fat'er of Many Ills Unless Promptly Checked and Permanently Cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It is impossible to overestimate the danger of allowing Dyspepsia to go from bad to worse. At first it is simply an uncomfortable feeling, then it grows into a pain, from that to a misery accompanied by the gravest danger to life.

It should be treated right from the start with that one sure cure, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Other medicines may give temporary relief. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets both give relief and cure permanently. Maurice Best, of Southern Harbour, Nfld., relates an experience that demonstrates its effects on the most severe cases.

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for eight years," says Mr. Best, "I was in continual misery. Sometimes I would go off in a faint and for ten or fifteen minutes I would be more dead than alive. The doctors could not cure me and gave me but little help.

"Hearing of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I gave them a trial. The first two boxes I used gave me new life. I am using them now and feel myself a new man. I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am like a great many others, I cannot speak enough in their favour.

"If any one doubts that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia in its worst form let them write me."

An Offhand Answer.

"Who can tell me the meaning of leisure?" asked the teacher.

"It's a place where married people repent," replied the boy at the foot of the class.

Almost Racked to Pieces.

MISS SADIE E. RUSK, OF RUSKVILLE, ONT., HAS A TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Ruskville, Ont., March 1st, 1902.—It affords me much pleasure to testify to the excellency of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. About a year ago I was attacked by a hacking cough. It was so distressing that I was almost racked to pieces by its violence. I saw DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP highly recommended for coughs like mine, so I purchased a bottle, and it completely cured me. I find it equally beneficial for colds in the head, and any obstruction of the nasal passages. It is an excellent preparation, and too much cannot be said in its favor.—Sadie E. Rusk.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP contains all the essential lung healing principles of the pine tree, and is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pain or Tightness of the Chest, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

FILIPINO FUNERALS.

Picturesque For the Rich and Pathetic For the Poor.

One of the most striking things to be seen on the streets of Manila is a Filipino funeral. If the deceased was wealthy and had hosts of friends, the funeral will be headed by a band playing selections from comic operas. The body of the deceased follows in a hearse covered with black cloth arranged in a grewsome design and drawn by six black ponies, each bedecked with headgear of long black feathers. The hearse will be followed by men on foot wearing knickerbockers and cocked hats, and after them follow innumerable vehicles of every description. If the body is to be interred, the gravediggers will precede the band, with their tools over their shoulders.

Most Filipino funerals, however, are more pathetic. The father of a few weeks old baby will trot out to the cemetery entirely alone, with the little white coffin balanced well on his head, and if a man had not the price of a vehicle his remains will be carried out on bamboo poles by four Chinamen, and the coffin will be one that has seen service before.

The natives have different ways of burial. Some bodies are put into the ground, while the larger majority are placed in niches in the wall of the cemetery. A slab cemented into the opening of the niche contains a brief biography of the deceased.

Some Survivals of Fashion.

Man is unquestionably a highly rational being. Still, if you travel and observe, from the mouth of the Danube to the Golden Gate you will find most men wearing a coat with a useless collar marked with a useless V shaped slash and decorated with two useless buttons at the small of the back and one or two more useless buttons at the cuffs. The collar, the slash and the buttons are there in answer to no rational need. It is not a common climate nor a common racial need of protection against climate that they represent, but a common civilization whose form and ritual they mutely confess. Over this entire area those who aspire to be of the Brahman caste deck their heads for wedding, funeral and feast with a black cylindrical covering, suited, so far as we can discern, neither to avert the weapon of the adversary or the dart of the rain nor to provide a seat whereon man may sit and rest himself. And as for the women contained within this same area we behold that the amplitude of the sleeve, the disposition of the belt and the outline of the skirt all obey the rise and fall of one resistless tide which neither moon nor seasons control.—Benjamin Ide Wheeler in Atlantic.

The Certainty of Fate.

The Mohammedans have a fable which they repeat to illustrate the certainty of fate. The Philadelphia Times quotes it as having been told by Mr. Robert Barr, the celebrated novelist.

A sultan was once asked by his favorite, the grand vizier, for permission to leave at once for Smyrna, although a brilliant court fete was then in progress. Upon being asked his reason for such haste the vizier replied:

"Because I just saw the angel of death yonder in the crowd. He looked at me so earnestly that I know he has come for me. I wish to escape him."

"Go! Go at once!" said the sultan, who then beckoned to the angel and asked why the latter had looked so earnestly at the vizier.

"I was wondering," replied the angel of death, "why he was here, for I have orders to kill him in Smyrna."

Nelson's Only Defeat.

Nelson, like all the greatest commanders on sea or land, made his mistakes and his failures, but there is only one instance on record of his having been actually defeated in a direct attack. This occurred at Santa Cruz, in the Canary Islands, on July 24, 1797. The place was very strongly fortified, and Nelson, in the face of a fire of fifty guns from the batteries, attempted to storm the town by boats. The attempt was frustrated by the strength of the mole and the nonappearance of a land force which should have co-operated. A hundred and fifty men were killed and a hundred wounded on the British side, and Nelson lost his right arm. Two flags were also captured, and these are still kept in the cathedral of Santa Cruz.

The Scotch Sunday.

As an instance of the observance of the Sabbath in Scotland, an English paper tells of a postman having a route between Stirling and Blairdrummond. He was observed to ride a bicycle over his six miles on weekdays and to walk the same distance on Sunday, and when asked why he replied that he was not allowed to use the machine on Sunday. An investigation followed, and the postman's explanation proved to be correct.

WRITING THE SERMON.

Friday Is the Minister's Day For Performing This Task.

Probably few of the good people who listen with rapt attention to the sermon which is preached to them each Sunday, says the Denver Post, know that for nearly 300 years Friday has been the time honored day for the pastor to go into his study, write the sermon which is to furnish "food for thought" to the congregation on the following Sunday. In speaking of this custom a clergyman says:

"When Christianity was first promulgated, all preaching was done extemporaneously. Such a thing as preparing a sermon was unknown. Many gifted men expressed their views on various subjects, then added a few words of good advice to their listeners. This practice is still continued in the Roman Catholic church of the present day, and I think that a very limited number of the priests ever write a sermon. Not all ministers, however, adhere to this rule by any means. When Henry Ward Beecher was asked on what day he prepared his sermon, he replied, 'On Sunday morning, of course.'

"'Well, Mr. Beecher, don't you think that is a rather dilatory habit for you to get into?' asked another.

"'Oh, no, not at all,' replied Mr. Beecher in his quick way. 'You see, I look at a sermon like some do on a pancake. They can be served hot or cold, and I like mine hot; that's all.'"

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Constipation.

His Friend Geoffrey.

The following story, told by the Washington Post, leads us to wonder which to condemn first, the boaster or his critics. It concerns a certain man who has a large collection of autographs.

Indeed, the envy and sometimes the skepticism of his friends have been excited by the number of successful authors who have set down familiar and flattering inscriptions in his books. Some carpers have even gone so far as to hint darkly at a similarity of handwriting throughout the collection.

He recently purchased a rare edition of Chaucer, and one evening when a party was gathered at the house the precious book was passed from hand to hand. The owner lost sight of it, but the next morning he found it lying on his library table.

On the fly leaf was inscribed:

"To Jack ——, from his old friend and schoolmate, Geof. Chaucer."

Wit of Horne Tooke.

It is said that Horne Tooke, who excelled in that duellike controversy exhibited by two disputants when pitted against each other with only the breadth of a mahogany board between them, was exceedingly quick and sharp at retort. When he made his most deadly thrusts, it was with a smiling countenance and without seeming effort or emotion. Replying to a man who contended that only landowners should be allowed to vote at elections, he said, "Pray tell me how many acres does it take to make a wiseacre?" When asked by George III. whether he ever played cards, he replied, "I cannot, your majesty, tell a king from a knave." What can be more uniquely comic than his saying to his brother: "You and I, my dear brother, have inverted the laws of nature. You have risen in the world by your gravity, and I have fallen by my levity?"

Itching Piles Most Annoying.

Cause Uneasiness and Often Keen Suffering—There is one Positive Cure—

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is a question whether there is another preparation for sale in this country that is so heartily endorsed by persons who have used it as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Professional and business men and women, farmers, mechanics, railroad men, miners, labourers, all classes of men and women, use and endorse Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only actual cure for piles.

W. E. Talbot, of Talbot Bros., tobacco merchants, 382 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease, and though I tried very many treatments, remained uncured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me, and I find that every word of praise that is given to it is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured, and knowing the misery that this ailment produces, I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Mr. John Harvey, Mayor of Arnprior, Ont., states:—"Only persons who have experienced the torture of itching piles can form any idea of what I suffered from this horrible disease. I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can positively say that it has completely cured me. I had tried very many so-called cures for piles, and can truthfully say that there is no remedy on the face of the earth like Dr. Chase's Ointment for this purpose. I would not be without it for any amount of money, and can heartily recommend it to all sufferers, as it is the best thing I ever used."

Feed Him.

If you want to win the gratitude of a dog, feed him. As to men, the material difference is the quality of the food.

A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market.

When Life is not Life.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

AN "UNKNOW'N" LAND

SOMALI, ODD CORNER OF EASTERN AFRICA, BUT LITTLE KNOWN.

From Time Immemorial It Has Enjoyed an Evil Reputation—Inhabited by a Nomadic Race Descended From the Arabs—Their Strange Religious Beliefs—Why England Must Crush the Mullah.

Britain's latest trouble with the Mad Mullah, by which two British officers and a hundred men were slain, has aroused the foreign office, and a punishing force has been sent to crush that troublesome individual. General W. H. Manning, who will have charge of the affairs in Somaliland, is the principal military officer in the foreign office and secretary of the protectorate of Somaliland. His familiarity with the land of the Mad Mullah augurs ill for the welfare of that fanatic.

Arabs describe as "Dar Agan," or the "Unknown Land," that particular horn of Africa's eastern coast which lies directly opposite Aden, called Somali, and which from time immemorial has enjoyed so evil a reputation that not only has it been avoided by the vast majority of explorers of the Dark Continent, but has likewise in the partition of the latter by the great powers of Europe been left untouched save as regards the coast line, none of them caring to assume the responsibilities of the sovereignty of the hinterland.

There is an Italian, an English, an Abyssinian and a French Somaliland. But the rule of none of these four nations extends beyond the littoral, and as long as there is no undue attempt on the part of the natives of the hinterland to interfere with the trade that finds its outlet and inlet at the various stations on the coast the tribes of the interior are left to fight among themselves as much as they please, and no attempt is made to bring them under subjection.

GEN. W. H. MANNING.

The Somalis are a nomadic race and claim to be descended from fugitive Arabs who, abandoning their own country, landed on the Somali coast, subsequently intermarrying with the local tribes. The dawn of the Somali people coincides with the rise of Mohammed some 1,200 or 1,200 years ago. They, however, do not belong to the true African race, for they reveal no signs of the negroid type and from a slight resemblance in language are believed to be allied to the races of Hindustan.

The religion professed by the Somalis—that is to say, the most fanatical type of Islam—has the effect of keeping them engaged in constant warfare with their neighbors, the Abyssinians, who profess what is probably the lowest class of Christianity. Indeed, one of the most cherished objects of the Somali and, in fact, of all the warlike Mohammedan tribes of that portion of Africa, has been to prevent Abyssinia from securing or retaining possession of a seaport on the northeast coast of the Dark Continent.

This is due to an ancient Mohammedan prophecy, according to which Mecca, the most holy place of Islam, will one day be razed to the ground by the Abyssinians, an event which will be attended by the most disastrous consequences for the whole of the Moslem world.

It is owing to this belief that the British must crush the Mad Mullah, since to leave him unconquered would place them in bad light not only with the Egyptian army, but also in the eyes of 80,000,000 Mohammedans in India.

To abandon Somaliland to his sway would work incalculable damage to her power and prestige in all other Mohammedan countries under her rule. Not only must he be defeated, but crushed absolutely. For in the case of Islam more than in that of any other creed the authenticity of the mahdis and prophets is gauged by the degree of their success against the infidels, and the leaders of any armed religious movement are not relegated to the ranks of false prophets until defeat, capture or death has convinced their coreligionists that they were frauds.

This is the task assigned to General Manning. To assist him he will have the troops already in Somaliland and an extra brigade from India. That he will eventually succeed is certain, but at what cost remains to be seen.

Laziness

The man who is caged in or cooped up day after day without sufficient exercise is sure to suffer for it. Quite often the liver is the first organ which becomes disordered, and constipation, biliousness, sick headache and general physical torpor make life miserable. There's only one way to deal with liver "trouble" and that is to go to the root of the disease, and cure it once for all. Such cures of the disordered or diseased liver almost always follow the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It always helps. It almost always cures. It regulates the liver, strengthens the stomach, and purifies the blood.

"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine made," writes Michael Maher, of Little falls, N. Y. (63 Center St.) "I had yellow jaundice and liver trouble in November, 1900. Was almost dead, lost sixteen pounds in three weeks and my whole body was as yellow as gold, and I was sick at my stomach all the time. I tried three doctors and they gave me tablets and pills and another one some other stuff, but I went to Messrs. O'Rourke and Hurley's drug store and got your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' One bottle cured me and I thank it and God that I am a well man."

Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is nothing "just as good."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps for expense of customs and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Pousett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

M. & M.

Bank of England unchanged. Careful enquiry shows no weak spots in banking situation. H.V. earnings show about seven per cent. on common, after preferred dividend. St. Paul officials say that there is grain enough to keep road busy many months. Some shifting of loans reported. Official crop report shows condition of wheat 98.7, against 98.7, in 1901; and 97.1 in 1900. Vice-president Waller of Atlantic Coast says management of L.N. deem that any advance in L.N. dividends now ill advised. Minn. and St. P. declared semi-annual dividend of 2 1-2 on common and 2 1-2 on preferred payable Jan. 15.

DOW, JONES & CO.

While declines yesterday were severe it is generally believed to have been effected by sacrifice of only weakly held stocks, and is not indicative of wide-spread liquidation, by important interests. The export of gold to Argentine was one of the prominent features and should mean no more than it calls for, and was in fact a shipment against the exchange rate, and by special arrangement; for exports of gold are not profitable at this time. The Venezuela was also prominent but it is not likely to even remotely complicate the United States.

Money rates strong and likely to continue so, and we advise caution until this situation clears.

M. & M.

New York, Dec. 10, 3.30 p.m.—Stock market was expected to show some irregularity to-day, and declines were thought easily possible in some issues, in view of the continued strain in money market, and the loss by the banks to treasury, since Friday, of about $500,000 in excess of same period for last week. This was expected to offset a mild array of satisfactory influence, which seemed to crop out here and there, but later in the day the engagement of $4,500,000 gold for export to South America, and the entire absence of noticeable buying power, effected a decline, which brought out the fact that even with only moderate offerings, the market had no absorbing power, and on transactions of less than 250,000 shares up to 1 p.m., the entire list gave way, with impartial weakness, and no evidence of stability. There was no special news of sufficient importance to justify the course of the market, and the principal explanation offered, is that the extreme narrowness of trading during the recent past, has so completely robbed the market of outside interest, that its present fiend while unexpected in intensity, may mark the beginning of the end of an expected decline. The most important influence on the market, is the financial situation; and its effect on values in near future, when the strain is apt to become more severe than at this time. We do not believe the explanation of market at this time, need puzzle the mind, nor cause serious apprehension.

NESTING WOOD DUCKS.

The Courtship Period Is Followed by a Very Prosaic Married Life.

When a pair of wood ducks find water and a hollow tree to suit, little time is lost in preparing the nest. This task and the covering of the eggs are performed by the female, for, to the best of my knowledge, the male does little more than sit around on handy limbs and look pretty. During the period of nest building and while the duck is laying he is the beau ideal of a handsome and loving cavalier, ever attentive and seemingly most anxious as to her whereabouts should she happen to get out of his sight. But with the waning of the honeymoon he seems to feel rather bored with the whole business, and gradually he gets clubby—i. e., wanders from his own fireside and hunts up another drake or two to help him loaf away the summer. The busy little duck keeps her own counsel and "sits tight" on the dozen or more highly polished ivorylike eggs crowded together in a bed of soft decayed wood and down from her breast.

Quite frequently the nest is at the bottom of a hollow several feet deep, and no doubt the strong, hooked claws of the wood duck are a special provision for the oft repeated climbing out of the hollow.—Edwyn Sandys in Outing.

Faithful to the Last.

In many Scotch families the old manservant is a permanent institution. He enters the service of a family when he is a boy, sticks to his place and resigns only when the infirmities of age are upon him. Naturally he grows in time to claim as rights what were at first granted him as favors and if he is opposed asserts himself with a spirit of independence. An English paper tells a story illustrative of this.

A lady's coachman, a crusty old fellow, who had been in the service of the family in her father's time, gave her great trouble and annoyance on several occasions by not carrying out her instructions. At length his conduct became unbearable, and she determined to dismiss him. Calling him into her presence, she said with as much asperity as she could command:

"I cannot stand this any longer, John. You must look out for another situation. You will leave my service at the end of the month."

The old servant looked at her in amusement for a minute, and then the characteristic "loyalty" came to the surface.

"Na, na, my lady," he said. "I drove you to the kirk to be baptized, I drove you to your marriage, and I'll stay to drive you to your funeral."

A School of Poisoners.

A merciless school of poisoners once flourished in Venice. During the fifteenth century even the government of the state used poison without any disguise as a weapon. A body called "the council of ten" was appointed to determine who should be dispatched, and they dealt with the lives of princes, kings and popes as one would deal with superfluous trees in a wood. A curious document is still extant in which the proceedings of this council are recorded. It shows that one John of Ragusa prepared a selection of poisons and scale of fees. The fee varied with the importance of the victim and the length of the journey to be made for his dispatch. For poisoning the Duke of Milan he charged 60 ducats, for the pope 100 ducats, for the king of Spain 150 ducats, for the "great sultan" 500 ducats.

GREAT TRAIN SPEED

WHAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED IN ENGLAND ON DIFFERENT TRACKS.

Why the "Pneumatic Despatch," Which Attained 70 Miles an Hour, Was Discontinued—The Fastest Run Made by the Early Broad Gauge Train in 1848—Speed of Electric Engines.

Absurd Munchausen yarns are still repeated about the feats of the early broad gauge "flyers" which are traditionally supposed to have made 80, 90 and 100 miles per hour in every-day working, while there is the legend that Paddington to Bristol, 118¼ miles, was once covered by a light locomotive in sixty minutes.

Concerning the latter, we believe that it is true that the driver offered to attempt the feat, provided the company would pension his wife and children if he met with disaster, but the proposal was vetoed. Now, the sober fact about these eight-foot singles, the "Iron Duke," "Great Britain," etc., is that when subjected to exhaustive speed trials in 1848 by Brunel and Gooch they never once exceeded a rate of speed of 78.2 miles per hour, or a mile in forty-six seconds, and this maximum speed was only attained down falling gradients of one in 100. Between 1847 and 1850 the narrow-gauge champions constructed several locomotives, notably the "Cornwall," with 8¼ foot single deivers, which were alleged to have made seventy-nine miles per hour on trial trips, but their speed indications are open to suspicion, inasmuch as they were not conducted in the same cheerful and scientific manner as on the broad gauge.

There can be no doubt, however, that during the battle of the gauges, a number of remarkable engines were constructed, simply to attain excessive speed and to show what could be done on this or that gauge. Some of these which did well on trial trips, subsequently proved quite unsuitable for ordinary traffic. Then there was the rival system of atmospheric traction, Samuda patent, with experimental lines at Dalkey and Croydon, and on which the South Devon Railway was worked for the first half year on 1848. Marvelous tales were published about the speed attained with this system, in which the vacuum pipe formed a kind of "third rail," and the train was "horsed" by a piston carriage. On the Croydon and South Devon lines the speed of seventy miles an hour was frequently attained, and this, be it noted, on very short runs; but difficulties in connection with the working of the valve and maintenance of the vacuum, and above all, the fact that stationary engine, exhausting a tube, could never operate a railway with anything like the economy or the convenience of locomotives, caused the abandonment of the "pneumatic despatch."

The fastest run ever made by an early broad gauge train occurred in May, 1848, when the "Great Britain," with a load consisting of four coaches and a van, covered the fifty-three miles from Paddington to Didcot in forty-seven minutes, speed 70.6. Assuming the timing to have been correct, though the absence of odd seconds is suspicious, this is still the record for a platform-to-platform run in this country. However, in 1853 Gooch's "flyers" were surpassed for speed by some ten-wheeled bogie tanks, with single drivers of nine feet in diameter, on the Bristol and Exeter line. These engines attained a speed of 81.8 miles per hour, or a mile in forty-four seconds.

Nearly twenty years elapsed before their record was beaten by the eight-foot "singles," designed by Mr. Stirling for the Great Northern. The new leviathans achieved their maximum with a speed of 83.7, and some years later Great Western, Northeastern and Midland engines did as well. During the "race" to Aberdeen a speed of 85.7 miles per hour was touched, while in the following year a Northwestern eggine covered a mile in 42.8 seconds, giving a speed of 88.2. Lastly, in 1897, a Midland "single" driver attained ninety miles per hour. This Midland achievement so I understand, still forms the speed record for the railways of this country, but it has been surpassed in the United States.

The statement that in 1893 the "Exposition Flyer" attained speeds equivalent to 112 miles per hour must be accepted with the proverbial grain of salt. However, on the face of their inclusive timings, at nearly seventy miles per hour, there is no reason to doubt that the "Atlantic City Flyers" do, as they say they do, frequently cover a few miles at speeds between ninety and ninety-seven miles per hour. The transatlantic loading gauge, which permits of engines with far larger boilers and fire boxes than ever here, would be sufficient to account for the American "racers" just beating the British.

At ordinary speeds everything worked perfectly, and, indeed, no fault could be found throughout with the electric transformers and conductors. But when a speed of eighty-one miles per hour was exceeded, the track proved too light for the strain. The highest speed attained was 99.4 miles per hour, and, as a result of the perilous conditions then developed, the experiments were discontinued. The really important fact brought out by the trials was that, owing to the crushing weight of the blows delivered by the wheels of the electric locomotive, whose heavier working parts were hung upon the axles, instead of being carried on springs, German railways could not be adapted to a system of high-speed electrical traction, without being practically rebuilt. The same rule holds good, though to a lesser extent, on British and American railways. But the engineering axiom is that railways are not built to suit engines, engines must be built to suit railways. The fastest speed now attained on any electrically worked railway is fifty miles per hour—namely on the "Baltimore Belt," where electrical locomotives, weighing ninety-five tons, make this speed through a tunnel on an up grade of 1 in 125.

Lastly, there is the mono-rail system, which promises better, owing to the fact that the cars cannot be derailed. There has been so much glib talk about mono-rail "projects," with trains running at speeds of from 100 to 200 miles per hour, that most people believe that such enormous rates of speed are accomplished facts. But the mono-rail has been tried only twice in practice, and each time on an experimental line only three miles long. In 1897 a car, weighing sixty tons, and equipped with four electric motors of 200-horse power each, attained a speed of sixty-five miles per hour. The trials were continued in 1898 with a lighter car and perfected generating plant, when the highest speed officially recorded was at the rate of eighty-three miles per hour on a curve of 540 yards radius, while Mr. Behr claimed that 100 miles per hour was exceeded in the straight.

However, no train in England, France or America has ever approached the speed attained at Tervueren, Brussels, where this experimental line was laid, on such a severe curve.—London Daily Mail.

THE MOP FAIR.

England's Best Danger—Character of the People Is Being Undermined.

"I think these people speak very countrified—not at all like Londoners." Such was the deliverance of a son of Abraham who got into the carriage with me at the Stratford-on-Avon station and threw down the pack which he had been carrying on his back.

"These people" were from Birmingham, or Birmingham, on Burnagum, or Brumagem, as they variously called it. They, like the packman and myself, had been attracted to the Mop Fair, widely advertised by the railways. What a Mop Fair was I did not know (writes a correspondent of The Toronto Globe from Shakespeare's home town), but the words of a woman who passed me in the crowd near Shakespeare's house accurately express my present feelings:—"I wanted to see a Mop, but, now that I have seen it, I shall never come again."

I have been present at many a fair in Germany, and, notwithstanding the beer-drinking reputation of the people, never have I seen crowds of people so given over to besotment. Indeed, I can go further and say that I have never seen even one drunken man (or woman) at a German Fair. The amusements provided were much the same in both countries, but the one aim of many of the Englishmen seemed to be to get drunk. Even in the most respectable restaurant I could find in the town I heard a young woman say to her companions (also young women): "Now that we have had our tea, and a good one, at a reasonable price, the next thing is to get drunk." Presumably they attained their desire.

But for this horrid spectacle on every side, the visit to the poetic, picturesque old town would have been a pleasure without alloy. At it was, there were not wanting, even among the humblest of the people, those who strolled along the lanes and pathways to Ann Hathaway's quaint cottage, to see the settle on which she and Will Shakespeare sat side by side three hundred years ago, together with all the curious bits of antique furniture collected there. Many strolled down the winding street to see the room in which the poet is said to have been born, and looked with interest at the portraits of him and the editions of his works therein contained. Not a few wended their way to the beautiful old church in which he and his lie buried, and read over once more the quaint lines upon his tomb that place under the ban for evermore those who may disturb his bones.

A delightful change it was from the excitement of the fair and the booming of the steam organs, which necessarily disregarded the injunction of the town authorities "not to play in a manner objectionable to the public." One wondered if Sydney Smith had frequented only the society of Scotchmen! I got much amusement out of a workingman who had paid his sixpence to see Ann Hathaway's cottage. (You can't see anything without sixpence in Stratford except the river.) He looked at a grandfather's clock and other things, and then proceeded to tell me in detail how superior a similar article of respectability was that he and in his own home.

Old-fashioned fare was provided in the shape of oxen, sheep and pigs in plenty, roasted whole on spits in the public streets. Portions were served, with vegetables and bread, at a shilling each. Merry-go-rounds of sumptuous make were provided for young and old. Shooting galleries tempted ladies and gaitered clergymen to try their skill with people of humbler condition. The heads that served as targets were labelled Kruger, Steyn and Reitz. Boys and girls, as well as men and women, threw balls at cocoanuts and lost their pennies through missing the mark. Happy was the urchin who made doubles at one shot, the keepers of the booths promising to exchange bad nuts for good ones. Punch and Judy delighted all ages, as they have ever done, and all manner of sweets were temptingly displayed in the booths. Wares useful and useless beguiled people into parting with their money, and a man who promised a watch or a half-sov. to those who could swing a ball at the end of a string so as to knock down a ninepin on the way back proved, with evident satisfaction to himself, the truth of his refrain, "If you don't speculate, you'll never cumulate." Pennies, sixpences and shillings flowed into his coffers abundantly, but few watches or golden coins passed into the hands of his willing customers. He would give them free chances, and they would succeed in knocking down the pin, but whenever they paid their penny they failed. And yet, as he said, he played fair.

A DEFIANT ATTITUDE

Venezuelans Will Resist the Foreigh Foes Assailing.

NAVY IS FAST DISAPPEARING.

British and German Consuls at Puerto Cabello Are Under Arrest—People Are Armed With Mauser Rifles and Seem Determined Upon Fighting —Release of Prisoners—The Matter in British Hands.

La Guayra, Venezuela, Dec. 11. — Gen. Ferrer, the Minister of War, has arrived here with 2,000 troops. Eight hundred men, under President Castro's brother, are expected here at 10 o'clock. Only the British cruiser Indefatigable is now here. She is at anchor in the middle of the harbor. All the other warships have left La Guayra.

The Government has sent 2,000 men and 18 guns from Caracas to reinforce the garrison at La Guayra. These troops are camping to-night at Cuaracuti, distant one hour from La Guayra. All day and night ammunition has been carried to Fort Lavigia, which crowns the harbor, and preparations are being made to resist the foreign forces. Volunteers to the number of 926 men, all from La Guayra, have been armed to-day, and more are requesting arms. It is asserted here that the Government can find sufficient men to resist the foreign forces, as the movement is popular. Everywhere one meets men of all classes and conditions carrying Mauser rifles.

Rushing at Venezuela.

Halifax, Dec. 12.—The Italian warship Carlos Alberto, which was at Sydney, C.B., with Marconi on board, received orders yesterday from the Italian Government to proceed at once to Venezuela to protect the Italian subjects. The warship got steam on as soon as possible and left Sydney harbor last night at full speed.

Seized British Vessel.

London, Dec. 12.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, dated Dec. 11, says: "The Venezuela authorities at Puerto Cabello are fortifying that town. They have seized and imprisoned the British and German consuls there, as well as other British and German subjects, and have taken possession of their property. The authorities also seized a British steamer, which was discharging a cargo of coal at Puerto Cabello; this vessel was unable to escape owing to a breakdown in her machinery. The American consul at Puerto Cabello attempted to intervene, but he was disregarded."

The British consul at Puerto Cabello is R. Kloster. The German consular representative is P. Tiedie. L. T. Ellsworth is the American consul.

Two of the Prizes Sunk.

London, Dec. 12.—In the House of Commons yesterday Under Foreign Secretary Cranborne confirmed the reports of the capture of three Venezuelan vessels at La Guayra, and the disablement of a fourth vessel without resistance, and also confirmed the capture of the Venezuelan gunboat Bolivar at Port of Spain, Trinidad. Two of the prizes, he added, were sunk.

The Under Secretary announced also that the British Vice-Consul at La Guayra and some women and children were taken on board a British man-of-war yesterday evening, and added that it was reported that President Castro held the British and German prisoners as hostages.

The Prisoners Released.

Washington, Dec. 12.—U. S. Minister Bowen, at Caracas, in a cablegram to the State Department, dated yesterday, confirms the press reports that all the German and British prisoners have been released.

Seized a French Boat.

Paris, Dec. 12.—A lengthy official despatch has been received at the Foreign Office here from Caracas, saying that the boats of the German warships in seizing the vessels supposed to belong to Venezuela, also captured a French merchant steamer, the Ossun. It is believed that unless the Germans promptly rectify the mistake and release the Ossun, representations on the subject will be made to Germany.

General Standing Order.

London, Dec. 12.—A despatch to a news agency from Devonport, says instructions have been received there that warships of the first-class reserve be kept coaled and ready for sea at 24 hours' notice.

Serious If Castro Continues

London, Dec. 12.—Up to a late hour last night the Foreign Office was still without further official news regarding the situation in Venezuela.

While there is no confirmation of the rumors of fighting in La Guayra etc., the newspapers this morning are beginning to show a keener appreciation of the serious possibilities involved by President Castro's continued defiance. This feeling will hardly be lessened by a report that a British vessel has been seized at Puerto Cabello, and it is shown in the eager demands upon the Government to present in Parliament documents explaining the grounds for its action, so that the country be no longer in doubt as to what provocation the Government has received.

Some of the Plunder.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, Dec. 12.—The Venezuelan troopship Zamora and the Venezuelan coastguard vessel Veinto Tres de Mayo were captured in the Gulf of Para and taken yesterday morning to Port of Spain, Trinidad, by the British sloop of war Alert.

United States Official Clears This Country From Disease.

Ithaca, N.Y., Dec. 12.—Dr. James Law of Cornell Veterinary College, who for the past few weeks has been working in conjunction with the Federal authorities for the suppression of the foot and mouth disease among the cattle of New England, said it was practically certain that the contagion did not originate at Alberta, Canada, as was first supposed. A rigid examination of the docks at Montreal indicated that the disease did not come from Canada.

GREAT WINTER FAIR

Has Outgrown Itself and Will Need Still Larger Quarters.

ANOTHER BIG DAY AT GUELPH.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Hon. John Dryden and Mr. J. P. Whitney Among the Speakers at the Banquet—The Dairy Cattle Prize List—The Leicester Breeders' Association—The Poultry Officers.

Guelph, Dec. 12.—The Winter Fair continues to attract large crowds. The attendance has proven so heavy that the facilities for handling the visitors have proven rather unsatisfactory. This refers especially to the means of egress and ingress. The one entrance is also only exit, and the great crowds are constantly on the move, frequently completely blocking the door. The officers assert that the big enterprise has outgrown its present quarters, in spite of the addition of several thousand square feet of space for this season.

The Annual Banquet.

The banquet given by the Guelph Fat Stock Club was attended by over 200 distinguished stockmen and scientific men from all parts of the world. Among those present who made speeches were Hon. Sydney Fisher and J. P. Whitney, K. C., Hon. John Dryden, Prof. Mills, J. P. Downey, M.P.P., and others.

Poultry Addre.

The poultry fanciers of Canada met in the Council Chamber yesterday morning and listened to a number of addresses. C. J. Daniels, of Toronto spoke on "The Incubator." W. R. Graham of the Ontario Agricultural College spoke on "The Result of Experiments Conducted by the Poultry Department of the Institution." He said that the use of cooked food had been found bad for poultry and resulted in indigestion and death in many cases. The best feed they had found was composed of 60 per cent. fine ground oats, 15 per cent. cornmeal, 15 per cent. barley meal and 10 per cent. shorts moistened with milk. This was the ideal food. The birds fed cooked food brought but 9 cents a pound when they should have brought 15 cents.

F. C. Hare of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa spoke on the destitution of poultry in the Maritime Provinces.

Poultry Association Officers.

The following were yesterday elected officers of the Poultry Association: President, William McNeill, London; vice-presidents, W. T. Burn, Tilsonburg, and John Crowe, Guelph; secretary and treasurer, A. P. Westervelt, Toronto.

FATAL STORMS.

Four Schooners, One With a Crew of Ten, Lost Off the Newfoundland Coast—Large Steamer Ashore.

St. John's Nfld., Dec. 12.—Furious snow storms continue to sweep the Newfoundland coast. Four more schooners have been lost, one with her entire crew of ten persons. The other three vessels have been driven to sea and are believed to be in great danger. Trains and steamers are delayed and there have been a number of fatalities throughout the colony.

It is rumored that a large steamer is ashore at Grand Manan. It may be the overdue Corinthian.

YANKEES ANXIOUS FOR RECIPROCITY

National Convention Adopts Resolutions in That Behalf Before Adjourning.

Detroit, Dec. 12.—The delegates to the National Reciprocity Convention yesterday afternoon adopted resolutions and adjourned sine die.

The resolutions adopted are as follows:

"Resolved, that we re-affirm the resolutions adopted at the first convention of this league at Chicago, which embrace in their scope the general principle of reciprocity, and the establishment of liberal fair trade relations with all the nations of the world.

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this convention that the government of the United States should take immediate steps to secure closer and more advantageous trade relations with Canada, and that reciprocal relations beneficial to both countries should preferably follow the general lines of the removal by both countries of the duties on natural products of each and such mutual extensions of the free list, and reductions and changes of the duties on the manufactured products of both, as will give to each as low a rate of duty as is given to any other country. Accordingly, we earnestly urge upon Congress that action to this end be taken at once, either by reconvening the joint high commission for the sole purpose of negotiating a reciprocity treaty with Canada, or by adopting such other method as to Congress may seem best.

G.T.R. IS CULPABLE.

Railway Contributed to Triple Fatality at Grimsby Sunday Night.

Grimsby, Dec. 12.—The inquest held by Coroner Dr. Goodman on the G.T.R. fatality of Sunday night was finished yesterday. The following is the jury's verdict:

"That Miss M. Hughes, Gertie Hafner and H. M. Bready came to their death on the evening of Sunday, the 7th December, 1902, at the Depot street crossing of the G.T.R., in the village of Grimsby, at 8.35 p.m., by being struck by the locomotive of the westbound express; No. 17, of the G.T.R.

"The jury further finds that the fatality was due to culpable neglect of the authorities of the G.T.R. Co. in not providing gates or night watchmen and lights at the said crossing to safeguard the lives of people crossing the thoroughfare on which five tracks of the said railway are now laid. The jury are of the opinion that the Legislative and municipal representatives of the County of Lincoln should take immediate steps to compel the G.T.R. authorities to adopt proper precautionary measures to prevent the occurrence of similar fatalities in the future."

KILLED BY ACCIDENT.

Farmer Held Gun by Muzzle and Pounded the Ground.

Sparta, Dec. 12. — George Berry, aged 35 years, who lives on Archie Montgomery's farm, Lake road, met with a fatal accident yesterday afternoon. He was moving to the Welding farm, on the Gravel road, near St. Thomas, and started with a sleigh-load of household effects and upset a couple of miles from home. He then concluded to return home and get his wagon, which he did, and got everything loaded on the wagon, with the exception of a clock and his gun, when Mr. Gilroy came along and was talking with him, Mr. Berry holding the gun with the stalk resting on the ground, and, while talking, was raising it up and down from the frozen ground, when it accidentally discharged. The whole charge entered his right cheek below the eye, making a hole one and a half inches in diameter, and killing him instantly. He leaves a wife and two small children, who have the sympathy of the neighbors and friends.

CONGRESS BAR-ROOM NO MORE.

Senate Agrees to a Bill to Prevent Sale of Liquor.

Washington, Dec. 12.—In the Senate yesterday the House provision in the Immigration Bill to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors within the Capitol building was agreed to, much to the discomfiture of its authors. It is a fact, although perhaps not generally known, that no hard liquor is sold in the Senate restaurant, although at the House end of the building a modern up-to-date bar-room is in full blast every day of the week except Sunday.

ONTARIO MADE STEEL RAILS.

A somewhat nice question arises in regard to the relation of the Clergue Steel Works, at the "Soo," to a contract for the supply of steel rails for the Ontario Government Temiscaming Railway. Unprejudiced public opinion favours the awarding of the contract to the Clergue mills. The two industries concerned — the steel mills and the railway — are interdependent to the extent that they represent the policy of development of the resources of New Ontario. It seems to be true, that the German rail-makers can, or do, supply rails more cheaply than they can be produced in this country. But the spirit of the Government conditions attached to railway subsidies, is that Canadian rail-makers should have a preference in the matter of the supply, on the condition that they be supplied as cheaply as from other sources. But in this connection it seems that there should be no objection to the waiving of this condition in regard to the Government railway. The price placed by the German makers is not a legitimate price—it is a slaughter price, and is said to be much lower than the price at which the same rails would be supplied to German railways. The price is said to be even lower than cost, and the price may be temporary, due to momentary conditions. Besides the Temiscamingue Railway is a Government enterprise, and the cost of building is to be realized out of the proceeds of the public domain. The building of the railway itself will tend to vastly increase the value of public lands, which would be comparatively of far less value than they would be without the facilities of development which this railway and other railways will supply. The rails, if procured from the "Soo" works may cost a little more, but the surrounding conditions seem to amply justify their purchase. The "Soo" steel works represent the expenditure of vast sums of money—millions—of which this province has the advantage in the employment of labour and the expenditure of money for supplies. They also represent a vast benefit in the future if the conditions are provided by which their continued operation can be made possible. The rails supplied by a Canadian establishment may cost a little more, but the additional cost will all be incurred in Canada. The money will all be expended here; whereas, if a somewhat cheaper price is offered by the German rail makers, the entire money will be taken out of the country and the people of Canada—the working men, the merchants and the manufacturers, whose interests are promoted by the operation of the Ontario Steel Works, will be deprived of that much benefit, that much expenditure, which will go to enrich a foreign country. If an Order-in-Council were passed imposing a prohibitory tariff upon outside steel rails, the result would be precisely the same. If we are not prepared to adopt that measure we are in a position to give Canadian made rails the preferance by purchasing them for the Temiscamingue railway. The Germans glut the home market by over-production, and sell their rails below cost in order to dispose of them, and no doubt the temper of the people of Ontario will uphold the Government in ordering the rails for the people's railway from—practically—ourselves. It is hardly questionable that the benefits to the province implied in the employment of labour, use of supplies, etc., etc., in the production of rails for the Temiscamingue railway will more than counter-balance any extra cost over the price of German rails which the Ontario product might represent. Moreover we would be encouraging home industries, and aiding in the development of our natural resources, two conditions which will doubtless far more than counter-balance the temporary advantages, which might accrue from permitting a Government work—a people's work—being used as a medium for making this province a slaughter market for German greed, represented by selling rails at less than cost. "Made in Canada" is far more Canadian than "Made in Germany," whether applied to steel rails or other products. Right thinking citizens of Ontario will doubtless take a generous view of any action that will lead to the laying of an Ontario railway with metals made in Ontario.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Yukon has a good man for its first representative in the House of Commons. Mr. Ross was born in London, but he got away quite young, and he has had a good political training in the Northwest. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, says the Hamilton Times, will not try to spring any cock-and-bull stories about the Yukon, when J. H. Ross is present.

The Experimental Union, which is holding its 24th annual meeting at Guelph in connection with the Winter Fair, has been aptly named by Hon. Mr. Dryden a work of college extension. The union has, the Globe thinks, rendered excellent service in introducing improved varieties of grain and root crops, and its influence is extending as its aims become better known.

NOT QUITE, BUT NEARLY.

Montreal Herald.

The Ontario vote for prohibition turns out to be half as much again as was indicated the first day, the outlook now being that something like 160,000 votes were polled in its favour. The Legislature ruled that 212,000 votes would be enough to justify applying the law. The temperance people are therefore very apt to comfort themselves by propounding a problem in these terms: If 212,000 votes would justify the experiment of prohibition, what advance on the present position is justified by the actual vote of 160,000? Indeed those of the shrewder sort are already proclaiming that the vote is a condemnation of the bar-room, are claiming that the vote in the cities shows the people to be anxious to get rid of the bar, and are calling for legislation to that effect.

It is urged that the next move ought to be to get rid of the saloon licenses, and to have liquor sold only under shop license. It is open to question which class of license is more to be reprobated by ardent temperance people, but it is not very likely that ardent temperance people will be likely to have all their own way in the great cities, where the clientele of the saloons is large, considers itself as good in point of citizenship as the rest of the population, and would strenuously resist a summary denial of its right to the customary beverage in homoeopathic doses. The only way in the long run to get at the saloon, is to educate the people, and to make desultory drinking unfashionable, and thereby make the catering to it unprofitable. Mankind, however, takes a deal of converting in this matter, and the temperance zealots will not make much of driving the people faster than they are willing to be led. Still the great vote polled last week does indicate that the people are disposed to restrain the traffic as much as possible, and this disposition, so manifested, is likely to be humoured in the legislation of the near future.

The world is full of sickly, dispondent, tired, enervated people, all hoping to be well some day. The surest road to health is along the way of taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone is a great appetizer and enables one to eat plenty of wholesome food without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia. This results in the rapid formation of an abundance of red, vitalising blood, which will restore the nerves, increase flesh and vigor, and nourish and feed every organ of the body. Ferrozone is an ideal restorative and invigorant. It is a tonic of unequalled merit that anyone can use with benefit. Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at Ormond & Walsh's.

INSTRUCTION IN FORESTRY.

Economic Advantages it Will Confer Upon Ontario.

The Province Behind the States and European Countries in the Science of Fe petuating its Forest Wealth.

Hon. Richard Harcourt, Minister of Education, in discussing the proposed School of Forestry, in connection with the University of Toronto ,said that several years ago the conclusion had been reached that Ontario ought to follow in the wake of Yale and Cornell, and do something in this direction, for two reasons: first, that forestry is recognized as a subject in the course of every thoroughly equipped university; and secondly, because of the great economies that would ensue from such a course, especially in a young and undeveloped country with respect to its natural resources. A variation of opinion with regard to its location, had delayed matters somewhat, the contention being advanced that the Ontario Agricultural College was obviously the proper place for such a subject to be taught. The University of Toronto, however, teaches very efficient botany, natural history, and allied sciences, and the expense might therefore be minimized by establishing the chair of forestry in connection with the university.

Therefore, it had been arranged, subject to the approval of the Government, that the chair shall be established at the university, but that the occupant of it shall conduct a long summer term at the Agricultural College. Mr. Harcourt added that the Government was agreed that the economic value of such a school is of the first importance to the Province, as it was realized that it was not only on the question of how best to take care of the existing forest and of the best time for selling matured timber, but on the big question of reforestry, that Ontario would profit, and also because of the instruction which would be given to those who have orchards. The whole province would benefit also from a revenue standpoint. Ontario, he said, is behind the States in this respect, and far behind many European countries in this work, which has now been carried far beyond the tentative stage, and has attained the dignity of a science.

SOUR STOMACH (Acid Dyspepsia)

Now Recognised as the Cause of Serious Diseases.

Acid Dyspepsia, commonly called heart burn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to properly digest it the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour ,burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic, and being an every day occurrence, is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal, many people do nothing for the trouble.

It is now well known among able physicians that the whole constitution is gradually undermined and weakened, that the nerves and vital organs are seriously affected by any form of dyspepsia. This is plain, as every organ, every nerve in the body, is nourished by the blood, and the blood is replenished from the food digested. If the food is properly digested, the blood is pure, the nerves steady, but if supplied from a sour, fermenting, decaying mass the blood is vitiated, poisoned, and the result is shown in sleeplessness, lack of energy, poor appetite, nervousness. Every trifle is magnified, and the dyspeptic sees nothing but the dark side of everything.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and it is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

It is not claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia and stomach weakness in its various forms, but for this it has been shown to be unequalled. The eminent specialists, Reed and O'Leary, have recently stated that they considered Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets an unfailing specific for disorders of the digestive organs, and the remarkable cures made in cases of long standing dyspepsia proves that this remedy has extraordinary merit.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package, and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion, strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

THE FARMER, KING IN ONTARIO

The Farming Industry in This Province Represents one Billion Dollars.

Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, at the public meeting in connection with the Winter Fair at Guelph, dwelt on the importance of the industry of agriculture, which in the United States represented twenty billion dollars, in investment, or five times the amount invested in manufacturing, of 81 per cent of which it was the basis. In Ontario it represented one billion dollars, or twice as much in proportion to population. During the last four years the live stock in Ontario had increased in value $36,000,000, and the sales from the farms of live stock and their products had increased in the same period eighteen million dollars. In that there was a clue to our recent prosperity. In the development of the west we would be behind in grain growing, but the conditions were favourable if the industry was properly developed to make this province the greatest live stock section in North America.

A Family Necessity.

"Owing to artificial modern life almost every person suffers more or less from constipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys ,and as Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement they have come to be considered a family necessity. Hosts of families would not think of being without them. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box.

A LETTER ON STOCK AND FOODS

A Practical Man Gives his Views on the Subject.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — In writing on a subabove, it requires an experimental knowledge of each particular line, or part of the meat industry, where there is so much capital involved, and so much interest taken in the well-being and health of each individual or family in the country.

The greatest care should be taken in selecting well bred, healthy stock in poultry, sheep, hogs and cattle. First-class stock of all kinds cost less to feed and are not so much subject to disease, a more profitable and better investment for the purchaser, and in every way more satisfactory as a business enterprise.

In handling stock for a number of years we came in contact and learned of numerous kinds of disease, more especially in ill-bred, poorly-fed, inferior classes of all kinds of stock, that from a standpoint of health are entirely useless.

In uniting quality and profit you will be able to select the best kinds. For instance, the White Leghorn and Plymouth Rock hens crossed are the best for eggs and the table; hogs, the Tamworth and Yorkshire White; sheep, Shropshire, Leicester, and Cotswold, for quantity; cattle, Devon, Hereford and Durham for beef, Holsteins for profit.

But in all these classes unless strict attention is paid to regular feeding, and with the right kind of food, to each animal, there will not not be a profitable result.

A hog is a swine pig still. The turkey is a very healthy, and fine class of fowl. The raising, packing and shipping of fowl is becoming quite a business in this country, and has already attained to quite large proportions, Eels and the lower kind of fish are not fit for use.

In the study of food for the human race there is a varied difference of taste and opinion in regard to which is the best. Beef is the best article of food; it is the most called for, and is the most nourishing of all meats. A great deal less of the best kind or quality will answer the same purpose. Turnips should not be used to finish feeding beef cattle, as they affect the beef meats, which are very susceptible to taint, and will, to some extent, taste of the kind of food the cattle are fed on. Special attention should therefore be paid to the kind of food given hogs, sheep or cattle in preparing them for the market. Hogs especially should be fed and finished on grain. All kinds of stock should be fed regular in order to give the best results. It costs more to feed a poor breed of stock than thoroughbreds in any class of animal.

Fish, when they are properly handled and the right kind, are a very necessary kind of meat. Fowl is a healthy class of food if properly prepared, also lamb, veal, mutton and venison. They are very strengthening and wholesome in their season.

In selecting fish, fowl or wild birds every caution should be taken to guard against infusion. forbidden class, which in anyway are not fit for use.

In purchasing food product it is best to choose the leading articles. Those who study health generally are careful as to what they eat. The best articles have the largest sale, the highest standard brands are household words; you make no mistake in choosing the very best.

Vegetables have their use, and are a very healthy article of food. But to those whose labours are incessant there is nothing better to sustain life and vigour than real good, well cooked meat of some of the best kinds of fowl, venison or beef. Poor classes of meat are very injurious, especially to children. They are full of disease, and only fit for carnivorous animals to eat.

Fruit, vegetables, meat, milk, well cooked cereals, tea, coffee and pure wine are among the necessaries of life. The dressing of small, young lambs is premature and a useless waste. Animals for the meat market should not be overheated or chased by untrained dogs. It has the same effect as the hound over chasing the deer, making it unfit for use.

All kinds of meat ought to be in first class order before attempting to cure it, because it cannot be brought back to its natural healthy state by any strong drugs, which are very injurious to children. Our motto should be to have the best.

There is nothing to be gained or saved by purchasing poor meat of any kind, especially animals that are in anyway diseased. They are not fit for even a second class article of food.

Leading dealers in live stock and meats in Canada, United States and Great Britain have very large and expensive business to carry on, which calls for a daily expenditure of a large amount of money that must benefit all classes. There is a great amount of cash capital passing through hands in the meat business that the farmer and the townspeople receive a direct benefit from.

Apart from the fishing industry of this country (in which there is expended millions of dollars every year.) We have in this Canada of ours facilities still for a greater, better and more profitable class of stock, and a better method of feeding dressing and curing all classes of animal product.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Rings, Brooches, Earrings, Lockets, Scarf Pins, Links, and many other articles appropriate for presents. Antique gold finished and enamelled effects are highest in favor.

WATCHES.

TO A LIBERAL LEADER

Nova Scotians Banquet Hon. Mr. Fielding at Halifax.

A NOTABLE GATHERING INDEED

Tributes From Colleagues and Friends—A Most Cordial and Enthusiastic Wire from Sir Wilfrid Laurier—The Minister of Finance Speaks of Great Achievements of Six Years of Liberal Rule.

Halifax, Dec. 12. — Nova Scotia last night paid a signal tribute to one of her most brilliant sons. Hon. William S. Fielding, who for nearly a quarter of a century has led his party to victory after victory, was the honored guest at a complimentary banquet tendered him at the Queen's Hotel by the Liberals of Nova Scotia. It was a remarkable tribute to a public man. Since the days of Joe Howe, the great tribune of the people, no Nova Scotian has had such a hold upon the hearts of the people as W. S. Fielding. At the age of 34 he entered the Provincial Legislature. Two years later, in 1884, he became Premier of his native Province, and to-night, at the age of 54, he is Finance Minister of Canada. He was the recipient of an ovation rarely accorded to a Canadian politician.

Nova Scotia's Premier presided, and at his side were four Dominion cabinet ministers, who had come from Ottawa to join in the testimonial to their colleague, while around the board were men of prominence and learning in every department of the life of Nova Scotia. Nearly three hundred were present.

At his left were: Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia; Hon A G Blair, Minister of Railways; Hon M Ross, M P; C F Millidge, M P; Col Thompson, M P, Haldimand, Ont.

Letters and telegrams paying glowing tributes to Mr. Fielding were read from Sir Wm. Mulock, Hon. Messrs. Sutherland, Fitzpatrick, Sifton and Fisher, Premier Ross of Ontario, Premier Parent of Quebec, and others.

The telegram from Premier Laurier was read:

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 11.—R. E. Finn, Halifax: Very sorry that I cannot attend banquet which our Nova Scotia friends are rendering to my trusted colleague and friend, Fielding. I, however, join you heart and soul, to do him honor, and the fullest honor is not more than he deserves.

The keynote of the speeches was sounded by Premier Murray, who, in proposing the toast to Mr. Fielding at 11 o'clock, said:—"It is perhaps one of the greatest tributes to a political leader that through a long period of public life he has been enabled to continue to enjoy the confidence of his first and oldest friends. In this respect I think our guest presents an example unequalled in the political history of Canada."

Hon. W. S. Fielding.

Mr. Fielding received a great ovation on rising to respond. After dealing with his early political career and local political affairs, he launched into a discussion of Dominion affairs. "Well, can I not say for at least six years the Liberal party at Ottawa has given this country a period of good government, a period of peace, a period of progress, a period of unexampled prosperity? We are able to point out to you in every department of the Government the administration of affairs by the Liberal party has been making for the development and building up of this country. In the first place, we are able to point to six years of prosperous and sound finance. That is an important matter. It is as important to the nation as it is to the individual that the business transactions shall be placed upon a sound financial basis. Our friends on the other side recognize that, and they predicted again and again that the entrance of the Liberal party into power would be a period of deficits and disaster. What followed? Let us make a comparison. Take the six years of Conservative Government before we came into power, and take the six years before us. And if you sum up the two periods of six years you find that while in their six years they ended the period with a net deficit of $2,000,000, we ended our series of six years with a net surplus of $27,000,000."

Mr. Fielding then pointed out the great growth of Canada's trade since the Liberals came into power. We have only been in power six years, one-third of the eighteen, and while the Conservatives increased the trade of the country $66,000,000 in eighteen years, we should have increased it $22,000,000 in one-third of the time. We can say you did not lose anything, if we have the same rate of increase. That would be an answer to our friends. But what is the fact? We do not come before you and point to an increase of $22,000,000 in the trade of the country in six years. Instead of $22,000,000, the proper proportion—instead of $66,000,000, their figures in eighteen years—we point to the fact that in six years the total trade of Canada has been increased by $180,000,000. (Cheers.) That prediction of Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been realized.

Scores of Uses.

While Dr. Chase's Ointment is best known on account of its wonderful control over eczema, salt rheum and piles,, it is found to be in almost daily demand in many homes as a cure for chilblains, chafing, pimples, sunburns, burns, scalds, and each and every form of itching, irritated or inflamed skin. It is invaluable in every home, and as a soothing and healing application, knows no equal.

Good Teeth.

Don't fail to ponder occasionally on these facts: That without good teeth there cannot be thorough mastication.

Without thorough mastication there cannot be perfect digestion.

Without perfect digestion there cannot be proper assimilation.

Without proper assimilation there cannot be nutrition.

Without nutrition there cannot be health.

Without health what is life worth?

Hence the paramount importance of good teeth.

Branded Values.

A nugget may be worth twenty dollars, but you don't know it until it is tested and weighed.

A piece of gold stamped by the mint is worth exactly what it is branded.

A common shoe may be worth what is asked for it, but you don't know till you wear it and find out. It may be Goodyear welted and it may not be.

A "Slater Shoe" branded with makers' name and price in a slate frame is worth exactly what the makers say it is.

They know its value. They put a coupon on it telling the leather it is made of, the wear it will give and how to care for it.

Every shoe branded with price and name, $3.50 and $5.00 per pair. "The Slater Shoe."

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET.

Pleasant Evening Spent in the Palm Parlours.

Next Year's Captain was Selected—The Toasts.

At a meeting of the Rugby Club some time ago it was decided to hold the annual banquet of the club this year in the Palm Parlours of Mr. H. Long, this step being taken in view of the financial standing of the club. Thursday, December 11th was the date selected, and last night the members of the team, and a few supporters, spent a most enjoyable evening there. An onlooker could not but have been forcibly struck by one thing, and that was the feeling of good fellowship that prevailed, no conflicting element being present.

After the inner man had been well cared for, the evening became more informal, many reminiscences being brought up and a number of toasts proposed and drunk, duging which those present enjoyed many good cigars through the generosity of Mr. C. Graham.

First came the toast to the King, which was duly honoured by singing the National Anthem. Following this the boys were entertained by a short but witty monologue by an ardent supporter of the club. Next on the list came the health of the captain, A. W. McPherson. This was warmly received by all those present, and in replying Mr. McPherson gave a brief outline of the career of the club during the past season. He also briefly mentioned a number of matters of deep interest to the club. The adoption of the snap-back system, and the placing of a team in the senior series, were briefly dwelt on. The latter will depend altogether on the adoption of the snap-back, and the schedule for next year.

The toast of the manager, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, was the next on the list and in replying he eulogized the club for it past history, and the boys for their good behaviour.

The toast of the Vice-President, Mr. W. Crowley, was next proposed by Mr. McPherson, and a glowing and worthy tribute was paid this member of the club for past services, both on and off the field.

The question of the selection of a Captain for next year was then brought forward. Messrs. Crowley and McPherson were the only names mentioned or thought of. After much objection on the part of each, the latter was re-elected.

The manager then spoke of the aid given in the past year by the Press, and proposed the health of that body. This was responded to by the representatives present.

Next came the toast to the President, Mr. H. Burnham, who replied briefly, stating that a number of things had been learned by the team in the past season, among which was the discovery that football and the Devil went hand in hand.

Before breaking up Auld Lang Syne was sung with much fervour, and at an early hour the boys departed for home.

WINTER RACES

THE VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

Met Last Evening in the Council Chambers.

South African Volunteers may now Become Members.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Veterans' Association was held last night in the local Council Chambers and the interest taken in this organization was shown by the number present which included veterans of '66, '85 and South Africa. The principal business before the meeting was the steps that should be taken in regard to the Government Grant of land to veterans. Numbers of letters were read on the subject, and after some lengthy discussion it was agreed to let the matter stand until March next. Mr. J. B. McWilliams would then be in a position to give further and more definite information as regards the land and the means to be taken to locate it.

A matter of vital importance to the Association was then taken up and that was the changing of the constitution in order to admit men who had seen service during the war 1899-1902 in South Africa. This is a step in the right direction as many of these men have seen the hardships of a bloody and stubborn campaign.

Next came the election of officers which resulted as follows:

Hon. President—Col. J. Z. Rogers.
President—A. Poussette.
Vice-President—F. R. J. Mitchell.
Captain—Major Langford.
Lieutenant—John Irwin.
Sergt.-Major—H. F. Holmes.
Seargents—Wm. Logan and Geo. Stethem.
Sec.-Treas.—J. D. Collins.
Executive Committee — Messrs. Brown, McWilliams and all officers and non-commissioned officers.

In presenting his annual report, the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. D. Collins showed that there was a surplus in the bank and no out-standing debts.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams was tendered a vote of thanks for valuable services he had given in the past.

All those who served in South Africa were requested to become members as soon as possible as the Association promises to be very large, many having renewed their subscription for the coming year.

LENNOX ELECTION PETITION.

Judges Disagree on one Reserved Charge but Petition is Dismissed.

An Appeal to be Entered Against the Judgment.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Napanee, Dec. 18.—Justices Osler and MacLennan gave judgment this morning dismissing with costs the Lennox election petition and directing that T. S. Carscallen hold the seat. There were five charges on which judgment was reserved. Four were dismissed by both judges. On the fifth that the defendant paid one Whisken, of Bath, fifty cents, Judge McLennan holds that the charge is not proven, but Judge Osler holds it proven, and there is therefore a disagreement on this charge. An appeal will be taken on this charge.

His relations to the finances of the county have demonstrated the value of the business qualities he possesses.

At the police court this morning the hackmen charged with furious driving were let off with a warning. CLEAR SPEECH PHONES.

A System Installed in Cereal Works and Other Establishments.

Messrs. A. E. Gunlock and A. C. Brown, of the L. and G. Manufacturing Company, have been in town for the past week or two installing a system of clear speech 'phones in the plant of the American Cereal Company, the B. F. Ackerman Company, J. J. Turner & Sons, and the Examiner office. The work of these two gentlemen in Peterborough is highly commended by the firms in which their system has been installed. The sounding qualities are unquestionably improved to a remarkable extent, multiplying the power of the old tube system, and replacing the weak, sensitive telephone with a device capable of transmitting the full power and tone of the human voice, without battery expenditure, or the slightest liability of derangement, or necessity of adjustment. The new instrument is equally applicable to large buildings where a series of branch or individual tubes are employed, or where a plurality of terminals require to be put into connection with a central station, or one with another.

LAST NIGHT'S LECTURE.

The Best Heard in Peterborough for Some Time.

A Large Audience Greets Dr. Cleaver at St. Paul's Church.

Last night, before a large audience, Rev. Dr. Cleaver, of Toronto, delivered his lecture on Victor Hugo's great character, "Jean Valjean," under the Ladies' Aid. This lecture was a great success and was one of the most interesting and instructive lectures heard in Peterborough for some time past. Dr. Cleaver has a free and easy delivery, and is not bound down by the use of notes. From the beginning until the end the attention of the audience was held, apparently without an effort, till the last word was uttered.

Beginning with the boyhood of Valjean, the speaker led the audience to almost see and feel with him throughout the various vicissitudes of life. Left an orphan at an early age, the lecturer showed how the character of Jean Valjean was moulded by the environments into which he was thrown. Of necessity he became a thief, was sentenced to penal servitude. Here, from injustice received, he became a morose man, an unbeliever in God and human justice. Receiving his freedom, he fell into the hands of the Bishop, and there his morals and character underwent a change for the better under the Christian and humane treatment received. Once he fell, but the influence for good continued, and he is found mayor of a city, respected and honoured, and deeply interested in all philanthropic movements. His final reformation of character is shown when he gave his all to suffer for a crime he had committed in former years, in order to free another man. From that time on his life was one continued round of self sacrifice, and good deeds. During the period of the Revolution his life was given to ease the burden of his friends, but his acts were not appreciated until too late, and those to whom he had played the role of benefactor for so long came to thank him only on his death bed.

The lecturer received a well merited vote of thanks, and at an early hour those in attendance came away not only pleased, but benefited by the moral shown throughout.

ROOFING THE RINK.

Work Carried on Under Very Chilly Conditions.

We want sharp, keen, cold frosty weather for hockey, but it seems that it is this kind of weather that will prevent us having hockey in the new rink as soon as if we had mild weather. The intense cold weather came just with the beginning of the work of placing the steel roof trusses. With the thermometer below zero and the points of the steel trusses 40 feet in the chilling air, the workmen have been handicapped and progress was much slower than it would have been under milder weather conditions. Still, in spite of all these untoward circumstances, the work is rapidly going on, and the carpenters are following close on the steel workers.

HAVELOCK'S TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

The Inquest Held by Coroner Grey.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

Jury Says Deaths due to Accident—Crossing Declared Dangerous—Should be Protected.—Many Witnesses Examined.

The adjourned inquest, to inquire into the death of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Rogers, and their son, met yesterday afternoon in the town hall, Havelock, before County Coroner Grey. County Attorney Wood was present for the Crown, and Mr. McMurty, of Toronto, looked after the interests of the railway company. A number of witnesses were sworn and examined, and their evidence was as follows:

JOHN COCHRANE.

John Cochrane, sworn.—I am a farmer living near the village, and remember the accident last Saturday evening. I was coming along by Jas. Marks', within a quarter of a mile from the crossing. I first heard two whistles from the train near the semaphore, and one was a short toot, which came first, and the other was was a little longer. They were very low, and I could not see the train approaching, but saw it pass the crossing, which is just at the end of the village. I thought the train slowed up suddenly, but I could see no horses. Heard something jingle like whiffletrees or chains. I met the horses on the road; one seemed to want to run, but the other did not. I was south of the crossing. One horse had a whiffletree but there was no conveyance. The horses went on home I think. I met the horses about one-third of the distance from where I first heard the whistle—about 200 yards. I went further, and picked up a single whiffletree, and half of a double whiffletree. I did not think anything had happened at the crossing, but could not find from enquiry where the horses had come from. I came up as far as Morrison's store, and while there a telephone message came saying that there had been an accident at the crossing. I went there, and saw several people there. The little girl was there. Mr. Wm. Griffin was taking her in his arms. Mrs. Rogers was lying there dead. These were the only two near the crossing. I heard the boy cry, and asked him if he was hurt. He was about 30 or 40 feet from the road behind a wood pile, and about 30 feet from the fence. He had been thrown over the roadbed. I did not notice how fast the train was running. The accident occurred, I should say, between eight and nine o'clock. It was snowing a little at the time. The wind I think, was in the east. I can see the train crossing the public road. I have travelled this road quite often during the past seven years. The buildings near the crossing obscure approaching trains from view until they are rounding the curve.

WILLIAM GRIFFITH.

William Griffith, sworn. — I live near the crossing, and was there after the accident; was not at my house when it happened; my house is within 200 yards of the crossing. There are quite a few buildings in that vicinity, and there is considerable traffic over the crossing. The first I knew of the accident was when a brakeman came and told me there had been an accident. I went over and the only people I knew were two trainmen. The little girl was there crying and the woman, Mrs. Rogers, and, I think, dead. I would judge her head would be about four or five feet from the rail, and her feet northwest. I was not there when Mrs. Rogers and the boy were found. I had heard no whistle. The bell rang, as far as I know, right on the crossing. I should say that the train was not running as fast as usual; I don't know how many miles an hour.

To Mr. McMurty — I was in the hotel when the accident happened. It is north of the crossing. I was in a room next the street. I could see out of the window and saw the train on the crossing and heard the bell as it was passing over the last cattle guard.

THOS. H. CUMMINGS.

Thos. H. Cummings, sworn.—I live in Havelock, and am a blacksmith, I have lived near the crossing for 10 1-2 years. I have never had any accident myself, although I have seen several. There is a great deal to be considered about the crossing. Some days when going toward the south you can't hear a train coming if it does whistle. The great difficulty in the evenings is while the engine is shunting in the yard for water. The teamster will be watching it while a train from the west may be coming in and that, as is usual, very quietly. The buildings on each side seem to muffle the sound for one walking between, while persons farther off would hear the whistle. The track bears to the south and you can see a very short distance up the track. I have seen some close calls on the crossing. It is not safe for a great many people. The yard is very near the road. I have never met with an accident myself. I would probably be working about 200 yards from the track. There has been no fatality at this crossing except this late one—to my knowledge. It would be impossible, I think, for a man driving a spirited team to turn within the time a train would be seen coming round the curve, assuming the rate of the train was as fast as is usual. One would have his horses well under control to turn there in time to avoid impending accident, and it is necessary for everyone to exercise especial care under the circumstances. I would not state, without measuring it that you could see a quarter of a mile up the track. Assuming that I could see the train within 45 or 50 feet of the track and at a distance of a quarter of a mile, with a minute therefore to spare, I would say there are some teams I could turn and others I could not, in that distance and time. A train would, however, be coming pretty slow to give a driver one minute to spare. Considerable depends on how the horse is broken. The deceased Mr. Rogers had trouble there two years ago with an express train. At the semaphore where the train whistles there is a grove of young trees.

LEVI HUBBLE.

Levi Hubble testified that he also had been run into by a train at this crossing. Witness had not been looking for the train which hit his sleigh, but had been watching the yard engine. Had he been looking for the express he could probably have averted the accident as from the time the train whistles till the road is reached there is plenty of time to turn

ABRAM WALLER.

Mr. Abram Waller swore that he too, had been hit by a train at this crossing and said that it should be protected. He had just paced off the distance it is possible to see west along the track from the crossing, and found that it was just 54 paces. The witness did not think a rig could turn on the road near the track. He did not see the train which was moving slowly.

DR. HOLCROFT.

Dr. Holcroft, sworn.—I am a medical practitioner of Havelock and was called to attend Jas. Rogers, wife and children Saturday night. I found Jas. Rogers and son at the C.P.R. station in the waiting room. I first examined the boy and found his skull fractured on the right side and that there was not much chance of his living. I dressed his wounds. The man I also found, had his arm broken, skull fractured. They were both unconscious. I then went to Mr. Nicholls' hotel and found another boy with his left leg injured. This boy's name was Walter. He was conscious. They told me there was another injured at Mrs. Griffith's. I found a girl there with her jaw fractured. I sent a stretcher for her and had her brought to the station, and Jas. Rogers, Fred and the girl were taken to Peterborough. I saw Mrs. Rogers at the station. She was dead. On the east of the crossing there is a flour mill, on the west a large building and next to that Mr. Nicholls' hotel. The former goes to within a few feet of the track. On the opposite side are a number of occupied buildings. There is a good deal of traffic over the crossing. It is a dangerous crossing. It is a level crossing and there is no difficulty in turning out. I don't think there is room for two to pass on the track. When you pass the buildings and look west you have room to turn. The whistle post is about a quarter of a mile from the crossing. I doubt with the wind and storm and buildings whether Mr. Rogers could have heard the whistle.

WALTER ROGERS.

Walter Rogers, sworn.—I am 12 years old, a son of Jas. Rogers of Belmont. I was with my father and mother Saturday evening in the sleigh. We were going home from the village between 8 and 9 o'clock. There were mother and father and Fred and Edith C. Smith and myself. We live about 2 1-2 miles in Belmont. Near the crossing at McNicholls' hotel, my father was driving, but did not stop the horses. My attention was attracted by another engine in the yard coming west towards the crossing. It was some distance from the crossing and I think it was moving. No one, as far as I can remember, said anything about the train. My father drove about half way across the railroad track, and he whipped the horses and spoke to them. I was sitting on the bottom of the sleigh. I saw the train coming from the west just inside of the street fence; it was right upon the sleigh and going fast. I next remember being behind the wood pile about 20 minutes after the accident. I did not hear anyone say anything about the train. I heard no whistle. It was snowing a little and I heard nobody say anything about the train.

To Mr. McMurty. — I remember looking west on the track when I saw the train. I think father and mother were looking over into the yard. We had just come from Mr. Griffeth's before the accident. I don't remember anyone of us having looked up the track. Father whipped the horses to try and get across, just as he said "get up" to them. They were then on the track. I don't know that anyone said "The train is on us." I did not hear a bell ringing.

EDWARD LEGASKIS.

Edward Legaskis, sworn.—I was engineer on the Havelock local on Saturday night. I have been over 32 years on the road and have been on this run about 6 years, am one of the regular men. After I passed the first crossing west of the one referred to, I shut off steam and ran down to the platform. The first signal I gave was one long one for the station, about a mile from the latter and about a quarter of a mile from the crossing. Then I blew two long ones and two short ones for this crossing. There is a curve at the semaphore. The fireman began pulling the bell at the home semaphore, one-sixth mile out. I was on the right hand side, but saw nothing approaching the crossing. I can see the crossing from the curve about one-fourth mile distant. The accident would be on the left side. The first I knew of the accident was when the fireman drew my attention to it. We stopped in about a train length. Our rate would be about 15 or 16 miles an hour. I have no doubt about the signals that night.

To Mr. Wood.—I was attentive to my duties and knew nothing of the accident until told by the fireman. I saw nothing at all until we stopped. If it had not been for the fireman I would have run to the platform. I was looking out of the cab window and saw no horses or sleigh. My eyesight is good. I had a good headlight but it does not show down to the pilot, but probably 10 or 12 feet out from the engine. I am speaking of my usual way of working signals. I remember that night more than any other night. I can see the crossing in daylight from the curve. My whistle for the station would be at the distant semaphore and between that and the home semaphore I gave two long and two short whistles for the crossing. The fireman, I know from the usual way of working, was ringing the bell that night.

GEORGE CROWHURST.

George Crowhurst, sworn. — I was fireman on engine No. 5, Saturday night. I put my last fire into the engine about one and a half miles west of this. Steam was shut off about a quarter of a mile after that; we came the rest of the distance without steam. I was on the left side of the engine, and about a quarter of a mile out began to ring the bell. This is near the Havelock end of the curve. I rang the bell right in. I was keeping a lookout, and almost within line of the crossing, and at the west cattle guard I saw a flash, as of an object coming, and felt a light crack. There was no shock as if we were going over anything. I thought I saw a horse running down the street, without anything attched to it. I said to my mate, "We have struck a horse, and he's on the pilot." We got down and examined. We could not see any horse but we saw a buffalo robe and a boy and a man on the pilot.

JOHN MILLOY.

John Milloy, sworn.—I am roadmaster on this part of the line up to the west cattle guard at this crossing. The right of way here is 68 feet. Forty-two feet from the centre of the track there is a clear view up the track, and at that point you can see a distance of 1750 feet west. The distant semaphore is 1800 feet from the crossing; the whistle post is 1320 feet.

J. H. CAMPBELL.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, sworn.—About six weeks ago I was down the street with a horse and rig, and was going home. George Anderson and a number of school children were in the rig. As we were approaching the crossing a switchman shouted to me; a train was approaching. When it went past my horse's head was about two feet from it. There was no bell ringing. I had just passed the building, and was going south. I consider the crossing dangerous; you cannot see a train until it is right on you. I could not see the train until I had passed the building, and then I was too far on. Had I not had a short hold on the horses I would have been caught.

Wm. Griffith, recalled.—I measured the distances the same as Mr. Waller, and my distances agree with him.

To Mr. McMurchy—You can only see about 45 paces up the track at the corner of the building from the sidewalk. Had I gone more than 15 paces, the distance of the house from the track I could have seen farther up the track but would have been nearer the track.

ALEX. MILNE.

Alex. Milne, sworn. — I was brakeman on the local the night of the accident. I heard the station signal and got up and announced the station. There were three cars on the train. I was on the last, between the first and second class cars. I heard the whistle for the crossing. The train stopped near the ice house. I think it slowed up near the crossing but can't say. I could not hear the bell from the second class car. I am certain about the whistles; I heard them that night. The fireman spoke to me after the accident, and in conversation with him I told him I heard the whistle.

MARY HUSTON.

Mary Huston, sworn.—I was on the train the night of the accident. I was in the last car on the train about three seats from the door. I heard a signal for the station, and another, which I supposed was for the crossing.

BERNARD McALLISTER.

Bernard McAllister, sworn. —I was the conductor on the local the night of the accident. I heard one long whistle for the station. I was then in the baggage car, and I made ready for getting off. The next thing was an emergency application of the brake. I saw the light at the crossing almost simultaneously. I saw that the victims of the accident were cared for.

After hearing the evidence the jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury assembled to enquire into the death of James Rogers, Catherine Rogers and Fred Rogers, find that they came to their death on the 6th of December, 1902, in the village of Havelock, by being struck by the train known as the local; and we find that the crossing where the accident happened is a very dangerous one, and we would recommend that the C.P.R. place some protection on the said crossing at an early date, and we further find that the cause of death was accidental."

The jury in this case was composed of the following: S. S. Joyce, foreman; R. J. Graham, S. Sills, A. Richards, J. M. McKeowin, Stephen Vannorman, A. Buchanan, Jas. Craighead, J. R. Craig, J. Coon, Wesley Hart, Francis Hart, J. M. Wright, George Phillips.

AS A NATIVE OF UGANDA.

"Tim" Healy's Sharp Tongue Deals Out a Measure of Keen Irony to the House of Commons.

Mr. "Tim" Healy's speech in the House of Commons on the reassembling of Parliament a few days ago won general praise as one of the most effective pieces of political irony ever uttered within the walls of St. Stephen's. As reported in The London Daily Telegraph the speech ran as follows:

Mr. Healy said he rose for the purpose of saying a few words on the subject of the Uganda Railway. (Loud laughter.) Speaking as a native of Uganda—(renewed laughter)—he wished to thank the Government for the great measure of advancement, which he was sure would bring calm to Kerry and balm to Balladehob—(laughter)—namely, the proposed expenditure upon that country of a large amount of public money, and the taking up of the time of the House with regard to a project of that description. He could not help felicitating the Government on the proposal to spend time and money upon the inhabitants of that distant and neglected land. (Laughter.) Uganda was a place which had always been foremost in his thoughts.

They had been brought up to love and reverence it, and it was at least a consolation that that long neglected country should at length have won the favor and approbation of the Prime Minister of England to such an extent that he was prepared in a time of great stringency, and when the Education bill was exciting so much passion, to give the people of that country the hope of having a large portion of the time of the House of Commons devoted to it. There must be some reason for this flattering attention to Uganda. He believed it was a crimeless country—(laughter)—and that its administration was in the hands of the most pure-souled removables which the British Empire could afford.

Law and order there proceeded with a regularity of which they had no example in this country, and hence it was that the British Parliament turned aside from mere paltry topics, such as the affairs of Ireland, of England, of Scotland and of Wales, and devoted itself with one voice to the interests of the people of that afflicted area.

New as the right honorable gentleman was to the office of Prime Minister, he had given a pledge to the Empire at large which would redound through Australia, Canada and every island and kingdom and republic, too, absorbed by England—(laughter)—that however much this Parliament might have its hands full, if you were a nigger, a painted savage or a heathen roaming the woods, the Prime Minister of England still had a tear at his disposal—(loud laughter)—and that in his generosity he would be prepared to appeal to the Chancellor of the Exchequer to pour out the gold of England for the benefit of this benighted and dejected savage.

The Irish members had long gloried in the destruction of their own Parliament, because where in Ireland within the narrow walls of an Irish Parliament, could they imagine such disinterestedness; where could they imagine such altruism, when their own country was palpitating, thrilling and throbbing with passionate emotion, as to turn aside to contemplate the position of the niggers of Uganda? (Laughter.) Hence it was that in future the admiration which he had always felt would now be something ethical and ennobling, and they would go back to their own country with the glorious and glowing principle that Kerry might be neglected, Connaught might be starving, but at least that House had an eye and a watchful care for the people of Uganda. (Loud laughter.)

Italy's Novel Prison Reform.

A new criminal bill is about to be discussed in Italy, and it is thought in Rome that it will be passed. It proposes to concede to those found to have been unjustly condemned to prison an indemnity to be decided upon by the courts.

If the person has been in prison through a real judicial error, the indemnity will in some way correspond to the financial loss which he and his family have sustained, while if he has been condemned through the bad faith of a third person, through false testimony (for which, of course, the court which condemned him is not responsible), the indemnity will be less, but at least he will have the wherewithal to begin life anew.

It has been proposed to indemnify those living when the law passes who have already been released from unmerited condemnations or the families of those who have died while undergoing unjust sentence.

Dying by Slow Degrees.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration, and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrhozone erradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price, $1; trial size, 25c.; all druggists. SLAVES OF CHEAPNESS.

Intensity of the Life of Match Box Makers in England.

Here is a sketch by a London Daily Mail reporter of how 144 match boxes can be made for 2d. The workers were a widow and two small girls, and at 11.30 a.m. a bed and the bedroom floor were littered and heaped with the morning's output, cleared from the living room. The quantity was very surprising.

A stern little woman of fifteen sat at a table working by the window, and there was nothing so well worth pondering in the two cells—they were no bigger or better than cells—as this unprepossessing child's hard mouth, strict inattention to visitors, and almost magical dexterity. She is not the victim of a mother's indolence. A missioner of the Ragged School Union, who lives near this woman, and by whom the writer was introduced to her pretty abode under the leads, knows her to have been a steady maker of match boxes for 30 years. She is a mother of exceptional physique, energetic, large, masculine, but too gross of body at 50 for any but a sedentery occupation. In her lifetime the market price of her skill has fallen to what may be very strictly called a living wage. Of two husbands she has had, the first was a wastrel and the second died soon.

What the child was doing had the deftness and fascination of the Charlier pass in legerdermain, which few entertainers every accomplish. The feat is to paste up as a drawer, in five swift movements, an indented strip and a square of thin wood with a band of paper. Take a match box drawer to pieces and try to imagine how it could have been put together at the rate of six a minute. There is no tragic hurry about it. The girl sat bolt upright, and her hands rapidly produced the drawers without nervousness. But as the parts were held together on the finger-tips of one hand while those of the other turned the paper over them, the operation struck one as requiring a particular development and trick of every finger-muscle. Match box making is like playing the pianoforte; there is one good method, and you must begin young and practise hard all your life. Two experts working in partnership, and having someone to fetch and carry for them so that they may live without interrupting the drudgery, can sit at a small table and earn from 2s to 2s 6d a day of twelve or thirteen hours.

Half a crown a day is 15s a week, and that leaves 9s 6d when the rent is put aside. "Praise God," said the Cockney missioner with surprise; "that all you pay?" The widow has four children, and 9s 6d a week allows five persons threepence each a day for food, fire and clothing. It is said that at least twopence more is necessary. The widow gets 1s from her eldest boy, a cripple of nineteen, who earns 15s a week at tailoring and lets her have 8s.

A GROWING DANGER.

Dyspepsia the Father of Many Ills Unless Promptly Checked and Permanently Cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It is impossible to overestimate the danger of allowing Dyspepsia to go from bad to worse. At first it is simply an uncomfortable feeling, then it grows into a pain, from that to a misery accompanied by the gravest danger to life.

It should be treated right from the start with that one sure cure, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Other medicines may give temporary relief. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets both give relief and cure permanently. Maurice Best, of Southern Harbour, Nfld., relates an experience that demonstrates its effects on the most severe cases.

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for eight years," says Mr. Best, "I was in continual misery. Sometimes I would go off in a faint and for ten or fifteen minutes I would be more dead than alive. The doctors could not cure me and gave me but little help.

"Hearing of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I gave them a trial. The first two boxes I used gave me new life.

"I am using them now and feel myself a new man. I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am like a great many others, I cannot speak enough in their favour.

"If any one doubts that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia in its worst form let them write me."

THE TURKISH WOMAN.

Friday is the only day on which Turkish women enjoy a little liberty and release from the dreadful seclusion to which they are always kept, and they are not slow to avail themselves of the chance. On Fridays every one goes to the Sweet Waters of Asia, which consist of a small river running about two miles inland, with trees and meadows on each side. Hundreds of boats assemble and glide up and down the river. Every boat or caique has two or more Turkish ladies on board. The sight is a very fine one, as each private caique is most carefully got up, and the boatmen wear brilliant liveries to match the cushions and the long embroidered cloth which hangs over the stern and trails in the water. The khedivah of Egypt is one of the finest, in crimson and gold, embroidered with crowns and fishes. Besides the liveries the parasols make a wonderful show, and here may be seen all the latest Parisian creations. The ladies must not speak to men, but the careful observer can frequently catch sight of veils lowered or other signal given when a particular boat is passing, and habitual frequenters can point out boats which are sometimes close to each other. It is a very innocent diversion and would not satisfy western ladies. An hour before sunset the police boats appear and force all women to leave.—London Telegraph.

Scotland's Round Towers.

Scotland boasts of two round towers, said to be stragglers from the great typical group found in Ireland. The one is attached to the handsome cathedral of Brechin and the other stands in the center of Abernethy, near the entrance gate to the churchyard. The Brechin tower, built in six irregular courses and rising over 100 feet, is the more perfect of the two. It dates from Kenneth's reign, 971-95, and has a most graceful appearance. Pennant in his history speaks of having, in 1772, found handsome bells within its walls. These were afterward removed and now hang in a neighboring steeple. The origin of these towers is now somewhat doubtful, but archæologists are generally agreed that they were built in connection with churches "for defense and faithfulness of watch" during the Norseman raids. They were afterward used as belfries, the Brechin tower having done duty as such for generations. The tower is now one of the sights of the ancient town and is regarded as a memorial of its early conection with Ireland.—Scottish-American.

The Changed Grizzly.

There are numerous reliable statements of grizzly bears having attacked men, but nowadays the grizzly does not seek out his human victims, as there are credible statements that his forefathers used to do. Neither does he lie in wait and, pouncing upon a hunter, tear him into bloody shreds in delighted fiendishness, as the old time stories used to tell. The change in the grizzly's disposition is likened by veteran hunters to the change in the character of the white cousin of the grizzly, the polar bear of the arctics. When the stations for the Hudson Bay company were established, the diaries of the men there often referred to the fright of attacks by polar bears. Many a navigator in the arctic seas has been clawed and chewed to death by polar bears. But for nearly a century the polar bear has not been regarded as so very fierce, and nowadays it is looked upon as a cowardly beast. Association with armed men has modified the polar bear's disposition.—Outing.

Cobweb Pills.

In New England cobweb pills are supposed to cure the ague, and in the south a certain knuckle bone in a pig's foot is a sure cure for rheumatism if it be carried in the pocket or worn suspended from a string around the neck. Tracing the spider web pill, it originated in China, where all species of insects have certain positive or negative values in medicine. In Peking it is customary to give two or three scorpions or spiders to a patient ill of fever. In Ireland the peasantry swallow small spiders alive to effect cures. From these the cobweb pill of the New England native was easy. In Flanders the live spider is fastened into the empty shell of a walnut and worn around the neck of the patient. As the creature dies the fever decreases until it is gone entirely.

A DAUGHTER OF ERIN.

Lady Londonderry, Who Is to Write a Book on the Irish Question.

The Marchioness of Londonderry, who is said to have in preparation a book on the Irish question, is probably better equipped for the task by education and experience than any other woman in the British nobility. Her father, the Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot, was Ireland's premier earl, and the young Lady Theresa Helen Talbot spent most of her early years in that country.

Lord Londonderry's favorite "seat" is Mount Stewart, County Down, where the family have spent a great part of each year among a large and loyal tenantry, and for three years,

MARCHIONESS OF LONDONDERRY.

1886 to 1889, Lord Londonderry was lord lieutenant of Ireland.

Lady Londonderry has always loved her Irish home and the Irish people. She has done much to popularize their laces, linens, tweeds and poplins and has in all her work come to know Ireland for what she is, so she will be able to write truthfully and with a friendly pen.

The first years of the married life of the Marquis and Marchioness, then Lord and Lady Castlereagh, were spent in Ireland, and even after the former was triumphantly returned as a member from County Down they were better known in Irish than London society.

It was at that time that the future vice reine of Ireland first turned her attention to Irish industrial problems, and she may truly claim to have been among the first great Irish ladies to whose unwearied efforts the flourishing state of Irish industries is due.

Buried on His Horse.

Lord Dacre, who died fighting for the Lancastrians at Towton, England, in 1461, directed that if he were killed in the battle his favorite war horse should be buried in the same grave with him. According to his wishes, when his interment took place in Saxon churchyard after the battle a tremendous grave was dug, and in it the warrior was buried, seated upright on his horse. For centuries reflections were cast upon the accuracy of this tradition, but a few years ago while excavations were being made close by the reputed burial place of Lord Dacre the pick of a digger struck into a great bone, and upon further search being made the skull of a big horse was brought to the surface. As this was found almost at the very spot under which the body of Lord Dacre was said to lie, it was accepted as confirmation of the tradition, particularly as the skull was found to be standing vertically in the soil. The skull was replaced carefully in its original position and the excavation filled up.

NERVOUS HEADACHE.

The Cause of Much Suffering to Women is Permanently Cured When the System is Built up by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Headache powders relieve headaches, but they have never cured them, and they are not intended to make a lasting cure. Besides the risk run in using a drug that is strong enough to instantly stop pain, you may be sure that the reaction on the nervous system is most trying and injurious.

Mrs. Clancy, whose letter is quoted below, was subject to headaches for nineteen years, and in spite of all the headache remedies she used she could get no lasting benefit. She suffered so severely when the attacks would come on that she could not go about the house. She has restored her nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and her headaches have entirely disappeared.

Mrs. Jas. Clancy, 714 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., writes: "I have used four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found them an excellent medicine. I was troubled more or less for nineteen years with severe headaches, which made me useless as far as accomplishing my work was concerned.

"The Nerve Food seemed to build me up generally, and so made a thorough cure of my old trouble. I would not think of being without Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house and would strongly recommend anyone suffering as I did to give it a trial. It succeeded in my case after a great many remedies had failed."

To the thousands of women who are victims of nervous headaches this letter should prove of inestimable value. If they will but follow the advice of Mrs. Clancy they can be certain of great and lasting benefit.

ABOUT ROWTON HOUSE.

A Lodging in London for Sixpence—A Description of a Notable Shelter.

It is not a pretty building at the corner of Calthorpe street and King's Cross road, London; its little windows give it very much the appearance of a place where people neither go in nor out as they please, but Rowton House, as the building is known, is far from being the dismal place one might imagine from outward examination. Lodgers were passing in and out, those passing in paying 6d. for their night's lodging. Some of these lodgers are "regulars," and they are easily picked out from the others by the familiar way in which they enter the house. Seats in the lobby when I visited the house last evening were occupied by some of the guests, who had "fed their face" and had probably gathered to compare notes as to the outlook of a job for the morrow, writes the London correspondent of The Toronto Telegram. A large smoking room on the left of the main entrance was fitted with furniture of a substantial kind, which, though not handsome, was comfortable. The walls beautifully tiled glistened in the gaslight, and there were some fairly good pictures ornamenting the walls. Men sat in groups, chatting or playing draughts or dominoes, others scanned the newspapers, of which there was a good supply; some were busy addressing wrappers, while others sat by their "lonesome" thinking perhaps of where the next "tanner" for tomorrow night's "kip" was to come from.

The dining room, a very large, airy, commodious room, with seating accommodation for nearly 400, had nearly every table full. Next was the "shop," a universal provider, halfpennyworths, pennyworths, of everything the lodgers need can be purchased here, and the price is lower than that charged for the same quality of article by shops outside.

The restaurant where the food is served from the bar was being very well patronized. Everbody fetches and carries for himself. A large bowl of soup costs one penny, a decent plate of roast beef costs 4d., steak pudding 3d., potatoes 1d., cold meats 3d. per plate, a large cup of tea 1d., and a slice of what some call a "doorstep" of bread and butter costs ½d.

If the cooking of the meats by the house cook is not fancied by the lodger, the utensils of the house are at his disposal to cook his own food. He can step outside the dining room door, where is a sink with plenty of water with which he can clean his provisions, and when cleaned he can have the use of cooking ranges in the room. A lodger is not compelled to do his marketing in the house. He can bring his provisions in, and he may also use his own teapot and cups, though it would save money to use the house crockery, as breakages are not charged for. Ponton House restaurant is like other restaurants, everyone eats according to their purse. I noticed one man had quite a lay-out on his evening newspaper which, while gleaning the news of the day, he also used as a tablecloth; he had touched lucky evidently, as he had two kinds of meat and two vegetables before him. At the next table sat a man cutting a kipper carefully so as not to allow a bone to retain a bit of meat; he has cooked the kipper himself and he is having quite a beanfeast as he mops up his large bowl of tea. Up a little further sat a man so thin I doubt if he could throw a shadow; his layout was light but he was enjoying it for the smack he gave his lips after each mouthful proved that his money had only run to a pennyworth of soup, a halfpenny bowl of tea and a halfpenny slice of bread and butter. A big bowlful of soup with a chunk of bread costs 1½d., and for another penny tea and bread and butter can be had, and though a man will not get very rotund on the fare, yet it will stand the wolf off for a day.

The reading room, well lighted and beautifully decorated, had a full company. Some are reading books, others evening papers, the wrapper addressers are here as in the smoking room, some men loll around in the easy chairs, others take a quiet snooze.

Lord Rowton's lodgers have no unpleasant questions put to them. So long as you are clean and sober and have the price, you can kip at Rowton House. Cleanliness is noticeable in every part of the house, and lodgers are provided with the means to keep themselves in that state. Down in the basement there is a very large lavatory of 80 basins, into which hot or cold water can at once be turned any hour of the day or night. The tired pedestrian who may have just "drilled" into town is provided with troughs for feet washing at the cost of a penny, and there is also a tonsorial artist, who for a penny a throw will run the razor over your face; then, should there be a button wanting on your coat or a patch on your shoe required, there is a tailor and a shoemaker on the premises.

The laundry is a sight. The man with only one shirt to his back can wash and dry it while he waits.

Rowton House lodgers cannot hold a mattress down as long as they please; so it is a case of early to bed, early to rise. As early as eight o'clock the lodgers go to bed, and they do so in batches, one being let upstairs every fifteen minutes. Each lodger has a little room with a comfortable bed and warm clothing to himself. Every room has a window, and as there are nearly 700 rooms, no wonder the little windows give the place a strange look when viewed from outside. Cleanliness is next to godliness, so it is to having the privilege of living in Rowton House. Every day, the attendant informed me, men are reported, and they are cautioned, and the offender must reform or leave, and there is scarcely ever any case of lodgers defacing a table, marking a wall, or destroying anything about the house.

Lord Rowton makes no claim to philanthropy in supplying these houses. They were put up with the idea of making money, and they earn a dividend.

A PICTURE

Of health, we say of a perfectly healthful woman, and it is a picture everyone loves to look upon. All the pictures of all the artists who have ever painted the glory and beauty of womanhood, are only copies and imitations of this picture.

Never artist mixed a color on his palette that can vie with the hues which tint a healthful woman's cheek. Why should this charm be sacrificed to sickness? It need not be save in rare cases. The general health of woman is so linked with the local womanly health that wasted cheek and sunken eye are in general but evidences of womanly diseases. Cure the diseases and the physical health is restored.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the ills of women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "I shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' for they cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines, I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; now I weigh one hundred and forty pounds and am having better health than ever before. My friends all say they can hardly believe that I am the same person; after being sick so long I have changed to be robust and rosy cheeked."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

ONE CHILD IN FORTY

All children need the elements of fat in their food because it is of first importance in proper nourishment. Doctors say one child in forty is properly fed — the other thirty-nine don't get a right amount of fat in their food at the right time.

If more children were given Scott's Emulsion it wouldn't take long before more than one in forty was properly fed. There is in Scott's Emulsion something that seems to take hold of children who do not get enough and proper nourishment from their every-day food.

First there is that important element of fat; this is contained in the cod liver oil in the very best and most desirable form. Then there are the hypophosphites of lime and soda which tone the blood and strengthen and nourish the bones. The perfect combination of these food principles in Scott's Emulsion makes this preparation of great value to all children.

CRUSHING A BORE.

The Authority on Natural History That Sydney Smith Quoted.

Sydney Smith jokes have a delicate flavor of age, but an anecdote in "Memories of Half a Century" has not been told so often as some of the classic tales. Sydney was a guest at the dinner of an archdeacon, and a fellow guest, whose hobby was natural history, was a bore if once started on his subject. Smith promised to try to keep him in check. The naturalist got his opening.

"Mr. Archdeacon," said he, "have you seen the pamphlet written by my friend, Professor Dickenson, on the remarkable size of the eye in a common house fly?"

The archdeacon courteously said he had not. The bore pursued his advantage:

"I can assure you it is a most interesting pamphlet, setting forth particulars hitherto unobserved as to the unusual size of that eye."

"I deny the fact!" said a voice from the other end of the table. All smiled save the bore.

"You deny the fact, sir?" said he. "May I ask on what authority you condemn the investigations of my most learned friend?"

"I deny the fact," replied Smith, "and I base my denial on evidence wedded to immortal verse well known to every scholar at least at this table!"

The emphasis laid on scholar nettled the naturalist by its implication. "Well, sir," he said, "will you have the kindness to quote your authority?"

"I will, sir. The evidence is those well known, I may say immortal, lines:

"Who saw him die?"
"I," said the fly,
"With my little eye!"

The guests roared, and during the rest of the dinner nothing further was heard on the subject of natural history.

Doctors' Incomes in England.

The British Medical Journal ventured an estimate of the average income that might be expected by the general practitioner in England and put it at £400 to £500. The estimate was copied into several daily papers and has produced a large crop of correspondence teeming with ridicule and indignation. The general practitioners who ought to know, declare that only a small proportion of their number earn so much even after years of arduous work. The competition brought about by the overcrowded state of the profession is, they declare, so great that it is a cruelty to induce men by inflated estimates to enter it.

Long Distance Fruits.

Dr. A. A. Brown of the Agricultural department of Victoria, has been experimenting with soft fruits with a view to their preservation during a long journey, such as that from Australia to Southampton. In January last he selected some fine peaches, halved the sample, and packed each set in a separate case. One case was subjected to fumigation with formaldehyde gas and the other to methane. In both instances the fruit remained perfectly sound and showed no traces of decay, even after many weeks.

A Stone Age Picture Gallery.

A picture gallery that dates from the stone age has been unearthed in a cavern near Eyzies, France. The pictures, which are all of prehistoric animals, were not only cut in the rock, as is usually the case with such representations, but were painted in several colors, and give some evidence of artistic skill. There are 80 pictures, of which 49 represent bisons of various kinds. The pigments used, which are shades of red and brown, have been found, on analysis by Moissan, the eminent French chemist, to be ochres mixed with minute fragments of transparent silica.

THE COOKBOOK.

Peeled, chopped tomato sprinkled over lettuce, the whole covered with French dressing, makes a Russian salad.

To steam potatoes peel them and when very clean put them in a colander over boiling water. Cover tightly with a lid and leave them until done.

Tarragon leaves are most useful in salad and should be scalded, squeezed in a towel and chopped fine. This herb gives a zest to the salad that is always appreciated.

When making beef tea, never add the salt till the meat has been cooking for several hours. Salt acts upon the fiber and prevents it giving out all its nourishing properties.

A steak one inch thick requires to be broiled seven minutes; one inch and a half, twelve minutes; two inches, twenty minutes, near the fire at first and then four inches away.

A substitute for caper sauce is made by boiling some sprigs of parsley slowly to let it become a bad color. Do not chop it fine. Set it in melted butter, season with salt and a dessertspoonful of vinegar, boil up and serve.

A New Profession.

Young Mr. Inswim was hurrying blindly along the street toward a chemist's with a bottle in his hand when young De Trop hailed him.

De Trop—Hello, Inswim! I've scarcely seen you for a year. Where have you been keeping yourself since you were married?

Inswim—Oh, busy—busy all the time.

De Trop—I say, what are you doing mostly?

Inswim—I've got a new profession.

De Trop—What is it?

Inswim—Humorist.

De Trop—You don't say. I didn't think you were much in that line.

Inswim—I'm not a very glittering success.

De Trop—What—er—what sort of work do you do mostly?

And then young Mr. Inswim leaned over and whispered softly in young De Trop's ear:

"I'm spending most of my time trying to humor a baby that's engaged in tooth culture."

Then he plunged madly on again toward the soothing sirup shop.—London Answers.

The Evils of Constipation.

This dangerous condition causes sick headaches, abdominal pains, piles and in severe cases, insanity and apoplexy. The most agreeable and satisfactory remedy is Ferrozone, which makes the bowels so well ordered that natural and unassisted action is established. It is mild and certain in action and never causes distress or inconvenience, and may be taken as long as desired. Pains in the stomach and intestines, piles, biliousness and headaches disappear at once when Ferrozone is used. Recommended and sold by druggists. Price 50c. No pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

The Expense of Canary Birds.

The keeping of canaries seems to be a fairly expensive luxury. To start with, a really good bird will cost $50. You can easily spend more, but $50 will buy a fairly good Norwich bred bird. The food the bird requires consists of various delicacies in the form of rye, bread, rice, meal and vegetables. Canaries are liable to all sorts of ailments, and this, of course, necessitates further expense, for the treatment of these complaints is anything but cheap. Of course, no fancier of canaries would be content with one bird; he must have at least a dozen, and the cost of some of these will certainly run to $75. Fifteen hundred dollars per annum could easily be spent in this manner without a very big show for the money.—London Tatler.

On a Shelf.

"Mamma," asked little three-year-old Margie, "do people go to heaven when they die?"

"Yes, dear, if they are good," replied her mother.

"Then I guess grandpa wasn't any good," rejoined the little miss, "'cause when he died they just put him on a shelf in a big stone house and locked the door."

A Business Man's Tribute.

"You admire that musician?"

"Very much," answered Mr. Cumrox. "For his compositions or for his performances?"

"Neither. For his nerve in charging $5 a seat."—Washington Star

Weak in Spelling.

The young woman was writing to a masculine friend to thank him for a tiny Maltese kitten he had sent her the day before. "I am glad to say it likes me already," she wrote, "for at this moment it is sitting on my knee, a big pink bow around its neck and its paws folded prettily under it."

"But the bow isn't pink," objected the friend who was looking over her shoulder.

"I know it isn't," responded the writer as she scribbled her name, "but I couldn't spell lavender to save my life, and what's in a color to a man?"

Another young woman was endeavoring recently to tell her mother something by telephone. "I'm going to study 'D-r-r-r-r,'" was all that could be understood of the communication.

"Spell it!" finally commanded the elder woman when the important word was still indistinct after much repeating.

"I don't know how," came back the answer faintly. "Send some one else to the phone." And the some one else discovered that the unspellable thing the young woman was going to study was stenography.

How to Clean Gilt Frames.

To clean gilt frames give a golden tinge to one pint of water by adding a little sulphur, then put it into a saucepan, add four onions or garlics bruised. Let it boil for ten minutes, take it off the fire, strain the liquor off and when cold wash the gilding with a soft painter's brush. This will greatly improve its appearance.

The Thorn and the Rose.

Mrs. Temperton—I've got the dearest old darling of a husband that ever happened. He has an awful temper, and about once a month he gets mad and tears up my best hat.

Miss Singleton—And you call him a dear old darling after that? How can you?

Mrs. Temperton—Well, you see, he always has a fit of remorse next day and buys me a better one.

Crude Logic.

It is told of an East Indian law student that he once threw his examiners into confusion by declaring matrimony to be an illegal state. "How so? How so?" he was asked by the perturbed examiners, many of them married men. The student smiled beatifically. "Marriage," quoth he, "is a lottery, and lotteries are forbidden by law."

Her Recommendation.

"I don't think very much of your reference."

"I don't wonder, ma'am. My mistress was too busy to write it, ma'am, an' so I got her maid to write it for her, ma'am, an' she's only been to night school one winter, ma'am, an' the pen was a bad one."

Well Answered.

A youthful member of parliament was once advised by a bibulous member of one of his audiences to "go home to his mother." "I think," the young candidate said, "my friend might follow his own advice with advantage, for he does not seem to have outgrown his affection for the bottle."

Life.

It has been said that life is made up of three things—heredity, environment and the will. If the heredity and environment of the child are what they should be, the will will choose the right and do it.

"I'm going to," isn't doing it.—Atchison Globe.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Dec. 12th, 1902.—Grain.—We rather look for some reaction in May wheat, which, however, will depend largely on the run of receipts and the export situation. The market is in a very healthy condition as to May, while a short interest exists in Dec.

Americans, after opening irregular, now steady, at slight fractional gains, in London at two p.m.

London comes steady, and we are inclined to look for support, but regard the influence as comparatively unimportant.

General opinion attibuted to decline yesterday almost entirely to calling of stocks to liquidate certain loans, which had been called, without regard to prevailing conditions, and the New York Sun states that the selling of City Bank stock to the extent of 1,700 shares was in part liquidation of securities on this loan. It does not appear that monetary stringency was altogether responsible, though commission house selling was doubtless instigated by fear of harder money rates. The Gold export question is probably a past influence for the time, and with bankers willing to sell time exchange, it would seem as if export of gold would be postponed until January. These bills now pay at the rate of 8 3-4 per cent. per annum for money, which makes them desirable financial operation. We advise the largest liquidation is over, and we look for a stedadier market.

M. & M.

New York, Dec. 12th, 10.45 a.m.—Weakness in market is due to pool liquidation. Money is now ten per cent. on all calls.

M. & M.

Washington bulletin issued to-day states that Venezuelan Government has requested the American minister to propose to Great Britain and Germany that difference arising out of claims from alleged damages and injury to German and British subjects, during civil war be submitted to arbitration.

M. & M.

New York, Dec. 12th, 12.10 p.m.—Money is loaning at twelve per cent, and we would not advise purchase of stocks yet.

M. & M.

Most favourable news on money situation that has been discovered by the week's movement is the fact that banks have gained according to returns from interior, about three millions. This is most important news in this respect since last summer. Banks have lost this week $6,000,000.

REGISTER THE BABY,

(Ottawa Journal.)

When there is a new baby in the house, as a Toronto editor remarks who doubtless knows, even a bright business man is liable to overlook details that are of importance, and his wife can't think of reminding him, because she is too busy.

As a good many people know even if they forget occasionally, the law of Ontario demands the registration, within thirty days, of every child born. The law doesn't care whether it is a boy or a girl, or twins, or even worse. The fact has to be officially chronicled, and in Ottawa the place to do it is at the city hall, and it is done under the supervision of the city clerk.

Unquestionably a great many parents forget to register births in the stipulated time. They are liable to a fine not exceeding $20 and costs for their neglect, but somehow they either forget that baby has to be registered at all, or else they think the doctor has to attend to all that kind of things. What the doctor does is simply notify the city clerk that the population has increased. There his duty is ended. It is the duty of one of the parents, or someone acting for them, to go to the clerk's office and give the name chosen for the infant, also the full name of the father and the mother. The mother's maiden name is also required, and so is the father's occupation. There is an elaborate form prepared for it, and if you can't call to register the birth the city clerk will send you the form to fill out. It is customary for the person registering the event to sign the book in the clerk's office.

Delinquents who do not register the births may be summoned to the police court. There may not be many instances of this, but it is hinted that trouble may be coming. A report comes from Toronto that Col. Hamilton, provincial inspector of vital statistics, is thinking of making a tour of investigation. In most cases the names of the people with new babies are known, for they have been provided by the doctors. Better register the baby.

AN OMINOUS THREAT.

German Vineta and British Ariadne Threaten Puerto Cabello.

CASTRO WOULD LIKE TO SETTLE

President of Venezuela Asks That Dispute Be Left to Arbitration—Move May Be Too Late—Britain and Germany Are Not Likely to Agree—Evidence That the Venezuelans Still Cherish Hope.

London, Dec. 13.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Willemstad, Curacao, says that the foreign residents of Puerto Cabello are taking refuge on board the German cruiser Vineta and the British cruiser Ariadne, and that the vessels are threatening to bombard the port.

Mapped by British Sailors.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, Dec. 13.—The captured Venezuelan gunboats are now manned by British sailors, and are doing British work. There is one British cruiser at this port. The other men-of-war continue to blockade the Venezuelan coast. The navigation of the Orinoco River has been re-opened.

Castro Proposes Arbitration.

Washington, Dec. 13.—A cablegram received at the State Department yesterday from Minister Bowen at Caracas states that the Venezuelan Government has requested him to propose to Great Britain and Germany that the difficulties arising out of the claims for alleged damages and injuries to British and German subjects during the civil war be submitted to arbitration.

In conformity with the understanding already reached with the representatives of the British and German Governments here, this proposition from President Castro will be duly laid before these Governments, the State Department acting merely as a channel of communication.

Not much hope is entertained of the favorable reception of the proposition, as it is felt the affair has progressed too far for a settlement by peaceful methods.

Secretary Hay communicated Minister Bowen's cablegram to the English and German embassies, and it was immediately cabled to Berlin and London. It is probable replies will be received over night and will be sent by the State Department to Minister Bowen, who will inform the Venzuelan President.

After the Cabinet meeting yesterday, Secretary of the Navy Moody said the United States will not send, at this time at least, any warships to Venezuelan waters.

If there is an attempt to possess themselves of all the customs receipts on the part of Great Britain and Germany, protests naturally might be expected to follow from France, which holds claims aggregating more than the combined claims of England and Germany. It is thought that Venezuela has already arranged for their payment on an instalment plan out of Venezuelan customs receipts, an arrangement that might be disturbed by the British-German program.

Not Acceptable Now.

London, Dec. 13.—The Foreign Office informs the Associated Press that the British Government disclaims responsibility for the sinking of the Venezuelan vessels of La Guayra, which it entirely attributes to the German authorities.

The Foreign Office officials also said they had not received information to the effect that Venezuela had requested Minister Bowen to act as arbitrator. They think it is not likely the proposition has been made, but if such is the case, they do not consider that arbitration at this stage would be acceptable to Great Britain.

Preparing For War.

Caracas, Venezuela, Dec. 13.—The Government has taken preservative measures at La Guayra. All the deposits of coal at the navy yard, and all the British cars on the La Guayra Railroad have been brought here, rendering impossible the transportation of the allied troops by rail. General Ferrer, the Minister of War, spent all day yesterday in choosing spots in the mountains, where trenches are to be dug.

The Governor of Caracas has issued the following decree:

"All Venezuelans living in the Federal District, between the ages of 18 and 50 years, must enroll themselves in the militia; any such person refusing to enroll voluntarily, as patriotism demands, will be declared a traitor, and sent before the tribunals."

Thursday, after a long conference with President Castro, United States Minister Bowen obtained an order for the liberation of the remaining British and German subjects who were held prisoners, and an hour later all had been released. Minister Bowen and Secretary of Legation Russell went to the jail five times, and assisted the poor colored British subjects and those who were ill.

The defensive preparations at the strategic points on the heights back of the town of La Guayra are being vigorously pushed forward. The deposits of powder in the fortresses of Lavigia and San Carlos have been removed. Great patriotic demonstrations are being made, and everyone capable of bearing arms is offering his services. The embargo upon the Harbor Corporation has been removed. The English telephone office has been seized.

THE CAUSE APPARENT

The Venezuelan Attitude Bound to Create Diffsrences.

THE VIEW OF LORD LANSDOWNE

If the Republic Would Come Down to the Possible, She Would See Great Britain Is Not a Hard Taskmistress—Italians Are Aiding the British in Somaliland—Situation Less Serious.

London, Dec. 13.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne was the principal guest at the annual banquet given last night in London of the United Club. In a speech of considerable length the Foreign Secretary touched upon the most prominent topics of the day.

He said he did not believe that in any part of the world was Great Britain open to the charge of bearing inveterate antipathy to anyone, not even to Venezuela. "If that Republic," said Lord Lansdowne, "would desist from committing outrages upon British subjects and British property; if she would pay her just debts, and if she would reply to diplomatic representations made her in perfectly courteous language there would be no need whatever for an quarrel.

"I might add," said the Foreign Secretary, "that Venezuela should be content to put herself on a moderate allowance in the matter of revolutions. In less than seventy years, Venezuela has indulged in the luxury of 104 revolutions; three revolutions in two years seems to me to be altogether unreasonable.

"I am glad that in Venezuela waters, at this moment, German and British warships and sailors are acting side by side in enforcing the just demands of these two powers."

Continuing, Lord Lansdowne said that, in Somaliland, the Italian Government was giving Great Britain invaluable facilities in the conduct of operations, and that he hoped soon to dispose of the difficulties created by the Mad Mullah in that part of the world.

Concerning Ireland, the Foreign Secretary said the condition of that country might be regarded to-day with less misgiving than at any time for many years past. Home Rule had receded further into the background than at any time within his recollection.

Situation Not Alarming.

London, Dec. 13.—The Venezuelan crisis is regarded less seriously here this morning. Lord Lansdowne's speech is held to show that the situation is in no way alarming, and, although the opinion is expressed that President Castro's reported request for arbitration has come too late, this step on his part is welcomed as a proof of his anxiety to withdraw from his position.

The morning newspapers express various opinions as to the arbitration proposals, but there is a general agreement that, if, by a guarantee, made by the United States, or by other means, Venezuela could be bound to carry out an award, no reason exists why Great Britain should refuse to consent to arbitration. It is believed, however, that neither Great Britain nor Germany is likely to accept the arbitration proposal.

Statements attributed to the consuls and other representatives of Venezuela in European cities all betray a stronger feeling against Germany than against Great Britain, as well as reliance upon the United States to prevent any Anglo-German invasion of Venezuela. The Venezuelan Consul at Genoa is credited with the assertion that the armed intervention of the United States would be certain to follow immediately such invasion.

A despatch from Berlin to The Morning Post says the British commander in Venezuelan waters will, as senior officer, in future direct all joint action by the Anglo-German fleet, after having consulted with Commodore Schedor, the German commander. Germany has no intention of sending a force to the interior of Venezuela. All German action, according to the correspondent, will be confined to the coast.

Crippled For Life.

New York, Dec. 13.—Charles Clinton Gladwin, one of the leading athletes of Canada, and the champion snowshoe racer of the world, left Bellevue Hospital yesterday, probably crippled for life, as a result of the explosion of fireworks in Madison Square on election night. Gladwin was taken to the hospital with both legs broken, the right in three places. The surgeons desired to amputate both legs, but he refused permission.

Take Duty of Coal.

Washington, Dec. 13.—Representative McCall, (Mass.) yesterday introduced a bill authorizing the President to enter into a reciprocal agreement with Great Britain whereby coal mined in the United States may be shipped into Canada free of duty and Canadian coal admitted into the United States free of charge.

MR. FIELDING'S SPEECH.

Reference to Changes in the Tariff—Reasonable Amendments May Be Made to Meet Changing Conditions.

Halifax, Dec. 13.—The banquet to Hon. W. S. Fielding was not concluded till an early hour yesterday morning, there being a long program of speeches. Referring to the tariff, Mr. Fielding said:—I am not here to offer anything new on the tariff question. The last budget speech made was an authorized statement of the Government's policy, but I say that we are not going to tie ourselves to every item in the tariff. If there is an inequality which needs to be remedied we are prepared to consider it and remedy it. If there is a new condition created by the establishment of some new industry; if there are conditions abroad which are interfering with our trade; in short, if anything has happened, we do not propose to shut our eyes to established facts, but we do say that where the country has prospered under this tariff there is no reason for getting up an excitement for purposes of having us return to high duties. My respected friend in the Opposition, Mr. Borden, thinks he has a policy. He calls it "adequate protection." Sir, I think the people of Canada are too intelligent to be caught with chaff. They will want to know the meaning of "adequate protection." It is a meaningless phrase. I am far from claiming that our tariff is perfect and not capable of being amended in some particulars. Let us not deceive ourselves. We have never had a free trade policy in this Dominion, and we are not likely to have it within the lifetime of any man in this meeting. We have always attempted to adjust the tariff to meet all classes. There always has been a measure of incidental protection. If you put on a duty of 15 per cent. on something made in Canada and something made abroad, incidentally you confer a protection to that extent. It will be always so for a considerable time to come. It is a question between a moderate and a reasonable tariff, and a question of high and excessive duties, which prevailed under the National Policy. I do not say, and I repeat it again, that the tariff is perfect. It is five years since that tariff was prepared and but slight changes have been made. We have held that it is a great improvement to the country to avoid frequent tariff changes. Every business man appreciates tariff stability. It is a matter in which sometimes we had "better bear the ills we have than fly to others that we know not of." It is better to bear with some little inequality than to open up the tariff question and to disturb the equilibrium of trade. But changed conditions at home and abroad may necessitate looking over these items from time to time.

Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs, referring to tariff revision, said great wisdom, discretion and knowledge must be exercised. After five years in the light of experience and changed conditions changes may be necessary; but these changes, early or late though they may come, can best be made by those who have given stability and progress rather than by their political opponents.

Anglo-Abyssinian Treaty.

London, Dec. 13.—The Foreign Office has issued the text of the Anglo-Abyssinian treaty, which were ratified Oct. 28. By this treaty Great Britain obtains a lease of a slice of territory near Hano on the River Baro, as a commercial station, and the right to construct a railroad through Abyssinia, connecting the Soudan with Ugandi Territory.

PRACTICAL TESTS TO BE MADE.

Will Experiment With Cattle Guards at Ottawa.

A short time ago the Cattle Guard Commissioners held a meeting for Peterborough and vicinity, and those who became interested will be glad to know that the Cattle Guard Commissioners have decided that the practical tests of cattle guards shall take place in Ottawa. Mr. Mountain, engineer of the Canada Atlantic Railway, has consented to lay a stretch of track in one of the buildings at the Exhibition grounds. Cattle will be made to enter at one end of this building and left to find their way out as best they can. Tests will commence towards the end of this week and continue for several days.

A SPLENDID YEAR.

Canadian Bank of Commerce Pays Seven per cent Dividend.

The annual statement of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, for the year ending November 30, 1902, shows that the net profits for the year were $1,028,509.76, and with balance of profit and loss account added, makes a grand total of $1,279,557.60. Of this $560,000 was paid in dividends, at 7 per cent. per annum, and $500,000 carried to the rest account, making a total for that account of $2,500,000. The balance was divided between the various bank improvements, with the exception of $152,821.07 carried forward. The bank has now assets amounting to $72,825,632.56.

To Recognize Purity.

Adulteration has grown to such a fine art, that it is almost impossible for a woman now-a-days to detect the false from the true; but a chemical analysis will always detect adulteration. Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, after a number of analyses, reports that "Sunlight Soap is a pure and well-made soap." Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will see that Prof. Ellis is right. No one should know better than he. 216

A Young New York Lady Tells of a Wonderful Cure:—

"My trouble was with the ovaries; I am tall, and the doctor said I grew too fast for my strength. I suffered dreadfully from inflammation and doctored continually, but got no help. I suffered from terrible dragging sensations with the most awful pains low down in the side and pains in the back, and the most agonizing headaches. No one knows what I endured. Often I was sick to the stomach, and every little while I would be too sick to go to work, for three or four days; I work in a large store, and I suppose standing on my feet all day made me worse.

"At the suggestion of a friend of my mother's I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is simply wonderful. I felt better after the first two or three doses; it seemed as though a weight was taken off my shoulders; I continued its use until now I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. Young girls who are always paying doctor's bills without getting any help as I did, ought to take your medicine. It costs so much less, and it is sure to cure them.—Yours truly, ADELAIDE PEARL, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City." — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

THE EMPIRE'S GRANARY.

The Province of Manitoba has made figures entertaining by the magnitude of her crop returns and the rapid increase of the past few years. The thrashing returns have been compiled and issued in a bulletin by the Agricultural Department, and they more than sustain the estimates made early in the season. The total grain crop has passed the hundred million mark as compared with 85,000,000 bushels in 1901, and 41,000,000 bushels in 1891, the years that formerly made new records. The wheat crop was 53,077,267 bushels from 2,039,940 acres, as compared with 50,502,035 bushels from 2,011,835 acres in the previous year. The oats crop showed a still larger proportionate increase, the total for the year being 34,478,160 bushels as compared with 27,796,588 in 1901, and the barley crop increased from 6,636,155 bushels to 11,848,422 bushels. The returns of less important grains were, flax, 504,440 bushels; rye, 49,900 bushels; and peas, 34,154 bushels, all three showing substantial increases.

The yield of potatoes was 3,459,325 bushels, and of roots 3,230,995 bushels, and the total production of dairy and creamery butter was 3,915,875 pounds, valued at $626,160. The total product of the cheese factories was 1,093,653 pounds, valued at $111,443. The record of poultry sold by farmers shows a total of 481,195, comprising 83,905 turkeys, 34,270 geese, and 363,020 chickens. The returns of live stock in the province show 146,591 horses, 282,343 cattle, 20,518 sheep, and 95,598 pigs. There were 4,000 beef cattle exported and 20,000 steekers sent to the Northwest Territories. In the ecord of live stock sales as well as in the production of dairy and creamary butter, there were material reductions compared with the previous year. The reduction in dairy products is attributed to the bad roads, which prevented the delivery of milk early in the season. According to the September bulletin, the last issued by the Territorial Government, the total yield of wheat, oats and barley, will be 36,000,000 bushels as compared with 23,000,000 bushels for the previous year. Of the total wheat supplies 14,649,500 bushels, oats 10,725,500 bushels, and barley 844,900 bushels. In each there is a substantial increase. It is also worthy of note that the great influx of settlers and the area broken and prepared for crop gives promise of still greater returns next year, both in Manitoba and the Territories.—The Globe.

LAKEFIELD'S NEW SAWMILL.

The Machinery Supplied by the Wm. Hamilton Company.

(Lakefield News.)

The new sawmill which has just been erected by the Lillicrap, Tate Lumber Company, is a structure of which the owners and the village may well be proud. The mill is what is known as a circular saw mill and has a capacity of from 25,000 to 30,000 feet per diem. No expense has been spared in making it up-to-date in every particular. The contract for the machinery which called for the most up-to-date and modern plant, was made with the William Hamilton Company, of Peterborough, early last June, but owing to stress of work the delivery of the plant was so long delayed that it has only now been found possible to have it installed. This has been done under the able supervision of Mr. Jonathan Griffin, and last Saturday, the whistle announcing its completion broke on the ears of village residents. A few facts concerning the mill and the facilities which it will undoubtedly afford to customers, will, we know, prove of interest to our readers. The mill is built on concrete foundations throughout, all the timbers supporting the mill and machinery resting on a concrete bottom, and it is needless to add that all work has been done in the most substantial manner. The building is situated on the lake shore at the end of the G.T.R. wharf and siding. At the north end, by means of an endless chain running over a solid logway, the logs are drawn into the mill and are then sawn into boards or timber. The saw carriage is of the newest design being supplied with a "nigger" or "kicker" for turning the logs, and the man running the saw has the fullest control over the "nigger" as well as over the hauling of the logs from the water, this being accomplished by means of levers which obviate any necessity for leaving his post. The lumber passes, when cut, over live rollers to the "edger" which is a very fine heavy machine. After being "edged" it passes over rollers to the "trimmers" and then over the trimmers to live rollers over which the lumber is conveyed to the sorting platform. The slabs are cut up by a slab saw and conveyed from the mill by an endless chain carrier, passing on the way the lathe mill where all material suitable for lathe is sorted out. It will be seen from the time the logs leave the water till the lumber is on the sorting platform, everything is done by machinery except the guiding of the lumber from the different machines, which is performed without the lifting of a board. The dimensions of the mill are 30x84 feet and 16x28 feet, and the stone boiler and engine house 25x36 feet. The engine, boiler and large heater, and in fact all the fittings were supplied by the Wm. Hamilton Company, which is sufficient guarantee of their excellence. All the sawdust is collected in carriers and conveyed into a Dutch oven and burned to supply fuel for steam the exhaust steam from the engine heating the water before it is forced into the boiler. The mill will be used very largely for local requirements and for custom work of all kinds, and Mr. Lillicrap's long experience in the lumber trade is a most ample guarantee to all customers that everything will be done in a thoroughly workmanlike manner and with unfailing despatch.

This addition to the manufacturing industries of the village will give employment to 10 or 15 men, and although it is not the present intention of the firm to run the mill during the winter months, the excellent facilities afforded by the site will enable them to commence work earlier in the spring and continue later in the fall than is usually the case with saw mills. We understand the Company have now from 10 to 15 men engaged in taking out logs for the ensuing year.

Death ensued at 7 o'clock.

MONUMENT TO JESUIT MARTYRS

Memorial Church to Early Canadian Missionaries.

LALLEMENT AND De BREBOEUF

Memorial Church of Ste. Anne, at Penetanguishene—Bishop O'Connor Pontificates—Bishop McEvay Assists.

Every Ontario school girl and school boy is familiar with the thrilling chapter in the early history of Canada, in which the zeal and devotion of the missionaries, Fathers Lallement and de Breboeuf were crowned by martyrdom of the cruelest kind in the vicinity of Penetanguishene.

In the district in which 275 years ago the cruellest page in Canadian history was written a great monument has been erected in commemoration of Father Jean de Breboeuf and Father Gabriel Lallement, martyrs of the early Christian church on this continent. Ste. Anne's Memorial Church, a magnificent stone structure, blessed and dedicated on Thursday, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor singing pontifical high mass, and H. Lordship Bishop McEvary, formerly of this town, assisting in the solemn services, now dominates a landscape, the scene of the fiendish torture and death of the two Jesuit missionaries, who died for their faith at the hands of the Iroquois Indians. The dedication of the church, which will for all time to come mark the spot of the sacrifice of the two Catholic priests, was no ordinary event in church history, and distinguished prelates of the church came from all parts of the country to witness it.

THE STORY OF DE BREBOEUF.

History has furnished no more noble record than that of the early Jesuit missionaries in North America, and the name of Father de Breboeuf stands first of all in that roll of honour. The story of his almost superhuman achievements in the evangelization of the Huron Indians and of his terrible death was told to the great gathering by Rev. Father Jones, S.J., of St. Mary's College, Montreal, the authority upon the history of Catholicism in this country. He told of Father de Breboeuf's visit to Canada, in company with other cultured scholars of the Jesuit Order, to share the rigors and hardships of life among the savages in the hope of bringing them the Gospel. He began by telling of the landing of Champlain near what is now Penetanguishene in 1613, and the beginning of the mission work of Father Joseph Le Caron, north of Christian Island. This, he said, was the introduction of Christianity to the Hurons, the children of the wilderness. The speaker, in graphic language, described the epidemic which swept over the country, and at first threatened the mission work, and of the final establishment of a chain of missions through Tay Township. Champlain, he said, had landed with the intention of taking all of the Huron bands, and with them as allies attacking the Iriquois. This was the origin of the bitter hatred between the Iriquois and the Hurons, for Champlain, with the assistance of the Indians from the north, successfully attacked the Iriquois in their stronghold near Oswego, N.Y., and the warfare between them was from that time unceasing.

In the early spring of 1648 the Iroquois, led by renegade Hurons, went their way up the lakes to the Huron country. They were successful in eluding the Huron scouts, who never expected the appearance of their old time enemy at such a season. During the night the Iroquois surrounded the palisaded Village of St. Ignatius, and fell upon the unfortunate Hurons.

THREE ESCAPED.

So well did the Iroquois perform their awful work that but three Hurons escaped half naked through the snow to carry the dread tidings to St. Louis. Fathers de Breboeuf and Lallement had left St. Ignatius before the massacre, and had come to St. Louis to baptize converts. The Iroquois fortified the former village to fall back upon in case of necessity, and advanced on St. Louis. There were but eighty braves in this village, and the Iroquois numbered 1,000. The women and children of the Hurons were sent away, and the braves asked deBreboeuf and Lallement to look to their own safety and go with them, because they could not fight.

Breboeuf's reply was "I do not fight with the tomahawk, nor the knife, nor the musket, but I fight with spiritual arms. My place is here to baptize those who would otherwise die unshriven if I were not here."

Three times the handful of Hurons repelled the Iroquois attack, but the enemy finally fired the palliseades, and those of the Hurons who were not killed were taken prisoners. Elated at securing alive "Eschon" (De Breboeuf) their old powerful enemy, who they believed had instigated the war that had been carried on by the Hurons, tortures were applied to him at nine o'clock on the morning following his capture.

THE TORTURE OF DE BREBOEUF.

He kissed the stake which was to be finally the instrument of his death. A girdle of pine knots was put about his massive frame and lighted, and he still continued to exhort his companions. A necklace of hot axe-heads was hung over his shoulders, and when he continued to pray to his companions to be strong in the faith, the enraged Iroquois cut out his tongue, and when his heart was cut out and death came, the Indians drank his blood, in the hope that they might become as brave as he had been. The next day they brought out the frail and heroic Lallement, and his soul, too, went back to heaven.

The speaker dealt with each locality separatively, and located the first Iroquois attack as taking place on the east half of lot 4 of the seventh concession of Tay, a most interesting discovery made recently.

WHY SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM?

You may have rheumatism in its incipient stages, where there is only an occasional twinge to remind you that your joints are not as supple as they used to be. Better not neglect it though, for it will grow gradually worse. It is advisable to cure it at once, for it is easier to eradicate it now than it will be a year hence. Then, again, your case may be a chronic one—so old that you have given up all hopes of a cure. There is no reason for despair. Ozone is a certain cure for rheumatism in every stage. It goes right to the seat of the trouble, rids the system of uric acid and effects a permanent cure. It has worked wonders for others, whose cases were as bad or worse than yours, and it will work wonders for you.

Mrs. Alex. Armstrong, of Fox P.O., Man., and Mr. C. Wright, of Toronto, are two cases in point. Read the following accounts of their cures as told by themselves:

MRS. ALEX. ARMSTRONG
FOX P.O., MAN.

"BLESSED BE YOUR OZONE," says Mrs. Armstrong.

"For more than two years I have been a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism and Kidney trouble. Many times the pains were so terrible and my suffering so great that I could not endure them, and was obliged to take laudanum to the extent of three teaspoonfuls at a time, and I would lie in a stupid and helpless condition for two or three days. I became a physical wreck and thought I would never recover. I got so weak I could not walk without assistance, and I could only get relief from my suffering by taking laudanum. I took doctor's medicine, but got no relief. A friend of mine advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I purchased a bottle and began taking it. I had taken only half the bottle when I began to feel that it was doing me good, and I began to get better. I continued the use of Ozone until I had taken over two large bottles and I am now completely cured. My general health is better than it has been for years. I am entirely free from rheumatic pains and no longer suffer from kidney trouble. In fact I am in perfect health. I am free from aches and pains, and blessed be your Ozone, for it has done it all. I attribute my complete recovery and restoration to perfect health to the use of Ozone alone, having taken no other remedy, and I can recommend Ozone to all sick and suffering women. When all other remedies fail, Ozone will restore your health as it did mine.

Sept. 9th, 1902. (Signed), MRS. ALEX. ARMSTRONG, Fox P.O., Man.

MR. C. WRIGHT, TORONTO, ONT.

HIS FEET SO SORE HE HAD TO CRAWL ON HIS HANDS AND KNEES.

"For several months I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism. My trouble was principally in the soles of my feet, which were so sore and full of pain that I had to crawl on my hands and knees. I was recommended to try Ozone. I soon began to get better, and by the time I had taken five bottles I was in splendid condition. My pains and aches had all disappeared. When I commenced taking Ozone I weighed 130 pounds. I now weigh 172 pounds and feel in splendid health. We feel very thankful that we ever got your valuable remedy. We keep Ozone in the house all the time as a ready remedy for ills in the family. You are at liberty to publish this for the benefit of other sufferers. 852 Bathurst St., Toronto, Sept. 16th, 1902. (Signed), C. WRIGHT."

OZONE IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AT 50 CENTS AND $1.00 A BOTTLE.

You will note that the people who recommend Ozone are Canadians—people you can see and talk to. A post card with your name and address to the Ozone Co. of Toronto, Ont., will bring our free booklet on Rheumatism, explaining how and why Ozone cures Rheumatism.

A MILLION MORE STOCK.

New Issue by Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company Allotted.

The directors of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon alloted the 40,000 shares which the shareholders had authorized them to issue. The entire allotment was taken up by the shareholders themselves, nothing being alloted to the outside public. The shares, which were issued at a premium of 150, or $62,50 per share, have a par value of $25, so that this adds one million dollars to the capitalization of the company. The entire amount of capital which was authorized in the formation of the company was $3,500,000, of which $2,500,000 was subscribed and paid up, and the new issue thus brings the capitalization up to the amount authorized.

There was a full attendance of the local directors Wednesday, Senator Cox being in the chair. Mr. Elias Rogers, the managing director, who had just returned from a trip to the mines, gave his report upon the property, and it was considered highly satisfactory by the directors.

Payments on the new issue must be made at par to the National Trust Company, while shares not wholly paid up may be transferred after one call has been made.

For Friendship's Sake

Tell Me a Sick One Whom You Want to See Well.

Send no money—just a postal card stating which book is needed. It costs but a penny—takes but a moment. Write it to-day, and I will do all that man can do to make your friend well.

I will even do this:—I will mail the sick one an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide it.

Could I meet you I would forever convince you that I have what these sick ones need. More than that, they must have it, for most of them can never get well without it. I would overwhelm you with evidence.

But I can meet only a few, so I say to all who need help—"Try my Restorative one month at my risk. Learn by a test just what it can do. If it succeeds, you are well. If it fails, it is free." I know that no sick one can neglect an offer like that.

I fail sometimes, but not often. In rare cases, there is a cause—like cancer—which medicine cannot cure. But I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands on these terms, and 39 out of each 40 have gladly paid because they got well. I am willing to trust the sick ones to be fair with me.

It is a remarkable remedy that can stand a test like that. It is my discovery and I spent a lifetime on it. My Restorative is the only remedy that strengthens the inside nerves. Those nerves alone operate every vital organ of the body. When an organ is weak it means that its nerve power is weak. It is like an engine that needs more steam. To doctor the organ is useless. The weak organ will do its duty when given the power to act, and no other way can cure it.

My success comes from the fact that my remedy always restores that nerve power. My book will explain it. Please write me to-day who needs it.

JUDGMENT ON LENNOX

Mr. T. G. Carscallen, Conservative, Holds the Seat.

JUDGES DISAGREE IN ONE CASE

Judge Maclennan Finds Personal Bribery Proved — Carscallen's Unsatisfactory Statements Regarding Party Funds He Received—Excessive Payments For Vehicles Came Close to a Breach of the Law.

Toronto, Dec. 13.—Justice Osler and Maclennan, at Osgoode Hall, yesterday, delivered judgment, dismissing the petition against T. G. Carscallen, Conservative M.P.P.-elect in Lennox. Of the 53 charges heard at the trial, judgment was reserved in five. Of these, the two judges agreed in dismissing four, but disagreed on the fifth. An appeal will probably be taken to a higher court.

Justice Osler.

In delivering judgment, Justice Osler said: "Counsel for the petitioner urged that no credit should be given to the respondent's denial, first, because on his examination for discovery, he was unable to remember this transaction; and, second, because of the unsatisfactory account he gave of the disposition of the sum of $200, which he had received during the election from two of his friends. As to the $200, I could wish the respondent to have been more candid and outspoken than he was about the footing on which he received it. No doubt it was a contribution towards his election expenses, though nothing may have been actually expressed or said about it, and he may have so understood it. I have no reason to believe that it was actually expended by him on his election, and how he may deal with it hereafter is a matter between himself and his friends, the contributors, to whom, no doubt, justice and honesty require that it should be returned. But even if I felt, which I do not, some suspicion of the truthfulness of the account which the respondent gave of what, in his belief, was the truth of the transaction, I should hesitate a long time before finding the charge of bribery by giving the extra 50 cents proved. The payment of the $1 was, of course, perfectly legitimate, and the payment of the trifling additional sum ought, both as to fact and intent, to be proved, if not to a demonstration, yet at the very least by evidence producing moral certainty in the minds of the tribunal. I am, therefore, of the opinion that the charge should be dismissed."

Commenting on the charge that rigs had been hired and paid for or promised to be paid for, the judge said: "The evidence shows that two livery stable keepers made higher charges than were customary for vehicles supplied to the candidates and their supporters by canvassing, and in other ways, conducting the election campaign; e. g., if the charge usually made for a conveyance to the village of Bath was $3, they would charge for the same during the contest $5. I have little doubt that the reason why the liverymen made the higher charge was to protect themselves from loss by furnishing their conveyances, as they expected to be asked to do gratis to the friends of both candidates on election day. This was the course they pursued towards both parties indifferently, and to both they furnished their conveyances without charge of any kind on that day. Had this been done by arrangement between the liverymen and the candidates and their agents, it would probably be easy to hold that there had been an attempt, and an unsuccessful one, to evade the statute. But, so far as the evidence goes, the object and intention of the livery people rested in their own minds alone. There was, in fact, no such arrangement or agreement expressed or implied, as I think the petitioner was bound to make out. If it should be thought that this is like an evasion of the act, I can only say that the remedy, if one be thought necessary, is in the hands of the legislature, and would seem to be simple, namely, to prohibit livery keepers or persons who keep vehicles for hire from volunteering them for use, or knowingly permitting them to be used for the purpose of carrying voters to the poll at an election. We ought, in my opinion, to dismiss this charge, and the petition."

Justice Maclennan.

Judge Maclennan's judgment on charge 22, which is the one he differs from Judge Osler, was:

"Upon the remaining charge, No. 22, the personal charge of bribing one Whisken, caretaker of the Ruth Town Hall, I was of opinion after the argument that the charge was established. In consequence of the different opinion of my brother Osler, I have since given the case much anxious consideration. I have not, however, been able to take a different view of the case. The witness Whisken, gives me the impression of perfect candour and truthfulness, and there was no suggestion to the contrary. On the other hand, having regard to the respondent's evidence given upon his examination for discovery upon Nov. 7, less than three weeks before the trial, and his evidence at the trial, I find it impossible to give credence to the account which he gives of the transaction in question, contradicting the evidence of Whisken. I refer particularly to his evidence of his interview with Whisken in the garden, as well as what passed between them after the meeting at the hall, and also of the extraordinary account he gave of the sum of $500 received by him from the Conservative Association and the two sums of $100 each received by him from Alexander Carscallen and Uriah Wilson, respectively.

"I therefore feel myself compelled to find the charge, No. 22, established, but my learned brother, being of different opinion, the charge must be dismissed."

Mr. Justice Maclennan added a few remarks regarding the charge of hiring rigs. He thought it extraordinary that without pre-arrangement or enquiry the respondent should pay $5 for the use of a rig when the ordinary charge was only $3. Unless a very special reason were given, this would lead to enquiry, and it seemed to him that it would appear to any average intelligence that Mr. Wilson, the agent who paid for the rigs, had come very close to a breach of the law and that very little more would have made him guilty of committing it.

Edmund Bristol, for the Conservatives, asked the court to fix a date for the hearing of the cross-petition, but his request was not granted.

Appeal in South Oxford.

An appeal has been entered by the Liberals in the South Oxford election case. It will be confined to the charges in which Donald Sutherland is accused of bribery.

IMMIGRATION FROM ENGLAND.

W. T. R. Preston Announces That a Syndicate Looks This Way.

London, Dec. 18.—W. T. R. Preston, Canada's Emigration Commissioner in London, said yesterday that an English syndicate is being formed with a view to securing from the Ontario Legislature a concession of 2,000,000 acres of land, at $1 an acre, in consideration of 50,000 settlers being placed on the land within three years.

The Canadian Government has approved the scheme promoted by Rev. Mr. Barr for the colonization of British agriculturists in Alberta. The scheme is expected to lead to a special party of 2,000 going from England. Passages have already been arranged from Liverpool for more than a thousand early in the spring.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses all produce headaches and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head, and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like red gum, blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure and after using a few fifty cent boxes which I procured from my druggist's I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures) no opium (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

SIR WILFID CHRISTMAS.

It is now thought probable that Sir Wilfrid Laurier may remain at Hot Springs, Va., until the new year.

MATTERS MILITARY

BY SENTRY.

Word has been received that the British War Office has granted Trooper Ben. Huckell, of the Strathcona Horse, a pension of thirty-six cents a day, to count from his landing in Halifax. Mr. Huckell was rendered deaf by the bursting of a shell near him. As he has been home for over a year he will have a nice little Christmas box.

A despatch from London says—"The War Office is receiving bitter Australian complaints because the army orders deny the war medal and gratuity to troops landed in South Africa after May 31st last. The Canadian contingent is also affected. The complaint says the injustice is very great, for all these men were well on the way before the war ended."

The Cobourg Battery Garrison Artillery won the Governor General's cup this year for being the most efficient Battery in the Dominion of Canada. This is the fifth cup the Cobourg Battery has won. The efficiency of this Battery is a great credit to its late Commanding Officer, Major Neil F. MacNachtan, and is an omen that the 14th Field Battery which is now commanded by Major MacNachtan, will soon take first place among the Field Batteries of Canada.

The troops at Stanley Barracks, Toronto, both cavalry and infantry, are now enjoying the one period throughout the entire year when they have comparative leisure. There are no classes of instruction going on, no rifle practice is for the present called for, nor scarcely any drill, and only the regimental guard of three men and a N.C.O. has to be furnished daily, which is no very great strain upon the men's energies. Many of the men of all ranks are on furlough, while some of the officers are on leave. There will be the usual round of Christmas festivities, and then the New Year work will begin again in earnest.

It is particularly interesting that just at this time the third return should be issued giving official information in connection with the conveyance of troops to South Africa. From these returns some idea of the magnitude of the operations undertaken by the Transport Department of the Admiralty may be obtained. By the time the Boer prisoners have all returned to South Africa, the numbers of all ranks conveyed in Government transports on time charter, to and from South Africa, will be upwards of 625,000, including the troops brought from India to Natal at the commencement of the war. These last, some 18,00 in number, were conveyed to Natal in forty-six transports taken up by the Government of India. To carry the remainder 190 transports were engaged by the Admiralty; many of these have made numerous voyages, and it is calculated that they have run altogether upwards of 6,000,000 miles. Large as these numbers are, they do not include the troops conveyed on freight that is to say, by vessels making regular passages, and over the movements of which the Admiralty had no control. Nor in these figures is any account taken of the work in connection with the expedition to China, for which the India Government chartered forty-nine transports on time. With the assistance of four Imperial transports detached from South African service and three Royal Indian marine vessels some 74,000 troops of all ranks were conveyed and considerably over 500,000 miles covered. Vast as was the undertaking it must not be forgotten that there was no loss of human life due to causes connected with the ships. There were, of course, a few mishaps, such as are incidental to navigation, but of these only two can be classed as serious, the loss of the Ismore, in St. Helena Bay, with all her horses, the batteries she was carrying having to proceed by another ship, and the breaking of the shaft of the Persia, near St. Vincent, which entailed her return home for repairs, the 6th Dragoons she was carrying being sent on by the Goth. But these misfortunes cannot mar the very conspicuous success with which the transport operations have been carried out.

Sunday next will be the sixty-fifth anniversary of the breaking out of the rebellion in Upper Canada in 1837. On the same day took place the affair of Montgomery's tavern on Yonge street, Toronto, the dispersion of the rebels, and, so far as Toronto was concerned, the collapse of the whole rebellion. Even of those who remember that day, there are now few survivors, says the Toronto Telegram. Mr. J. W. G. Whitney was a boy at the time in his "teens." He saw the burning by the mob of the house of his relative, Dr. Horne, of Yonge street. Mr. A. McLean Howard was also a boy at the time. His father lived in the northern portion of the suburbs of Toronto. Both of these gentlemen have since held commission on the militia. The survivors of those who took part in the march up Yonge street to Montgomery's tavern to repel the "invading host," as they were grandiloquently called at the time by a contemporary writer, are necessarily still fewer in numbers than those who recollect the circumstances. The Venerable Archdeacon Dixon is one. His parents then lived on King street east, on a portion of the site now occupied by the King Edward Hotel. Mr. D. M. Morphy is another, and Mr. J. Leslie, who for so many years was postmaster of Toronto, saw the defending force march out, though it is not certain that he accompanied them. Mr. D. McKay of "Dundonald," on Yonge street, is also another veteran of that period, though he was in one of the provisional battalions in Montreal and not in Toronto. There may be one or two other veterans in Toronto, but these just named are all that are known.

THE CEREAL WORKS A BOON.

They Furnish a Profitable and Ready Market for Oats.

Merchants' and Others Also Indirectly Benefited.

It needs a knowledge of the circumstances to determine the importance of the presence of the works of the American Cereal Company in this town, both to the surrounding farming community, and to the commercial interests of the town.

This is emphasized when it is known that at the works there is a market for 10,000 bushels of oats per day. The price paid at present is the comparatively handsome figure of 33 cents — at least three cents more than would be obtained in the open market. A farmer bringing a hundred bushels of oats to the market receives for them $3.00 more than he would have got if the works had not stimulated the market. This $3.00 extra represents a pretty good day's work for a man and team.

Then the benefit to our merchants and business me. Why, farmers come to Peterborough now with oats from within a radius of forty miles. They receive the cash for their grain from the Cereal Works, and, almost inevitably, a portion of this will be spent in town — representing money that never would have been left in the town by these persons but for the new market for oats. To illustrate: Only yesterday a farmer from within two miles of Lindsay brought a load of oats to market here, and before leaving spent—in one case that is known, and there might have been others—$5.00 for goods, with a local merchant, money which under other conditions would have gone to Lindsay.

It is easy to extend the wide area of benefits the Cereal Works mean to Peterborough town and county, and the farmers will in future receive a larger benefit when they may, as they can do with a little care, learn to grow oats of the proper varieties, pure, and free from admixture with other grains. The Cereal Company turns out a high quality product, and they, therefore, demand oats of corresponding quality.

THE TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE.

Mr. W. T. Junkin, of Fenelon Falls, President.

The Trent Valley Will not Affiliate With the O. H. A.—Official Referees.

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League was held in the parlours of the Oriental Hotel here to-day, when officers were elected for the coming season, and the suggestion to merge the league into the O.H.A. was voted down, almost unanimously. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the league, and delegates were present from the following places:

Lakefield, L. LeBar and F. Gray.
Stirling, A. C. B. Poussette.
Fenelon Falls, Alvin Gould.
Bobcaygeon, M. Welsh and H. S. Garlick.
Keene, J. McCarthy and J. R. McIntyre.
St. Peter's T.A.S., W. Meagher and D. J. Devine.
Norwood, John F. Anderson and W. A. Eaton.
Campbellford, H. B. Dryden.

The report of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. E. S. Clarry, showed the league to be in a flourishing condition financially, and otherwise. Fenelon Falls had for the second time carried off the championship, whilst Norwood were the runners up. He mentioned that the O.H.A. had opened negotiations with the Trent Valley Hockey League with a view of having the two leagues amalgamated. He then introduced Mr. F. D. Kerr, who addressed the meeting at some length pointing out to those in attendance the important factor the O.H.A. was in athletic circles, and intimating that they were desirous of having the Trent Valley come into the O.H.A. He had been asked to represent the O.H.A. in the matter.

Mr. Kerr was thanked by the chairman for the flattering remarks that had been made by him concerning the Trent Valley League and promised that his suggestions would receive due consideration. After some discussion on the part of the delegates it was decided that the Trent Valley League remain as it is for the present, at least.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected:

Hon. President — A. H. Stratton, Peterborough.
President—W. T. Junkin, Fenelon Falls.
Vice-President — Wm. Crowley, Peterborough.
Secretary-Treasurer—E. S. Clarry, Peterborough.
Executive Committee—T. J. Wallace, Keene; J. F. Anderson, Lakefield; Thos. Crawford, Lakefield; M. Welsh, Bobcaygeon.

OFFICIAL REFEREES.

The following Board of Official Referees was appointed:

George Lynch, Peterborough; Dr. Walters, Lindsay; J. F. Anderson, Norwood; J. R. McIntyre, Keene; F. Gray, Lakefield; Mr. Kennedy, Bobcaygeon; Dr. Aldrus, Fenelon Falls; A. C. B. Poussette, Stirling; Mr. Kerr, Campbellford, and R. M. Glover, Peterborough.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

Mr. Welsh, of Bobcaygeon, brought in a motion, seconded by Mr. Eaton, of Norwood, that all games that have to be played on open rinks be played in the afternoon. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Dryden, of Campbellford, suggested that a junior series be inaugurated in the league and the matter will be dealt with at a meeting of the Executive.

The Executive will meet in the course of a week or two to arrange the schedule.

It is understood that Warkworth will enter a team in the League.

In the absence of the President of the League, Mr. Ross Cameron, who has moved from this district, Mr. J. F. Anderson of Norwood, occupied the chair.

CLASS WILL PRACTICE.

Next Saturday The N. C. O's Will Have Mimic War.

It will be a matter of particular interest to all who have the efficiency of our local regiment at heart to know that by permission of Col. Miller, Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment, next Saturday the Non-Commissioned Officers' Class of the 57th Regiment will practice the new skirmish and attack drill against an enemy supposedly approaching Peterborough from the north-west. All the present class of instruction who can possibly get away and several of the Non-Commissioned Officers of the Regiment have signified their intention of taking part.

Fur cap, regulation mitts and unlimited blank ammunition will be issued to all concerned.

No one, who can possibly attend, should miss this drill, as work of an interesting and instructive nature will certainly result. By this work the class will be able to put in practice what they have learned in their class of instruction.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Held Last Night by Park Street Mission Band.

Last night the Mission Band of the Park street Baptist church, held a very successful public meeting. Tea was served at six o'clock for the members of the Mission Band, and after a very pleasant social time the older friends came in to listen to the programme. The entertainment was marked by good taste and thorough preparation. The report of the year showed that very faithful work had been done, and that the members were loyal in their support and attendance. The meetings are held once every month, on Sunday, at the close of the Sunday school. The president, Miss Mann, and her fellow workers, are to be congratulated upon the success of the public concert, and the large attendance of friends who gathered for the evening. The collection was $8.36. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the doxology.

Y. M. C. A. Annual Meeting.

The annual business meeting, and election of officers for the Y.M.C.A., will be held on Thursday evening, December 18th, at 8 o'clock. Help is still needed, if the year is to be closed free of debt. Interested citizens are asked to send in their contributions to the treasurer, or to the office of the association.

BITING WINTER WEATHER.

Unprecedented Cold For This Stage of the Season.

A Straight Seven Days Under-zero Weather.

We are getting rather untimely severe cold weather, and the weather prophets, who, with open mouths, promised us an open winter, now have their mouths frozen shut, figuratively, and are themselves shut up close to the stove, or shivering in our blast-swept streets.

The temperature was down below zero again last night, this time to the extent of four degrees. The month is not yet half gone, yet we have already had zero weather on seven days, and several occasions much below that mark. Severe cold weather is not generally experienced until Christmas week or thereabouts.

We are less concerned about the weather as compared with other years, than with the condition in which such unreasonably or unseasonably cold weather finds us in the matter of fuel supply.

There is reason to believe that in many homes there is not only discomfort, but positive suffering from lack of fuel, superadded to ricketty dwellings, and rattling casements, through which the wind sifts in biting shafts, like the thrust of cold steel.

Coal is scarce, and at a price beyond the ability of many to purchase, and wood is also limited in quantity, and it is held at high prices by dealers. Farmers, who bring good or scraggy loads of wood to market don't seem to know how high a price charge. We, who are comfortably situated in warm homes, with reasonable supplies of fuel, should not forget those less favourably situated. This is a time when the Divine injunction to love our neighbour, assumes special importance.

LAST NIGHT'S LECTURE

At St. Luke's Church was a Great Success.

Those who were present last night at Dr. Hoyles' lecture were well repaid for having faced the cold weather, by the excellent address that Dr. Hoyles gave on "Laywork in the Church." Dr. Hoyles is himself an ardent and enthusiastic layman in the Church, and therefore could from his own point of view give valuable lessons to his hearers.

Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., the indefatigable president of the Guild, was in the chair, and with him on the platform were Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt. The Rector opened the meeting with prayer. Miss Florence Butcher, the talented pianiste, gave pleasing instrumentals, and Messrs. Wildgust and Dawson delighted the audience with excellently rendered vocal solos, which were loudly encored. Mr. J. L. Armstrong, organist of St. Luke's, acted as accompanist.

An Invitation.

The public is invited to visit China Hall, and view the magnificent display of art goods of every description now on exhibition at this old established and popular store. The stock is now complete in every department, and is well worth seeing. There is not a finer or more varied collection of china, crockery, glassware, lamps, etc., in Canada, comprising all the best makes in dinner sets, tea sets, chamber sets, berry sets, salad bowls, mint and nut bowls, ornaments, lamps, tete-a-tete sets, cocoa pots, bon bon dishes, small pieces of gift china, fancy cups and saucers, etc., making the 21st Christmas display of China Hall, the finest in its history. We make a specialty of the above lines, and by confining our attention exclusively to them we are in a position to give the public a larger variety to select from, and positively lower prices than any other dealer. The Macfarlane Wilson Company, Limited.

Fortnightly Club.

The public is reminded of the next meeting of the men's section of the Fortnightly Club, which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening next at eight o'clock. The subject for discussion will be "The Nationalization of Railways," which will be launched by Mr. F. D. Kerr. The discussion will be taken part in by Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun and T. A. S. Hay.

MAYORALTY FOR 1903.

Card to the Electors of Peterborough.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—In response to the numerous representations which have been made to me upon the subject—personally, by requisition, and through the press—I place my services at the disposal of the public as a candidate for the Mayoralty at the approaching municipal elections.

My association with the important municipal advances, which the Town has been making during recent years, will enable me to give continuity to the aggressive forward policy which the Council has sought to pursue, and to bring experience and information gained therein to bear upon the work and problems which still more immediately confront us.

While I cannot lay claim to all the qualifications which have been flatteringly ascribed to me, such capacity for the office as I do possess is cheerfully placed at your service, and I ask your sympathy and support in the effort to maintain the position and standing, and advance the welfare, of our already prosperous and progressive Town.

Respectfully yours,
G. M. ROGER.

THIS AFTERNOON'S FIRE.

A Small Blaze on Simcoe Street Extinguished.

This afternoon a small fire was discovered in the apartments of Mrs. R. M. Hay, Simcoe street. An alarm was sent in, and the brigade responded promptly, but some time was spent before the blaze was located. The fire was soon extinguished, and the damage was almost nil.

DEATH FROM SCARLET FEVER.

A Little Daughter of Rev. R. Macknight Succumbs to the Disease.

General sympathy will go out to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Macknight in the affliction which has come to them by the death of their bright little daughter, Victoria Alexandra Alberta, aged 2 years and 4 months. The cause of death was scarlet fever, which supervening on an attack of whooping cough which had considerably weakened the infant, a fatal result ensued. The funeral — of course, private—took place this afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery.

Fountain Pens from $1.00 to $5.00 and Stylographic Pens at $1.00, all guaranteed—at Sailsbury's.

A Correction.

In the report of the election of officers at the Veteran's meeting, the Hon. President should have been Col. H. C. Rogers, instead of Col. J. Z. Rogers.

THE CURLING ASSOCIATION

Organized in the Rink Parlours Last Night.

Officers Elected, Both of Association and Clubs—An Enthusiastic Meeting.

The "knights of the broom" held a bumper organization meeting in the Charlotte street curling rink last night. This year with the new rink great enthusiasm is being shown by the curlers for the grand old game. Not only are those who are in the game now coming out, but men who thought their curling days were over are taking a covert interest in the new rink, and if they come down there once the ice is laid, they will have to curl. Then there are men who are going to come out this winter, who have never laid a stone in their lives. Then we have the visit of the Scotch curlers to look forward to. It is proposed to make this an occasion never to be forgotten in the history of the club. Last night a committee was selected to arrange for a monster bonsiel to be held here during their visit. Arrangements will be made at an early date, and it is the desire of the local curlers to have this known at once, so that they will have the first claim.

The first business that came before the meeting was the selection of a suitable name. After some discussion it was decided that the name should be the Peterborough Curling Rink Association.

Next came the election of officers of the Association, which resulted as follows:

THE OFFICERS.

Hon. President—Mr. Chas. McGill.
President—Mr. Robt. Neill.
Vice-President — Col. E. B. Edwards.
Secretary—Mr. Chas. N. Brown.
Asst. Secretary — Mr. R. M. Waddell.
Committee of Management — The officers of the association, the Presidents of the Thistle and Granite Clubs, and Messrs. W. G. Morrow, and J. S. Knapman.

Following this came the election of officers of the two clubs:

THE THISTLES.

President—Mr. C. N. Brown.
Vice-President—Mr. C. Rutherford.
Secretary—Mr. R. Kerr.
Chaplain—Rev. J. A. Wilson.
Representative members — Messrs. Ferguson and McGill.

THE GRANITES.

President—Mr. T. F. Matthews.
Vice-President—Mr. G. Whiten.
Secretary—Mr. G. Giroux.
Chaplain—Rev. W. L. Armitage.
Representative members — Dr. Boucher and Col. E. B. Edwards.

President Neill made the request that those who were engaged in canvassing for members should make their report to the committee of Management by Monday next, if possible. Then the men will be divided into their rinks on Wednesday. It is expected that the ice will be ready by the 16th. From then on constant practice will be held in order to be in shape to meet the Scotchmen.

In connection with the proposed bonspiel, the following were placed on the Committee of Arrangements: Messrs. W. G. Morrow, J. S. Knapman, R. Neill, E. B. Edwards, W. G. Ferguson, T. Rutherford, D. Davidson, M. Tooley, and R. Kerr.

This ended the business of the evening, and the meeting then broke up.

"GOLDEN LINE'S" GALA GARB

R. Fair & Co. Provide a Magnificent Holiday Display.

Irresistible Temptations to Holiday Purchasers.

Now that the winter season is on and the stores are assuming their holiday attire, the temptation to enter and see the displays becomes almost irresistible. This applies especially to the window dressing of the Golden Lion, where goods, artistic as to arrangement and effective as to display, give an imperfect indication of the wealth of goods within that challenge the admiration of the buyer and all but compel purchase.

This morning a representative of the Examiner visited the store. On entering one is struck by the gala appearance of the interior wrought by festoons of dainty goods suspended here and there in all directions from the ceiling. To the right of the visitor was a table of exquisite neck ribbons, and in front one of dainty linens, such as Damask table cloths with napkins to match; d'oylies, carving and tea cloths, besides pillow shams, etc., all beautifully embroidered. On the left a line of sleeveless knitted golf vests and ostrich feather boas promised protection in bitter weather. Next came a table of linen embroidered handkerchiefs in boxes and silk blouse lengths in boxes all suitable for Christmas presents, while across the store was an inviting display of belts, knitted mitts, etc., etc. Just here the caller noted a table of beautifully embroidered aprons and just back of this an arch consisting of hundreds of dainty ladies' handkerchiefs, while just to the left and near the foot of the winding stair was a splendid collection of initial silk handkerchiefs. At the back a fine display of chenelle curtains and tablecloths was draped from the ceiling so as to give an Oriental effect, and below these were silks, silk and lace collars, while festoons of lace applique completed the effect. Moving about amongst this splendid display of goods was a large staff of willing and courteous salesladies and men, whose chief aim was to courteously wait upon the numerous purchasers.

A more complete display of comprehensive goods, suitable for Christmas gifts, and presenting better values could, one would think, hardly be brought together. Go early to the Golden Lion for Christmas gifts, or, for the matter of that, seasonable and high-class goods for home and personal purposes.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

WE HAVE coal "combines," wood "combines," and even a milk 'combine," and the milk "combine" is the only one that can combine milk with water.

* * *

BUT TO DO our milk supply justice, there is no reason to believe that water, beyond that which is supplied by the lacteal system of the patient cow, is used by our milkmen to increase their profits.

* * *

THE MEETING of the milkmen on Wednesday, was not for the purpose of advancing prices, but to improve the quality. It is proposed to establish a joint stock company, and establish a "joint," that is a milk depot, where the milk of the several dealers belonging to the company, is pooled, sterilized, clarified, and brought to the highest point of both mechanical and chemical purity. By the report it appears there is no desire to advance the price, the milkmen seeming to think that his five cents a quart represents a good living profit.

THIS MOVEMENT on the part of the milkmen is to be commended. The desire to provide pure milk to their patrons has an intimate connection with the public health. Juvenile diseases are very easily communicated or developed by malign milk microbes. The milk-man's lot, like the policeman's in Pinafore, is not a happy one. He is compelled to rise with the lark, and all day lugs about a heavy milk can, tired to the bone, yet always expected to turn up to the minute, and deliver milk inch-deep with cream, and exchange smiling gossip with dame or damsel at the kitchen door. His milk must always be sweet, though the score on his slate goes sour with age.

* * *

WHY HAVE the Aldermen compelled the Grand Trunk Railway to put up crossing gates at two dangerous street crossings, and permit the Canadian Pacific Railway to keep an equally, if not more, dangerous crossing at George street, unprotected? Are they waiting till someone is killed at the George street crossing before action in earnest is taken?

* * *

ONE WOULD THINK that the dangers of the deadly level crossing would have been cruelly enough impressed by the tragedies of the past few days. In the whole complex network of railways that cover Great Britain, there was a record of no single fatality last year. Why? Because there is some regard for human life, and the level crossing is as scarce there as the protected crossing is in this country. Yet in the Province of Ontario, within four days, eight persons have been slaughtered at level crossings—three at Havelock, on Saturday night; three at Grimsby, on Sunday night; and two at Cobourg, on Wednesday, an average of two per day.

* * *

AT THE HAVELOCK crossing, especially, there should be gates. With the danger from out-going and in-going trains persons driving are doubly menaced; while watching to avoid one danger, they run the risk of being mowed down by another, as the Rogers family were on Saturday night.

* * *

AND the George street crossing of the C.P.R. is also dangerous, and should be provided with gates. If any boy is killed at this crossing the authorities responsible for not providing gates will be morally guilty of m——, well, criminal neglect.

* * *

THE SCRIPTURES speak of the Pharisaic practice of "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel." Doesn't it strike you that the police or their informants have been performing this deglutitionary act in their course towards the Rugby ball cabbies, five of whom "drave furiously" to get 200 fares home before breakfast. At the worst the offence of the Jehus was only a technical one. The statutory objection to furious driving arises from the danger to pedestrians and there could not be such danger to any serious degree at 3 o'clock in the morning when the streets were empty.

IT WOULD BE, much more to the point, if the police or some zealot who informed on the cabbies, would take notice of the furious driving which takes place on Sunday evenings between eight and nine o'clock. It is asserted, portions of George and other streets are made race courses, where young sparks from the country and young sparks in town test the speed of their horses—and at an hour when the streets are full of persons returning home from the several churches and the danger to life and limb and the liability to accident is a hundred to one to a galloping cab, at the street-empty hour of three o'clock in the morning. In comparison, the prosecution of the cabmen is not so much straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel, as straining at a gnat and swallowing a whole menagerie.

OR ATTENTION might be given by the authorities to the boys coasting down hills, wearing the walks to neck breaking slipperiness or threatening to knock the pins from under passing pedestrians. This practice is a real menace and far more dangerous than a cab galloping through deserted streets at three o'clock in the morning.

* * *

OR IF AN OUTLET for zeal is wanted let the truant officer of the town take notice that many of these coasters are boys of school age, practising this dangerous pastime in school hours. And the same official might be informed that the day before yesterday an official noticed a group of eight boys loafing in the waiting room of the C.P.R. station during school hours none of whom were over 12 years of age.

* * *

IF THE COUNCIL instead of cumbering the civic statues with perfunctory bylaws would insist on something like an attempt at enforcement of existing bylaws they would be serving the public interests.

* * *

THE LAW requiring bells to be worn by horses drawing sleighs might be well enforced. Reckless drivers "slithering" round corners stealthily, with no bells to give warning, at a break-neck speed, not only actually break the law but create the risk of breaking citizens' bones.

* * *

A BYLAW PASSED and enforced to prevent children jumping on sleighs might save a life or two some time. "Kids" on the walk see a sleigh coming on the street; makes a rush for it regardless of other teams that cross their path. A physician who does a great deal of driving, says that his heart is often in his mouth at the close shaves some of these young shavers run of being run down.

THE MAYORALTY FOR 1903.

As will be seen by reference to his card in another column, to which the reader's attention is especially directed, Mr. G. M. Roger, Alderman, announces himself as a candidate for the office of Mayor of the Town of Peterborough, for the coming municipal year. The modesty and moderation of tone of this announcement, is characteristic of the man, and in this case, as frequently occurs, this modesty conceals real merit, solid qualities of character, and aptitude for administrative effectiveness. Mr. Roger, it is well known, has not sought the position of candidate; it is only after no inconsiderable amount of urging, by ratepayers prominent in business, and representing solid interests in the town, which will be served by efficient administration of civic affairs, that Mr. Roger has recognized the trend of public opinion and desire, and place his services at the disposal of the citizens. Mr. Roger possesses in many ways the qualities which will enable him, in case his candidature meets, as we feel confident it will do, the approval of the citizens, to efficiently discharge the duties of Mayor, and maintain the dignity of the position. His experience in the Council for four or five terms, his occupancy during that time of such important positions as chairman of the Finance Committee, chairman of the Board of Works, and of the Court of Revision, make him capably familiar with the routine and requirements of administrative work. His active association with the promotion of the bylaws providing for assistance in establishing such important enterprises as those represented by the American Cereal Company, the Canadian Cordage Company, and others, shows that he is in sympathy with an aggressive civic movement to utilize our natural facilities as a manufacturing centre, to the benefit of the growth and the general advancement of Peterborough. Mr. Roger has a deservedly high character for uprightness and reliability. While he is earnestly in favour of progressive measures, he is not inclined to kite-flying; in a word, he is a safe man, who, as the head of our Board of aldermen will have a steadying influence and while assisting and promoting everything legitimately tending to advance the interests of the town, will, at the same time, restrain rash and ill-considered action, which though it might in principle be commendable, needs mature and careful consideration. As before remarked Mr. Roger is a safe man, a capable man and a man of municipal experience. He is a native of the town, a member of one of the oldest and most highly respected families, he has a considerable material interest in the town; and if a life time of good reputable and public spirited citizenship deserves recognition; if ability, capability and will to serve the town effectively, are to count for anything; if a large knowledge of men and affairs, a clear insight and generous attitude towards the material and general progress of the town, are essential factors in determining a man's fitness for the mayoralty, then the ratepayers will make no mistake in extending to Mr. Roger a support that will secure his return as Mayor of Peterborough for 1903. The Examiner believes that Mr. Roger, if elected, will fill the Mayor's chair with benefit and credit to the town and in a manner creditable to the position and to himself.

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

MR. FISHER WAS SEEN.

Cattle Dealers Urge That Steps Be Taken to Prevent Spread of Foot and Mouth Disease.

Toronto, Dec. 13.—Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, was waited upon yesterday afternoon at the Rossin by a deputation representing the Dominion Live Stock Dealers' Association of Ontario, with the view to asking the Government to take the necessary precautions to prevent, if possible, the introduction or spread of the foot and mouth disease in Canada. The deputation was introduced by W. F. Maclean, M.P.

Ald. Dunn explained the object of the conference, and in doing so stated that they, as an association, endorsed the action of the Government, in so far as they had gone to prevent the introduction of the foot and mouth disease into Canada in prohibiting the transportation of cattle to that portion of the United States which are declared infected.

The Minister assured the deputation that every precaution that was deemed necessary so far had been taken, and that in the future nothing would be left undone to prevent the introduction into Canada of anything that would affect our live stock interests. The Minister added that he was very pleased to have met the deputation and to discuss the subject with them in a friendly spirit.

On his attention having been directed to the reports circulated that Canadian cattle were debarred from entering the State of Illinois, by way of retaliation, the Minister admitted having read the report, but remarked that having had no official information on the matter he could not credit such action on the part of the American authorities; but if such were the case the matter would be looked into fully by the Canadian Government.

Hon. Mr. Fisher left the city in the evening for Ottawa, thoroughly delighted with the success of the Winter Fair at Guelph, which he had been attending.

A GROWING DANGER.

It is impossible to overestimate the danger of allowing Dyspepsia to go from bad to worse. At first it is simply an uncomfortable feeling, then it grows into a pain, from that to a misery accompanied by the gravest danger to life.

It should be treated right from the start with that one sure cure, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Other medicines may give temporary relief. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets both give relief and cure permanently. Maurice Best, of Southern Harbour, Nfld., relates an experience that demonstrates its effects on the most severe cases.

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for eight years," says Mr. Best, "I was in continual misery. Sometimes I would go off in a faint and for ten or fifteen minutes I would be more dead than alive. The doctors could not cure me and gave me but little help.

"Hearing of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I gave them a trial. The first two boxes I used gave me new life.

"I am using them now and feel myself a new man. I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am like a great many others, I cannot speak enough in their favour.

"If any one doubts that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia in its worst form let them write me."

Some Epigrams.

Some epigrams have been culled from the utterances of great men in British public life. Andrew Carnegie said, "Queen Victoria transformed Great Britain into a crowned republic, a nation in which the will of the people is the supreme law." Prime minister Balfour declared that the "educational system of England is chaotic and behind the age." The bishop of Manchester said that "this is a reading age, but how many people read the Bible?" "Plenty of porridge and milk will do more for the physique of a nation than the most up to date physical drill" is attributed to Professor Laurie of Edinburgh university.

ASTRONOMY IN CANADA.

Paper by Mr. W. F. King, Dominion Astronomer—An Interesting Address.

Mr. W. F. King, Dominion Astronomer, read a paper recently before the Astronomical Society, Toronto, on "Astronomy in Canada." Mr. King explained first the conditions which had caused the chief line of practice in astronomy in Canada to be with reference to its direct practical applications, in surveying especially, the determination of the meridian line, and of latitudes and longtitudes, and of time. Owing to the necessity of our students earning their own livings, they naturally turned to the branches of science from which they could derive practical results, and therefore astronomy had not made as great progress here as in older and more wealthy countries. Speaking of the equipment and aims of the Government observatory, which is now in course of erection at Ottawa, Mr. King gave this statement of the objects which a public observatory should have in mind:—

A national observatory, maintained by the Government, should aim chiefly at kinds of work not easily within the reach of private and educational observatories, extended series of observations which require persistent prosecution without intermission or material change of plan, such, for instance, as:

(a) Continuous observations of the positions of the sun, moon and planets, partly by the meridian circle, partly by photography.

(b) The determination of the absolute positions of a reasonably large list of fundamental stars, and of such other stars as are needed for reference points by observers of planets or comets, or by those engaged in geodetic operations.

(c) Certain astrophysical investigations, especially in the line of stellar spectroscopy.

(d) The refined reduction and prompt publication of the results of observation, this implying a thorough mathematical study of the theories involved and investigation of their corrections.

In the course of his remarks he mentioned that the Astronomical Department at Ottawa is about to install a new fifteen-inch equatorial telescope, equipped with a large spectrometer and eight-inch photographic doublet, besides the usual micometic means of making accurate measurements, and a meridian circle of good size with the accompanying instruments for meteorological and geodetic observations. It is proposed to open the Observatory at Ottawa to the public once a week.

Profit From Waterloo.

The Duke of Wellington, who has no occasion to worry as to whether his income will be sufficient for his needs, has just been officially informed that his revenues have been increased. Ever since the battle of Waterloo the Dukes of Wellington have received a yearly sum of money from Belgium. An infinitesimal parcel of land belonging to the duke, and valued at 115 francs 50c. ($23.12), has been acquired by a railway company, with the result that a clear profit to the revenues of the Dukedom of Wellington of 3 francs 75c. (75 cents) has accrued.

To Bring Him to Terms.

"Yes," said young Mrs. Solo, "Henry and I had some words this morning, and I can't deny that he got the best of it."

"That will never do," returned the experienced neighbor. "You can't afford to start in married life that way."

"I know it," answered the young wife. "I've thought it all over, and when he comes home tonight I'm going to bring him to terms so quick that he'll hardly know what's happened."

"That's right, my dear. Show some spirit. What are you going to do?"

"I'm going to bring up the subject again and then cry."

No Dispute.

Good stories come from Scotland as well as porridge and bagpipes. The last is quite admirable in its way. A traveler observing an ancient couple arguing and gesticulating in the road, in order to avert bloodshed, asked the cause of the dispute.

"We're no deesputin' at a'," answered the man; "we're baith o' the same mind. I hae got a half crown in ma pooch, an' she thinks she's no gaun to get it, an' I think the same!"—London Globe.

C. The estate is valued at $1,197,004, made up of $1,060,895 personal estate, and $136,699 real estate.

CANADIAN HANDICRAFTS.

Movement to Promote Work of Women's Art Association.

Perhaps some visitors at the recent Woman's Exposition in Madison Square Garden noticed in the gallery some quaint homespun cloth, with a tufted surface. This homespun was woven by the French-Canadian women of the Province of Quebec, and enquiry led to an interesting phase of women's work in handicrafts in Canada.

Miss Edith Watt, who has charge of the depot conducted by the Montreal branch of the Canadian Woman's Art Association, is now in New York, where she is studying the whole subject of handicrafts in the United States. The Canadian Association, which has branches in every city of importance in the provinces, is endeavoring to develop the native industries among the women, as the Deerfield and other industries have been developed in this country. The French-Canadian women make rag carpets and rugs and weave homespun. Their only market for this is with the village storekeeper, who allowes them credit for it, or an occasional piece to a summer tourist. The Woman's Art Association desires to furnish them with artistic designs and dyes, and eventually use a stamp for the best work, like that used by the Arts and Crafts Association in this country. It also wants to provide a market for the work, very much on the plan of the woman's exchanges, retaining only enough of the proceeds to pay expenses. The depot in Montreal is run on this plan. The farmers' wives around the Bay of Chaleurs make the best things. They manufacture a pretty rag carpeting, which is sold for 45 cents a yard.

Besides the French women in Quebec there are in the Northwest colonies of Galicians, who make a fine, artistic cross-stitch, something like the Bulgarian embroideries, and weave both cloth and linen. The men also make pottery, hammered coppers and Russian lacquer work. Throughout Canada are the Indian women, who retain their primitive manufactures of baskets, moccasins, bead work and sometimes rugs. Indians are found within nine miles of Montreal, and from there all through the backwoods to the two oceans. As soon as one gets up into the Hudson Bay country or elsewhere off the beaten tracks he finds excellent Indian work, which degenerates as it comes in contact with civilization.—New York Tribune.

NERVOUS HEADACHE.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Headache powders relieve headaches, but they have never cured them, and they are not intended to make a lasting cure. Besides the risk run in using a drug that is strong enough to instantly stop pain, you may be sure that the reaction on the nervous system is most trying and injurious.

Mrs. Clancy, whose letter is quoted below, was subject to headaches for nineteen years, and in spite of all the headache remedies she used she could get no lasting benefit. She suffered so severely when the attacks would come on that she could not go about the house. She has restored her nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and her headaches have entirely disappeared.

Mrs. Jas. Clancy, 714 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., writes: "I have used four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found them an excellent medicine. I was troubled more or less for nineteen years with severe headaches, which made me useless as far as accomplishing my work was concerned.

"The Nerve Food seemed to build me up generally, and so made a thorough cure of my old trouble. I would not think of being without Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house and would strongly recommend anyone suffering as I did to give it a trial. It succeeded in my case after a great many remedies had failed."

To the thousands of women who are victims of nervous headaches this letter should prove of inestimable value. If they will but follow the advice of Mrs. Clancy they can be certain of great and lasting benefit.

THE WELSH COLONY.

In the Heart of Patagonia—Story of a Strange Land by One Who Has Explored It.

In viewing the recent announcement that the Welsh colony in Patagonia proposes to emigrate to Canada, the following from The London Daily Express will be read with general interest. The Express says:—

Mr. Hesketh Prichard's great work on Patagonia is published to-day by Mr. William Heinemann. It is a book which promises to be the classic of that strange South American country, about which little is known to the world in general.

In June 1900 Professor Ray Lankester, the director of the British Museum of Natural History, said in a lecture delivered before the Zoological Society that it was quite possible that the mylodon—the giant sloth—still existed in some of the mountainous regions of Patagonia. In the interests of science the Express fitted out an expedition and entrusted Mr. Hesketh Prichard with the task of discovering, if it were possible, some trace of this prehistoric animal.

It became necessary for the expedition to penetrate as far as possible into the interior of Patagonia; and though the search for the giant sloth resulted in no success, Mr. Prichard was able to collect much valuable information concerning the country and its people, which he now sets forth ably and clearly in this book.

Mr. Prichard made two new discoveries. He found a hitherto unclassified variety of the Patagonian puma, which, according to the natives, is very rare, being much fiercer, of a reddish color, and somewhat smaller than the common grey species. This he has named "Felis concolor Pearsoni."

On the outer edge of the Cordilleras he came across a lake marked on no map previously. This he named "Lake Pearson."

There are many thousands of square miles of unexplored forest in Patagonia. It is a region unknown and mysterious. No man lives there, and it is doubtful whether man ever has lived there, for there is a total absence of animal life on which he might have subsisted.

Mr. Prichard paid a visit to Trelew, the Welsh colony in Patagonia, where he remarks on the influence of the new conditions of existence so different from that of the Welsh peasant in his own country:—"The older and the younger generation are unlike each other, and will probably continue to become more so as time goes on. Physically, the younger people are far better developed than their elders — red-faced, open-eyed, straight-backed boys in big felt hats, each with a bright-colored handkerchief knotted round his neck and a guanaco-wool poncho hanging from his shoulders." From Trelew the party started for their long trek to the wilds.

There is a very interesting chapter on the manners and customs of the Tehuelches, a race of Indian which is dying out. Indeed, Mr. Prichard states it is probable that he may be their last chronicler. Alcohol is at the root of this rapid extinction. The Tehuelches believe in good spirits and devils. The dominant Spirit of Evil is called "Gualicho." They spend no small portion of their time in either fleeing from his wrath or in propitiating him. "You may wake in the dawn to see a band of Indians suddenly rise and leap upon their horses and gallop away across the pampa howling and gesticulating. They are merely scaring Gualicho away from their tents back to his haunts in the Cordillera."

According to Tehuelche belief the Good Spirit created the animals in a cave in a certain mountain called "God's Hill" and gave them to his people for food.

Woman holds a comparatively high place among these Patagonian Indians. She does the cooking, but little else that can be called hard work. Polygamy is allowed, but it is very seldom practised. The men spend most of their time on horseback, and have almost lost the walking capabilities of other men.

Mr. Pritchard did much shooting—in fact, for many weeks he and the other members of the expedition were dependent on their gun and rifle for meat. The guanaco, or lama, is the commonest form of game. Herds of these peculiar animals graze all over the plains of Patagonia. In some parts they are wild, and need a lot of stalking, and in others they are tame and easily shot.

The huemul is a deer peculiar to the Southern Cordillera. They do not carry a very fine head, eight points being considered a very good trophy. Huemuls are in general very confiding, for their range is confined for the most part to districts where they seldom see man. Pumas are very common and will occasionally attack a man. The Cordillera wolf is utterly fearless, and will, if approached too closely, prepare to give battle.

Some excellent sport with wild geese and wild duck was had by Mr. Prichard nearer the coast. Snipe were also plentiful.

It is impossible in a brief notice of a standard work to do more than merely draw attention to the different points upon which the author touches. Mr. Prichard speaks of the deserted appearance of Patagonia. There are no ruins, no signs of ancient cities, or of previous civilization, visible anywhere, but in spite of all this, he believes a great future lies before the country.
